Lakefield Girl Weds Airman

LAKEFIELD, March 21. —(ENS). —The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Knox was the scene of a charming wedding on Saturday afternoon when their niece, Sybil Lennox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Lennox, was united in marriage to Aircraftsman Bruce Waddell, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Waddell, of Lindsay.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavenly blue wool jersey. She wore a string of pearls, a becoming pink flowered hat with touches of rose, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

Maryalyce Renwick was bridesmaid and wore a brown dressmaker suit, corsage of yellow rosebuds and a flowered hat in brown tones.

The living-room was beautifully decorated for the occasion with snapdragons and carnations, with an arch of wedding bells and pink streamers. Rev. S. A. Wood officiated and Mrs. John Twist played the wedding music. Joseph Blewett, cousin of the bride, was groomsman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held with the bride's mother receiving in a gown of tailored rose crepe with a corsage of rosebuds. The groom's mother also received, wearing a cadet blue crepe frock with a corsage of carnations.

The wedding cake was cut with the cake knife which the bride's grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Lennox, had cut her own wedding cake.

Those who assisted at the reception were Mrs. Harry Jewell, Mrs. Robert Lennox, Betty Millage and Lorna Waddell.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to Western Ontario. For travelling the bride wore a wool frock of daffodil shade and a brown fur coat.

On their return the bride will continue to reside at the home of her parents in Lakefield, and the groom is being transferred to an R.C.A.F. unit in Manitoba.

Epic Chapter

clubs. "In all probability there are more than 1,100 clubs now," His Excellency said.

The credit union was the first economic enterprise undertaken by the people. A credit union provided for the pooling of small earnings by the people, and the rendering of service with that money by small loans to their neighbors. The first one was organized at the Reserve Mines in Cape Breton, and at the end of 1932 it had $1,000 to its credit.

Nova Scotia's eight credit unions in 1932 had grown to 204 by 1943.

In 1942 there were 387 credit unions in the three provinces, with 140 in New Brunswick and 45 in Prince Edward Island. Their total membership was 54,781; total assets $2,061,546; and loans $8,494,166.

Total losses since the inception of the credit unions was $1,462.55.

Co-operative Stores

Bishop MacDonald also mentioned the development of co-operative stores. The first one was organized in 1906 by the British-Canadian Co-Operative Society Limited of the Cape Sydney mines with a membership of 32 miners, and share capital of $119.

By 1929 the parent store had four branches, bakery, milk pasteurizing plant and tailoring establishment, all owned by the members. In 1942 the co-operative stores and marketing organizations had 3,647 members, their sales totalled $1,374,578; and assets $463,800.

Other co-operative stores in Nova Scotia numbered 194 with 7,208 members; sales $2,153,000 and assets $728,000.

Fishermen's co-operatives, chiefly for the marketing of fish, had 868 members; sales $272,439; assets $120,028.

The co-operative stores and marketing agencies in Nova Scotia in 1942 represented 12,000 members, with aggregate sales of almost $4,000,000; and total assets $1,350,354.

Quoting from the chart showing the wholesale background of the Nova Scotia co-operative stores, Bishop MacDonald. said the main one was in Moncton with branches in Sydney and Antigonish. The volume of business in 1937, when the wholesale store was opened in Moncton, amounted to $400,000, as compared with $1,500,000 in 1941.

The Sydney branch in 1941 accounted for $404,355 total business.

New Housing Groups

Venturing into other fields, six housing groups have been organized in Nova Scotia mining towns. The men buy land, build their homes jointly, and own them, and they are more comfortable houses than those to which they were accustomed under previous conditions.

The Maritime Hospital Service Association, patterned after the Ontario Hospitalization Plan, was launched a year ago in June and has more than 12,000 members. This plan provides hospital care at a reasonable cost. Any member under sixteen years is given five free weeks in any hospital. The plan is financially solvent and is paying all its bills.

Educational Mediums

A provincial council for economic education directs educational activities. The members of the Nova Scotia council include representatives of the Credit Unions League, united Maritime fishermen's organization, united mine workers, steel workers' union and co-operative wholesale. This council publishes their own paper "The Maritime Co-Operator"; they have acquired their own radio and cleared of its debt; there are six weeks courses for leaders of study clubs, credit unions and other community affairs; and other courses for store managers and directors.

In the same field of education, conferences and conventions are held; circulating libraries and local libraries; and comparatively new courses in home handicrafts especially for women.

Bishop MacDonald quoted a recent magazine articles to the effect that there are 73 co-operatives in Prince Edward Island with assets of more than $1,000,000.

Is Not Political

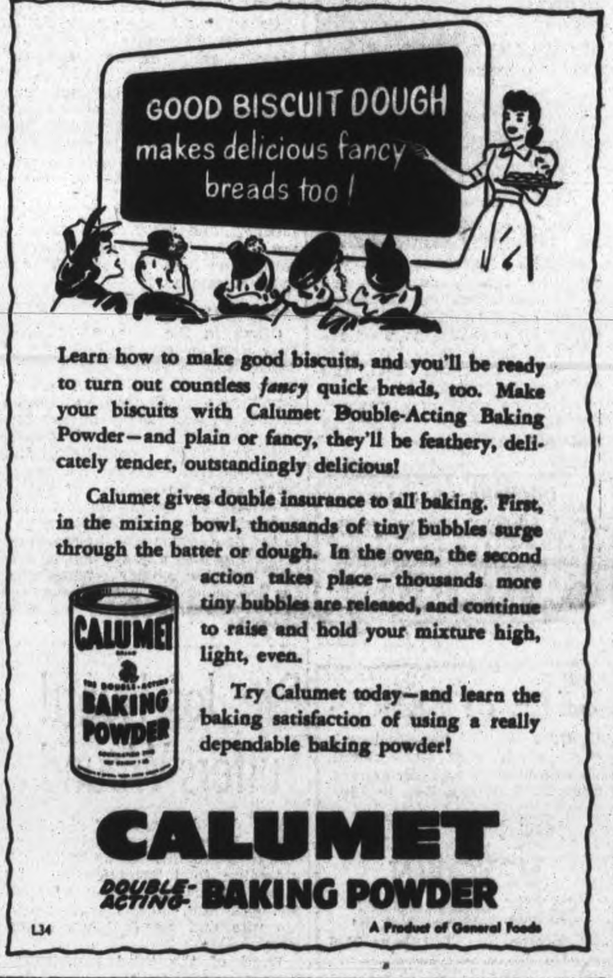
This educational and economic movement in the Maritime provinces, Bishop MacDonald said, was not political. It is a movement for all the people without any distinction. They work together to help themselves economically, "and they are not concerned about anything else that separates them. This movement is not against any one. It does not attack anybody. It is constructive.

"It is designed to remedy an economic situation which left those people, previous to 1930, living on the border line of poverty. It aims to beat out a depression, and to correct what those people felt was maldistribution of wealth leaving the great bulk of the people without any purchasing power. It affords them enough control of their own enterprises to give them more security in their living. It is a principle with them that political democracy should be acompanied by economic democracy."

In concluding, Bishop MaDonald said the economic phase of the movement was only the beginning. Once it was fairly well established it would go on after higher social and cultural objectives. Fundamentally it was an educational movement, to build up an enlightened citizenship. So far it has been concentrating on the economic problem only because it was so acute.

D. G. H. Melton moved a vote of thanks to Bishop MacDonald for his interesting address, commenting in part that the people of Nova Scotia had given to their country a leadership in so many things that it was fair to say they were also setting an example in their Maritime movement that would go on and make itself felt among generations of Canadians yet to come.

SLACKS AND JUMPERS — Weskit slacks suits and jumper dresses in crease-resistant spun rayons are clicking for work and play. Checks, plaids and stripes are favorites.



MANY A SIGN OF SPRING—The pure wool suit has a six-button jacket, kick pleats fore and aft. The bengaline beret is made in many brilliant tints. The promise of Spring is the one hope that no one can ever call false; this year, after a winter of war, every portent is something to be treasured. Here we have a pretty girl greeting a sunny day in a wool hound's tooth check suit, her head bright as a flower's in a casual bengaline beret... and a circus poster for a background. With the warm swank of a pullover, or the snowy frills of a lingerie blouse, this suit is an all-day, all-purpose costume for the city or the country girl.

SOLDIER LIKES CUDDLY WOMEN

Child-Wife May Seem Moronic to Mature Man After Adventures of World War

Recently I ventured the opinion that the day of the clinging-vine woman, the child-wife and the baby-talk girl is over, and that when Johnny comes marching home from the war he will have changed from a boy into a mature man; he will have been sobered and educated by the experience he has been through, and that he will want in a wife a woman who has the strength and courage and heplfulness of his pioneer Grandmother.

According to a soldier, who says that he speaks for all the men in his company, that point of view is all wet. He writes that he has taken a poll among his buddies and that they are unanimous in declaring that that is the type of wife they do NOT want. But definitely. "It is true," he says, "that the war has changed us in many ways. It has given us different ideals and different standards, but not about women. We are still strong for fluffy ruffles instead of uniforms, and while we admire the noble women who have take their places beside the men in the war, we don't want them.

Soldiers Prefer Cuddly Women

"What we want when we come home will be women with soft hands, slim bodies; sweet-smelling, cuddly women, the kind we left behind us, and you are dead wrong when you say that the day of the clinging-vine woman, the child-wife and the baby-talk is over. Her day is just dawning anew."

Maybe so. Maybe so. For the folly of man is past estimating, especially when it comes to picking out a wife. And certainly it is easy to understand why the men who are suffering all the grim horrors of war, who are sloshing about in mud and filth and sleeping in fox holes, who are sickened by the stenches of the battle field and the swamps, who are weary of looking at uniforms, idealize girls in silks and laces, with white manicured hands and who smell like Chanel Number 5, and think of them as the most desirable of their sex.

But I am wondering if, when the boys do go back to the parlor ornaments and bric-a-rac cuties of their dreeams, they won't suffer the same bitter disillusion and disappointment that we all do when, after a lapse of years, we return to the old homes where we were born? I wonder if the clinging-vine wife isn't going to give her husband a choky feeling when she festoons herself around his neck, as he thinks of the women he has seen who were a brace instead of a burden to their men?

Child Wife Might Lose Appeal

I wonder if the child-wife, who was smart enough for a boy husband, isn't going to seem awfully moronic to a mature man when he tries to tell her of his hopes and plans and she yawns in his face because he doesn't understand what it is all about? And I wonder just how long the man who has been through the most crucial adventures that can befall a human being, and who has taken his part in the making of history can endure the babble of a baby-talk lady?

Of course, if a man stays perpetually adolescent, me may still want a wife who is just as flighty as he is. But if he is a real man with brains and purpose, I think that when he goes back to the sweeties he longs for, he is going to feel exactly as we do when he return to the little one-story house in which we were born after we have lived among the sky-scrapers in cities. They won't measure up.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday March 22

Much conflict and contradiction are found in this day's astral configurations. Withal, it will be full of excitement, common disruption and change, incited by devastation as well as constructive programs and obejectives. All may arise from a clear sky," hastily precipitated and and quite unpredictable. To "expect the unexpected" may be a fair and wise method of meeting the conflicting crises, which may be turned into lucrative and pleasant channels by shrewd preparedness. Private as well as public issues are at stake, with some help from higher-ups but also duplicity or subterfuge from hidden sources. Keep alert, wary, discriminating and forge ahead with assurance and all may be well.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of surprise excitement, with sudden change and commotion. The vigilance, discretion and sound choice with which this peculiar or intriguing situation is manipulated will be the deciding factor for weal or woe. With shrewd and clever methods, well-planned programs and ingenuity practical sustained and confident efforts, there may be gratifying progress and personal pleasure on the contructive side of events. Help from elders or superiors, but treachery or undercover tactics from others may be encountered. Romantic adventure or emotional experiences may be happy.

A child born on this day may have great enterprise, creative ability and ingenuity, but may also wind its ambitions frustrated by designing or vicious personal contacts.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

As queens of your modern Canadian castles, you busy housewives spend a goodly portion of your time each day in planning, preparing and serving meals for your husbands and children. To help you some each day, and we hope make the task easier, we present a few recipes for some tasty dishes.

We are going to give some potato recipes, two or three different ways of serving them, from the ordinary ways we generally do.

Potatoes (French Style)

2 cups hot mashed potatoes, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 1 well beaten egg yolk, 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, ½ cup grated cheese, salt and pepper to taste.

To the hot mashed potatoes, add the onion juice, parsley, beaten egg yolk and seasonings. Beat well together, add grated cheese, and lastly the well beaten egg whites. Pile lightly in a well greased baking dish and brown in oven. Serve very hot.

Lyonnaise Potatoes

3 potatoes, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ teaspoon salt and pepper.

Melt butter in hot frying pan, add onions, and cook until brown. Add potatoes, which have been cut either in cubes or slices, and fry until light brown. You will find this a lovely way to cook potatoes to serve with any kind of cold meat.

Dixie Fried Potatoes

Sliced uncooked potatoes as for French fried. Dip first in egg, then in bread crumbs, and fry in butter until done.

We will now give some meat recipes that would be lovely to serve with any of the above ways of serving potatoes.

Pork Chop a la Rose

Place the desired number of pork chops in a roaster, place one tablespoon of uncooked rice on each, on top of which place a thin slice of onion. Over all pour a can of tomato soup, season with salt and pepper and bake in a slow over two hours. Use one can of soup to every six pork chops.

Jellied Chicken Salad

4 cups chopped chicken, 1½ cups chicken broth, 1 tablespoon gelatine softened in ¼ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ½ cup canned peas, ½ cup (cooked) diced carrots.

Heat broth, add gelatine; then add chicken, peas, carrots and lemon juice. Turn into mould and chill; serve on lettuce.

Cream Chicken

One ordinary sized chicken. Boil and when cold cut as for salad. Put in a sauce pan 1 pint of cream, 1 teaspoon of milk; in another pan put 4 even tablespoons of flour. Heat butter, then add flour; when cream and milk come to a boil, pour over the butter and flour and stir. Flavor with grated onion, a little nutmeg, and season very lightly with black and red pepper; mix chicken and sauce together; put in a baking dish, cover with grated bread crumbs and small pieces of butter. Bake about 20 minutes or until brown. Serve at once.

To end our column for today, we will give you a few simple, but very tasty desserts, recipes which we feel all our readers will try out, and be glad they did.

Lemon Pudding

1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 lemons, 2 eggs, 3 small cups of milk, 2 tablespoons flour.

Mix flour, butter and sugar well together, also the grated rind of one lemon and the juice of two, then add egg yolks, and beat all together. Add milk slowly, and last, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a buttered dish, set in a basin of warm water, and cook in moderate oven (325 degrees) for three-quarters of an hour.

Maple Syrup Pudding

1 cup maple syrup, 2 teaspoons butter, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, ½ cup sweet milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1¼ teaspoons salt (small), 1 cup flour.

Bring syrup to boiling point, and pour into deep baking dish. Cream butter and sugar together, add well beaten egg, then milk; sift flour and baking powder together, also salt, stir to a nice smooth batter, and pour into maple syrup. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes. Turn out on a serving plate syrup side up. Sprinkle with chopped nuts, and serve with cream either plain or whipped.

Rice Whip

¼ cup rice, 1½ cups boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt. Wash rice and add gradually to the boiling water and boil until soft. Then strain and pour first warm, then cold water over it, drain and cool. Whip ½ cup of cream, sweeten to taste, and flavor with vanilla. Fold cream in race, and if desired, add nuts.

NIGERIAN SUGAR

LAGOS — (CP) — The small sugar industry which was started in Nigeria shortly after the outbreak of war has increased very rapidly and sugar crushers are now operating in seven provinces.

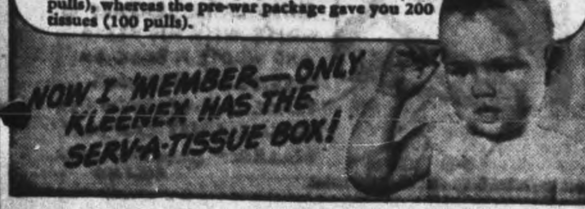
KLEENEX WAR-TIME ECONOMY PACKAGE

Gives 50% More Pulls Than Before At The Same Low Price

Yes, the New War-time Economy Package actually lasts half as long again . . . if you continue to use the same number of applications of KLEENEX as before.

That's because KLEENEX in the New War-time Economy Package gives you 300 tissues (150 pulls), whereas the pre-war package gave you 200 tissues (100 pulls).



When is a Dollar Not a Dollar?

When it won't buy a dollar's worth of goods! For instance, compared to present-day standards, your dollar of the last war was worth, not a dollar ... but sometimes less than 50¢. Housewives, who went marketing in 1917, had to part with for a four-pound jar of jam which you buy to-day for ... Dad's winter underwear set him back then, as compared to the he could buy it for to-day. You get a lot more for your money NOW ... because price ceilings and other anti-inflationary measures have kept the value of your dollar HIGH! That's why it will pay you to see that selfish spending never undermines price control in Canada. Remember, you protect your dollar's worth when you use your money wisely . when you pay off debts ... refuse to buy needless luxuries... give black markets a wide berth .. and don't hoard goods.

Make This Pledge Today!

I promise to give my support to keeping the cost of living down. I will buy only what I need. I will observe the ceiling whether buying or selling goods or services. I will pay off old debts, save for the future, invest in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. And I will support taxes which help lower the cost of living.

Keep Your Dollar Value High!

The ladies wound up their schedule for this season when Mrs. O. Steer won the Vice-skips Consolation final from Mrs. Lalonde by 17-4. This game started off as if it was going to be a real fight, but after three ends had been played it developed into a one-sided affair. However the ladies played out the string and seemed to enjoy it all.

Norwood Native Dies In States

Dr. Gerard F. Patterson, 76, prominent Episcopal ecclesiastic of Ohio and a native of Norwood, died recently while on a bus trip between Cleveland and Fremont, Ohio, according to word received by his cousin, Mrs. Ida Leeper, last week. Dr. Patterson, who retired as archdeacon of the Episcopal Diocese of Ohio in 1938 after serving in that post for 18 years, succumbed to a heart ailment.

Born and reared on a farm at Norwood, where he got his first schooling walking eight miles each day to and from the country school, Dr. Patterson later taught school for two years to help pay his expenses at the University of Toronto. He graduated from a theological seminary in Wisconsin, did missionary work in Oklahoma, and held rectorships in Iowa and Missouri before settling in Ohio. His residence for the past 17 years has been at 3450 Ingleside Road, Shaker Heights, O.

Surviving the clergyman are his wife, Mrs. Blanche Ashley Patterson; a son, Jerome, who lives in New York, and a step-daughter, Mrs. Donald Duncan McLennan. Mrs. Leeper is the only relative living in Canada.

OBITUARIES

MRS. A. J. MCCLENNAN

LINDSAY, March 21 (ENS) — The funeral took place from the Anderson Chapel here, Monday, of Mrs. Arthur J. McClennan well known resident of Lindsay. Mrs. McClennan, born Martha Jane Kent is survied by her husband and one son Ralph in active service.

IVAN DEYELL.

One of the largest funerals to be held in Omemee for some time was that of the late Ivan Frederick Deyell from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deyell, of Sturgeon Street. The late Mr. Deyell died suddenly at the home of his brother-in-law, Nelson Davis, of Emily township, last week.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. William A. Filer, of All Saints' Anglican Church, Peterborough, assisted by Rev. R. M. Patterson and Rev. F. W. Pooley of Omemee. Pall-bearers were Nelson Davis, Boyd Windrem, Orville Deyell, Lornie Heath, Noble Hicks, and Roger Armstrong, and flower-bearers were Maurice Woodcock, Frederick Deyell, William Purdy and Thomas Franks.

The many floral remembrances received indicated the high esteem in which the late Mr. Deyell was held by his many friends, neighbors and relatives.

M. D. NIHILL MUNRO

A lifetime resident of Peterborough, M. D. Nihill Munro, passed away at Nicholls Hospital on Monday after a prolonged illness in his 74th year. Mr. Munro who made his home at 580 George street, was born in Peterborough the son of the late George and Jessie Munro.

Master pattern maker and employee of the Canadian General Electric Co. in the Pattern Shop for 40 years, he was educated in Peterborough and was a member of George Street United Church. He was also a life member of Peterborough A.F. and A.M.

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife, the former Annie Cookson, and four sons; Nihill C., George E., and C. Donald of Peterborough, and R. Bert of Camp Borden. The late George K. Munro, a former Examiner employee, was a brother.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the late residence, 580 George street, with service conducted by Rev. H. L. Roberts of George Street United Church. Interment in Little Lake cemetery.

CPL. ERIC HOGG

More Peterborough boys have been gravitating toward the Italian theatre of war and among them is Cpl. Eric Hogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Hogg, 191 Brock Street. He is fighting in Italy with the 48th Highlanders. Formerly with the Irish Regiment of Canada, he was transferred recently and has been in Italy for about seven weeks. Cpl. Hogg enlisted about four years ago, and has been overseas for more than a year. Before joining up he was employed at the C.G.E.

Even the most unpleasant conditions fail to daunt many Canadian soldiers and one of the Peterborough boys with a happy-go-lucky outlook is Pte. Earl Hope, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hope, 219 Stewart Street. He is stationed in Italy and finds things going very nicely.

"Just threw another log on our Maclary's super kindling 5-gallon oil can and we are expecting to be frozen out of our cosy corner at any moment, such is life, in our refined way of ease and mud-begrimed existence," he writes.

"We are comfortably fixed where we are. I bunk in my lorry and the rest of the boys have made their homes in a mud bank and are quite cosy, although occasionally the walls fall in on them as Mother Nature must have her fun, too. One of the huts is well named 'Sparks and Chips' since our electrician and carpenter sleep in it. It is well put together. It is about three feet in the mud, covered by a pup tent, the back being bricked in and having a fireplace. Their 'home' is fuelled by a petrol stove of their own manufacture. The beds are on the sides and they have built a regular door. Outside at the front, they have terraced the bank and built steps to it of bricks. It really looks good.

Easy Going

"I'm having a really soft go of it, and just so long as Jerry allows it to remain in such a strain, I'll be contented. Pardon me, while I wrap a blanket around the oil can to warm it up. I mean the stove, the blankets are always warm by comparison."

A brother, William Hope, is also serving in Italy, but so far he has not been able to meet him. Earl ran into two of his chums stationed close by, and they assured him that his brother was fine and had just been made a staff sergeant.

"My running mate, 'Pappy Paxton,' has just got word that he is the father of a 9 pound 12 ounce baby girl, and is trying to compose an amusing letter home. He has just produced his water bottle, with contents more than three weeks old. Someone jestingly suggested purifying it with a little iodine.

Pte. Earl Hope was formerly with the C.G.E., and after enlisting went to the R.C.A.S.C. Besides one brother in Italy, there are two in England, Roy and Spencer. His father is a veteran of the last War

A.W. 1 MARY TROTTER

A.W. 1 Mary Trotter, R.C.A.F., Women's Division, s stationed at Rockcliffe Hospital, where she is on the nursing staff. She had previously taken the St. John Ambulance course and after enlisting, took some training at the R.C.A.F. Trenton Hospital. Her work ressembles that of a student nurse. A.W. 1 Trotter enlisted in August 1943, having been formerly employed in the sales department at the Dominion Woollens. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Trotter, Downie street.

An English airman, grateful for Canada's contribution to the war effort, wrote this poem recently while spending a leave in Peterborough. He is F.O. Clifford Elston R.A.F., who has been stationed at Malton and recently graduated. He was a gunner during the blitz and then came to Canada for training. Before war broke out he was a war correspondent for a London paper and spent several years covering the news in Ethiopia, the Middle East and in India.

"TO CANADA"

"I sailed across the ocean to this green pleasant land,
To see its mighty rivers, the mountains gaunt and grand;
Its rolling sun scorched prairies its lakes so deep and wide,
Its pleasant creeks, green shady trees, green bushes by their side.
"I saw its mighty cities, with buildings towering high,
The streets alive, the busy throng, the newsboys strident cries;
The rattle of the street car, the the elevator's whine,
The frantic rush of city life, the laughter and the wine.
I mixed among the people and learnt their point of view
How they'd battled against nature to build their world anew;
How they'd spanned its mighty spaces and tamed its torrents wide,
And built from virgin country, this land, their joy and pride.
But when the war drums thunder o'er Europe's trampled face.
They rush to help their Mother land and keep it in its place;
They leave their farms and homesteads to beat the Axis hordes,
To save the world for freedoms sake and shatter evil's sword.
God bless this land of Canada—God bless this people brave,
And by the valor of their arms, may they quickly save
The rights of man to live and breathe and work, and think and pray
And live in peace and happiness—Dear God for this, we pray.

L. A. C. ROGER BARRIE

One of the large group of Collegiate students to enlist in the R.C.A.F. last March, L.A.C. Roger Barrie is now stationed at Uplands, where he hopes to become a fighter pilot. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Barrie, 635 Water street, and has trained at Toronto and Windsor before going to Ottawa. While at P.C.V.S. he wrote a weekly column on school doing for the Examiner.

After more than two months in the hospital in Italy, Gnr. Dalton Nelson is just beginning to get some mail according to word received by his mother, Mrs. A. Nelson, Water Street.

At the present time he is in a convalescent depot recovering from a fractured wrist, which he got December 13 at the front. He lost everything he had at that time, and he has been at the depot ever since.

"I spent Christmas in the hospital and had a swell time. There was a tree in the ward, all decorated up, that made it almost like home. There was roast turkey and roast pork, Christmas cake and pudding. I have had no Christmas mail yet; guess it is all at the Regiment. It will catch up with me one of these days.

"I will be glad to get home. The country is nice in some places but awfully dirty. I wish you could see the way the people live. The women do all the work and the men take life easy. Some of the boys have married Italian girls, but not for me. After being in this country it sure makes you appreciate Canada. I'm telling you, you people do not know how lucky you are. We have a lot to fight for."

Enjoyed Christmas Card

Another letter written February 29, stated he had received cigarettes sent in September, and some Christmas cards, among them the one sent by the City Council. He wrote that he had gotten great enjoyment from it and had looked the pictures over a thousand times.

"I am lucky since I have been out of the line since December 13 and so spent most of the winter in the hospital. I hope to be back with the Regiment soon and at Jerry. Thanks for the clipping of the Women's Auxiliary packing boxes. It must have been a lot of work. I am sure you women would be proud if you could hear the way the boys praise you up on the swell work you are doing for us over here. I can't write to any of my friends because I lost their addresses at the front, also my wallet and lighter..

A brother, Keith Nelson, is also in Italy writes that he received his Christmas box about February 20 and he had quite a party with the Christmas cake and grape jam. Everything arrived in good shape, and he also got a box from Port Hope with candy and 300 cigarettes. His mail has been arriving regularly. Two other brothers, Leslie and Milton are in England and Leonard is with the Army in Kingston.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DON'T DELAY TOO LONG

THERE IS such a thing as delaying a play until too late. If you have decided to try a lead-thrower as an end-play, and you continue late in the hand the running of tricks in a suit which is not concerned in that play, you may get yourself squeezed, or at least semi-squeezed. You may find that you have to make a pure guess about what card to throw away on some trick, or else that you are obliged to toss off a card which will wreck your play.

North: ♠ 8 7 6 2 ♥ 7 4 ♦ A 10 9 7 5 ♣ 9 6
West: ♠ K 5 2 ♥ K 9 3 ♦ 8 2 ♣ K Q 7 3 2
East: ♠ J 10 9 4 ♥ J 10 8 6 2 ♦ Q ♣ J 10 5
South: ♠ A Q ♥ A Q 5 ♦ K J 6 4 3 ♣ A 8 4

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
3 NT

West led his club 3, at each of three tables, and East put in the 10, which South ducked. In all cases the A then took the J return. One declarer ran five diamonds, winding up in the dummy, then decided to seek the missing ninth trick by trying the spade finesse, which lost to West's K. Three more clubs then beat the contract.

The other declarers, noting West's 2 on the second trick, realized it was the only card smaller than the fourth-best 3, consequently West had only a five-card suit, and four losers could be afforded in it. So they tried an end-play, throwing West in. One of them ran his five diamonds first, then put West in with the club 8 to the Q. When the latter then scored two more clubs, South discarded his heart 5 on the first, but for the second tried to guess what West had left. That was the tenth trick, so South could hold only three cards in the majors after it. He finally threw the spade Q, whereupon West led a now singleton K to the spade A. South could score his heart A, but then had to give up the Q to the K, setting him.

The third declarer, after the two club tricks and two diamonds, put west in with a club on the fifth trick. West got his three clubs, South discarding the heart 5 and one diamond, which he could spare then. West then had to lead back into a major tenace, presenting South a trick, whereupon the rest of the diamonds were scored, and game.

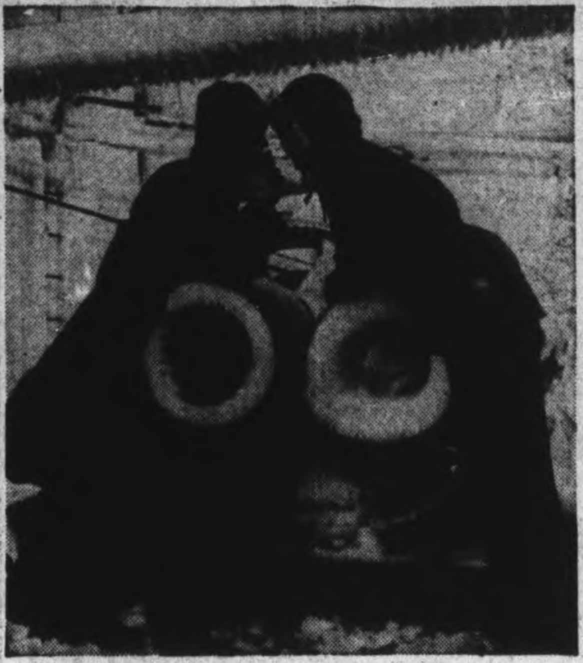
Ice, Snow, Biting Winds are Winter Companions of Canada's Merchant Marine

Before the war, Joe Smith, 28, drove an oil truck in Saskatoon, Sask., but now he is a petty officer gunlayer in the R.C.N.V.R. Pictured here aboard a merchantman, Petty Officer Smith has seen duty many times at sea, including the battle of Crete.

The breath of the sea froze as it struck the deck of this Canadian merchant ship, and it is not a pleasant job to get rid of the ice that encrusts everything exposed on deck. But the ice must be removed at once so all rigging can be put into action without any delay in case of an emergency.



It isn't that Mrs. Roosevelt's South Sea nose-rubbing event has affected the Canadian Merchant Marine. These men on an ice-covered merchantman at sea exchange lights for, on a wind-swept deck, it is out of the question to keep a match going.

To the average civilian, there's something wrong here. The lad, wearing only light swimming trunks, smiles as he sits on a cake of ice. But to those sturdy men of the Canadian Merchant Marine, this is only one of the many methods they use to prepare themselves for wintry weather on turbulent waters.

Trans-Canada Airlines Carrying More Passengers

OTTAWA, March 21—Sharp increase in passengers carried and operating revenues of Trans-Canada Air Lines in 1943 was reported to the Commons to-day by Munitions Minister Howe.

Tabling of T.C.A.'s annual report showed an increase of 34 per cent. of passengers, 126 per cent. in air express and 61 per cent. in air mail during the year.

Other highlights in the report of H. J. Symington, president of the air line:

1. Routes to the West Indies and South America have already been surveyed as part of post-war studies.

2. Arrangements have been completed with the R.C.A.F. to have some air force personnel who have completed operational duties made available to T.C.A.

3. Additional Canadian-made Lancasters are being added to the Trans-Atlantic service, which is carrying as much as 7,000 pounds of mail per aircraft.

4. T.C.A. planes, apart from the Trans-Atlantic service, carried approximately 200,000,000 letters last year.

Operating revenues for the year at $9,379,501 showed an increase of $2,042,163 or 28 per cent. compared with 1942 Mr. Symington reported. Operating expenses totalled $8,974,902, an increase of $2,346,503 or 35 per cent.

The company's 1943 surplus, after payment of interest on capital and other income charges, was $147,869, as against $494,915 the previous year.

Passenger receipts at $4,213,569 were up $1,148,146 and express revenues at $330,084 showed an increase of $157,064. Mail revenue totalled $3,515,807, which was an increase of $303,855.

Await World Policy.

During the year T.C.A. planes carried 140,376 passengers, compared with 104,446 the previous year. The 1943 operations brought the total plane-miles flown in revenue service since the inception of the company six years ago to 30,490,684 and the total of passenger miles to 222,034,785.

Discussing the place of the T.C.A. in post-war civilian aviation, Mr. Symington said:

"Trans-Canada Air Lines, as the sole Canadian agency designated by the Government to operate international air services, awaits with interest the results of conferences between governments on matters affecting world air policy and the completion of international agreements with regard to these services.

"Trans-Canada on its part is carrying on intensive research into such matters as routes and potential traffic...."

The proposal to have some R.C.A.F. personnel made available to T.C.A. is the first step in a rehabilitation program and will be aimed also at assisting T.C.A. in meeting difficulties from shortage of experienced male personnel.

T.C.A. operated in 1943 over routes totalling 4,903 miles—46 miles more than in 1942.

Sacred Heart Club Presents Comedy

MARMORA, March 21—(ENS)—Marmora Town Hall was filled to overflowing on Friday evening for the presentation of "The Campbells Are Coming," a farce-comedy, in three acts, by the Dramatic Club of Sacred Heart church.

The story, centred around the Brannigan family at their summer cabin by a lake in the Ozarks, was filled with wit and humor, and was cleverly acted by the cast. Much credit is due the members of the cast for the fine presentation, and especially to Mrs. James Black, the director.

The cast was made up of: Mrs. M. Macdonald, Miss Vera Doyle, Ray Black, James Black, William Meehan, Patrick Bertrand, Miss Edna O'Sullivan, Thomas Brady, Mrs. James Black.

After Act 1, a song, "Danny Boy" was sung by Rev. H. J. Farrell; encore, "Eilleen Allanna"; After Act 2, "To Be an Irishman," song and dance, Audrey Black and Michael Forestell. Pianist was Mrs. James Black.

wa visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark.

Miss Hazel Hill of Bobcaygeon is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Price visited in Perth with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan J. Rodger.

Miss Jean Hubbel, Cobourg spent spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbel.

Mrs. N. M. Hamilton of Tilney, Sask. is visiting her brother, Mr. W. E. Griffith and other friends here.

The local Air Cadet Squadron, No. 149 attended the church service in St. John's Anglican Church on Sunday morning. Rev. R. E. Lemon delivered the sermon.

Urges Canadians To Plan Now For Post War

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 21 — (CP Cable) — Canada's post-war planning must begin now," Hon. T. C. Davis, Canadian High Commissioner, said to-day in the first of a series of addresses at the Constitutional Club. He stressed that Canada' planning involved first, the preparation for demobilization and the re-establishment of servicemen and women into civilian life; and secondly, the reconversion of economic processes to a peacetime basis providing work for all with ample provision against major economic and social hazards.

After outlining steps whereby Canada could provide openings of all kinds for former service people of both sexes, Davis said: "Canada cannot consume her production of either primary or secondary goods, and recognizes that her future is linked with openings in international trade."

The Canadian Government is providing for the creation of an industrial development bank in order to convert war industries to a peacetime basis, he said.

Davis indicated that Canada faces much the same constitutional difficulties regarding state and federal powers as Australia and said "We must either amend our constitution or devise a method of co-operation between the provinces."

He added that Canada in wartime has witnessed several changes in her economic system by providing for unemployment, sickness, permanent disability, old age, premature death, child maintenance, and other far-reaching schemes of social security.

WMS Plans To Meet With Mission Band

HASTINGS, March 21—(ENS)—Trinity United W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Arthur Fleming to hold their monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. A. E. Metcalfe, took charge of the worship period, assisted by Mrs. J. E. Glover. Mrs. A. Fleming gave a reading entitled "Something Good About You"; solo, "Only A Beam of Sunshine," by Mrs. Small; Mrs. Glover gave a chapter from the study book.

The business centred around the planning of a joint meeting with the Mission Band to be held April 6 in the basement of the church, when the ladies will serve lunch.

LUCKY IN LOVE—Lieut. Thos. Steensop, U.S.A.A.F., called 'Lucky' by his friends, beams from behind his radiant fiancee, Miss Patricia Stainer, British musical comedy star, after their engagement was announced recently. Lieut. Steenson has completed 38 combat missions and holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and other decorations.

Board Cuts Bill For Town Water

LINDSAY, March 21 (ENS) — Lindsay's most profit-showing department, the Board of Works, have again come to the rescue of the town council with the lowering of the municipality's water bill from $1,500 to $750. The action was taken on request of Reeve R. Butler and Chairman of Board of Works, L. T. Brannton who asked, on behalf of the council the Board of Water Commissioners to lower the rate in order to keep the council from facing a deficit this year.

Strong criticism of the action of the town council in raising tax rate this year was made by Commissioner D. L. McLean. "Last year we gave the council a grant equivalent to one mill on the tax rate." he said, "requesting that the general rate be reduced. This was not done however, and yet the council asks for another grant this year."

Reeve Butler explained that without the Water Board's grant the town tax rate would have been raised one mill. "We were forced to raise the rate for 1944," he said, "when the Board of Education demanded an additional $5,300."

The Board of Water Commissioners have, during the past three years not only reduced the water rate to domestic consumers but have also given free bills. Two years ago, by general election, a proposal placing the Board under the jurisdiction of the Town council, was turned down and since that time the Board has proven to be the town's most profit paying department.

A vision of a great nation:
Of men happy at their work.
Of smiling homes.
Of peace.
Of plenty.
They saw a vision of a reality that will be
If—
If none falter
If there is rededication
If to every mind and heart there comes a challenge
A challenge insistent
To fight
To work
To save
To lend unstintingly
That the barren bitterness of greed
And the scorching lust for power
Shall be submerged forever
In Victory
In Peace
And the destiny that is to be

1,000 Planes Raid Berlin In Daylight

Fighter Protection Very Heavy On American

By LEWIS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 22—(AP)— More than 1,000 American planes showered new destruction on Berlin today, returning to the German capital for the first time since March 9. They dropped probably 1,500 tons of bombs.

"Strong forces" of four-engined bombers attacked industrial and military targets in Berlin, U.S. Air Headquarters announced, indicating that 500 to 750 heavy bombers made the 1,150-mile round trip. Many hundreds of fighter planes accompanied them.

Mosquito bombers struck in Western Germany last night for the 12th straight night.

It was estimated 750 to 1,000 fighter planes took part in today's raid, making the total force between 1,250 and 1,750 planes.

This was the fifth U.S. heavy bomber attack against Berlin.

Lightning fighter planes started the visits with an offensive sweep March 3. A small force of fortresses bombed the Berlin district the next day and on March 6 about 850 heavy bombers dropped 2,000 tons of bombs on special targets there. Several hundred bombers made return visits, March 8 and 9.

The R.A.F.'s overnight operations, which included laying of mines in enemy waters, were carried out without the loss of a plane, the Air Ministry said.

English coastal observers reported several contingents of medium bombers thundering toward the cliffs of France, which were visible in clear weather.

American fighters also swept enemy-occupied territory Tuesday, destroying 20 planes, while American heavy bombers attacked targets in the Pas-de-Calais area of Northern France. Seven American fighters were lost.

Germans Place Allies On Spot

LONDON, March 22 — (CP). — The German-controlled Rome radio to-day announced that the Germans would withdraw all military installations from Rome and would divert all military traffic from the city, in an effort to place responsibility for bombings entirely on the Allies.

The broadcast apparently sought to declare Rome an open city. Such a unilateral declaration, of course, has no effect in international law, since it would have to be accepted by the Allies to make it binding. The Badoglio Government of Italy sought to declare Rome an open city before Badoglio capitulated last September.

The broadcast said:

"So that responsibility for the bombing of Rome will remain entirely with the Allies, the German command in the next few days will scrupulously withdraw from Rome every installation which could serve as the slightest pretext for air terror, and will still further deviate military transports from the Eternal City."

After the earlier Italian announcement that Rome would be made an open city, all Allied capitals viewed the statement with skepticism. It was emphasised Allied commanders would have to be shown that the entire military establishment, transport facilities and war factories had been removed before Rome could be freed of the threat of attack.

Baby Abandoned

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 22 —(AP). — Police intensified their search today for a man who stopped his car in the township of Marilla, 20 miles east of here, yesterday, tossed a paper sack containing a live, new-born baby boy into a ditch, and sped away. Taken to hospital, the child is reported by authorities there to be in "good condition and apparently none the worse for his experience."

Lava Destroys 2 Villages Third Menaced

ON THE SLOPES OF VESUVIUS, March 22—(AP)—A great new eruption from seething Mount Vesuvius today covered the area around Pompei with a two-inch layer of lava hurled through the air in chunks, and sent a gigantic finger of glowing coals into houses of a third town on the northwestern slope.

Pompei, at the foot of Mount Vesuvious on the south, was buried by the eruption of 79 A.D.

The hall of lava fell over crops in the area, burning them. British and United States soldiers wore steel helmets against the shower, and natives placed iron pots on their heads.

Wild Battle Rages On For Cassino

New Zealanders In Bitter Hand-To-Hand Fight

By LYNN HEINZERLNG
Associated Press War Correspondent

WTH THE 5TH ARMY AT CASSINO, March 22.—(AP).—The fight for the ruins of Cassino developed into the wildest battle of the Italian campaign to-day with two German counter-attacks against Castle Hill behind the town, the New Zelanders slugging it out in the streets, and German and Allied mortar and artillery shells landing within a few hundred yards of each other.

Allied guns were brought up to fire at direct range on the Continental Hotel in which the Germans managed to re-install themselves after once being driven out. The hotel area and entire south end of town held by the Germans were brought under this fire.

Allied troops holding one point on the Monte Cassino slopes were only 400 to 700 yards from two strong German artillery points just west of the town, making it particularly difficult for Allied gunners, firing from the valley or the hills beyond, to neutralize the enemy fire without endangering their own men.

Canadian Carrier Pilots Win Convoy Aerial Battle

By ALAN RANDAL—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 22—(CP).—The Admiralty said: "Naval aircraft operating from the escort carrier H.M.S. Pursuer successfully defended a valuable Atlantic convoy against an attempted attack by enemy aircraft shortly after sunset. . . ."

That's about all one expects from the close-mouthed Admiralty. But it leaves a lot unsaid. For instance that this was the first time fighter aircraft have taken off and landed on an aircraft carrier after dark; that it was so tough a job they called for volunteers; that a young Canadian led the flight of planes.

He's Lt.-Cmdr. Digby Cosh, 25-year-old Navy squadron leader from Ottawa. And in London, on leave, he wasn't too keen on adding anything to the Admiralty's statement.

He had three other planes with him for this interception job, one of them piloted by Lieut. Harry Wilson of Orillia, Ont., and the others by two Britons.

The flight had been out on dawn patrol that morning, had sighted an unidentified aircraft, chased it, found it was an enemy and reported back they hadn't been able to down it. Flying had finished for the day when they got their next call, a request over the ship's "PA" system for volunteers to intercept an enemy formation reported approaching the convoy.

Took On Seven.

One after another they left the ground. Seven enemy planes started coming in.

Cosh attacked the leader, had to break off the attack when the ship's guns opened up on them, but could see another enemy aircraft flash across his bow in flames and crash into the sea.

Another enemy plane was shot down. For half an hour the aircraft carrier's planes flew around their convoy keeping bombers away. All the bombs dropped far astern of the important merchant ships and in the darkness the planes were ordered back to the carrier.

That was the end of the action. The communique said: "The convoy was undamaged and all our aircraft landed safely back on H.M.S. Pursuer."

One other Canadian had a hand in the engagement, Lieut. Jack Osbourne of Toronto, who was fighter direction officer — the man who directs the planes from the carrier while they are in the air.

Merchant Ships Use Rocket Guns

By FRANK LOWE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 22 (CP Cable)—Deadly rocket guns that have been hurling destruction at German bombers flying over England now are serving at sea. Bolted to the decks of the British merchant ships, they afford the convoys fiery armor against shipping raiders.

They have already proven their worth in waters close to Britain's shores and along the former bomb-perilous Mediterranean.

Last week it was officially announced that Britain beat Germany to the punch once more in developing rocket guns. It now is permissible to say that this deadly weapon has been placed on ships.

These guns are probably the deadliest weapons of the merchant ships and are the pet of the seamen.

Order Reveals Who Can Get 1939-43 Star

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 22 (CP Cable)—Canadians who have served in France, Hong Kong and Sicily are eligible for the 1939-43 star, it was disclosed today in the House of Commons. Troops who participated in the Spitsbergen and Dieppe raids are also eligible.

The list of qualifications for the award was given to the House by Sir Archibald Sinclair, the Air Secretary, after a statement by Prime Minister Churchill on policy governing the issue of it and other awards.

Sir Archibald revealed that air crew participating in the Aleutian Islands campaign also will receive the award.

Service in Italy was not included among the qualifications, to which there may be further additions.

Sir Archibald explained that one day's service in the campaigns he listed qualified a serving man for the award. The campaigns are as follows:

France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Greece, Crete, Northwest Indian Frontier, Lofoten Islands, Lucania, Syria, Spitsbergen, Hong Kong, Malaya, Vaagso, Burma, Bruneval, St. Nazaire, Awelo, Madagascar, Boulogne, Le Touquet, Aleutian Islands (air crew service only), Dieppe, Sark and Sicily.

Senior Ribbon

Mr. Churchill said the Dominions and Indian governments had been consulted in preparation of terms for the award and in some cases six months was the qualifying period of time, in others the mere fact of participation in an episode.

He said that though some servicemen eligible for both the Africa ribbon and the 1939-43 decoration had indicated a preference for the former, the second was the senior ribbon. No individual will receive both.

Danube Push Will Isolate Odessa Port

Russian Armies Now 30 Miles From Prut River

LONDON, March 22 — (CP) — The Russian advance into pre-war Rumania brought Red Army forces today to within 30 miles of the Prut river from which the Germans launched their 1941 invasion.

Sweeping across the Dniester river into Bessarabia on a 50-mile front the Russians cut the Cernauti-Baltsy Trunk Railway yesterday and surged through 40 villages as they battered down German and Rumanian resistance on the approaches to Prut.

Moscow's communique last night announced capture of Drokiya, 23 and 25 miles west of Soroki, the west-bank Dniester town which the Russians captured Sunday. The railway presumably was cut in the Drokiya area.

Another town captured was Ketrosy, five miles southeast of Drokiya, and as a result the Russians were within 20 miles of one German escape route from outhern Russia, the Slobedezeya-Baltzy Line. The Red Army forces also were only 48 miles from the major escape road, the Odess-Tiraspol-Iasi Line.

This Russian strike southward toward the Danube marked also a development on the threat to trap scores of thousands of Germans in the Odessa bottleneck, 150 miles to the southeast.

Other Russian troops attacking in pre-war Poland toward Lwow captured 62 more villages and Soviet spearheads were reported already within sight of Brody, 50 miles northeast of Lwow.

The German High Command claimed the Russians were attacking Kovel, 100 miles north of Lwow, and 170 air miles from Warsaw. Berlin claimed one Soviet unit "which had broken into Kovel was wiped out" while German radio commentators claimed the battle for that junction on the Kiev-Warsaw Railway was raging with unparalled ferocity."

The Hammer and Sickle was raised above 300 more liberated towns and villages yesterday as the Russians continued to pound the Germans back along the 500-mile front from pre-war Poland to the Black Sea. The Soviet bulletin said the forces striking for Lwow, big Nazi communications hub in Poland had crashed into Lwow Province. The Russians were within 56 miles of Lwow itself.

Russian Victory

LONDON, March 22—(AP)—Capture of Pervomaisk on the Bug River northwest of Nikolaev was announced by Premier Stalin tonight in an order of the day.

Fall of this important German stronghold punched a segment out of the German line directly north of Odessa, and added to the threat to the thousands of German troops in Southern Russia. The station of Podgorodnoye, four miles north of Pervomaisk, fell yesterday.

Pervomaisk was "an important railway junction and powerful strongpoint in the German defences on the central part of the southern Bug River," Stalin's order declared, and was captured after two days of stubborn fighting.

Americans Close Invasion Ring Around Japanese

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 22 — (AP) — The snapping shut of an invasion ring around thousands of Japanese at Rabaul, Kavieng and in the Solomons by Marine landings in the St. Matthias Islands, 580 miles south of Truk, was disclosed today by Allied Headquarters.

The flat islands of Emirau, a potential air base, and nearby Elomusao were occupied easily Monday by ground forces from the Solomons who thus shot the Allied front line from the Green Islands on the east the length of New Ireland and established a new foothold near the already-conquered Admiralty Islands.

BOUGAINVILLE, Solomon Islands, March 22 — (AP). — A military spokesman reports that "dazed and undernourished enemy soldiers of the once crack 6th Japanese Infantry Division" are surrendering to United States troops on Bougainville while the patrols round up survivors of depleted enemy units.

The spokesman predicted the Japanese assault would be resumed but probably on a reduced scale.

Official count of enemy dead has mounted almost to 3,000, but the spokesman said the Japanese probably lost nearer 6,000.

Believe Japs Attempt To Divert Pressure From Arakan Front Where Allied Forces Hold Whip Hand

By CHARLES GRUMICH—Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI, March 22—(AP).—Japanese troops striking out in a major offensive have penetrated into India, it was officially announced today, crossing into the Indian state of Manipur "at one or two places" from northern Burma. The Japanese forces, described as "raiding columns," crossed the Chindwin River apparently at night and advanced practically unmolested with the jungle cloaking their operations.

For their drive against rich India, the Japanese chose the same general route over which Gen. Sir Harold Alexander withdrew his main forces in 1942 when the enemy overran Burma. Manipur is bordered by Assam and Burma.

"At some points the Japanese are in contact with our advanced patrols," said the southeast Asia command communique.

On the north Burma front, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters said, the Chinese 22nd Division continued its drive southward from the Hukawng valley to the Mogaung valley, and forward elements are "fighting along the road south of the highest point on the pass over Jambu Bum."

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP). — Angus MacInnis (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) said to-day that groups of workers having a sickness insurance of their own may form resistance groups to a national health insurance plan unless "we point out that the care provided by their own insurance is limited."

Mr. MacInnis made the statement after the Commons committee on social security resumed study of a draft Dominion health insurance plan.

Mrs. Cora T. Casselman (L.-Edmonton East) said some medical care associations not only limited the care provided, but also limited the number of subscribers but not permitting persons over a certain age limit to join the association.

2 Mosquito Planes Destroy 20 Hun Planes In One Raid

LONDON, March 22—(CP Cable).—The feat of four R.C.A.F. fliers who ventured 400 miles into enemy-occupied territory to shoot down three enemy aircraft and damage 17 others on the ground was signalized today by a special communique issued by Air Marshal L. S. Breadner, commander-in-chief of the R.C.A.F. overseas.

The quartet, who flew in two Mosquito planes of the City of Edmonton squadron, consisted of Flt.-Lt. D. MacFadyen of Toronto, Flt.-Lt. J. Luma of Helena, Mont.; FO. C. Finlayson, Victoria, and FO. J. Wright of Rosthern, Sask. Finlayson was navigator in the plane piloted by Luma, while Wright was navigator aboard the machine MacFadyen piloted.

The communique said: "Late yesterday two R.C.A.F. Mosquitoes on offensive patrol over France and Germany destroyed three enemy aircraft over their bases and damaged 17 others on the ground. Both aircraft returned safely."

There have been few previous occasions when such a small force was the basis of a full-fledged communique.

The three planes destroyed were shot down over the Haguenau airfield, about 250 miles east of Paris and the Luxeuil airfield 200 miles southeast of Paris.

The intruders also damaged at least five gliders on the ground.

Luma accounted for two of the German planes—a Junkers 34 and a Junkers 52. MacFayden shot to pieces an unidentified biplane about to land at Haguenau.

Luma rounded off the visit to Luxeuil by attacking the JU-52 which was flying across the airfield. The port engine exploded and the big troop carrier crashed in flames in a forest.

Flying only a few feet above the ground, the Mosquitoes then set a course for home. As they flew past a clock tower in a French village, Finlayson checked the time with his own watch.

"That clock," he told Luma, "is a minute slow."

100 Hun Planes Raid Britain

LONDON, March 22 — (AP). — About 100 German warplanes subjected London to a sharp attack last night, causing casualties and damage in a number of sections in the heaviest assault upon the city since the fire raid of March 17.

Bombs also were dropped at scattered points in East Anglia and southeast England by the raiders, nine of which were shot down, a communique said.

The planes which attacked London struck in three waves from the northeast and southeast and were greeted by a thunderous barrage.

British night fighters and the heavy barrage apparently forced many of the attackers to jettison their bombers haphazardly in the London suburbs, but many nevertheless fell in central regions.

Rescue workers still were digging for victims in the ruins of smashed homes at midday. It was believed, however, the death list would not be nearly as heavy as in some of the Fbruary raids.

The Nazis used a pathfinder technique, the first planes over the city dropping scores of flares to light up the target. The bulk of the bombs dropped were incendiaries, but high explosives also were unloaded.

One large apartment house was set ablaze when hit by incendiaries. A number of people were killed when a crowded vehicle was struck.

The barrage continued at its peak for about a half-hour before gradually subsiding.

Hungary Vital For Defence Of Balkans

Must Protect Ploesti Oil Fields In Rumania, Sole Source Of Natural Oil

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Germany's seizure of Hungary—a move which is partly military and partly political—is smart tactics, although it's a typical Hitlerian act of brutal ruthlessness against a country which has served the Axis well.

It is a logical step in the Nazi Dictator's preparations for the final defence of his inner fortress, towards which he is being steadily driven.

On its political side it's calculated to terrorize the Balkans and unhappy little Finland into sticking to the sinking ship. It ought to have the opposite effect, if horsesense prevailed among the satellites, since it's fresh proof that the Fuehrer will sacrifice them to the last man. However, fear rather than reason has been ruling them. Their future attitude will depend heavily on Russia's further progress into the Balkan peninsula.

From the military standpoint Hitler is aiming at two prime objectives: (1) He is establishing a barrier across the great Danubian gateway into his inner fortress and (2) he is providing himself with a base from which to defend the Balkans against the onrushing Red Armies and to keep his allies in line.

One highly important aspect of the situation is, of course, the vital necessity of protecting Rumania's Ploesti Oil Fields. This represents Hitler's sole source of natural oil, the rest being made synthetically. His oil barrel is dangerously low, and without lubrication neither his war industries nor his military machine can continue to run.

Another point is that he must provide refuge for the host of soldiers in his shattered army of the Russian southern front. Some of these now are fleeing into Bessarabia in an effort to reach Rumania; others are struggling in the Red traps, and still further forces are cooped up on the Crimea and will have to be transported by air or by sea to Rumanian ports.

Hungary is the logical focal point for Hitler's operations in southeastern Europe. Not only are there prime rail connections with Germany and with the Balkans, but the great Danube River forms one of the most important communications on the continent.

French Get Brutal Treatment

Many Internees Shot To Death In Camps

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—Numerous reports from inside the wall of secrecy surrounding Naziland now are being obtained through American repatriates. Some tell of brutal treatment of French internees at Compiegne.

This camp, alongside a camp for Americans, was occupied by de Gaullists who were atrociously treated.

The two camps were separated by a double row of barbed wire entanglements. The interned Americans, whose barrack windows looked over into the other camp, reported they saw Frenchmen shot to death an average of three or four times weekly.

In the French camp, they said, conditions of actual starvation prevailed.

One Frenchman worked his way through the barbed wire early one morning to pick up potato peelings left as refuse outside the American barracks. On the way back to his own camp, however, he became caught in the wire and Americans saw him shot dead as he hung helplessly entangled, still gripping the peelings.

A prominent United States banker in France was shot in the leg without provocation by a German guard at the American Compiegne camp. He was Norman Lewis, 51, investment banker.

Japan Faces Grave Problem

Tojo Orders Ruthless Measures To Win

LONDON, March 22 — (CP) — Premier Gen. Hideko Tojo told the Japanese diet today that Japan's military position in the past few months has become grave and the Empire now is facing battles which will decide its fate the Berlin radio said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said Tojo appeared before the diet to report on the war situation when it reconvened for a final three-day plenary session after a lengthy recess.

Tojo told the diet:—

"Through heroism, Japanese soldiers have been able to ward off the first onslaught of the Americans but new attacks must be expected from this stubborn and tough enemy, who bases his plans on material superiority.

"These new attacks are likely to be launched with greater weight than anything experienced so far. The war situation is truly grave."

He said the home front was just as important as the fighting front and added:—

"Final victory can be won only if our strategic measures are put into effect ruthlessly and if, at the same time, all the material and spiritual strength of the nation is summoned up for the war effort."

Nazis Moving Into Rumania And Bulgaria

Ruthless Action Taken To Prevent Uprisings

LONDON March 22.—(CP).—German troops, already in control in Hungary, were reported to-day to extend full military occupation to Bulgaria and Rumania and the Turkish radio expressed the view Hitler would soon place all three countries under one command "to intensify the German war effort in Southeast Europe."

Advices from neutral capitals indicated the Nazi divisions were seizing strategic military and civil administration centres with all the speed and ruthlessness that characterized German troop movements at the start of the war.

Except for minor cases of resistance the occupying forces apparently were having things all their own way.

The Bulgarian cabinet was said by the Ankara radio to have met in prolonged session yesterday to discuss German demands for active help in the Nazi war against Russia. Bulgaria, at war with Britain and the United States, never has interrupted relations with Russia, long her friend and champion.

London morning newspapers published Ankara dispatches saying it was reported there that Premier Ion Antonescu of Rumania was planning to seek an armistice with Russia, whose troops already are pouring into Bessarabia. Rumania was believed ready to renounce all claim to Bessarabia as one of the armistice conditions, these dispatches said.

A flood of reports about the situation in Hungary agreed on one point only — that 100,000 German troops now completely dominate the country with full control of all railways and communications. There were indications the Nazis were attempting to set up a Quisling regime in Budapest.

Berlin itself remained silent about what is proposed in the Balkans, although a foreign office spokesman indirectly intimated military occupation of the entire area might be proposed.

"Germany's allies must now assume burdens equal to those borne by Germany," he said.

As in the case of Hungary, swiftly occupied in a 36-hour coup early in the week, information about the situation in Rumania and Bulgaria was confused.

The London Daily Mail said it was believed in Ankara that occupation of Rumania was imminent, if not actually in progress, and quoted unconfirmed reports that four German motorized divisions and several divisions of infantry were advancing toward Bucharest.

An Ankara broadcast included both Rumania and Bulgaria within the proposed German occupation area along with Hungary, with all three to be placed under command of one German commander-in-chief. The Ankara radio also said the Germans had seized control of Bulgarian postal and telegraph offices.

Fliers Rescued From Ice Floe

MONTREAL, March 22 — (CP) — Three men aboard a Quebec Airways plane, stranded on an ice-floe in the Gulf of St. Lawrence for a week were picked up last night by the ice-breaker Sorel which will take them to port.

The news of the rescue was contained in a radio message picked up here.

The radio message said that the three stranded men were rescued east of Anticosti Island.

A searching aircraft sighted the slowly-drifting floe yesterday after several days in which the search was hampered by fog and snow. Late last week, contact was established with the floe for a time and supplies of food and rubber boats were dropped. The three men were seen to pick up the supplies.

Since then the floe could not be located again after fog swept down over it. Radio reports from the stranded plane faded out Friday and no word of its whereabouts was available until it was sighted from the air yesterday.

Cassino's southern portion was officially described as "very heavy."

Cling To Ruins.

The Allies were striving again to throw the Germans out of the ruins of the Continental Hotel and from other fortified points on the southwestern edge of the town.

Medium bombers, in sweeps against rail installations north of Rome, made strong attacks on the Arezzo and Bucine viaducts.

Allied aircraft flew approximately 800 sorties during the day, destroying four enemy planes and losing an equal number, headquarters said. About 40 German planes appeared over the battle areas.

Fighter-bombers hit bridges and road traffic and gun positions in the battle areas. Other aircraft attacked shipping along the Dalmatian coast.

The communique said patrols were active on the remainder of the main 5th Army front and in the Allied bridgehead around Anzio.

On the British 8th Army front sharp patrol clashes were reported.

The intensified battle for devastated Cassino was a week old today. Fanatic young Nazi parachute troops clung to key points in the outskirts of the town and on vital heights behind it.

The parachutists, perhaps the toughest men in the German army, average about 20 years of age and they have been reinforced by units of a crack armored Grenadier division. Yesterday's communique said the enemy succeeded "in bringing up reinforcements Sunday night and mopping up has been slow."

Official reports of fighting in the town's southern section indicated the Germans have regained some ground there after recapturing the Continental Hotel wreckage.

An official announcement said additional German prisoners have been taken, increasing to 236 the total captured since the battle began a week ago.

On the Monte Cassino slopes, British troops made a determined attack on two German points last night and were making good progress until they ran into a minefield. The Germans meanwhile started infiltrating down a gulch toward the British-held hill, forcing the attackers to return to their base.

Other Allied troops made a foray to a second German-held point about 1,000 yards from their own position in an attempt to prevent the infiltration down the gulch but were beaten back.

Indian troops holding a small plateau farther south received supplied by air yesterday as they had on the two preceding days. Invaders again dropped the supplies by parachute.

Allied troops retained two points southwest of Cassino under heavy enemy attacks. New Zealanders in the town have been attacking toward these points against strong intervening enemy opposition.

The medium bombers north of Rome knocked out two bridges and the two viaducts at Arezzo and Buchine, as well as harassing shipping along the Dalmatian coast. Bridges fell at Poggibonsi, south of Florence, and at Cecina, south of Leghorn.

Report Is Asked From City Auditor

The following resolution by Alderman Ovens, seconded by Alderman Cotton, was passed by the Council last night:

"That the city auditor, E. Humpage, be requested to submit a report regarding the City Trust surplus account, the application of their yearly demands on the city. Also the advisability of liquidating the City of Peterborough debentures held by them. That a copy of this report be mailed to each member of the council so that consideration may be given to it at the next meeting of the finance committee."

"We are facing post-war planning," said Alderman Ovens, "and we should explore every avenue we can that will help us keep down the costs to the taxpayers. This resolution is simply asking for information from our auditor. The City Trust is holding $900,000 of City of Peterborough debentures, and they demand each year from the council money to pay that interest."

MARSHALL ISLAND, March 4—(Delayed)— (AP)— The possibility that Amelia Earhart Putnam, famed aviatrix, ran out of gas in the Marshall Islands and was taken to Japan has been revived by a remark of a mission-trained native to Lieut. Eugene T. Bogan.

Early this morning the molten river of lava rolling down the northwestern side of the mountain had swept away the first houses in Cercola two miles from the peak.

It was flying lava like that of today, but much heavier, which buried ancient Pompei and thus preserved it just as it stood in Roman days until archeologists dug the lava away centuries later. Falling in small chunks, this lava does not destroy like that streaming down the mountainsides.

Spicial fire watches were maintained at all ammunition and gasoline dumps in the Vesuvius area.

The latest blowoff of the famed volcano, whose lava swallowed up the villages of San Sebastiano and Massa di Somma yesterday, came at 4 a.m. to-day. Flames shot 200 feet above the circular cauldron, showering the countryside with cinders and lava dust.

Meanwhile authorities proceeded with the evacuation of 5,000 inhabitants of Cercola and completed the removal of the residents of the small town of Pollena-Trocchi, which lies immediately to the east of buried San Sebastiano and Massi di Somma.

Concern also was felt for several coastal towns further to the west in the path of the new stream which, while still more than two miles away, was rolling toward them at the rate of 25 to 30 feet an hour. They are Portici, Torre Del Greco and several intervening villages.

At the royal Vesuvius observatory, halfway up the western slope, Prof. Giuseppe Imbo said he saw no indication of a cessation of the eruption.

Obituary

MRS. THOMAS P. DRUMM, SR.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas Drumm, Sr. took place Tuesday from the family residence, 213 Park street south, to the Church of the Sacred Heart. Rev. James F. Houlihan offered Requiem Mass in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

Mrs. Drumm, the former Alice Kelly, moved to Peterborough with her husband and family 22 years ago from near Coe Hill and during her residence here had gained a host of friends as was shown by the many floral and spiritual tokens presented to the family.

The cortege proceeded by motor to Bancroft and was joined by a large group of friends and relatives from the surrounding district who came to be present for the interment at Bancroft cemetery. Rev. Dr. Masterson of Lakefield and Rev. M. Kennedy of Bancroft conducted the graveside services.

Pallbearers were Ronald Mumford, Daniel O'Brien, Leo Masterson, Percy Doughty, Michael Twomey and C. Masterson.

Will Demand Death Penalty

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 22 (AP)—The prosecution charged today that Wayne Lonergan rained blows on the head of his rich young wife in a fatal attack in their fashionable apartment last Oct. 24 and that the attack was based on a determination to kill.

Opening the state's first-degree murder case against the 26-year-old R.C.A.F. aircraftsman, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet declared that Lonergan's estranged wife tried vainly to defend herself even after her head had been fractured from blows on the head as she lay in bed.

"But he (Lonergan) was determined to kill her," Grumet said. "He went after her, going around the bed, grabbed her around the throat with both hands and choked her until her body was lifeless."

Lonergan sat at the defence table looking down at his clasped hands during most of the prosecutor's brief address but he looked up and blinked when Grumet declared that the state would demand a first-degree murder conviction.

Grumet said that Lonergan returned to New York from Toronto, where he was in training in the R.C.A.F., and went to his wife's apartment, after spending an evening with another woman.

Grumet said the state had only Lonergan's statement as to what transpired in the apartment, and that in it he told of getting into an argument with his wife, breaking an antique candle holder on her head, then beating her "brutally" with a second holder.

mittee which would provide for dental care and for free eye glasses.

Dr. Heagerty said that at present there were not enough dentists to go around to provide full dental care to all. Supplying eye glasses would be a costly proposition.

Resent Compulsion.

Arthur Slaght (L.-Parry Sound) said the draft bill called for each adult to pay $12 a year. Single persons with incomes of more than $660 would be asked to pay an additional contribution of three per cent in the form of income tax. Married persons with income of more than $1,200 would be asked to pay an additional five per cent.

"We aim to compel $12 to be paid by 8 million people" said Mr. Slaght. "I have grave doubts that the people of Canada are ready for such compulsion. I venture to say 5,000,000 of 8,000,000 people would oppose a Bill that would compel them to pay $12.

"Public opinion may revolt, if a Bill compelling them to pay $12 is passed by Parliament.

"I think we should pause and think before putting an added burden on the backs of the people."

Mr. MacInnis said contributions to the health insurance plan would not be an additional taxation. The contributions in a good many cases would be lower than the amount paid annually by some persons for medical services.

Dr. J. P. Howden (L.-St. Boniface) said he believed the $12 contribution should be reduced to $10 and that income tax contributions should be increased, placing more of the burden on those able to pay.

George Wood (L.-Brant) said he believed a tax might be imposed on liquor, tobacco, motion pictures and gambling.

"I think people should make some contribution. By doing so they will have more self-respect.

"I believe that we ought to have a compulsory health insurance plan and a compulsory pension plan and that we ought to go to the people and see what they think about it."

R. B. Bryce, Financial Investigator of the Federal Department of Finance, drew attention to figures given at previous sittings of the committee which showed how much the Health Insurance Plan would cost.

The estimated operational cost would amount to about $242,235,000 annually. The $12 contributions would yield an estimated $94,480,000 and the contributions through Income Tax and through Dominion grants would provide about $147,755,000.

To pay money out of the consolidated revenue the government would have to find ways of getting money into the Consolidated Revenue Fund, Mr. Bryce said. This might have to be done by increasing Income Tax, and the increase could or could not be earmarked as a contribution to Health Insurance.

The committee adjourned till next week.

miles south of the Manipur border action, some Allied troops have been moved north to "deal with Japanese outflanking movements north of Tiddim," and staged a small-scale attack near Falam, below Tiddim, Monday.

Allied air fleets struck at Japanese positions and communications in the Chindwin, Chin Hills, Arakan and Kaladan areas, and heavy bombers attacked Prome, Martaban and Moulmein in central and southern Burma, all without loss.

Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, commander-in-chief for India, described the Japanese thrust into Manipur as an effort to divert Allied forces and relieve strong Allied pressure against their lines on the Arakan front, roughly 250 miles southwest of the Manipur invasion.

"No real threat can materialize unless and until the Japanese manage to penetrate to points whence they can attack our rail and river communications or our airfields in Assam," he said.

"I am in no doubt myself as to the ultimate result of the fighting now beginning on this part of the front, although it may take time before the situation is finally cleared up to the satisfaction of our Allied commanders."

At the same time, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's Headquarters declared Allied troops had repulsed a comparatively heavy Japanese attack in the Maungdaw-Buthedaung area at the southern end of the Burmese front, where British and Indian forces have been moving slowly down along the coast toward enemy-held Akyab.

In another engagement in this sector, headquarters said, Allied troops captured a hill feature south of Buthedaung.

This was the first Allied acknowledgment of Japanese penetration of India. The Berlin radio in May, 1942, had reported Japanese crossings of the frontier, quoting Tokyo dispatches, but such claims never were heard directly from Japanese sources.

The Tokyo radio today declared that leaders of the Indian Independence League were jubilant "over news of the Indian national army march into Indian soil."

Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo declared before the Japanese Diet that India would be brought under leadership of Subhas Chandra Bose's government, but said "we cannot expect that the road of India's liberation will be easy.

Empire Press Union To Hear Col. Astor

TORONTO, March 22—Lt.-Col. the Hon. J. J. Astor, M.P., publisher of the London Times and President of the Empire Press Union, will be the chief speaker at the dinner to be held Wednesday, March 29, at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, under the auspices of the E.P.U. (Canadian Section) to mark the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Union, coincident with the first Imperial Press Conference in London in 1909.

LT.-COL. HON. J. J. ASTOR

Three surviving charter members who were present at the formation of the Union—J. E. Atkinson, Toronto Star, P. D. Ross, Ottawa Journal, and M. E. Nichols, Vancouver Province—will also be guests of honor. Nation-wide representation of Canadian dailies and periodicals is assured.

Lt.-Col. the Hon. John J. Astor, Unionist M.P. for Dover Division of Kent since 1922 is chairman of The Times Publishing Company; president of the Empire Press Union. Born May 20, 1886 he is youngest son of 1st Viscount Astor. He married 1916 Lady Violet Mary Elliott, youngest daughter of 4th Earl of Minto and widow of Major Lord Charles Mercer Nairne, son of 5th Marquess of Lansdowne.

Colonel Astor was educated at Eton College and New College, Oxford. He joined the 1st Life Guards in 1906, was A.D.C. to the Viceroy of India, 1911-14 and served in the European War 1914-18.

Order Reveals

He revealed that the Africa Star has been awarded to 1,500,000 officers and men, and the 1939-43 Star to 1,600,000, he said the King's Badge is restricted to those invalided from the forces, the merchant navy and the fishing fleets through wounds of war, disability attributable to service.

He announced that official chevrons for war service would be given personnel of organizations who looked after the bombed-out: rest centres, emergency food centres, canteen, emergency, information and mortuary services. The chevron was on the point of being awarded to some 200,000 additional members of the women's voluntary services enrolled in civil defence.

The prime minister said the question of clasps or bars on the medal ribbons would not come up until after the war. He explained with regret that it had not been possible to include among eligibles for the 1939-43 Star the personnel of anti-aircraft batteries, especially those of the Dover coastal batteries, without opening the door to personnel of searchlight and predictor groups and then to dominion anti-invasion troops, the national fire service, police and home guard and so forth.

The prime minister said the devoted service by an estimated 10,000,000 persons during the Battle of Britain raised the question of a third ribbon, which at present was being studied. Such an award might well be made for such distinguished service as that contributed by the Malta garrison.

However, everyone who had worn a uniform undoubtedly would receive a victory medal after the war and there likely would be a United Nations or Allied war medal of the widest possible application."

Fire Services For Smith Twp.

The following report of the Fire and Light Committee of the Council, read by Alderman Sullivan, was adopted by the Council last night.

Reeve McIlmoyle of Smith Township and Mr. A. I. Edmison, the township clerk, addressed the committee in respect to extending the city fire services to the suburban area of the township. Reeve McIlmoyle suggested that the area to be given fire services might consist of Queen Elizabeth School area plus a small additional area. He asked what charge the city would make annually for this service.

We recommend that the city agree to give the services of its Fire Department to a special area in Smith Township to be designated at a charge equal the sum raised by a charge of two mills on the total assessment of the area plus an additional charge of $50.00 for each fire call to the area, this agreement to be for one year from April 1st, 1944, and then these charges to be reviewed, and the Fire Department to lay a maximum of 1,500 feet of hose to fires in the area from city hydrants.

We recommend that the following street lights be installed:

At the corner of Armour Road and Sophia Street—the present 60-watt lamp be replaced with a 300-watt lamp

One 100-watt lamp be installed on each of the following streets—Maple, Pine, Kent, and Lynch;

On Stewart Street, from Charlotte Street south to the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks — the present 27 60-watt lamps on wooden brackets be replaced by 16 300-watt lamps, which will be an improved service at no additional cost.

Alderman Sullivan informed the Council that the two mills on the assessment of the township area would provide about $260.

Navigation Starts

CLEVELAND, March 22.—(AP).—Great Lakes freighters, facing a quota of 192,000,000 tons of coal, iron ore, grain and limestone in 1944, are tentatively scheduled to begin navigation in lower waters March 28, reports L. C. Sabin, vice-president of the Lake Carriers' Association.

Orange Men Oppose School Program

TORONTO, March 22 (CP)—Opposition to "denominational or doctrinal" religious education in Ontario public Schools is expressed in a letter to Premier Drew of Ontario from L. H. Saunders, secretary of the legislation committee of the Grand Orange Lodge, Ontario West. Mr. Saunders made the letter public today.

The letter cited a resolution in which it was suggested that an appeal to parents to see that children receive adequate religious instruction in their homes and by attendance at Sunday School "is the only real and satisfactory solution of the problem that is now concerning religious leaders and others."

Fear was expressed that introduction of "definite religious teaching" in public schools would injure or possibly destroy the Public School system.

The letter also dealt with provincial grants to government and Separate Schools and urged that one of two plans be adopted: "If Public Schools are 89 per cent of all primary schools, the total government grant for Public School purposes ought to be 89 per cent of the total grant for educational purposes, or, if the Public Schools educate 82 per cent of all primary school children then the grants to Public Schools should equal that amount out of the total amount voted by the legislature."

Separate Schools now number 11.3 per cent of all primary schools and educate 18.7 per cent of all primary school pupils but "received nearly 26 per cent of all government grants" in the 1940-41 school year, the letter said.

While the invaders, aided by Air and naval cover and brushed aside light opposition, the town of Kavieng on New Ireland, 84 miles to the southeast of the St. Mathias group, virtually was erased in a 3½-hour bombardment. American battleships, making their first appearance in the Bismarck Sea, joined other warships in hurling 1,000 tons of shells .

The leapfrog thrust into the St. Matthias group, made possible by air and naval neutralization of the intervening bases of Rabaul and Kavieng, "completes isolation of all enemy bases in the Bismarck Archipelago and places us in bombing range of Truk," said Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied Commander in the southwest Pacific.

R. J. McGregor Awaits English Bride

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — (ENS)—Among the first of this town's citizens to enlist following the outbreak of war in September 1939 was Robert J. A. McGregor who has just returned to Campbellford after a little more than four years of overseas duty.

Pte. McGregor enlisted with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in September 1939 and went ovreseas to England in December of the same year with the 1st Division. Categoried as medically unfit for further overseas duty he is now at his parental home here awaiting the arrival of his English bride to whom he was married in May 1941.

Mrs. McGregor, who will be the first English bride to reach this town, was employed in a factory that manufacture uniforms at the time of their marriage and subsequently transferred to a munitions plant. Since the McGregors have no family the British Selective Service direct employment in essential industry.

Special Duties

Prior to his enlistment, Pte. McGregor operated a bicycle and sporting goods store in town and this he sold so that he could join the army. While in England he was attached to the Royal Navy from April to July 1940 and was on special assignments which took him to Belfast, the Channel Islands, Dublin and Wales. He was also at Brest and St. Nazaire prior to the fall of France. He has been awarded the Canadian Efficiency Medal and Clasp in recognition of 18 years service in the Army, and was unaware of the fact till advised of it in a letter from his wife last week. The decoration has been forwarded to her. The medal signifies 12 years of service while the clasp is for six additional years.

"Bob" first became acquainted with army life sixteen years ago when he went to camp with the old Northumberland Regiment at Barriefield under Major J. M. Bygott who was then a company commander. He qualified at the Royal School of Infantry as a corporal in 1929 and in 1934 qualified as a sergeant. He was a senior company sergeant when he embarked for overseas but later reverted to the rank of private and transferred to th R.C.O.C. At the conclusion of his furlough, he will report back to the district depot, Kingston, for posting.

Radio Forum Decides 15 Helpers Needed

GORE'S LANDING, March 22 — (ENS). — The Farm Radio Forum meeting of Gore's Landing-Harwood-Plainville met at the home of Rev. M. C. and Mrs. Fisher on Monday evening. Forty members were present, the largest number this season. With Earle Drope in the chair and Chuck Chidley secretary, the meeting was divided into three groups after the broadcast. Mr. Chidley, Mrs. Meggs and Tom Bates were secretaries of the groups.

The majority present did not favour a monthly meeting during the summer months. In regard to field crops it was felt that these had been maintained, although under difficulty because of help shortage. Livestock has been increased and chickens were definitely on the increase in this vicinity. The last question, the majority decided that 15 experienced farm hands could be used through the four school sections present.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Fisher for their hospitality. A short program of community singing and a recitation by M. J. MacDonald preceded the lunch. The closing of the season next Monday night will be celebrated by a banquet in Bethesda North Church, with R. C. Banbury special speaker for the occasion.

Officer Entertains Men After Parade

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — (ENS)—Something new in the way of pay parades confronted members of B Company Midland Regiment who lined up for their year end money at the Armouries here Monday evening. In addition to drawing their pay for the year ending March 15 the boys were treated to coffee and sandwiches with the compliments of Lieut.-Col. A. H. Bounsall, E.D., O.C. of the 2nd Midland Regiment. Recruits from Havelock, Warkworth, Norwood and Campbellford attended with Major N. Alex MacColl, company commander, in charge.

Wants a Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, March 22.—(AP).—Jennifer Jones, who recently won the motion picture Academy Award for the best feminine screen performance in 1943, announced last night she intends to seek a divorce. The action, charging incompatability, will be filed in Reno against her screen actor-husband, Robert Walker.

"BIG BILL" DEAD—William Hale (Big Bill) Thompson, 75, three times mayor of Chicago, is dead. He attracted international attention in his successful third-term campaign when he threatened to "punch King George of England in the snoot." However, 14 years later, when Germany overran France, he stated he hoped Britain would emerge victorious.

Two Soldiers Killed In Italy

COBOURG, March 22—(ENS). — Pte. Ralph Brown and Pte. Donald McKenzie of Cobourg have died overseas, their next-of-kin here have been notified. They were with the H. and P.E. Regiment. Pte. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brown of Perry Street, and was 20 years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Brown received a telegram saying that he was wounded, and another telegram announcing that he had died of his wounds, all within two days, and Tuesday they received a letter from him written a week before his death.

Pte. Brown was born in Napanee and came with his parents to Cobourg about 14 years ago. He was educated in Cobourg and worked at the Cooey Arms here before enlisting a year ago. He went overseas with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment on November 21 last year and went to Italy in February of this year. He was wounded earlier this month and died of wounds on March 12. Pte. Brown was gifted in painting, and took a great interest in art during his school days. Besides his parents, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. T. Medhurst, Jr., and Pauline at home, and three brothers: Gerald in Toronto, Cpl. Lyle at Camp Borden and Lawrence at home.

Pte. Donald McKenzie is the son of William McKenzie and the late Mrs. McKenzie. Twenty-two years of age he was born in Cobourg and educated here. He was employed at the tannery and enlisted in 1939, shortly after war broke out, with the Midland Regiment, later transferring to the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. He was stationed for a time at Trenton and Three Rivers, and went overseas four years ago. Besides his father, he is survived by three sisters: Mrs. S. Groves and Miss Annie McKenzie of Kingston [illegible] Mrs. Ed. McIvor of Cobourg [illegible] brothers: George, overseas [illegible] and Alex. at home, Archie [illegible] Arnold in Toronto.

Ministers Make Plans For Passion Week

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — (ENS). — Plans for Passion Week services announced by the local Ministerial Association at their meeting here two weeks ago have now been completed with arrangements for Dr. John Coburn of Toronto, associate secretary of the department of evangelism and social service of the United Church, to be guest speaker. Dr. Coburn will address the meetings in St. John's United Church here on April 3, 4, and 5. At the remaining services Rev. D. Gray of the United Church, Stirling, will be speaker.

Tickets On Pictures Raise $50 For War

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — (ENS)—Total proceeds from the sale of tickets on three water color pictures raffled by the Campbellford and Seymour branch of the Red Cross were revealed to have been $50.35 it was anounced at the weekly meeting here Tuesday afternoon.

The draw was made at the C.W.L. bingo recently and winners were Mrs. A. E. Burgis, Mrs. A. Hollings and Mrs. Kenneth Martin. Mr. Herb Grills made the draw. It was decided the Red Cross would sponsor a bingo party here on March 27 when some 20 prizes will be offered. With a small number of workers out for the meeting, an appeal was made to members, who were told help was urgently needed.

A Reversal Of Justice

The Chief Justice of Ontario, the Hon. Robert S. Robertson, spoke with great severity on Monday of a tendency which he observed in Government Orders-In-Council to reverse the usual principle of justice and "to make people come to court and prove their innocence". His remarks were made in connection with a case which came before him on the appeal of the Attorney-General of the Province.

What the Chief Justice said is what many people have thought, but have been unable to express so trenchantly; frequently the people of this country should give thanks that the judiciary are so keenly sensitive to the danger which threatens our liberties under our present abnormal system of government; many judges have spoken sharply against the injustices and the distortions of justice which come about through wartime regulations, and what they say carries weight.

Unquestionably great powers have to be vested in a government in wartime, and some of the rights and privileges of the people have to go by the board in the interest of efficiency. But the men who make up governments are no more than human beings, and they tend to think that they can never be wrong; as a result they frequently adopt a punitive, hectoring and suspicious attitude toward the ordinary citizen which is markedly undemocratic. When they are taxed with this they have a dozen excuses for their actions; they plead the necessity of getting on with the war, and of dealing with important matters as expeditiously as possible. But the fact remains that what they do looks very much like petty tyranny.

Until the war is over little can be done except to hold this tendency to bully the ordinary citizen in check as much as possible, and to draw attention to it frequently. But as soon as the war is over immediate steps must be taken to see that the relations between governors and governed are set right, and that men are not required to prove themselves innocent in court in matters of petty regulation. Meanwhile we hope that the judiciary will continue to keep a watchful eye on those who, with the best of motives, are nibbling away at the rights of the ordinary citizen.

Trial Of Pierre Pucheu

The death sentence has been passed on Pierre Pucheu in Algiers, after a trial which has been criticised by those who like to see justice administered in an orderly and unemotional manner. But at this distance it seems to us that Pucheu was lucky to get as good a trial as he did. Compared with the farce at Riom, for instance, his trial was a model of even-handed justice. At present the French people are not in the mood to be over-scrupulous with the betrayers of their country, and Pucheu undoubtedly belonged in that group. Was he not one of Doriot's fascist leaders? Was he not the minister of industrial production who hurried up the production of German munitions in French factories? Was he not the head of the French police, working hand in glove with the Gestapo? Had he not a hand in some of Vichy's most unsavoury trials for treason? Did he not assist in deporting great numbers of his fellow-countrymen to Germany for forced labour? Considering these things, a Frenchman might say that Pucheu's trial was luxurious in its clemency and restraint.

It's a Woman's World

A farmer in Manitoba was recently sued for breach of promise of marriage, and the plaintiff was awarded damages of $1,500, and one-half of the defendant's stock and chattels, one-half of the cash he now possesses, and a half interest in his farm. Under the circumstances, this seems to be a just decision.

But what we want to know is this: does a man ever bring suit for breach of promise? We cannot recollect ever hearing of such an action. In the Manitoba case the defendant repeatedly assured the plaintiff that he meant to marry her, and she acted as his housekeeper and performed many services for him on that understanding; when he jilted her and married another woman she very properly took the matter to court. But how many cases have we not heard of in which a woman has kept a man on a string for months or years, has taken everything that she could get from that arrangement, and has jilted him at last? Has one of these men ever sued for damages? And will anybody deny that the misery and shame of a jilted man are less than the misery and shame of a jilted maid?

There is a notion still lingering in popular belief that a man may marry whom he likes, and that he has but to ask a sufficient number of girls in order to find a wife; the opposite side of this belief is that a girl must wait until she is asked before she can make a step toward marriage, and that if she is jilted once her chances of marrying are seriously reduced.

Now what is the truth of the matter? Is it not true that women choose their husbands at least as often as husbands choose their wives, and that men are the pursued just as often as they are the pursuers? Why then do not more men who have been thrown over by women who had promised to marry them sue these defaulters, taking half their possessions and righting their wrong before the world?

Why No Canadian Humour?

Bruce Hutchison, who is one of the few Canadians to trouble his head about such things, has been speculating in the Victoria Times as to whether Canada has a national humour. He thinks not, and we are inclined to agree with him. Here in Canada we like a joke, and we like it better and better as the years go by; when it reaches a ripe old age we may be said positively to venerate it, and when it dies we take care that it leaves a score of grandchildren, all as like the parent joke as possible. Yes, we like jokes, but we are not strong in humour. Humour is a particular cast of mind, an effervescence of the spirit, so to speak, and in Canada we do not effervesce. As a people we have many good qualities, but our national temperament is dour.

Mr. Hutchison's speculation on this subject are interesting, even though he set them down while smoking hemp, or perhaps after having eaten of the insane root which takes the reason prisoner. Listen to this:

"In Ottawa there is a humour of ideas, on a rather lofty level, tinged with quotations from the classics, and particularly from Dr. Johnson and Burton's 'Anatomy of Melancholy'. In the Maritimes, I dare say, there is a humour of the sea, with a fine salty tang about it. On the prairies there is the earthy humour of the smoking car which I cannot illustrate in such a respectable publication as this. In Victoria there is a humour of rather English cast which laughs at itself, which is perhaps the best kind of humour of all. Victoria has laughed at itself so long that it almost believes at last that it is funny when it is nothing of the sort".

Now just a minute, Mr. Hutchison! Where do you meet these learned folk in Ottawa who quote Boswell and Burton so readily? We ask because we receive communications from Ottawa regularly, and most of them seem to be written by persons of confused and illiterate mental habit. We grant you the breezy fun of the prairies, and the codliver-oil jests of the Maritimes, and the watered Punch of Victoria, but we simply cannot swallow these tales of a donnish, allusive, subtle Ottawa. Have you ever tried to buy a book that wasn't a best-seller in Ottawa?

There is no national humour in Canada, and will not be until we have a large population. Like a Canadian theatre, a Canadian art, and a Canadian music, a Canadian sense of humour will take a lot of support. It will be a few centuries before uproarious stories begin, "Once a couple of Canadians met in a beverage room, and one sez to the other, Say, who was that lady I seen you with last night? . . ."

Mr. Justice McTague Retires

After three years of giving unstintedly of his energy and great talents to one of the hardest and most thankless jobs in Canada, Mr. Justice McTague has resigned the chairmanship of the National War Labour Board.

Mr. Justice McTague forsook his law court robes to go to Ottawa to do his part, and in doing that he has sought for better capital-labour relations. He soon won the trust of the employers and employees alike and the value of his services in these war years can hardly be overestimated.

He has served with distinction the post in which he was thrust, and his efforts have gone a long way in maintaining industrial peace.

Doukhobors in the Slogan Valley of British Columbia are reported to be running about dressed in nothing but crowns of oranges and veils. Well, that is an advance on the usual costume of an excited Doukhobor.

The Story Of Canadian Art

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

WILLIAM COLGATE, who has been known for some years as an art critic in Canada, has produced a useful record in "Canadian Art: 1820-1940" (Ryerson). It is not the first book on its subject, but it may fairly be called the most comprehensive study of Canadian painting and the allied arts which has yet appeared. The book has been written with considerable skill in order to appeal alike to the layman, the historian and the artist. It is handsomely produced and is very fully illustrated; it is a pity that only one of the illustrations is in colour, for monochrome reproductions of paintings are useful only as they show the composition of the work; they may even distort a picture by leaving out its colour. However, the book costs five dollars in its present form, and if it had contained twenty-five colour plates its price would have been beyond the means of many who would want to own it. In wartime we cannot quarrel too much over the format of books. We must take it as it stands.

CANADIAN painting begins with an Irishman and a Prussian, Paul Kane and Cornelius Krieghoff; the former painted the Canadian North West, and the latter the habitants of Lower Canada. Neither man was a painter of more than ordinary accomplishment, but their work has great charm, and has acquired value as a historical record of this country during the early days of the last century. "Charm" is a quality which the art critic and the painter may despise; the layman will always value it. There is a clarity, an attention to detail and an enthusiasm about the canvases of Kane and Krieghoff which is undeniably charming, and, to be candid, they still speak to the present writer of Canada more eloquently than the works of later and more accomplished interpreters.

APART from Kane and Krieghoff little of value was painted in Canada a century ago. Some of the ladies and gentlemen who came out here from England on official business could sketch a little and dabble with water-colour, and their pictures of the country are interesting chiefly because they show a Canada tamed by eyes which accepted English standards of natural beauty and no others. The belief persisted for sixty years and more that "Canadian subjects were aesthetically unpaintable." The publication of the volumes of handsome engravings called "Picturesque Canada," with descriptive text by George Monroe Grant in 1882 showed people of real aesthetic sense that this opinion was bosh, but the notion lingered for many years longer among those who follow artistic trends as a safe distance.

BEFORE the days of half-tone reproduction in newspapers many artists were employed to supply pictures of current events and famous persons for the press. The standard of workmanship among these newspaper artists was reasonably high; those who worked in Canada were as competent as their contemporaries in New York or London. They comprised the only body of working artists in Canada, and they took themselves with fitting seriousness, but they were plagued with convictions of inferiority, and when they exhibited their more ambitious work their timidity was readily apparent in it. There were a very few confident workmen, like George Theodore Berthon, who produced accomplished portraits of notabilities; there were far more young men who laboured under the conviction that anything Canadian must necessarily be second-rate; this latter conviction, by the way, still plagues a great number of Canadian writers. Canada during the eighties and nineties, and until the Great War, continued to produce a fair quantity of modest but workmanlike painting, with here and there a dash of genius, as in the work of Tom Thompson.

CANADIAN painting received a violent new impulse when the Group of Seven held its first exhibition and published its manifesto in 1920. The manifesto was a bumptious and gratuitously insulting document, but it contained a great deal of good sense. And perhaps shock tactics were the only ones which could rouse Canada from its innocent Philistine dreams. The Group has long since become highly respectable and even conventional, but there are still Canadians who mention it with a wry smile, as though speaking of a gang of wild eccentrics who aim to stand the world of art on its head. Until Canada has twenty times its present population it will be impossible to expect a considerable body of intelligent opinion on matters of art. In the meantime our painters will have to go on fighting a hard battle.

WILLIAM COLGATE'S book will be of value to people who want to make the acquaintance of our Canadian artists, and who want a full account of the artistic development of our country. He has included chapters on sculpture, architecture and book design, which gives his volume a useful comprehensiveness. The book should enjoy a steady sale for a number of years.

Private Industry and Housing

It is refreshing to come across the opinion of a practical man who believes that Canada has a future and that we are not going to the eternal bow-wows when the war is over. Such a man is A. A. Streatfield, president of the Retail Lumber Dealers Association, who in his address to that body recently stated that the need of housing units in Canada had been estimated as high as from 50,000 to more than 400,000 per year for five years.

Mr. Streatfield pointed out that before the war private industry built many thousands of houses and that it again can be done without the government entering the field. He stated also that during the present war, notwithstanding shortages of labour and material, more than 25,000 houses had been built.

Referring to wartime houses, Mr. Streatfield made some sensible observations as follows: Much has been said about wartime houses and the idea most prevalent is that the buildings should be torn down after the war is over. In many places, contracts with municipalities call for their removal after the war. However, it does seem a criminal waste of national assets to follow such a course. In view of the shortage of houses they could be converted into permanent homes and put on a taxpaying basis in a good many localities. Unquestionably, many war plants will be converted into peacetime factories after the war, and they will require houses for workers. A thorough survey should be made before any wartime houses are dismantled, he said.

WAITING FOR THE GREEN LIGHT

Hospital Deficits

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

IN calling attention to the fact that the Kingston General Hospital in 1943 showed a deficit "almost twice as large as the accumulated deficit during the previous 17 years of operation," the Kingston Whig-Standard says it is due to the allowances made by the municipalities and the Provincial Government for indigent patients being insufficient to cover the cost of their care.

All hospital costs—medical, nursing and mechanical—have gone up enormously in the past few years and the allowances for indigent patients have remained stationary. Most of the hospitals are therefore faced with three alternatives: They must raise the rates charged to other than indigent patients, draw dangerously on their endowment funds which the Kingston hospital seems to have done, or obtain larger allowances from the municipalities and the provinces for indigent patients.

Hon. Dr. Vivian, Ontario Minister of Health, has properly declared that the cost of indigent patients cannot fairly be loaded upon other patients, and it is obvious that private contributions to hospital endowment funds cannot be expected when the incomes and estates of wealthy people are so heavily charged with income and inheritance taxes.

Dr. Vivian some time ago promised legislation to increase the municipal and provincial payments for indigents but the promise has not yet been fulfilled. He seems to be more interested lately in some form of health insurance, good in itself, but not an immediate remedy for the present serious situation hospital find themselves in.

In the existing public mood of generosity—demands that health should be a first charge on the treasury and declarations that nurses and other hospital employes are underpaid—there is surely no good reason for hesitation about increasing municipal and provincial allowances to hospitals when their need has been shown to be so pressing.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

INCOME TAX INJUSTICE

Sir,—In the T1 Special income tax form is an item which is, I think, an injustice. This item (13F) tells us to add 5 per cent. to our total tax if we are late in filing our return. We have already paid 90 per cent. of our tax in the deduction at source, or at least we should have. If we are late getting our return in we have to pay a five per cent. penalty on something we have already paid. This penalty should only be paid on item 13J, or balance payable.—Yours truly,

W. J. T.

FAVOURS NATIONAL PARK

Sir,—Why not a National Park for Peterborough county? From all the information which has been published up to this time, Ontario has not within its boundaries even one. In this day of so much national unity talk, would not this be a step in the right direction, to say nothing of the advertising for Peterborough and county which would result.

It must give some of the settlers in the vicinity of Sandy Lake and Scotsman's Point a laugh or rather a gripe when Mr. Kingan states that his elk have gotten to know the present game reserve, unless grain fields and potato patches near the above parts are included in the present reserve. Lets have a larger park, and as Mr. Powell says a real game warden or wardens as the case may be.

If there are any timber limits as claimed, I would like to see them taken over by the Crown or Province and turned into a real demonstration wood lot, not like some of these which flourished for two or three years, then out of the blue comes the axe and saw and all is at an end.

So don't let us say we can't afford or don't want a National Park, but rather we are going to have a park and get right out and get it, just as soon and as economically as can be.

Yours for One who Feels many could take a Few Observation Lessons from the Inhabitants of our Future Park.

THE HOSPITAL DEFICIT

Sir,—Along with other taxpayers we were quite encouraged to note by the "Examiner" of Monday last, that some of our aldermen were beginning to see the light regarding the Nicholls Hospital, and has stated their intention of refusing to pay to the hospital, any deficit which may be incurred during 1944 upon patients from outside the city.

We feel that our efforts in this direction have not been in vain, but cannot understand how an act which is apparently wrong in 1944 can have been right in 1943. In other words if it is wrong to pay any deficit upon outside patients at the hospital for 1944, how could it have been right to pay the deficit under the same circumstances for 1943? What is wrong in one year, cannot, by any process of reasoning, be right in another year.

Any person who has read the act incorporating Nicholls Hospital cannot fail to notice that, rightly or wrongly, the residents of Peterborough and Ashburnham were the only recipients the generous donor had in mind, when she gave the funds etc. which established the hospital. The preamble of the act (page 9) states that the "said premises together with the endowment is given for the benefit of the Protestant population of the Town of Peterborough and that the village of Ashburnham shall be admitted to the benefits of the hospital."

Kindly notice that the town of Peterborough, and village of Ashburnham ONLY are mentioned. Not a word about the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland or what have you, from whence 40 per cent of the patients come.

In addition to this, there is the evidence contained in the testimonial from the town council of Peterborough dated Feb. 3rd 1890 wherein Mrs. Nicholls is thanked for the hospital and grounds "which she has dedicated to the benevolent and Christian purpose of relieving the suffering and healing the sick in THE TOWN OF PETERBOROUGH." And later in the same "That this council convey to Mrs. Nicholls its appreciation of this manifestation of her great concern for the unfortunate and of her love to THE CITIZENS OF PETERBOROUGH."

Having all these facts in mind, we, along with many other taxpayers of the city are strongly of the opinion that our city fathers were in error when they made an allowance to the hospital for ALL the deficit to December 31, 1943, but feel that all they were expected to do was to pay the deficit incurred by city patients. In fact we will go further, and state, that in our opinion, the city council did not have the authority to pay any deficit incurred by patients from outside the city, and were prevented by the act from doing so.

While we are on the subject of finance we would like to state that in the opinion of many taxpayers (including the writers of this letter) there was not the slightest need to increase the tax rate for 1944, at a time when the income and other taxes are so high, a Victory Bond issue coming out in a few weeks, and (mark these facts well) with the coffers of the City Trust and Peterborough Utilities Commission simply overflowing with surplus and reserves, both of which are being added to year by year. Both these departments are supposed to be for the benefit of the citizens of Peterborough, and it is only fair that some of this surplus be distributed among the taxpayers, instead of continually adding to it year after year.

With many thanks to you, sir, for your kindness in allowing us to place our views before the public.

FRED T. TUGGEY,
WM. TINKER.

A Bible Message

These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heavens, and every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul. And the Lord God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed. . . .

And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die. (Gen. 3: 4-8, 16, 17.)

Odd Murder

An odd, even a strange story comes from Melbourne, Australia. Ten years ago, the pyjama-clad body of a comparatively young woman was found in a roadside culvert. No one knew who she was. Not the least puzzling part of what is said to be the greatest mystery in Australia's criminal history is that 10 years should elapse before the body was identified. Why was that? Did no one miss her? Was she in Australia for such a brief time before she was murdered that there was no opportunity for her to make friends and acquaintances? She may not have been there long but she was there long enough to "make friends" with and to marry an Italian, the man now charged with her murder.

When police found they could not identify the body, a fact which vitally impeded the search for the slayer, they decided to preserve the body in formalin. They would keep it in the pyjamas, just as she was in life. There have been cases where bodies have ben exhumed after long burial. This has been done to aid in various types of investigation. No case can be recalled where a body was preserved, as apparently this one was, as if she were sleeping above ground. Lenin is preserved in Red Square but that is not for the purpose of identification.

After making enquiries throughout the world, police now learn that the woman was Mrs. Linda Agostini, the former Linda Pratt of Littlehampton, Sussex, England. It appears that the woman went to Australia from England with her mother and sister. Why did they not appear to identify the body? She obtained a position as usher in a Sydney theatre. After her marriage, the couple moved to Melbourne, where she is alleged to have been murdered. This brief history suggests that she met her husband, now 40, at the theatre. Being an Italian, he may have been connected with amusements. The cable does not say so, but it may have been that in the identification proceedings, the husband was obliged to look upon the woman he never thought to see again.—Reviewed by Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

Canadian Bail Water From Slit Trenches

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press War Correspondent

With the Canadian Corps in Italy, March 22 (CP)—Cpl. C. M. Smith of Owen Sound, Ont., dumped another bucket of water from his slit trench, looked at the clearing sky, and said "it would be a pity if the sun were to shine now, I'm just getting used to this."

The war seemed very near at this forward platoon position of a central Canadian infantry battalion. Just a few hundred yards away was the crest of a rise and beneath it, in the gully behind, were the Germans.

Shells, flying so low you instinctively ducked as they passed overhead, screamed across the rise and crashed into the enemy's outposts. Mortar bombs, coming the other way, plopped into the area of a Canadian battalion on the right and you wondered when they would change direction and come your way.

Smith shared a slit trench with Pte. J. H. Scott of Schrieber, Ont. "Better than a house," they called it, this four-foot hole in the ground which they had occupied only two hours earlier and which they now were emptying of water.

Other slit trenches were nearby, housing the platoon commander, Lieut. D. A. Cook, Toronto, Sgt. H. A. Wright, Kincardine, Ont., Cpl. L. D. Puckering, Georgetown, Ont., L. Cpl. J. H. Hood, Buttonville, Ont., and other members of the platoon.

One slit trench was not being used. It had been, previously, by Ptes. Nick Scollie, Port Arthur, Ont., and Tim Daly, Atwood, Ont., of another platoon, but when they moved back it was abandoned as "unseaworthy."

18 Inches of Water.

There were 18 inches of water in this trench and despite constant bailing the level remained about the same. So Scollie and Daly built a "raft" and lived on it with the water slushing about beneath them.

More fortunate were men of another company living in what their acting company commander, Capt. Frank Kennedy, Stratford, Ont., called "a little Stalingrad." This was a settlement of houses, smashed by shelling but with a few rooms intact to provide shelter and warmth.

Making the most of these limited comforts were such men as Sgt. J. A. Fulcher, St. Mary's, Ont., and Pte. G. W. Furtney, Preston, Ont.

The scout platoon, commanded by Lieut. George Gallagher, Port MacNichol, Ont., had a house of its own not far from battalion headquarters. Sharing two large rooms were the men who got out nightly to reconnoitre enemy positions.

This battalion whose positions in the mud and in ruined houses are typical of those you will find in every front line unit, was proud of its "rest centre." Scarcely half a mile from the German lines was a group of houses where men came back to dry out.

"It's a swell place, especially in weather like this," said Pte. J. H. Giguin, St. Catharines, Ont., and Ptes. Don Laing, Guelph, Ont., and C. A. Salisbury, Mitchell, Ont., listening with Guguin to a gramophone, agreed.

Junior School Pupils Donate $20 To Fund

OMEMEE, March 22 — (ENS) — The pupils of the Junior room of Omemee Public School under the direction of their teacher, Miss Bernice Smith, held a Junior Red Cross meeting at the school on Friday afternoon, at which Mrs. T. E. McPherson, the president of the Omemee Red Cross Society, and the parents of the pupils were guests. The outstanding feature of the afternoon was the presentation made by Isobel Hyland to Mrs. T. E. McPherson of $20, raised by the pupils for Red Cross work.

A fine program was presented by the children, opening with "O Canada" and the president's welcome by Orma Brooks, after which the Red Cross song was sung. Isobel Hyland recited, and Grades one and two sang a group of songs "Happy Land," "Going to Bed" and "Beets and Carrots." Other recitations were given by: Grace Ann Sibley, Temple Morcombe, Mary Ann Pooley, Leonard James, Donna Overholt, Margaret Shaw, and Muriel Johnson. Orma Brooks sang a solo, Grade three sang a group of songs "Three Sisters," "Carry On" and "Our Country," and eight girls sang "Stop, Look and Listen." The health song was sung by all the children. Other items were a Folk Dance and a little play entitled "Mother Goose in Healthland."

For several weeks the children have been selling tickets on a picture. The draw was made during the program and Mrs. Fred Johnson was the lucky winner. Besides the $20 presented to Mrs. McPherson, an afghan which the children had made was also donated to Red Cross

Longson Wins Mat Duel With Wagner

Wild Bill Longson, wrestling's No. 1 man, made effective use twice of the pet hold that has kept him world champion for the past three years to defeat Strangler Bob Wagner of Portland, Oregon, in the main bout of the Frank Tunney weekly grappling rodeo at the Brock Street Arena Tuesday night. In between two applications of the Longson piledriver Wagner managed to get a fall but the world champion took the bout two falls to one after 24 minutes of battling.

Almost stealing the show from the feature attraction was the semi-final clash between Frank Sexton, the Ohio powerhouse, and the ornery but capable Karl Davis from down Texas way. The clean cut and clever Sexton and the powerful and ruthless Texan staged thirty minutes of rugged wrestling that had the crowd on its feet most of the way and emerged with honors even.

In the preliminary battle Jan Gotch outslugged Tom Zaharias to win the argument.

He Didn't Back Up

The main bout proved what has been said several times before that Strangler Bob Wagner may not be very popular but his worst enemy could not deny that he is willing to mix with all and sundry. Facing the world champion for the first time the Portland battler might have been excused if he had tried to set up a cagey defence and let it go at that but Wagner had different ideas. He waded into the pride of St. Louis as if he were matched with some mat novice and he succeeded in giving Longson some bad moments, even if the champ ultimately showed that he was carrying too big guns for the bad man from Oregon.

Wagner opened up on the attack and used a series of head holds on Longson that the champ did not appreciate very much. He showed his displeasure by cutting loose with a barrage of elbow smashes that shook up the Portlander, but Wagner came back with a little rough stuff on his own account. Honors were about on an even footing until Longson got an opportunity after eight minutes' fast action to clamp his pile driver hold on Wagner and roll him over for the fall. Once the St. Louis grappler gets that one hooked on properly it's usually curtains for his opponent.

Wagner was dazed but finally staggered out of the ring. It looked as if he would be easy picking for Longson in the second round but he came back as strong after the rest that he surprised not only the crowd but the champion. He sailed right into Longson with all his guns firing, and when he tossed the title-holder over his head with an adroit flying mare Longson was so shaken up that Wagner managed to spread him for the fall, with the assistance of a few well-placed punches.

The Portlander tried to repeat his tactics in the third round but this time he found Longson thoroughly aroused and bent on putting on the pressure. Finally the champ threw Wagner through the ropes and as he tried to climb back in again, Longson applied a quick headlock, pulled his opponent over the top strand and as he hit the canvas slapped on a pile driver and it was all over. The fall came after 14 minutes of hot action.

A Real Argument

The hard-hitting Karl Davis, who has not been seen in action here for some time, looked tougher than ever last night in his semi-final argument with the popular Frank Sexton, and many of the fans voted it the best battle of the night, certainly it was strenuous and there were few dull moments. Sexton's dancing around at the opening of the bout seemed to arouse the Texan's ire. He motioned disgustedly for the Ohio grappler to commence the serious business of the night and when the two finally grappled with each other Davis cut loose with about everything in the way of villany. He went after Sexton's eyes, drop-kicked him all over the ring, swung punches from the ground and in short gave the Columbus athlete the well-known works. Sexton, of course, did not take it without issuing a receipt and he came back at the Texan with some of his own stuff.

On one occasion after softening Davis with a series of punches Sexton grabbed him by the heels to begin his favorite giant swing. Davis foiled that strategy by hanging on to the ropes and his opponent had to be satisfied with slapping the Texan in the breadbasket and letting him drop with a thud. On another occasion Sexton bowled the Krippler over twice with flying tackles and made it a one-two by knocking Referee Maxwell over with another of the same kind. Davis used the prostrate referee as a shield to keep out of Sexton's clutches until he recovered.

A little later when Davis tossed the Ohio star out of the ring there was a wild scene. Sexton managed to grab the Texan by the legs and pull him outside, too, and the pair started to mix it up among the spectators. Every time one of the battlers tried to climb in, the other would drag him out but they finally both got back in the ring.

The bell saved Davis a little later when Sexton grabbed his rival by the heels to start a giant swing. Davis again spoiled that strategy by hanging on to the ropes, but when Sexton released the hold the Texan's head struck the ring bolt in the corner and he was nearly knocked cold. However the half-hour ended before Sexton could take advantage of the situation.

Gotch a Hero

Jan Gotch had a new experience when he battled the garrulous Greek Tom Zaharias in the opener. He was actually greeted with cheers when he was introduced and the reception almost knocked him off his stride. However he was soon swinging away as merrily as ever, although he thought he was dreaming when he started to use the ropes and there wasn't a peep from the customers. There was plenty of skulduggery before Gotch finally won the argument with a right swing to the jaw. Zaharias protested vigorously that Referee Maxwell should have had an assist on the play. The Greek had chased Gotch back into a corner and was flailing him with a shower of rights and lefts when Maxwell grabbed him by the arms to break up the attack. As he did so the Pole brought one up from the floor and laid it on the Zaharias jaw. The Greek went over backwards and Gotch flopped on him and pinned him for the fall in 16 minutes.

Maxwell took a lot of abuse from the crowd and the battlers as he refereed all three bouts. The gladiators were introduced by Fred Scates who also looked after the clocking.

After being down 8-1, Charlie Lawrence's rink helped themselves to a four-end, a three on two successive ends and from then on it was just a case of who would get the break. The sudden spurt on the part of the Lawrence rink put them decidedly back in the running and in fact it won for them the game.

The teams were all square on the tenth end and Lawrence came through to remove McArthur's shot and lay shot himself. This put Lawrence one up going home. On the final end it seemed as if McArthur had the edge until Lawrence played his last stone. In an attempt to raise one of his own stones into the rings he played a little too heavy and his raised stone hit McArthur's shot, knocking it out and that shot settled the issue. Tom played a little narrow with his first stone; Charlie played short with his second stone and the C.P.R. agent with his last stone, in an attempt to draw in on the rings, with the hope of tieing the game and forcing an extra end, played a few feet short and the game was over.

The game was quite interesting as is always a final game and many of the boys passed up other engagements just to see what might easily be the final game of the 1943-44 curling season.

With the playing of that final game on Tuesday night, the committee has batted 100 p.c. as regards to the schedule. All competitions have been completed and we believe it has been one of the best seasons in many years. And just in passing, the final for the Harry F. Foote Memorial Trophy was the last game played in the 1942-43 season. The date was March 19th and was played on ice No. 2, when J. Welsh defeated R. Best.

And now it looks as if we are all through for this year, but you never can tell. If anything should happen we will let the boys know through this column. In the meantime keep Monday night open. It's our annual meeting. Be there and, using our old slogan, "be on time."

Takes Seven Years To Crash Majors

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 22 — (AP).— It took strapping Ed Kleiman, Cleveland's newest pitching prize, seven years—and the nelp of a baseball fan—to reach the major league.

Kleiman's sudden jump into the big time is one of this season's strangest tales and he is quick to give full credit for his move into the majors to the success of his sinker ball.

A fan actually climbed down out of the stands and taught him the pointers on throwing a sinker and Kleiman has developed the pitch to such perfection that last year he won 23 games for Baltimore of the International League.

Cleveland called in the Norwood, Ohio, youth for a late-season try in 1942, and in his big league debut he shut out the Boston Red Sox for nine innings, only to lose 1-0 in the 10th inning.

At last the winning streak of the Westclox girls in the Ladies' City Five Pin League has been checked. The league leaders who have been riding over all opposition for weeks without dropping a game ran into a red-hot Corvette team on Monday night and were lucky to save one game out of the three. As a matter of fact the Big Bens had to come up with an 1115 effort in the first game to keep the Corvettes from making a clean sweep for the opposition had a 1078 total. Corvettes almost duplicated their total in the second game with 1068 and it was enough to win for them as the Westclox put together 1036. Finally the league leaders slumped badly in the third fixture when they dropped to 754 and Corvettes took that one by over 200 pins. M. Johnston with 706 led the victors and V. Watson contributed 684. The loss cut two points off the Westclox lead, reducing their margin over Outboard Marines to six points for the Outboards bobbed up with a 3122 effort to take three games from the Generals. Individual honors for the week went to H. Hunt of the Commandos who rolled 751 to top the field.

Speaking of five-pin bowling one of the closest finishes has been recorded by the Y.M.C.A. Senior League which completed its regular schedule on Monday night. When the dust had settled after the last games on the list it was discovered that the Canada Packers team had won the league championship by the narrowest possible margin, one point, over Commercials and Aberdeens who were tied for second spot, while Tip Tops in the fourth slot were only a point behind the other pair. In other words only two points separated the first four clubs in the eight-club league. The final standing of the four leaders was Canada Packers 52, Commercials and Aberdeens 51 and Tip Tops 50. They don't just make finishes any closer than that one. Although the championship of the loop has been determined the battle for prize money is still to be fought and it will be staged next Monday night. The four top teams are eligible to compete and the prizes will be divided on a basis of pinnage. That means that the team with the highest total for the night will take first money and so on for the other three prizes.

Petes Remember Him

Joe Desson, defence player who was a thorn in the flesh of the Petes two seasons ago when they defeated Merritton in the final series for the O.H.A. senior B title and who played a lot of hockey in the final round has had quite a season playing for Philadelphia in the United States Amateur League. Clayton Brown, St. Catharines' sport columnist publishes the following interesting item regarding the former Merritton star: "Joe (Horse) Desson writes from Philly to say he has no intention whatever of going into pro baseball, although he signed a contract under pressure of General Manager Herb Pennock. Enclosed clippings show Desson as the loops bad man with 131 minutes out, but also fourth high scorer of the circuit. Of note is the fact that Desson topped most of the forwards in sniping and he is a defenceman. His goal in the last 54 seconds won for Falcons and put them in the finals with Boston Olympics. Latest report in the press shows Boston won the opener 2-1. All the Philly dailies list him as a native of the Garden City, since he went there from Steel Celtics of city senior, but everyone in this area knows full well he is a native son of Niagara Falls."

"There are five players still performing in the American Hockey League who have been scoring champions of the A.L. in its various forms, the Canadian-American League or the old International League," says Belleville's Ken Colling. "Les Cunningham, fleet Cleveland forward, led the parade in 1941 with 64 points. His teammate, Herb Locking, was top man back in 1940 with 63 as a member of the Syracuse club. The veteran Frank Daley of Hershey was king of the International League in 1936 for Cleveland with 53. Dede Klein, still going strong for Buffalo, led the Can-Am with 41 as a Boston player. But the daddy of them all is Johnny Gagnon of Providence who headed the Can-Am circuit back in 1926-27 with 33 points as a member of the Quebec Beavers. Gagnon's year was the first in which minor league hockey was played in the East and the low total of 33 shows clearly how the trend has been to more and still more goals ever since that time."

The Law of Averages

Something—it could have been the law of averages—cracked down on the Montreal Canadiens and the Detroit Red Wings last night and knocked the ancient and honorable company of hockey experts for a loop as the Stanley Cup series got under way. Canadiens who spread-eagled the field throughout the campaign and hadn't lost a game out of 25 starts on their home ice all season, fell before the Toronto Leafs 3 to 1 and at Detroit Jack Adams' Red Wings who hadn't been beaten before a home crowd all year except by the Canadiens were brushed off 2 to 1 by the Black Hawks. Both results were of course upsets. The home clubs in both cases had been called to take the opening games and on the season's record there was no reason why they shouldn't have been. The unexpected defeats sustained by Canadiens and Red Wings will add a lot of zest to a playoff series that looked like one of the least spectacular in years. Incidentally they will put a lot of additional fight into the Leafs and the Black Hawks. There is no more satisfactory way of starting a short series than by beating the other fellows on their own ice and the Toronto and Chicago outfits have done exactly that.

* * * * * *

Paul Bibeault was the hero of the Toronto win. The French-Canadian goalie had to hold the line for the Leafs over wide sections of play for the rubber was back of the Toronto blue line a major part of the time. Bibeault was a stone-wall. Not a shot beat him in the first two periods and the only miss he made all night was on a shot by Toe Blake early in the third period. Elwin Morris, late of the R.C.N.V.R. was another star of what Queen City folk admit is the weakest Toronto team to enter the play-offs in many a moon. The young defenceman scored the first Leaf goal and set up the second, both coming in the first period and Jackie Hamilton added another in the second session. At Detroit the Red Wings were in front for two periods on the strength of Syd Howe's goal in the second stanza but the Bentley-Smith-Mosienko free-wheeling line swung into action in the final period and Mosienko and Bentley fired the goals that gave Chicago the win.

Cross Channel Duel

LONDON, March 22 — (CP) — British heavy artillery on the south coast fired 140 rounds at German shipping in the Dover Strait between 9.57 and 11.30 o'clock last night, it was announced, and German guns quickly replied, bringing on one of the sharpest cross-channel duels in months. Results of the bombardment were not available.

Westclox Drops 2 Games To Corvettes

The defeat of the league-leading Westclox who dropped two out of three games to Corvettes featured Monday night's games in the Ladies' City Five Pin League. The loss and grand slam scored by the second place Outboard Marines cut the lead of the Big Bens to six points.

H. Hunt had high three for the week with the neat total of 751, B. Goldie had 716 and M. Johnston 706.

Other good strings were Francine MacMillan 687, V. Watson 684, Marion Timm, 672, Betty Castle 670, M. Sanderson 654, L. Condon 654, A. Weir 640, M. Goldie and M. Hawthorne 636.

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, which we find has been plugging amateur and "kid" baseball for a dozen years, seems to be getting results in its new campaign to persuade its inactive (and active) clubs to work with the youngsters...Goldsboro, N.C., already has organized two junior leagues since Judge W. G. Bramham outlined the successful Fayetteville, N.C., plan and the Lockport, N.Y., Pony League club comes in with the news that it started a simliar stunt last year and expects to have 250-300 kids playing ball this summer...And what with the National Baseball Congress registering semi-pro candidates Saturday at 3,750 sporting goods stores and most om the pro clubs hollering for help, it looks as if anyone who wants to play baseball this year will get a chance.

Volants Trounce Canadiens 8-4

OTTAWA, March 22—(CP)—Hull Volants trounced Ottawa Canadiens 8-4 here last night to win the Ottawa Senior City League championship and qualify to meet the winner of the Hamilton Majors-Frood Miners Ontario Hockey Association Senior series. Volants took a best-of-seven series 4-2.

First round of the Allan Cup playoffs now will be played here either Saturday or Monday, though Volants' opponents have not yet been determined. Sudbury Frood Miners, if successful in posting their third and deciding O.H.A. series victory over Hamilton tonight in Toronto, will meet Volants Saturday.

Should Hamilton square the series and force a third game with Sudbury Friday, the ultimate winners will open against Hull in Ottawa Monday. First two games are scheduled to be played here, with Volants finishing the series "on the road."

Aids Flying

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—An electronic mouth for regulating the air breathed in high altitude flight by four-engined bombers was announced here to-day on behalf of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator Company, Minneapolis. The mouth was in combat use since last September and is claimed to make altitude flights safer.

Chicago Breaks Detroit Jinx Takes Game 2-1

DETROIT, March 22—(CP)—Chicago Black Hawks looked forward confidently today to their next encounter with Detroit Red Wings in the Stanley Cup semi-final hockey series, after downing the Red Wings 2-1 in the opener.

When the Hawks took last night's game, with Doug Bentley scoring the winning goal, it marked the first time they had won on Detroit ice in four years.

The second game in the best-of-seven series will be played here to-morrow night, with the Red Wings determined to avenge last night's setback.

Chicago's last victory on Detroit ice was March 15, 1940. Since they had lost 17 games here and tied two.

The Black Hawks, however, whipped Detroit four times during the regular National Hockey League season this winter on Chicago ice.

A crowd of 10,897 saw the Red Wings establish an early lead last night, then lost the lead and the game in 44 seconds of the third period as Bill Mosienko and then Bentley scored in quick succession.

Bentley, second highest scorer in the regular season just ended with 77 points, snared a pass from Clint Smith in mid-ice and skated in to beat Connie Dion in the Detroit nets at 7:56 of the third period.

Mosienko had scored the tieing counter at 7:12 with a 15-foot shot after Dion had been pulled out of the Red Wings' cage. Cooper and Smith were credited with assists.

Detroit's lone tally came in the second period, while Mosienko was serving a penalty for cross-checking Adam Brown, as the veteran Syd Howe tipped in Joe Carveth's long shot.

OLD MASTER AT BAT—Connie Mack, veteran pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics, shoulders a bat over the plate to demonstrate to the new hands how he wants things done in the way of hitting for the coming diamond season. Catcher Frank Hayes backs up the play at the A's Frederick, Maryland, training camp.

NEW YORK, March 22—(CP)—Raymond Massey, Toronto-born stage and screen actor, becomes a United States citizen to-day when he receives his final papers at the immigration and naturalization office. He is 47 years old.

Toronto Wins First Game Of Semi-finals

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Sport Writer.

MONTREAL, March 22—(CP).—Tim Daley trotted out his "secret weapon" last night, and it was so effective that Toronto Maple Leafs walked off with a 3-1 victory that gave them the first game of their semi-final Stanley Cup series against Montreal Canadiens before 10,800 fans.

Daley said before the game that he was betting on Goalie Paul Bibeault as his secret weapon. Bibeault, and a hard-working, close-checking defence that kept breaking up Canadian plays before they could click spelled victory for the Leafs and a one-game edge to carry into Thursday nights resumption of the best-of-seven series.

Leafs played a cagey game, waiting for the breaks up front and getting them. They beat Bill Durnan twice in the first period and again in the second, before Canadiens could finally get the range on Bibeault for their only goal in the third.

Elwin Morris rapped in the first goal of the night when he snapped up the puck from a face-off and whipped a knee-high shot past Durnan. He set up the play for George Boothman 12 minutes later on a ganging play. Both goals came while Canadiens were a man short.

Jackie Hamilton made it 3-0 midway through the second period on a breakaway with Babe Pratt.

Ray Getliffe went off early in the third, and Canadiens turned their manpower shortage to their own advantage on a clean breakaway, with Toe Blake taking Elmer Lach's pass-out to ride in on Bibeault all alone.

Canadiens were presented with the Prince of Wales Cup during the game for leading the league in the regular season, and Durnan got the Vezina Trophy as the league's top goalie.

Barons Blank Bears 2-0; Bisons Victorious

By The Canadian Press.

Cleveland and Buffalo held the advantage to-day in the semi-final eliminations in the American Hockey League playoffs with victories over Hershey and Indianapolis respectively.

The Cleveland Barons delighted a home crowd of 8,776 by blanking Hershey Bears 2-0 last night while at Buffalo the Bisons came from behind to whip the Indianapolis Caps 5-2 before 7,563.

Lloyd Storie, Cleveland's sub goalie, played a great defensive game to help the Barons win. Whereas the Bears slammed nine goals past Storey the last time they played against him he turned all their shots aside. He was forced into action when the Barons' regular goalie Paul Gauthier, was injured March 5.

Centre Tommy Burlington figured in both Cleveland goals. He scored the first in the initial period, aided by an unintentional kick of the puck by Earl Bartholome from Burlington in the second period.

Indianapolis got away to a two-goal lead at Buffalo, but the Bisons rallied to deadlock it at 2-2 then win in the third period on Ed Kobussen's goal early in the third period. Buffalo added two more goals later in the period to sew it up.

Indianapolis plays again at Buffalo Thursday in the second of the best-of-seven game series, while Cleveland travels to Hershey the same night.

Big Mort Cooper Holdout; Brother Signs

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sport Writer.

NEW YORK, March 22 — (AP). —It's official now—big Mort Cooper, whose 21 victories last year sparked St. Louis Cardinals to their second straight National Baseball League pennant and who was the only Card hurler to beat the Yankees in the World Series, is a holdout.

Sam Breadon, president of the Cards, disclosed last night Cooper had rejected a second contract offered him. Cooper's brother, Catcher Walker Cooper, signed a contract a few days ago.

Pitcher Johnny Gorsica of Detroit also joined the "I want more dough" ranks. He said at Beckley, W. Va., he would play for $7,500, but not for the $5,000 the Tigers offered him. He indicated he would be happier if Detroit traded him.

On the other side of the picture Jim Gallagher, vice-president of Chicago Cubs, announced Bill Nicholson, hard-hitting outfielder, had signed along with Outfielder Andy Pafko.

Other news from the big league camps included:

Cleveland Indians — Outfielder Cliff Mapes, most promising rookie in camp, received his 1-A draft classification, thus joining Manager Lou Boudreau, Pitcher Vern Kennedy, and Infielder Russ Peters.

Cincinnati Reds—Outfielder Max Marshall expects to pass his pre-induction physical exam.

St. Louis Browns—Don Gutteridge brought 15-year-old Teddy Atkinson, of Scammon, Kan., to camp with him and predicted he has makings of a good outfielder.

Brooklyn Dodgers — Southpaw Bob Chipman, up from Montreal, signed a contract.

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP).—Alf Smith, captain of the famous old Ottawa Silver Seven hockey team, took in a Senior City League game in Ottawa the other night and went away shaking his head over the difference some 40 years have made in the game. Smith, 70, said modern players, with few exceptions, have forgotten how to stickhandle.

"There no longer is such a thing as team-play the way they played in the old days," said Smith, who led the Silver Seven to three Stanley Cup wins from 1903 to 1905 and helped Kenora Thistles capture the silverware in 1907. "It seems every player now is out to make a star of himself."

"To-day a whole team jams itself inside the other team's defence and every player takes a crack at trying to score. In my time stickhandling and passing were the main essentials....To-day it is a lost art, with the exception of a few, notably Bill Cowley."

Smith wouldn't name his choice of the greatest player of all time because, he explained, it is impossible to compare men who play in different positions. But he didn't hesitate to name Georges Vezina as the greatest goalie of his time.

This week's pun:

Two Western hockey fans were discussing the New Westminster-Edmonton Victorias series when one queried where the Lodestars got their name. His friend explained it was the name of the plane used by the airline sponsoring the team.

"You can't prove that by me," piped Fan No. 2, probably an Edmonton rooter. "It could be because they are loaded with hockey stars."

Tar Sands Oil Question Arouses Debate

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP).—The Commons yesterday lived in a swirl of big figures—praising the Munitions Department which reported war production of $3,435,800,000 in the fiscal year 1943-44, and then debating with sharp words steps for examination of the Alberta tar sands where oil deposits have been estimated at more than 100,000,000,000 barrels.

Munitions Minister Howe detailed accomplishments in the output of war weapons, noting that contracts awarded by his department for the war period total $9,450,000,000 and capital expenditures amount to $850,000,000.

He told of the growing fleets of airplanes, ships and automotive vehicles produced by Canada and said Canadian industry was at its war peak.

Mr. Howe also told of the important contribution of Canadian scientists to explosives development especially in regard to the new super-explosive RDX to which they have supplied "the most effective method" of producing. They have also devised and improved "important changes" in the manufacture of TNT.

Speakers who followed Mr. Howe said they praised the general achievements of his department, but Opposition members were critical about the tar sands.

Mr. Howe explained, as soon as the tar sands were mentioned, that they were none of his business as the vote covering development work was in the Resources Department estimates. But members recalled his part in experimental work to see whether large scale production of oil was possible.

John R. MacNicol (PC-Toronto Davenport), who frequently has spoken in favor of tar sands development, quoted Hon. W. A. Fallow, Alberta Minister of Public Works, as saying that Federal government examinations of tar sands "has been a colossal farce," with $1,700,000 spent in the last 18 months with only a "hole in the ground" to show for it as far as actual investigation went.

Severe Criticism

Mr. MacNicol said he had heard a water pipe was put in the ground, then taken out and put back in the trench again when the frost came; that only three of 18 or 20 bunkhouses were fit to occupy; that money was wasted; that nothing had been done towards producing oil or asphalt.

If Mr. Howe had "taken hold" of the undertaking perhaps almost 50,000,000 barrels of oil would have been taken from the sands.

Mr. Howe said the government was trying to obtain information by experimental work as to whether the tar sands represented a large source of petroleum which could be sold at commercial prices. If this were so, the expenditure of anything from $20,000,000 to $50,000,000 would be warranted. If it were not a commercial source the government should spend no more.

"I sincerely hope that by June we will know whether we have anything," he said.

Something less than $900,000 had been spent thus far, which was not excessive for exploration.

C. E. Johnston (ND-Bow River) said he was "somewhat amazed" to find the tar sands were not under Mr. Howe's Department. The Resources Department had been working on the tar sands question more than 30 years.

Mr. Johnston started to read a resolution approved by the Alberta Legislature which said there appeared to have been a waste of public funds in the work at the tar sands and urging the Dominion set up a Royal Commission to inquire into operations there.

Mr. Howe interrupted and said the reading of the resolution might be derogatory to the House of Commons.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said Mr. Howe seemed to be confusing a reflection on the Government with a reflection on Parliament. The press had reported the Alberta resolution and it could be read.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, said that if the resolution were critical of the Federal Government it did not follow it was critical of Parliament as a whole.

Mr. Howe said the evening had been spent in discussion of the tar sands which did not concern his department, and the Deputy Speaker had, he believed, allowed sufficient latitude.

Deputy Speaker Bradette said Mr. Johnson might continue reading.

Earlier in the debate, Joseph Harris (PC-Toronto Danforth) said some department of the Government now should be planning for the reconversion of industry to a peacetime activity and giving guidance to those who would have to seek new employment.

If sufficient work could not be found for war plants in meeting wartime needs then the Government should see they were turned to output of civilian requirements. New Government buildings should be located near centres where they would be of use after the war.

Th Government should be stockpiling copper supplies in anticipation of future needs.

Health Measure Given Second Reading

TORONTO, March 22 (CP)—The budget debate continues in the Ontario Legislature today and the Progressive Conservative Government's measure to enable setting up of municipal health plans, one of the contentious bills of the session, probably will reach committee stage.

The House will sit in the afternoon and reconvene again at night. Flt. Lt. L. S. Wismer (CCF-Toronto Riverdale) will continue his address as budget critic for the opposition he began yesterday. Several other speakers also are likely to be heard.

In its third day of debate yesterday, the government's municipal health measure was given second reading after several C.C.F. speakers criticized its principles as "undemocratic" and drew a reply from Premier Drew that such criticism was based on a misconception.

E. B. Jolliffe, C.C.F. leader, told the government "we are prepared to co-operate in making this bill workable if possible, but I also submit that some of the broader comments we've made on the undemocratic procedure should be given more consideration by the government."

Premier Drew said amendments to the bill would be considered, but not amendments dealing with the principle of the measure.

Speakers critical of the Health Bill included C. H. Millard (CCF-York West), Agnes Macphail (CCF-York East), G. H. Mitchell (CCF-York North), and H. E. Brown (CCF-Welland). Their main criticism was that too much power was being given to the provincial board which will administer the plan and not enough to the municipalities which would pay the costs.

Speaking in support of the Bill were Dr. Hobbs Taylor (PC-Huron), Provincial Treasurer Frost and Premier Drew. Mr. Frost said the government did not intend to be dictatorial in regard to the health board. He expressed belief the plan would establish a sound basis for future extension.

Made Sit Down

At one point Mr. Brown was asked by the Speaker to withdraw a statement that Health Minister Vivian held control "over life and death" under the Bill. The Speaker said the statement imputed an improper motive.

The Welland member went over the same ground, changing his phraseology, but was later made to sit down by the Speaker for reading his speech.

At another point, Attorney-General Blackwell was ruled out of order by the Speaker when he rose to clarify a point, on grounds he had spoken on second reading of the measure Monday.

Mr. Wismer, former editor of a financial publication, said the future financial position of Ontario would largely be governed by what type of arrangement could be made now with the Dominion in regard to the taxation field.

He wondered if the Provincial Treasurer had considered "the possibility an probability of the Dominion remaining in these fields as by far the largest collector" and suggested that, instead of asking termination of the present agreements, the Treasurer might better work for a "satisfactory revision of them."

He suggested the government should reconsider plans for large-scale immigration of British industrial workers to Canada after the war when Britain would be needing these workers most. Any immigration should come from other countries as well as from the Commonwealth nations.

Flt. Lt. Wismer urged planning for post-war protection of miners and municipalities in gold-mining areas; extension of rural electrification; increased expenditures for eradication of venereal disease. Old age pensions should be a minimum of $30 payable at age 60 and blind pensions should start from the time of blindness instead of at 40 years of age. Pensions, he added, might well be on the agenda of any Dominion-Provincial conference.

Miss Macphail said rural people wanted "permissive legislation" to set up health plans. Under the bill the board to be set up would represent only doctors and not the people who were paying for the plan. She suggested Health Minister Vivian might "let the people choose between the plan they want and one the government wants to give them."

Dionne Quints' Income To Be Controlled

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP) — Attorney General Blackwell said today that the Ontario government bill which would make Oliva Dionne sole guardian of his quintuplet daughters provides that the courts have full control of their capital and income.

"The bill requires the Quints capital and income to be paid into court and is controlled by the court," he said in an interview.

It was estimated that the quints estate nows amounts to nearly 1,000,000. It was officially stated that when each one of the five famous Callander girls is 21 she will receive a one-fifth share.

Hastings Man Caught In Foundry Machinery

HASTINGS, March 22—(ENS).—The condition of Otter Scriver, employee of the Hastings Foundry and Machine Shop, who was injured in an accident while working at the plant Tuesday morning, was described as being very good today. He is under medical care at Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, where he was brought in an ambulance 24 hours ago, and though the nature and extent of the injuries he suffered is not known, he is said to be doing "fairly nicely."

Mr. Scriver, working by himself at the foundry early Tuesday morning, had his clothing caught in a line shaft. He was removed to the hospital as soon as an ambulance could be procured.

Obituary

LORNE (BECKY) JACK

HAVELOCK, March 22 (ENS)—A sudden gloom was cast over this vicinity Monday evening, when Lorne (Becky) Keith Jack had suddenly passed away in the Niagara Peninsula Sanitorium, in his 37th year. He had been a patient there for the past 16 months, and his passing was unexpected.

Born in Havelock, Nov. 11, 1908, he was the youngest son of the late Robert Jack and his wife Eliza Butters. After the death of his mother, when he was three years old, he made his home with his aunt, Mrs. Annie Anderson of Havelock. Upon completion of his education in the local High School he attended the Dairy School at Kingston, and spent four years as the butter-maker in the local creamery. He was an ardent sportman and played hockey and box lacrosse with Peterborough and Richmond Hill.

For the past ten years, Mr. Jack has been employed in St. Catharines with the Yale Lock Company, and served as coach and manager of their hockey team. It was under his management that the Yale Lock won the trophy in the Industrial League, a few years ago.

On May 24, 1937, he was married in Havelock to Miss Grace Quackenbush, who is left to mourn him, with a four-year-old daughter Marilyn, a brother Ronald of Trenton, his aunt, Mrs. Annie Anderson of Havelock, and two cousins Lynn Anderson of Toronto and Donald Anderson of Havelock.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the United Church, conducted by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson, with interment at Maple Grove Cemetery. Many beautiful tributes and other expressions of sympathy bore evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Jack was held.

You CAN make your teeth far brighter!

Impartial laboratories made hundreds of tests. Scientists checked their findings with photoelectric measuring devices and authorize this statement: Pepsodent Powder produces a lustre on teeth twice as bright as the average of all other leading brands... brighter than any of them—bar none! These results have been double-checked by identical twins who made practical in-the-home tests... by dental clinics... by dentists in their own offices. The result is always the same: Pepsodent Powder makes teeth far brighter. Get Pepsodent Powder today to make teeth bright as they can be!

Smiles DO show on report cards!

Protruding teeth made this boy self-conscious ...and backward in school. But, when modern dentistry corrected his teeth, his looks and his whole mental attitude were changed. Today, dentistry can do wonders in correcting crooked, misplaced, and unsightly teeth. Chipped or broken teeth, too, can be recapped like the movie stars'. So watch children's teeth carefully. Visit the dentist regularly. It's the truth . . . a child's personality and future may depend on how well teeth are formed, how bright and clean they look!

Kinsmen Invite Minister To Address Club

Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion Government, will be the guest speaker of the Kinsmen Club at the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening.

"This is our annual agricultural night when we invite friends from the country, chiefly those who are heads of farm organizations," Arthur H. Lewis, president of the club, told the Examiner. "Last year we had Colonel Kennedy, who is now Provincial Minister of Agriculture, and was a Rotary speaker here some weeks ago.

"We wished to make this meeting as interesting as possible for our rural guests, and so we invited Hon. Mr. Gardiner, and received his acceptance. The details of the dinner are being arranged by Dr. Harold Worton."

Kinsmen have invited the members of the County Council, and are assigning Warden Isaac Anderson of Belmont-Methuen a place in a short list of speeches.

The members of the City Council have also been invited to attend the dinner, and last night most of them informed Dr. Worton that they were able to accept.

Mayor Hamilton said that the Council would hold an informal reception at the Empress, preceding the dinner, following the custom of civic welcome and respect to visiting members of Cabinet rank.

Hon. Mr. Gardiner's speech will be broadcast over CHEX, beginning about 8 o'clock, although the air is being held open from 7:45 to 9. Dr. Worton will introduce the Minister, and Mr. Lewis will be dinner chairman.

30 Auburn Residents Protest Junk Lot

A petition signed by more than thirty residents of Auburn, north of Nicholls Oval, protested to the council last night against the Moldaver scrap metal and junk lot on the east side of Armour Road, in Douro township, and north of Park Hill Road.

Three residents of the district attended the meeting and appealed to the council to make some effort to check a nuisance caused by paper and such materials blowing from the allegedly offending property. They also said it was a detriment to the value of new and old houses in the neighborhood, and was a discouragement to citizens trying to do something for themselves.

A resolution by Aldermen Cotton and Curtis requested the county council to give consideration to the protection of property values in that locality. Members of the council said that the city could ask Douro council "to use their best efforts to clean the place up."

REACHES ENGLAND—Kenneth "Bud" Killingbeck has arrived overseas according to word received recently by his mother, Mrs. Roy Killingbeck. In December, 1942, he enlisted in the Canadian Army Service Corps, and later transferred to the Machine Gun United Infantry Supports. He trained at Kingston, Cornwall and Aldershot, N.S. Before enlisting he was for a short time an employee of the Johnson Motors, Peterborough. His father, the late Roy Killingbeck, was a veteran of the last war.

Citizens Prepare To Form Health League

A move to organize a Peterborough branch of the Health League of Canada was unanamiously supported by a group of local citizens in a meeting held Tuesday afternoon, and a nominating committee of seven names was selected for the job of initiating action that will bring the project into full flower.

Presidents and representatives of service clubs and other organizations, leading figures in industry, along with the Medical Officer of Health, Dr. R. A. Kelly, and the representative of the Medical Committee of the Board of Education, Dr. Charles Scott, listened to a discussion of the work and the aims of the Health League as set forth by two of its directors from Toronto, and with one accord voted to forward action that will result in the establishment of a Health League branch in the city.

Maj. Frank D. Scrutton, M. C., a veteran of the last war, and W. J. Cairns explained briefly and succintly the educational work of the Health League and pointed out the desirability of extending its endeavours to Peterborough. It was on the motion of Dr. Scott, seconded by George Gillespie, that a vote was taken to ascertain the general feeling of the meeting, and the motion carried unanimously. Following this, a motion by J. E. Girven of the Canadian General Electric Co. which was seconded by J. A. McKone, brought into being the nominating committee which will be responsible for the selection of various officers and an executive committee to run the affairs of the branch.

Name Committee

Headed by P. D. Scollard Lions Club, chairman this committee wil consist of the following: Mrs. J. G. Wharry, Mrs. John Marshall, D. G. H. Melton, George Gillespie, James Dutton and Dr. Scott. In a months time, a public meeting is planned, at which a start will be made in familiarizing the general public with the education work to be undertaken by the new organization, and at this meeting the names of the officers will be disclosed.

In the opening remarks, Maj. Scrutton said a few words regarding the working setup of the Health League, its five departments of industrial health, social hygienne, immunization, pasteurization and nutrition. An essential part of the industrial health program, he asserted, was the pre-employment examination including Wassermann Test, this to be followed by check-ups at regular intervals. He said it was time that venereal disease was recognized as the menace it is and that it had been kept hidden long enough. There were now, he added. quoting a recent estimate, somewhere around 250,000 cases in the Dominion.

It is under the aegis of the Health League of Canada, the speaker continued, that Immunization Week is held each year, and the efforts in this department were concentrated on the prevention of scarlet fever, diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox. Nutrition, a highly important feature of the League's work, was concerned with the educational task of teaching people

Simplify System J.P. Suggets

"As a matter of convenience to the public this system in regard to lost registration cards and lost ration books should be changed' Vincent Eastwood, J.P. remarked this morning.

" As it is working out now" he continued "persons who lose their registration cards have to apply at the postoffice for a form and then they have to hunt up a justice of the peace and take an affidavit. There are not many justices of the peace available and the result is some have to spend a lot of time running around trying to find one."

"The same thing applied to lost ration books. It seems to me that it would simplify matters greatly if the postoffice staff could complete the whole business when the applicant goes there for a registration card. Similarily if some one in the offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board were authorized to take the affidavits of persons who have lost their ration books the whole system would be much more workable and less inconvenient than it is now."

Bus Service Is Requested On Classic Hill

There was recently circulated among residents of the Normal School area a petition which asked for a bus service and the committee in charge obtained 600 names On Tuesday the committee, consisting of W. H. Frise, A. Bacon, A. H. Boomer, K. G. Lech, and C. H. McBride, met L. R Mitchell of the Peterborough Bus Lines and presented the petition

A proposal for a 20-minute service was submitted whereby a north-bound George Street bus would be re-routed west on Parkhill Road to Benson up Benson to Wolsley, east on Wolsley to Barnardo, and down Barnardo to George, and north on George to Argyle to Water and then north on Water as far as the company would be permitted to operate without increasing its mileage.

Mr. Mitchell promised to give the proposal full consideration, and will make a survey of the route. He explained that in opening up a new route the Transit Controller would not allow the Bus Company to take additional mileage, and hence the extra mileage required to operate over the hill would have to come off the north end of Water Street run.

Financier Gets 5 Years In Jail

SYDNEY, Australia, March 22—(CP). — John Woolcott Forbes, pre-war Australian financier, was sentenced to five years in prison in Criminal Court to-day on conviction of forging, uttering and falsifying share certificates. He had escaped from Australia while awaiting trial and detectives of several countries hunted him before U.S. police arrested him last year.

John Woolcott Forbes, described as a Sydney stockbroker, and Alfred Ernest Dawson, 56, of Toronto, a securities dealer, pleaded guilty on March 1, 1943, in Federal Court in New York to indictments charging violations of the United States Securities and Exchange Act, mail fraud and conspiracy.

They were sentenced on March 29, Forbes to five years imprisonment, Dawson to four years On May 19 Federal Judge Samuel Mandelbaum reduced Forbes' sentence to time already served so that he could be extradited to Australia to face charges there in an alleged $10,000,000 fraud.

MADE A SERGEANT—Cpl. Wesley George Lee of Centre Dummer, whose wife and family live at 197 Brock Street, has been promoted to sergeant. He enlisted in June, 1940, with the S.D. and G. MARCH 22, 1940—British submarine torpedoed German freighter Heddernheim off Danish coast. Britain accused Germany of torpedoing seven neutral vessels without warning. Moslem league head said Congress Party government, without Britain, would lead to civil war in India.

Lieut. John Raine To Command. HMCS Peterboro

The corvette "Peterborough," now under construction in the shipbuilding yards at Kingston, will appropriately have for its commanding officer, a native of this city. He is Lieut. John Raine, C.C.N.R., and word of his appointment was officially received on Tuesday from the prospective captain himself, who is staying in the city at the present time.

It will probably be two months before the "Peterborough" is ready for launching and more months before commissioned, but before that day arrives Lieut. Raine will have his crew assembled and will be in charge of all that concerns the new ship, first to bear this city's name. The ship's company, he said on Tuesday, will likely number about 90 officers and men.

Lieut. Raine comes to this new command with plenty of experience behind him. In the Navv four years, he has been commanding officer in previous tours of duty of H.M.C.S. Fundy and H.M.C.S. Wasaga, both minesweepers. With the restraint characteristic of experienced naval men, all he has to say of his work in the Royal Canadian Navy is that it was just "routine stuff."

R. Fair Store 60 Years Old

The oldest established business on George street, Robert Fair and Co., dry goods, is celebrating this month its 60th year of continuous operation under its present name. Opened by Robert Fair in March 1884, it remained under the same ownership for 47 years, and after Mr. Fair's death in 1931 the business was purchased by R. J. Goring who owns it today.

Actually, Mr. Fair was not the first merchant to occupy the premises, for he bought the store from Thomas Bradburn, who had erected it in 1860. Born in 1854, Mr. Fair, who would have been 90 years of age on Saturday, was in business for seven years before coming to Peterborough the year he began in business here.

A respected and successful merchant, Mr. Fair built a reputation founded on high integrity and uniformly fair dealing, and down the years was quick to take advantage of the latest in merchandizing methods. His business was incorporated in 1907 and 1908. Mr. Fair passed away on January 15, 1931.

Since the beginning of the year. extensive remodelling and redecorating have been undertaken by Mr. Goring under whose direction Robert Fair and Co. continues as an independently owned and operated business, in the tradition now established for so many years.

Toronto To Broadcast Story Of BWVF $2,000

CBL this evening at 6:15 is expected to announce that the people of Peterborough and district have cabled another £500 to the Lord Mayor of London for the victims of air raids over Britain.

This makes a total of £16,000, or $75,000. Not one business day has passed since December 5, 1940, without some money being credited to the Fund.

Mayor Hamilton made the announcement last night. Said Alderman Dutton: "It is a magnificent piece of work": and Alderman Sullivan: "Fred Mann is certainly doing a grand job."

Seek To Operate Bus Line To Port Perry

Application of Fred De Nure to the Ontario Municipal Board for permission to operate a bus line between Peterborough and Port Perry was endorsed by the Council Tuesday night.

"I think Mr. De Nure has done a real good job," said Alderman Swanston. "I understand that there is no other application for this operating right, and I think we ought to support him." He moved the resolution and Alderman Sands seconded it.

May Trade Lots

Alderman Glover, Ovens and Swanston were named by Mayor Hamilton a committee to confer with H. I. Gorrell, manager of Beaver Lumber Company about a suggested property trade that would remove the old McDonald box factory from George street.

A slice of the Park street property, where the C.G.E. rink is melting under spring suns, was mentioned, but majority opinion opposed any parting with that "open space."

Razing of the old mill would open the George street front of the Point St. Charles park which has become established.

"Mr. Gorrell seemed to be very cooperative," Mayor Hamilton told the council, "and I think we might be able to arrange some transfer that would suit both parties."

At Strength Again

Alderman Bradburn returned to his seat in the council Tuesday night after an illness of three months.

"We are very happy to have Alderman Bradburn with us again," Mayor Hamilton said in greeting. "We have missed him very much, and we hope he will not have a recurrence of illness."

"Thank you, Mr. Mayor," Alderman Bradburn said, following Alderman Dutton's approving "hear, hear."

Alderman Bradburn caught a cold in December, and attended the final meeting of the Council in a condition that was aggravated by his strict performance of municipal duty. He developed pneumonia and was confined to hospital for nearly a month.

A Stratford Proposal

A resolution from Stratford proposing old age pensions of $45 a month for all persons reaching 60 years, with $80 for a married couple, was referred to the finance committee.

This idea excludes any restrictions as to the financial standing of any citizen at 60, and would make the pension payable to everybody.

Some members of the Council said they were not in favor of a Windsor resolution to extend the municipal franchise to all persons attaining the age of 21 years, but Mayor Hamilton suggested that the legal committee might give it some thought. Windsor would alter municipal qualifications to conform exactly with the federal and provincial.

Farms For Soldiers

SARNIA, March 22.— (CP).— A start in providing for servicemen returning to this district has already been made with the purchase of farms in Lambton county by the Dominion Land Settlement Board, it was reported at a meeting Monday of the Sarnia Citizens' Rehabilitation Council.

He Can't Lose

During the council's discussion last night of playgrounds proposal some mention was made of an increasing necessity devolving upon local authorities to endeavor to check the wartime wave of juvenile delinquency.

That topic reminded Alderman Dutton of a strange case which he said had come to his attention recently.

"A man and woman are living together. They are unmarried. He works in the daytime and she at night. And the information is that she pays him $10 a week to look after her children. What kind of home can that be?"

Staff Of C.D.S. Total $1,207 For War Victims

Some people or groups have a specialty which is all their own, when it comes to raising money to help the sufferers from air raids over Britain through the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund, part of which may be assigned to some special connection which forms the reason for that purpose.

Having a manager whose roots go back to the Land of the Shamrock, it is no wonder that the staff of the Canadian Department Stores in conjunction with him, should choose to make St. Patrick's Day their opportunity to undertake work on behalf of the fund, accelerated no doubt by pixtures of devastation caused in Belfast by air raids over that city, which had been sent to him by relatives still resident in that vicinity.

For the past four years, this group has staged a special effort on this patron Saint's Day on behalf of the fund, commencing with the sale of tickets for a draw on an attractive prize, and winding up with a dance on the night itself to add still further to the receipts.

This year's effort provided the biggest success of all to-date, the prize of a cedar chest filled with good things every homemaker likes to have, proving quite an attraction which the staff was quick to realize on, and by excellent work in this direction together with the dance itself, they raised the splendid sum of $463.58 credited in their name today as net proceeds on this one effort.

The draw was made by His Worship Mayor Hamilton during the course of the dance last Friday night in the Canadian Legion Hall, and the winner's name, Mrs. E. W. Beatty of 601 Rubidge street, announced over radio station CHEX, who broadcast a half hour's program from the Hall, one of the special features of this event, which also included floor dances under the direction of Marion Perry Laird, and music by Jack Marshall's orchestra.

Donation Cabled Today

This fine contribution made possible the cabling of another £500 today to the Lord Mayor of London, which in yesterday's report lacked the sum of $434.00 to accomplish, and with its despatch the fund has now sent a total sum of £16,700, which involved a total of $74,769.26 in Canadian funds, a record in point of per capita average which is believed stands second to none for this type of assistance in the war effort.

Six Groups Above $1,000 Mark

Previous to this effort, the management and staff of the C.D.S. had a total credit of $743.79 raised for the fund, and this serves to distinguish how great a success in comparison their latest effort proved to be, for at one swoop they come within the select circle of those who have raised more than $1,000 for the fund, their total now standing at $1,207.37, besides chalking up a credit of raising over sixty per cent of their previous combined total in one single effort.

In order of total contributions, the following have attained above the $1,000 mark in money raised for the fund, Employees at C.G.E. Co. Ltd., The Penny Boxes, The Canadian Legion, Canadian Department Stores, J. E. Parker family of Norwood and the Churchill Club.

Previously acknowledged	$74,335.71
Proceeds of draw and dance sponsored by Canadian Department Stores per J. H. Jamison	463.58

LT.-COL. DEMAIO PROMOTED—Announcement of the promotion overseas of Major Alex. DeMaio to the rank of Acting Lieutenant-Colonel will be pleasing news to his friends in Peterborough. He is a son of Ferdinando DeMaio, 149 Rubidge Street. A science graduate of the University of Toronto, he enlisted in Toronto with the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps with the rank of Lieutenant shortly after the outbreak of the war. A news despatch reported that he was one of twelve Toronto officers of Military District No. 2 receiving promotions overseas. Lieut.-Colonel DeMaio has been all through the Italian campaign. His wife lives in Toronto.

Thieves Make 3 Break-ins At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, March 22.—(ENS). —Thieves in the night, operating expertly and silently, broke into three places in this village Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning, and left a trail of broken locks and safe doors behind them, but no clues as to their number or identity.

So expert was the remaining evidence of their work that residents and police could not help suspecting that they were confronted by a professional job, and efforts are being made to link the robberies with others of a like nature committed in Lindsay and other places in the district in recent months.

Millbrook citizens awoke this morning with no suspicion of the outrages that had been committed under their very noses during the preceding night. H. A. Attwool went to his place of business, the Attwool and Shepherd Mill, right in the village, and found the lock on the door smashed. Having forced an entry, the thieves had made their way to the safe in the office, opened it without resorting to blowing it open, and cleared it out. The manner in which the job was executed, Mr. Attwool said, was indication enough that the burglars were experienced in their criminal line of work. However, the loss amounted to only $2 or $3, he stated.

Post Office Robbed

A bigger haul was gathered in by the thieves when they visited the post office, where once again they forced their way in and broke into the safe. From it they took a quantity of money, War Savings stamps, unemployment insurance papers, letter stamps and other valuables. This morning the postmaster said it was not possible as yet to make an estimate of the total loss. It was Albert Muspratt, post office caretaker, who discovered the theft when he came to open up this morning.

A gas pump behind the Millbrook Creamery had its lock broken too by the vandals, who worked with such quietness that Art Jeffrey, the proprietor, sleeping over the creamery, heard nothing. It was not known how much gas had been stolen by the thieves.

Jack Kellett, local constable, called in to investigate the three robberies, phoned for the provincial officer from Cobourg to assist him in unravelling the mystery; and later the assistance of the Toronto police was also requested.

Ration Workers To Get Instructions

The Women's Voluntary Services are clearing the decks for action in the big task of manning the distributing Centre on Simcoe street for issuing the new Ration Books next week. At a meeting on Thursday evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Hall, opposite the City Hall, the workers will receive final instructions on their work. This meeting will last only 30 minutes but, officials say, it is very necessary to avoid confusion when the ration distributing centre opens at noon Monday, March 27th.

Soldier Of 1885 Observes 83rd Birthday

A veteran of the North-West Rebellion of 1885 William Wedlock of the Port Hope highway celebrated on Monday his 83rd birthday, still hale and hearty despite his years. Only veteran of that campaign left in the district now, Mr. Wedlock spent six months in the West in the spring and summer of that year, having enlisted with several other men from Keene. For many years Mr. Wedlock made Keene his home, his family having come from Ireland to settle there when he was only six months old. For over 15 years he operated a grist and saw mill at Keene, and nearly 30 years ago he ran a coal wood and cartage business with his brother, Thomas Wedlock. He has been retired now for six years.

Mr. Wedlock joined the Midland Battalion recruited from this district for the North-West Rebellion along with six other volunteers from Keene, and he remembers that there were seven men from Norwood, seven from Havelock and many from the city itself. Only a few of the district men were killed in the fighting Mr. Wedlock says.

A Soldier Still

The fighting spirit in the soldier of 60 years back is not quenched by any means yet, and were he young again he says there is nothing he would like better than to get out and come to grips with Hitler's supermen. Still very spry, it is his practice to walk a mile into town almost every day, disdaining the bus service which is available to him. He has been a sportman of some note, a curler years ago at Keene, when he took part in competitions in Peterborough and Toronto and also expert markman with a rifle.

Six of Mr. Wedlock's ten children, Mrs. George MacIntyre Mrs. Lottie Fletcher, Mrs. William Jeffries, William, Irwin and Tom, all live in Peterborough. Mrs. Wesley Montgomery and Mrs. Amelia Boyle are of Hastings; Mrs. Joseph Gibson is in Toronto; and Jack makes his home in Baldwinsville, N.Y. his wife died in 1936.

Careless Driver Fined By Court

As an aftermath to a recent accident on Park Hill Road in which two persons were injured James Hopcroft entered a plea of guilty in police court this morning to a charge of careless driving and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C.

The charge against Hopcroft was laid by city police after an accident in which a car driven by him collided with the rear of a stalled car. The driver of the other vehicle who had been trying to start his machine by cranking the engine and a woman passenger in Hopcroft's car were both injured in the crash.

Aircraft Plants Switch To Combat Craft

OTTAWA, March 22.— (CP). — Canada's aircraft production program will continue to expand in 1944 but there will be a transfer of effort from the building of trainer aircraft to the construction of combat aircraft, Munitions Minister Howe told the Commons Tuesday.

Speaking before the House began study of the Munitions Department estimates, Mr. Howe said Canadian aircraft plants expect to produce 4,312 aircraft this year, compared with 4,133 in 1943, an increase of 179.

Outlining the production program for this year Mr. Howe said it is hoped that:

1. Lancaster bomber production will be increased from the current nine planes a month to 17 a month by May and 30 a month by next December.
2. Mosquito bomber production will be increased from 33 planes a month to 52 a month by June.
3. Curtis dive bomber production will be increased from 20 planes a month to 70 a month by mid-summer and 130 a month by next December.
4. Catalina Flying Boat production will be increased from 37 a month to 50 a month by the end of this year.

Fewer Ansons.

Because there has been a marked falling off in requirements for trainer aircraft, Mr. Howe said that:

1. Production of the Cornell, a primary trainer, will be decreased from the current 125 planes a month to 50 a month.
2. Production of the Anson, a twin-engined trainer, will drop from 70 a month to 35 a month.
3. Production of the Harvard, a secondary trainer, will continue at 100 a month until the end of the year.

Mr. Howe said the shift from trainer to combat aircraft tends to reduce the output in terms of numbers, since one combat type may involve 50 times the man-hours employed on the production of a primary trainer.

He outlined the growth of the aircraft industry and gave the following figures to show the number and the weight of aircraft produced in Canada each year since the beginning of the war:

Year	No. of Aircraft	Poundage
1940	846	1,628,116
1941	1,697	6,358,442
1942	3,811	17,578,309
1944 (estim.)	4,312	21,430,000

"When the war began, we had an aircraft industry with some 1,000 employees," Mr. Howe said. "The industry had produced only very simple types of aircraft and these in small numbers. We now have an industry which employs 122,000 people and which is producing combat aircraft of the latest and finest types.

2,000 First Line

"Of the 11,390 planes produced since the beginning of the war, more than 2,000 have been first-line service aircraft. The balance of the program is made up of trainer types, and one service type (the Norseman) which is no longer used in front-line combat.

"Plane production in March, April and May, 1943, totalled 971 craft, or an average of 324 planes a month. Production for the three months ending Feb. 29 last was 1,309 planes, or an average of 436 monthly.

"I do not pretend that I am satisfied with current rates of production, but I do say that considering our small beginnings and the magnitude and complexity of the program we have undertaken, the performance to date is a creditable one."

Canada's production of service aircraft is confined to the Lancaster, the Mosquito, the Catalina Flying Boat and the Curtis Dive Bomber—the "four world-famous types, each of which is unsurpassed in its class."

Pte. C. E. Loney Back From War

BANCROFT, March 22—(CP). — Pte. Cleveland Earl Loney, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Loney of Niagara Falls, arrived home on March 13 from overseas. Pte. Loney and his brother John first enlisted with A Company of the 2nd (R.) Battalion of Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, situated at Bancroft, but later joined the Active Service on July 11, 1941. They went overseas together in December, 1941.

John while in England transferred to the Forestry Corps, which took him to Scotland, thus separating the brothers. John returned home last fall from overseas and is now living with his wife and daughter in Stirling. Cleveland arrived home last week and was welcomed by his wife, two daughters and to sons. He is home on 30 days leave and will report back to Kingston at that time. Cleveland makes his home in Bancroft. Originally the brothers lived with their parents at one time in Little Ireland, some 30 miles east of Bancroft.

Guards Shot

ALGIERS, March 22 — (AP) — Four guards convicted of murder and brutality in the operation of the Bechar Colomb interment camp in North Africa under the Vichy regime were executed this morning by a French firing squad.

The guards were sentenced to death by a French military court on March 3 in the first of the current French purge trials. Pierre Pucheu, former Vichy Interior Minister, convicted of treason, was

Canada Wins Race To Produce Rubber

OTTAWA, March 22.—(CP).— A race to bring in synthetic rubber production in time to avoid a serious shortage resulting from a dwindling stock pile has been won, Munitions Minister Howe said in the Commons Tuesday.

While military and other highly essential needs will be met from synthetic production, there is little relief in sight for the ordinary civilian, the Minisqter said.

The synthetic rubber plant of the government-owned Polymer Corp., at Sarnia, Ont., now is producing Buna-S type rubber at the rate of 2,500 tons a month and Butyl rubber at 150 tons a month. Production of Buna-S is expected to reach full capacity of 34,000 tons a year by May and the full rate of Butyl at 4,000 tons a year by July.

The United Natons' stockpile of raw rubber had been a dwindling asset.

"Our problem has been to bring in production of synthetic rubber in time to avoid a shortage which would have crippled our production program," Mr. Howe said. "We have reached the point where I am able to say we have won the race.

"With the Polymer plant in full production we will be able to meet war and strictly essential requirements. We will not be able to give any great relief to the ordinary civilian user.

"It is expected 900,000 tires will be manufactured from synthetic rubber in 1944. A large part of these will go on military vehicles. The balance will be distributed to the public in accordance with the regulations of the 'ire rationing plan."

Mr. Howe had something to say about the quality of synthetic tires.

"It is not possible yet to say that a synthetic tire matches the quality of a raw rubber tire. The Department is conducting very extensive tests of synthetic tires, in conjunction with the United States Army.

"The data obtained from these tests will, we hope, help to improve the quality of synthetic tires. So far as we can now estimate the synthetic tire is about 80 per cént as efficient as a raw rubber tire. It is still necessary to use a certain proportion of natural rubber in the fabrication of tires for heavy duty and high pseed operation."

The rubber scrap position now was "very easy," with large stockpiles in Canada and the United States, Mr. Howe reported.

Face Charges

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Mar. 22—(CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gillies of Schumacher, Ont., yesterday were committed for trial at the spring assizes by Magistrate S. Atkinson when they appeared for preliminary hearing on charges of manslaughter. The charges were laid in connection with the death of their four children who died of suffocation in their Schumacher apartment, March 10.

Bancroft Honors Italian Casualty

BANCROFT, March 22—(ENS)—A Memorial Service was held in the Community Hall in Bancroft in memory of Pte. Donald Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas of Bancroft, who died from wounds received in January as the result of enemy action while in the Italian theatre of war.

The service was in charge of Mr. Harvey of the Bancroft Pentecostal church assisted by Mrs Harvey as pianist and soloist. Mr. Harvey used as his text "God is our refuge and strength, an ever present help in time of trouble". At the commencement of his sermon Mr. Harvey at the request of the parents read to the congregation three letters which the parents had received, one from Donald's army chaplain, one from a Padre and the other from Pte. Eddy Thomas, Donald's brother who is also in action in Italy. During the service Mrs. Harvey sang well-known solo "The City Four Square".

There was a large attendance for the service and officers, N.C.O.'s and other rank of "A" Company 2nd. (R) Battalion of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment stationed at Bancroft under Command of Captain A. Scott acted as Guard of Honor and ushers for the service.

Chaplin Faces Serious Charges

LOS ANGELES, March 22 — (AP).—A sound-proofed, modernistic court room in the big Federal building was the setting in which Charles Chaplin, sober-faced film comedian and producer, was summoned for trial to-day on charges that he twice violated the Mann Act in 1942.

The wealthy 54-year-old actor was prepared to defend himself from a Grand Jury indictment charging that he transported Joan Berry, 24, from Los Angeles to New York city in October of 1942 for immoral purposes. A second count charges that he later returned her to Hollywood for the same purposes.

Women are eligible to sit on the jury. Judge J. F. T. O'Connor will preside in the case, which it is estimated was require a week to 10 days to try.

When this case is completed Chaplin will still face a separate indictment in which he is charged with conspiracy to deprive Miss Berry of her civil rights. Six others also are named in conspiracy indictments, which allege they and Chaplin contrived to force her to leave Beverly Hills, where the comedian resides, after she was placed on probation there in a vagrancy charge. The vagrancy charge ultimately was dismissed.

A civil case, also is pending in which the young woman seeks to have him named as the father of her daughter, Carol Ann, five months of age.

Growers Make Attempt To Get Subsidy

COBOURG, March 22 (ENS) — Further steps toward organization of the growers of peas, corn, beans and cabbage, were made at a meeting held in Camborne town hall. Charles Quinn, president of the Northumberland County Federation of Agriculture, as chairman, outlined the situation in pointing out that the various food boards were asking for information on these crops and the growers had no one definitely to represent them. Consequently, organization under the Farm Products Marketing Plan of the Ontario Department of Agriculture seemed a most desirable step. In reviewing the presentation of the case of the growers at Ottawa, he pointed out that these crops would not have the strength of tomatoes, owing to lack of organization.

The pea crop, it was indicated, was an important one in Ontario as 50 per cent of the production in Canada is confined to this province. Raymond E. Anderson of Waterford, provisional chairman of the Ontario committee, outlined what had been attempted to date in regard to prices and expressed regret that an increased subsidy had not been granted to these crops as was done in the case of tomatoes.

He pointed out that when the commodity scheme was fully organized it was hoped to collect 25 cents per ton on peas and ten cents a ton on corn to supply funds with which the organization could function. He stated that the future of the organization rested with the growers who will shortly receive a ballot through the mail and unless the majority of them favor an organization scheme, it will be automatically dropped. Consequently growers of these crops who are interested in having an authoritative representation to further their case, and work in their interests, are urged to return the ballots promptly, voting in favor of the scheme.

Power of Cooperation

Tom Sirett, provincial director of the tomato growers, pointed out the power in a cooperative group; that Ontario grows 80 per cent of the tomatoes in Canada and that those connected with the industry were reasonably well pleased with prospects for the coming year. R. C. Banbury, representative of the Department of Agriculture in Northumberland County, asked for the opinion of the meeting in regard to establishing camps for farm help. It was generally felt by those in attendance that they were not prepared to employ the necessary number of girls or boys at 25 cents per hour to merit plans being made in this regard.

On motion of Gordon Thorne and S. J. Tinson, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

"That a committee to cooperate with the Ontario pea, corn and bean group be formed to represent Northumberland County and that the scheme be requested to include cabbage." It was suggested that this group be know as the P.C.B.C. The following officers were elected:

President, Charles Quinn; vice-president, Stanley Macklin; secretary-treasurer, S. Tinson.

On motion of Gordon Thorne and Gordon Rutherford, the following resolution was passed and it is to be sent to the Ontario Department of Agriculture—"Whereas Ottawa has refused to increase the subsidy on peas, corn and beans because it is felt that production will, consequently, not meet the demand for processed vegetable crops for the urgent food needs, the Northumberland County pea, corn, bean and vegetable growers respectively request the Ontario Department of Agriculture to consider bonus assistance to producers for the 1944 crop."

Masons Observe 35th Anniversary

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 22 (ENS) —Chapter Masons held their annual anniversary celebration here Monday evening when No. 168 Royal Arch Masons were joined by members of the Stirling Chapter in observance of their thirty-fifth anniversary. The celebration, which is usually held on March 17, provided an enjoyable fraternal and social time for lodge members.

A feature of the evening was the conferring of the M.M.M. Degree on two candidates. Ex. Comp. Joseph Whitehead presided with an efficient staff of visiting officers. At the conclusion of this part of the meeting, members adjourned to the banquet hall for dinner. Ex. Comp. A. D. Bennett presided at the head table and Ex. Comp. O. C. Watson was toastmaster. Following the toast to "The King," Rt. Ex. Comp. J. O. Benor proposed the toast to "The Grand Chapter" and this was responded to by R. Ex. Comp. George Watson of Stirling. An address by V.E. Comp. Earl Greig formed a highlight of this portion of the program when he gave a foresighted address in which he envisioned some of the changes that might be looked for in the post war world.

In recognition of his many years of service as a valuable member of the Chapter, V. Ex. Comp. A. J. Meyers was presented with a pen and pencil set on behalf of the Chapter by V. Ex. Comp. H. T. Scott. A toast to the visitors by R.E. Comp. L. B. Glover and following this the presiding officer called on a number of the visiting Companions to reply. Among those who spoke complimenting their hosts of the evening were Ex Comp. Solmes, T. Bedford, R. Patterson and J. Whitehead. Ex. Comp. R. A. Connor proposed the toasts to the candidates which brought forth responses from Comps. W. A. Kingston and F. Rutherford.

Post-War Plans Face Opposition Rotarians Told

CAMPBELLFORD, March 22 — (ENS) — If past records are to be any criterion the move to do any great amount of post war spending in this town will likely meet with considerable opposition. This was envisioned by A. J. Meyers, ex-Mayor of Campbellford in the address before the Rotary Club here Monday when he reviewed some of the problems which confronted council with the building of the new high school and the laying of sewers and water mains in this town.

Mr. Meyers said the installation of concrete sidewalks, sewers and water mains were improvements which had cost the taxpayers a lot of money, "but the councils at that time felt these improvements were a necessity and that they were giving the people of Campbellford something they needed—by improving living conditions, eliminating diseases and epidemics". These were things that could not be measured in dollars and cents since they were passed on through the years raising morale and leading to happier living conditions.

After the council had completed installation of the first sewers, they were waited on by one delegation after another requesting immediate action in their particular part of the town. "We could not build the sewers or extend the water mains fast enough". Council experienced no little trouble in smoothing out the ruffled feelings of those who feared the money would all be spent beore the work in their particular section was looked after.

Object to School

The building of the new high school was recalled by the speaker, who told of the number of joint meetings the board of education held with the council and of the controversy over the sight 'which was just a swamp". Mr. Meyers said he could hardly blame those who opposed the move to spend another $100,000. on a school building "considering the money that had already been spent on sewers and water mains". It seemed as if the town was opening the purse strings a little too wide.

However the council finally authorized the spending of $75,000. which meant the gymnasium and auditorium were to be built at some time in the future. The folly of this scheme was realized in time however, and the additional money required for completing the project was granted.

"It has been said that it is the business of the Council to guard the people's money. In my opinion, it is the business of the banks to guard the people's money. It is the business of the council to spend the people's money, but to spend it wisely, that is to give the people good value for their dollars-value in the material things that are needed to improve their living conditions, their working conditions, the time of their recreation hours." "You can save money at too high a cost to the health of the community which you serve.

Must Move Forward

In the opinion of Mr. Meyers it was impossible to stand still for a great length of time. "If you do not go forward, you will inevitably go backwards, and this is not only true of individuals but also in industrial activities and in community life. You must live, learn and progress and if you do not do this, you will soon be cast aside and thrown into the discard as useless."

To Rotarians who are members of council or of the Rehabilitation Association, Mr. Meyers said, "Be of good courage, and have the courage to fight for your convictions. Show people how they will benefit from the work you propose doing. Give them parks, playgrounds swimming pools, gymnasiums. Educate them to take pride in their homes and in their town.

Call-up Error

WINDSOR, March 22 (CP). —One of the strangest military call-up errors concerns 18-year-old Gordon Allen, graduate of the Ontario School for the Blind at Brantford, who until recently operated a National Institute for the Blind booth in the city police building. Last week he was visited by the R.C.M.P., who were checking a report that he was a draft evader. He had received a call-up notice Jan. 20, was medically examined and rejected because of his blindness.

LONG MAY THIS PARTNERSHIP PROSPER...

FOR a long time now, John Bull, Uncle Sam and Johnnie Canuck have been doing business together. Today, more than ever, we are united in a common purpose.

Side by side, Canadians, Americans and Englishmen march along the road that leads to final victory. On the hot sands of North Africa, on the slopes of Sicily and Italy, our men have fought well together . . . given strength one to the other. Now, we look forward to the peace . . . and the ways in which we can preserve it.

Future world security rests to a large extent upon continued co-operation between the British Commonwealth and the United States. Of all nations, Canada is best situated to assure such co-operation. For we, of Canada . . . a major member of the British Commonwealth, have long been a close friend and neighbour of the United States. We know and like them both so well, we are the common meeting-ground for mutual understanding. Thus will Canada help the world to Win the Peace!

Adoption Paper Important For Prospective Parents

The need of making certain that all necessary papers are looked after by prospective adoption parents was stressed by Miss R. Young, giving her report to the regular meeting of th Children's Aid Society Tuesday. James Dutton presided at the meeting held in the Council Chambers.

Miss Young explained that although there were 12 unmarried parents cases during the month of February, 10 of the mothers wanted to keep their children, and therefore the number of adoptable children was very small. "We have many fine adoption homes awaiting a child," said the superintendent. "After reading an account of our January meeting, someone asked us why, if six unmarried parents cases had come to us, we would not have a child for adoption. It is to be remembered that many girls wish to keep their babies, which, of course, is their privilege."

Miss Young went on to say that there were still a few cases where children were placed in adoption homes without the knowledge of the Society. The child's birth must be registered, and the necessary consents to adoption must be signed before the adoption is legal. She also discussed the problem non-adoptable children, and said that the solution, when the child was not wanted, seemed to be guardianship by the Society. She also highly recommended the Mental Health Clinic, and said that it was in inestimable value when a child had to be judged on his own merits before being adopted.

Visit 43 Children

Two children, who had previously been temporary wards, were made permanent wards, and forty-three children in foster homes were visited during the month. The total number of visits was 384; with office interviews amounting to 121, telephone calls to 180, and letters sent out to 263.

The need for adequate office space for the Society was also brought up, and suggestions and ideas about new accommodations were solicited from members of the Board.

The shelter report showed a total of nine children in the shelter on March 1. Trinity Knitting Club donated one month's work to the shelter, and two boys' blouses, two sweaters, and some silk slips of the finest quality were received. The Junior Welfare League again donated a treat of ice-cream and doughnuts on the first Friday of the month. One member visited sick children, and another was continuing to give piano lessons to one of the girls.

Many Donations

Donations included sandwiches from Trinity Sunday School, sandwiches and several articles of good used clothing from Mrs. L. Yeotes; a baby's sweater, two bonnets, knitted caps, four pairs of slippers, three bags for the girls, and several pin cushions, three crib quilts and a cushion top, from Mrs. J. R. Marshall; and several good used articles from Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge.

Mrs. Marshall, in giving her sewing report for the month, brought samples of the work being done for the children, and showed two crib quilts and a cushion top, made by hand from donated curtain scraps.

Arrangements for the annual meeting were again discussed. It was decided to hold it toward the end of April, and to have the business meeting held in the Society's rooms first, with a dinner meeting following. A nominating committee, Mr. E. B. Fowler, Mr. Ross Dobbin, Mr. W. J. Grady and Mrs. J. R. Marshall was named.

Satisfactory progress on the idea for the visiting homemaker service was reported. The Red Cross had named a committee of six, which is meeting in the near future to further discuss the problem.

COCOA AS MEDICINE

The Spanish explorer Cortez introduced the cocoa bean to Europe where at first, it was used as a medicine.

Many Influences Apparent In Jewelry Designers Efforts

Spring costume jewelry dedicated to the young in heart, has stolen a march on Spring. Latest news from the fashion fronts gives advance information on gold-plated sterling silver, iridescent lucite and a whole new range of Mexican and Victorian-inspired motifs soon to be seen at jewelry counters from coast to coast.

"Conversation pieces" in the form of birds, animals and peasant-type heads, worked in ceramics or any of the above-mentioned materials, are out in front for Spring popularity. Suit lapel pins with matching earrings are available in many interesting variations ranging from light-weight plastic and floral pieces to more ambitious jeweled gold-plated and silver styles.

Native Influences.

New world Indian and Mexcan motifs are highly effective and much in the news for daytime wear. Classic carved arrows, spears, shields, some with semi-precious stones, are to be found in necklaces earrings, bracelets and pins that are both decorative and inexpensive. Wood and shell clips and pins are other new notes that make good companions for suits and sweaters.

The Victorian combination of velvet and pearls is "in" again....with the dog-collar and the dowager-type earrings making a decided and decorative come-back for evening wear.

Lockets and other sentimental-type jewelry have made great headway in getting the eyes, as well as the ayes of the girls and boys. Gold-plated hearts on delicate chains are forget-me-not souvenirs that mayn a uniformed lad is presenting to his certain someone. Some of these pieces have room for one or more photos; all have that sentimental charm that makes them sought-after gift items. "Old-button" earrings and bracelets are also popular for Spring giving or keeping, as are the pretty and practical identification jewelry that is wanted by both "him" and "her" in bracelets, monogrammed fobs and earrings, depending on who is doing the wearing.

Highlights on Handbags.

Wool felt handbags with plastic slides and trims in various sizes and shapes are still top in popularity. Matched with gloves and jaunty little calot hats, they "tie-together" your wardrobe and add that final note of completeness. The gypsy bag, or the over-arm bag, is the answer to a woman's prayers. Roomy and pliable it will carry all the "necessities" without becoming bulgingly out of shape. For the children, there are the delightfully gay peasant handbags made of wool felt. These soft and loveable bags have colorful peasant flower applique sprouting on both front and back sides and pinked handles and edges.

Navy Auxiliary Sponsors Successful Party

Approximately 35 tables of bridge, euchre and Chinese checkers were played at the Y.W.C.A. Tuesday evening, when the Peterborough and District Women's Auxiliary to the Navy sponsored a successful card party, to raise funds for their work. Mrs. H. Evans and Mrs. C. Hotston were conveners for the event, assisted by their conveners.

The draw for the quilt donated by Mrs. J. Black and Mrs. Hotston, was made, with Miss Doreen Groombridge as holder of the lucky ticket. Mrs. H. Staunton was in charge of the sale of tickets.

Prizes were as follows: Women's euchre, Mrs. C. Willison and Mrs. J. Watkiss; men's euchre, Mrs. E. M. Foster and Mrs. W. Firth; low euchre, Mrs J. Hull and Miss Ann Walker. Bridge prizes were drawn, and won by Mrs. G. Tweedy and Miss C. Sabin. Mrs. F. Honor won the Chinese checker prize, while the door prize went to Mr. F. Traviss.

Home and School 25th Convention To Be In Toronto

At a regular meeting of the Home and School Council, held in the Y.W.C.A., members were urged to attend the twenty-fifth Annual Convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Associations, being held in Toronto, April 11, 12 and 13. Banquet speakers will be Dr. S. R. Laycock, and Dr. W. P. Percival, president of the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association and also chairman of the Survey Committee.

Mrs. E. Chambers, president, read excerpts from the minutes of an executive meeting of the Ontario Federation of Home and Schools, held recently in Toronto. She also read resolutions from the Home and School Associations throughout Ontario, which are to be presented at the convention. A letter was read from the Oshawa Home and School Council, enclosing a resolution to be presented at the convention regarding the control of venereal disease, and asking for the support of the Peterborough Council.

It was announced that the next meeting for the study group of the survey would be held Tuesday, March 28, and all interested were cordially invited.

Two new vice-presidents, Mrs. C. Crowe and Mrs. H. Graham, were appointed to take the place of the retiring vice-presidents.

Mrs. H. H. Graham Addresses WMS

Mrs. H. H. Graham spoke at the regular meeting of the St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society, and told the story of the evacuation of missionaries from Burma. She gave a detailed account of the experiences of the missionaries on their long trip to safety.

Dr. E. W. Young briefly addressed the ladies, and spoke of their duties in connection with the coming Bay of Quinte Conference, being held in Trinity church, June 6 to 9.

Mrs. Robert Jones led the devotional period, in charge of M. J. Kerr group. Mrs. E. W. Young, Mrs. M. H. Harrison, Mrs. T. Crozier and Mrs. C. Smith took part. Mrs. B. F. McNeely reported on the regular meeting of the local Council of Women, and brief reports were given by Mrs. E. F. Reid, Miss M. Moir, B.A., and Miss Margaret Ferguson. Refreshments were served by the group in charge.

Kinettes Plan For Coming Bingo

Final arrangements for the Kinette Bingo, to be held April 13 in the Market Hall were announced by Mrs. J. Elliott, convener, at the regular meeting of the Peterborough Kinettes, held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. C. Graham, 599 Harvey street. The afghan and cushion, donated by Mrs. T. Hurry, will be raffled at this bingo, and two cash door prizes will also be awarded.

A bank balance of $76.50, on March 21, was reported by the treasurer, and Mrs. W. J. Gordon reported a total of $33.36 on March 21, for the Milk for Britain Fund. The completion of another afghan for the air raid shelters of Britain was related by Mrs. A. Shallborn, convener of the sewing committee. She stressed the shortage of material, and urged members to bring in woollen socks, sweaters, or any knitted articles for preparing blocks for the afghans. Mrs. Elliott presided in the absence of Mrs. M. Holt.

Mrs. J. King, 277 Monaghan road, will be hostess for the next meeting.

WIFE OF CANADIAN OVERSEAS COMMANDER—Mrs. Crerar of Ottawa, wife of Lieut.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, who has been appointed commander of the Canadian Army overseas, the position formerly held by Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton.

Speaker Visits Trinity Club

Mrs. R. M. Bamsey was guest speaker at the regular meeting of Trinity Club, held Tuesday evening in the basement of the church. For her topic, Mrs. Bamsey chose the question, "Why Be Good?" and gave a number of illustrations showing not only why it was best to be good, but also how it paid to be good. "The only true pattern of goodness was found in Christ Himself," the speaker said. "He did not set down any set rule about it, but said simply, 'follow Me'."

The devotional period was taken by Mrs. J. Donaldson, Misses Grace Johnston and Elva Elliott, and Bill Donaldson. Harry Gray was in charge of the entertaining recreation period. Miss Elliott's group had charge of the meeting.

Mrs. J. Donaldson, and Misses Elva Elliott and Grace Johnston served refreshments.

Cardigan Suits Are Popular In Spring Wear

Strictly smooth — that's the word for the new teen Easter fashions! Coats are clear and away the smartest ever! Slick chesterfields (still the No 1 choice) are lighting up teen horizons in poster-bright colors that spark their wardrobes, send their spirits zooming. Answering the call to the colors too are the beloved boy coats, reefers, 'wrap coats In lush confetti hues they're really super and prized by every teen in the know. As for the topper — it's mustering up a really "rave" following. Wonderful because it whisks over suits, slacks with equal ease, gives every dress that "ensemble" look. Cardigan toppers in smooth checks, stripes, or un-bright "solids" are simply terrific. Spotlighted for fame is the short pilot coat. Dashing with wide lapels, wide waist-nipping belt, it's solid for eye-catching good looks, for endless versatility too. Shipshape navy's getting plenty of "ayes" of course and will be seen on many a smart teen wench looking band-box fresh and figure-slim in softly styled "dress" coats. For rugged all-weather wear teens are ever loyal to slick reversibles and fly-front knockabout coats.

Suits Lead for Easter

Suits of course lead for teen Easterparading and here too, the cardigan suit is new and news! Striped, checked or solid, they're tops for easy good looks and they're super-duper with crisp bow-tie blouses. What's more they take every teen occasion in their stride and then some. As for the bolero suit—it's an absolute irrestible! In trim navy or cleancut checks, with high-rise skirt and brief young jacket—plus the added allure of snowy white gilet—it's surefire flattery and you can bet teen gals will make the most of it. In the same school are the new, new "dandy" suits and Beau Brummel weskit affairs. Handled with an eye to figure fine points they're teen specials.. and they certainly net results furlough time, 3-button classics and California club suits are well-established as "forever" favourites and these come in a variety of heart-warming tweeds, checks, monotones, garbadines and twills. Chalk-striped smoothies are getting as big a hand with teensters as they are with the lady-folk and small wonder the way they light up teen faces and pare teen figures. Very new and a smash hit success — the topper suit. Wise teens are choosing it as practically an entire wardrobe because the coat tops everything perfectly and the suit stars solo thru Spring.

Suit Builders

Starring among the mix-match fashions is the color-bright blazer. In razzle-dazzle colors with contrast bindings, in classic three-button styles or the clicker cardigan version are the winner and there won't be a teen gal in town who won't boast of one in her wardrobe. Wonderful with plaid skirts that pick up the color of the blazer they're of course super with slacks and they top jumpers artfully too. Topper jackets, 3-button classics, convertible-collar smoothies all are prized for suit-building (still the favourite fashion pastime for teens). For solid scene-shifting, jumpers come to the fore! In pretty dirndl styles or smoothly tailored versions, in paint-pot colors, they're right in the Springtime groove as hep for duty as they are super for platter-dances flicker dates. Another pet variation on the jumper theme is the jerkin 'n' skirt duet. They're practically "musts" for this busy Spring and they're slickest with the new weskit jerkins. Incidentally teens' are definitely that way about weskits and they'll be popping up a'top slacks and skirts or peeping from suits as the most dashing Beau Brummel note ever.

And for delectable scene shift seasoning — take a look at the new blouse crop. Crisp bow-tie beauties foamspilling friller-dillers, new, U-neck charmers, slick weskit styles are just a few of the wonders to be had.

When it comes to beau-catching enchantmen the Easter crop of teen dresses are second to no. Swishy checked taffetas with whirling skirts, sweetened with "lace-paper" frills, pastel pretties in tissue-thin wools or rayon crepes, bewitching flowerblooming prints with sweetheart and oval necklines and pin-up girl navy whooshed up with white are among the most potent for partees, canteen-trotting and furlough dates. All in all, the pickin's are easy for Easter.

FURLOUGH BRIDES CAN'T FLIRT

Position Called Difficult But Wedding Ring Fetter That Binds Woman to Conventions

Dear Miss Dix:— About six months ago I married a girl with whom I was very much in love and seemed to care as much for me as I did for her. After a brief honeymoon I returned to camp, but some months later I had word from a girl friend of hers that my wife was attending U.S.O. parties. I have no objection to her doing this, except that she removes her wedding ring while entertaining the soldiers.

I also have found out that she is having some very intimate affairs with some of the men she has met at these parties. Naturally this has upset me terribly. It has been eating my heart out. Why should my wife, who said she loved me enough to marry me, want to do such things? She forgets that she is married and that her husband has a right to expect her to conduct herself accordingly.

I have never told her that I am aware of her actions. Should I forget it and consider it as being one of the prices of being away from home and in the army? Or should I write her and put my cards on the table?

A disgusted Sergeant

Wife Unfair to Soldier Husband

Answer:— I think that you should write her that you highly disapprove of her conduct, and that she is not giving you a fair deal, nor the other chaps either, for that matter, when she takes off her wedding ring and conceals the fact that she is a married woman. There are plenty of ways of entertaining the soldiers besides flirting with them.

When a man marries a girl, he gives her his name and he has a right to expect her to keep it clean and not drag it through the muck of gossip that is heaped upon every married woman who runs around with strange men. A wedding ring is a fetter that binds a woman to the conventions. She cannot do many things that a single girl can do without getting herself talked about. She has to walk the straight and narrow path and keep her skirts clean, and that is something that a lot of furlough brides are forgetting.

In a way the position of these young wives is a difficult one. They are so young and so pleasure-loving. They have been used to stepping out every night and going to places of amusement, and just because they are married hasn't killed their craving for excitement. Their feet ache to dance just as much as they ever did. They want to go with the crowd and have dates.

They are bored stiff with spending their evenings with Mama and Papa, and knitting sweaters and writing letters to the husbands to whom they have been married so short a time and of whom they have seen so little that they havn't yet gotten the married feeling and the sense of belonging, or any realization of the responsibilities of marriage that they have assumed.

So it is no wonder that they yield to the temptations to have another fling. But it isn't good for them and it breaks down their husbands morale. And I think that a husband who is risking his life fighting for his wife has a right to tell her that she must wear her wedding ring all the time, or not at all.

Dear Miss Dix:— How about compiling a list of uncrowded towns to which the families of service men could go when the men they have been following around the country are sent overseas? Such a list to be really useful should contain a statement about housing conditions, living costs and medical facilities available. It seems to me that knowing where his wife and children could find comfortable and reasonable living during his absence would relieve any service man's mind. And I know it would help the wives. The completed list could be sent to the U.S.O. centres or somewhere else of that sort.

M. W.

Impossible to find such locations.

Answer:— You have a fine idea Why not present it to the War Department? But it would be a big job, if not an impossible one, to locate any place that would have all the conditions you enumerate and that is still uncrowded.

Dear Miss Dix:— I am a young lady past the school girl age, but am still a considerable way from life beginning at 40. Most of my friends and acquaintances have married and left, or else have settled in their little niches, and from every side I am beseiged with the question: "When are you going to get married?"

Now I like men, so the idea of marriage itself is appealing, except that there always following the family situation and I don't like babies. Ever since I was a small child the sight of a wet, mewling, squirming infant has given me an acute attack of nausea. Because of this feeling I haven't encouraged masculine attentions for several years, as eventually the baby proposition always comes up, and the situation comes to a sudden finish. What do you advise? That I hang myself by the neck until dead, or continue to wait until some male comes along who is also allergic to the young of the species, or devote my life to a career?

Muddled

Answer:— I would advise you to espouse a career instead of a man if you are adverse to babies, for they are liable to happen in even the best regulated families. However, your sentiments do not necessarily doom you to old maidenhood for there are many men who have just as little yen for a bundle from Heaven as you have.

But I must call your attention to one curious fact about babies. It all depends on who owns them. Other people's squirmy, slobbery brats may look repulsive to you, but your own will look like angels. (Released by The Bell Syndicate Inc.)

Blouses Play Stellar Role In Spring Dress

With suits the No. 1 candidate for fashion fame Easter through Spring, blouses take top honors as the most important suit accessory. And really the most practical, too, because with a blouse wardrobe, your suit has endless personalities — tailored, dressy, casual as you please. So get on the blouse bandwagon—have yourself a well-planned blouse wardrobe and you're set for Easter through Spring. For the new clean-cut collarless suits, the bow-tie blouse takes top honors. In spotless white pique, vivid prints, beruffled striped cottons or rayon crepe, they give that band-box fresh look every time. To dress up your cardigan suit, choose one of the enchanting beruffled blouses, many of which have convertible high or low necklines. Long sleeved blouses with dainty ruffled jabot frills and wrist details are portrait pretty — completely charming for Easter Sunday. For town tailleurs, those wonderfully smart one-button suits in fresh chalk stripes or twills, there are scores of blouse beauties. Here again bow-tie blouses are the perfect answer. Sheer organdie with crisp small jabot is another smooth choice. Collarless neckline blouses with tucked bodice front are favorites with tailored or dressmaker suits. As for the soft bright dressmaker suits, the simpler the blouse the better. Frilled blouses for these soft suits have very dainty ruffles to eliminate that overdressed look.

Washable Waistcoats News.

What's the newest accent for your Easter suit? The crisp waistcoat blouse! Really they're the most wonderful suit accessory of all! Crisply tailored with waistcoat front, they give every suit that beau-brummel "dandy" look, add the perfect finishing touch. In snow white pique, vivid stripes, tiny checks, bright pastels, they're young, dashing and because they are washable, they're marvelously practical. So do have a waistcoat for your suit and you'll prize it through Spring and Summer with all your separate skirts.

PROUD OF BASUTOS

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa — (CP) — The Bishop of Bloemfontein, after a 7,000-mile tour of the Middle East to visit 18,000 Basutos now serving with the Pioneer Corps has nothing but praise for their work. "I'm proud to be their bishop," he said.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, March 23.

According to the lunar and mutual aspects of important planets, this may prove to be a day of postponements, delays, frustration and defeat, at least temporarily. While the situation seems grave, with obstacles tenacious and circumstances tricky yet a serious, studious and determined state of mind might be able to rationalize or visualize a safe and sound way out. Perhaps merely taking the initiative in postponing decisions or actions, and keeping alert to duplicity, fraud and intrigue may be the way. Refrain from emotional or impulsive moves, and maintain firm and logical conclusions. Avert reactions on health and all explosive behavior.

Birthday Indicators.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year in which there may be tenacious obstacles, delays and defeats to confront with patience, fortitude and determination to overcome all manner of difficulties and trials with logic; reason and good sense. The mentality will be found pitched to much shrewd, sagacious and deep-seated insight into the thwarting obstructions. It might be policy to "agree with thine adversary quickly" to postpone major moves with grace, but keep vigilant as to all snares, delusions and suspicious involvements. Act with mind not emotions or impetuous outbursts lest there be unhappy and futile reactions upon physical or professional well-being.

A child born on this day will be gifted with a sound and studious intellect with versatility and insight; traits and skills needed to contend with treacherous circumstances or not too strong physical health.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP

Two of the most striking shades for spring are light and dark beige. A good example of this is shown in a new daytime formality coat. The body of the coat is light beige monolain, and is fastened with five large jet buttons. This coat, worn over a black dress with close fitting black hat, and black gloves makes a very stunning spring ensemble.

Another smart suit in a soft tweed, in spring's top color grey, trimmed with silvery buttons. With it is worn a sheer white cotton blouse, white gloves, a small off the face black hat and black purse.

Something that will add a gleam to your new spring costume, a sparkle to your spirits, will be a pair of spring's brightest young shoes. Patents are shining examples of prettiness with a purpose. These are touched up with bits of colour and will blend in beautifully with the bright spring coats and suits.

In closing our write-up for today, we are going to give you a few new millinery ideas for you to think about. With Easter only a little over two weeks away (and no matter if we do wear a last season's suit or coat is is every woman's job to wear a new Easter hat, and it will be more especially this year, for the hats are so smart and a style for every face. There is no must about what you wear on your head this Easter. You are free to pick the style you please, forward tilt, level head or back off the face, all are being shown. There is still a general clinging to the small hats you ladies have all found so wearable, but there generalities stop. Fashion has seldom been so indulgent. If you still wear your hair up, choose a small tip-tilt sailor, a bewitchingly feminine fedora or a crown made entirely of flowers back off the face. There is also a half hat being shown but a person must have a very fancy hair styling to wear it well. These half hats are very smartly made in all bright colored flowers and worn with a face veil. Then there is the ever popular beret, which is always in style either in felt, straw or one made to match your coat or suit of the same material. There is a side draped hat, a cloche, or a helmet. You can pick just the hat that flatters your face and suits your hair-do. The hat with a small mushroom brim and small high crown with tight fitting face veil is so smart looking with the new high, plain hair styling.

I saw a very smart and most novel sailor the other day. It was made of white oilcloth, the edge of brim and crown was bound with black, tipped slightly up at back, with a bow of white ribbon underneath brim. This was worn with a grey and white striped suit, white waist and gloves. Another style, a small postillion perched jauntily over one eye. This was made in grey straw, with a silvery coque feather at one side and around bottom of crown were bandings of calypso pink and mimosa yellow. A grey face veil was also worn. All these hats and many more that I have not space or time to describe, are surely dream hats, born of imagination, colored with the eye of an artist, blooming with romantic oldfashioned flowers finished with wisps of shadowy veiling. Little and lovely hats and so utterly feminine. I am sure you will enjoy buying your Easter bonnet this season.

Of Interest to Women

Furs Accent Simplicity

Beautifully simple and simply beautiful, that's the keynote of Easter fashions. Soft little suits, smooth dressmaker or casual coats, suavely draped dresses, neat little heads — these are the fashions that will star through springtime. New and news too are the soft cardigan suits with crisp clean-cut collarless necklines, the short dinner dresses with excitingly low U-necklines, the very dramatic scarf dress—all of which depend on simple uncluttered lines for their chic. With all fashion so refreshingly streamlined—furs really take the spotlight for the glamour accent to Springtime clothes. Fur scarfs are slated for tremendous success with sable dyed kolinsky and silver fox the two leading choices. Fur jackets are underscored too, as fashionable accent to the simple Spring clothes. And practical point, both fur jackets are really long-term investments—wonderfully smart as they are wearable practically the year 'round.

GIFT OF ST. CATHARINES

LONDON —(CP)— Gift of St. Catharines, Ont., a mobile kitchen was presented to a Gloucestershire Rural District Council A.R.P. by Frederick Hudd of the Canadian High Commissioner's Office. District officials expressed gratitude for assistance given on many occasions by Canadian Army personnel during air raids.

How much

It is not so much a question today of what you would like to do for your family through your estate but how much you can do and the best way of doing it. The Estate Planning and Information Department of this Corporation can advise you of the limiting conditions which have entered into estate planning since pre-war days and which may continue to operate after the war. We invite your inquiries; they will place you under no obligation.

In Memoriam — Cards of Thanks

BIRTH.

DARLING. — To Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Darling, on Saturday, March 18, 1944, at Nischolls Hospital, a daughter (Phyllis Jean).

NICHOLS. — Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Nichols (nee Minnie Charlton), of Smith, wish to announce the birth of their daughter, on Sunday, March 19, 1944.

IN MEMORIAM.

McGEE. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. W. A. McGee, who passed to the Great Beyond ten years ago, March 22, 1934.

March brings sad memories
Of our dear mother gone to rest,
Who will always be remembered
By those who loved her best.
Her life was a beautiful memory,
Her death a silent grief;
She sleeps in God's beautiful garden
In the sunshine of perfect peace.
Sleep on, dear mother, you are free
From sorrow or from pain;
We'll miss you so much,
But we'll meet you again.
—Ever remembered by the Family.

to eat with some eye to the nutritional values of the foods they take into their system rather than with sole regard to the need to statisfy hunger.

A Step Ahead

Speaking of pasteurization, Maj. Scrutton indicated that Ontario was the only province where this was not a major problem, due to the provincial regulation that demanded pasteurization. "In large measure you can thank the Health League of Canada that such a law exists," he said.

Representatives of the League were here to explore the possibilities of forming an active branch in the city, the Major explained, and as the League, supported by government grants, by the United Welfare Fund and the subscriptions of private citizens, was in a sound financial position, it would be the intention of the head office in Toronto to support the new branch during its first year, by which time it would have been able to prove its worth and might be expected to be largely self-sustaining.

Joint Work

Dr. Kelly, speaking for the local Department of Health, advised that a tie-up between the Health League and his department would be an advantageous addition to the health service provided the people of Peterborough, and especially so in view of the fact that financial considerations and shortage of personnel limited the educational work the Department of Health was in a position to render at the present time. He expatiated on the value of Health League publications, including the illustrated magazine "Health" and monthly bulletins on the subject of industrial hygiene, and concluded by stating that "the formation of a branch in Peterborough would be beneficial and we would certainly welcome it."

W. J. Cairns emphasized that there was no thought on the part of the Health League of Canada to supersede the Medical Officer of Health, but rather to assist him and supplement his work was its aim. "The idea is to look to Dr. Kelly for what can be done, and by educational work to focus the attention of the people on measures of prevention. It has been estimated that if citizens are full aroused to a sense of what might be done, sickness can be cut in half."

In urging the formation of a branch, Mr. Cairns pictured the calling of a council with representatives of all organizations concerned with the health and welfare of the city. These members would come together occasionally and arrange for the procurement of health lectures to be provided by the national office of the Healt League. They would coopera. with the local Department of Health and the Health Committee of the Board of Education and do all possible to stimulate health-consciousness among the people.

Early Nurses Drunken Lot

Have you ever been nursed by a chronic drunkard—a woman who literally never drew a sober breath? Probably not, but if you had lived a century ago that would very probably have been your experience. Before Florence Nightingale reformed the nursing profession it was in the hands of women who had no training and no scruples; they drank steadily, stole from their patients and undoubtedly boosted the mortality rate. If you want to find out what they were really like you should take care to listen in to "Kaleidoscope Number Two" at 8.45 p.m. this evening on CHEX; it is the second of the special series of broadcasts which is being sponsored by the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Nursing as we know it today grew out of the stern discipline which Florence Nightingale imposed on the women whom she trained. Her methods passed the sternest test during the Crimean War when, at the British Barrack Hospital at Scutari, she had to nurse desperately wounded men under every possible handicap. She chose women of character and education to assist her; the disgusting old harridans who had passed for nurses before her time would have been worse than useless in such a situation.

In "Kaleidoscope Number Two" a group of actors from this city will contrast Florence Nightingale, the founder of modern nursing, with Sairey Gamp, the nurse whom Charles Dickens drew in his novel Martin Chuzzlewit, which was published just a hundred years ago. As was the case last week, the broadcast will be directed by Brenda Davies and the technical supervision will be by Frank Schoales. Those taking part in the broadcast will be Alene Holt, Mary Hale, Lucy Jane McClellan, John Bradshaw, Robertson Davies and R. L. Hale.

18,000 Japs Killed In Hong Kong Battle

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP) — Rev. Charles Murphy, Roman Catholic missionary recently repatriated from a Japanese prison camp, yesterday told the Canadian Club of Toronto that British and Canadian defenders of Hong Kong killed an estimated 18,000 crack Japanese troops before the enemy consolidated two beachheads on the Crown Colony. He estimated Canadian battle casualties at 300 out of a force of about 2,000.

"The enemy took a terrific beating....which probably was the reason they were so ruthless with our Canadian boys once they were captured," said Father Murphy, who was interned after Hong Kong's fall.

City Playgrounds Are Requested By Deputation Before Council

Presenting from the Ministerial Association a play grounds resolution to which they promised support, Rev. Dr. E. W. Young and Rev. H. L. Roberts suggested to the Council last night that if the project takes form this year provision might be made to include in it the Vacation School the Association conducted last year.

Accompanying the deputation was Mrs. R. Whalon of the Girl Guides.

The vacation school was sponsored last summer by the Ministerial Society under the leadership of Rev. H. J. Mahoney, Rev. Mr. Roberts told the Council. Its sessions were held in some of the churches or Sunday School rooms, and followed a program of recreation for boys and girls with a "limited amount of Bible study." The question of continuing the school this summer was discussed recently by the Association, and Rev. Mr. Mahoney reported that he was not altogether satisfied with the results chiefly because "boys and girls should be out in the open in summer weather."

A committee of the Ministerial Association was appointed to explore the possibilities, and their conclusion generally was that the vacation school project might be combined with some other organization, preferably supervised playgrounds if that incorporation was feasible. Rev. Mr. Roberts said that in this idea there was the supervision of recreation and play with a period each morning that afford a sane program of religious instruction.

At a further meeting Monday night, attended by Public School Inspector Leo Copp and some others greatly interested in the matter, it was decided to present the case to the Council.

"We thought perchance you might be disposed to encourage us to go on," Rev. Mr. Roberts said. "We would need some financial assistance, and we would be responsible for the part of Bible teaching."

Rev. Dr. Young read the resolution heartily recommending the initiation of supervised playgrounds for the summer months, and suggesting that some place in the program be arranged for religious instruction.

"We had 450 boys and girls at our Vacation School last year," Dr. Young said. "Our expenses were $140, and we have $100 on hand which we would be glad to contribute to the project, and make up at least another $40."

He spoke of the increasing need of supervised play grounds as an outlet for the energy of the children and also as a stimulus for their interests. "We believe the Council is well disposed toward social schemes for the betterment of the community, and we feel that any money spent in this cause would bring in good dividends in years to come."

Dr. Young recalled the excellent work conducted for children at Jackson Park by the Kiwanis Club a few years ago, but they were interested in another social scheme now and were not likely to take up their park project again.

Dr. Young said the council might not be favorable to the combining of playgrounds and the vacation school, but he believed it would be a social and moral boon to the community, and the Council would receive the active support of the Ministerial Association.

"If you are against it, we will support the general idea of supervised play grounds at this time of crisis in the life of our city."

The story hour had always proved interesting to children, Dr. Young said, and "with simple stories of Joseph and David and others from the Bible we would certainly give no offense to any party."

Mayor Hamilton said he could speak for the Council in expressing appreciation of the interest of the Ministerial Association in the welfare of the children of the city.

Discussion in general business at that stage of the meeting, produced a resolution by Alderman Dutton, seconded by Alderman Glover, affirmed the council's interest in supervised playgrounds, and requested Alderman Curtis, chairman of the parks committee, to endeavor to obtain all the information he could get on that question, and submit a report as soon as possible.

"The Lions Club has been working on a project, and I have been in touch with them," Alderman Curtis said. "I'd like to see how far they have gone.

"I feel that supervised playgrounds are very important," Alderman Dutton said. "We should be sympathetic to the idea, and I believe we all are. We may not wish to co-operate with the Ministerial Association in their proposal, but we have a responsibility to the community and our young people."

"Then, I think we should do it," Mayor Hamilton remarked.

"It need not cost a great deal of money, and it will return dividends in better lives," Alderman Dutton said.

Alderman Swanston said he was strongly in favor of supervised playgrounds. He recalled that Alderman Curtis had some money for one or more supervised parks in his appropriation. "I think Alderman Curtis and his committee should go into this question thoroughly, and with others who may be interested and try to work out a scheme that will be satisfactory to every one."

Alderman Sullivan said he agreed with Alderman Swanston "and I am in favor of financial assistance to Alderman Curtis to make the fullest use of our parks for recreational and athletic purposes. It seems to me that qualified leaders to look after the boys and girls is a problem, because they are fewer now than ever. The success the Boy Scouts Association is making is mainly due to the leadership they are developing to look after the smaller boys.

The discussion did not attempt to delve into details of what would be required, and Mayor Hamilton said that manifestly the Council desired to do something more in the direction of supervised playgrounds. "The question is how," His Worship concluded.

The Dutton resolution was the immediate response, requesting Alderman Curtis to assume the responsibility of investigation.

Posthumous US Award Given Flt. Lt. Elliott

A well known C.G.E. employee, Flt. Lieut. Eldon Burke Elliott, R.C.A.F., who was reported missing, believed killed December 31, 1943, has been awarded the United States Army Air Medal posthumously.

The citation stated that he had acted as a navigator on a special and hazardous mission into enemy territory, successfully accomplishing his task. Previous reports indicated that he was missing after a raid on Yugoslavia.

Flt. Lieut. Elliott worked in the production department of the C.G.E for several years, enlisting in the spring of 1940 as a navigator. He saw a lot of action in England, Malta, El Alamein, Sicily and Italy. The airman was the son of Rev A. E. and Mrs. Elliott of Sunderland, Sask.

To Consult Again On Atlantic Charter

LONDON, March 22.— (CP). — Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons to-day there would be "renewed consultation between the principal Allies" on the application of the Atlantic charter under the changing phases of the war.

Mr. Churchill did not elaborate whether these consultations might take the form of a new meeting of the Allied "Big Three"—as has been rumored.

His reference to the Atlantic charter — on which Mr. Churchill only last week refused to schedule an open debate in Commons—arose with Daniel Lipson, Independent, asked for a clarifying statement "in view of the doubts which existed as to what territories the principles of the Atlantic charter apply to."

"It is evident that as the changing phases of the war succeed one another, some further clarifications will be required of the position under the document which has become honorably known as the Atlantic charter," Mr. Churchill replied, "and that this must be a subject for renewed consultation between the principal Allies."

Refuses Appeal

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP) — Chief Justice Robert S. Robertson, dismissing an appeal by the Attorney-General from a judgment acquitting J. D. Hawthorne, Toronto, on a charge under the Wartime Industries Control regulations, said yesterday: "It is getting to be a habit with these orders in council to make people come into court and prove their innocence."

Obituary

GEORGE HENRY WRIGHT.

MARMORA, March 22—(ENS).— The death occurred in the General Hospital, Niagara Falls, Ont., of George Henry Wright, a highly respected resident of Marmora. The late Mr. Wright was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wright, and was born in Rawdon township on April 18, 1863. He enjoyed good health throughout his life until about two years ago. He suffered the amputation of his right leg in October, 1942.

During his long residence in Marmora, he was employed for a large number of years by the Pearce Company. He was considered an expert in making axe handles. Of a jovial disposition, he was one of the best liked residents of the village. His wife predeceased him in October, 1940. Surviving are seven children: Mrs. Alfred Kent (Hattie) of Hamilton; William Henry, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. Fred Gray (Charity), Niagara Falls, Ont.; Mrs. Arthur Reynolds (Bessie), Marmora; Mrs. Samuel Rogers (Phelma), Hamilton; Mrs. Albert Dugas (Jennie), Niagara Falls, N.Y., and Mrs. Armand Lachance (Nina), Niagara Falls, Ont. This is the second bereavement for Mrs. Rogers this month as her husband was accidentally killed in Hamilton on March 9. Two sons predeceased the late Mr. Wright—George, killed at Vimy Ridge, and Clarence, who passed away in Peterborough twenty-seven years ago. He is survived also by four brothers: Samuel, Trenton; Robert and Jesse, Seymour township, and Milton, believed to be residing in Detroit.

The funeral leaves the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Arthur Reynolds for service at St. Andrew's United Church at 2 p.m., with Rev. James Stephenson of Marmora Pentecostal Church officiating. Interment will take place in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.

He Was Drafted

CHARLOTTE, N.C., March 22—(AP).— Absence of the first flutist complicated things at a brief rehearsal just before a concert by the Queen's-Davidson - Catawba Symphony Orchestra. Then someone saw 15-year-old James Broyhill among the listeners and said: "He plays flute, why not draft him?" Conductor James Christian Pfohl did so — and afterwards warmly praised the boy's performance.

AVOID CHEAP DOUBLING

THERE IS such a thing as carrying the idea of doubling for penalties too far, especially if your side is vulnerable and the opponents are not. Even taking the first nine tricks against a doubled contract of one will not give your side as many points as a vulnerable game, and the same applies to taking the first eight tricks against a contract of two. Either of these would set the declarer only three tricks, and you have to do one trick better than that to be as well off as with your own vulnerable game.

North: ♠ K Q 8 ♥ Q 7 ♦ J 10 9 8 ♣ A K 6 4

West: ♠ J 10 9 6 ♥ A K 10 ♦ A K Q 5 3 ♣ 7

South: ♠ 7 4 2 ♥ 9 6 5 ♦ 6 4 2 ♣ Q 10 9 5

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North

Pass	Pass	Dbl	2 ♣
Dbl

On three diamond tricks, West noted his partner's high-low spade discards of the 5 and 3, so led to the spade A, took the returned heart with the K, sent East a spade for a ruff, used his heart A on the return and gave East a second spade ruff. That made eight tricks for the defenders, and the declarer of course got the last five, with his trumps and the diamond J.

The defenders were jubilant as they contemplated the debacle of running the first eight tricks, until they counted up. They had set North only three tricks, giving them a score of 500 points. A little more reckoning showed that they could have made a heart game without any difficulty, worth roughly 620 points, with possibly an extra trick. Then they didn't feel so well about it.

Game would have been easy to reach if East had decided to make a free bid for 2-Hearts over North's 2-Clubs. Knowing his partner had strength enough for an informative or takeout double of 1-No Trump, he should have made that bid, with vulnerability as it was. With the vulnerability reversed, a set of three would have been worth more than a game, or with both sides vulnerable or neither side vulnerable.

Youth Delegates Present Brief To Drew

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP) — A provincial youth delegation met Premier Drew Monday and presented a brief urging a province-wide physical fitness program, legislation to curb child labor in Ontario and a careful study of existing Minimum Wage Laws.

The brief commended the government for its education policies and urged that the government's bill to ban publication of discriminatory matter relating to race or creed be amended "to include illegalization of disciminatory practies in employment."

The brief also urged extension of the franchise to all over 21 in municipal elections; a petition to the federal government urging an increase in the soldier's clothing allowance from $65 to $125 and that the federal government be urged immediately to enforce a National Health Insurance Plan.

The brief was presented by a delegation which said it was organized by the Labor Youth Federation and represented youth organizations, Trade Unions and Youth Leaders "who in turn represent more than 20,000 young people and workers in our province."

Lack of community facilities and supervised recreational activity in Ontairo was "contributing to dangerous tendencies such as small-scale race riots which occurred in Toronto, when Jewish residents were attacked by gangs of boys," the brief said.

The brief said wartime employment conditions had created a situation where young persons under 16 were used as a reservoir of emergency labor with youngsters working long hours on jobs that had no future. The brief expressed the belief such a situation would seriously affect "not only morale of relatives in the armed forces overseas, but also the development of a healthy and fit citizenry" and urged the Province to "shoulder the responsibility of this problem" through legislation.

A public hearing of workers of various industries would provide useful information on minimum wages, the brief said and suggested this might be carried out by the Labor committee of the Legislature or a Select Committee.

Establishment of a Youth Advisory Committee to be at the disposal of the Minister of Education to deal with questions relating to the welfare of Ontario's youth was also urged.

Citizens Resent Nazi Privileges

BUCKINGHAM, Que., March 22 —(CP).—After a lengthy meeting, Buckingham town council decided last night to lodge a formal protest with defence department officials over what it termed "undue liberty" accorded German prisoners of war brought here from a lumber camp at nearby Thurso, Que., for medical and dental treatment.

A resolution said such prisoners are being allowed "altogether too much liberty in the town" when brought in under military guard, and H. J. Gorman, secretary-treasurer of Buckingham, was instructed to write the defence department to say council "strongly protests the allowing of undue liberty to prisoners of war brought into the town in future."

The council's action followed complaints received by Mayor Philippe Matte that members of the Veterans' Guard of Canada in charge of a group of prisoners were "fraternizing" with them in taverns and hotels, and that the prisoners recently enjoyed beer-drinking sessions and went "joy riding" with Buckingham girls.

Defence Minister Ralston and Labor Minister Mitchell last night assured the House of Commons that the situation would be investigated.

"The townspeople are not pleased with the way things have been going on and have no intention of standing for it in future," Mayor Matte said last night. "The idea of German war prisoners wandering at large, and sometimes without even a guard over them, is absolutely ridiculous. The whole situation is unreasonable."

Worst Bombed

NEW YORK, March 22—(AP)—The Morgen Tidingen said today that the R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack Saturday night on Frankfurt had left that centre of the German chemical industry a smoking ruin, with damage so vast that it must now rank ahead of Hamburg as the "worst bombed" of German cities.

Manvers Makes Ready For Red Cross Drive

Last year the objective for Manvers township was $709. This year it is set at $900 and judging from the enthusiasm manifested by those who have appointed to act as canvassers this year the executive anticipates an over-the-top response.

The work preceding this campaign was done by the president, Miss Laura Morton, vice-president. Rev. Mr. Mason and Rev. Mr. Harding, and secretary, Mrs. Ross Carr. Besides, work in connection with blood donors clinics.

The township of Manvers has Mr. Milton Wright as organizer and director of this Red Cross campaign with Mr. Harry Jakeman treasurer.

Canvassers are as follows:

Bethany, north side, Milton Weatherilt; Bethany, south side, Henry Jakeman; South line from Bethany, Milton Wright; Manvers Station, Alfred Johnson; the Marsh, Clifford Hudson; Pontypool and West, Dr. McNeil and Melville Gray; Pontypool and East, Tolbert Kellet and Louis Webb; Ballyduff, Fred Gray; Lotus, Clifford Kerr and Howard McMillan; Yelverton, Victor Malcolm and Robert Wright; Lifford, Lawrence Staples and Laverne McKinley; Fleetwood, Victor Grandy and Edmund Staples; Janetville village, James Howe; Janetville north, Morley Kellet and Noel Marshall; Janetville south, Harold Bradburn and Iván Wright.

British Coast Barred To Public

LONDON, March 22 — (CP) — In prelude to the invasion of Europe, more than 700 miles of Britain's southern and eastern coastline were declared a "protected area" Monday, with severe limitations on all civilian movements effective April 1.

The great naval base at the Firth of Forth also was included in the order, which stated succinctly that it was "for operational reasons".

With few exceptions—and authorities exercise rigid control over these—no one except persons who reside in the area will be permitted to enter a 10-mile-deep belt which extends from The Wash in the middle of the east coast to England's southwestern extremity at Land's End.

The order will have a twofold effect of clearing coastal communications for military purposes and keeping snoopers out of the English coastal area opposite the enemy-held Nethmerlands, Belgium and France.

Persons unable to explain their presence in the "protected area" will be subject to a fine of £100 (about $445) and three months' imprisonment.

Terms of the order require all persons in the area over 16 years old to carry identification, and bans binoculars and telescopes.

Visitor Won't Forecast Length Of War

BY C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 22 — (CP) — Hope for peace in the future lies in the unity of the great powers to prevent German aggression, "not by formal alliances but by the formulation of policies together in peace as we have done in war," says Col. John Jacob Astor, publisher of the Times of London.

Britain, the United States, Russia and other Allied powers must maintain an adequate force to guard against any surprise movement of aggressors, Col. Astor said in an interview here yesterday. This must be done regardless of what is done about the control of munitions manufacture, heavy industry and imports by traditional aggressors of materials' useful in waging war, he said.

President of the Empire Press Union, Col. Astor arrived here by air yesterday en route to Toronto where he will address the anniversary dinner of the E.P.U.'S Canadian section March 29. This is his main purpose in coming to North America at this time, he said. From Toronto, he will go to Ottawa and Montreal where he also will speak.

While in Washington he is a guest of Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador to the United States, at the British Embassy. Shortly after his arrival he was guest of honor at a luncheon of the Overseas Writers' Club where he spoke "off the record" and answered questions of members.

In a post-luncheon interview, the Times publisher spoke guardedly of affairs in Britain and of the war situation generally. He said Prime Minister Churchill still holds the confidence of the British people and, in his opinion, is the best man to represent Britain at any peace conference.

He would not be drawn into making any forecast as to the probable end of the war in Europe. "All I know is that we in Britain are anxious that it be ended as quickly a spossible," he said.

Of the possibility of a closely integrated Empire foreign policy Col. Astor said he saw little need for any change in present Empire relations and policy. Citizens of the Empire countries think very much alike and react similarily to emergencies, he said. Some readjustment of the machinery would be necessary to meet certain circumstances.

Col. Astor was a member of a party which recently toured the Italian front. The Italians were "pathetic in their poverty and hopelessness," he said. He questioned the ability of the Allied military government to do much to aid the Italian people to solve their political troubles.

Medical Courses Will Not Be Cut

TORONTO, March 22 — (CP) — Dr. E. S. Ryerson, Registrar of the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto, last night announced that students entering second year medicine at the University next year will not be in an accelerated course. His statement followed an announcement that the Canadian Medical Procurement Board has agreed that accelerated courses for medical students be discontinued.

The speed-up, started in 1942 to turn out more doctors, was protested by the Association of Canadian Medical Colleges which had argued that it imposed a strain on both students and teachers. The courses were speeded up by the elimination of summer holidays.

2 Nazi Divisions Fail To Halt Bessarabian Push

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 23—(AP).—Russian troops fought today within sight of the Black Sea naval base of Nikolaev and drove into the hills of Bessarabia where the land begins rising gradually to the Carpathian Mountains.

The battle for Nikolaev has begun and the Germans appear doomed.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's mobile troops reached points 25 miles from the Prut river, where the Rumanians and Germans launched their invasion of Russia in 1941, and 18 miles from the Bessarabian communications centre of Byeltsi.

Two Rumanian divisions with German commanders and storm troops offered sharp resistance in the rolling hills, but failed to arrest the tremendous tempo of the Red Army. The Russians commanded roads to the west through bare country "not so boggy as the southern Ukraine," military advices said.

Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's army was driving upon Nikolaev (population 167,000) from captured Bogiavlensk, five miles to the south.

The Germans inside Nikolaev are in great peril and have long been cut off from escape to the Black Sea in any large numbers.

Other Soviet forces meanwhile, Moscow announced, captured Yarishev and Kurilovetsky-Murovanny, respectively 10 and 24 miles northwest of Mogilev Podolski, while Gregory K. Zhukov's 1st Ukrainian Army continued its slow but steady push southwest of Kremenets in pre-war Poland toward the large industrial centre of Lwow. More

Break Likely Between U.S., Finland

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23.—(AP).—A break between the United States and Finland appeared today all but inevitable.

The only thing believed capable of preventing final diplomatic rupture would be some official word that peace negotiations between the Finns and Russia have not collapsed completely.

Hope that such word would be forthcoming was slight in informed quarters here. Nevertheless there was some reluctance to abandon all hope.

The Finnish government was notified several days ago that the United States was reconsidering its relations with Finland. A break was not openly threatened at that time but it was clearly implied since it is about the only diplomatic measure left to Washington.

On excellent authority it can be said that the American policy toward Finland is based on the following principles:

The United States has maintained relations with the Finns despite the fact that they are allies of Germany and enemies of Britain and Russia because American leaders thought that by so doing they would have more chance of getting Finland to quit the war.

When the point is reached where President Roosevelt and State Secretary Cordell Hull decide this chance no longer exists there will be no further reason for maintaining relations. One official said today that this point now must be considered almost at hand.

The Finnish government's reluctance to make peace, as it is understood here, is based more on fear of Russian future policy than on any specific item in the terms offered by Moscow.

Enemy Force Threatens City In India

Japanese Units Drive 80 Miles From Burma Base

BY CHARLES S. GRUMICH
Associated Press War Correspondent

NEW DELHI, March 23 — (AP) — Japanese columns invading India now threaten Imphal, key road centre in Manipur, from the south and east, it was disclosed today when Allied Headquarters told of any enemy force whic hhas driven more than 80 miles up the lower Manipur River valley from Tiddim in the Chin Hills area.

The Headquarters statement said the column was 30 miles from Imphal on thewest stide of Logtak Lake south of the city.

This report of a second invasion of India within 24 hours by the Japanese ran counter to previous reports of activity in the Tiddim area, where earlier announcements indicated the enemy was confined within the Burma borders.

Yesterday's report gave no hint that the enemy had penetrated 80 miles from India from the south as well as from the east in the vicinity of Thaungdut on the upper Chindwin river.

The eastern Japanese invasion force was also reported about 30 miles away from Imphal.

When and if the fighting breaks into the open plain, the Allied Air superiority against the almost nonexistent or carefully husbanded Japanese air strength in this theatre is expected to play a heavy roll.

Japanese pressure appeared to be growing along the whole Burma front, although headquarters here said Allied troops were converging on the enemy invasion columns in India.

Japanese activity was especially noticeable to the south on the coastal plain south of Maungdaw in Arakan and in the western foothills of the Mayu mountain range, the communique said, with Allied bombers and fighters maintaining a ceaseless offensive against objectives in these areas, as well as positions in the Chindwin valley, the Chin Hills and Kaladan.

In North Burma, Chinese forces were engaged in heavy fighting in the northern part of the Mogaung valley after conquest of the Hukawng valley, and were battling strong Japanese forces northeast of Shaduzup.

Allied Road Terminal

Imphal, apparent objective of the Japanese drive, is the southern terminus of an all-weather road that winds 175 miles north through the Naga hill country to a junction with the India-Assam-China supply line, Allied jugular vein in the Burma theatre.

Meanwhile, British forces ousted enemy units from positions south and southwest of Buthedaung and improved their positions while repelling enemy attacks west of that town. To the northwest of Buthedaung isolated groups of enemy troops were being rounded up in the hills east fo the Mayu range.

Other Allied detachments were massing to oppose an expected attack by strong enemy forces in the Tiddim sector of the Chin hills.

Annexation Bill Is Reported By Committee

TORONTO, March 23 — (CP) — The Ontario Legislature's committee on private and miscellaneous bills today reported without amendment a bill respecting the Public Utilities Commission of the city of Brantford and another amended measure regarding annexation of part of the township of North Monaghan to the city of Peterborough.

A bill respecting remuneration of members of the Toronto and York Roads Commission was laid over and another providing that no part of the township of York shall be annexed to any adjoining municipality without consent of the municipal electors was reported.

The Brantford bill, sponsored by C. A. Strange (C.C.F. — Brantford) provided that the Public Utilities Commission of the city of shall consist of the Mayor of Brantford and five other members elected annually, one from each ward in the city. At present the commission members are elected at large.

The North Monaghan Township Bill, sponsored by W. A. Goodfellow (P.C. — Northumberland) was discussed at a previous meeting of the committee but was referred back to the municipal board when agreement could not be reached on conditions respecting attendance at Peterborough schools of children from outside the area to be annexed by Peterborough.

Furious Dogfights Develop As Nazis Fighters Rise To Intercept Raiders

Mammoth Day Swoop Follows Big R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. Raid Which Battered City Of Frankfurt

By GLADWIN HILL—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 23—(AP).—Striking the second day in a row in the wake of a 1,000-plane R.A.F. night raid aimed chiefly at Frankfurt, approximately 1,500 American bombers and fighters bombarded the German air force on its home bases in western Germany today. The American raiding force, which included upwards of 500 heavy aircraft, bombed the Brunswick district, the aircraft park at Werl, 40 miles east of Essen, Achmer air force station in Oldenburg to the south and the German bomber base at Handorf, a U.S. Army Air Force announcement said.

The German Air Force, which avoided battle when 600 or more heavy bombers, blasted Berlin in daylight yesterday, apparently rose to the bait of the bold attack today for the German radio said "violent" air combats were fought with the extraordinary large numbers of fighters which accompanied the bombers.

Strong forces from the R.C.A.F. bomber group participated in the night attack on the important chemical and industrial city of Frankfurt, which left huge fires burning and a vast pillar of smoke above the stricken city.

The attack on Frankfurt and other night operations—which included blows by R.A.F. Mosquitoes on Berlin and other targets in Western Germany—cost the R.A.F. 33 bombers, seven of them Canadian.

Fires still burned in Berlin from yesterday's attack, and Stockholm dispatches said telephone communication with the Nazi capital was still cut 24 hours after the attack. R.A.F. Mosquito bombers, making a foray over Berlin last night, said the fires were visible 200 miles away.

While the heavies were ranging over Germany in one of their most far-flung operations yet, R.A.F., Allied and American medium bombers attacked Creil railroad centre north of Paris for the third time in a week. Two airfields also were blasted.

In opposing today's heavy bombers, the German fighters adopted a new tactic, the first returning escort pilots reported, and concentrated their passes on a small part of the attacking formations.

As a result, other escort pilots said, "We went almost to Russia without being able to find anyone to fight."

Other tactics of the Germans included adoption of the tight formation, but that did not prevent their suffering heavy casualties.

Berlin, attacked yesterday by 600 or more U.S. heavy bombers and at least an equal number of fighters and with a bomb load of about 1,500 tons, was harassed again last night by Mosquitoes which also hit other objectives in western Germany.

The last 1,000-plane R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack on Frankfurt was made last Saturday night at a cost of 44 planes.

The attack on Frankfurt last night was the 48th of the war and the 11th heavy bombardment the city has undergone.

It was the third time in a week that the R.A.F. has sent out a force of more than 1,000 planes.

Probably more than 3,000 tons of bombs fell on Frankfurt, and this, with the tonnage dropped on Berlin by the Americans yesterday, brought the bomb load tossed on the Reich in the past 24 hours close to 5,000 tons.

Last night's attack probably was not as big, however, as the one on Stuttgart Feb. 15, when more than 1,000 heavy bombers centred their whole force on that city.

The R.A.F. hit Frankfurt unusually early, around 10:45 p.m. unloaded showers of blockbusters for about half an hour.

An hour after it was over Mosquitoes saw huge expanses of fire—into which they unloaded more high explosives — and columns of smoke soaring a mile high.

A U.S. communique last night announced loss of 13 bombers and nine fighters on yesterday's daylight smash at Berlin, carried out by possibly 600 heavy bombers and at least an equal number of fighters. It was estimated the U.S. bombers dropped about 1,500 tons of explosives on various military targets.

No Opposition

The German air force, heavily damaged in other raids in recent weeks, offered almost no opposition as the American swept over the German capital although anti-aircraft fire was decribed as intense.

"Some of our formations bombed assigned targets through breaks in clouds with good effect," the com-

CHIEF RETIRES—After 24 years as head of the Police Department in Peterborough and 38 years on the police force, Chief Constable Samuel Newhall has resigned.

Chief Constable Newhall Resigns Office

Chief Constable Samuel Newhall, for 38 years a member of the Peterborough police department and for the past 24 years at the head of the force tendered his resignation at a meeting of the board of police commissioners Wednesday and it was accepted, to take effect June 1. In the meanwhile Chief Newhall will be given leave of absence for two months, with pay.

The commission passed a resolution to be forwarded to the city council recommending that in view of the Chief's "faithful and meritorius service" a retiring allowance of $1,300 per year for the next six years should be provided.

Sergt. John W. Thompson who has been a member of the police department during the whole of Chief Newall's term was appointed acting Chief Constable at the rate of $2500 a year, commencing on April 1.

T. J. Carley, K. C. who appeared before the commission in behalf of Chief Newhall stated that the latter had been considering retiring for some time but there was a financial side to the question and quite naturally, Mr. Carley said, the chief constable wanted some assurance that something in the way of a retiring allowance would be forthcoming before he tendered his resignation. Mr. Carley stressed the fact that Chief Newhall had been a member of the police department for 38 years and the best proof of the value of his services was the fact that Peterborough during all that time had enjoyed an enviable reputation because of the absence of serious crime.

Council's Responsibility

Judge S. L. Smoke, chairman of the board, pointed out that the commission had no power to provide a retiring allowance but that was a responsibility of the city council.

Mayor James Hamilton stated that the matter had already been considered by the city council unofficially and he was sure that the members of the body were prepared to provide the allowance suggested.

With that assurance Mr. Carley withdrew from the meeting to consult Chief Newhall and returned with the following letter of resignation:

"I hereby tender my resignation as chief constable of the city of Peterborough to take effect June 1, 1944. In the meantime I request that I be granted leave of absence with pay from April 1, 1944.

"I would point out that in forwarding this resignation I want it clearly understood that I do so without any charge or complaint being made against me. Neither

Nazi Attacks Turned Back At Cassino

Fighting Reaches High Pitch In Ruined Town

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press Correspondent

NAPLES, March 23—(AP)—Fifth Army forces doggedly flung back German attacks yesterday on their Cassino positions while in the air Allied bombers struck sharply at enemy supply lines in northern Italy, Allied headquarters announced today. In the southern section of the town of Cassino, New Zealanders still were engaging the enemy at close quarters. Allied artillery knocked out a German tank emplaced in one wrecked building, raising to five the total destroyed in the week of fighting for possession of the town.

Westward along the lower slopes of Monastery Hill Allied forces kept up their attacks along a north-south axis. The Germans counter-attacked against Hill 193, a key height just northwest of the town early yesterday, but were thrown back, leaving 30 prisoners in Allied hands.

The Germans also lunged forward in two strong attacks in a new sector—near Monte Castellone, three miles northwest of Cassino, but French troops broke up and repulsed their formations with artillery fire.

Raids Unbroken Since Sunday

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 23—(CP Cable)—The aerial assault on Germany has reashed a new peak in the last few days.

It is virtually now a continuous hammering 24 hours a day.

The climax has still to come but since Sunday noon there has been no break in this, the mightiest of all air offensives.

Since then no night, no day has gone by without one or more great onslaughts by heavy bomber armadas from Britain which now can be considered an island-airfield.

Since Sunday, all night and all day, somewhere in Britain there has been giant bombers, Lancasters, Halifaxes, Liberators and Fortresses lumbering away, bomb laden, and returning to refuel and re-bomb for a new sortie.

None can doubt now that the great aerial onslaught is really a fantastic preliminary barrage to the opening of the second front.

Believe Kallay Opposing Germans

LONDON, March 23 — (CP). — Reuters News Agency in a dispatch from Zurich said to-day it had been learned from "usually well informed sources" that Prime Minister Nicholas Kallay of Hungary had been able to get a message out of his country to deny that he had resigned and that he was organizing resistance against the German invaders.

The source quoted Kallay as saying that he had been obliged to leave Budapest to avoid arrest, but he still was in the country as "the legitimate representative of the Hungarian people in the enforced absence of the Regent, Admiral Horthy."

Padua Railyard Blown To Bits

NAPLES, March 23.—(AP).—R.A.F. Liberators and Wellingtons lugged 4,000 pound blockbusters to Padua last night and battered the rail yards there with one of the most devastating attacks on the Italian campaign, the crews reported today.

Flames visible 95 miles away were left by the attack and one entire block of administration buildings near the airfield was ablaze.

It was the third major assault in recent weeks on Padua, a junction connecting lines running to Trieste, Milan and the Brenner Pass route through Bologna. The Wellingtons have delivered two night attacks and American heavy bombers one.

Airmen said one blockbuster tore squarely into the centre of the yards and a large number of explosions, apparently in cars laden with ammunition, occurred when the freight cars were tossed around like toys.

EXTRA!

LONDON—The Air Ministry announced today that the R.A.F. dropped more than 3,360 tons of bombs on Frankfurt last night—the greatest bomb load yet dumped on a single target.

QUEBEC—Premier Godbout announced today that the government bill for the creation of a Quebec Hydro Electric Commission will be presented for first reading in the Legislative Assembly this afternoon.

Mosquitoes Carry 2-ton Blockbusters

LONDON, March 23 — (CP) — Some of Britain's 400-mile-an-hour Mosquito bombers which disturb Germany nightly now can carry two-ton blockbusters, an R.A.F. commentator said today.

The celebrated all-wooden planes were designed originally for 1,000-pound bomb loads.

The nightly Mosquito incursions into Germany generally are in forces of from 12 to 20 planes. The commentator said the Mosquitoes had flown 200 daylight sorties this year through March 17, striking deep into Europe seeking stray planes in the air and shooting up German airfields.

Police Testifies At Lonergan Trial

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP).—Nervously fingering a pair of spectacles, a grey-haired, soft-spoken governess told at Wayne Lonergan's murder trial to-day how she slept undisturbed throughout the night that the R.C.A.F. aircraftman's heiress wife was battered and strangled in a room not far from her.

The governess, Miss Elisabeth Black, testified under cross-examination she retired about 10:30 p.m. and closed the door to her room. She heard no noises, she said.

The witness earlier related how Marine Capt. Peter Elser broke in a door and discovered the naked body of Patricia Lonergan in an ornate mahogany and bronze bed. Elser had arrived at the fashionable East Side apartment late in the afternoon last October 24 after a telephone conversation with the victim's mother, Mrs. Lucille Burton, the witness said.

Miss Black said she and Mrs. Burton had been attempting to awaken Mrs. Lonergan, and that when Elser arrived, he partly broke down the bedroom door and removed it from the hinges.

"There's nobody here," Miss Black quoted the mbarine officer as saying. Then, she said, he saw the body, and ordered Miss Black to keep Mrs. Burton in the nursery.

Miss Black said she and Elser stayed in the room only "about two seconds," and that then Elser ran to the kitchen to telephone.

Patrolman John J. Casey, first witness of the day, said he was the first policeman to reach the house in response to a police radio alarm. He was met in the basement by Elser, he said, and accompanied to the master bedroom where the body was found.

The patrolman said he didn't make any investigation, but merely stood guard until other detectives and a medical examiner arrived.

Police have said that Elser and the slain heiress, mother, Mrs. William Burton, discovered the slaying after the Marine officer telephoned the apartment about a dinner engagement. Both were expected to testify later.

Atlantic Charter Must Be Clarified

Churchill Sidesteps Commitment Regarding Its Application

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Prime Minister Churchill is used to world-wide audiences, but keen attention will be paid his statement in Parliament that there will be renewed consultation between the principal allies on the application of the Atlantic charter.

Need of clarification of this historic Allied pledge to mankind long has been apparent. If proof of that were necessary we should find it in the adroit manner in which Mr. Churchill sidestepped any commitment regarding specific application of the document.

However, we don't need further proof than we've long had in the demands from many countries for enlightenment. Self-determination is the big issue.

I've already reported in this column how I was bombarded with anxious inquiries in the Middle East and Far East on my last trip abroad. Not only anxiety but fears exist both in the Orient and in the western world.

Mr. Churchill declined to be more specific than to say that "the Atlantic charter stands as a declaration of the spirit and purpose in which its signatories are waging this war—not without success—and that it implies no pact or bargain with our enemies." He left it to those new consultations among the "principal" Allies to deal with this pressing problem which is as full of explosive as a block-buster.

The further the war has progressed the more evident it has become that there will have to be some "adaptation" of the declaration of self-determination in certain cases. This means heart-burnings for some countries.

Only last week there was an attack on the Atlantic Charter in the British House of Commons on the grounds that "where it is not platitudinous" the declaration "contains principles highly dangerous to the British and Allied cause."

Prime Minister Churchill will address the people of Britain Sunday —his first broadcast since his winter illness.

The speech, to be delivered at 9 p.m. (4 p.m., E.D.T.), is awaited here as a possible key to the position which Britain may take on the multiple problems expected to come up for discussion at the forthcoming conferences in London between the U.S. Under-Secretary of State, Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., and Foreign Office officials.

There has been speculation abroad that these conferences might be followed by another meeting between Mr. Churchill and President Roosevelt.

The lone political hand which Russia has been playing lately in connection with Italian, French, Yugoslav and Polish affaairs has raised many questions in both Britain and America concerning the solidarity of the "Big Three" powers.

It has been an open secret in London for some time that the European Advisory Commission set up after the Moscow conference of foreign ministers is not getting the desired results in settling post-war problems and that some new form of collaboration is desirable.

Convict Careless Parents

Justice Says Animals Better With Young

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—Frank Jara, 25, and his wife, Julia, 23, were convicted yesterday of endangering the lives of their two infants by leaving them alone in a cold, damp flat for 12 hours.

Justices Irving Ben Cooper, William Stanley Miller and Alvah W. Hurlingame, sitting without jury, unanimously voted for conviction of the couple, and Justice Hurlingame declared from the bench:

"These people wouldn't do credit to an animal. At least an animal would be more faithful and more careful."

The jurists ordered the couple taken to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation pending imposition of sentence March 29. Conviction carries a maximum sentence of three years each in a state prison.

Patrolman Jacob Szwedowski testifed that when he was summoned to the Jara flat by a building superintendent last Jan. 4 he found two-year-old Frances Jara in a crib with little clothing on her, and nine-months-old Frank tied to a couch, with swollen and discolored ankles, and wearing only a diaper.

Fliers Spent Seven Days On Ice Floe

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 23.—(CP).—The icebreaker Sorel arrived here to-day carrying the three occupants of a Quebec Airways plane who spent a week on a drifting ice-floe before being rescued.

There was no immediate word on the condition of the three men, who have spent the last two days recuperating on the Sorel after the icebreaker crashed to the side of the floe on which they had drifted for seven days.

Their plane had been forced down on a routine flight to Herrington Harbor, Que., on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, and made a successful landing on the slowly-drifting floe. They were located from the air the following day and food and supplies dropped to them but then the weather closed in and contact was lost for several days.

Freight and mail aboard the plane was salvaged but the aircraft itself, a Norseman, had to be abandoned on the floe.

The plane was in charge of D. A. Duval of East Kildonan, Man., with A. A. Ferguson of Seven Islands, Que., as crew member and L. Vigneault of Cap Whittle Que., as passenger.

Huns Tighten Grip On Balkan Area

Airborne Troops Seize All Bulgarian Railways

By ERNEST AGNEW
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, March 23 — (AP). — Adolf Hitler was reported tightening his grip on every south-eastern European satellite to-day after installing a puppet regime in Hungary, a step that Berlin propagandists sought to justify as counteracting Allied "intrigues" and "the Bolshevist menace."

In the first official Nazi announcement since German armed forces crossed Hungary's border early on Monday, the Berlin radio said yesterday a new government had been formed in Budapest under a Quisling premier and a German Gauleiter.

The fate of Hungary was an example for countries failing to fall in line as Hitler strove to build up an Eastern wall of defence against the fast-moving Russians.

Dispatches from neutral capitals continued to refer to Bulgaria and Rumania as possibly next on Hitler's list for full military occupation and added another—Slovakia, created from the carved-up state of Czecho-Slovakia.

Take Red Embassy.

A Daily Mail dispatch from Madrid said German airborne troops were seizing Bulgaria's railways and communications systems, and had detained the Soviet Ambassador, and occupied the embassy at Sofia. Bulgaria and Russia have remained at peace although on opposite sides in the world conflict.

Most informed quarters in London viewed Rumania as too weak to be other than docile, particularly since the advancing Russians are knocking against her Prut river border. London dispatches from Ankara quoted rumors there that Hitler had promised Premier Ion Antonescu immediate return of Transylvania from Hungary as one inducement for full collaboration.

Japan's Fleet Being Reduced

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC, March 23 — (AP). — Leapfrog landings in the Bismarck Archipelago and the steady attrition of Japan's merchant fleet, vital to the supply of her scattered diluted Pacific garrisons, are underscoring General Douglas MacArthur's "cut them off and let them starve" strategy of how to fight Japan.

Since January 1, 227 Japanese cargo ships have been sunk in the Central and South-west Pacific, aside from nearly 600 barges, many of them loaded with troops and supplies. These ships were links in the lifeline to scattered defence outposts.

The hunting has been particularly good off the north-west coast of New Guinea lately. Last week-end an entire five-ships enemy convoy was sunk between Hollandia and Wewak, and Gen. MacArthur, Allied South-west Pacific commander, announced to-day that Allied bombers sank a Japanese destroyer and two small merchantmen in that same general area.

Under MacArthur's strategy of by-passing certain enemy strong-points to cut off their supply lines, thousands of Nipponese troops are facing starvation in the Solomons, on New Britain and New Ireland. The same ma be in store for those The same may be in store for those have I been informed of any such charge or complaint."

"I would draw your attention to the fact that I have been on the police force for 38 years, 24 of which I have held the position of chief constable, during which time the city of Peterborough has enjoyed an eviable reputation because of its freedom from major crimes. I believe my services should be recognized by the granting of a suitable retiring allowance.".

"I wish to express my appreciation of the loyal support accorded me by the citizens and council of the city of Peterborough and last but not least by the members of the police force whom I believe command the respect of all law-abiding citizens."

Resignation Accepted

Judge Smoke moved, seconded by Mayor Hamilton that the resignation of the Chief Constable should be accepted and that he be granted leave of absence for two months from April 1 with pay.

On motion of Mayor Hamilton and Magistrate E. A. Gee a resolution was passed to the effect that the board, having accepted a resignation of Chief Newhall, recommended to the city council that in view of the faithful and meritorious services of the chief as an officer of the municipality he should be paid a retiring allowance of $1,300 a year for six years, payable semi-monthly. The resolution was carried.

Judge Smoke immediately moved, seconded by Mayor Hamilton that Sergt. John Thompson be appointed acting chief constable, from April 1 at a salary of $2,500 a year.

Sergt. Thompson was called before the board and Judge Smoke informed him of his appointment pointing out that it was temporary in nature until a permanent appointment could be made but giving him a free hand to run the department as he saw fit and assuring him of the backing of the commission. "It might not be necessary to make another appointment" the chairman said "if things work out satisfactorily."

The commission accepted the resignation of Officer Archie Menzies and on motion of Mayor Hamilton and Magistrate Gee a letter will be sent to the former officer expressing appreciation of his services.

A telegram from Sergt. W. A. Clarke who has been on leave of absence from the force stating that he expected to be discharged from the Canadian Army on April 1 was read and on motion the former constable will return to the payroll as a first class constable as soon as he arrives.

Fighters from the United States 8th and 9th air forces flew as escorts, and "circled Berlin for a considerable period" daring the Germans to come up and fight, the communique said.

On the homeward journey, the fighters shot up airdromes, railway transport and other targets in Germany and enemy vessels along the coast. One enemy bomber was destroyed as it tried to get into the air.

Send Warning

A Stockholm dispatch from the London Daily Herald said the American bomber fleet had flashed a radio warning while en route that it was coming to Berlin.

The dispatch said that every few minutes during the hour before the bombers and fighters appeared over the capital they sent this warning: "We are coming. Our targets will be in the northern and western (northwestern) districts of Berlin. Evacuate those districts at once."

German raiders returned to London last night in a minor attack while Britons still were cleaning up the debris left by more than 100 planes on the previous night. Some bombs were dropped last night, but there were no injuries.

Police Uncover Thirty Murders

MADRID March 23.—(AP).—Paris dispatches said to-day that an investigation of the deaths of from nine to 30 persons in a villa of a Paris suburb had disclosed a ring organized to prey on wealthy Partisans attempting to flee to Allied territory.

Four men have been arrested, the dispatches said, one of them identified as the head of an underground "travel agency" whose main business was robbing its wealthy clients.

The dispatches said also that 14 bodies now had been discovered in the villa and that police records revealed a number of unidentified bodies had been found buried near the villa in 1942 and 1943.

There was no official confirmation of reports in Paris last night that a doctor described as the owner of the villa has been arrested.

Hawkesbury Home Destroyed By Fire

HAWKESBURY, March 23—(CP)—A seven-year-old child was burned to death and her mother gravely burned early today when fire destroyed their home in this town near the Quebec border.

Dead is Rachel Villeneuve while her mother, Mrs. Wilfrid Villeneuve, wife of a town constable, is in hospital undergoing treatment for burns suffered while rescuing her six other children from the house, burned while Br. Villeneuve was at work.

Mrs. Villeneuve collapsed outside after leading six children, dressed in their night-clothing, from the frame building.

Cause of the fire was not known.

Train Smashes Truck Three Men Killed

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 23—(CP)—Three Niagara Falls men were killed instantly when the Canadian National Railways express truck in which they were riding was struck by a Michigan Central Railway passenger train at a level crossing on the outskirts of the city.

Dead are: Charles E. Orr, 44, driver of the truck; George MacCoubrey, district supervisor of the electrical department of the C.N.R.; Irwin R. Walton, 25, an electrician.

MacCoubrey and Walton were riding to Fort Erie with Corr who was delivering express from Niagara Falls. They were going to the C.N.R. roundhouse on inspection work.

Bus Companies Present Federal Brief

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 23—(CP).—The Dominion Motor Coach Association, in a brief presented to the Commons reconstruction committee today, said that spokesmen for railways and railway unions had suggested highway transportation be handed over to the railways to "co-ordinate," but that "without highways the locomotive would be a museum piece."

"Spokesmen for the railways and the railway labor unions have appeared before this committee, voicing fallacies which have been over and over again exposed, and openly advocating that highway transportation should be handed over to the railways to 'co-ordinate' according to their tender mercies, instead of in the interests of the public," said the brief.

The brief said that suggestions made by railway labor brotherhoods meant taxing and handicapping highway transportation in the interests of the railways, not the public. If the taxation suggestions were adopted, every motor coach and bus in Ontario would be put out of business.

Everywhere in developed Canada the motor coach had become essential to the business and social life of communities, and the cessation of such services would isolate many communities, and deprive children of their access to schools.

Any suggestion that the railroad and motor coach were competitive, except to a negligible degree, was untenable. Local passenger business, such as that conducted by buses, always had meant a loss to railways.

The brief said that in spite of wartime difficulties, the bus transportation systems had been able to maintain reasonable service. The war had shown the importance to the national economy of a transportation instrument so flexible and adaptable as the motor coach. Its service had been indispensable in transportation to armed services' camps and war industries.

Plan Popular.

"A competent authornty estimates that motor coach passengers in Canada have increased from 33,500,000 before the war to 52,600,000 last year—figures which speak for themselves," the brief continued.

The highway construction after the war will mean the opening up of new areas for development and colonization, the location of new industries and the establishment of new communities. In most cases the only method of furnishing transportation to such areas will be by highway or air carriers.

The brief said it was unlikely there would be many more lengthy steam railway extensions built in Canada.

Discuss Helicopters.

The Association said it had followed with care the development of the Helicopter, and believed the full facts of its progress had been kept from the public because of wartime secrecy. But enough was known to show it was a developed instrument ready for use in public transportation. The war had drawn heavily on staffs, especially for the R.C.A.F., and in the post-war period the industry would have many trained airmen and ground crews "completely equipped" to take charge of Helicopters.

Completely complementary and that the public would be best served by the recognition of this fact," said the brief.

Answering claims it said had been made by spokesmen for the railways, the brief set forth that employees of the motor coach industry enjoy good wages and working conditions, ensured in the case of all larger operators by collective bargaining. Motor coach operators maintained schedules and strict provincial regulations had to be observed.

Member Warns Game Fish Near Depletion

TORONTO, March 23.—(CP). — W. L. Miller (L.-Algoma-Manitoulin) Wednesday told the Fish and Game committee of the Ontario Legislature that "we are living in a fool's paradise as regards to game and fish." He urged greater conservation of game and fish and a virtual ban on tourists taking fish back to the United States.

A former chairman of the committee, Mr. Miller said that despite re-stocking of lakes there has been no appreciable increase in the number of fish and said: "We will never keep up with depletion if this 'export' keeps up after the war when American tourists will come in by the thousands."

He was supported by A. A. Casselman (C.C.F.-Nipissing).

The committee approved amendments to the Game and Fisheries Act which will come before the Legislature and heard a protest from J. L. McDonald (P.C.-Stormont) about the difference in bass fishing open seasons in Ontario, Quebec and New York along the St. Lawrence river.

J. D. Taylor, Deputy Miister, said Quebec is co-operating with Ontario on St. Lawrence river fishing dates.

Game and Fisheries Minister Dunbar said if New York State would not change its bass fishing dates to coincide with those of Ontario along the St. Lawrence, he would agree to the Province revising its dates so that they would be the same. New York's opening date for bass fishing now is June 16 and Ontario's July 1.

BELFAST, March 23.—(CP-Reuters).—Imprisoned members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army today ended in its 30th day of their "fast unto death," started in protest against official refusal to treat them as political instead of ordinary prisoners.

One of the last of the 35 to give in and finally accept nourishment was the youthful self-styled leader, Hugh McAteer, for whom police searched many months before overtaking him. Others had been giving in gradually, and it was only McAteer and two of his followers who were taken to hospital when their condition became serious.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

"Best Remedy I Know Of For Gas, Indigestion"

This Man Praises Syntona For Giving Him Relief After Four Years of Stomach Troubles. Also Rid of Pains in Limbs and Nervousness. "Feel Better Every Way."

MR. EDWARD JOHNSTON

"I am really grateful for the benefits I got by taking a few bottles of Syntona, and I will be glad to have others know how much it has helped me," said Mr. Edward Johnston, 176 Dundas Street, London, Ontario, in a recent interview:

"In the past 4 years my stomach kept me in misery almost from one meal to the next. The food I ate just seemed to turn to gas and sour acidity. I was bloated and always belching up hot, sour liquid. At times I felt awful dizzy and my nerves got so bad I couldn't get my proper sleep at night. To make things worse, I developed rheumatic pains in my legs. Many days I felt so sore and lame I had trouble getting around.

"I had tried so many things without getting relief that I was discouraged with everything, but when a friend told me about Syntona, I decided to try it. Frankly I was surprised with the difference that I noticed in only a few days. My stomach was feeling so much better that I got some more and continued taking it. To-day I eat good meals and have no distressing pains afterwards. Gas sourness and bloating do not trouble me. I haven't had any dizziness since and my nerves are calmed down, so I am getting restful sleep at night. Then, too, the pains have disappeared from my legs and I feel better and more energetic than I have in a long time.

"Now I can say Syntona is the best remedy I know of for troubles like mine and I think everyone suffering like this should know about it."

Let this pure Herbal Tonic help you as it has hundreds of other local men and women. Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. —(Advt.)

U.S. Casualties Total 165,061

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP).—Casualties of the United States armed forces since the outbreak of the war total 165,061, the Office of War Information reported Wednesday on the basis of figures most recently available from the War and Navy Departments.

The dead number 38,846; wounded, 58,964; missing, 35,521; prisoners of war, 31,730.

Among the prisoners of war, 1,894 have died in prison camps, mostly in Japanese-occupied territory.

The War Department report, as of Feb. 29, shows army casualties as 123,054. Of this number, 21,014 were killed; 48,260 wounded; 26,464 missing, and 27,316 are prisoners of war.

Among the wounded, 25,688 either have returned to duty or have been relased from hospitals.

The combined Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard report shows casualties whose next-of-kin have been notified, total 42,007. Of these, 17,832 have been killed, 10,704 wounded, 9,056 missing, and 4,414 are prisoners.

Aviation's Future Subject Of Address

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23 — (ENS).—The role of post-war aviation and the part the small Canadian communities may play in it will be the subject of an interesting discussion that will take place in the Warkworth Town Hall next Wednesday afternoon at 2.30.

The meeting represents one of the initial activities of the post-war planning committee set up by the Counties Council at their January session. The speaker, a man well qualified to discuss the future role of aviation is C. R. Patterson, Toronto, president of the Aeronautical Institute of Canada, who envisions an air field for every community of 1,000 or more. He sees private flying and a taxi service by air between the small communities as an answer to the post-war aviation question.

Members of the Counties Post-War Planning Committee feel that much valuable information on the subject will be gained at the meeting and they hope that each municipality will send a strong delegation.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN WALLACE

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 23 (ENS)—Friends from over a wide area joined in paying final tribute to one of this town's highly esteemed citizens, Mrs. John S. Wallace, who was laid to rest here Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Wallace passed away at her home on Rear street on Monday evening following a brief illness. Born ') Seymour township, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and spent most of her life in Seymour East. Following her marriage to John S. Wallace in 1901 the couple operated a farm until 1923, when they moved to Campbellford. During the years she lived here Mrs. Wallace was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and took an active part in the work of the Ladies' Aid.

There survive besides her sorrowing husband, one daughter, Jean, at home and one sister, Mrs. R. W. Maxwell of New York City.

The funeral service was conducted from the residence by Rev. J. O. Ralston and interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery. Pall bearers were: Frank Little, William Haig, Robert Maybee, Alex Macdonald, R. N. Morrison, Peter White.

$9,000 For Red Cross

COBOURG, March 22.—(ENS).—Collections in the Red Cross campaign have reached a total of $9,000 and a further $1,000 will enable Cobourg and Hamilton township to reach the objective. Both Cobourg and the township are over the amount donated last year.

Homuth Objects To Closed Doors

OTTAWA, March 23. — (CP).—Karl Homuth (P.C.-Waterloo South) Wednesday made public copies of correspondence with Speaker J. A. Glen on the right of the Commons War Expenditures committee to hold its meetings in secret and said in an accompanying statement that it appeared the government "is steadily moving toward a completely autocratic aind dictatorial type of administration."

Progressive Conservative members of the committee previously had asked that committee meetings be opened to the public except in cases where public security was at stake. This proposal was voted down, and the Progressive Conservatives then said the committee lacked the power to say it could sit in secret.

Hughes Cleaver (L.-Halton), chairman, ruled that the committee could decide whether its meetings would be open or closed, and Mr. Homuth gave notice that he would appeal this ruling to Speaker Glen in the House.

In his statement Mr. Homuth said he was "thoroughly disgusted" with the "growing practice" of the Liberal majority in the House and its committees "of invoking the exigencies of war to cover up information to which the public is justly entitled."

Tabernacle YPU Plans For Pancake Social

CAMPBELLFORD, March 23. — (ENS).—The Citizenship convener, Earl Godden, was in charge of the program at the weekly meeting of Tabernacle Y.P.U. on Tuesday evening when the topic "The Kind of World I Would Like to Live In," was presented by Mrs. Alex Stephens.

Mr. Clarence Stephens, who has been absent from the past three meetings owing to illness, was welcomed back by members. Musical numbers on the program included a piano solo by Miss Gladys Stephens and a mouth organ selection by Mr. Robert Darrah. Members voiced enthusiasm for a proposal to sponsor a pancake social within the next two weeks. It was revealed that in the attendance contest being staged between the groups headed by Gerald Mitchell and Mrs. Alex Stephens, the former group was at present in the lead. The losers of the contest will entertain the winners at a social evening when the present season ends.

Willing Workers Finish Two Quilts

NORWOOD, Nov. 23 — (ENS) — Miss Marion Cuthbertson was hostess to the Willing Worker's Group for the March meeting held Monday evening with eight members present. President Janet Giffen opened the meeting with the singing of "Keep the Home Fires Burning" followed by the group motto. The treasurer reported a balance of $45 in the bank.

The girls handed in two children's dresses, three pairs of pyjamas, 40 quilt block, several knitted blocks for an afghan, one knitted baby jacket and booties. Two quilts and an afghan were finished by the leaders assisted by two ladies.

Games, candy and cookies were enjoyed.

Playgrounds For Peterborough

It is gratifying to see that the necessity for playgrounds in this city has been forcibly put before the Council by the Ministerial Association, and that the Council has gone so far as to ask Alderman Curtis to see what can be done in the matter. We sincerely hope that this project will be pursued until playgrounds are actually established under competent supervision. The necessity is great, and it has been pointed out many times before by the Children's Aid Society and by this newspaper. But it always seems to take a disproportionate amount of prodding to get anything done in these matters; the Council is genuinely and helpfully interested in all projects which are designed to make Peterborough a better place to live in, but it is slow to move.

Playgrounds are needed because many children have nowhere to play except in the road, or in a cramped yard where all but the most elementary games are impossible. They need good open spaces where they can play healthy and lively games freely, and where a few swings and slides, and a few balls and bats are available for them to play with. Such playgrounds need intelligent supervision, in order that timid or small children may not be driven away by larger or bolder ones, and so that children may be taught to play if they need instruction. The supervisor's job is not merely to explain the rules of the game; it is to explain some of the rules of decent living as well. Many children have to be taught what fair play is; either they have not learned that lesson at home, or they have chosen to disregard it; they are the ones who need the playgrounds most. Alderman Dutton remarked that playgrounds would "return dividends in better lives"; that is an extremely important consideration.

The Ministerial Association, in putting its case before the Council, mentioned its success in conducting a Vacation School last year; a feature of that school was a period of religious instruction which was chiefly in the form of telling Bible stories. This prompts us to enquire whether there is a possibility that another story time might be set aside, either in the Vacation School or at the proposed public playgrounds, for telling stories which every child ought to know. In a number of cities in the U.S. the public libraries attend to this work, and at certain times of day a story-teller goes to the playground, and tells two stories, one for small children and one for larger children; the success of these story-periods has been phenomenal. Children who would not otherwise be brought in contact with folk-tales, fairy tales, Arabian Nights tales and all the great wealth of children's stories hear them at the public playgrounds, and new worlds are opened up to them. It might be possible to make an arrangement with the public library here to take on this work. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that we should provide for the minds of children as well as their bodies, and the Vacation School has taken the lead in this matter; we should not be slow to follow.

Wardens In Robes

We are interested to learn that the Warden of Waterloo County wears a fine silk robe and carries a three-cornered hat while the County Council is in session. We think that this is a good idea, and is fully in keeping with the excellent county government which flourishes in Waterloo. We do not mean, of course, that good government is the result of the robes; we do mean, however, that the robes are the result of a high conception of the duties and dignity of the county government.

Outward show has a strong influence on inward feelings. The dignity and weight of our legal proceedings in Canada is greatly helped by the robes of the lawyers and court officials, and the costly and impressive habiliments of the judge who presides; shirt-sleeve courts have a tendency to dispense shirt-sleeve justice. Our Parliament, even in war, opens with notable ceremony. Many Canadian cities provide their mayors with chains and other badges of office. And the reason for all these things is that they impress men who hold office with the serious and responsible nature of their duties. We should not despise the use of such symbols; they exercise a profound and salutary influence, and have done since the dawn of history.

Canadian High Command

It is now possible to form a coherent idea of the Canadian Army high command which will take our troops into the impending assault on Europe from the west. Lt.-Gen. Henry D. G. Crerar of Hamilton succeeds Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton as commander of the First Canadian Army, and so far as it is possible for a layman to judge of these matters, he is an excellent choice for the job. He has held almost every post of consequence in the Canadian Army, and he is a well-liked, stern and vigorous commander. He is highly esteemed by General Sir Bernard Montgomery, who knows a good soldier when he sees one and who, as commander of the British invasion forces, will be General Crerar's immediate superior. General Crerar has been in Italy, but it is expected that he will return to England shortly.

Major-General E. L. M. Burns, of Westmount, has been raised to the rank of a lieutenant-general, and he will go to Italy to command the 1st Canadian Corps there. The 2nd Canadian Corps, which is now in England, will be commanded by Lieut.-Gen. Guy Simonds of Kingston.

It is not clear as yet just how the Canadian forces will be made up, and what men General Crerar will have under him. Will the 1st Canadian Corps be brought back from Italy in order that a two-corps Canadian army may go into action in the west, or will the second corps of the Canadian invasion army be made up of United Nations troops under Canadian command? The Canadian policy has been stated many times: our troops will serve where and as they are needed. It is unlikely, therefore, that any information on this matter will be forthcoming for some time.

Prophets—Major And Minor

Two prophets have predicted the end of the war this year; they are Max Werner and Henry Ford. Mr. Werner is a major prophet, and his predictions about the war have been reasonably good since its beginning — good enough, anyway, to earn him a respectful hearing. Mr. Ford is a minor prophet, whose predictions about almost everything except the motor trade have been hopelessly wrong for many years; Mr. Ford made a well-intentioned but ill-considered move to end the last war with his peace ship, it will be remembered; in this war he has done rather better work by producing airplanes.

Some people may think that Mr. Werner's customary rightness and Mr. Ford's customary wrongness cancel each other, and that between them we are just where we were before they spoke. It may be so.

But if the war does end this year it will probably be because of some unpredictable calamity which overtakes the Germans. In 1918 they showed no signs of defeat until their war machine suddenly collapsed for reasons which even yet are not fully understood. It might happen again, but it would be the greatest folly to count on it. Our best information at present is that the Germans are in good fighting trim, and that their reverses have merely strengthened their determination to win. Germany is strong both in the military and the political spheres and has not shown the slightest sign of cracking. Germany is hard pressed, certainly, but not nearly as hard pressed as Britain was in 1940, and Britain never thought of defeat.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Henry Ford says that the war will end in two months. Sending over another peace ship, Henry?

As usual, that story has cropped up that St. Patrick was a Scotsman. But according to us, and to the Encyclopaedia Britannica he was a Welshman.

In the U.S.A. they are again debating the wisdom of swapping horses in the middle of a stream; a complicating factor is that one of the horses is now 12 years old.

It was Shelley, you will recall, who asked—

O Wind,
If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind?

The answer, Percy, is Yes.

Recently an M.P. asked a question in the House, and the time and research involved in answering it cost the country $2,180. This seems a great deal, when Eve learned the most important secret in the world without a single cash payment.

Canadian Scene

By DUAHCIM

(The sixth in a series of letters from a father to a son in the armed services)

Cedar Hill, March -th, 1944.

DEAR John: La famille Grosilliers, of Cedar Hill, of which you are a much esteemed and honoured member, is today in better spirit. We have your letters, my boy, and thank you. Each of us now, in characteristic fashion, is celebrating an end to tedious waiting. Your mother is softly humming a little song as she moves about the room, her letter peeping from a pocket; your brother Peter and your sister Sara are noisily comparing notes on theirs, in brash defiance of my plaintive pleas for quiet and solitude; and I sit here in placid mood at my old scarred desk, the stern arena of many a long and laboured, yet happy, battle in my permanent war on the unruly word.

We are relieved, my son, that nothing more serious than the to be expected exigencies of your training had made impossible the usual mailing of your letters. I gather from the contents of these we have now received that you have not had opportunity to read the several we have addressed to you during the past six weeks or more. By this time, however, most of them have been delivered, I think. You have received, too, the cable telling of the passing of your Grandfather. My last letter was written following its despatch and advised more fully of our sense of loss.

I MADE this afternoon a pilgrimage to where he lies among the cedars of the little churchyard. A softblanket of snow covered the mound. I did not approach from where I halted at the edge of the little clearing which is of our family of Groselliers. I was not fitting that this soft white bosom of Mother Earth should suffer the desecration of a nearer approach. I stood for a long time in close communion with my father who is gone and made again farewell. I shall not soon again intrude upon his privacy. In the tranquil dignity of his surroundings may he rest in peace. To his memory we can make no finer tribute than to live our lives in useful fullness and thus contribute in good measure to a common heritage for all.

As I pause in contemplation I note that all the family Grosellier is now quietly busy writing. There is no point in repetition of what their more facile minds describe so much more lucidly. But a little secret which I have not before divulged I give into your keeping. The little stream which laughs its merry way around the base of Cedar Hill, and is slowed and widened at the old mill your Grandfather built, is heavily stocked with trout awaiting your return. Five years ago, with your Grandfather as a co-conspirator and advisor, this stocking of the stream was undertaken. I now close this first portion of the present writing that you may consider the possibilities.

AND now, leaving to the others of our family the domestic issues of Cedar Hill, let us proceed with our abstract study of the Canadian scene. The important subject of Capital and Labour, and their relations to each other in this country of free men, has not as yet received attention. Abraham Lincoln wrote: "Who and what is Labour? You are Labour if you work for a living. You till the soil, you mine the coal. You write the books and you spin the yarn. You invent cunning machines, you serve and sell across counters, and you build the dwellings of men the world over. Inasmuch as most good things are produced by Labour, it follows that all such things of right belong to those whose Labour has produced them." As a definition of Labour that is as true today as when written many years ago. The First Christian had something to say about Labour: "The labourer is worthy of his hire." We have in this a divine recognition of the right of Labour to a fair return on his investment of toil.

The Great Emacipator might have defined Labour as consisting of all those who lend their efforts to furthering the designs of other men. He might have said with right and reason that Labour is entitled to its reward on a basis of equitable return on the combined investment of Labour's brawn and Capital's power.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN wrote: "Labour is prior to and independent of Capital. Capital is only the fruit of Labour and could never have existed if Labour had not first existed." I find myself in disagreement here. I see each one as so thoroughly dependent on the other, that they cannot live as separate quantities. One cannot suffer illness without visiting its misfortune on the other. And should the illness result in the death of one, extinction is invariably the portion of the other. I cannot see that "Labour is prior to and independent of Capital." No more than I can consider Capital as prior to and independent of Labour. To achieve a successful prosperity for either they must, perforce, live together, strive together, profit or lose together, that they may not, in wretched ignominy, die together.

IT IS a sad and doleful commentary on the nature of mankind that it chooses in many instances to ignore a truth. Capital as represented by an individual or a corporation at times inflicts upon its other self, Labour, conditions not befitting the dignity of man. And Labour sometimes is at fault in similar fashion. It must be recognized by both that, should they wish to live together— and to exist they must— it is imperative that they regard their mutual problems in the light of common interest.

It can be rightly reasoned that where Capital fails to attain a measure of prosperity, Labour certainly cannot benefit from its failure. And where Labour by a show of strength achieves a greater victory than is possible to consolidate, it is indeed a hollow triumph.

There is a middle ground where Labour and Capital must meet in understanding. And in the terms agreed upon there must exist an honesty of human purpose that will forge for Capital and Labour a binding link of friendly feeling for each other.

A BUSINESS or an industry serves a useful purpose, and is essential to the economy of our country, when it prospers to an extent which makes it possible to reward its servants in a manner making possible the happiness of these people. Should an industry fail to accomplish this desired end, it no longer is an asset and its termination should be swift. There are conditions which arise that make it necessary to prolong its life. The national economy might be adversely affected by a discontinuation of some enterprise that has ceased to pay its way. While the thought of industry subsidized is disagreeable indeed, where necessity demands it there is no other course. It is the business of our government to decide the issue; that is a responsibility we, as citizens of this nation, entrusted to its care. Certainly an industry which is unable to continue the assumption of its duties to its mutual owners, Capital and Labour, should be treated as a patient very seriously ill.

And so, son John, I end this dissertation. I cannot claim a deep learning on the subject here discussed, but I believe my understanding of the situation, as I have described it, is a fairly accurate guide to follow in your thinking.

Until next writing then, adieux and good fortune.

YOUR FATHER.

The Buffalo's Romantic Return

(KITCHENER RECORD)

CANADA'S revived buffalo, the descendants of those vast hordes of the majestic animal which formerly roamed the prairies of the Middle West, have once more paid their annual tribute in the interests of their own health and survival. A short time ago 600 were slaughtered by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to serve as meat. The hides will be used to make winter uniform coats.

The buffalo, or American bison, once ranged wild in immense herds over the grasslands of the interior of North America and through the more open parts of the adjoining forest regions. For the Plains Indian it provided food, clothing, shelter and even fuel. The relationship, however, was a balanced one, as the primitive economy and simple weapons of the hunter made no greater demands on the herds than their annual increase could supply. This balance was upset with the coming of the white man, with his superior firearms and his links with far distant markets. An era of destruction on a vast scale started, some individual hunters killing as many as from 1,000 to 3,000 in a single season. By the turn of the century, it is said, there was not a single buffalo roaming the plains of this country in a wild state, though there were a few of a sub-species, known as the wood buffalo, in the Great Slave district and the Peace River valley.

At about the same time, a considerable herd, accumulated since 1873 and owned by two Montana ranchmen, was threatened with dispersion or destruction. In 1906 the Dominion Government stepped in, therefore, with an offer to purchase these buffalo and by 1912, as the result of a round-up, more than 600 head were brought North and herded, first of all in Elk Island National Park at Wainwright, Alta. There the rapid growth of the herd and consequent overgrazing, to which the elk, deer and moose likewise contributed, made an annual pruning necessary. A certain number of aged animals are slaughtered, while some others are turned loose among their cousins, the wood buffalo in the Northwest, with whom they are reported to mix well. Thus plentiful grazing facilities are assured and the general vigor of the herd preserved."

Mr. Bracken And Success

(VANCOUVER NEWS-HERALD)

THE Daily Province is pleased to argue that the Liberal critics of Mr. Bracken are not in the least perturbed by the Progressive-Conservative leader's absence from Parliament, but merely by his "success" in the political field.

Exactly what success Mr. Bracken has had, the Province does not specify. The only concrete testimony to that success is that the Liberals do criticize him.

But the Province is much too well informed on political affairs for its denials of that criticism to be anything but wilfully obtuse. The Province knows very well that the Leader of the Opposition has a definite and well-defined place in Parliamentary government on the British system, and that Mr. Bracken is deliberately avoiding the responsibilities of that place.

Parliamentary government is chiefly a matter of usage and tradition, and it is traditional that the leader of the opposition shall hold his seat in Parliament and shall lead his party.

It is his duty to uphold the policies of his party, and to uphold them in the face of experienced criticism from the government supporters, just as the government upholds its policies in the face of opposition criticism. It is his to face the grilling test of parliamentary debate, and to demonstrate his ability in the mechanics of government in a democratic legislature.

If Mr. Bracken chooses to avoid this duty and these tests, if he chooses to criticize the government where the government has no chance to rebut his criticisms; if he chooses to make accusations in a field where the government cannot call his accuracy to account; if he chooses to unfold the gossamer webs of his policies where no blighting breath of informed criticism can fall upon them in turn, he is breaking with tradition and usage, and must take the responsibility for doing so.

If he refuses to take his proper place in the assembly which is charged with the duty of governing Canada (and the Leader of the Opposition takes an important share in that governing) that is his privilege. If he leaves in his stead a substitute who arrogates to himself all the privileges of a Leader of the Opposition, but repudiates all the concurrent responsibilities, that is also his privilege. But it is also the privilege of the other parties to criticize him for doing so.

They are not, as the Province suggests, condemning Mr. Bracken for "carrying his case directly to the people of Canada," but for failing to carry it to the place where the people of Canada have determined their representatives shall examine into and debate such matters. They are not "weeping crocodile tears" over the fate of the Progressive-Conservative party, but exhibiting a real concern over the campaign Mr. Bracken is waging against the practice and tradition of responsible, representative government. And they are quite right in doing so.

Not Bad At All

We were going to write a piece about slow progress of the Allied campaign in Italy. Then we glanced at the Washington dispatches and found Secretary of War Stimson had beaten us to the punch.

According to Mr. Stimson, American and British troops in Italy already have achieved "broad strategical purposes," as follows:

1. Opening of the Mediterranean to Allied shipping.
2. Knocking Italy out of the war as an Axis partner.
3. Seizure of air bases in southern Italy.
4. Allied control of a large part of the Adriatic.
5. Indirect help to the Soviet winter campaign by pinning down 19 German divisions on the Italian front, and
6. Inflicting casualties on the German forces substantially in excess of Allied casualties.

Mr. Stimson didn't say that the Allies have done everything they went into Italy to do. He conceded that rain, snow and mud have slowed up not only our ground forces but also our aircraft. In view of all the circumstances, however, it is not a bad record—not bad at all.

So we guess we won't write that piece about slow progress of the Allied campaign in Italy.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

Psychology and Cycling

Penelope, a pretty girl who dashes about in uniform on a motorcycle in the service of the Crown, has had an experience which strikingly illustrates the difference in the psychology of the British and the American soldier. Whirling through a village at dusk, she encountered an obstruction which sent her over her handlebars and spun the motorcycle clattering into the gutter. Two soldiers yarning on the footpath sprang into action. One, an American, gallantly helped her to her feet, brushed her with his cap, and said, "I sure hope you're not hurt ma'am!" The other, a true-born Englishman, hurled himself on the motorcycle almost before it had ceased to rattle, examined it carefully, made a slight adjustment, and handed it to Penelope before she had regained her breath, remarking, "Women! Ah, well! Here y'are, lady; it's all right now—get on with it!"—Manchester Guardian.

A Bible Message

The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.... And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables? He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given....

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou that we go and gather them up? But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together unto the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (Matt. 13: 1, 2, 10, 11, 24-30.)

"English Perfidy" Forsooth!

The following story was told at a recent London gathering by Lieutenant Jan Petri of The Netherlands Air Force, according to The Netherlands News Digest:

"The Germans used to come in regularly on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays to lay mines in British waters, but we would come as regularly on Tuesday, Thursdays, and Saturdays, to sweep up the mines. Both sides seemed to keep their appointed days for a long time. But one Tuesday we did not go out to sweep. On Wednesday the Germans came in again to sew their mines....but they blew themselves up on their Monday sowings."

The lieutenant added that when survivors of the Germna ships were picked up they were highly indignant and stated that this was a "fresh example of English perfidy."

The Winnipeg Tribune points out the moral: Nazis inside Germany will soon be given other unpleasant surprises of the same kind which will not only make them highly indignant but lose the war as well.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Granite Not Grapes

It is illuminating to learn that probably the biggest export trade between Guernsey and Occupied France consists now not of grapes, but of granite. Quarries in the island are being worked feverishly by imported slave labour in order to provide material for Hitler's European defence wall. The island, as holiday-makers well know, had miles upon miles of glasshouses mainly devoted to the cultivation of grapes, tomatoes and early cucumbers, which found a ready sale on the London market. Even German ingenuity has found it difficult to divert this huge industry to other purposes. Curiously enough the Germans do not seem to have interfered seriously with the island's famous breed of Guernsey cattle. Ultimately, no doubt, they hope to send the herds to Germany. When that hope dies it will cause no surprise if many thousands are sent to slaughter to supplement Germany's food supplies—Nottingham Post.

Frank Sinatra

Mr. Sinatra is neither tall nor short. He is neither handsome nor displeasing. By the same token, he sings neither well nor badly. In appearance he has nothing to distinguish him from millions of young Americans except perhaps a certain hollowness of cheek that the Sinatrese find fascinating. His speaking voice is that of a sketchily educated native of New York City (actually he comes from the neighbouring State of New Jersey), being without charm or cultivatoin. He is thin, with none of the conventional attributes of a Don Juan. There is nothing about him that reminds one even remotely of such a stock fascinator as Clark Gable.

It is meaningless to say that Mr. Sinatra is popular. The children who ecstatically wriggle and orgiastically scream whenever "Frankie" transfixes them with his pleading vocal ululations are now quite literally religious maniacs. Their conduct is not that of an enthusiastic audience; it more nearly resembles the dancing crowds or processions of flagellants of the Middle Ages.—Clifton Fadiman in Transatlantic.

Detroit Team Fumbles 8 In Ball Game

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)—Maybe it isn't a true forecast of what war-riddled baseball will be like in 1944—but the Detroit Tiger regulars made nine errors in booting away their first intrasquad game yesterday to the Yannigans, 8-3.

Alleviating Skipper Steve O'Neill's worries to some extent, however, was the discovery of a bit of unexpected pitching talent as 24-year-old Wandel Mosser, a southpaw from Point Pleasant, Va., yielded a lone hit, fanned six and allowed no runs in three innings.

It appears St. Louis Browns might be going after some kind of a record. Manager Luke Sewell has seven (Count EJ.) left-handers on his list, but the only old-timer is Al Hollingsworth who won six and lost 13 last year.

News from other camps:

American League

Washington (College Park, Md.)—Skipper Ossie Bluege has slated Roberto Ortiz, six-foot-three 200-pound Cuban for right field, over veterans Jake Powell and Gene Moore. Ortiz hit .304 for Montreal in '43.

Chicago (French Lick, Ind.)—Manager Jimmy Dykes says "We should finish in first division. (Fourth last year).

Boston (Medford, Mass.)—Squad jumps to seven as pitcher Yank Terry and Outfielder Johnny Lazor report.

Philadelphia (Frederick, Md.)—Luke Hamlin (won 21, lost eight for Toronto last year) arrived with "soft potato pitch"—a new change of pace—and said he was ready to sign. Connie Mack offered him $5,500.

National League

Philadelphia (Wilmington, Del.)—The Jays are blue, with Outfielders Coaker Triplett and Ron Northey, and Infielders Jim Wasdell and Charley Letchas still turning down all contracts.

Horse Starts Race Sold Before Finish

SAN MATEO, Calif., March 23.—(AP).—Alamo Belle took so much time running the second race at Bay Meadows that she acquired a new owner twixt the start and the finish.

Owner J. R. Gregory watched the filly yield the lead and heard Frank Burley, a rival stable owner, ask if she was for sale.

"Right now, I'll take $750," said Gregory.

Burley waited in silence until the eighth pole.

"$650," Gregory offered.

At the sixteenth pole, Gregory had considered further, "$500," he said finally.

"Sold!" answered Burley.

Alamo Belle finished seventh.

Bans New Applications

PORT ARTHUR —(CP)— President Frank Sargent of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association announced last night all clubs in Memorial Cup competition must name all players they intend requesting as wartime or injury replacements before their next game, thus ruling out any further applications.

Trick Golfers

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gene Sarazen has replaced Joe Kirkwood, trick golfer, with Joe Ezar, another stunt artist, on the team which he will take on a tour of military service centres which opens March 29 at Miami, Fla. The troupe includes two ladies; Kay Byrne and Catherine Fox.

Catcher Shortage

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—(AP)— Stuck for experienced catchers, Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians yesterday turned to his 36-year-old coach, George Suce, to replace Buddy Rosar who is intent on sticking to his defence plant job at Buffalo, Suce, father of five children, played for 18 clubs in the last 16 years.

SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Peterborough's schoolboy swimmers are at present in training for the annual competition for the Examiner Trophy, emblematic of the Public School championship which will be staged this year in the Y.M.C.A. pool on the night of Wednesday, April 5. This is always a big event in the school sport year and has been responsible for a lively interest in the art of swimming among the city's boys. Some good performers have been uncovered from year to year and the general quality of the swimming has been improving as a result of the competition. The exploits of Al Marshall and Bill Lech, Peterborough swimmers in winning Dominion championships has also been a source of inspiration to the schoolboy contestants who realize that good coaching and proper training can produce worthwhile results. Most of the schools have lost some of their good senior representatives of last season but other youngsters have come along to take their places and the competition should be as keen as ever on this occasion. A full program will be published in a few days.

The Stanley Cup warfare will be resumed tonight with the Leafs again playing the Canadiens in Montreal and the Chicago Black Hawks clashing with the Red Wings in Detroit. Despite the double surprise given the hockey world on Tuesday night we have a hunch that the results will be reversed in both cases tonight and that the end of the battles in Montreal and Detroit will find the rivals all tied in a knot. On the season's record both Canadiens and Red Wings rate to win tonight. The Flying Frenchmen can surely not again have as much of the play as they had the other night and lose and the Red Wings have had such an ascendancy in recent years over the Hawks on Detroit ice that they can hardly lose two games in a row there. It should be Canadiens and Detroit tonight, no matter what angle you look at the thing from.

Strange Things Happen

Strange things happen in amateur hockey in this modern age and some of the doings must make any of the old guard still around wonder just what the score is. For instance we read about a youngster named Harry Kazarian who made the pilgrimage from Owen Sound to Galt to play junior A hockey and who has now moved to Montreal to play for Montreal Royals juniors a military replacement and Chick Appel of the Stratford Beacon-Herald bobs up with this story about the shifting of junior A and junior B players being allowed to shift back to juvenile competition: "Kitchener and St. Catharines are making much about Stratford using five members of their junior "A" O.H.A. team in the juvenile "A" O.M.H.A. playdowns, but little or nothing is said about Kitchener using four junior "B" and St. Catharines six junior "A" O.H.A. players in the same minor series. Frogley, Tindal. Thompson, Robertson and Tolton were used by Stratford in the last juvenile games against Kitchener, but only the first pair were regular juniors. On the Kitchener roster were Rabethge, Stemmler, Wildfong and Simon, all members of their junior club, unless, like the Uniacs of Stratford and the Bauers of Kitchener, they have a player by the same name on every team coming out of the Suds Centre. Down in Clayt Browne's burg they had Jessiman, Juckes, McBride, Hookings, Peterson and Unger, all members of the junior "A" team playing juvenile "A" hockey. Jessiman was the Falcons' regular goalie, while the other five played off and on with the junior club."

Battles between Kingston Vics and Barrie Colts are not all confined to the ice judging by the following from Bill Walshe's Kingston sport column: "The Ontario Hockey Association will have to settle a double dispute between Kingston and Barrie with the boys unable to settle hockey supremacy on the ice. Before the teams played to their second tie last night Kingston officials questioned Barrie's right to use soldier players when other teams in Ontario had to drop army and air force members. An O.H.A. ruling issued Feb. 26 in "Ontario Hockey Association officials announced no servicemen, other than navy personnel, will be eligible for the playoffs." Barrie added soldier Chad Bark to its staff last night and Jack Mason of the Colts, who played in Kingston, is also a soldier stationed at Camp Borden. Kingston officials called W. A. Hewitt, O.H.A. secretary, who ruled the soldiers eligible to play although high military authorities in Kingston declared in a phone call that the Department of National Defence had banned all army members from open hockey. George Dudley, past president of the O.H.A., telephoned from Midland that a Kingston protest seemed in order. While Kingston played the game under protest there may be another complaint about not playing overtime last night. The O.H.A. rules usually call for thirty minutes of extra time with another game if the score is still tied. Referee Primeau, who handled the game alone, had not been given any orders and when the O.H.A. secretary could not be reached by phone it was agreed to play another game on neutral ice."

We're Well Represented

The curling ability of men and women at the draw game received a verdict two weeks ago that challenges respect. Watching the Shannon Trophy (women) recently, a former Ontario Tankard winner and runner-up for the Dominion championship, himself a brilliant exponent of the draw game, declared "I do think the women are as good at the draw game as the men and I should say they get the broom better, if anything." This well-known skip's opinion can be checked next Monday morning and throughout the week at the Granite Club, Toronto, where the Brereton-Raw Mixed Bonspiel will be held. Sixty-four rinks of two women and two men each will play. Entries have been complete for several days, with rinks waiting in case of a sudden vacancy. It is more than a provincial affair, for Quebec City is sending two rinks. The Peterborough club will have nine rinks, Bobcaygeon six rinks, Lakefield two rinks, Fort William one rink, Hamilton ten rinks, Sarnia one rink, Fenelon Falls one rink, and from Toronto's four clubs thirty-two rinks.

The amateur championships so far as Ontario is concerned are rapidly being decided. Hamilton Majors passed out of the picture last night when they were beaten 7 to 2 by the Sudbury-Frood Open Pit team who thus took the series three games to one. Hamilton made it a battle for over two periods and the score was tied at 2-2 early in the third session. Sudbury cooked with gas in the last 15 minutes to drive in five goals and win going away. In the junior series it looks as if Oshawa's grip on the title is not to be shakened this year. The Generals grabbed off their third straight win last night defeating the St. Michael's kids 5 to 3 at Oshawa and need only one more win to grab off the title. The Irish might possibly prolong the series by winning the next game in Toronto but nobody would venture an opinion that they have the slightest chance of winning four in a row, a feat they would have to accomplish to cure the Oshawa habit of winning junior championships.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: C.G.E. are City Basketball League champions....They took the best-of-three series from Orphans the other night by 34 to 27....Tied in two games the Kingston Vics and Barrie Colts will battle it out in Toronto Friday night for the right to meet Toronto De La Salle in the finals....A well known Toronto sporting goods house will probably claim credit for the Oshawa Generals win last night. Love and Bennett certainly were favorites for the Generals. Love scored four of the Oshawa goals, two of them unassisted....Whitby juveniles picked up an eight-goal lead at the expense of Preston in the first game of their Ontario finals at Whitby last night....The final score was 11 to 3.... Joey Bagnato of Toronto lost the decision to Lou Constantino in a 10-round bout at Buffalo last night....The Peterborough City Men's Softball executive will meet tonight at Duffus at 8 p.m.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 23 —(AP)— Trying to build up Allie Stolz as a clever boxer for tonight's scrap with Tippy Larkin, ballyhoo artist Harry Markson typed these lines: "Old-timers enjoy watching Stolz perform. He reminds them of the great fighters of the past. He once spent four hours with Franke Erne, former lightweight champion, studying one little move. But he perfected it."... Nat Fleischer recalls Kid McCoy telling how he worked for hours at a time, day after day, on his famous corkscrew punch. And finally after three years he concluded he had mastered the blow....Maybe that's why there aren't any 4-F Kid McCoys around these days.

Teammates:

When Bert Kenmuri, who signed to pitch for the Oakland Pacific Coast League baseball club this year, was heading for training camp at San Bernardino, Calif., the friend who was driving suggested that they pick up another Oakland player.... The newcomer, Infielder Howard Anderson, started a conventional acknowledgement of the introduction then burst out "Guadalcanal and." ...."The naval hospital at Oak Knoll," Kenmuir completed the sentence....Both former sailors, they had met at Guadalcanal and later in the hospital after Kenmuir had suffered an abdominal wound from shrapnel and Anderson had been brought down by malaria....They hadn't learned each others' names then, though both were Los Angeles boys....To complete the coincidence, both played for the Hollywood Stars part of last season, but not at the same time....Now they're roommates at the Oaks' camp and hope to remain together through the season.

Here and There in Sport

The baseball equipment fund, of which President Ford Frick of the National League is chairman, expects to have approximately $125,000 this year with which to provide playing outfits for men in the U.S. armed forces in all parts of the world. Already $40,000 has been spent since last season, according to Frick, while $25,000 is yet to come from the two major loops and the baseball commissioners' office. Later the fund will be augmented by the proceeds from the 1944 all-star game.

Windsor Varsity and Hayes Steel of Merritton will meet in the first game at St. Catharines Saturday night in the total-point series for the senior Ontario basketball championship, it was announced last night by Secretary A. L. Irwin of the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association. The return game will be played at Windsor April 1. The Intermediate "A" championship tourney will be staged at St. Catharines April 1; the Intermediate "B" tournament at Brantford March 24 and 25, and the Juvenile finals at Toronto March 25.

Bill Lohrman, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been inducted into the U.S. army, it was announced yesterday by President Branch Rickey at the Bear Mountain, N.Y., club quarters. Outfielder Dixie Walker is on his way to the club from his Alabama home.

Outfielder Danny Litwhiler of the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday was ordered to report to his draft board for examination Saturday, it was announced at Cairo, Ill.

Junior Champions Lack Finances

HALIFAX, March 23 (CP)—Financial obstacles likely will bar Amherst Ramblers, Maritime Junior Hockey champions, from proceeding further in the Memorial Cup quest, it was learned here last night.

The border town juniors, who won the title in a series with Antigonish Bulldogs, that ended last night, have been unable to obtain backing to finance a trip to the Maritimes by the Quebec champions.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

World's heavyweight champion Jimmy Braddock turned down Max Schmeling's guarantee of $350,000 for a heavyweight title fight in Berlin. It was seven years ago to-night that Braddock made that decision and instead elected to meet Joe Louis in Chicago. He lost his crown when knocked out in the eighth round of the bout with the Brown Bomber.

Aces Capture Quebec Title

MONTREAL, March 23.—(CP).—Quebec Aces defeated Montreal Royals 7-4 last night to win the Quebec Senior Hockey League championship and the right to move into the Eastern Canada semi-final for the Allan Cup. Aces won the best-of-five 3-1 and will meet Truro Bearcats, Maritime representative.

Bill Robinson and Nils Tremblay both scored twice for Quebec with Lude Check, Rollie Rossignol and Gino Rozzini adding singles. Alex Smart posted two goals for Royals and Jack Carthy and Pete Backnor netted the other two.

It was announced last night that the indefinite suspension on Bill Reay, Quebec Aces' playing coach, had been lifted and he will be permitted to play in the series with the Bearcats. He was suspended Sunday after he struck Referee Garney Large of Hamilton, Ont., during a game here.

NO SCORE HERE—CANADIENS BLOCK RANGERS' PLAY—Gauthiers' (9), of New York Rangers, attempt to score, is effectively halted by Bill Durnan (1) of Montreal Canadiens, as Lamourex (4) also of Canadiens, comes to steer the puck away. Action was seen on Madison Square Garden ice where the two teams met in their last tussle of the season. National Hockey League play-offs are now on, and Canadiens and Maple Leafs fight it out in Montreal semi-finals.

Toronto Win Over Canucks Strange Affair

By VERN DEGEER

MONTREAL, March 23—The lull between the first and second games of the Stanley Cup series between Toronto Leafs and Montreal Canadiens was a strange affair.

Tommy Gorman, general manager of Montreal Forum, and the Canadiens insisted the Tuesday victory of the Leafs was one of the strangest events in his long hockey career.

"Gorman," said Babe Pratt, "was in our room right after the game and insisted on having a saliva test of our players."

"Listen, Tommy," Pratt wanted to know, "you don't have any saliva test for your race horses in Quebec so why come in her suggesting a saliva test for us? You're in the wrong room. You should be checking on the Canadiens."

Coach Dick Irvin of the Canadiens, and for nine years skipper of the Maple Leafs, was one of Montreal's gloomiest gusses.

"I've been warning our players," said Dick, "for weeks that the Leafs were the toughest club we had to contend with."

Coach Hap Day pointed out that the Leafs had played according to instructions and produced dividends.

"I don't see," said Day, "why Irvin should be so unhappy. It's the first game he's lost at home in 26 starts."

"Stanley Cup hockey," Day enlarged, "has produced some of the strangest of upsets. That's why I am not surprised by what happened. I instructed our players to go out and play defensive hockey. And they followed instructions to the letter."

Day used Ross Johnstone, a former Marlboro and Oshawa defenseman, as a left winger. He used left-handed Don Webster as a right winger on another line.

"The trouble with you Toronto newspapermen," continued Day, "is you don't make enough road trips with us. I've been trying to tell you all winter that we have the best roadclub in the league. I can't explain why we do better on the road than at home, unless it's the fact that visiting teams treat us with more respect."

Baz O'Meara, Elmer Ferguson, Dick Carroll, Al Parsley and countless other Montreal newspapermen were still hanging on the ropes Wednesday morning, trying to explain the downfall of the Canadiens.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, March 23 — (CP).— Second-guessing this year's N.H.L. scoring race, it's interesting to wonder how things would have turned out if Bill Cowley had been in there the whole season. The veteran Boston centre ran into his perennial bad luck and missed 14 games, but finished with 71 points, just 11 less than Herbie Cain's winning total.

Cowley averaged nearly 2 points a game. He could have piled up nearly 100 points in the 50-game schedule providing he kept up the same pace, and he likely would have bettered Clint Smith's assist record of 49 set this year. Cowley ended the season with 41 assists, four less than the former record he set in 1940-41, and equalled last year.

At any rate Cowley's total this year compares favorably with the previous record of 73. That mark was first set by Cooney Weiland of Bruins in 44 games during the 1929-30 season when the short-lived unlimited forward passing rule was in effect. It was equalled in 50 games last year by Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks, whose 77 points put him in second place this season.

Was it jealousy?

An anti-Canadiens feeling in the other N.H.L. cities was blamed by Montreal's coach Dick Irvin for Bill Durnan losing the Calder Trophy to Toronto's Gus Bodnar. Commenting on The Canadian Press poll of sports writers that chose Bodnar, Irvin told Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson, "there was a strong undercurrent of resentment against Canadiens outside Montreal because we turned up with a good team, for the improvement of which Durnan was in large measure responsible....I think the whole thing is pretty poor sportsmanship and worse discrimination by those who should know better, but allow their judgment to be swayed by other influences."

Rank insubordination:

Those United States infantrymen who walloped the Canadian Army Mustangs 18-0 in the 'Coffee Bowl' football game in Britain haven't much regard for commissioned officers, on the sport field at least. Survey of the lineups shows the Canadians had 14 officers, headed by a lieutenant-colonel, while the Americans had two. The 30 "other ranks" on the American team showed little regard for the heavy weights of pips arrayed against them. It isn't every day a buck private gets a chance to slap an officer around.

Sudbury Team Ontario Senior Champs

By The Canadian Press

Sudbury Open Pit became Senior Hockey champions of Ontario last night when they trounced Hamilton Majors 7-2 at Toronto in the fourth game of the provincial play-off series three games to one and qualified for Allan Cup inter-regional competition. The O.H.A. representatives won the third game of the series 6-0 at Hamilton last Monday but the N.O.H.A. standard-bearers were quick on the come-back to eliminate Majors.

The Nickel Belt crew went into a 1-0 lead in the first period, kept one goal ahead of Hamilton in the second stanza and cut loose with everything they had to notch five counters in the third frame to Hamilton's lone goal.

Regis (Pep) Kelly and Alf Webster figured prominently in Sudbury's triumph with two goals apiece other scorers being Roly McLenahan Bill Lahti and Cloutier, one each. Two Hamilton veterans, Doug Runions and Johnny Conick, both of whom had played for Nickel Belt teams in seasons gone by, were the scorers for the losing side.

In the Junior "A" finals of the Ontario Hockey Association, Oshawa Generals continued on the march with a third straight victory, 5-3, over St. Michael's College at Oshawa in their best-of-seven titular series.

In their three clashes to date, Generals won 4-3 at Oshawa, took the second 5-1 at Toronto and returned a 5-3 verdict last night, to score an aggregate of 14 goals to the students' seven. The fourth battle is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at Toronto and another win for Generals will give them the title.

Ken Love was literally the big shot for Oshawa in registering the last four goals of the tussle, Curry getting General's first counter in the second period. Scorers for St. Mikes were McLean, Gregoire and Lindsay. Period scores were 0-0 for the first, 2-1 at the wind-up of the second and 5-3 when the curtain was rung down.

Canucks Expect Speedy Tussle

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP) — Montreal Canadiens will be out to redeem themselves before the home-town fans tonight, and tie up their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series with Toronto Maple Leafs at one game apiece.

Montreal fans were still a bit shocked today at the 3-1 trimming handed their Canadiens Tuesday night. The surprise was not so much that the Leafs put on a grand exhibition of close-checking defensive play backed up by stellar goal-keeping, but that the type of game was sufficient to beat Canadiens for the first time in 26 home games this season.

So tonight, it's strictly up to the Canucks. The Leafs announced when they arrived here that they would be well content to win one of the first two games here before continuing the series in Toronto so the least they can do now is live up to their own hopes. But a win is vital to Canadiens if they are not to be faced with the prospect of entering the two-game Toronto stand two games down.

Each field of endeavor which has some kind of glamor attached to it has its unofficial assistants whose interest is too sincere to have them referred to as "hangers-on." Around fire stations, for instance, there is always some citizen living nearby who, awakened by a telephone call from a friendly fireman, dashes off in the middle of the night to join the flame-quenchers. These are known as "sparks" or "buffs".

In the theatre field they have the lad known as the "lob". This character, smitten with a love for the players or the theatre, makes himself handy to facilitate frequent entry — and earns much small change besides.

Around one Toronto movie theatre The Lob was a youngster large for his age and excessively friendly. His every move was designed to get him into the theatre six nights each week. His oppressive affection for the stars of the screen and his persistance won him his way. The manager found minor tasks for him to do as an excuse for admitting him.

There came a time when The Lob saw a chance to share great adventures under noble auspices in person. He must have been no more than sixteen when he joined the army and his size no doubt helped fool the recruiting officers. The manager really missed the boy. Then one day he received a letter from overseas. It was from The Lob. He told how much he missed the theatre and the manager.

That same afternoon the manager entered the tobacco store next door and ordered a carton of cigarettes to be sent to his young friend. The lady who ran the store seemed suddenly upset.

"I suppose you haven't heard," she said gently. "He was killed in an air raid on London a few days ago. The news just arrived."

The lady stopped talking until the pain of sudden ill tidings had passed.

"Yes," she continued, "he was killed while sitting in a movie theatre."

Expect Platter To Take Derby

NEW YORK, March 23—(AP)— Only two horses have gone on from victory in the Pimlico Futurity to take the Kentucky Derby but don't be surprised if George D. Widener's Platter becomes the third on May 6 at Churchill Downs.

The Philadelphia sportsman never has had a representative in the 1¼-mile Derby but in Platter he has a worthy candidate for his debut in the rich three-year-old classic. And as if Platter wasn't enough of a threat he also has named Lucky Draw, a good performr as a two-year-old in 1942.

After bowing to such good two-year-olds as Occupy, Pukka Gin (the winter book favorite) and Pensive last year, Platter graduated in the mile and one-sixteenth of the Pimlico Futurity and came back a week later to take the Walden over the same route. In both races he came from behind.

Morwich and Count Fleet were the only other previous winners of the Futurity that came through in the Derby.

Increase Purse To $3,000 Added

TORONTO, March 23. — The Prince of Wales Plate, for 3-year-olds foaled in Canada has been increased to a $3,000 added race for the spring meeting of the Thorncliffe Racing Association meeting which follows the O.J.C. session at Woodbine Park. This race is at a mile and a sixteenth and is practically a re-running of the King's Plate closing day feature of the O.J.C. first meeting in Ontario. A tray will be presented by the Thorncliffe Association to the winning owner.

Johnny Farrell, who takes entries for the races at the I.R.C.A. tracks as well as serving as one of the placing judges, has recovered from a serious illness of pneumonia according to a report from his home town of Woodstock. Johnny expects to be at Woodbine several days prior to the opening of the 1944 season.

Spud Murphy, agent for Jockey Bobby Summers, sent on word he will arrive in the East before racing gets under way to handle engagements of Summers. This boy will ride this year for Four Oaks Stable. Harry Hatch disposed of the Canadian-bred Sweepnack to Al Wellman at Oaklawn. Sweepnack was an also ran in the eighth race at the Hot Springs track yesterday.

Chicago Holds Big Advantage

DETROIT, March 23—(CP)—Detroit Red Wings, defending champions, were not in an enviable position today in their Stanley Cup hockey play-off series with the Chicago Black Hawks.

One down after dropping the series opener here Tuesday, the Red Wings were faced with a necessity of grabbing two of the next three games to get back into the battle with the ambitious Hawks, who have worked their way into a home ice advantage that probably is more important than it seems on the surface.

After tonight's second play-off game here the clubs move to Chicago for two games in the Chicago Stadium, where the Hawks swept five regular season games with the Wings. If Chicago can continue to subdue Detroit there, all the Hawks must do to move into the cup finals is take the sixth game of the series —also at Chicago — regardless of what happens in two intervening clashes here.

6 Amendments By C.C.F. Turned Down

TORONTO, March 23 — (CP). — The Ontario Legislature, which yesterday received these reports from the Provinscial Mining Commission and studied the Municipal Health Services Bill in committee, will consider legislation again today and—if time permits— resume the budget debate which occupied it at a sitting last night.

First speaker when the debate is reached will be J. Frank Kelly (L.-Muskoka-Ontario) who moved its adjournment as the House rose following addresses by A. H. Acres (P.C.-Carleton), Roy Smith (C.C.F.-Parry Sound), and Nelson Alles (C.C.F.-Essex North), and the last section of an address started on Tuesday by Flt. Lt. L. E. Wismer (C.C.F.-Toronto Riverdale).

The Mining Commission reports, signed by Chairman Norman C. Urquhart of Toronto, suggested among other things that:

1. A ban to be placed on sales of securities in other provinces and in the United States by long-distance telephone calls from Ontario. (This would be an extension of the present regulation prohibiting security sales by personal visits to residences or by telephone.)

2. The present Provincial Securities Commission and Board of Review be replaced by a part-time commission of three men to be appointed by Order-in-Council, one a lawyer, another a securities man, and the third a person skilled in mine development and financing.

3. The Ontario School of Mines at Haileybury be reopened. (This was announced Tuesday night in an address by Premier Drew.)

4. Federal mining tax regulations be revised; geological surveys be expanded; and more extensive educational courses for prospectors be provided.

The report referred to natural gas production in the area south and west on a line from Collingwood to Kingston and suggested provision be made for repeal of a provincial tax "imposed chiefly for the purpose of discouraging exports rather than a revenue measure."

At the afternoon sitting the Health Services Bill was under consideration in committee of the whole for two hours. Six amendments offered by the C.C.F. opposition were turned down on voice votes.

The measure would empower municipalities to set up health plans under provincial direction and with limited provincial financial aid where needed.

Millard Objects

The major issue in yesterday's discussion was over an amendment moved by William Dennison (CCF-Toronto St. David) to add two members—one representing labor and the other agriculture—to the proposed Health Services Board which is to include only doctors and technicians.

Premier Drew and Health Minister Vivian opposed the amendment. C. H. Millard (CCF-York West) said "there is something sinister if the motion to amend is not acceptable to the government," but the motion was defeated. Only two sections of the Bill had not been dealt with when the committee rose.

The legislature also gave second reading to three bills introduced by the government aimed at providing relief for servicemen from debts incurred before enlistment.

Late in the afternoon the legislature turned to the budget debate. Flt. Lt. Wismer, financial critic for the C.C.F. opposition, said there is need for a fully co-ordinated Dominion-provincial-municipal plan for post-war housing.

He said the Dominion is "showing definite signs of attempting to unload its burdens of post-war rehabilitation on the municipalities." Many cities and towns had been approached indirectly and unofficially. It was an "alarming trend."

Mr. Acres said Ontario's biggest mistake was not in providing modern electrical facilities for every farm home. After the war young men would be reluctant to go back to farms if modern facilities were not available.

Farm Price Floor

He urged a floor under farm prices and advocated that farmers organise to fight for such action. He praised packing plants—subject of opposition criticism previously—and said: "If you take them as a co-operative business, who's going to run them?"

Mr. Smith urged stricter timber control, more forest fire protection and establishment of a fish hatchery in his Northern Ontario constituency. He said Indians were living "little better than animals" in Ontario and asked investigation into the treaty under which they lived.

Post-war employment should be one of the Government's major concerns. He mentioned a number of projects now idle in his riding and suggested they could be put to use in peacetime.

Mr. Alles, youngest member of the Legislature, criticised the new Federal labor code. If the code were to be effective the pressure of public opinion, the voluntary co-operation of "the more democratic and far-seeing employers" and the strength of the organised labor movement would be needed.

He said the chief problem of farmers was their lack of bargaining power.

Germans Renew

Rome reached a new pitch of intensity.

Supported by artillery firing at point-blank range, Allied troops used a variety of weapons from flame throwers to bush knives to throw the Nazis out of some fortified buildings in the southwestern corner of Cassino.

Gunfire Heavy

Artillery fire was used to blast the ruins of the Continental Hotel, which the Germans have been using as a strongpoint since they recaptured it.

It was conceded here that no quick break-through into the Liri Valley was in prospect though eventually it was confidently expected the Allies would smash down the stubborn German resistance in and around Cassino.

Today's Allied headquarters communique said patrols were active on the British 8th Army front, where a Canadian Corps is fighting.

Douglas Amaron, Canadian Press war correspondent, reported that the situation was quiet in the Canadian Corps sector yesterday.

Patrols also were reported active in the Allied beachhead south of Rome. British and American troops holding this bridgehead appeared to be safe against any further German all-out effort to drive them into the Tyrrhenian Sea.

Nazi aircraft attacked Allied shipping off the beachhead, but it was announced they caused no damage. On the beachhead German artillery pumped a heavy concentration into Allied lines near the village of Padiglione.

Heavy bombers swung into north-central Italy yesterday and attacked railway targets at Verona, Bologna and Rimini.

Night bombers last night attacked railyards at Padua, immediately west of Venice in the northeast.

During the day fighter-bombers hit shipping off the Dalmation coast and road transport in Western Greece, the communique said, while medium and light bombers struck at other rail targets north of Rome.

The Germans sent approximately 60 aircraft over the battle areas. Seven were shot down. Four Allied planes failed to return out of approximately 1,000 sorties flown.

German artillery tried repeatedly but without success to knock out bridges across the Rapido River south of Cassino.

In the heavy bomber mission against Verona, a formation of 20 enemy planes, including rocket-firing ships, attempted to intercept but escorting fighters beat them off and shot down two. Returning crew members said railway crossings and freight yards were smothered by bombs.

R.A.F. bombers touched off violent explosions, apparently in ammunition stores, in the night attack on Padua. The fliers described the target area as "one sea of fire."

A headquarters spokesman said the destruction of two bridges north of Poggibonsi interrupted the last unimpeded railroad from the north to Rome.

a provincial grant to Jack Miner to aid his efforts toward wild life conservation. After considerable discussion the motion was ruled out of order on the ground the committee had no power to make recommendations for a money grant.

Miner Gets $1,500

Mr. Taylor said Mr. Miner already gets an annual grant of $1,500 from the Department.

The committee endorsed a motion that consideration be given the placing of an inspector of the Department at points of entry from the United States to halt practise of American tourists illegally bringing rifles into Ontario, particularly in the Parry Sound area.

The point was raised by Roy Smith (CCF — Parry Sound) who complained of indiscriminate killing of the game in his area. He urged all tourists coming into the Province for bear-shooting should be made to carry a high-powered rifle and not a .22 calibre or a shotgun.

The proposed bill to amend the Game and Fisheries Act provides removal of royalties on raw fur which now range from five cents for muskrat to $5 for silver fox; that open season for deer hunting be the nearest Monday to Nov. 1 for the zone north of Parry Sound and Nov. 10 for the area east and south, including Renfrew county; that privilege of a farmer to hunt on his own land without a license be extended to his son.

The bill would also provide that non-resident licenses to shoot spring bear be good until June 15, instead of expiring June 1, as at present; that Greyhound dogs or any cross-breed of that strain be prohibited to pursue game or run at large on Sunday in any game area.

The daily limit of cottontail rabbits would be set at six in the counties of Elgin, Essex, Haldiman, Kent, Lambton, Lincoln, Middlesex, Oxford, Waterloo, Welland, Wentworth and York under the amendments.

Associated Press said Antonescu had gone to Hitler's headquarters for "important discussions."

A D.N.B. propaganda broadcast, discussing the occupation of Hungary, declared that "Germany's allies are entitled to far-sighted and careful planning in situations as they may arise in connection with the Bolshevist menace."

This broadcast said the steps taken in Hungary "are exclusively meant to help the concentrating of all forces and means available in Europe on the task of meeting the common danger and of preventing the possibility of Soviet infiltration"—a statement that suggested Hitler now would try to throw Hungary's troops, estimated at 300,000, against the Russians.

The German-controlled Budapest radio told the Hungarian people that Regent Nicholas Horthy, widely reported a prisoner when the Germans moved into his homeland, had sworn in the new pro-Nazi cabinet late yesterday.

Doeme Sztojay, a former Hungarian army officer who has been Hungarian minister to Berlin, was named Premier in the new puppet government.

Study Rules For Taking Soldier Vote

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP). — The Commons Election Committee Wednesday started study of draft regulations for taking the vote of members of the armed forces in a general election.

At a previous meeting the committee passed motion favoring direct voting by members of the forces and deferred action on a proposal that proxy voting should be provided for prisoners of war.

Harry Butcher, K.C., counsel to the committee, outlining the regulations, said it was proposed that the service voters should appear before a commissioned officer, or a non-commissioned officer in the cases where no commissioned officer was available.

The voter would make a declaration of his constituency, provided on an outer envelope. He would then be given a ballot on which he would write the name of the candidate for whom he was voting and a plain inner envelope in which he would place the ballot and then seal the envelope.

In counting the votes the plain envelopes containing the ballots would be removed first from the printed outer envelopes with the declaration of constituency and then placed in a locked ballot box.

Later they would be taken out of the ballot box and counted.

The committee approved definitions in the introduction of the regulations, but suspended a decision on residence qualifications. The draft provided that the residence address which would determine the constituency in which the vote was to be recorded should be the address immediately prior to enlistment.

Define Voters.

Decision of the committee was also deferred on the clause defining service voters. The clause as drafted said that all members of the forces, irrespective of age, should have a vote providing they were British subjects and resided in Canada immediately prior to joining the forces.

It also applied to members of the Reserve Army while in camps on training and to members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Provost Corps, the Canadian Merchant Navy, and the Canadian Fire Fighters Corps in the United Kingdom.

Clarence Gillis (C.C.F.-Cape Breton) urged that definite provision be made for the 2,000 Canadians who enlisted directly in the R.A.F.

The committee approved the principle of giving a service vote to members of the Auxiliary Forces who were 21 years of age on duty either in or out of Canada. This applied to officials of the Red Cross Society, Canadian Legion, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus Army Huts, and Y.M.C.A.

Wants Applause

Emmanuel Shinwell, one of Britain's foremost critics of Conservative policy, believes that the time has come for an end to criticism of the government.

Labor M.P. for Seaham Barbor, Shinwell told his constituents he believed it more important to encourage the government at the moment "when we are on the eve of striking events which will call for the greatest fortitude."

The disclosure that left-wing elements in British politics have banded together until, in effect, they operate as a single party has been followed by various stories of their activities.

One hard fact to emerge from the preliminary activities of the new coalition was that no Labor M.P. showed up at the first of its organization meetings to be announced officially. Eight have been invited.

A statement issued after the meeting said the Independent I.L.P. and Commonwealth members present had discussed "methods of securing a Socialist majority" at the next election.

than 1,000 Germans were killed, many prisoners and much booty captured in a single battle in this area, a Soviet bulletin asserted.

On the southeastern end of the 500-mile-long Ukrainian front, Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's forces staggered the German line by capturing the important fortified railway junction of Pervomaisk, driving to the approaches of Vosnesensk, 85 miles northeast of Odessa, and reaching a point eight miles from Nikolaev on the Bug river estuary, Moscow announced.

Hundreds of German soldiers were said to have drowned in the Bug river as they fled Pervomaisk when Malinovsky's troops stormed the city's defences after a two-day battle. Huge stocks of war material and great numbers of prisoners fell to the Red Army forces, the Soviet communique declared.

Pervomaisk and Vosnesensk, 40 miles to the south, had been blocking the Russian advance on Nikolaev and Odessa. Fall of Vosnesensk, which appeared imminent, would clear the path to both Black Sea ports.

Moscow, often silent when an important Soviet movement is in progress, made no mention of the German-reported drive from the Tarnopol sector.

MODERN PACKAGING FOR FIRST AID!

A FIGHTING man's life may depend on having a clean, dry, sterile, surgical dressing quickly available. To safeguard Canadian soldiers a special cloth has been designed which makes possible a package for field dressings that is absolutely waterproof. Field dressings sealed in packages of this cloth keep dry and sterile through cold, rain, snow and heat.

This special waterproof cloth was produced through the ingenuity of the Industrial Chemist. It is water-repellent, with an inside coating of synthetic resin; it seals perfectly by heat pressing. Regardless of temperature change, the package remains waterproof, yet it can be quickly opened when needed. This type of packaging overcomes the bulkiness of metal containers and the limitations of stitched or wax-sealed packages. Wax will crack in low temperatures, while needle holes caused by stitching will leak.

The development of this special cloth and the sealing process which provides efficient waterproof packaging for field dressings is a wartime achievement of the "Fabrikoid" Division of Canadian Industries Limited.

Prince Of Wales Rangers Observe 2nd Anniversary Of Mobilization

SOMEWHERE IN CANADA, March 23 (Special to the Examiner)— The Prince of Wales 1st Battalion Officers Mess was a blaze of colour as the Battalion celebrated its second anniversary of mobilization recently. At the head table were seated; Brigadier R. H. Beattie, MC, ED, Lieut. Col. R. J. Bolton, ED, Major R. C. Honey, Major W. S. Wallace, Capt. H. Borland, Capt. C. H. Doolittle, Capt. H. Balsdon, Capt. E. McWilliam and R.S.M. S. Bland.

The Sergeants' Mess was invited to share in the festivities and after the toast to the King, a toast to our fighting forces overseas' was very ably proposed by Lieut. J. T. Brooks. Brigadier R. H. Beattie replied expressing the profound respect and admiration all held for their brothers in arms on the fighting fronts. He recalled the days about two years ago when he was officer commanding the Canadian Fusiliers, at that time stationed alongside the Prince of Wales Rangers lines at Niagara-On-The-Lake. He told his first experience with the Rangers was when he asked for a platoon of the Peterborough boys to proceed on a mission for the British Government in connection with the handling of German prisoners of war. In conclusion he expressed his appreciation of the fine showing the Unit was making in his Brigade.

In replying to the toast to the Regiment, Lieut. Col. R. J. Bolton recounted for the benefit of newer members of the Unit, the origin and early history of the Peterborough Regiment — and in so doing gave a very fine tribute to those men, over one thousand to date, who have passed through the establishment and have proceeded on duty overseas. He reiterated the sentiments of the Brigadier and expressed the hope that the day was not far hence when this unit would come to grips with the enemy.

A highlight of the evening was the interruption of a sing-song to read a telegram from the former Commanding Officer, Lieut. Col. J. A. Dewart, MC, ED. In reading the telegram of congratulations and good wishes, Lieut. Col. Bolton very fittingly commented that no other single person had contributed so much to the unit as had Col. Dewart.

Capt. C. H. Doolittle, President of the Mess, voiced welcome to all members of the Sergeant' Mess on this annual occasion. C.S.M. Mervin expressed the appreciation of the guests present.

The closing feature of the evening was a reading of excerpts from the War Dairy by C.S.M. C. Cruikshank — this touched on only the humorous highlights of the past two years.

The evening finished with a gathering around the piano singing the songs which have been favourites with the Unit and many others down through the years.

Kingston Man Gets 2 Months

William Clark, 19, Kingston, who pleaded guilty in police court this morning to stealing an overcoat, hat and gloves from a Lundy's Lane residence, was sentenced by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning to two months imprisonment in the county jail.

A previous record was produced by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., who also told the court that Clark was wanted on a serious charge in Kingston.

Another charge against the accused of breaking and entering the office of the Rehill Fuel and Builders' Supply Company with intent to commit theft was dismissed when the crown offered no evidence.

A similar charge against Frederick William Judge was also dismissed. W. C. Grant appeared in behalf of the latter.

Reserve Verdict In Strano Case

On a point raised by defence counsel, W. J. Arthur Fair, who argued that the information should have set forth whether the potatoes in question were sold wholesale or retail, Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., reserved judgment in police court this morning in a case in which B. R. Strano was charged with selling potatoes at a price higher than the ceiling price.

A number of similar charges against Strano and also against his wife were also adjourned until next week Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., prosecuted the case in behalf of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Evidence was submitted by the prosecution to show that a 100-pound bag of potatoes had been sold to the Haboco store, McDonnel Street, last July for $3.91, and Investigator George Rogers produced a statement he said had been signed by Strano to the effect that the accused had bought 10 bags of American potatoes in Toronto at $3.01 per hundredweight, brought them to Peterborough and sold them to six retail stores.

Thomas McArthur, C.P.R. agent, testified that the freight rate on potatoes from Montreal to Peterborough in car-load lots was 30 cents per 100 pounds.

Mr. Fair did not call any defence and Mr. Gordon submitted the case withou argument.

Defence counsel submitted that the charge merely was that Strano had sold potatoes and he argued that it should have specified whether they had been sold wholesale or retail. Mr. Fair declared that Strano had been hounded over these cases since last fall and that the laying of so many charges involving 10 bags of potatoes was unreasonable.

Magistrate Langley reserved judgment on the point advanced by defence counsel.

Chief Newhall Serves 38 Years With Police Force

The resignation of Chief Constable Sam Newhall brings to an end a spectacular career in police work that has covered nearly half a century and three countries.

Chief Newhall, before joining the Peterborough police department in 1906 under the late chief George Roszel, had served for the ten years previous as a member of the Liverpool police and of the London Metropolitan police and later with the rural guard in Cuba.

His experience in London brought him into contact with many famous criminals of the day and with numerous cases that were well-known.

After becoming a member of the Peterborough department Chief Newhall was soon promoted to the rank of detective, served under Chief Daniel Thompson until that officer became chief of the Windsor police force 24 years ago, and then was promoted chief constable, a position which he has held for almost 24 years.

During his many years in connection with the Peterborough department, as a detective and later as chief, he had a wealth of experience in dealing with crime not only in the city but in the surrounding district. Many years ago he was sworn in as a county constable and afterward as a provincial constable and his services were frequently sought by Inspector Boyd and other provincial executives in solving crimes in the rural parts of Peterborough county. He took an active part in cleaning up cattle-rustling cases, rural break-ins and a number of cases of murder in the district.

In city police work he succeeded in apprehending many notorious law-breakers during his 38 years service. One of the outstanding gangs cleaned up by Chief Newhall was the Phelps-Bradford-Goldlarb mob of New York pick-pockets. They had moved into Peterborough to rob circus day crowds and Chief Newhall rode up and down with them on street cars and watched them work until he had enough evidence to convict the four men and they got long terms in the penitentiary.

Got Second Gang

Failing to take warning from the fate of this gang, another quartette of American pick-pockets visited Peterborough a year or two later and Chief Newhall rounded them up, too.

In discussing some of the features of his Peterborough experience with a reporter Tuesday night, Chief Newhall recalled as among the exciting episodes of that long career, a battle at the C.P.R. station one night with two confidence men with long records who were nabbed by the chief as they tried to board a night train from the south side of the tracks. He also referred to another struggle at the same spot one night when a man accused of breaking into the postoffice at Buckhorn tried to shoot the chief constable as he was being arrested but the officer managed to knock the gun out of his hands.

In the Chief Constable's office at the police station is a cabinet with scores of photographs of criminals who have passed through the local courts. Chief Newhall's memory as to the identity of these crooks and the particulars of the cases was remarkable. He named one man after another, recalling the circumstances without the least hesitation.

Probably one of the most painful episodes in the chief's career in Peterborough was the occasion when he single-handedly solved the mystery of a long-series of break-ins and thefts in the business district and had to arrest a member of the force for the crimes.

Chief Newhall has long been prominent in the Dominion Police Chiefs' Association and has had the honor of being president of that body. He has always taken a big part in the discussions of the Association and was particularly noted for his criticism of the parole system.

That he has enjoyed the confidence and respect of police chiefs throughout the Dominion was indicated by the arrival of a telegram last night from the National Police Review offering him the position of business manager of the Review in an advisory capacity in view of his "long and creditable service as a police officer." Chief Newhall said today that he is considering the offer.

The Acting Chief

Sergt. John Thompson, who has been appointed acting chief constable to take over on April 1, has been a member of the Peterborough police department for almost 24 years, joining the force just a short time before Chief Newhall's appointment as head.

Born in this county Sergt. Thompson has been a popular and efficient officer. Seven years ago he was appointed sergeant and in that capacity he has enjoyed the confidence of the public and the liking of fellow officers.

GUEST OF CITY is the Hon. James Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, who is here today to address a meeting of the Kinsmen Club this evening. Mr. Gardiner will be tendered a civic welcome by Mayor Hamilton and his address at the dinner will be broadcast over CHEX from 7.45 to 9.00 p.m.

Examine Plans To Rule France

LONDON, March 23 — (CP). — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the Comomns to-day that the "whole question" of the mechanism for administering French territory when it is liberated "is now under examination by the British Government and the United States Government."

He replied to a query by Frederick Seymour Cocks, Labor member, who also asked whether Eden had "seen the statement from Washington that President Roosevelt has already come to a decision on this subject?"

President Roosevelt told Washington reporters on March 17 he had arrived at a decision three days before on the French situation, but he gave no clue to the decision or its trends.

"I do not think the honorable member's underlying assumption is correct," Eden replied. "The two Governments are examining the position together. Whatever we say and do we shall say and do together."

The Foreign Secretary was similarly wary in repling to a wide range of questions dealing with foreign policy. He declined to go into an detailed discussion of the Yugoslav situation.

He Obeyed Orders

ALDERSHOT, Eng., March 23 — (CP-Reuters). — Pte. Peter Panagi took too literally in 1941 his sergeant-major's orders to "clear off" after the sergeant called him "stupid" on parade and wound up yesterday with a court martial sentence of 15 months' detention for desertion. The 23-year-old Royal Army Service Corps private, who had been away from the army from May, 1941, until last month, said he thought the sergeant's order meant his discharge because when his employer in civil life told him to go he went.

ARRIVES OVERSEAS—Sgt. Air Gunner Howard Reid, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Reid, 709 George Street, has arrived overseas. He graduated last November and since that time has been stationed at Lachine and Valleyfield. Prior to joining up, Sgt. Reid was employed at Whitaker's.

County Council Begins Hospital Talks

An opening of the discussions which will decide whether the Peterborough hospitals are to receive a grant of assistance from the county on their deficit sustained through the care of county patients, was made this morning when the County Council began its two sessions at the Court House.

Since the adjournment of the council's January session, a special committee on hospitalization under the chairmanship of Reeve Rork Ferguson has been engaged in gathering information pertinent to the question. Assuming the chair this morning, Reeve Ferguson said that on Tuesday his committee had gone to Toronto to confer with the Minister of Health, Dr. Vivian, and the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs.

They were there advised that the County of Peterborough would be well within its legal rights in making a grant, should it desire to do so; however, the awarding of any such grant would bring with it no obligation to repeat assistance in subsequent years and could not be construed as setting a precedent; and furthermore, that, in the opinion of the Minister of Health, such grants might never be necessary after this year because there was likelihood of legislation being passed provincially to take care of hospital problems.

Rate Too High

The feeling was general on the part of these officials, members of the committee said this morning, that the rate of $4.38 — the actual cost per patient per day at Nicholls Hospital—was too high and that it perhaps should be no higher than $3.50. The suggestion had followed that the county could limit its assistance to its share of the loss up to the figure of $3.50, but no particular stress had been laid upon this recommendation.

Council members went on record as being strongly impressed with the need of financial assistance for the local hospitals coming from the county itself. Reeve Ferguson said: "This is a rather serious problem. Peterborough business men have been doing their best, and still the situation shows no improvement. We can't let things go on running the way they have been. We have got to do something." It was an "obligation" on the council's part, Reeve James Humphries said, and this sentiment was concurred in by Reeve A. W. Archibald.

Costs at Nicholls Hospital have been mounting steadily in late years and the actual per patient cost was at a record high of $4.38 last year, compared with $3.76 in 1942 and $3.36 in 1941. The rise in expenditures was largely accounted for by essential salary increases, the payroll reaching a figure of $90,000 last year.

Similar Problems

Similar figures were not available this morning for St. Joseph's Hospital, but it was stated the patient cost in 1942 had been $2.64. This, it was felt, might very well have attained the level of the Nicholls Hospital rate, if the Catholic institution had had the salary problems confronting it that were so serious a difficulty at Nicholls.

On motion, reserving further discussion of the hospital grant problem to a private sitting in finance committee this afternoon.

The council went on to hear I. Moldaver of the Peterborough Metal Co., whose storage yard in Douro has been the cause of complaints from property owners in that section. Stored with boilers and pieces of machinery, it was, as Mr. Moldaver admitted, not a pleasant sight. He maintained there was no other place where his materials could be moved at the present time, said that the activities of youngsters were largely responsible for the broken-down condition of the fence, and requested the indulgence of the council in giving him time to erect a high, painted fence that would hide the storage yard from nearby residents. A deputation of propery owners from the area is expected to wait upon the council this afternoon.

Honor M. Smithson

Correspondence addressed to the council included a request for funds from the Hospital for Sick Children to help meet its deficit; several letters of application in regard to the position on the Suburban Area Commission left vacant by the death of Morley Smithson; and a communication from the Bank of Commerce advising that the rate on county loans had been lowered from 4½ to 4 per cent.

Before adjournment, Reeve Peter Mather paid tribute to the fine qualities of the late Mr. Smithson, and especially to the quality of "individualism," which he possessed in such abundance.

"There are too many of us today," Mr. Mather said, "who don't have that personal characteristics as we should."

Council will resume its sitting this afternoon and will be in session throughout Friday.

Milk For Britain

Two donations to the Milk for Britain fund are reported to-day by J. A. Macdonald of the Royal Bank. Mrs. William Shannon a regular monthly contribution has sent along $2.00 and from the Fenelon Falls Women's Institute comes $2.50 which is their second donation to this worthy fund.

AW.1 MARGARET HAMILTON   MAJOR ARCHIE HAMILTON

BROTHER MEETS SISTER IN ENGLAND — After two months overseas, AW.1 Margaret Hamilton, R.C.A.F., Women's Division, met her brother, Major Archie Hamilton, S.D. and G. Highlanders, on a leave. Miss Hamilton enlisted in June, 1943, and trained at Toronto, Ottawa and North Bay. She went overseas in Deecmber, 1943. The two spent their leave with relatives, including a cousin, Commander E. Hamilton Hill, R.N., well known international rugby player, who spent his boyhood days in Peterborough. Major Hamilton was gazetted a lieutenant in the Rangers ten years ago and volunteered for active duty when the S.D. and G. Highlanders were mobilized. He went overseas in October, 1941, and is now second-in-command of the unit. Both write in glowing terms of English hospitality and praise the spirit of the people after the bombings. They have been particularly impressed with their "will to win" spirit. They are the children of the late Miles Hamilton and Mrs. Hamilton, Auburn.

Canadian Legion Gets Close To $2,000 Mark

Two thousand dollars is a lot of money, and when it comes to raising that amount for people whom one will probably never see, there must be a good deal of earnestness behind it all, coupled with a firm opinion as to the real need, for otherwise the desire to keep up the good work must surely fail.

People who have passed through the dangers that are encountered from being under fire of guns in enemy hands, know full well the trials and tribulations that follow particularly to a civilian life, who from a defence standpoint cannot retaliate nor make any worth-while defense on their own part.

That really is the story which the air raid attacks over Britain unfolds, wherein over forty-five thousand people have already met a premature and tragic end, let alone the countless numbers who have been injured besides the thousands of children made homeless through this type of warfare.

No one perhaps realises this more than those veterans of the last Great War, who having served their country in the time of her need a quarter of a century ago, are now banded together in what is known as the British Empire Service League or Canadian Legion Peterborough Branch No. 52.

This is quite evident from the continued steady assistance they have given to the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund from its very inception, adhering in the strictest sense to a pledge given by George Gimblett, who has been their president all during that period of well over three years, that they would give a portion of the proceeds from their Wednesday evening Bingo games, which are conducted on behalf of their own welfare work.

They Total $1,974

By steady work month after month, this group is now approaching the $2,000 mark in money contributed to the fund, their latest donation of $70.15 listed in to-day's receipts giving them a total credit of $1,974.31 which would seem to foreshadow that their next report will put them above the next thousand dollar point, to help the humanitarian objects the fund seeks to assist.

Having a son on active service overseas since the early part of the war, it would seem to be quite appropriate that Mrs. William Shannon, who is also a very regular contributor to the fund, should be listed on this one day in conjunction with the veterans of the last great struggle with the usual donation of $3.00.

Nearing $75,000. Mark

Following the raid on London made by the enemy on Tuesday, the despatch of another £500 on the following morning to the Lord Mayor of London would surely be greatly appreciated by all concerned, so to-day the fund commences on the next immediate task that lies ahead and gets away to a good start, for there was a balance of $28.00 on hand, which with the adition of this days receipts gives the next objective a little over $100.00 from which it may build for future needs.

In the meantime, the fund is nearing the $75,000. mark, which at the moment it is $128.00 short of attaining, and this should be realized in a few short days from now.

Round Up British

ANKARA, March 22 — (CP-Reuters).—The Gestapo in Budapest has begun to round up the 508 British subjects still living in Hungary, it was learned yesterday. Apart from being required to report to police once a month, these people previously enjoyed comparative freedom.

Onus On Seller If Lotions Used As Drinks

TORONTO, March 23—(CP)—Lotions, toilet water, perfumes and other similar preparations containing alcohol will be made to conform to certain medication requirements and must not be sold for beverage purposes under an amendment to the Liquor Control Act due for second reading today in the Ontario Legislature.

The measure does not ban the sale of these preparations, but places the onus on the purchaser and seller if they are used for beverage purposes for which penalties are provided.

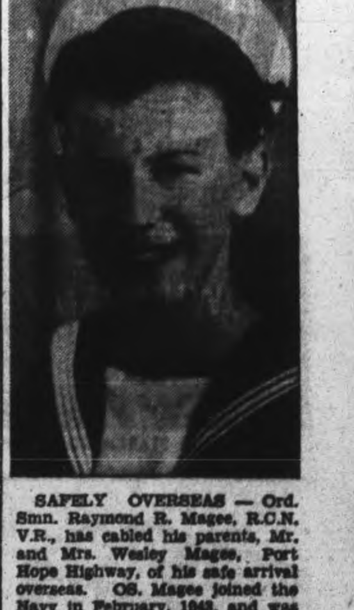
As the act now stands, the only such preparation mentioned is perfume. The amendment adds lotions, toilet water and others.

A number of deaths have been reported in Ontario through the drinking of such preparations.

The bill also provides a tightening of the section of the act dealing with sale or supply of liquor to those under 21 years. The amendment will provide that no liquor shall be sold to a person "apparently" under 21 and places the onus on the seller to make sure from the purchaser's appearance or by other means that he or she is over the required age.

Working Overtime

LONDON, March 23—(CP-Aneta). —German preparations against an Allied invasion of the Netherlands have resulted in a reign of "terror and destruction behind the Atlantic wall," according to the Dutch underground paper, Vrij Nederland. Netherlands people are dragged from their beds by the Germans and forced to work all night digging trenches, while women are forced to do washing for the German soldiers, the paper said.



SAFELY OVERSEAS — Ord. Smn. Raymond R. Magee, R.C.N. V.R., has cabled his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Magee, Port Hope Highway, of his safe arrival overseas. OS. Magee joined the Navy in February, 1943, and was called in May. He trained at Kingston and Ottawa, and took a gunnery course at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. Before enlisting, he was employed at the C.G.E.

Electric Stoves To Be Released During This Year

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — The Prices Board announced to-day that some electric stoves, rangettes and grills will be available on the Canadian market in the coming year, but said the total number of units available will not be large.

M. C. Lowe, administrator of electrical apparatus, equipment and supplies, said it may be "some time yet" before production is started, but permission has been granted for the manufacture in the next 12 months of up to 40 per cent. of the 1940 output of electric stoves and 60 per cent. of the 1940 output of rangettes and cooking plates or grills.

The announcement said essentiality certificates, previously required of all buyers of these products, have been abolished. Manufacturers' production schedules must be approved by the administrator to ensure output of the proper proportion of equipment in the lower price classes.

The Board said there is no restriction on the output of repair and maintenance parts.

Can. Legion Frowns On Farm Sales

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., March 23—(CP)—A resolution urging that the Dominion government enact legislation barring Doukhobors, Mennonites, Hutterites and similar sects from purchasing or leasing for more than a year property such as farm lands was passed by the Canadian Legion branch here last night.

The resolution would ban the purchase and lengthy leases during the war or five years afterwards, and any breach of the legislation would be considered an offence under the criminal code.

William L. Wright of the Resolutions committee told the meeting an "unfair condition" existed in many parts of Canada, particularly in the west, where certain sects "take advantage of the war" by buying up the land of loyal farmers who have been handicapped since their sons enlisted.

Members of these sects, in time of war, "would refuse to fight or bear arms for the protection of such land," Wright charged.

A second resolution passed by the veterans deplored the "inactivity of the government in not compelling all citizens to assume and discharge their duties of citizenship."

Street Fighting Taught In Debert

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CAMP DEBERT, N.S., March 23 (CP)—Realism is the keynote of this battle training school, and no trouble is spared to make the training as true to life as possible. Just one instance is the complete model village which has been erected here to give the troops a down-to-earth example of what it is like to mop up a village or town by street-to-street fighting.

Built entirely of poles cleared from an area some distance from the camp proper, the village is laid out in the minutest detail to give that touch of authenticity. There is even a three-storey hotel, a bakery complete with ovens simulated with poles, and a group of houses laid out on two streets.

All the work was done by the construction branch of the engineers and the only materials that had to be bought were nails. Everything else was made in the camp, even the doors swinging on ingenious wooden peg hinges.

When finished it will be the scene of a full-fledged attack and defence, with the offensive force driving out the enemy. Before the attack starts, the village will be bombarded, live ammunition from artillery guns and smaller arms pouring into the set—empty of troops for the time, of course.

Purpose of the scheme is to show by direct methods the proper way of cleaning out a pocket of resistance entrenched in a group of buildings.

Construction of the village is typical of the initiative - developing method used in this training camp. Lots were apportioned to "syndicates" of five or six men each, and they were given free plans to use their own ideas.

As a result of this change for initiative, the village took on added realism, with every man using his own design and some turning out little bungalows and lodges that would do justice to an experienced designer.

The engineering officer on the job was Lieut. J. D. McGregor of London, Ont.

Late Invitation

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP).—An invitation to a child's birthday party was delivered to six-year-old Marilyn Gundersen after a round trip across the Atlantic Ocean. It was posted Feb. 5 and went to Sgt. Harry Loll, a Chicago soldier stationed in England, who wrote Marilyn that the invitation had slipped into one of his letters. He added: "Believe me, if I were close by, I would have tried to break in on that party."

Bevin Upsets Magician's Work

BY DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 23 — (CP) — It's getting more and more difficult to make a living these war days, Murray the magician says, what with Labor Minister Ernest Bevin making him look like a punk at his best trick and people eating so many rabbits you can't find any to draw out of a hat.

In fact, Murray — "The Australian Illusionist" — contends that Bevin is the No. 1 exponent of the vanishing woman trick in Britain today, a rank he bestowed on the minister after seeing him breeze through at least 50 performances with only one flaw in conduct.

"I have trained at least 50 women to help in the vanishing lady trick since the war began," Murray explains "and every time Mr. Bevin has taken them away. His one fault is that he doesn't let them reappear again as I do."

Murray finally grew tired of the Bevin influence and trained his wife. She manages to look after their one-year-old baby in between vanishings.

Shelter life is something Mr. and Mrs. May started 1,000-odd nights ago and have never given up.

When the Germans were bombing London in 1940 Mr. May volunteered to be a warden at the Aldwych underground shelter and his wife did the same. A while back, they celebrated their 1,000th night with a party for 54 of the children "regulars." In their time at wardens, Mr. and Mrs. May have sold nearly £2,240 (about $10,000) worth of Savings Stamps.

May Re-open Plant

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — There is a possibility the explosives plant at Nobel, Ont., may have to be re-opened some time, Munitions Minister Howe said last night in the Commons. As long as the war lasts it is hard to close any plant finally. Closed plants must be regarded as standby capacity.

Bridgenorth News

Patsy Ball, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Ball, celebrated her fourth birthday on Tuesday and entertained a number of her little friends at a party. Those present were Sally Ann Hartman, Michael Smith, Gordon Murray Gene Blewett, Richard Jopling and Douglas Blewett.

A large crowd attended the St. Patrick's dance held in the Foresters' Hall in aid of the Red Cross. The proceeds after the expenses had been paid amounted to over $34.

Friends of Mrs. W. Murray will be sorry to hear that she is still seriously ill.

The condition of Mrs. H. Jopling is satisfactory. Mrs. Jopling is confined to Nicholls Hospital with a fractured hip and collar bone.

THINGS LIVEN ON THE BURMA FRONT—Lieut.-Gen. Joseph Stilwell's engineers have completed the Ledo road, called the toughest road building job in the world. This was the factor which assured success in the present drive which trapped thousands of Japs in the Hukawng valley (see inset). Eventually the Ledo road will form a junction with the much-disputed Burma road, over which supplies will be hauled to our Chinese allies. In the theatre, commanded by Lord Louis Mountbatten, the strategy might be to push in the direction of the Kraisthmus (end of arrow) and Sumatra. This would pave the way for the recapture of Singapore and its great naval base and Sumatra.

Corvette Cobalt's Crew Saved Tanker's Cargo

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 23 — (CP) — After delivering a series of attacks against submarines in the eastern Atlantic, men of the Canadian corvette Cobalt boarded a blazing gasoline tanker and saved the ship and its cargo from destruction.

For this exploit, Cobalt's Captain, Lt.-Cmdr. R. A. Judges, Toronto, was mentioned in dispatches at the year-end in the Navy's decorations and awards list, and the George Medal was awarded Mate Alfred W. Bett of Toronto, who led the fire party. Engine Room Artificer J. A. Wereley, of Sorel, Que., and Signalman M. J. Fitzgerald of Toronto and formerly of Peterborough each were awarded the British Empire Medal.

The tanker, bound for Britain, collided in a fog at night with another merchant ship, and burst into flames. Cobalt's crewmen, screening the rear of the convoy against U-Boats, thought it was a submarine attack.

Cmdr. Judges said that just as a red glare was noticed in the fog, the Corvette's Asdic Operator picked up the "Hydrophone effect of a torpedo coming at us." Cobalt altered course towards the torpedo, picked up a strong submarine contact and fired one and then another depth charge pattern.

After a third attack, the crew could smell oil on the surface of the sea and heard "an underwater explosion that could not be classified as a depth charge," Judges said. "We had reason to feel we were giving a U-Boat a nasty pasting."

The tanker was still blazing when the Cobalt closed her, but the officers thought she looked salvageable. Mate Bett loaded firefighting equipment into a seaboat, took Wereley and Fitzgerald with him and went aboard the burning ship. In two hours they had the fires out.

"Everything above the main deck was burned out," Bett said, "but when the fires were out we discovered we had saved more than 80 per cent of the cargo of gasoline, and by the time we left the ship she was ready to be towed into port."

Malta Airmen Back Home After Three Years

BANCROFT, March 23—(CP)—Flying Officer Donald Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Goodwin of Maynooth, arrived home Sunday on one month's leave. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. on December 16, 1940, going overseas November 20, 1941. FO. Goodwin trained in England for about one year at which time he volunteered for operational duties outside Britain which took him to the Mediterranean where he was stationed at Malta October 20, 1942. He spent practically seven months at this base, and although he did not take part in the actual invasion of Sicily he did take part in the softening up period prior to that invasion. Donald and a Toronto boy, Richard Reeves, were picked from a squadron to man Spitfire fighting planes and Donald's reply when asked his opinion of the Spitfire, "It's the best."

Two of the main hardships which confronted the airmen during their stay on Malta was the lack of amusement and the scarcity of food. Apart from the odd mishap which an airman experiences Donald says a flier's life is wonderful.

Lucky Crash.

The airman had one slight mishap while training in England and another while at Malta. At the latter place Donald was forced to parachute from his plane while on operational duty when the motors of his plane cut out. In his descent he was unable to separate his life raft from his parachute and finally had to cut the whole paraphernalia from himself when he struck the water and depended on his "Mae West" for a period of three hours beore being picked up. He spent some time after that convalescing in a hospital recovering from the exposure.

Although the inhabitants of the small Island of Malta carry on their everyday work differently than that of our ways, they are quite industrious, he said. Quite a percentage of the people operate farms which in area are very small. The people seem to be divided into two distinct classes, poor and rich. This fact is quite noticeable.

His parents were aware of his homecoming in the near future, but they got quite a surprise Sunday afternoon when their son motored in from Belleville with some Belleville friends. Donald had a new home to come to, for during his absence overseas his father, Daniel Goodwin, was retired from the Canadian National Railways where he had served many years as the agent at Maynooth Station. Mr. Goodwin retired in February, settling into a newly renovated home in Maynooth Village.

Prior to Donald enlisting he spent four years attending the Belleville Collegiate, 1936 to 1940.

Minister Bombs In God's Cause

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, March 23—(AP)—A young lay minister who pilots a Liberator bomber today expressed his personal attitude toward bombardments by asserting that "the cause of freedom is the cause of God."

The pilot is Lt. Norman O. Richards, 26, of Oakland, Calif., where he used to conduct services at the Monclair Presbyterian Church.

"As one who preaches the gospel," Richards said, "I find myself perplexed. Here we are dropping death and destruction upon innocent people as well as the guilty, which is in direct disobedience of the commandment 'Thou shalt not kill.'

"I am aware of this and pray we shall be forgiven our ignorance for not having the insight to solve today's conflict except by fighting and killing. Therefore I am forced to do my utmost to fight for the preservation of what I believe is right. I know the cause of freedom is the cause of God."

Millbrook News

A chimney fire at Mrs. J. N. McGill's home, Park Roadway, caused an alarm to be rung in about 9.30 a.m. on Monday. The firemen responded promptly and, with the chemical engine, soon had the affair under control and no damage done.

Friends of John Ridge, veteran of the last World War, who has been ill for some time, will regret to learn that his condition necessitated his removal on Sunday to St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, for special care and treatment.

Miss Mary Eakins, of the T. Eaton Co. office staff, Toronto, was home for the week-end with her mother, Mrs. E. E. Eakins.

The usual community Holy Week services have been arranged for with the three churches participating, the evenings being Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and the general theme, "The Revelation of the Cross." The gatherings are to be held in St. Thomas' Anglican, April 5; Grace Presbyterian, April 6; and St. Andrew's United, April 7; all services at 8 p.m.

6 Radio Forums Meet At Co-Op Hall

One hundred and fifty members of six forums, Stewart Hall, Selwyn, Fairview, Emily, Lily Lake, and Central Smith, met in the Co-Op Hall recently for a joint session. Mr. C. E. Moore acted as chairman, and opened the meeting with a short address. Mr. Gordon Hancock spoke on "Better Crops" stressing many ways and means of improving crops and soil. Mr. J. Kitney spoke on the Federation of Agriculture and its accomplishments.

The program began with the radio broadcast, followed by a variety program presented by members of the various forums. Miss Barbara Bulmer, youngest member, sang "Five Little Chicadees," accompanied by her mother, Mrs. E. Bulmer. Miss Olive Collins sang a solo, accompanied by Mr. M. Chenhall and Miss Roleen Fitzgerald recited "Pat Attends a Weddin'."

Central Smith ladies presented a song skit "While We Knit," accompanied by Mrs. C Westlake; Donald Milburn recited "She Powders Her Nose" and "The Onion"; Mrs. H. Dawson gave an instrumental selection while Miss Leetha Kidd recited "The Man Behind the Plow."

The secretaries, Mr. C. Bell, Mrs. C. Thompson, Mr. C. Fitzgerald, Mr. A. Clarke, and Mrs. R. Scott, gave one-minute reports of their year's work, telling of great progress, greater interest and enthusiasm shown by the members. Mr. W. A. Davidson, manager of the Co-Op, spoke a few words in praise of the forums, and said that he was sure they would go down in history as the means of saving rural life.

The program was followed by a grand march and relay contests, conducted by Mrs. Roland Scott. Lunch was served by the ladies, coffee being donated by the Co-Op. It was suggested that all forums meet at the Co-Op Hall for the opening meeting next fall.

Stephen Foster Night Planned

At the March meeting of the George Street Baby Band, the members decided to sponsor a Stephen Foster evening, to be held Friday, March 24, in the Sunday School Hall of George Street United church, with the pupils of Queen Elizabeth School presenting the program.

Mrs. J. H. Rowe was guest speaker, taking as her topic, "Mother." She gave a few simple thoughts on the relationship between a mother and her children, and suggested that mothers try to bring God closer to their children, and to foster the idea of His nearness at all times. Mrs. M. Nicholls moved a vote of thanks.

Mrs. L. D. Gilmour led in prayer, and Mrs. R. K. McKee read the scripture. Mrs. R. Wichen sang, "In the Garden of Prayer." Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. J. E. Cooke, Water street.

SHORTAGE IN CONVERSATION Even Babbling Wife Needs Responsive Audience Burning Issue in All Homes.

Little as you might suspect it, one of the burning issues in the family circle is conversation. Not arguments. Not quarrelling. Not fault-finding and recriminations. Not fights. Just talk for talk's sake.

Apparently there is not enough of the domestic brand to supply the demand. By the time the children have been gotten off to bed after dinner and the wife has asked "what's the news?" and the husband has replied "nothing," and he has retired behind his newspaper and she has resumed her knitting, they sink into a silence so thick you could cut it with a knife and that is so stifling that they fall upon the necks of even bores with cries of joy. Anybody. Anything to break up a quiet evening at home.

Wives Want to Talk

Wives blame the lack of conversation on their husbands, and it is their bitterest disillusion in marriage. They can endure discovering that their idols have feet of clay, but not that they have no tongues. They say they married for companionship, and look what they have gotten—a stuffed shirt with no more talk in it that a graven image and that could be swapped for a dummy in a clothing store without their ever finding out the difference.

Believe it or not, as Mr. Ripley says, but there is no subject about which women write me more tear-stained letters than about the silent husband. "We work all day alone in our houses," they say, "with no society but the baby, and while we love to hear it gurgle and coo it is no intellectual entertainment for an educated woman.

"So we would like to pass a pleasant evening talking with our husbands, hearing what they have done, whom they have seen, laughing with them over their funny experiences and contributing our own little two bits' worth of chit-chat. But do we get it? Not so. Husband passed into the silence as soon as he hits his own fireside and you couldn't dynamite him out of it with the most startling piece of news on earth. All he ever says is 'uh-huh.' Or just grunts."

To these charges the dumb husbands reply that, in the first place, they are not like women. They don't enjoy the sound of their own voices, or get any fun out of talking just for talk's sake. And, in the second place, they spend their days talking, arguing, persuading, reprimanding, jollying, trying to sell themselves and their wares to they vocal chords are worn out and others, and by the time night comes they want to give them a rest. They don't want to talk or to be talked to. They just crave silence. And if only the Little Woman would just shut up and read an improving book and not ask questions, how happy home, sweet home, could be.

It would seem that the woman who had a husband who would let her monopolize the conversation would feel that she had drawn a matrimonial prize, but unfortunately even the babbler has to have a responsive audience. There is no kick even in quarrelling with a man who won't quarrel back.

So there seems no remedy for the situation except for a girl when the Boy Friend pops the question to ask: "How are you on conversation Long, or shot?"

Circle Plans Joint Meeting

Miss Edna Beatty, Charlotte street, was hostess for the March meeting of the Living Link Mission Circle of Trinity United Church. Miss Joyce Harris' group took charge of the devotional period, and Miss Margaret Skitch read an article on Christian Stewardship. Miss Kay Elliott gave the chapter of the study book. Members decided to accept the invitation of the Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary, to unite for an Easter meeting, to be held April 10 in the ladies' parlors.

Miss Hilda Pearson was guest soloist, and sang "Thy Will Be Done," accompanied by Miss Elsie Chambers. Refreshments were served by Miss Harris' group, and a social hour was enjoyed.

Annual Tea Held Wednesday

The C.G.I.T. girls of St. Paul's Presbyterian church held their annual tea Wednesday afternoon in the Guild Room of the church. Miss Marjorie Pearse, president, and Miss Helen Fleetwood and Msis Barbara Meiklejohn, leaders, received the guests.

The tables were decorated on a St. Patrick's theme, and Mrs. R. N. Pearse and Mrs. W. J. Moorhead poured tea. The home cooking table was supervised by Misses Nancy Mason and Marion Honor. C.G.I.T. girls made the arrangements, and served the guests.

Proceeds from the afternoon will go to the C.G.I.T. fund.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

With spring just around the corner, our thoughts turn to some lighter foods than we have been serving all winter. Salads are something that everyone enjoys, lel them be young or old. A salad can be served with a three-fold purpose in view. First, they look so pretty on the table, second, there is nothing you can serve that is so good for you from a health standpoint, and last but by no means least, you are pretty nearly sure that everyone likes a salad. When you have guests for dinner or lunch, there is nothing so appealing to them, as to walk into the dining room and behold a lovely salad already on the table. It gives one an appetite at once.

Today I will give you a few recipes for some very tasty salads.

Jelly Perfection Salad

One tablespoon uncolored gelatine, ¼ cup cold water, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 1 cup diced celery, 1 tablespoon finely chopped pimento, ½ cup grated (nippy) cheese. Soak gelatine in cold water, add salt and sugar, then add ⅓ cup hot water and soak until gelatine is dissolved. Add vinegar and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thickened, then fold in vegetables and cheese. Chill until firm. Serve with any kind of dressing you are in the habit of making.

French Cream Potato Salad

Four cups cold boiled potatoes, 3 stalks celery, ½ teaspoon pepper, ¼ cup vinegar, 3 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 teaspoons salt, ⅛ teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons butter, ½ pint cream.

Dice the potatoes and celery, mix with minced onion, salt, pepper, and paprika; add the vinegar and allow to stand 15 minutes. Heat the cream and butter until butter is melted. Pour over the potatoes, stirring with a fork so that the potatoes will not be mashed. Serve cold. This will serve six people.

Candlestick Salad (Individual)

One slice of canned pineapple, ½ banana, cut crosswise, shredded cocoanut, strip of green pepper, maraschino cherry, fruit salad dressing, lettuce. For the base of the candlestick, place the slice of pineapple on a leaf of lettuce, and surround with fruit salad dressing piped through a pastry tube. For the candlestick, point the cut end of the banana half and place it in an upright position in the cavity of the pineapple slice. In the side of the banana stick the strip of green pepper to simulate the handle. On top of the banana place the maraschino cherry, keeping it in position with a toothpick. Stick a piece of shredded cocoanut in the cherry for a wick. Serve additional salad dressing in tiny bonbon dishes at each plate.

Fruit Salad Dressing

One-quarter cup mayonnaise, ½ cup cream, whip the cream quite stiff and fold in mayonnaise carefully.

Stuffed Celery Salad

One small bunch celery, 1 head lettuce, 1 small cream cheese, salad dressing. Mash the cream cheese with a fork until soft and creamy, adding a little cream. Fill the celery stalks with the cheese. Cut into one-inch pieces and serve on lettuce with your favorite dressing.

Carrot and Apple Salad

One cup prepared apple, ½ cup mayonnaise, 1 cup of ground carrot, lettuce. Cut the apple into very thin slices, arrange on lettuce, spread with mayonnaise and sprinkle ground carrot on top. Place more dressing in centre. This will serve four.

This Week's Best Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

Dear Mary Moore:

The name ice cream or anything frozen sounds like a treat to my children— so I have worked out several mixes which I freeze but which do not have a drop of cream in them, but the children don't care, because they don't know. I am giving you the standard mix I base all the rest on—eggs are cheap now and it takes very little sugar, and ½ cup corn syrup.

Creamless Ice Cream.

One and one-half cups milk, 2 tablespoons sugar, 3 egg yolks, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 2 egg whites, 1-3 to ½ cup corn or cane syrup.

Scald the milk in top of double boiler. Place sugar in frying pan over low heat until a light brown syrup is formed, stirring. Pour into milk, cook over boiling water until syrup dissolves. Stir hot milk into well beaten egg yolks. Return to double boiler, cook until mixture coats spoon. Immediately remove from heat. Add salt. Cool. Turn into freezing tray and freeze until almost firm. Meantime beat egg whites and syrup slowly to make a rich stiff smooth meringue. Fold into almost frozen mixture and return to tray to finish freezing.

For Chocolate Ice Cream add two more tablespoons sugar and 1 square cooking chocolate to milk when scalding.

To unbelievers I might add that the eggs give this mixture a nice richness that makes cream superfluous— it's good nourishing food for little ones and for your undernourished adults too.

Thanks.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, March 24.

The lunar transits dominant on this day are of complex and conflicting significance. There are several signs of most encouraging prospects which may bring honors, favors or prominence in public, community or fraternal organizations. These tokens of preferment or recognition may call for celebrations or pleasant gatherings, with social, domestic, affectional, or sentimental functions. However, there are signs of deceit intrigue, undercover or subtle forms of attack, probably dragged into the open with explosives and immoderate fury. A strict regard for name, position, home and health should be preserved, to reap promised benefits and personal gratification.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by complicated, perplexing and subtle situations, difficult to handle unless there be strict adherence to proper rules and regulations. With this undercover state of affairs, it is wise to bring sinister situations to the surface in order to handle them with prudence and discretion. The social, financial emotional and physical well being may be jeopardized by tempestuous, explosive and reckless indulgences. With vigilance and care there may be public as well as private tokens of personal popularity, prestige, or honors, with suitable celebrations or possibly romantic adventure. Place trust in old friends rather than strangers.

A child born on this day may be blessed with much versatility and ingenuity although it may be easily victimized or suffer from subtlety and fraud.

QUESTION—We have been able to get Syrup recently and since it is sweeter than Corn Syrup I wish I had recipes for using it. Could you help me? If I even knew how to make a good plain cake or chocolate cake with it it would be a great help to me. Any other every day recipes using it that you might have on hand would be appreciated.

ANSWER—The syrup you mention, being sweeter than corn syrup may be used in place of corn syrup recipes calling for it, but you must take into account the extra sweetness—reduce the sugar by one quarter.

ALL-PURPOSE PLAIN CAKE (calling for cane syrup)

One and one-half cups sifted cake flour, 2½ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup shortening, 1-3 cup sugar, ¼ cup—syrup (cane syrup), 1 egg, ½ cup milk, ¾ teaspoon vanilla. Sift the flour once, measure it, add baking powder and salt, sift again. Cream the shortening, add the sugar and syrup gradually, cream together until light and fluffy. Add beaten egg, beat thoroughly, add vanilla. Add dry ingredients alteratively with milk, stirring only enough after each addition to blend thoroughly. Pour into buttered square pan 6 x 8 inches and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 25 to 30 minutes.

FUDGE CAKE (using cane syrup)

One-quarter cup good quality shortening, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate or tablespoons good breakfast cocoa, ½ cup water, ¼ cup cane syrup, ½ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1½ cups cake flour, ½ teaspoon each salt, baking powder, mace, soda, 1 egg, ¼ cup sour milk or buttermilk. Melt the shortening and grated chocolate in saucepan (if cocoa is used it may be added to the dry ingredients), over low heat, add water, sugar and syrup stir until well blended. Remove from heat and cool to room temperature, add vanilla. Sift flour, measure, add salt, baking powder, soda and mace, sift again. To cooled chocolate mixture add unbeaten egg. Beat thoroughly. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour milk, stirring after each addition until well blended; beat vigorously about 1 minute or until smooth. Pour into buttered square pan 8x8 inches and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 to 35 minutes. Delicious frosting may be made by beating 1 egg white stiff and adding ½ cup boiling hot syrup in a thin stream while constantly beating. Add ¼ teaspoon salt.

QUESTION—Have you had any experience with fruit-keep? for putting down your fruit? Did the fruit keep all right?

I put down 100 quarts of Saskatoons (berries) and they don't seem right when the sealer is opened. Can I do anything with the fruit to make them eatable? Thanking you. J. Sime.

ANSWER—We received a great many enquiries regarding this product last summer, and as a consequence have had to do considerable experimental work with it. It is a sulphur preservative and if used according to instructions will keep fruit witthout sugar or sterilization. The slight after taste of sulphur is harmless and may be obliterated with judicious handling. I think pies are the best use they are commonly put to—this is certainly true of commercially preserved cherries and bluberries—that are done in "so2" expressly for this purpose for the baking trade.

I think my best plan is to give you a recipe for making pie with saskatoons preserved in fruit-keep according to a method I worked out for blueberries and cherries.

Saskatoon Berry Pie

Three cups drained saskatoons which have been preserved in fruit-keep, 1-3 cup corn syrup and ½ cup sugar (or ¾ cup sugar), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon minute tapioca, juice ½ lemon, grated rind 1 whole lemon. Drain the juice from the berries, put in pot and simmer tightly covered for 20 minutes. Mix together the cornstarch and sugar, and sprinkle 2 tablespoons of this mixture in bottom of pie. Mix together dry ingredients and add them and syrup and lemon and rind to berries, and stir well and pour into pie shell, and put on top sealing it well. Bake at 500 deg. Fahr. for first 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr. for 30 or 35 minutes.

Saskatoons may also be used for muffins and cottage or crumb puddings.

Hoping these suggestions help you and that you will find your fruit preserved in fruit-keep satisfactory. Write whenever I can help.

W. D. Originals Have Birthday

WITH THE R.C.A.F. BOMBER GROUP OVERSEAS, March 23 — (CP). — No matter where you are—at home or thousands of miles from home—a birthday is a birthday, and this was the reason for a party held recently at the Group Headquarters by 26 Canadian airwomen to celebrate the anniversary of their arrival overseas a year ago.

"Originals" attending included Leading Airwomen Laura Lapierre of Amherstburg Ont., Isabelle Granada, Windsor, Ont., Shirley Morford, Sarnia, Ont., Dorothy Gore, North Bay, Ont. Milly Davis Beauharnois, Que., and LAW. Marjory Henry, Prescott, Ont.

When they sailed from Canada on overseas posting, the girls were allotted to R.C.A.F. Bomber Group Headquarters. They say they wouldn't trade their experiences "for anything."

They haven't had a "cushy" assignment since arriving. First they were billeted some miles from the Headquarters, and made a daily trip back and forth. Now, like the rest of the station's airwomen, they live in nissen huts which, while practical, are far removed from the comfortable billets many of their sisters enjoy elsewhere in England.

TONS OF PROVISIONS

Since Canada's entry into the war, more than 100,000,000 tons of food, munitions and essential materials have been transported over the North Atlantic.

Of Interest to Women

Rations Or No Rations It Is Up To Cooks to Produce

BY MARY MOORE

A serious baking mood was on me but what was I going to use for materials? I'd run us clean out of butter doing some candy experiments; our white sugar was perilously low and yet the youngsters were sending up the trail-balloon requests for cookies. As a matter of fact Pete was plaintive: "You are always telling other people how to stretch their rations—so why can't you make up some of those good oatmeal cookies with dates for us out of sump'n?"

Was I ever challenged? I had to come through.

Pete has a sweet tooth (as what boy of nine hasn't), but the following little tidbits pleased him mightily, even though the sugar in the dough is cut down by half.

OATMEAL AND MARMALADE PUT-TOGETHER COOKIES

Two eggs well beaten, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup good quality shortening melted, 2 cups flour, 2 cups rolled oats, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 teasoon salt 1 teaspoon vanilla or one-half teaspoon cinnamon. Beat the eggs well, add sugar and melted shortening. Sift the dry ingredients together, tipping the rolled oats out of the sifter into them. Add dry ingredients to first mix, and mix well. Add vanilla. Chill very well. Roll out on floured cookie canvas (or roll into balls and press flat with bottom of floured canvas covered tumbler). Place 1 teaspoon marmalade on half of the cut-out cookies. Cover with remaining halves, pinching edges very tightly. Bake at 450 deg. Fahr. about 8 minutes. Watch cookies closely while baking — for overbaking spoils many a batch of potentially good cookies.

Even if your using rationed marmalade these cookies can be made at quite a small expenditure of sweet goods and coupons.

If you have your own marmalades or jams or jellies they may be used in place of orange marmalade; red currant jelly and peach jam are especially nice.

Now these blueberries with 30 per cent sugar that the government is allowed to be sold coupon-free are a godsend to many housewives.

They make excellent pie as you would expect, and also cobbler, muffins, upside-down cake, crumb cookies and blueberry crumb pudding, — besides a good many others you may invent yourself.

The one that serves my purpose best is the muffin recipe — even though it makes a rather muddy looking muffin it is delicious in flavor and I snaffle some of the cream from the tops of the Jersey milk and whip it up and top the muffins with it and we have a dessert the whole family heartily approves.

One cup sifted white flour, 1 cup whole wheat flour, 1 cup canned blueberries and juice, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt 1 egg beaten, 2 tablespoons melted shortening—¼ cup sugar may be added if you can spare it. You may need 2 tablespoons milk if berries are not very liquid. Sift all the dry ingredients together, tipping the bran from the whole wheat flour into the mix too. Beat the egg and add all remaining wet ingredients to them, then combine both mixes. Bake in well buttered muffin tins at 400 deg. Fahr. for about 20 minutes.

A good little sweet bread is the following—in peace times I would use walnuts and chopped dried apricots, but it is not peacetime so use raisins and peanuts and possibly some lemon or orange rind grated.

Fruit and Nutbread (highly recommended)

One egg beaten, 1 cup milk, 2½ cups flour, ½ cup ground peanuts, ½ cup raisins, grated rind 1 lemon or 1 orange, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Mix beaten egg and milk. Bake in buttered and paper lined loaf tin at 375 deg. Fahr. for about 40 minutes. Delicious sliced cold, —also made into Philadelphia cheese sandwiches.

Dinners Of The Week

By MARY MOORE

Sunday

(Epicure's Sunday Dinner)

Broiled 1½-inch Sirloin Steak with Undercut
Lemon Wedges
Canned Corn and Dried Lima Succotash
Hard Rolls
Cress, Lettuce and Tomato Tossed Salad
French Dressing
Orange Marlow (no cream—see note)
Coffee

NOTE: I have seen the odd package of marshmallows in the stores recently so maybe they are being distributed more widely than formerly. This is such a good dessert: Heat 24 marshmallows with ¾ cup orange juice in double boiler until the marshmallows melt. Add another ¾ cup orange juice, finely grated rind 1 orange, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, and 2 tablespoons sugar and cool. When cold and slightly thickened fold into it the stiffly beaten whites of 2 eggs which have been sweetened with 1 tablespoon sugar. Freeze without stirring 2 or 3 hours. OR this will thicken enough to serve without freezing if desired.

Monday

Sliced Cold Leftover Thick Steak
Horseradish
Raw-fried Potatoes
Chopped Buttered Carrots
Fruit Cup: Grapefruit, Apple, Prune
Postum Crackers

Tuesday

HOME-BAKED BEANS WITH TANGY CATSUP to your own taste—in just 30 minutes!
3 slices bacon or 2 tablespoons bacon dripping
3½ cups boiling water
1 to 2 teaspoons dry mustard
3 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup catsup
1—12-oz. pkg. Van Camp's Quick-Serve Beans
METHOD: Fry bacon and remove from pan. To the bacon fat, add water. Blend mustard, sugar, salt and pepper in catsup. Add to boiling water and fat and bring just to the boiling point. Turn beans into a casserole dish, pour in boiling-hot liquids and stir. Arrange cooked bacon over top. Cover and bake in a slow oven, 300° F., for 25 minutes. Remove cover and cook an additional 5 minutes. (Remove lid earlier if you prefer beans with less sauce.) For a meatless dish, omit bacon and bacon dripping.
YES! YOU CAN HAVE HOME-BAKED BEANS IN JUST 30 MINUTES!

BIRTH.

NELSON.— To Mr and Mrs. Stuart Nelson, at Nicholls Hospital, on Friday, March 17, 1944, a son (David Paul)—both doing well.

ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. William James Morley announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen Isabel, to Gunner William James, son of Mrs Reid and the late Archie Reid. The marriage to take place April 15, in St. George's Anglican Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Miller, Dufferin Street, announce the engagement of their niece, Margerite H. Walker, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Walker, Astley, England, to Geoffrey J. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Robinson, Evanston, Ill. The marriage will take place in April at Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. M. McDowell, Millbrook, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie E. McDowell, to Flying Officer Reginald R. Edmunds, R.C.A.F., eldest son of Mrs. R. H. Edmunds and the late Mr. M. Edmunds, Millbrook. The wedding to take place at the home of the bride's parents, April 1.

IN MEMORIAM.

MURNEY — In loving memory of our dear mother, Sarah Murney, who passed away one years ago to-day, March 23, 1943.

A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
One who was better, God never made;
A wonderful worker, loyal and true,
One in a million, that mother was you.
Just in your judgment, always right,
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends, and all you knew,
A wonderful mother, that mother was you.
—Ever remembered by the Family.

Horticulturists Urge Seed Experimentation

A. J. Webster of Toronto, a past president of the Ontario Rose Society, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Horticultural Society.

Attendance this season has been most gratifying to the society and its directors, according to W. C. Wilks. "We are bringing in top notch men in the various fields of horticulture, and those who stay away are missing valuable information."

"Urging trial of some new variety when seeds are being bought," Mr. Wilks says: "Have you tried the new Master Marglobe tomato? Generations of plant breeding are behind it. It is of even size, bright red and averages about six ounces.

The new Gaillardia "Pinwheel" deserves more popular recognition. They are easy to grow and are excellent for cut floral work. Giant crested zinnias, a new variety, may be started from seed which should be planted as soon as weather permits. They are outstanding in color and are of true crested type.

The date of Mr. Webster's coming will be announced shortly, and we hope all the rose lovers will turn out."

Count 35 Deer

LONDON, Ont., March 23 —(CP).— Deer are becoming so plentiful in the vicinity of Hensall, 30 miles northeast of here, that they now constitute a menace to district farm crops. Thirty-five were counted in one wheat field last week.

Alby Robinson Dies In London

WOODSTOCK, March 23 (CP)—"Alby" Robinson, Woodstock's veteran sportsman and retired commercial traveller, died yesterday in Victoria Hospital, London, aged 86. He was born at Port Hope, Ont.

During his athletic career, which began in 1879, Robinson excelled at the 100, 220, 440 and half mile distances. He soon began to run professionally and John Forbes, local hotel man of that day, had a standing offer, backing Robinson against all comers at the half mile for $5,000.

He was credited with unbroken supremacy at the half mile over a decade and won races all over North America. He also held for 12 years a running broad jump record.

He travelled for various firms of wholesale grocers and other lines and was one of the first western Ontario travellers to use a motor car for business.

He originated the one time famous Oxford marathons and featured Bobby Kerr and Tom Longboat when these stars were at their peak. He also brought the first airplane exhibition to western Ontario and promoted many outstanding horse races.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter and four sons. The funeral will take place in Woodstock Saturday.

Warba Potato Ripens First

Frank C. Paterson has an armful of copies of the addresses and proceedings at the annual meeting of the potato section of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association of which the young Smith township farmer, Gordon Hancock, is president.

Persons interested in potato problems and growing can probably get one of these reports. One of their effects is to suggest the extent of the development of potato farming, care of seed, mechanical aids and so on.

An article by Norman A. Parks on scab control and suitability of varieties seems attractive. The author is with the Dominion Experimental Farms Service of O.A.C.

There are several observations which stand out as advice relating to variety. "There are only a few varieties suitable for the province as a whole.

Those which appear most suitable are (1) early group—Warba, Irish Cobbler; (2) intermediate—Chippewa; (3) late or main crop—Katahdin. While each of these varieties may have certain undesirable features, yet, taking everything into consideration, they appear to be the best of the varieties we have at the present time.

Some of the newer varieties, such as Sebago and Sequoia, seem to be too late in maturing to suit the average Ontario condiitons."

The Warba is the earliest maturing variety, requiring 65 to 70 days as compared with the Irish Cobbler's 75 to 80 days. Sebago needs 130 to 135 days.

Many citizens grow potatoes, mostly from habit, and might find many interesting paragraphs in these articles which should also be in the hands of the farm producers.

Staff House Plans Remain Vague

Closing of the men's staff house on Monaghan Road at the end of the month is announced through the local office of Wartime Housing Limited.

With accommodation for 500 persons, the peak of occupancy and use is said to have been around the 200 mark.

The spacious and comfortably appointed buildings were opened on December 1, 1942, and have been tenanted for 16 months.

Reconditioning Centre

City Council at its meeting several weeks ago suggested to the Federal Government that the premises might be suitable as a reconditioning centre for men returning from the war, suffering from disabilities which might be relieved by a period of rest and care.

This proposal has also been put forth by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of which D. G. H. Melton is chairman. Their letter was read at the council meeting Tuesday night, but as it was on the same file as replies from Premier King, Hon. Ian A. Mackenzie, Minister of Pensions and Health, and several others, including G. K. Fraser, M.P., members felt that they could not do anything further at present.

Construction of the men's staff house was undertaken as a Crown investment to provide room and board for incoming workers in Peterborough factories engaged in the production of war materials. Men and women were arriving here from all parts of the country when it became known that this city was to be a centre of war industry. Many of them were directed to Peterborough by government employment agencies.

Poor Response

Appears to citizens to open their homes temporarily brought an inadequate response. A survey of available rooming accommodation also produced an unsatisfactory outlook, and in the increasing emergency an appeal was made to Wartime Housing Limited for their assistance. A similar residence for war workers at Hamilton was considered a desirable model, although there was some local estimate that the need would not rise to provision for 500 men.

That is an outline of the background of the project which overreached local housing necessity, chiefly for unmarried men.

Could Call Militia

1,500 Need Homes

TORONTO, March 23 —(CP).— Dorothy Dennison, manager of the Toronto Housing Registry, said today the housing situation is serious here, and she has nearly 1,500 families listed who seek places to live. Miss Dennison said servicemen's wives are in the most difficult position.. It was unofficially estimated that between 13,000 and 15,000 families face May 1 with notice to vacate the premises they now occupy.

W.V.S. To Issue Ration Books In Peterboro

Detailed instructions have been prepared for the public to assist them in securing, without delay, their new Ration Books.

Distribution of the new Ration Books will be made in Peterborough next week, starting at one o'clock Monday afternoon, at the Hall on Simcoe Street, opposite the City Hall. Monday, the centre will be open from 1 o'clock until 9:30 in the evening. The three following days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday; it will be operating from 9:30 in the morning until 5:30 in the afternoon.

The Women's Voluntary Services are again co-operating with the Local Ration Board in supplying a staff of efficient voluntary workers to man the distributing centre. Industrial plants have co-operated fully with the Local Board also, thousands of books being distributed through the centres established in the factories.

The following instructions should prove helpful to the public and if followed will make the work of distribution much easier for everyone.

USE the RED-PRINTED CARD—R. B. 90.

If 16 years of Age or Over.

1. Do NOT detach card from Ration Book. This will be done where you get your new book.

2. EVERYTHING should be printed in block letters, in ink, EXCEPT Signature which should be written, (as for signing a cheque).

3. Prefix and Serial - number - means BOTH letters and numbers that appear on the front of Ration Book No. 3.

4. Signature is very important. Write in your own hand writing.

5. In filling out a CHILD'S card —under 16 years of age:

Put in prefix and serial number, last name, first name, etc., in print as directed.

In the space for Signature, the Parent or Guardian writes his or her OWN signature, not the child's.

6. If someone other than a member of your own family brings in your books, the names, ages, etc., should be clearly written, as this person will have to sign his or her name, and be prepared to certify that all information is absolutely correct.

7. Where a 16 year old, or one near that age presents the books for a family, he or she should have Registration card as proof of age.

8. Where a new book will be requested for an infant the Parent should apply first to Ration Administration, Barrie Building.

The public is reminded that although Wednesday, March 29th is a half-holiday the office will be open in the afternoon for issuing books.

Britain Not Consulted Before Soviet Action

LONDON, March 23 — (CP) — Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the House of Commons to-day the British Government "was not consulted beforehand" in the Soviet Russian recognition of the Badoglio government n Italy and is asking Moscow why.

"The British government is in communication with the Soviet Government concerning the establishment of diplomatic relations between Moscow and the Badoglio regime in Italy," Eden said.

In Washington last Friday, Cordell Hull, U.S. Secretary of State, made clear the United States was not consulted before Russia exchanged diplomatic representatives with the Badoglio government.

American Lauds Banting Staff

TORONTO, March 23 — (CP) — The Banting Institute and the Connaught Laboratories of Toronto yesterday were given credit by C. L. Olin of Evansville, Ind., for early development of blood plasma, in refrigerated transport by land or sea and subsequent success of transfusions to Allied wounded.

Mr. Olin, whose firm supplies refrigeration units for the United States armed forces, told the wartime conference of the refrigeration service engineers' society that Canadian and U. S. National Research Councils have been working co-operatively on blood plasma since the start of the war but that Toronto technicians deserve praise for their earlier work.

Officers elected by the society included W. Beavis and C. Cunningham, of London, Ont., directors.

MOUNT JULIAN, Mar. 22 (ENS) —At Mr. and Mrs. John Northey's euchre recently the first prizes went to Ottis Northey and Mrs. Theodore Wilson, consolation prizes went to Miss Marie Wilson, (who played a sa gentleman) and Mrs. Earl Shewen. Eight tables of cards were played. The proceeds from these weekly euchres is used in aid of the local branch of the Red Cross.

16 Colonels

KITCHENER, March 23—(CP).—The twin cities of Kitchener and Waterloo boast 16 colonels or lieutenant-colonels or equivalent ranks in navy and air force from their combined population of 45,000, and they think it's a pretty fair average. Eight are commanding officers of battalions or camps, and almost half are under 40 years of age.

U-BOAT CHAMP—Captain F. J. (Johnny) Walker, triple-holder of the Distinguished Service Order and the British Royal Navy's champion enemy submarine killer. Walker commanded the five British naval sloops which scored the war's greatest single-patrol victory of the battle of the Atlantic by sinking six German submarines within 20 days.

Huns Move Fast To Steady Jittery Balkans

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 23—(AP)—Diplomatic officials here predicted Tuesday that full German military occupation of the Balkans will end independent civil government in Rumanian, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Along with this will go the long-cherished Allied hoped that one or more of the satellite states would make peace before Nazi divisions overran them.

This prediction, made as German occupation troops marched into Hungary amid reports that a similar fate awaits Rumania and Bulgaria, was based on the causes which led to Hitler's new militarist expansion in Southeastern Europe.

Two causes were advanced. One is the steady Russian Army drive into Rumania which confronts the German high command with a military crisis in that part of the Russian battlefront. The other is Hitler's fear that at the crucial moment of the campaign for the Balkans, now beginning, one or more of his neighbors would surrender to the Allies.

From hte Anglo-American-Russian point of view the development situation has some advantages and some disadvanatges:

Militarily, the Germans are compelled to tie up in occupational and policing duties a considerably larger number of divisions than they had heretofore employed. This additional strain inevitably affects their preparations to meet the Allied invasion in the west, combat the Russians in the northeast and grapple with Allied armies in Italy.

On the other hand, since effective German military control eliminates the possibility of successful popular uprising or other peace seeking moves, the Allies have lost their chance of stripping Germany of her satellites without the actual invasion of the area.

Will Knit Sweater For Gen. Eisenhower

PHILADELPHIA, March 23 — (AP). — Enlisted men have sweaters knitted for them, reasoned Mrs. Samuel Hepburn, so why not generals?

She broached the question, on behalf of the Salvation Army Women's War Service Bureau here, to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the answer came in a letter from the General himself:

"I would, indeed, be honored to have one of your sweaters, and would in addition find it a most convenient thing to have. I think size 40 would be about right."

Mrs. Florence C. Appel, assigned to knit the sweater, says she hopes to finish it in time to keep the General warm when he crosses the English Channel.

Queen St. Church Has 66th Anniversary

LINDSAY, March 23 — (ENS) — Rev. Dr. V. T. Mooney of Toronto conducted special anniversary anniversary services at Queen Street United Church. Selections were given by Kiwanis quartette, F. W. Moynes, P. Skitch, H. Manley and A. T. Claxton.

Queen St. Church, this week observing its 66th anniversary was first established in a small frame dwelling on Bertie street. The present Church was dedicated in 1921. Rev. H. C. Wolfraim, present pastor, is now entering his 8th year of service.

Euchre Party Brings $21 Into W.I. Coffers

WARSAW, March 23 — (ENS) — Twelve tables were played at the euchre and dance held in the Orange hall last week with prizes going to Miss Barbara Payne, ladies' high score; second to Mrs. Lloyd Bennett; men's first to Harry Clements; gentlemen's second to Wilbert Wright. An overflow crowd was present and the Women's Institute are richer by $21. Reg. Bolton supplied music for dancing and lunch was served by the members.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

EXIT PLAYS BEAUTIFUL

SOME OF the most beautiful plays in the game are exit plays, whereby one defender helps keep himself out of the lead and sees that his partner gets the lead instead, to put the blocks to the declarer. Many a contract depends on keeping the danger hand from having the lead, so a fine declarer does everything he can to prevent that happening. But the counteraction by the defender who does not want the lead can sometimes thwart him.

North: ♠ Q 7 5 ♥ 9 8 2 ♦ 10 ♣ A 10 9 5 4 2
West: ♠ J 10 4 ♥ A Q 7 5 3 ♦ Q 7 6 ♣ Q 8
East: ♠ 8 6 3 2 ♥ 6 4 ♦ J 8 5 2 ♣ J 7 3
South: ♠ A K 9 ♥ K J 10 ♦ A K 9 4 3 ♣ K 6

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

After West led the heart 5, at each table of a duplicate, every South realized that his contract depended on two things. With eight positive tricks, he must try for the ninth in clubs and, while doing it, must see that East never gets in the lead to come through hearts.

All declarers won the heart lead with the J, then laid down the club K. When West played low, the club 2 was offered and, when the Q went on, a low card was used from dummy, as a safety play. That made the contract certain, and where West returned a heart, South scored a total of 11 tricks.

At one table, West put his club Q on the club K lead, realizing that if South had the J it was gone anyway. South then led a low one, hoping to catch a now singleton J, but when West played the 8, he came up with the A, for fear of letting East in with the J. Next he ran three spades, two diamond tops and put West in with the diamond Q. The latter had to return a heart, giving South his ninth trick.

At another table, West used his Q on the club K in the same way. South tried the same diamond play to put West in on the third round with the Q, but West foiled him by playing the Q on the secon diamond. There then was no remaining way to keep East from getting the lead with one of the minor suit jacks, except by leading a heart to West, and any of these plays would give the defenders the setting five tricks. West in that case had made two exit plays, with his diamond Q and club Q.

Claims All Political Parties Criticize CBC Policy Freely

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said to-day that existing CBC restrictions were 'meant to protect us from any possibility of our facilities becoming a political arena to the detriment of the general public."

Telling the Commons Radio Committee that political, controversial and news commentary transmission were "the bugbear of all broadcasters in free countries," Dr. Frigon denied that it was a CBC policy not to allow criticism of the Government on the air.

"We try to present a fair picture of Government activities and policies, apart from straight political news," he said. "But because of this heavy preponderance of Government news, there is a special obligation to give reasonable space and emphasis to opposition criticism in our bulletins."

He added:

"Our policy in general has been to accept our Ottawa news through the Ottawa Bureau of The Canadian Press which serves papers of different political affiliations."

He said it was an interesting fact that the CBC had been "severely criticized' by supporters of all the Federal political parties.

Use Different Reasons.

"We have even had criticism from more than one party, over a single item, and for entirely opposite reasons," he added.

He described the new CBC policy of free political broadcast time announced last week in a special White Paper. He said the policy was based on recommendations of an all-party Commons Committee which studied the question in 1939. He said the policy had not been applied yet, and did not indicate when it would come into effect.

Speaking of CBC relations with news commentators and news analysts, Dr. Frigon said that as these men should know more than most persons "engaged otherwise in broadcasting" they must be allowed "great latitude" in expressing their views "and whatever they say is to be considered strictly as their own opinion and not that of those who engage them."

Dr. Frigon said that last minute developments sometimes necessitated last minute re-arrangements of commentators' scripts and, consequently, "it will be readily understood that it is not practical or even feasible to expect that their manuscripts will be subject to general censorship."

He added: "when it comes to opinions, the question must be left entirely in the hands of the commentator."

Change Commentators

He said the CBC frequently discussed with its commentators the general trend of their broadcasts "without interfering with their personal opinions. Whenever we find that one man does not completely meet our requirements, we change to some other."

Dr. Frigon said there had been "no change whatever in the manner of running" CBC affairs since he had assumed responsibility of general managership after the retirement from that office last September of Dr. J. S. Thomson.

He cited the widely diversified matters that must be considered. There was a budge of $5,400,000 and 807 employees and on the other end of the activities was a program of international radio broadcasting, presumably the shortwave world broadcasts which are planned for the new transmitter to be installed at Sackville, N.B.

Reviewing the educational policy of the CBC he said programs in this connection were carried on 46 stations and were heard in about 4,300 schools.

He paid tribute to the work of the CBC's staff of war correspondents and engineers overseas who had recorded battle descriptions "at the risk of their own lives." He added: "We have reason to believe that our radio war reporting has not been surpassed anywhere."

He said arrangements had been made to have copies of all reports from CBC war correspondents sent to The Canadian Press and the British United Press bureaux as soon as they were received in Montreal and this had resulted in many stories being carried over the news wires and give "considerable prominence" in many Canadian newspapers.

Willkie Demands Rivals Speak Up

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—Wendell L. Willkie's demand that his potential Republican rivals bring their presidential candidacies out into the open seemed likely today to go unanswered by Governor E. Dewey of New York and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Allied Southwest Pacific commander.

Willkie voiced the challenge in a speech at Appleton, Wis., following publication of a letter from Lt.-Cmdr. Harold E. Stassen, who wrote Navy Secretary Frank Knox that he (Stassen) would do nothing personally to obtain the presidential nomination but would accept if it came to him.

Declaring it was difficult to determine from the letter if Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, was a candidate, Willkie said it occurred to him that men who are unable to discuss the issues with the voters ought to withdraw from the contest.

"All men for whom delegates are running in the Wisconsin primary can say in very simple and unambiguous language that they do or do not desire the voters of Wisconsin to vote for the delegates respectively pledged to their candidacy," said Willkie.

Politicians here interpreted this as a direct challenge to Dewey to enlarge on his previous action in urging the delegates who had filed under his name to withdraw, a request which only a few followed. The same politicians were unanimous in predicting that Dewey would have nothing further to say.

McGeer Proposal Starts Argument

OTTAWA, March 23 — (CP) — Out of a long argument on procedure in Commons banking committee today emerged a decision to call Dr. Clifford Clarke, Deputy Minister of Finance, and Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, as witnesses preliminary to consideration of the Industrial Development Bank Bill.

The next meeting will be Thursday. The committee also decided to ask the House of Commons to refer to it the annual report of the Bank of Canada.

It was on the proposal made by G. G. McGeer (L—Vancouver Burrard) that most of the argument took place. Douglas Abbot, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley said it was always open to the committee to consider the report. There was no need of a special reference. Other members wanted to get down to business on the Industrial Bank Bill without too wide a discussion on general monetary questions.

"If a new order is to be introduced it becomes the responsbility of this committee to take the lead," said John Blackmore, New Democracy Leader who supported Mr. McGeer's motion. He said the committee might easily get lost considering merits of a bank which was to form part of a system, the nature of which was not known.

On a roll call vote, the committee divided 19 to 9 in favor asking for the report of the Bank of Canada.

The proposed bank will have a potential capital of $1,100,000,000 and will be a subsidy of the Bank of Canada. Its purpose is to make medium and long-term loans to post-war industries of small size.

War Committee Has $150 Balance On Hand

WARSAW, March 23 (ENS)—The regular all day work meeting of the war committee was held in the Institute rooms last week with twenty-two women present.

Reports of quilts, yarn and sewing committees were given and treasurer reported a balance on hand of $150 and also reported that new box for equipment would be finished and available for next meeting. Two quilts were completed and two more started. There were three quilt donations for the day.

It was decided to hold a dance in the town hall at a later date and Mrs. Arthur Payne, Mrs. Charlotte Cooper and Mrs. H. G. Digweed were named a committee to be responsible for all arrangements.

Aerial Jabs Growing In Intensity

Laon, Dortmund Smashed During The Night

BY GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 24 — (AP) — American heavy bombers drove into Germany for the third straight day today, bombing military targets in western Germany, a United States communique announced, following strong R.A.F. night blows at objectives in France.

The night attacks included a blow at the railroad yards of Laon, 80 miles northeast of Paris, in which Halifax squadrons of the R.C.A.F. bomber group took part. Other bombers struck at objectives around the industrial city of Lyon in southern France.

In additional night raids, Mosquito bombers unloaded explosives on Dortmund in the Rhur valley and other objectives in western Germany. The Air Ministry said two planes were lost in the night operations, which included mine laying in enemy waters. All the Canadian planes returned safely.

The night activity brought the total Allied air forces over Germany and occupied territory in 36 hours to between 5,000 and 6,000 planes, it was estimated. Bomb tonnage for that period was boosted to around 7,000.

While American heavy bombers smashed into Germany in daylight to the accompaniment of the German warning service, "Achtung, (Attention), Achtung! Strong enemy bomber formations flying over Western German,". other heavyweights bombed enemy airfields in Northeastern France.

These attacks raised to 19 — a new high record— the number of American attacks in a single month. Fourteen of the attacks in March were directed against targets in Germany.

The United States air forces announced that 61 enemy aircraft were

March Bombing Flattens Wewak

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, The Southwest Pacific, March 24 (AP)— More than 2,000 tons of bombs concentrated so far this month on the Wewak sector of New Guinea have done this much damage: wiped out Japanese air resistance; sunk thousands of tons of supply ships, and blown up fuel and ammunition dumps, gun positions and supply stores.

The great weight of bombs, focusing attention on an enemy base more than 200 miles northwest of the closest Allied ground positions south of Madang, passed the 2,000-ton mark for March on the strength of a 200-ton blow dealt Wednesday and reported in today's Allied communique. It was the 18th air punch dealt the Wewak sector over a period of 22 days covered by the reports.

Allied conquest of the Admiralty Islands, 225 miles east of Wewak, has severed Japan's supply route from Truk to New Guinea and left Wewak as the base upon which the Japanese at Bogadjim, Alexishafen and Madang must rely completely for whatever supplies can be slipped in by sea.

Within the past six days, six enemy warships and nine merchantmen or transports of sizes ranging up to 6,000 tons have been destroyed or damaged in waters northwest of Wewak.

Wednesdays raiders sank a 1,000-ton freighter, a 1,500-ton freighter, seven lugger type vessels and 23 barges near islands off Wewak.

PICTURESQUE—BUT DEADLY—The pattern made by these white phosphorus bombs as they burst over a Japanese bomber-fighter plane on Lakunai airfield, Rabaul, New Britain, is beautiful—from a distance—but there are those who can vouch for its effectiveness when used against enemy anti-aircraft positions and parked planes, as in this photo.

War To Last More Than Year Montgomery Says In Speech

LONDON, March 24—(CP Cable).—Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery appealed today to the people of the United Kingdom for inspired support of the invasion armies and declared that the Empire forces we will lead in that operation would be equal to their job.

"Anyway, we shall win," promised the commander of all British ground forces for the forthcoming invasion.

The General, under whose command the Canadian forces will have an invasion role, spoke with prebattle confidence typical of his leadership of the highly successful 8th Army in its campaigns in North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

In a Mansion House luncheon address inaugurating a nation-wide savings week, saluting the man in battledress, he said the British soldier, once given a task, "never let the side down."

"When the fighting men of the Empire assemble for the fray, the final result can never be in doubt," said Monty.

The European war may last a year or longer, he predicted.

He said at the present momentous hour, "the inspiration of the armies requires the inspiration of the nation—of the whole populace in whose houses and homes it lives and who are their fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters and friends. Only from an inspired nation can go forth under these conditions an inspired army."

Gen. Montgomery said: "It is absolutely vital that we realize that 'the tide in the affairs of man which taken at the flood leads on to fortune' will not be for this nation on Armistice Day or Victory Day.

"It will be when our men go forth on this great endeavor. The tide will flow then or not at all. That is the time when there must swell up in the nation every noble thought, every high ideal, every great purpose which has waited through weary years.

"From a consecrated nation such men will abundantly come and 'the Lord God mighty in battle' will go forth with our armies and special Providence will assist our battle...

"All must help and the nation's Church must give the lead. The

Teller Prevents Bank Robbery

TORONTO, March 24 — (CP) — An accountant in the Bank of Toronto branch at Dundas St. and Ossington Ave. in west central Toronto today foiled an attempt by two men to rob the bank, wounding one of the pair in the groin and suffering a slight head wound himself in an exchange of gunfire.

The wounded robber, whose name was not given out by police, is in hospital where his condition is said to be serious. The wound suffered by the accountant, Douglas King was described as not serious.

The two men entered the bank this morning around 11 a.m. while a number of persons were lining up at the teller's cage. One stood at the door with a drawn revolver and the other went to the cage with a sawed-off shotgun.

After one of the men said "this is a holdup" King seized the bank revolver and fired at the man with the shotgun, wounding him. The man returned the fire and King was hit in the head. Customers dashed for safety and the women among them screamed.

Reds Within Sight Of Prut River

Russians Reach Carpathian Foothill Points

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 24 — (AP). — Russian troops drew within sight of the Prut River from heights 15 miles away today and continued their advance in Bessarabia through the first foothills of the Carpathian Mountains.

The Prut is the boundary of Rumania proper. The Dniester, the pre-war boundary, has been breached on a wide front. Five miles beyond the Prut is an important north-south railroad which is the key to northeastern Rumania.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2nd Ukrainian Army was reported increasing the pace of its advance toward the Prut, now that firmer and higher ground is underfoot.

(Between Tarnopol and Proskurov where the Russian announced a 35-mile break-through, the German communique said "grim defensive fighting against superior Soviet combat groups continues." The Germans asserted they had repulsed the Russians northwest of Kovel, 33 miles from the Curzon Line in pre-war Poland. The Red Army also was reported attacking southeast of Vitebsk and on two sides of the isolated Crimea.)

Being Welcomed.

Boris Polevoy, war correspondent in Bessarabia, wired Pravda that the Germans and Rumanians were fleeing in wild confusion, abandoning rifles and machine-guns.

"They grab onto anything they can, to carts and even tails of horses," the dispatch said. "Some more lusky ones fled on oxen."

Polevoy said the peasants of Bessarabia were meeting the advancing Red Army in colorful processions, bearing church banners and traditional offerings of bread and salt.

Farther north Marshal Zhukov's three-day-old drive, which has liberated 200 populated points in a 35-mile advance, took his forces in the heart of the communications area controlling Lwow's connections with the Lower Ukraine.

This strong push by the 1st Ukrainian Army also outflanked Tarnopol, front dispatches reported, and left the twin German defence bastion of Proskurov to the east within the Red Army's salient. It appeared, these dispatches indicated, that the German counter-offensive in this sector has been broken and that immediate wthdrawal or destruction faces Field Marshal Von Mannstein's Axis armies.

The Germans, it was estimated, lost more than 200 populated places and suffered heavily in manpower and material from this drive, which bypassed Proskurov as well as Tarnopol. It was in these sectors that the Nazis recently had mounted strong counter-attacks against the Russian drive to the west.

Drive on Lwow.

Other divisions of Zhukov's army group operating north and west of Tarnopol, pushed southwest from Kremenets through Zalozhtsi, 60 miles east of Lwow, powerful Ger-

Air-supplied Troops Oppose 3-Prong Invasion of India

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH—Associated Press War Correspondent

NEW DELHI, March 24—(AP)—Air-supplied troops of the British 14th Army, fighting off a three-pronged Japanese offensive into India, have dislodged the enemy from three road blocks south of Imphal, it was announced today. A fourth position farther north was being attacked by British troops, a communique from Admiral Louis Mountbatten's headquarters said.

Aiming their surprise offensive from the jungles of the Chin Hills and Kabaw valley, the Japanese cut the road between Imphal, the capital of Manipur in India, and Tiddim, a British area of operations in Burma to the south.

Some of the enemy positions were within 30 miles of Imphal along the road that skirts the western side of the swamps of Lake Loktal to the south, New Delhi despatches said yesterday. Imphal is 40 miles west of the Burma border and about 60 miles north of the border.

A second Japanese force pushing up past Tamu on the border, 45 miles southeast of Imphal, toward the Tamu-Pale road, had been repulsed, an authoritative account said. The closest approach of an enemy patrol to Imphal from this direction was about 38 miles. Palel is 24 miles southeast of Imphal.

The third Japanese force, of a size not yet estimated because of its dense jungle cover, was gathering in the Somra Hill tract, to the northeast of Imphal.

One enemy detachment in the Kabaw Valley southwest of Tamu was ambushed and some of its tanks destroyed.

Allies Superior

The defensive plan appeared to call for holding the two main roads, the one up the Manipur valley from Tiddim and the other from Tamu, leading into the Hillock-dotted plain which would provide plenty of air strips for Japanese aircraft.

Allied headquarters described the Allied forces in the area as superior to the Japanese, to say nothing of the lopsided numbers of planes favoring the Allies.

The defensive position was bulwarked by the opinion of Allied strategists that manoeuvre alone could not win any part of India. The authoritative opinion, therefore, was that the Japanese would have to fight a full-scale battle or withdraw into increasingly-hostile Burma.

Loss of Imphal to the invaders, however, would pose a threat to all Assam and the river, rail and air communications supporting Chinese and Burma operations.

Delayed dispatches reported that the Japanese had lost 600 to 700 in killed in less than a week of the offensive while losses of the British 14th Army were described as much lighter.

The heaviest enemy casualties were in the Chin Hills to the south of Imphal where the dead were estimated at 500.

Hard fighting developed north of Tunzan, 17 mils north of Tiddim in the Manipur Valley, when British troops from the Tiddim area moved north to meet a threat to their flank from an enemy unit which cut the Tiddim-Imphal road

DISCUSS BALKAN PLANS

CAIRO—Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, Allied commander in the Mediterranean, returned today to Algiers after consulting Middle East service and civilian chiefs and representatives of Allied governments in Cairo.

Low-Flying Bomber Stampedes Nazi Cattle Angry Farmer Hurls Rock At Allied Plane

A U.S. BOMBER BASE IN BRITAIN, March 24 (CP). —A United States heavy bomber navigated by Lieut. John A. Tellefsen, Oakland, N.J., flew home from Brunswick yesterday on two engines after buzzing over Germany for two hours at less than 50 feet altitude.

The hedge-hopping of the "Vera Mae" stampeded cattle and made one farmer so angry he threw a rock at the plane.

The engines of the plane were shot up by German fighters, the hydraulic system was wrecked and a box of flares was set afire. Tellefsen smothered the flares and threw them overboard.

A huge black-and-white bird was found imbedded in an engine when the bomber got back to its base.

Howe Tangles With Coldwell On International Cartels

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP). — Belief that international cartels are disappearing and that their disappearance will be to "the benefit of industry" was expressed yesterday in the Commons by Munitions Minister Howe.

He was replying to M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, who alleged that the Government's munitions program had strengthened the position of cartels and monopolies. Mr. Howe said he had used the instruments at hand.

Mr. Howe said he had no objection to attacks on cartels but Mr. Coldwell had singled out two companies for attack, Canadian Industries, Limited, and the Aluminum Company of Canada. Without them Canada's war effort would have been much less and Mr. Coldwell's attacks would be better at a time when the war effort did not depend so much on the skill and co-operation of men in those companies.

Mr. Coldwell said Canada was "exploited" by a cartel in that Canadian Industries, Ltd., was owned by the Du Pont Company of the United States and Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., of the United Kingdom. Canadian Industries had established a subsidiary company called Defence Industries, Ltd., which received advances totalling $260,000,000, which represented about 30 per cent. of Canadian assistance to private war industry.

Mr. Howe, replying, said that it had been agreed that the Government would have the benefit of the engineers and others personnel of C.I.L. and of the patents and industrial processes owned by the company and required in making explosives, without involving the affairs of the Munitions Department with the business of the C.I.L.

The Corporation known as Defence Industries had been set up and it was agreed that any munitions Department business would be with Defence Industries.

Howe's Department Clear

Mr. Coldwell had mentioned a cartel, but the Munitions department had no dealings with it, said Mr. Howe. Similar contracts had been entered into with other companies in the same manner as with Defence Industries. The urgency had been great to obtain explosives and the department had bought where it could get them.

Mr. Coldwell had attacked the Aluminum Company of Canada and Defence Industries, but without these two firms Canada's war effort would have been "a very pale and insignificant thing."

Joseph Noseworthy (C.C.F.—York South) said the Minister had denied any association of his department with Canadian Industries, Ltd.,

German Action Worries Turks

LONDON, March 24—(CP)—Turkish advices reported today German reinforcements had been rushed to all points on the Rumanian and Bulgarian coasts of the Black Sea and indicated possible beginning of full occupation of all Rumania as part of Hitler's preparations for a last-ditch stand against the advancing Russian armies.

Turkey herself was said to be casting an anxious eye over the extensive German troop movements throughout southeastern Europe.

An Istanbul dispatch said it had been learned reliably there that the Germans were in full control of every Rumanian and Bulgarian city on the Black Sea, with all local troops under the command of Nazi officers. The German were said to be using every available boat and barge on the Danube to move troops and material.

By one unconfirmed estimate current in Ankara, the Nazis have drawn off 25 division from their central reserve in Germany in order to occupy Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

These developments re-awakened Turkey's 1941 anxieties—fears produced by Germany's move into Rumania and Bulgaria preparatory to the Greek and Yugoslav campaigns.

The Turks were said to be re-examining the possibility the Germans might invade Turkish Thrace—the bridgehead into the Balkans and the European route to the Dardanelles.

An Associated Press dispatch said a rigorous check in Istanbul in connection with the report that the

FDR Seeking Havens For Refugees

Pledges Independence For Philippines; Flays U.S. Critics

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)— President Roosevelt, reaffirming the intention of the United States to aid the escape of refugees marked for death by the enemy, proposed in a statement today that the free peoples of Europe and Asia temporarily open their frontiers to victims of oppression.

The President also told a press conference in a separate statement that America would fulfill its pledge for independence of the Philippines.

He remarked to reporters that he had quite a bit to offer today on foreign policy, and he spoke in a sarcastic vein of those who, he said, had asserted that this country lacked such a policy.

Reading the initial paragraph of his statement on refugees, he said it was good answer to some people who are wandering around asking bell-hops whether we have a foreign policy. The paragraph said:—

"The United Nations are fighting to make a world in which tyranny and aggression can not exist; a world based upon freedom, equality and justice; a world in which all persons regardless of race, color or creed may live in peace, honor and dignity."

Speaking a bit later of persons threatened with annihilation as "Hitler's forces descend more heavily upon these lands" in the Balkans, the president said that it was fitting that we should again proclaim our determination, that none who participate in these acts of savagery shall go unpunished." That is more foreign policy, he commented.

Cassino Battle Shows No Change

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

NAPLES, March 24 — (AP). — Heavy fighting continued in Cassino with no material change in the situation, Allied Headquarters announced to-day, while two new bomber blows against enemy supply lines in Northern Italy—at Florence and Padua—were disclosed.

Inside Cassino, New Zealand troops still beat savagely against the stubbornly-defended German strong points with the support of tanks and a heavy screen of artillery and mortar fire. The Nazi defenders were supported by both air attacks and increased artillery fire.

Official reports said the latest phase of the relentless struggle for the town's ruins began shortly after noon Wednesday with enemy movements observed near the Hotel des Roses, which still is in the German hands. Allied tanks engaged the Germans there.

Meanwhile the New Zealanders again wormed forward in the ruins and attacked the Germans on the western edge of the town. A spokesman said "some little progress was made and it is believed the enemy suffered severe casualties."

At the latest report the Nazis still held the Continental Hotel. Other enemy strongpoints listed as holding out included the Ducal Palace and Roman Amphitheatre south of the town.

There has been little enemy activity north of the town since the failure of their counter-attack early Wednesday on Castle Hill, near which New Zealanders returned to the attack yesterday. German guns have stepped up the tempo of their fire north of the town, however.

Tojo Hopes for Revolt Against Britain

Military Leaders Minimize Danger Of Japanese Push Into Indian Province

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Japan's General Tojo is straining hard to make capital out of the Nipponese "invasion" across the northeast border of India from Burma, and it's of more than passing interest to find him trying to build a political sensation out of it with the claim that the so-called Indian National Army, with headquarters in Burma, is participating with the idea of liberating India.

There is thus far no major threat, either military or political, against India. Allied headquarters minimize the importance of the attack. However, I'm sure they don't mean for us to dismiss lightly any enemy invasion. We cannot forget that this great sub-continent is the chief Allied base for the final smash against Japan. Its complete security is vital.

Chungking is shocked by the development. Unofficially the feeling is expressed in the Chinese capital that the invasion is supplying the Japanese propaganda guns with the best ammunition they've had in months.

The attack has come in the Chindwin River area of western Burma, where the enemy has driven two or more columns across the border into the Indian State of Manipur. The invaders apparently are headed for Imphal, capital of Manipur and terminus of a good highway which connects in the north with the main Allied supply line—highway, railway, water, air—from India to China.

Gen. Auchinleck, British commander-in-chief for India, sums the position up tersely with the declaration that "no real threat can materialize unless and until the Japanese managed to penetrate points where they can attack our main rail and river communications or our airfields in Assam." He says the Manipur drive is to divert Allied forces and relieve the pressure on the Japonese to the south where the Allies are driving for the big Nipponese airbase at Akyab.

Thats the military angle. It strikes me, however, that there's as much or even more political purpose in this Japanese operation. There is small doubt that Tojo long ago abandoned hope of invading India in a big way, but he never has given up hope of causing revolt against Britain.

Million Italians Slaves In Germany

BERNE, March 24 — (AP) — At least 1,000,000 Italian men and women have been taken through the Brenner Pass during the past 4½ months to man machines in the German armament industry says Avanti, underground Italian newspaper.

The move from Nazi-occupied Italy to the Reich's war plants apparently is continuing in Milan, Turin and other industrial areas, impelled—judging from announcements in the Neo-Fascist press itself —by the lack of food and work in Italy.

Women At Peace Table?

Mrs. Roosevelt Pleads For Delegates

NEW YORK, March 24 —(AP)— When the peace conference convenes, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is "confident that we will see women not only in the United States delegation but also from other countries."

Writing in the April Reader's Digest, President Roosevelt's wife says, "The interests of women who are fighting this war alongside the men cannot be ignored in any decisions for the future.

"If women do not sit side by side with men and hear the arguments as they develop, decisions will be made without the proper basis of knowledge, decisions which cannot be carried out unless the majority of the women in every country co-operate in making them successful."

Mrs. Roosevelt cites Queen Elizabeth, Mrs. Winston Churchill, Lady Reading, Queen Wilhelmina, Princess Juliana, Madam Molotoff and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek as women who ready to think in terms of postwar developments on a world scale.

Canadians Take Prisoners

No Big Attacks Along Adriatic Front

With The Canadians In Italy, March 24 —(CP Cable)—Canadians captured two prisoners and killed killed several other Germans Wednesday night during active patrolling.

A patrol from a Maritime battalion overran enemy outposts east of Tollo, about four miles inland from the Adriatic Sea. They killed two of the four Germans holding the positions, captured one and the fourth Nazi fled.

A second prisoner was taken by Western infantrymen at the southern end of the front. This German, on sentry duty, had little choice but to surrender when surprised by patrols.

Other Westerners in the same sector saw about 30 Germans on patrol but there was no opportunity to make contact with them so the Canadians called for artillery fire.

Patrolling elsewhere on the front was routine. Yesterday morning tanks and artillery combined to shoot up houses north of Tollo which the Germans had been using as observation posts. Weather was blustery and cold.

Hon. Gardiner Promises Price "Floor"

War Effort Of Farmer Highly Praised In Address To Kinsmen

Hitch our future to the quality of our works of war was the essence of the address by the Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, at the Kinsmen Club's dinner at the Empress Hotel last night with a representative company of farmers and their city neighbors as guests.

It was the Club's annual agricultural night providing an opportunity of rural and urban Peterborough to become better acquainted, and was apparently the most successful dinner assembly the Kinsmen have ever gathered about them.

The members of the county council and most of the members of the city council were present with a numerous group of farmers for whom the Kinsmen had invited Canada's wartime Minister of Agriculture.

"The farmers of Canada have done a far better war job than they ever thought they could do," was one of the complimentsMr. Gardiner paid to the representatives of his great body of associates in the basic industry of agriculture at the present advanced stage of their production for victory.

Some of the topics of his address were the necessity for war time controls, the promise of a price "floor" for farm products which he said all parties in Parliament had advocated, the problem of democracy in such a vast country as Canada, and so on down to the familiar exhortation to farmers to maintain the high quality of Canadian bacon, because that is they type the British consumer wants in war and peace.

To that practical phase of bacon production the Minister devoted considerable time and plain speech. Peterborough farmers have heard the message fairly often, if from less highly placed exhorters as the Federal Minister of Agriculture. But, the Hon. James G. Gardiner gave it the last word of authority.

He spoke briefly of post war prospects, and closed by departing from the practical job of farming to a glowing flight of oratory in praise of the youth of the R.A.F. and their stand against the Luftwaffe of Germany in Britain's darkest hours of the air raids of 1940-41.

Many Guests

A. H. Lewis was chairman of the dinner meeting, and Dr. Harold Worton introduced the Minister.

Among those at the head table with the president and Mr. Gardiner, were Mayor Hamilton and Warden Isaac Anderson; Reg. Hunter, president of the Peterboorugh Junior Farmers and secretary of the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture.

Gordon Hancock, president of the Ontario Crop Improvement Association; Alderman R. M. Glover; Reeve Peter J. Mather; S. S. Staples of Cavan, president of the Canadian Clydesdale Breeders Association and president of the Ontario Horse Breeders Association; Lorne Reynolds of Smith, director of the Ontario Breeders Association and president of the Peterborough Jersey Breeders Association.

The president said an inter-departmental committee which has been set up to see what can be done about aiding refugees has been operating successfully and that Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin have been advised fully of what has been going on. People actually are being brought out of Axis-dominated areas, Mr. Roosevelt said.

He said that in areas subjected by aggressors many innocent peoples are "being starved or frozen to death or murdered in cold blood in a campaign of savagery."

Saying that the United Nations inte[illegible] to pursue the guilt and deliver them up so justice can be done, Mr. Roosevelt appealed directly to the German people and to "every man everywhere under Nazi domination" to show the world by his action that he does not share the "insane criminal desires" of Hitler, who is committing crimes against humanity, the president said, in the name of the German people. He asked Germans and others to hide the victims Hitler seeks, help them to cross borders to safety and try to keep them from the hangman's noose.

Lindsay Curlers Want Better Quarters

LINDSAY, March 24 (ENS)—Dissatisfied with their present club quarters and ice condition, Lindsay Curling Club members, at their annual meeting, heartily endorsed a motion to make modern changes for the 1944-45 season. The changes will be made to the present building erected over 50 years ago which will probably include the installation of a system to keep the rink temperature below freezing all winter. The club quarters will also be completely renovated and probably enlarged.

The motion that executive take definite action for improvement was made by Past President F. W. Moynes following an informative address by James Govan president of the Toronto Victoria Curling Club.

Mr. Govan recommended that the club insulate the building and then install fans that would operate automatically when temperature fell below freezing to force the cold air directly over the ice surface. This method, he stated, had proved satisfactory at Orillia and other clubs and was very much cheaper than an artificial ice plant. The speaker criticized artificial ice stating it was not practical for good curling surfaces.

He produced a complete record of daily temperatures in Lindsay since December 10 and drew attention to the fact that during only four days had the temperature at some time of the day or night not fallen below freezing. He stressed the importance of proper drainage as being the first essential feature of good ice surfaces.

The speaker's remarks were endorsed by Ernie McMurty, secretary of the O.C.A., who advised the Lindsay Club not to consider artificial ice. It would prove so expensive that your membership would be too limited," he explained. He complimented the Lindsay Club on their fine record, remarking that the club was one of the best organized and operated in the association.

The meeting was featured with the presentation of cups and trophies as follows: Patron-President bonspiel, R. Williams, S. Gregory, S. Elsden, C. Deyman (skip); consolation, Rev. Stevens, A. Hodgson, S. Pitts, N. Pogue (skip).

Club championship, B. Finney, N. Brown, R. Armstrong, H. McMullen (skip); runners-up, W. Slatter, D. Smith, H. Hardy, G. King (skip).

Leads and Seconds bonspiel, Rev. Stevens, W. Rogers, S. Gregory, W. Lonie (skip); runners-up, E. Smith, H. Marr, C. Parrish, A. McKessock (skip); leads and seconds consolation, W. Bissette, W. Moody, G. Stephenson, G. Preston; runners-up, A. Armstrong, A. Bissette, R. Worthington, Dr. Curtis.

Skips and vice-skips bonspiel, C. Ferguson, H. Woods, F. Spears, C. Lees, H. Hardy, L. McArthur, W. MacMillan, C. Lyons; consolation, F. Weldon, H. Wood, K. Richmond, C. Nugent; W. McBrien, G. Langdon, K. Pinney, F. Moynes.

Special low score prizes, C. Cross, H. Dickey, S. Elsden, J. Mackey.

District Tankard Shield to skips, P. Skitch and B. Everson.

Junior Ontario Tankard winners were presented with the Tankard by C. G. Frost. The rink comprised D. Wunker, C. Worsely, F. Punnet, D. Williams (skip).

During the meeting the Kiwanis quartette comprising F. W. Moynes, H. Manley, P. Skitch and C. Williams rendered several selections and a quiz program on curling was conducted by James Mackey.

Italian Bases Hit By Bombs

NAPLES, March 24 —(AP)— An Allied communique today reported heavy fighting still continuing in Cassino and announced an attack on the Campo Di Marte railway yards in Florence yesterday by medium bombers.

In the ground fighting, a number of prisoners were taken as patrol clash occurred on all fronts.

The communique said good results were obtained in the bombing of Florence rail objectives and a bridge at Potassieve.

Rail facilities at Padua, west of Venice, again were attacked last last night by bombers of the strategic air force. R.A.F. heavy and medium bombers hit that junction point the previous night.

One enemy aircraft was destroyed during the day the communique said. Allied planes flew approximately 800 sorties and all returned.

New Zealand and other Allied troops continued to battle at the southern edge of devastated Cassino to oust the stubborn Nazi defenders while other Allied forces clung to several hard-won heights west of the town.

However, there has been no important change of position reported in the savage fight for the town, key to the Liri Valley which leads to Rome, since Tuesday when Nazi paratroopers were disclosed to have reoccupied the ruined Continental hotel.

Chandos Trustees Ask Teachers For Lists

GLEN ALDA, March 24—(ENS). Trustees of Chandos School Area No. 1 at their meeting on March 11 directed teachers to give the secretary-treasurer a list of all the necessary articles for the schools.

The borrowing of $400 from the Bank of Commerce was authorized in a motion by Mrs. Floyd Post, seconded by James Walke. Another resolution instructed the secretary-treasurer, Kenneth Mace, to pay ecathers their salaries in full

The trustees' levy for the area was passed on the Council, and the secretary's bond was fixed at $1,500.

The Board approved certain improvements to the school grounds that have been made without any expense to the trustees. The money was raised by a concert arranged by the teacher.

No Increase

OTTAWA, March 24 —(CP)— A Post Office Department spokesman said last ngiht that no change will be made in the present airmail postage rate of seven cents an ounce for airmail between Canada and the United States. He was commenting upon an announcement at Washington that the airmail postage rate between the United States and Canada will be increased from six to eight cents an ounce at midnight Saturday.

Despite his wound, the robber jumped on the bank counter in an attempt to get the cash but King, blood streaming from the wound on his face, threw him to the floor and then collapsed.

The two bandits ran out to a car parked about 200 feet away with its motor running. The door was locked and they were unable to open it. The one with the shotgun fired a shot against the lock but it remained intact although a two-inch hole was made in the door.

When the pair ran away and turned down a nearby street where they came to a tall fence. The unwounded man got over it but the other was unable to do so. He tried to crawl through a hole in it but collapsed from loss of blood and was captured by police.

Police said the one who got away was about 18 years of age, five feet, eight to nine inches tall and was wearing brown windbreaker and light colored trousers.

Sodiers Back From Overseas

OTTAWA, Mar. 24 (CP)—A contingent of Canadian servicemen has arrived back in Canada from the fighting and training sectors overseas, accompanied by a group of Canadian nurses back from service in South Africa hospitals.

The small group of fighting men consisted almost exclusively of soldiers, some slightly wounded, others sent back to the Dominion because of lower category, or age regulations, or to act as instructors or take over other posts in the army.

The nurses, dressed in trim blue uniforms, had been members of the South Africa military nursing service, working in hospitals in that country for two years or more. They had answered a call from South Africa for volunteers early in the war, and now were returning home at the end of their tour of duty, most of them hoping to join the Canadian Army as nurses.

Some Still Serving

Of 300 Canadian girls who went to South Africa, they reported, about 75 still remained there. Some had returned to Canada and others now were serving in the Mediterranean theatre.

The nurses included Ann West Derry, Sault Ste. Marie and Collingwood. Ont; Madeline Steinhoff, St. Thomas, Ont.; Elizabeth de St. Remy, Kingston, Ont.; Dorothy Stevens, Erieau, Ont., and Marguerite Singer, Guelph, Ont.

Officers Got Wise

Coming back for a post as an instructor was R.S.M. J. R. Shaw of Weston, Ont., whose 30 years' continuous service with the 48th Highlanders of Canada was severed when he was struck by a fragment from a bomb dropped by a Nazi fighter-bomber near Regelbuto, Sicily, last Aug. 15.

Struck in the leg, he stayed on duty until the end of the Sicilian campaign, but then, he admitted ruefully, "the doctors got wise to me."

Other N.C.O.'s in the movement included B.S.M. Thomas Chatfield, Toronto, who was attached to 3rd Division Headquarters, and C.S.M. John H. McLeod of the Toronto Scottish.

War To Last

fighting services cannot pull their full weight on the battlefront without the full co-operation of the home front....

"Together the whole Empire team will see this thing through to the end It is a proper job for proper men."

"We are preparing to take part in the biggest tug-of-war the world has ever seen, and if anyone should let go of the rope, then we lose the match," said the General.

"How long will the pull last? No one can say for certain. It may last a year, it may take longer. But it will be a magnificent party and we shall win. It will be a proper job for proper men."

"The promised land is not so far off now. If necessary, we have got to hazard all and give our lives that others may enjoy it."

As a battlecry for the nation, Gen. Montgomery—who is the son of a Bishop—suggested "let God arise and let his enemies be scattered."

Just returned from a tour of his troops, Gen. Montgomery said he found them in good trim and added that when they got into battle he believes they will prove the best army Britain ever had. The troops under his command include Canadian forces in Britain.

Counts On Canadians

(Ross Munro, Canadian Press War Correspondent, said 10 days ago following an interview with Gen. Montgomery: "It is obvious that this General... is counting a lot on Canadians to make a good showing in the campaign in Western Europe and he is likely to see that the Canadians have a few 'good parties' when they land on the continent.")

Emphasizing the need for supplying Allied soldiers with the best possible arms, he declared:

"It must forever redound to our shame that we sent our soldiers into this modern war with weapons and equipment that were inadequate. We have only ourselves to blame for the disasters that early overtook us in the field. Surely we must not let this happen again. Nor will we."

One of the chief factors of success in battle, he said, is the human factor, but he added that there must be mutual confidence between commander and troops.

"And the surest method of gaining confidence is success," he added.

Salute-to-the-Soldier Week is being staged as part of a campaign designed to raise £150,000,000 (about $675,000,000) in London alone in the sale of war bonds.

which was a member of an International Cartel. The Minister must have meant only dealings in explosives as it was hard to believe that a Company with 15 important divisions and supplying essential materials for 45 distinct war uses had no dealings with the government.

The C. I. L. at Nobel, Ont., had been closed down recently. He wondered to what extent a pre-war agreement between the parent companies of C. I. L. affected this closing.

Mr. Howe said no agreement had anything to do with the Nobel situation. The Nobel plant belonged to the Dominion and operated at full capacity as long as it was needed. The falling off in demand had caused the closing of plants in the United Kingdom and the United States as well as Canada.

Mr. Noseworthy asked if restrictive clauses in an agreement with the company precluded any possible use of the Nobel plant for making plastics in peacetime, Mr. Howe said the clauses mentioned would not prevent the making of plastics.

If spare manufacturing space could be found he would be glad to use it for the manufacturing of farm machinery, the minister said.

knocked down in yesterday's blasting of six targets in Germany. Thirty-nine of these were accounted for by the bombers and 22 by the fighter escort.

Widespread Damage

While losing 27 heavy bombers and six fighters, American headquarters said an incomplete assessment of the damage done included:—

Handorf arifield—Two out of five hangars hit and left burning. Barracks hit. Heavy concentration of bombs on landing field.

Hamm railroad yards—Direct hits on railroad bridge, this on main line into city. Industrial damage on river front.

Muenster — Damage in densely built up part of city.

In addition the Brunswick district, the aircraft park at Werl and the air force station at Achmer were hit.

The night assault on the Laon yards, 45 miles south of the Pas-de-Calais, the 90-mile-deep French department which the Allies have been bombing heavily for the last seven months, was a part of the coordinated day and night campaign against the network of French and Belgian railroads leading to the invasion coast.

326 Factories Hit

Eleven raids this month have been directed at this network, including two yesterday by American mediums against Creil, 20 miles north of Paris, which they have visited three times in a week, and Haine-St. Pierre, near Charleroi in Belgium, 80 miles northeast of Laon.

A final assessment of comprehensive British reconnaissance photographs and intelligence reports obtained after the R.A.F. unloaded nearly 26,000 tons of explosives on Berlin in 15 heavy night raids from Nov. 18 to Feb. 15 was said last night to have disclosed "administrative confusion throughout Germany and German Europe."

An authoritative British analysis said the R.A.F. raiders had brought an end to almost all industrial activity in Berlin, except for the southeast district, by the end of January.

The survey said that at least 326 factories in Berlin have ben destroyed or damaged, five of them on Hitler's top-most priority list.

Churchill Sees Paratroops In War Trials

LONDON, March 24 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill paid a surprise visit to United States air-borne troops in the English countryside today and in a voice of deep feeling told them they "soon will have the opportunity" of landing upon the soil of Nazi-occupied Europe."

In company with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley, senior commander of American ground forces in the United Kingdom; and Maj.-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, commander of the U.S. 9th Air Force, the prime minister witnessed the colorful spectacle of many hundreds of American skytroops leaping from waves of planes onto the green English fields a few hundred yards from the reviewing stand.

"You have a great part to play," Mr. Churchill told the battle-helmeted paratroopers. "You are specially trained. You are the most modern expression of war."

"It is with feelings of profound encouragement that I have the honor to review you here today. In these weeks which are passing so swiftly I see gathered here on English soil these soldiers, specially trained, of our great American ally preparing themselves to strike a blow for a greater cause than either of our two countries have ever fought for in bygone days.

"It is a world cause because, though no one can tell how the future of the world will shape itself, we are determined that the dark tyrannies which have overclouded our lives and drawn our people from their homes shall be broken and battered down, and that an example shall be made of the guilty which will prevent such tyrannies from being erected again upon the masses of the people."

It was Mr. Churchill's first inspection visit to an all-American unit and the prime minister, in a jovial mood and showing the keenest interest in all the complicated paraphernalia of the American air-borne equipment, paused repeatedly to talk with the men from overseas. Needless to say, the Americans showed even keener interest in the man who brought Britain forward from the black days of Dunkirk to the threshold of victory.

Of that victory he expressed high confidence.

"I thank God you are here," he said, "and from the bottom of my heart I wish you all good fortune and success."

Chuckling and striding along the hayfield amazing vigor for his 69 years, Mr. Churchill climbed up the steep ramp of a giant glider troop-carrier and gingerly lifted his feet high as he stepped over the ugly snout of a machine-gun manned by a soldier along his route of inspection.

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Tempers Flare As Wood Fuel Debate Starts

BY JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) — The Commons yesterday listened quietly to discussion of munitions contracts, international cartels and the government synthetic rubber plant, and then flared into an old-fashioned hammer and tongs debate on wood fuel and distribution of war plants.

There were angry scenes as John G. Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre) said that about $800,000 of the public money hand been "thrown away" in the unnecessary movement of green wood fuel from the lakehead to Winnipeg.

Munitions Minister Howe said the wood had been shipped out in case the weather turned cold and it would be needed in Winnipeg.

Mr. Diefenbaker said he did not criticize the minister for having the wood cut.

"Thank God for that," said Mr. Howe.

"But I do thank the deity that this wood was shipped to Winnipeg, paying an $8 (a cord) freight rate when it could have been stored at the head of the lakes until needed," said Mr. Diefenbaker.

If the wood had been left to dry, the freight would have cost half as much. The timber control authorities had gone ahead with the shipment although the wood was not needed in Winnipeg, 'and in that one small item the people of Canada have lost a matter of from $600,000 to $900,000."

Mr. Howe: "All right, that is a charge we will investigate and see whether $600,000 to $900,000 was lost in the Winnipeg situation. All the wood raised there was not worth that much. My honorable friend is making a very definite charge.. ..I suggest a Royal Commission or a committee to inquire into whether $600,000 to $900,000 was lost."

Mr. Diefenbaker: "The Minister, as ever when faced with facts, seeks refuge in truculence."

Hon. R. B. Hanson (P.C.-York Sunbury) said he had been "astounded" to find that of a total of $714,000,000 invested by the Munitions Department in fixed assets relating to war products facilities and the like, "less than a fraction of one per cent" had been spent in communities outside the central provinces.

Mr. Hanson read the locations of plants which had been given assistance, noting that few were in the Maritimes. He said Mr. Howe had never told of the failures of his department, "and he must have had a good many headaches."

Mr. Howe: "very few....I think the opposition has touched on them all."

Mr. Hanson:...."We have not scratched the surface of the failures because we cannot get the information."

Mr. Hanson said the Clark-Ruse plant at Dartmouth, N. S., had received an advance of $2,500,000 and he wondered if the money was recoverable, "or a dead loss."

Mr. Howe: "My honorable friend has been complaining about no plants built in the Maritimes. Now he has a very decent industry that has done a fine job and he asked if the money is recoverable."

Mr. Hanson said he wondered what the plant buildings would be used for if the firm was to be closed down.

Mr. Howe, "If the Maritimes keep yapping about them——"

Mr. Hanson: "Yapping?' ——I resent that."

Mr. Howe: "yes, yapping, that is all."

Mr. Hansom: "I never yap at anything the minister is doing all the yapping now. And I say, too, that that is a very rude statement and he ought to take it back."

Lionel Chevrier, Parliamentary Assistant to Mr. Howe, said that "much progress" had been made by the Munitions Department towards fixed prices on all contracts. In the last quarter of 43, only 18 contracts out of a total of 308 were on a cost plus basis. In 1942 32 per cent of contracts were cost plus and in 1943 only 9.75 per cent.

Practically all contracts for automotive equipment were on a fixed price basis, but in aircraft contracts this was not possible, said Mr. Chevrier.

"There is no way of determining the efficiency of aircraft except by use in combat," said Mr. Chevrier. "Hence we must ask our plane manufacturers to make frequent changes in design. For these reasons aircraft contracts must be on the cost plus basis and they will probably remain that way."

Many changes in ship contracts had to be made and where originally all ship-construction contracts were fixed price contracts they had been re-adjusted either to a cost-plus or a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee plus a bonus for reduction of cost basis

The latter was the next best thing to a fixed price as it prevented an incentive to cost reduction.

DECAPITATED BY PLANE

NOTTINGHAM England —(CP) —In the first case of its kind in Britain, John Billings was awarded $2,050 against the pilot of an R.A.F. plane which flew so low it decapitated Billings' wife working in a farm field.

SLEEP AND AWAKE REFRESHED

If you don't sleep well—if nights are interrupted by restlessness—look to your kidneys. If your kidneys are out of order and failing to cleanse the blood of poisons and waste matter—your rest is likely suffering, too. At the first sign of kidney trouble turn confidently to Dodd's Kidney Pills—for over half a century the favorite kidney remedy. Easy to take. 114

Allies Wipe Out Enemy Garrison

LONDON, March 24 — (CP). — Yugoslav guerilla leader Marshal Tito (Josip Broz) announced today an enemy garrison on the Adriatic island of Solta had been destroyed by "Allied units supported by planes"—a possible reference to British and American Commando forces reported by Berlin to be operating along the Dalmatian coast.

The Berlin radio announced on March 10 that 1,500 Commandos had landed on the Adriatic Island of Lissa and that other raids on the Dalmatian coast and nearby islands could be expected.

To-day's German communique asserted that "on the Adriatic coast enemy thrusts were repelled."

Tito's broadcast communique said also that Partisan forces had taken a heavy toll of German troops in fierce fighting in the Bijeljina-Tuzla-Brcko sector 75 miles west of Belgrade where the Germans were throwing tanks, armored cars and artillery into the day and night battles.

Real Estate Men Oppose Measure

HAMILTON, March 24—(CP) — Charles E. Purnell of Hamilton, president of the Canadian Association of real estate boards said in a wire to government authorities today that application of a freezing order to leases on homes would end the sale of dwelling in Canada for the duration of the war.

Messages from Purnell and J. B. Laidlaw of Toronto, association secretary, expressed strong protest against any further extension of rental restrictions, especially any action arising from special circumstances in isolated areas.

Institute Hears Talk AboutCanadianHomes

MARMORA, March 24—(ENS).—"Homes in Canada from Coast to Coast" was the title of an interesting lecture given in the White Hall, Marmora, on Wednesday evening under auspices of Marmora Women's Institute. The lecture was illustrated with sixty colored slides loaned by the Department of Agriculture. The reading was given by W. J. Cottrell, with J. A. Rice manipulating the lantern.

Mrs. L. Green, president, presided, and Mrs. E. Belanger was at the organ for community singing.

Cobourg Briefs

Flying Officer Douglas Campbell of Cobourg, who has completely recovered from the harrowing experience of last month when the plane in which he was a member made a crash landing, spent a few days with his relatives in Cobourg and is returning to Trenton with his wife to visit her parents. When his leave is over he will return to air force convoy duty.

Rural residents are not very optimistic over road conditions when winter breaks up. Due to lack of snow this winter, the frost line is unusually deep. When the ice breaks up it will do so suddenly and will not be held back by snow with the result that spring floods should be heavy.

Cobourg Kiwanis Club was addressed last night in the Baltimore Hotel by Harry van Everdingen of Port Hope, commanding officer of the Cobourg-Port Hope Sea Cadets. Captain van Everdingen spoke on the sea cadet movement and its value to the community.

A large number of farmers are expected to gather on the evening of April 1 for the wind-up of Victory Farm Week. A special meeting will be held in the town hall at which the speaker will be Dr. J. B. Reynolds, formerly of O.A.C. who will speak on farm matters. The Kiwanis Club has engaged the services of a professional troupe of entertainers for the evening.

Draftees Not Protected By New Bill

TORONTO, March 24. Premier George Drew made it clear in the Legislature yesterday that Government legislation for financial protection for members of the armed services "will not include those in uniform who have not offered life and limb for their country."

The Premier made his statement in answer to a question by Flt. Lt. L. E. Wismer (C.C.F., Toronto-Riverdale), who asked whether draftees were included. He thought they should be, as the three bills involved were to protect the financial obligations of men in the services. He said many in the active services were needed in Canada.

"Distinction is not drawn," said the Premier. "This is an offer of a special form of protection to those to whom this country is indebted, and this Government is not willing to make special provision for men who are unwilling to fight for their country."

Asked for Review.

Flt. Lt. Wismer had asked the Government to review its bills to include draftees, and wanted to know if there was any distinction between men who were drafted for active service and those who volunteered.

The bills passed through committee stage and now await third reading.

Arthur Williams (C.C.F., Ontario) attacked the Government on the proposal to charge 3 per cent interest for the loan made by the Province to protect a serviceman's insurance policy. There was nothing "meaner" than to make members of the armed forces pay 3 per cent interest on the loan when they returned from overseas.

"The Government that would stoop to do a thing like that is not worth a tinker's damn," exclaimed Mr. Williams.

The House was in the committee stage when this remark was made, and Chairman Roly Patterson (L.-Grey North) called for a withdrawal.

"I withdraw the remark, but I still feel very strongly on the matter."

Later Attorney-General Blackwell said only "sheer ignorance" would have led the member for Ontario to make such a statement, and Mr. Williams replied that "only ignorance would promote such a remark from the Attorney-General."

Earlier in the week, when the insurance protection bill was given second reading, Premier Drew told the House that the 3 per cent interest rate was the estimated cost of financing these arrangements. It was pointed out that if the individual active service member arranged through other sources to take care of his life insurance payments, it would cost him 6 per cent interest.

Golden Links Circle Plans Bale For West

MILLBROOK, March 24 (ENS) — Mrs. G. E. and Miss Jean Burnham were joint hostesses for the March meeting of the Golden Links Mission Circle, at their home King street, on Wednesday evening, the president, Mrs. Elsie Paulson, taking the chair. "God's Dreams" was the worship theme, and Jean Burnham read the lesson from John 4, the missionary was "A Chinese Heroine", and the Circle 'Friendship Story' was read by Miss Mary Widdis.

Marjorie Skitch gave the Christian Stewardship message, and the secretary, Marian Hubbeard, announced $3.50 at the February meeting as offering and 75 cents in fees. The requirements for the 1944 bale were given by the president, good knitted clothing for children of pre-school age, same to be packed and sent to Trinity Church, Peterborough, by Friday, May 26. Final shipment is to be to Oxford House, Manitoba, to which point freight goes only four of five times between June and September.

A sick member will be sent a shower of Easter cards, and the Easter thankoffering envelopes were distributed. The Easter meeting will be on the fourth Wednesday in April, at Mrs. Edmund Ball's home. The hostess served candy during the social hour when a general discussion of the Circle's activities took place.

County Council Shies Off Hospital Plan

PICTON, March 24—(CP)—Opposition to entering into any contract with any corporation for the creation of a new sanitorium in this district until after the war was voiced in a unanimous resolution passed yesterday by the Prince Edward County Council.

Ontario Health Minister Vivian had suggested that such a sanitorium be established to serve this district, with Kingston favored as the site.

Warden Earl Onderdonk reported attending a meeting when municipalities west of Kingston were outvoted as to the site. He did not believe these municipalities were enthusiastic about entering into any co-operative financing of an institution located at Kingston.

On a proposed assessment basis for the amount to be paid by each municipality, Prince Edward county's share of a $400,000 institution would be $23,348, Onderdonk said.

William Henley of Picton questioned whether an institution could be staffed when other sanitoria were unable to secure sufficient help. He saw no need for haste in entering into a co-operative agreement.

St. Andrew's W.M.S. Names Delegates

MARMORA, March 24—(ENS).—The March meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Missionary Society was held this week at the home of Mrs. Doug Sanderson.

Opening exercises were conducted by the president, Miss Margaret Brown. Mrs. Trennum took the roll call, while Miss Brown took the record of calls made. Mrs. H. A. Burwash read the treasurer's report, and Mrs. W. J. Pack, the correspondence. Miss Brown was appointed delegate to the Presbyterial which will be held in Tabernacle Church, Belleville, on April 18, with Mrs. W. J. Pack as alternate. The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. W. Sabine, and will take the form of a joint meeting of the Women's Association and the Women's Missionary Society.

Mrs. Burwash took the worship period, and Mrs. D. Sanderson conducted the study period, with Miss Brown and Mesdames J. Sproul, D. Thomson, W. J. Pack, H. W. Sabine and F. Trennum taking part.

Realism...now and after the war

We hear a great deal these days about postwar planning. Some of it seems sound and practical, and some of it is "crystal gazing."

While literally hundreds of public and private agencies are thinking of postwar planning, there are a few things that realistic individuals are sure of. They know that first and foremost the war has to be won and nothing should interfere with all-out efforts toward this end.

They know that economic tides ebb and flow; that the future, like the past, will experience good times and bad; that when bad times come, many people will face economic hardships.

They know that they, like everyone else, are growing older; that the life of any individual is uncertain; and that in accordance with the immutable laws of nature, heads of families will continue to pass on.

Knowing these things, some 30 million people insured by Metropolitan in Canada and the United States are providing definite measures of protection against these uncertainties of life through some 29 billion dollars of life insurance.

In addition to providing an anchor to windward for the individuals involved and for their families, the thrift of these policyholders is bound to be of a stabilizing character during the postwar period.

This is Postwar Realism of the highest order.

Chief Newhall's Resignation

After twenty-four years as Chief Constable in Peterborough Samuel Newhall has offered his resignation to the Police Commission and they have accepted it. In his letter of resignation the Chief made it clear that he has been considering retirement for some time, but has been deterred because there is no provision for a pension attached to his job. He said plainly that he thought a pension was his due, and the Commission undertook to recommend to the City Council that he be granted $1,300 a year for six years. The Commission cannot grant pensions on its own authority.

This brings up a matter which has been discussed many times before. Would it not be a wise and fair thing for Peterborough to set up a pension scheme for its civic employees? The police and the firemen give long service, and they are not highly paid. If they are married men with families it is likely to take all of their salaries to make ends meet, and they are unable to save enough to provide for a comfortable old age. These men deserve well of the city, but the city makes no provision for them. Is it not time that a system was established which would assure them of good treatment when they reach retiring age?

It must be emphasized also that unless a pension scheme is set up it will become increasingly difficult to keep the services of civic employees of the best type. The salaries offered in police and fire department jobs are not large, and men of initiative will only take them if they can see a reasonably secure future; otherwise they look for jobs in other cities where the opportunities are greater. It is obvious, of course, that the type of service demanded of firemen and policemen, being dangerous, asks for something in the way of special reward.

During his long term of service Chief Newhall has given Peterborough the best that was in him. The good wishes of many friends will go with him into retirement.

Democracy At Its Worst

Big Bill Thompson, who was mayor of Chicago from 1927 until 1930, is dead. Big Bill was a rich, vulgar, ignorant and mischievous man who became mayor of the second largest city in the United States by appealing to the vulgarity, ignorance and love of mischief which may be found in any electorate by a politician who is sufficiently vicious or insensible to stir it up. His regime as mayor was frequently charged with corruption on a grand scale, and the charges were never adequately refuted. Big Bill, and the Chicago Tribune which backed him, may be said to represent democracy at its worst. If democratic institutions have ever sunk lower than they did in Chicago in his day we have not heard about it.

Paradoxically, a democracy cannot function well unless a great number of citizens—perhaps a majority of them—are prepared to behave like aristocrats. They must be ready to put public interest before self-interest; they must shoulder responsibilities and acknowledge duties and obligations. There was nothing of the aristocrat about Bill Bill or any of his gang. He knew, with a petty politician's instinct, that he could never appeal to an electorate on grounds of reason, but that he could head the polls if he told enough lies, boasted with sufficient shamelessness, and unleashed the powers of unreason.

And so Big Bill declared that American history books were full of lies inspired by the British, and swore to right this wrong. The King of England, said Bill, had better keep his snout out of Chicago, and if that monarch ever dared set foot in Bill's domain he (Bill) would bust him in the nose. He kept up this nonsense for three years, and for three years there were enough yahoos in Chicago to elect him. In 1931 the revolted city defeated Bill, and he returned to the obscurity from which he sprang.

It is pointless to waste contempt on Bill's memory. He was a laughing-stock everywhere except in Chicago while he lived, and in death he is as little impressive as he was in life. But he is worth remembering because he shows us how low democracy can sink; he shows us the sort of man who can be elected to office. While we celebrate the virtues of democracy these days, we should never forget its dangers.

Commander of H.M.C.S. Peterborough

The county and city of Peterborough will, we are sure, be deeply gratified that a local man, Lieutenant John Raine, has been chosen to command the corvette which will bear the name of this district. It will be a matter of two months or more before H.M.C.S. Peterborough is ready for commission, and it may not be dedicated for some time after that, but when the corvette goes to sea it will be a Peterborough ship with a Peterborough man in charge of it.

Links established in this way between the home front and the services are of great value and interest. Peterborough (city and county) has contributed a remarkable number of men to the Royal Canadian Navy, and now it is to have a corvette named for it, and an officer from this city in command of the corvette. It is a matter of pride to this inland area to feel that its contributions to the war at sea are known and appreciated. We might have done no less if there had been no recognition forthcoming; but the recognition is sweet, all the same.

What To Tax

When she spoke before the Commons Social Security Committee on Wednesday Mrs. Cora T. Casselman, who represents Edmonton East, said that she thought that part of the cost of national health insurance could be covered by a tax on luxuries, tobacco, liquor, moving pictures and gambling. Of course all these things are heavily taxed already and a further tax would only make them more expensive and put them beyond the reach of many people who want them. However, that is not what we wish to comment upon, for we do not believe that the Committee took Mrs. Casselman's suggestion very seriously.

What we wish to point out is that very large sums are raised every year by an amusement tax which adds to the cost of every ticket to the movies, and the theatre where it exists. That is, in effect, a tax on the art of the drama as it exists in Canada. But not one red cent of that money is used to further the art of the drama or any other art in this country. The tax was levied because it was obvious that people must have dramatic entertainment and would pay the tax in order to get it. But we submit that it shows a poor and ignorant spirit in a country to tax an art which is enormously popular and without which people cannot happily exist, and to do nothing whatever to improve, or encourage, or aid the development of that art within the country. And it is not pleasant to find an M.P.—a representative of the people—who frankly puts dramatic entertainment with booze and horse-racing as a low taste upon which a punitive tax may be put without danger of public protest.

Error About Income Tax

In our issue of Wednesday, March 22, we published a letter from a correspondent protesting gainst what he believed was an injustice in Income Tax Form T1 Special. He understood item 13F to say that 5 per cent. must be added to the total tax by those filing their forms late, and as 90 per cent. of income tax is now deducted at the source this is obviously unjust; we should not be compelled to pay a penalty on the whole amount of the tax when far the greater part of it has already been paid.

Our correspondent has misunderstood the matter, and to clear up the misunderstanding we quote the relevant passage from Lancelot Smith's latest edition of his book, How To Prepare Your Income Tax: "The balance owing on account of your 1943 Income Tax, after taking credit for taxes deducted at the source during 1943, and any instalment payments which you may have made, is payable on or before April 30, 1944. Any amount not paid on April 30, 1944, will bear interest from April 30, 1944, to the date of payment at 8 per cent. per annum unless you are an instalment taxpayer, in which case the rate will be five per cent."

We hope that this clears up the difficulty.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Stalin And Badoglio

(From the Winnipeg Free Press)

IN becoming the first of the United Nations to extend full diplomatic recognition to the Badoglio government of Italy, Russia last week administered another spanking to the left-wing and right-wing theoreticians who have insisted with such fervor that this was an ideological as distinct from a national war and that it should be conducted as such.

With the ideological right-wing we need waste little time, for while it has been vocally abusive, it counts for little. Its theme, ever since Russia entered the war, was that it was a struggle which we could not win. If we defeated Germany the Bolshevism of Europe would logically follow. By helping Rusia we were only setting up an even greater threat to world peace than Nazi Germany had been and ultimately we would have to engage in a third world war to destroy the godless Bolsheviks.

Though this point of view has found many noisy advocates in the United States, advocates who have stopped at nothing in their efforts to drive wedges between the United Nations, it has happily found little sympathy within the British Commonwealth. One reason for this may be the wise pronouncement which Mr. Churchill made in June, 1941, immediately after Hitlers invasion of Russia. In it he admitted his previous opposition to Communism and he retracted nothing. Yet he set the line clearly for us all when he said that whoever fought Germany was our friend and would get all the help in that struggle it was possible for us to provide.

THE left-wing ideologists in Britain, in Canada, and in the Untied States cheered Churchill's pronouncement. They set up, soon after, their clamor for the second front, and they began to snipe at the war leadership. When things went bad in North Africa, because we had been forced to spread our greatly over-taxed forces too thin, it was contended that the ideological blindness or bias of the Churchill administrations was to blame.

Then came the North African landings and the deal with Darlan. The uproar from the left was ear-splitting. It rose to a deafening crescendo when the Casablanca formula of unconditional surrender was released to the world. This, according to the left-wing, was the final touch of idiocy. Instead of trying to drive wedges between the Nazis and the German people, we had driven them closer together and prolonged the war. They confidently predicted that Marshal Stalin, a political realist who knew how to fight an ideological war, would never fall for such nonsense. When the Russians pumped anti-Nazi propaganda at the Germans this fed the confidence of the critics.

BUT when Stalin accepted the Casablanca formula it was a bitter blow. Another was to fall with the appointment of a Russian member to the Mediterranean control commission. Still another came with the Russian approval of the arrangement made with the Badoglio government over the surrender of the Italian fleet. The final touch has been added by the Russian recognition of the Badoglio government. As Anna O'Hare McCormick wrote in the New York Times:

"The wheel of fortune is turning fast; all that remains to make the circle complete is for Stalin to join with the Pope in a plea to spare Rome."

What, then, does all this add up to? To this: We are fighting this war not for any vague ideological theory but mainly in the interest of the national survival of each of the allied nations. We are fighting to destroy the insane lust for world domination of two nations—the German and the Japanese.

The Russians have shown time and again that they are fighting to save Russia. To achieve this goal the Stalin regime is willing to walk with the devil, if necessary. The same is true of Britain and Canada. If Mr. Churchill, a Tory imperialist, followed his supposed ideological bent he would support the Mihailovitch cause in Yugoslavia with everything in his power. Yet the British government has made common cause with General Tito, who is a Communist and an opponent of General Mihailovitch.

Marshal Stalin would not be found on the same side with King Victor Emmanuel and Badoglio in any ideological war, yet he became the first to exchange ambassadors with the Italian regime. He is clearly willing to cast aside his ideological prejudices in the interests of his country. In doing so it is quite apparent that he cares nothing whatever for the feeling of his party liners elsewhere in the world. In making these sharp turns in policy, he is in a position which other United Nations leaders are not. He does not have to worry about public opinion. He does as he desires and his decision is accepted.

BECAUSE this is not an ideological war, but a war for national survival of all those engaged in it, it is inevitable that there will be an intensification of nationalism arising from the war. We have seen how the war has affected Canadian nationalism, Russian nationalism and United States nationalism. Nationalism in its best sense—an abiding love of homeland, faith in its destiny, confidence in ourselves and loyalty to our country—this nationalism is good, it is real, it is a force in the world.

Yet, if it turns chauvinist, it is a threat to our future security. Our main task in the years to come must be to keep that from happening. It will not be easy, but it must be done. One of the favorable factors which may help us along the road to the achievement of a world free from fear is the recognition everywhere of the interdependence of peoples. Nationalism has grown stronger, but with it has come understanding, better understanding by more people than ever before, that each nation, owes something to every other nation and that each nation must get along with all other nations. To achieve this may require that we modify our thinking about each other and be willing to test our ideological theories in the acid of reality. The Russians in their latest move have again shown their willingness to make this test. Badoglio and the ex-Fascists and reactionaries by whom he is surrounded are not congenial companions in the march to a better world. Other and more enlightened forces exist. In due course these must be encouraged and helped by like-minded people all over the world. Meanwhile, the war must be fought out.

No Apologies Needed

Americans are said to make more noise than anyone else when they go to war and to make more noise on the beaches during an amphibious operation than anywhere else. The way the war is going for the United States in the Pacific these days, everyone will concede that the Americans really have something to shout about.—Buffalo Courier-Express.

NO FREEDOM FROM FEAR HERE —By Rube Goldberg

War Profiteers?

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE Ottawa departmental store of A. J. Freiman, Limited, last year paid $250,000 to the Dominion Government in income and excess profits taxes. The profits distributed to the owners of the business amounted to $106,084. In other words, the people who operated the concern, ran all the investment risk, and did all the work under great difficulties, made considerably less than half as much money as the Government, which did nothing but collect its share under the law.

Those who, seeing commercial concerns unusually busy, imagine that privately-operated businesses are "making money out of the war", should correct their impression. From the very outset of the conflict Canadian business, large and small, has been shorn of all excess profits that were due to the war—and that of course is the way it should be. "Holes" in the excess profits tax have been systematically plugged. Expenses have to be normal as well as profits and even "allowed" expense often means only that some other firm pays the money to the Government in excess profits.

Take Government war advertising that has apparently enriched the coffers of newspapers and other publications. Practically all the proceeds are returned to the Government in excess profits, with the result that the Government receives its publicity free. And the newspapers are left with the worry of providing newsprint for that publicity out of their greatly reduced quota of paper.

The Government policy is sound. Funds have to be provided for the war. If we don't win the war the businesses now contributing so much in taxes won't be worth anything—or very much less than they are valued at now. But businessmen do have reason for complaint that so many thoughtless people believe that they are war profiteers.

About Admirals On Bicycles

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

WE suspect there's at least one girl in the Government service in Ottawa whose talents are being applied in the wrong place. Instead of working at a prosaic office job she ought to be a shining light in the Department of Fiction and Literary Embroidery—if there isn't such a department it could be created for her.

This young woman went home to Victoria the other day and one of the home-town papers printed her picture—she looks charming and intelligent—and an interview. Wild horses, as they say, couldn't drag her name from us—she will be punished sufficiently, we think, if she reads once more these extracts from the interview:

"It's grand not to have to put on layers of clothing every time you go out (as in Ottawa)...

"I work from nine in the morning until midnight nearly every day of the week and what little time I have for recreation is spent in horseback riding....Easterners do little riding....

"Admirals riding bicycles is a common sight, for few cars are being used in Ottawa....

"Ottawa might well be called the city of women, with 10 girls to every man. And nearly two-thirds of the girls are from the West. They don't travel in the East, as the Westerners do, and I found that most Eastern girls had never been more than 60 miles from their home towns."

Really it isn't right to kid the home-town folks like this. It just isn't right, we say. Here we have countless Victorians believing, on the authority of one of their own people, that Ottawa is a place inhabited mainly by girls from the West, admirals riding bicycles because automobiles are scarce, that these poor girls from the West, putting on "layers of clothing" every time they go out, commonly work 15 hours a day and have but little time for riding, that their Eastern sisters for the most part are simple and untravelled, never have seen even Prescott. We should like to see this observer of strange life explaining to an admirer from Victoria the traffic jam in Connaught Place, the singular shortage of admirals riding bicycles, and the obvious fact that girls wearing very many layers of anything are even rarer.

But in the end the girl from Victoria does atone, in some measure, for her fanciful picture. She says flatly she "couldn't live" in Victoria "after the excitement and activity of Ottawa". Despite all our odd notions, that is, and our queer ways, she prefers the rigors of the Capital to the soft charm of Vancouver Island, and for that we can forgive her much. That shows the girl has character. Perhaps, like so many travellers home from strange places, she was just anxious to tell a good story. Travellers have been doing that since Herodotus started it.

The Endangered Ceiling

The longer the war lasts the more difficult is the battle against inflation. The income tax has certainly reduced the purchasing power of a part of the population, the middle class, the white collars and those who live on their incomes, all affected in addition by the increasing cost of living and the absence of a cost of living bonus. But there are hundreds of thousands of workers for whom money has never been so abundant. They would be spending foolishly and outbidding one another without the restrictions and more particularly without rationing. Let us not forget that official rationings are the only things that contribute to the fight against inflation....However, Mr. Ilsley is still uneasy, and sometimes he seems to hear the cracking of his ceiling of prices and wages. If the ceiling has been able to hold so well up to the present it must be recognized that it has been more difficult in the last few months. In Canada it is constantly shaken by demands for readjustment of wages which, when they are granted, are translated into an increase in net costs.—Three Rivers Le Nouvelliste.

Indians and English

The British have turned over entire ports to the U.S. Navy. They have moved out of villages to provide billets for our troops. Even fields and hedges lovingly tended for generations, have been opened to the mercies of our tank crews, who must have room for manoeuvres. "I'm beginning to understand what the American Indian went through," an Englishman recently commented.—C. V. Murphy, in Fortune.

CCF and Have-Nots

The CCF is quite active in Renfrew county. It may be that the platform espoused by the followers of Mr. Coldwell in some way appeals to people more than the Liberal and Conservative plans. Certainly we have some tall promises from the two old parties which, if they could be worked, would do as much for the have-nots as the CCF. But somehow or other those who hope for a living without work cannot believe that Mr. King, whom they know, will do it as well as Mr. Coldwell, whom they do not know. — Renfrew Mercury.

Editors Heard It First

Some time ago complaints were made to 10 Downing Street by the editors of Britain's newspapers that they weren't receiving enough "background information" from the Prime Minister about certain phases of the war. The editors immediately were invited to Churchills office. They assembled there, and then the Prime Minister entered, glowing. "What is it," he asked them, "that you wish to be addressed about?" "Well....er....shipping," said one editor. Churchill then delivered to them a forty-three minute speech about the shipping program; confidential matters which fascinated the secret-loving editors. They left 10 Downing Street eminently pleased. The next day Churchill, who always likes to rehearse and test the reaction to his speeches, arose in Commons and delivered, almost word for word, that same forty-three-minute speech.—Leonard Lyons, in New York Post.

A Bible Message

He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God, in him will I trust....

Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation; there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. (Ps. 91: 1, 2, 9-11.)

And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight. And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together. And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep, and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him. When he therefore was come up again and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed. And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted. (Acts 20: 7-12.)

Science, Philosophy and Religion

Most of us think of the world of the future in terms of scientific advancement—with perhaps a flavour of economic evolution added. Dr. Mortimer J. Adler, who visited London to speak to the Catholic Culture Forum, gave a word of warning. He pointed out that the present stress on science to the exclusion of both philosophy and theology is as dangerous and unbalanced as earlier tendencies to stress theology or philosophy and suppress science.

Theologians and scientists should mind their own business Dr. Adler said—evidently speaking as a philosopher—and there would be no dispute as science dealt with investigation and religion with faith and faith was not a matter for proof through investigation.

This is a matter of more than academic significance. The last half-century has seen miraculous developments of science without any balancing growth in philosophy or religion. Germany, for a while at least, seemed to lead the world in science. Can it be that science as a guide is insufficient?

Some people regard science as a form of philosophy. The old name was "natural philosophy," and by some the scientific approach is upheld as a possible means of solving all problems. But that demands a definition of science much more comprehensive than is generally accorded. Science becomes if not a religion itself, at least a gateway to religion. But admitting that this attitude has some strong exponents it is worth pondering on Dr. Adler's address and on his contention that education should be directed towards something other than technical ends.—London Free Press.

Mexico Shows How

An American magazine....recently published an article concerning doctors and medical service in Mexico....In Mexico a young doctor cannot now obtain his final diploma giving him the right to practice freely until after he has passed a period of six months in a small town or in a little centre designated by the Government. Ordinarily these posts are situated miles and miles from a railway or even from a practicable road. The young doctor....in the accomplishment of this sort of far-off mission even if it is in the centre of the country, must teach the Mexican farmers the elementary rules of health; about water, milk and many other things....This Mexican initiative....may serve us with an example to follow in most of our colonization centres, particularly in Abitibi and Temiskaming. Many colonies, open for fifteen years in both regions, have never had a doctor and cannot foresee the day, the circumstances being what they are, when it will be possible to have one. In most of these cases a doctor is to be found ten, twenty and sometimes thirty miles away.—Montreal Le Devoir.

3 Companies Battle For Air Supremacy

By JAMES J. STREBIG
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP).—A titanic struggle between United States interests for commercial air supremacy over the Atlantic was foreshadowed today by announcement that American Airlines, Inc., is seeking to acquire control of American Export Airlines, Inc.

An agreement under which American Airlines would purchase a dominant interest in Export Airlines for $3,000,000 subject to approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board, was announced jointly last night.

American Export Lines, Inc., a steamship company which established the International Airline Subsidiary in 1937, has been ordered by the C.A.B. to comply with a law which forbids control of air carriers by surface carriers.

Significant features of the proposed deal include:

American Airlines, which is the United States' largest domestic air operator and has routes also to Canada and Mexico, would acquire valuable operating rights over the Atlantic, in that it would gain a broad step on other domestic carriers hoping to fly the Atlantic.

Export Airlines is the only company to challenge powerful Pan American Airways, Inc., across the Atlantic. The war interrupted the struggle after the C.A.B. had granted export certificates to operate between the United States and Ireland and Portugal. With the war, Export began flying to Ireland and Africa as a contract carrier for the Navy and is operating regularly.

American Airlines also is flying world air routes under military contracts, and the two companies will have considerable experience to pool when peace comes and the battle to displace Pan American enters the competitive flying stage.

The proposed transfer of control is certain to intensify activity in Washington concerned with this country's post-war international air transport policy. The United States now is the only country with more than one important foreign operator.

Springbrook Lodge Entertains Friends

BONARLAW, March 24 (ENS) — Officers and members of Springbrook Lodge No. 429 Independent Order of Oddfellows, and visiting brethren from Stirling entertained a number of friends, not members of the Order, at an at-home held in the Lodge room on Tuesday of this week.

The Noble Grand Howard Martin, acted as chairman. Addresses were given by Earl Fox, District Deputy Grand Master, of Stirling, and J. F. Baker of Springbrook Lodge. A recitation was given by Past Grand Alex Park of Stirling and Murray Bateman contributed a vocal solo, playing his own guitar accompaniment. Past Grands Howard Ashley and William Patterson of Stirling both gave short addresses which sparkled with humor and delighted those present.

A very pleasant hour was spent playing euchre ad in social intercourse after which the committee served a lunch of coffee, cake and sandwiches.

68 TUBE SHELTERS

LONDON — (CP — Since the renewal of air raids on London, 20 additional deep tube stations have been opened all night as shelters. This makes a total of 68 such stations available for shelters all the time and another nine opened during alerts.

Flier Decorated Wife Also Serving

OMEMEE, March 24 (ENS) — It was announced that the D.F.C. had been awarded on March 18 to Flt. Lieut. James R. H. Johnson, son of Mrs. Johnson and the late Robert H. Johnson of Glen Farm, Omeeme.

As a boy Jim Johnson attended the Public and High Schools of Omemee, later Lindsay Collegiate Institute. Following this, he enlisted his father in the work and management of their farm just west of Omemee.

In December, 1940 he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force, reporting for duty at Manning Pool in January of the next year. He received training in Jarvis, Toronto, Windsor and Brantford where he graduated as a pilot, receiving his wings in October 1941. Following this he was sent to Penfield, New Brunswick, for further training in Navigation and late in the same year he was posted to No. 1 Wireless School in Montreal where for seven months he served as Staff Pilot. He was posted overseas on August 1, 1942 and arrived late in October. Before leaving Canada, he received his commission as a Pilot Officer. Further advancements in rank first to Flying Officer then to Flight Lieutenant were awarded overseas.

Credited with Kills

After some months intensive training, Flt. Lieut. Johnson was posted to Squadron 418, called the Intruder Squadron. Since then he has made many operational flights over enemy territory, flying a Mosquito Bomber with his Navigator, P.O. James Gibbons of Vancouver B.C. More than once they have been mentioned in dispatches as having been successful in shooting down enemy planes.

For what particular incident the D.F.C. was awarded is not yet known.

Before embarking for overseas James Johnson, then Sgt. Pilot, was married to Anne Henery of Carleton Place. Mrs. Johnson too serves in the R.C.A.F. and is on the nursing staff of the hospital of T.T.S. St. Thomas, Flt. Lieut. Johnson's mother, Mrs. R. H. Johnson and his sister Helen both reside in Toronto.

U.S. Bomber Crews Practise Invasion

A U.S. BOMBER BASE, ENGLAND, March 24—(AP)—Units of the U.S. 9th Air Force are being put through a series of rigid exercises designed to prepare this tactical arm to move rapidly from British bases to conquered territory after the invasion of Western Europe gets under way. As a part of these maoeuvres hundreds of men and planes, and vast quantities of equipment were transferred yesterday from one Marauder base to another 120 miles away. The operation was staged on only two hours notice.

Bethel W.A. Meets

BETHEL March 24—(ENS)—The Woman's Association of Bethel United Church held an interesting meeting Tuesday with the president Mrs. Ernest Fife, in charge. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. H. Mckay, thoughts on the lesson were given by Mrs. H. Borland; a paper on "The influence of the weather" was read by Mrs. Harry Reid. A short address was given by Rev. G. Murray on "The value of the Women's Association in the Community." The minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Donald Fife and it was decided to leave the arranging of the April meeting in the hands of executive. Mrs. Murray conducted a contest, after which games were played. Refreshments were served.

Chose Candidates For U.S. Election

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(AP).—Maine and Louisiana lead off tomorrow in a seven-state series of political conventions and primaries that will name 217 Republicans and 142 Democrat delegates for the national conventions by April 1.

In the busiest period of a dawning presidential campaign, Republicans will choose 13 delegates in Louisiana tomorrow, 14 in Minnesota Saturday (followed by seven more on April 1), 85 in New York on March 28 (with eight to be chosen later), and 23 in Iowa and 19 in Kansas both on March 31.

The Democrats will select 10 in Maine tomorrow, 10 in Arizona Saturday and 90 in New York on March 28 (with six to be chosen later.)

Thus far the Republicans have selected only 63 delegates, too few to give a reliable indication of a trend toward any one of the leading presidential candidates.

WHY TIDES COME IN—Well, if you were the tide, away, away out, wouldn't you come in for a look at something as gorgeous as this? The lovely lady is Ava Gardner, of whom no less a judge than Lionel Barrymore said: "She's got what it takes." Who are we to differ?

Needle Gulper Denies Charge

LONDON, March 24— (CP) — former Coney Island sword swallower, now a Canadian Army private, found his skill useful for obtaining better food, he told a Canadian Army court martial Tuesday.

(The Daily Mirror identified the soldier as Pte. Paul Gagne. Official army records give Gagne's home town as Montreal.)

The soldier testified that while he was in detention barracks on a bread and water diet he swallowed two needles so he could be sent to hospital where the food was better. He pleaded not guilty to charges of attempting to render himself unfit for service.

Swallowing two needles was nothing, the soldier added. His Coney Island repast was razor blades, light bulbs and bits of glass.

Otonabee Red Cross Plans Paper Drive

KEENE, March 24—(ENS)—The membership drive for Otonabee Red Cross Society is meeting with a good response, the proceeds from this will be used for buying material to make supplies. Last year the society spent over $1,000 for material. The quota of $2,000 has been met through the County Council.

A drive for waste paper and cardboard is being arranged through the schools in Otonabee during the Easter week. There is a great need for these and contributors are asked to bring all newspapers tied in bundles to the school in your community, this will be collected under the Red Cross Salvage. Announcements are being sent to all schools in the township and co-operation is asked of teachers and children.

Chaplain Corps Losses Heavy In Battle

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP)—Chaplains don't fight, but they do get killed in battle.

Only the air forces and the infantry have suffered a higher proportion of casualties among their officers than the Chaplain Corps, the United States Army reported today.

To the end of last year, 19 chaplains were killed in battle, 19 wounded, 33 were prisoners, one was missing in action and 31 had died of accidents or illness in the war.

SHRAPNEL FOR PROOF

LONDON — (CP) — Metal shrapnel that fell during an anti-aicraft barrage was produced in court by Mrs. Annie Burrell and saved her from a fine from an alleged blackout offence. It was explained that the splinter pierced the roof of the Burrell home, damaged wires and caused a short-circuit which turned the lights on.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY RELIEVED
If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.
For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any IDA or other drug store and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.
If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

Yankee Players Enlisting; Weatherly Goes

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—The Yanks are going, and at the rate the world champions are departing for the service perhaps it was slightly prophetic when Skipper Joe McCarthy had the boys participating in a potato race yesterday. The American League race will be just that to them if the migration continues.

Outfielder Roy Weatherly is the latest definitely to be lost. It was learned yesterday he can expect to go into the service April 1.

To add to McCarthy's woes, Jack Phillips, a combination outfielder-infielder McCarthy had been watching, announced he would leave today to meet his draft board April 1.

Just a week ago the Yankees lost Catcher Bill Dickey and Second Baseman Joe Gordon, and with Weatherly, who played centre field part of the time last year, gone, the club has lost its backbone, as the saying is the strength of a team is through the middle.

News of other camps:

Wallingford, Conn. — Infielder Whitey Weitelmann of the Boston Braves threw his right elbow out of joint yesterday in batting practice.

French Lick, Ind. — Things were looking up today for Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Cubs, who was informed Outfielders Bill Nicholson and Andy Pafko would drift into camp this week-end. Both have been holdouts.

French Lick, Ind.—Arrival of First Baseman Hal Trosky and Outfielder Guy Curtright yesterday brought the White Sox roster to 33.

Lakewood, N.J. — The New York Giants' list of holdouts was down to six today, and only one—Ace Adams—is regarded seriously.

BEST DRESSED VOLUNTEER —Mrs. George Fielding Eliot, of New York, selected for the fashion academy award as the best dressed woman in volunteer war work. Mrs. Eliot is shown in a cool about-town silk frock featuring black dots on a maise background. Corresponding belt is edged in black net. Matching bag and hat are made of black satin.

GRO-PUP contains as much protein* as the BEST CUTS OF MEATS

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

With the winning of the City League title by the C.G.E. basketball at the Y.M.C.A. has folded up for the season and the indications are that except for competition among the younger boys the cage game as an organised sport will cease to exist until after the war. The call of the armed services has been steadily draining available material until at the present time the number of players of any experience left could be counted on the fingers of one's two hands. The probability is that some of the few remaining players will be gone before the time for re-organization comes around next fall and that it will be found impossible then to form the House League and City League for next winter's operations. The House League by generous drafting of young material managed to function during the past season but the City League, once a most flourishing loop had to start with three teams and finished with two when the team from the Military Training Centre had to fold up when its players were moved out of town. Since the league started the two other teams have also lost player strength and the cage game at the present writing is about shot.

The smashing show staged by clever Frank Sexton and the powerful Texan Krippler Karl Davis in the semi-final on Tuesday night's card at the Brock Street Arena has earned the pair of battlers main bout billing for next week's card. "I had other plans for next week," Promoter Frank Tunney declared yesterday "but after the tussle those two big fellows had on Tuesday when they fought a torrid half hour to a draw, I have decided to give them a chance to get a winner. They're powerful hombres and thirty minutes is not long enough for them to show their endurance and reserve strength." So the Columbus powerhouse and the Krippler from Texas will have an hour next week to prove which is the better man. It will be the usual conditions, best two of three falls, and judging by the sample dished out this week they should stage a bout packed full of excitement when they meet as the main attraction. Sexton has rapidly developed into one of Peterborough's favorite wrestlers. The crowd like his looks, his actions and his clever tactics and they regard his giant swing method of taking a fall as about as exciting as anything they have seen. On the other hand they don't like the rowdy methods of Davis while admitting that the Texan really is a tough baby. The clash between the two should make next week's show one of the liveliest of the season.

Invented By A Canadian

The story of how basketball, now one of the major sports in the United States was invented by a Canadian is told in the Ottawa Citizen by Jack Koffman in his "Along Sports Row" column as follows: "Nine times out of ten when a couple of fellows interested in sport get into a friendly argument they wind up the argument with a phone call to the sports department. Russ Agnew, whose fireball pitching dominated the local softball picture a few years back, called the office last night to find out who invented basketball. Russ got into a discussion with an American and, while the name was on the tip of his tongue, he couldn't remember the name of the man responsible for introducing basketball to the sports world. The late Dr. James Naismith, who hailed from Almonte, Ont., is credited with inventing the game. He accomplished the feat in 1891 while serving as a student instructor at the Y.M.C.A. College in Springfield, Mass. He started out with nine players on a team. This was later reduced to seven and now the hoopsters operate with five-man teams. Dr. Naismith passed away about three years ago. Two years earlier he came through Ottawa en route to Montreal and was tendered a dinner at the Y.M.C.A."

* * * * * *

"Bob Campbell, athletic director at Glebe Collegiate, was one of those attending the dinner and, in conversation with Dr. Naismith, discovered some interesting facts," continues the Koffman article. "Dr. Naismith did not merely stumble onto the game. He was assigned to invent some indoor winter team sport in which the Springfield "Y" College players could keep busy, and came up with basketball. Canadians had their hockey but, in those days, there was no artificial ice and the weather in a great many places across the border does not lend to natural-ice rinks. Dr. Naismith wanted less body contact than lacrosse offers because he realized that, on a hardwood floor, too many injuries would crop up. Basketball has come a long way since the days of Dr. Naismith's peach baskets but a great many of the rules laid down for the first game still hold good. They erected a Naismith Memorial Hall at Springfield to honor the man who introduced the cage game and, in 1936, Dr. Naismith was given a trip to the Olympiad in Berlin. American basketball officials set up a fund for the inventor's trip to the Olympic Games, where the U.S. team beat the Canadians in the final, by taxing all cage games a small fee."

Looks More Natural

The Stanley Cup series got back into its expected pattern last night when Montreal Canadiens skated the Toronto Leafs into the ground to win 5 to 1 and the Detroit Red Wings handed the Chicago Black Hawks a 4 to 1 hooking. The action now shifts to Toronto and Chicago for the next two games with both series all knotted up. While the season's form chart often does not mean much in the Stanley Cup activities offhand it would seem that the Canadiens are in a better position than the Red Wings. Dick Irvin's men have been fairly successful on Toronto ice while the Wings have made five trips to Chicago this season and emerged without a victory. However we have an idea that the leaders and second-placers have the stuff to come through the semi-finals and clash in the finals. Canadiens are likely to confirm that impression tomorrow night when they meet Leafs in Toronto in the third game of the series. The third game in the other bracket will be played in Chicago on Sunday night and the fourth game in each division is staged for Tuesday.

Toronto Leafs tried to set up a defence in depth last night against Canadiens, using the same tactics as in the opening battle. The strategy worked in the first period but Maurice Richard, fast-skating winner of the Flying Frenchmen knocked it for a loop by scoring for the winners early in the second session. Leafs necessarily had to open up then and found it imposible from then on to stop either Richard or the Canadiens. The fast-moving winger set up a new modern Stanley Cup record by scoring five goals, a feat that really made hockey history. It was no wonder in naming the three stars after the game all three were given to Richard. Toe Blake assisted in all five markers and Elmer Lach figured in three. At Detroit it was the veterans Syd Howe, Don Grosso and Mud Bruneteau who supplied most of the punch. Howe set up a goal for Carveth in the second period and then went into get one on his own account later in the session. Grosso opened the final period with a solo effort and after Allen had scored the only Chicago goal Bruneteau made it 4 to 1 on a pass from Howe.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: That first period at Montreal last night must really have been dull....Bibeault only had to handle five shots and Durnan was called on but three times....Kingston has succeeded in getting army authorities to stop two young soldiers from playing with Barrie Lions tonight although the O.H.A. had ruled they were eligible....Things like that make a lot of folks wonder if we are fighting a war or just what the score is....The Army ruling in regard to hockey and soldiers was that no members of the army could play in games leading to the Allan Cup or Memorial Cup finals....Barrie and Kingston are playing in the junior B series which does not of course lead to either trophy....Furthermore the two soldiers were on leave when they played for Barrie....Somehow or other nevertheless the Kingston club has succeeded in getting an order from the Department of National Defence to have the two soldiers stopped from playing.

Cleanrites Roll 3610 Pinnage Move Into Tie

Shocky Mein's Cleanrites will probably not win any bowling title this year but they gave another demonstration last night of why they were an outfit to be reckoned with when they topped the Men's City League teams again with a 3,610 score. They defeated Chief Gimblett's men 2 to 1, chalking up 1,294 for high single team game, and rolling themselves once more into a second place tie with the K. of C. The latter outfit losing two games to the Machine Shop.

Jay's Big-Five, Outlaws, Empress, Old Timers and Canada Packers were all two-point winners. Canada Packers' victory being over the fourth place Fractional Motors and a very similar knock-out to that which they handed the Cleanrites a few weeks ago.

Bud Weese maintained his fine 248 average, Doug Abraham is now at the 245 mark and Fred Martin climbed up to 244.

Competition was hot for individual honours with 12 good singles on the card. Fred Scates of the Big Five led the parade with a 395 sizzler included in an 880 high three game total. Fred Martin of Jay's hit 854 for his three game string while other good singles besides Scates' were W. Weese 339, B. Goodson 338, F. Martin 332, W. Stanbury 329, F. Maloney 324, E. Johnston 321, W. Harris 310, W. Boon 305, G. Reynolds 303, K. Graham 302 and R. Clifford 301.

Barrie Juniors Lose 2 Players

KINGSTON, March 24. — Barrie Colts will have to play without two soldier additions in the O.H.A. Junior B tie-breaker with Kingston Vics on Friday night in Toronto, according to a telegram received here yesterday from G. S Currie, Deputy Minister of National Defence.

Kingston questioned the right of Barrie to use soldiers Chad Bark and Jack Mason, who were recently added to the team as military replacements and asked for a ruling from the O.H.A. announced the Army players were eligible, but the Department of National Defence declared the soldiers could not play.

The following wire was received yesterday from the Department of National Defence:

Regulation is that no soldier may participate in hockey contests or organized leagues leading to Allan or Memorial Cup playoffs. Inquiries reveal that the two soldiers concerned were not authorized by the commandant at Camp Borden to play with Barrie team, but both were on leave. Commandant has been instructed to withdraw them from the team.

Bark played his first game for Barrie last Monday when the teams tied 3-all in Barrie, while Mason joined the team in Kingston and played in the 4-all tie. They will not play when the teams try to break the deadlock to-night in Toronto.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—A basketball referee does plenty of work during a game — and that doesn't include the red-faced rhumba that Pat Kennedy performs with each toot of his whistle — but the games devotees seem to like nothing better than thinking up new task for the ref....This week-end the coaches will be arguing out the proposals to stop "goal tending" by awarding a goal when a defensive player touches the ball on its descending arc toward the basket....

That sounds tough, but one rulesmaker points out that its no worse than making the ref decide when a player jumping to bat out a shot get his hand above the basket.... "At least the ball is out there in the clear where he can see it," this gent explains.

Rules rule all:

One good point about the basketball rules, this same man adds, is that the same ones apply, with minor variations to all players from high schools to the high-powered commercial teams....That's why a good high school player often can step right into the college varsity...."If we had separate school and college committees, as they do in football," he says, "there might be so many variations that a boy might have to learn an entirely different game."

Bisons Defeat Capitals 3-1 In 2nd Game

By The Canadian Press.

The Buffalo Bisons invade enemy territory to-night, but they have the satisfaction of knowing it will take the Indianapolis Capitals at least two games to catch up with them in their American Hockey League playoff series.

The Bisons took the 2-0 lead in games last night at Buffalo by turning back the Capitals 3-1 before a crowd of 8,736, largest weekday turnout of the local season. Meanwhile the Hershey Bears were drawing even with Cleveland Barons at one game apiece by defeating the Clevelanders at Hershey 3-1. Those two clubs resume hostilities at Cleveland to-night.

The Bisons and Capitals confined all their scoring to the first period, with the Bisons again being forced to come from behind to win. Bernie Ruelle put the Capitals in front midway in the stanza, but the Bisons tied it up a little later on Max Kaminsky's goal, and took the lead on Larry Thibeault's goal. Fred Hunt set up the third Bison goal on a pass to Thibeault.

Gason Gauthier notched Hershey's first goal on a pass from O'Neil in the first period. Heck Pozzo registered the second Hershey goal in the second stanza and in the third frame Earl Bartholome scored the lone Baron marker while the Bears were short-handed. The Bears added their third goal when Jarvis drove the rubber home from centre ice.

Canadiens Beat Toronto To Even Series

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, March 24 (CP) — Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs adjourned to Toronto today to continue their Stanley Cup semi-final feud Saturday night with the count tied at one game each. Canadiens tied things up last night with a 5-1 victory, thanks to the sensational five goals by Maurice Richard.

A sell-out crowd of more than 12,000 practically raised the roof when Richard fired number five midway through the third period to establish a new league record for individual goal-scoring in a play-off contest.

But Richard had plenty of help on those goals. Elmer Lach and Toe Blake were sensational on the line with him, and every time set him up perfectly for his close-in drives on Paul Bibeault, Leaf goalie.

At the other end of the ice, Bill Durnan was right back in form with a sparkling exhibition that made up for the bit of sloppy work he was charged with when the Leafs took the opener 3-1 Tuesday night.

Reg. Hamilton was the only Leaf who could find the range on Durnan, and he did it mid-way through the second on a shot that was one of the easiest the goalie handled during the evening.

Richard started his parade with two fast goals early in the second and he added another before Hamilton bagged the Leaf tally. It was a busy period for Richard, because he drew two penalties as well. He finished things off in the third with another couple of counters. Blake drew assists on all five goals and Lach on four of them.

Bombers Win 5-4 Over Huskies

OMEMEE, March 24— (ENS). — Omemee Bombers skated through with a 5-4 win over Haliburton Huskies in Omemee Arena in an exhibition game played on Wednesday evening No penalties were handed out to either team.

In the first period, Omemee scored twice, Parsons on a lone rush, and Bradley from Deyell. Haliburton did not begin to click until the second frame when Baker went to town with two goals in a row, one from Phibbs, and the other from Brohm. Omemee also netted 2—Bradley from Deyell and Deyell from Bradley, making the score at the close of the second period 4-2 for the home team.

In the third period Dart scored for the Huskies from Phibbs, and Phibbs from Dart. Bradley, who was easily the scoring ace of the game, picked the puck out of a scramble in front of the net and pushed it in to make the winning goal. Final score, Omemee 5, Haliburton 4.

The line-ups:

Omemee — Goal, E. Fisher; defence, Williamson and Parsons; centre, Deyell; wings, Bradley and Thurston; subs, Brooks, Parker, Mills, and Nurse.

Haliburton— Goal, Hannan; defence, Begley and Iles; centre, Brohm; wings, Dart and Baker; subs, Roberts, Phibbs, and Hodgson.

Referee—D. F. Dart.

Philadelphia—Billy Arnold, 143½, Philadelphia, outpointed Billy Furrone, 145¾, Philadelphia (8).

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, March 24 — (CP).—Lacrosse is due for a big boost in popularity among the youngsters in Western Canada if plans now being laid work out. The British Columbia Lacrosse Association will launch an all-out drive to interest juniors and juveniles in that province, while the Canadian Lacrosse Association is seeking to invade the Prairies in strength.

Jim McConaghy, chairman of the Dominion body's promotional committee, revealed the C.L.A. is prepared to spend between $2,500 and $5,000 in the three Prairie Provinces to build up the game. The association will help youngsters starting a team by paying for half the equipment, and the established clubs will be helped in various ways.

With senior sports hard hit by the war, the boxla men see an excellent chance to lay a foundation for the future among the younger players It's a great chance for the youngsters, too.

Another Sonja?

Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning says people in the know predict Sheila Smith has a greater future in the ice figure-skating world than Mary Rose Thacker, Winnipeg's former Canadian and North American champ. Sheila and Ross Smith (no relation) hold the Canadian junior pairs title.

Family entertainment:

It happened in London, Ont., during a wrestling match between Wild Bill Longson and Frankie Saxton. Someone tossed a lighted cigarette a Longson, and when the police tried to evict the suspected offender a near riot broke out. Bedlam reigned for a few minutes, with oranges, paper cups and even ('tis reported) a set of false teeth being flung by angered fans. When things quieted down a little Promoter Sammy Sobel stepped to the public address system and reassured the crowd, winding up by telling them, "Bring your mother, wife or sweetheart here—it's safe."

Incidentally:

Goalkeeper Ray Fredericks of Fort Frances Maple Leafs in the Thunder Bay district is only 14. He is believed the youngest netminder ever to compete in the Allan Cup playoffs....Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson points out this year's playoff is the first time Canadiens and Maple Leafs have met in a Stanley Cup elimination series. The teams tangled back in 1925, but that was for the N.H.L. championship and the right to meet Victoria Cougars for the cup.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Acting on a request from the Students' Athletic Council of McGill University for information as to the attitude on a revival of senior intercollegiate sports, combined undergraduate bodies at the University of Western Ontario, London, yesterday voted unanimously in support of a proposal for the resumption of college athletics.

At Toronto University, T. A. Reed of the Blues' Athletic Association said last night the question of resuming intercollegiate sport had been considered but the decision was it was "out of the question for the duration."

It was officially announced at Halifax last night the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association would have no team in the Memorial Cup playdowns because the Amherst, N.S. Ramblers had been unable to secure financial backing for the scheduled series with the Quebec winners, to whom the Ramblers were defaulting.

Pitcher Johnny Gorsica has come to terms with the Detroit Tigers and will report at the training camp at Evansville, Ind., next week, it was announced last night by the American League club.

The Department of National Defence ruled two soldier-players, Chad Bark and Jack Mason, were ineligible to play with Barrie Colts against Kingston Victorias in the O.H.A. junior "B" sudden-death game at Toronto tonight.

Former middleweight boxing champion of the world, Teddy Yarosz, yesterday passed his army medical test at Pittsburgh. He won the title from Vince Dundee in 1933 and lost the championship to Babe Risko two years later.

The Maryland Jockey Club yesterday named 35 thoroughbreds of three years old and up as eligible for the $30,000 Dixie Handicap to be run at Pimlico May 6, the same day as the Kentucky Derby. The list included Alsab, Shut Out, Slide Rule and Sun Again.

Detroit Red Wings Even Series Defeating Chicago Hawks 4-1

DETROIT, March 24 — (CP). — The Detroit Red Wings and the Chicago Black Hawks were on even terms to-day with one victory apiece in their best-of-seven series in the Stanley Cup hockey semi-finals.

The Red Wings stormed back into contention last night by whipping their rivals 4-1 before a home crowd of 12,757.

The victory avenged a setback on Tuesday night when Chicago took the opener 2-1 to win their first game on Detroit ice in four years.

After a scoreless firt period Detroit jumped into the lead early in the second session on a goal by Joe Carveth. Syd Howe made it 2-0 in the final seconds of that frame and with the third period only 21 seconds old Don Grosso sent home a 20-foot shot for the Wings' third tally.

Detroit then assumed a defensive role and managed to hold off the Hawks except for one thrust during which George Allan broke through for a goal. The Red Wings' final tally was scored by Mud Bruneteau.

The series continues in Chicago on Sunday night.

Phillies Still To Be Phillies

WILMINGTON, DEL., March 24 — (AP) —Let's get it straight for the records. Its still the Phillies in the National League in Philadelphia although they'll wear a Blue Jay emblem on their shirt.

The late and lamented contest to select a new emblem for the club was the brainchild of owner Bob Carpenter and his public relations man, Bill Phillips.

Returns flooded the Phil office, over 5,000 letters proposing 630 different emblems, but there was a healthy sized stock of mail from the dyed in the wool fans who begged that the Phillies be allowed to remain the Phillies.

Now the club is busy disclaiming any change in name.

Cattle Prices Unchanged; Veal Down $1

TORONTO, March 24 — (CP) — Cattle prices were generally unchanged for the week in trade on the livestock market here. Veal calves took a seasonable drop of $1 cwt., lambs gained 25 cents, hogs were weak to 10 cents lower and sheep were steady.

Cattle trade was active at the opening with prices steady to strong. The close was dull with a slow clearance made on light supplies. One load of choice heavy steers sold at $12.65. Other weighty steers were from $10.25-$12.50. Butcher steers and heifers $10.25-$12, fed yearlings $12-$13.50, good butcher cows $8.50-$9.25; canners and cutters $5-$7.25, bulls $7-$8.50. A few common to medium stockers $8-$10.50. Milkers and springers easier at $130-$150 for tops.

Veal calves closed $15.50-$16 for tops with common lights downward to $10.

Hogs opened strong at $17.25 dressed and closed with most of the yard sales at $17.15. Directs to local packing plants were $17.15-$17.25. Sows were $13.25 dressed.

Good western lambs sold at $14 cwt. with light western sheep at $6.75. Local lambs of common to medium quality sold at $6-$13 with top local lambs at $13.50-$13.75. Local sheep sold according to quality $3-$6 cwt.

man stronghold and the key of the Nazi line defending southern Poland.

Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2nd Ukrainian Army meanwhile continued to press forward beyond the Dniester River in the centre of the southern front, where the communique reported the fall of Tyrnovo, 10 miles south of Mogilev Podolski.

This town is situated on the Byeltsi-Czernowitz railroad, already cut about 30 miles northwest of Byeltsi. Konev's developing offensive on the west bank of the Dniester also captured the river town of Vertuzhany, 50 miles southwest of Mogilev Podolski, as well as 40 other towns and hamlets. More than 1,000 Rumanian and German officers and men were taken prisoner, the communique said.

Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 3rd Ukrainian Army, at the same time was reported battling enemy troops in the outskirts of Voznesensk on the Bug.

Iver, 50 miles north of Nikolaev and 80 miles northeast of Odessa. Nikolaev was more closely threatened, frontline dispatches said, by a Russian thrust through the town of Konstantinovka, 10 miles to the north, and by other Red Army troops five miles to the southeast.

Sands, G. W. Craw, Dr. Worton, Kinsmen members.

Henry Batten was vocal soloist, and Mr. Craw moved a vote of thanks to the Minister for his address. Others who congratulated the Club, thanked them and expressed appreciation of the thoughtful address by Mr. Gardiner were Mayor Hamilton, Warden Anderson and Mr. Staples.

Source of Depression

In his approach to his central theme, Mr. Gardiner asserted that the depression during the ten years preceding the war was largely caused by the closing of tatalitarian doors to the markets of the world as they prepared for self-containment with substitutes and synthetics to make themselves independent of other countries for materials which they knew they would require.

Democratic nations build up their institutions in the hope and purpose of ending all war, and when it breaks upon them they find themselves scantily prepared.

"I believe that the chief reason we had unemployment previous to the war was because we refused as a democratic country to concentrate our resources in preparing for a war which some of our leaders declared was bound to come," Mr. Gardiner said. And, although it took the enemy ten years for the tremendous preparations with which they felt they were ready, we have prepared a great war machine in four years. "During that period we have submerged every other desire in our lives to prosecuting the war to a successful end. In the meantime, unemployment as we knew it prior to the war has passed away, and it is our hope that out of this experience we shall be able to bring about the desired end that such unemploymen will not occur again."

Sketching briefly the origin and growth of the democratic idea from the city forums of ancient Greece to Great Britain with its central government, the Minister presented by contrast the political and administrative problems of Canada with the diversities of products and industries reaching across its continent of three to four thousand miles. Experience in both Canada and the United States found that it was necessary to have a number of legislatures to take care of local problems with a central government to deal with problems common to all the people of the provinces, as in Canada.

"So, we must keep in mind that in time of war there are many affairs handled from Ottawa which in times of peace are dealt with by the provinces."

Canada has ten different governments. The country divides itself more or less naturally into the country west of the Rockies, the Pacific ocean area, the plains from the Rockies to the Great Lakes, and the area east of the lakes.

"Three-fifths of all our agricultural lands in Canada lie between the mountains and the Great Lakes. They are sparsely settled because it takes three to four times as much land to maintain a family in that area as it does in Ontario. Their two million people produce enough food for thirty to forty millions. It must be shipped the hundreds of miles to our industrial cities, or the thousands of miles to the European continent or to the Orient."

There many more farmers east of the Great Lakes to the maritimes, but the food products of their land related mainly to the feeding of livestock, and to the production of dairy products. Some districts also produced specialities such as apples, tobacco, fibres, vegetables and so on.

Low Tide of Prices

Prior to the war food products were yielding low returns because of the conditions in Europe, Axis control of imports to avoid buying from foreign markets. "By 1941, at the end of the crop year 1940, we did not have enough grain to feed our livestock for one month. We paid them two dollars an acre if they would sow the coarse grains, barley and oats. Fortunately we began in the right year. We were fortunate; for in that year, 1942, the rains came at the right time. We had ten million acres switched over from wheat, and we produced twice as much feed grain as ever before. and also more wheat. You in the east produced one of the greatest grain crops you ever had, and the result was you had the greatest surplus you ever had for livestock."

But, in 1943, the east never had a poorer crop, both in quantity and quality. "One thing saved us. We had the co-operation of the two ends of our great country,—one growing grain, the other producing more livestock. At the same time t he United States was experiencing a shortage of feeds. So they came across the border and bought grain for their livestock, and we had co-operation all over this continent."

Control Necessary

Mr. Gardiner said that in wartime certain regulations had to be imposed. For example if a farmer here had a bin of seed, and there was a market for it in the United States, it might be a great calamity "if that seed got out of our own country and we did not have enough for our own land".

As a result of the co-operation of the farmers of the east and west, "we have three times as many hogs as in the last year before the war, 10,000,000 more cattle, hundreds of thousands more poultry, more sheep and so on."

The result of the regulations that were necessary, and adjustments of needs and requirements of supplies and marketing across a country such as Canada was "that our farmers marketed four times as many hogs in Great Britain last year as the year before the war.

Cheese production in 1942 was 206,000,000 pounds, more than twice as much as in 1935.

Beef is being produced so fast that "we hear protests as to why two years ago we couldn't find enough meat for Toronto and Montreal."

"More beef, cheese, bacon, lamb, flour, eggs, poultry, all moving over to the other side of the ocean as proof of the kind of job our farmers have done!"

Future Markets

Looking toward the future, Mr. Gardiner said the people should remember that in the past they had only three main markets, the home market, the United States and Great Britain with its outlets of supply to the continent of Europe.

"In 1935 we sent $9,000,000 of food products to the United States and in 1939 we sent $17,000,00.

To Great Britain, $30,000,000 in food products in 1935 and $47,000,000 in 1939.

We have been at war four years and our exports of food supplies to the United States have declined from $17,000,000 to $10,000,000; but our foodstuffs to Great Britain have increased from $47,00,000 to $154,000,000 in 1943.

After the war we still have got to sell our surpluses of wheat and cheese in that market, or develop a market in the Orient.

How are we going to assure ourselves of a great part of the British market? There is one way—that is to supply that market now and keep the quality of our food products as high as it is possible to keep it."

Quality Bacon

With grain still piled high in this country, even out in fields in the west, there was a temptation to feed hogs to a larger size and add to their weight, and say because they are healthful to us they are bound to be healthful to our customers.

But, over there, they want the long lean bacon. That was what they got from Denmark.

"The food ingredients they want are in the lean bacon. The British people know that. Every packer in Canada knows that. Every farmer who tries to sell at the present time a heavy hog or a sow, should know that the more lard it has, the less value it is to the people of Britain. They want hogs graded the long lean type."

Mr. Gardiner recalled the reaction of many farmers last September writing to him that they were reducing their breeding pens and cutting down production. That was followed by the two-year contract with Great Britain for nine hundred million pounds of bacon. "From October 1 to the present we have been getting hogs in volume we never dreamed of, and they are coming as well prepared for the market as ever."

At the present rate of production the farmers will have supplied by the end of March one-half the year's total of 500,000,000 pounds of bacon which the government had guaranteed to Britain.

Premiums for Selects

The Minister recalled the premiums announced in January as a means of maintaining supplies for next year—$3 on A-1 hogs and $2 on B-1, "and we hope to get production equal to what is now coming to market."

"With these premiums I believe we can get more high grade hogs than ever. We have got to keep up the quality, and convince our customers in Britain that they can get the same quality of bacon after the war."

Another reminder to the Canadian bacon producer, the Minister mentioned was to the effect that with a quota of 280,000,000 pounds in Britain from 1932 to 1936 "we never came near supplying it." The quantity in 1936 was 160,000,000 pounds.

"In peace time we could not go to the farmer and to the packer and take hogs from them whether the price was higher in Britain or not. In war time we can, and that is what we are doing. Under our constitution we cannot do that in peace time; but I believe the best way now is to show the people of Britain that we can do what we thought in 1936 we could not do. We are supplying them more hogs today than they got altogether before the war. We are grading the hogs. The packer doesn't. And we intend to keep on to the end of the war sending them the highest possible in both quality and quantity."

Di count Removed

The Minister also dealt with the three dollar penalty on overweight hogs which he said had been a continuing grievance with farmers. He repeated the fact that this action was recommended in 1922 by a committee of swine producers, when they agreed that it was the proper thing to do. Eventually and recently it was decided to do away with the $3 discount, which Mr. Gardiner said was now becoming effective. The emphasis was being placed on the premium for quality, the $3 for A-1 hogs and $2 for B-1.

"Producers and packers, so far as I know, are satisfied to that the $3 discount ought to be done away, and it has been done away with as of the last few days."

The Minister also spoke about the ceiling prices on goods farmers sell and buy.

"Floor" Promised

"The Government cannot say that you must sell to the Government, or to any particular organization; but we can set a price "floor," and the government intends to bring that in during the present session. There is nothing political about this, for both the Progressive-Conservatives and the C.C.F. have spoken in favor of it.

Since a ceiling was put on prices to prevent the spiraling of inflation, we intend to put a floor on prices to avoid the great slump in prices that occurred after the last war, and I believe all parties will support it.

Where do we get the money? We will have to come to you and get it; as we get the ceiling money, through taxes or borrowing from you."

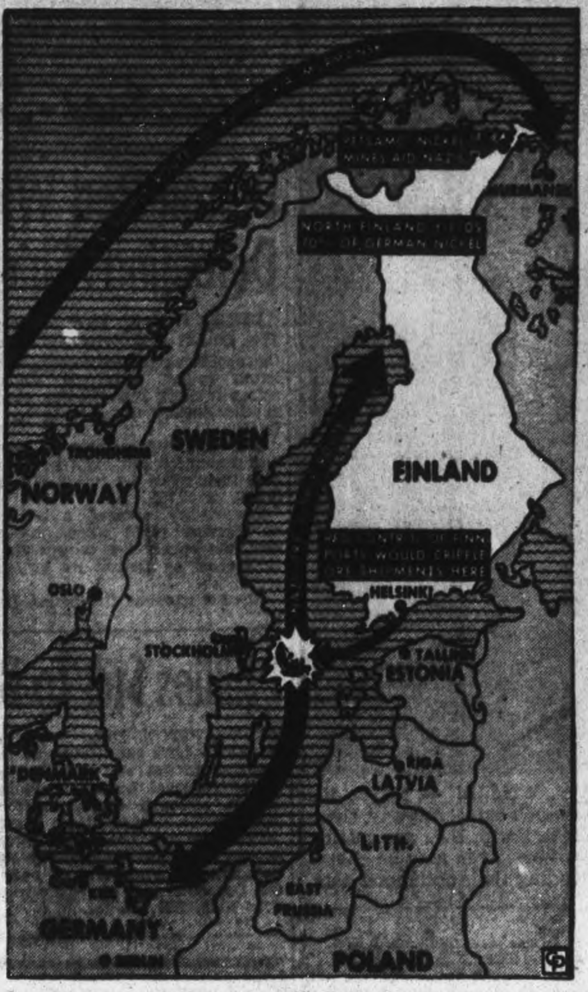
Mr. Gardiner asked another prevalent question: "How long will it last?" and answered it with "I don't know." However, he mentioned the question to Prime Minister in the House of Commons two days ago as to the meaning of the Atlantic Charter.

The war he said was being fought to prevent international racketeers from building up another war machine. That was the hope of democracy, first to win and then to take into custody those responsible for inflicting the war on mankind. Then would be set up machinery to maintain peace, even the policing of a large part of the world.

"They say we must all produce to the limit, not the necessities of the war, not synthetic things, but produce natural goods in the way of nature, that there may be more food and clothing and shelter for mankind, and see that no one is denied the right to utilize them."

Tribute to R.A.F.

Mr. Gardiner interpolated in his conclusion a moving tribute to the Royal Air Force, "that greatest group of gentlemen adventurers in the history of the world," Britons and Poles, Norwegians and Americans, youth from all parts of the Empire who had held the "citadel of the Empire" against the confident Huns in those desperate months of 1940 and 1941. He had departed from the practical business and thought about high quality bacon to the memory of a youth who had saved a world for the future hope of free men.



HITLER'S STAKE IN FINLAND—If Finland quit the war, the blow this would be to Hitler is indicated in this map. In northern Finland, where some seven German divisions are reported stationed, are the nickel mines of Petsamo, from which the Nazis obtain about 70 per cent. of the nickel so vitally needed in war industries. In that region, too, is about half the cobalt and much of the copper Hitler needs. Then, too, there is the waterway into north Germany which could be so easily blocked. Finally there is the political kick-back at home and the effect on Nazi satellites Bulgaria and Rumania.

Soldiers Build Snug Lean-tos On Manoeuvres

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CAMP DEBERT, N.S., March 24 (CP)—Soldiers training for battle in this brigade training school sleep in the open during their manoeuvres in shelters and lean-tos of the same kind as those used by trappers and travellers in the northern part of British Columbia and the Yukon.

The shelters, or "wikki-ups" as they are called, were built by men from the west coast who had lived as trappers or hunters in the snow-clad northern regions. Although the camp has been in operation since last fall and several three-day battle schemes have been carried out, some in zero weather, there has been very little sickness among the men. Extent of the casualties were a few frost-nipped ears or toes.

Erected in natural windbreaks among the trees, the shelters vary in size and type. Some are large, 20 or 30 feet long and eight feet high, and heated by stoves fashioned from oil barrels.

Others are small, made of brush and slanted poles, with only about four feet between the roof and ground, and these if anything were warmer than the larger ones, although they had no stoves.

Best tribute to the efficiency of the huts and their usefulness was the fact that most of the boys got a real kick out of their camping out. Some had been in the woods before, but for many of them it was the first experience of its kind.

Here's Quick Relief from
SINUS PAIN
3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-Purpose Medicine . . . Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's best relief they've found. Try it!

Fish and Game Overseer I. J. Lyons who has been on duty in the Peterborough district since the retirement of Overseer Fred Marshall has been transferred to Orillia by the Department of Game and Fisheries. Overseers Vernal and Stan Windsor are carrying on in this section.

TAKES A MONTH

Roy Wright, no fixed address, pleaded guilty in police today to a charge of having been drunk on Charlotte street last night, and also admitted a previous conviction. He was accordingly treated as a second offender by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., and fined $50 and costs with the alternative of a month's imprisonment. He elected to take the jail sentence.

BROTHERS ENLIST TOGETHER

Douglas and Jack Metherel are the second set of twins in Peterborough to have enlisted in the R.C.A.F. Al and Grant Clark, sons of Dr. D. W. Clark and Mrs. Clark, have been overseas for several months. The Metherel boys have been out of school about a month, working at the Commercial Press and the Bonner-Worth respectively, and will be 18 next July. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Max Metherel, 268 Reid street, and their father served in the last war. Another school chum, Hugh Brightman, expects to report with them at Toronto Monday morning in the hope that they can all be together to train as pilots.

SERVES ON COBALT.

Officer Stewart Robert White is a member of the crew of H.M.C.S. Cobalt which routed Nazi subs and saved a burning oil tanker. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David White, 319 Burnham street, and was formerly employed at the Westclox.

BATTERY NEWS

The annual pay parade of the 4th Reserve Heavy Anti-Aircraft Battery for the training year 1943-44 will be held on Monday night at the Armouries, and Battery members will turn out in full kit. Lieut. W. T. Fanjoy, Homewood avenue, has been promoted to the rank of captain. Bdr. W. H. Vass, 228 Dublin street, Gnr. S. Bonk, 157 Crescent, and Gnr. R. E. Kirkham, 164 Reid street, have recently been struck off strength.

COUNCIL HEARS TALK.

Fred C. Marshall, former game overseer, discussed the merits of the establishment of a provincial park in Peterborough County before the County Council Thursday afternoon. His remarks were along the lines of talks he has given recently to local service clubs, and he was particular in emphasizing that the activities of hunters and trappers would be the only ones interfered with, were such a park to become a reality. Much interest was exhibited by council members, who asked Mr. Marshall a number of questions regarding the proposed site, and the rights of settlers. The whole matter was referred to the Fish and Game committee.

Central School Pupils Work For War Effort

The stress of war has brought quite a shortage of some commodities that play an important part in the war effort, among which waste paper has come to play a very important part, so that salvage drives to make additional supplies of this available for further use are very desirable, and in this respect children attending school can do a great deal to assist.

In undertaking a work of this nature, they not only are rendering valuable help to the general war effort, but through the money which they receive in exchange for whatever their labors have supplied, they are enabled to do further good in other ways to help on the final day of victory, adding a dual aspect to their efforts which makes it all the more desirable.

On a number of occasions, the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund has benefitted from the efforts of school children through this means, the latest of which is reported in to-day's receipts as coming from the pupils of Central School, who have been doing this worthy work in recent times, and since this type of commodity keeps on piling up all the time, it would seem that there is always an open season which provides a field of endeavor in which good work can be continuously engaged in to help the country's cause.

This is the first donation in recent weeks to appear from the city schools, and it may be worth a great deal more in the long run, by providing an incentive to others which could find a practical expression in a similar manner.

Easter Holidays Soon.

One thing that children attending school always look forward to, are the breaks afforded in their scholastic duties by the seasonal holidays, one of which looms in the near future with the approach of Easter, symbol of that new life which all christian people hope to attain, and without which their outlook would be dark indeed.

Holidays always are much sweeter from having done something worth-while, for beides the extra satisfaction that comes from doing a good work, there is also the satisfaction that comes from the feeling engendered by a knowledge of having earnt a holiday, and since the season of Easter implies new life, nothing could seem more appropriate than that the children could do something to give new life to the poor unfortunate people whose homes have been destroyed by enemy attacks from the air.

From Letchworth, England.

A little gift of two packets of flower seeds from Letchworth, in Hertforshire, England, were made the prize for a small raffle to play their part in returning some help to the land from whence they came, and through this medium of the members of the Coffee Club raised the sum of $1.25 which is also credited to-day. One of these was a particular British flower known as "Wallflower' and are not easily procurable in this country.

Liquor Exports Hit High Total

OTTAWA, March 24.— (CP).—Canada exported 5,351,153 gallons of beer, 84,696 gallons of gin, 2,073,-211 gallons of whiskey and 2,197 gallons of potable spirits in 1943, compared to the 1942 totals of 7,-520,351 gallons of beer, 230,257 gallons of gin, 2,166,513 gallons of whisky and 2,533 gallons of potable spirits.

This information was given yesterday to the Commons by Trade Commissioner MacKinnon in reply to a question by J. A. Johnston (L.-London).

Of the 2,322,108 gallons of beer exported to the United States last year at least two thirds were re-exported to Allied armed forces abroad.

Suspension Is Placed On Police Sergeant

On a complaint from Chief Constable Samuel Newhall the Police Commission on Wednesday suspended Sergt. G. T. Puffer without pay from March 15 until the next meeting of the board when the complaint will be investigated. A report from Dr. H. G. Carleton stating that Sergt. Puffer was ill and would be unable to attend to his duties for at least two weeks was read.

DESTROYS 4 PLANES—F/L J. Johnson, D.F.C., of Omemee, is an R.C.A.F. Intruder pilot. With his navigator, F/O J. Gibbons, Vancouver, he has just completed a tour of operations. During his trips over enemy territory he has destroyed four enemy aircraft, damaged three, blown up one train, damaged others and in addition has attacked enemy airfields, railway junctions and supply centres. He completed his tour of operations by destroying two enemy aircraft and damaging another on the same day that other members of the Canadian Night Intruder Squadron were destroying five enemy planes.

Lonergan Jury Hears Canadians

NEW YORK, March 24.—(AP).—Through Wayne Lonergan's own statements and testimony of cafe society associates the prosecution hoped to place some of its most damaging evidence on his murder trial record to-day.

Official disclosure of details of his questioning in Toronto after his arrest, his unsigned confession, and his relationship to night life friends with whom he and his wife wined and dined before she was slain Oct. 24, was in prospect.

William Wall, a Toronto police stenographer, began reading to the jury yesterday parts of a transcript in which the 26 year old Toronto-born defendant was quoted as saying he and Patricia Lonergan separated because of "general apathy."

Upon completion of that transcript to-day, the State planned to introdice the New York confession. Then, Miss Jean Murphy, show girl with whom the R.C.A.F. aircraftman spent the evening before the slaying, was expected to testify.

First of the cafe society figures to testify yesterday was John Frederick Harjes, son of a banking family, whose apartment Lonergan used. He said he introduced Lonergan to the show girl.

When reading of the Canadian transcript began, Judge James Garrett Wallace announced parts would be excluded. A prosecution source said later these touched upon sextual habits of Lonergan who, the district attorney's office has said, is homosexual.

J. D. Kerr, Editor, Dies In Vancouver

VANCOUVER March 24—(CP)—James D. Kerr, 74, former editorial writer on the Vancouver Sun and the Vancouver Province, died here Tuesday night after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Kerr was the youngest of three brothers all of whom were noted newspapermen. John Kerr and David Kerr were both well known in the Vancouver newspaper world.

Born in Stratford, Ont., James Kerr was a graduate of Upper Canada College and the University of Toronto. He was on the staff of the Toronto Globe for some time, before he came to a position on the staff of the Vancouver Province from which he retired 10 years ago.

SACKVILLE, N.B., March 24 (CP).—The income from a $200,000 fund given to Mount Allison University by Lord Bennett will be used to establish a Stiles Bennett Chair of History in memory of his mother and father, University officials announced. In addition, five scholarships of $300 each will be established in the name of Lord Bennett's brothers and sisters.

Prisoners Fake Suicide; Stage Escape

LONDON, March 24 — (CP) — A widespread manhunt was being made through western Ontario today for two prisoners who fled the Middlesex county jail here last night after one of them, Jail Governor Charles Mitchell said, faked suicide, beat a turnkey and robbed him of his keys.

Mitchell identified the men as Ray Loughrey, 32, Newark, N.J. being held in custody awaiting deportation; and Lucien Lassaline, 32, under three years' sentence at Woodstock, Ont., and awaiting trial here on robbery and theft charges.

The Governor said he had been told by Jailer Fred Last that when Last was making his 10:20 p.m. E.D.T. round of a cell block in the jail he heard gurgling noises and saw the body of a man hanging by a belt from cell bars.

The Jailer reported, Mitchell said, that he opened the cell door and started to cut down the prisoner who fell on him, knocking him to the floor.

Governor Mitchell said the man who fell was Loughrey. Last had been beaten over the head with his heavy keys and was unconcious, he said.

Then, Mitchell continued, Loughrey freed Lassaline, who was in another cell, but made no effort to release two other men in the jail block. Loughrey and Lassaline unlocked the main door of the block and walked upstairs to the jail's north door and ran to the street.

An unidentified sailor reported their flight.

500 Miners Dismissed

EDMONTON, March 24—(CP)—Approximately 500 miners in the Edmonton district received dismissal notices yesterday because coal operators said "the Dominion government had given no definite word" that coal subsidies would be maintained after March 31. The dismissal notice will become effective March 31.

Would Cut Travel

MONTREAL, March 24—(CP)—An appeal to Canadians to refrain from unnecessary travel and to curtail conventions, trade shows and other gatherings was made yesterday by Transport Controller T. C. Lockwood.

AT NEW POST—Able Seaman Pat Shaughnessy, whose wife lives on Rogers Street, has arrived overseas. Before enlisting in August, 1942, he was employed at the De Laval, and had attended St. Peter's School. AB. Shaughnessy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaughnessy of Downer's Corners.

Calves Keep Out

OMAHA, Neb., March 24—(AP).—Ted Miller, apartment house proprietor, who has had arguments about cats, dogs and children, took down his "No dogs allowed" sign and changed it to "No dogs or calves allowed." A few days ago a young couple who had engaged an apartment from him tried to take a calf into their living quarters, he said.

Rangers Plan To Hold Annual Pay Parade

With the current training year reaching an end on March 31, the 2nd (R.) Battalion Prince of Wales Rangers is to hold its annual pay parade next Tuesday night. There will be a kit inspection, Major V. M. Eastwood, adjutant, said this morning, and receipt of full pay allowances will be contingent upon no deficiencies in equipment turning up.

"Training for the coming year has been mapped out," Major Eastwood indicated, "and provision is being made for more outdoor schemes on section and platoon levels. Later on there will be collective training on the company level. During the early part of the year, there will be a certain amount of recapitulation of training details."

In recent weeks a number of battalion members have left the Rangers to join the active services. Four of them, S. K. Anderson, D. G. Harvey, W. T. Craig and C. R. Hughey, are now with the Army; and three others, J. A. Giardino, A. A. Mattucci and N. W. Andrew, have enlisted in the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve.

Obituary

JOHN HAMILTON HARRISON

Son of pioneer settlers in Haliburton County, James Hamilton Harrison, 74, of Donald, Ont., died yesterday in St. Michael's Hospital, where he had been a patient for four months. For some years with the Haliburton Lumber Co., Mr. Harrison was latterly associated with the Standard Chemical Co. at Donald. Twenty years ago he was instrumental in stocking Lake Koshlong with small-mouth bass, the district becoming a popular playground for tourists. He was a member of Ingoldsby United Church.

Surviving are four sons, Walter H. of Lochlin, Ont., James E. of Toronto, Russell H. of Ridgetown and Cecil Harrison of Donald; and a daughter, Mrs. Olive Cowan of Donald.

Fishing Prize

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 24—(AP)—The dragger May C came to port here recently with the strangest "catch" of its career—a 125-pound aerial torpedo (unloaded) which fishermen Patsy Camerota and John Pall said became entangled in their net while dragging for flatfish in Long Island Sound.

Claims Liberals Left Surplus To Conservatives

TORONTO, March 24.—(CP)—A. Belanger (L.-Prescott), speaking in the budget debate in the Ontario Legislature last night, reiterated a call for co-operation among all members of all political affiliations looking toward the betterment of the people.

"What we want for progress is not revolution, but evolution," he said.

He said he was "for labor," having been born and brought up in a labor family and educated in "the sweating system." He praised the Progressive Conservative government for its plan to take over 50 per cent. of the cost of education, if it could be done. If the government believed it could do it by appointing a royal commission to investigate the whole matter, then "they have my full support."

In the afternoon debate Mr. Belanger addressed his remarks to the C.C.F. Opposition benches. He said there had been statements that the old parties had "sold out to the big interests." Such statements were easy to make but hard to prove, he said. He gave a review of past Liberal administration.

The last Liberal government, defeated in the August, 1943 provincial election, had left the present Progressive Conservative regime a financial surplus of $16,000,000 but Treasurer Frost's budget showed only a surplus of $8,000,000. He said he had not fault to find if the difference had been spent for the good of the province. It had been a Liberal regime which started Ontario's present "pay-as-you-go" financial policy.

The only criticism he had of the budget was the treasurer's failure to "credit the last Liberal government for many of the things of which he takes credit himself."

He was critical of derogatory remarks which he had heard members make in the House and in apparent reference to comment made in committee state, said he would "not accuse any member of being mean to the citizens of this country, whether they were in the army or out of the army."

Wound Band Robbers

TORONTO, March 24 — (CP). — Two men were reported to have been wounded by gunfire in a hold-up of the Bank of Toronto branch bank at Ossington Avenue and Dundas Street in western Toronto today. One of the men who was wounded was the bank accountant and one of the bandits also was believed to have been shot.

No other details were available immediately.

CHUNGKING, March 24—(AP).—A Chinese who arrived from Shanghai said many Japanese civilians, foreseeing defeat, are marrying Chinese girls and registering property in their wives' names.

Mean Thief Robs Polish Wrestler

Jan Gotch, the Polish wrestler, who has made frequent appearances at Brock Street Rink and was here on the last card on Tuesday night, has been the victim of a sneak thief at Belleville. Here is the story as told by the Belleville Ontario-Intelligencer:

"A war charity wrestling show was staged in support of the Kiwanis Blood Donor Clinic at the Armouries Wednesday night and the talent was supplied gratis by a troupe of professional wrestlers from Promoter Frank Tunney's Queensbury A. C. in Toronto. One of the wrestlers was Jan Gotch, of Hamilton.

"Following his match Gotch adjourned to the Queen's Hotel to have a shower bath, as is the usual custom with professional wrestlers. While he was taking his bath some person entered his room and stole his black Morocco wallet containing valuable identification papers and $60 in cash.

"As Mr. Gotch came to Belleville on a charity mission and assisted in the raising of a goodly sum for the local Blood Donor Clinic, any person knowing the whereabouts of his wallet could notify police, as stealing a wallet under such circumstances isn't just done even by good crooks."

Up Goes Ceiling

WASHINGTON, March 24—(AP)—Chairman Robert Doughton of the House of Representatives Ways and Means committee introduced legislation yesterday to increase the federal debt limit to $260,000,000,000, the highest such ceiling in United States history. The limit now is $210,000,000,000—raised from $125,-000,000,000 last March.

30,000 Miners Out

LONDON, March 24—(CP Cable)—More than 30,000 South Yorkshire miners were on strike last night and 19 pits idle, with partial stoppages in five others, in a dispute mainly due to miners' dissatisfaction with what they called an unfair wage plan.

SAILOR OVERSEAS—OS. Lester Davis, R.C.N.V.R., has cabled his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Davis, 173½ Simcoe Street, of his safe arrival overseas. Previous to his enlistment in May, 1943, OS. Davis was employed at the Card and Paper works. He took his training as a sub-detector at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Two Brawls Prove Costly

"Two fights in one night," exclaimed Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in police court this morning. "They won't need to stage any more bouts at the Arena.

His Worship's remark came after two men in succession had been arraigned on drunk charges. In each case Inspector James F. Reid stated that the two had been engaged in fights on the streets. One was Pte. Thomas Patrick Finnigan, R.C.A.M.C. who is stationed at the local Military Training Centre and the other was Fred Hubbs, Kingston truck driver.

Both men pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Finnigan had been arrested on Charlotte street after being in a fight with another soldier and Hubbs' arrest came some time later after he had mixed it up, the police report, with another civilian.

Two Counties Report Good Seed Supplies

Both Victoria and Carleton mention this week surprising resources of seed grain, "supplies hitherto unknown."

Work is beginning in all the sugar bushes of the province where operations are going to be carried on this season. Northumberland says all types of breeding stock are selling readily "and an optimistic spirit is in evidence. There is much speculation on the probable condition of winter wheat."

Ontario county farmers are buying seed potatoes earlier than usual. Oxford reports "plenty of auction sales" with grade cows selling up to $175, weanling pigs around $6. The young porkers in Welland are bringing $7 and $8 with considerable increase in demand. In Lennox-Addington farmers are reporting luck with their lambs. Further east a similar note is sounded "the lamb crop is strong and healthy with very few losses." Renfrew still has surplus of certified seed potatoes.

Farmers in Leeds are winding up a busy winter of wood cutting. All through eastern Ontario "everything is ready to begin tapping the maples."

Screen Star Insane

SEATTLE, March 24.— (AP) — Frances Farmer, former screen star, was ordered sent to the Western State Hospital near Tacoma, Wash., yesterday on an insanity complaint filed by her mother.

The King (Seattle) County Sanity Commission issued the order. Her mother, Mrs. Lillian V. Farmer, told doctors D. A. Nicholson and George E. Price, commission members, that she was unable to control her daughter at home.

On Seal Hunt

CHARLOTTETOWN, March 24—(CP).—Residents of the Magdalen Islands in the Gulf of St. Lawrence are engaged in their annual seal hunt on the gulf floes. The main herd of seals has been located off Enty Island, and already the islanders have killed 400 animals, according to Maritime Central Airways pilots who spotted the seals by aerial reconnaissance.

Kingston Man Charged Again

Frederick William Judge, Kingston, who was arrested a short time ago after a chase and was dismissed Thursday on a charge of breaking and entering the office of Rehill Fuel and Building Supply Company, Wolfe street, found himself arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court today on an old indictment.

Judge was charged under the name of Fred Judd, Jr., with breaking and entering the store of B. F. Blake in September, 1942 and committing theft.

"He is charged here as Fred Judd, Jr." pointed out Magistrate Langley. "Are you satisfied this is the man you want charged?" Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., said that he was. The accused said that his right name was Frederick Warner Judge.

He elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty. However he was not ready to go ahead with his trial and neither was the Crown so the magistrate remanded him until Thursday of next week.

Ration Book Centre Opens Up Monday

The distributing centre for new Ration Books will be open Monday evening, March 27, until 9.30 o'clock. On other days the centre will close at 5.30 in the afternoon. It was decided to keep the centre open on Monday evening for the convenience of those who would find difficulty in visiting the centre otherwise. A full staff of W.V.S. will be on hand Monday evening to serve the public. The centre is located on Simcoe street, opposite the City Hall.

AIR GUNNER OVERSEAS—Word has been received of the arrival overseas of Sgt. Frank G. Foley, R.C.A.F. Before enlisting in May, 1942, he was employed by the aircraft department of the Canadian General Electric Co. He trained at Toronto, Camp Borden, London, Trenton, and graduated from Macdonald, Man., as an air gunner in November, 1943. He also trained at Lachine and Valleyfield, Quebec.

TUCK AWAY MILLINERY — Trust designers to come through with hats that are geared to the times. Among the novelties that so intrigued the fashion press is a group known as "briefcase foldables," so called because when folded, they can be filed away like a letter in a briefcase. This one is of gray felt, a chignon cloche, which offers ingenious manipulation of the brim to show the profile and is long in back to follow the line of the chignon.

4 Girls Accept Holy Habit At Mount St. Joseph Chapel

On Sunday, March nineteenth, the glorious Feast of St. Joseph, the day, too, in Mid-Lent when the rose vestments bespeak the spirit of rejoicing of Holy Mother Church an impressive Ceremony of Reception of the Holy Habit was held in the Chapel of Mount St. Joseph. Four young ladies setting aside the attractions of worldly vanity put on the plain habit of the humble and poor religious. The contrast between the sombre garb accepted by these young aspirants and the bridal luxuries which they discarded expressed more forcibly than words could do the alternation in the manner of life begun on that day.

The young ladies who received Holy Habit were: Miss Teresa Schwab of Cullen, Sask., who will be known in religion as Sister Mary Anastasia; Miss Appolonia Twerdoclib of Norquay, Sask., in religion Sister Rose Marie; Miss Teresa Bloom of Ottawa, in religion Sister Mary Francis Theresa; Miss Shirley Ann Tapp of Ottawa, in religion Sister Mary Borgia.

His Excellency, the Most Reverend J. R. MacDonald, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough, offered the sacrifice of the Mass and officiated at the Ceremony of Reception. At the conclusion of the Mass, Reverend A. Conlogne, C.Ss.R., of Quebec City, who previous to that day had conducted an eight-day Retreat for the Sisters, delivered an eloquent sermon appropriate for the occasion. In addressing the young ladies who were about to begin the life of a religious, he pointed out to them their Model, — none other than Christ Himself. In Him they would see the obedience, meekness, kindness, humility, patience, condescension, and affection which must characterize their lives. In their daily tasks when dealing with the poor, the aged, the sick or little children, they should frequently ask, "How would Christ wish me to do this or that?" A knowledge of His life will reveal the answer in every case. True, such a life will entail self-denial and sacrifice, but was not His invitation to His followers, "If anyone will come after Me, let him take up his cross and follow Me."? The Reverend Speaker congratulated the Sisters on the step they have taken and congratulated, also, their parents and relatives.

Numerous friends of the Sisters witnessed the Ceremony and shared with them a joyous festive day.

Evening Wedding Solemnized At Warkworth

WARKWORTH, March 24. — (ENS).—A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's United church Wednesday evening, when Ona Marguerite, only daughter of Mr. and Mr. George Carr, was united in marriage to John Carman Carlaw, son of Mrs. Carlaw and the late Carman Carlaw. Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper officiated. Master Frank Churchley played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white sheer fashioned with a yoke of trapunto and metallic embroidery, long full sleeves caught in a band at the wrist. Small self-covered buttons trimmed the back of the bodice. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a halo of white flowers. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Vernon Helson of Kingston, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length dress of turquoise blue sheer. All-over metallic embroidery trimmed the short sleeved fitted bodice. She wore a shoulder length veil which was arranged in cap effect caught with pink flowers. Her bouquet was pink roses.

The best man was John Ferguson and the ushers were Lorne Carr, brother of the bride and Elwood Greenly.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Carr, mother of the bride wore a two-piece dress of navy blue crepe, a navy hat and corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Carlaw, mother of the groom, wore a black dress and hat with white accessories and a corsage of red rose buds.

Misses Faye Jones, Newtonville, Frances Bowen, Margaret Taylor and Mrs. Walter Asker assisted with the serving of a buffet lunch.

Later the couple left by motor for a trip to western Ontario. For travelling the bride wore a printed silk jersey dress, navy hat, shoes and coat.

The gift to the bride was a string of pearls, to the matron of honor a silver bon-bon dish, to the organist a pen and pencil set, to the best man a leather bill fold, to the waitresses cosmetic sets, and to the ushers leather key cases.

On their return they will reside in Warkworth.

Honor Bride-Elect

Miss Clara Saunders, whose marriage to Stewart Lockington takes place April 8, was recently honored at a shower, given at the home of Mrs. W. Milliken, 549 Romaine street, by the girls of the office staff of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company. Mrs. Harry Pinn read the presentation address, and Miss Saunders received a mirror and a pair of white blankets from the girls of the staff, and a lamp table and lamp from the office staff as a whole.

The evening was spent in games and singing. Miss Marie Kearns sang "Because." The hostess served refreshments, assisted by several members of the group. There were about 30 girls present.

Housewives Make Rooms Available For War Workers

The lack of adequate housing accommodations for war workers is another problem facing cities and towns in Canada today. The Canadian housewife can relieve the situation, and do another job to help the war effort, by fixing up vacant rooms, and renting them, or registering them so that war workers with their own furniture can rent and furnish them. A great many industrious women have fixed up vacant attic rooms with spare furniture stored there, and have made cosy apartments for war workers.

It's surprising how easily it can be done. A few second-hand pieces of furniture, added to the pieces already stored in the attic, and the question of supply is answered. The rooms could be made into a kitchenette at one end, for instance, and a bed-sitting room at the other. A few nails to make it tight, and a can of paint to finish the job, and there it is.

For the housewife who has always wanted to make something by herself, it's an ideal chance. She can plan and arrange the furniture, put up inexpensive, cheery curtains of her own design, paint to her heart's content, and really have something worthwhile to show for her efforts. War workers are always looking for cosy little apartments, and, after the war, the rooms would appeal to any business woman who likes to relax in her own apartment.

The Y.W.C.A. is the Rooms Registry Centre for Peterborough, and would be glad to list any extra available rooms. People looking for accommodation are directed to this Centre, and are told of the available rooms, and their location. This service is Canada-wide, and is in conjunction with the Traveller's Aid.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

We are today going to have a little talk on, not only spring fashions, but spring colors. When we say all colors are good this spring, to a certain extent that is true, but there are some that are much more in the limelight than others. I think anyone would be safe in saying that navy blue and white as a combination is in the lead for spring. Navy flashed with white is youthful, clean-cut, and ever fresh. Kind to women of all ages, nothing more easy to wear anywhere. It's the classic recipe for that band box look everyone tries for the spring of the year. How suavely navy and white are teamed in coats, coat-dresses, in suits, and suit-dresses, and in the accessories to wear with each. A soft dressmaker suit in navy wool, with the new cardigan neckline and skirt with front box-pleats. The two-piece suit-dress, in either alpaca weave or bengaline rayons, with white cotton organdy dicky and jabot. A smart two-piece dress in navy blue rayon crepe with white eyelet embroidery collar and cuffs.

Another very new feature, a scarf in white rayon crepe tied in an ascot bow, and which serves for both dicky and scarf.

Smart hats to wear with those coat-dresses are made in many different styles. The forward tilted beret, in navy straw-braid, and accented with whirls of white strip-felt. Another style is the small turban, worn well on the back of the head, made of white daisies, and a smart navy blue veil, covering the entire hat, with two long ends hanging over the shoulder.

Then there is the ever popular grey; this season combined with purple. Take a grey fitted suit, with it wear a purple blouse, also hat and gloves. A wide brimmed plain felt hat in purple, slightly rolled at both sides and plain tailored trim, purple gloves and purse, and you will have not only a very up to the minute spring outfit, but also a very striking one. You can also wear a plain straw sailor hat with veil which also fits in with the suit described. Of course this sailor would also be in the purple shade. So many, many beautiful suits lose so much of their beauty and smartness because there is not enough thought put on the style and color of hat and accessories. Ladies, remember this when you go to buy your new spring outfit this year.

Hats are all sizes, large, small and half hats. They are shown in felt, straw, fabric or flowers, each one just as much up to the minute as the other. Next week we will give another talk on the new spring styles. Until then, think well of the pointers that have been given you in this issue.

JUST FOR WOMEN

TIME SAVERS

Wartime housewives are always looking for ways to save valuable time lost in serving and clearing away meals. Here are a few hints which should help them to serve meals with a minimum of effort and a maximum of appeal. Colorful mats or doilies are useful and attractive ways to save washing and ironing. When something is spilled, just one little piece of material needs cleaning, instead of a complete cloth.

In addition new place mats are appearing on the market, made of cellophane or some equally water-resistant material, so that they can be cleaned with a damp cloth and used indefinitely. They are made in gay patterns with a different color on either side, so that the housewife can have her choice of colors when setting her table.

Another time saver is a buffet dinner, served right from the stove. However, if the man of the house prefers to serve, there's the new "three-way" platter, which holds meat and two vegetables. In this system, however, it is best if the meat is in individual servings, since, if carving is necessary, the vegetables might get in the way.

Individual salads, which require a great deal of fuss and bother, are "out" on the busy housekeeper's list. She should prepare a generous bowl of cole slaw or relishes, and pass it with the main course at dinner. A large washable tray saves wear and tear, since, when it is stacked with dishes, only two or three trips to the kitchen are necessary.

TEA TRICKS

There is really a knack to making a good cup of tea, and certain rules must be followed if the hostess wants to be sure she is really offering a "nice cup of tea" to her guests. The first step is to see that the teapot is clean, and it should often be washed in rich suds, and rinsed thoroughly.

The pot should next be heated with hot water, since a warm teapot helps keep the brew hot. Brass, iron or copper teapots are not recommended for best results, since they impart a metallic taste to the tea. Tea and water should be measured quite carefully, with the familiar proportion of three teaspoons of tea to one pint of water, preferred. Only boiling water to be used, since it extracts the true flavor from the tea. Lastly, the tea should be brewed from two to five minutes.

TIMELY TIPS

Handbags of flowered and striped chintz and chambray, with wooden frames, will soon be making their bid for summer accessory popularity. Accessories are going to be large again this year, with the accent on color and brightness.

While a corduroy garment is drying, brush it occasionally with a whisk or clothes brush, to brush up the nap. When it is completely dry, press lightly on the wrong side with a warm iron, with the garment placed on a bath towel to preserve the ridge in the material. A final brushing after ironing gives the finishing touches.

Electric appliances, such as irons or electric oven, should always be connected to outlets in the wall, rather than to lamp sockets. Wall outlets are much stronger and safer.

STAIN REMOVAL KIT

With conservation of vital materials and housekeeper's byword, it is only natural that more women should try to take out spots spoiling dresses or linen, rather than send the whole article to the cleaners, or discard it. A stain removal kit is a good idea, since it would be at hand at all times, and stains are most easily removed when they are fresh.

This kit could contain absorbent materials, white blotting paper, medicine droppers, carbon tetrachloride or another non-inflammable solvent, ammonia, peroxide, vinegar, salt, baking soda, French chalk or talcum powder rust remover, and borax; thus covering the three varieties of stain removers—solvents, bleaches, and absorbents.

The bleaches include peroxide, acetic acid, lemon juice and salt, while carbon tetrachloride, and alcohol and water are solvents, that is, they dissolve substances. Absorbents, such as French chalk or talcums, take up, or absorb stains, and are best when used on moist, freshly made stains, or grease spots.

Stains should always be treated as soon as possible after they occur, and certainly before the clothes are put in the wash. Hot water and soap suds tend to set stains and make them impossible to remove.

APOLOGIES

It seems that a faux pas was made when this column advised women to use soda to preserve color in green vegetables when cooking them. It has been proved that the use of soda definitely destroys most of the vitamin content of vegetables, and therefore is not recommended. Dietitians agree that the best plan to preserve the color as well as the vitamin content is to cook vegetables quickly, in as little water as possible.

Delegates Report Scout Convention

Two hundred ladies attended the annual convention of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts, held in the Y.W.C.A., McGill street, Toronto, on Thursday, Mrs. E. Standing, field secretary of the Auxiliary, was chairman.

Highlights of the afternoon meeting were addresses by Executive Commissioner A. Irwin, and Toronto District Commissioner D. Padden, who discussed the opportunities for leadership offered in Boy Scout work. Co-operation among all branches of the organization was also stressed. Mr. Padden said that the Auxiliaries should always remember that their motto was "What will help the boy."

Representatives from Peterborough, Hamilton, Toronto and Oshawa were present. Peterborough's delegates were: Mrs. G. Groombridge, president of the first troop; Mrs. E. Freeman and Mrs. R. Jones of the fourth troop; Mrs. A. E. Lambert and Mrs. H. Schram of the ninth troop; Mrs. R. J. Kearns, fifth troop; Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. Groombridge won lucky number prizes.

DOROTHY DIX . . . . .

LIVING SKELETONS PREFERRED

Why Men in America Have Obsession for Stringbean Form in Woman Nobody Can Explain.

DEAR MISS DIX—Can you explain my husband's strange reactions for me? If we go into a store together, he will immediately wander away from me, even though I want his opinion on the thing I am buying. If we get on a street car together, he acts as though he had never seen me before. If I start a conversation with him, he replies in monosyllables as if he were speaking to a stranger. When we are in public together, he seems to try to dodge me.

When I ask him for a divorce, he goes into an hysterical fit and is sick for days. I try to reason with him as a mother might, but it does no good. He wants me to stay with him, yet when he treats me like this it hurts. I do not know why, unless it is because I weigh 250 pounds. I have been in pictures and am somewhat of a celebrity, but I have all that behind me and am a good wife, and people find me amusing as I am a natural born comedienne. Why does he act as though he were ashamed of me?

Weight Affects Matrimonial Chances

ANSWER—I cannot explain your husband's attitude toward you, unless he is allergic to plump ladies, but as you were probably no sylph when he married you, that does not seem an adequate reason for his playing hide and seek with you because you have put on a few more pounds.

It is a curious thing, however, how much a woman's weight affects her matrimonial chances. In the Orient, to which many of us who like food often think of emigrating, fat is esteemed a blessing instead of a curse, and the more there is of a woman, the more she is admired and desired. No sheik falls for a skinny Jane. It is only in our own country that the curious cult of the worship of the living skeleton prevails, and the bonier a girl is, the more likelihood she has of snaring a husband.

Why men should have this obsession for stringbeans, no one can explain. Certainly the girl with a lean and hungry look is not so easy on the eyes as the well-fed one. Nor is she so pleasant to live with, because a full stomach makes for amiability, and any woman on a diet has her nerves and her temper on edge and is just about as safe to deal with as any other half-starved animal.

Any man who marries a woman who tries to keep her figure takes his own appetite into his hands so to speak because the woman who counts her calories and turns down the rich and nourishing foods that do awful things to her waist line, forces her husband to starve with her. She feeds him on spinach and the other weeds and grasses that were never intended for human consumption and the only way he can get a square meal is to sneak out the back door and go to a restaurant.

Yet in spite of all this, for a wife to get fat and lose her figure is still considered an alibi for her husband to let his eyes roam over the light weights, so that the wife who wishes to retain her husband's affections has to practically choose between him and the mayonnaise jar.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX — I am married to a soldier and am in misery. I had been writing to him for almost three years and when he got his furlough and came home I married him, without loving him and without realizing what I was letting myself in for.

Now he is going back overseas soon and I have asked him for a divorce, but he doesn't want to give me one. While I was writing to this boy in the army, I was going steady with a fellow my age and was in love with him and planning to marry him, but instead I married my husband.

What I want to know is: Should I get a divorce before he goes over, or wait until he comes back?

G. H. R.

ANSWER — You seem to have very curious ideas about marriage and little knowledge of your own heart when you marry a boy you don't love when you are engaged to be married to a boy you do love, without apparently having any rhyme or reason for either course. I should think that inasmuch as you have only been married a few short weeks to the boy you don't love that divorce would be the only way out of the muddle. And for pity's sake don't marry again until you give marriage a little serious thought.

DEAR MISS DIX—My daughter is a Frank Sinatra fan. She is only 17 and has really gone too far with it. She says she will kill herself if she can't have him, and I know she really means it. She has never seen him, of course, but after hearing his program she takes a long walk and doesn't come back for hours. And she cries herself to sleep every night. We have tried everything we know but it doesn't seem to help. Please give us some advice.

FRANTIC PARENTS.

ANSWER—Girls of her age frequently have a mental upset. Put her under the care of some good commonsense doctor. If you could send her off to school where she could meet new people, perhaps a new boy, it would help.

Scratches Made On Furniture Can Be Fixed

A marring scratch or a sliver of wood gouged out of a polished table or chair can spoil the appearance of the article, and take away its glossy surface. However, small scratches and less severe gouges can be efectively camouflaged if the right method is used.

A small scratch generally disappears when rubbed with the cut side of a nut—a pecan or butternut works best—since the oil in the nut darkens and conceals the scratch. A polish with a soft cloth completes the effect, and the piece is as good as new.

A larger chip or scar on dark furniture, such as walnut or mahogany, requires a little more care. Take a finely-pointed camel's hair brush, and paint iodine or argyrol lightly into the cut. Care must be taken, however, to avoid smearing the surrounding surface, as it will dull the polish.

Spots and stains can be removed also. The newly-wed, who watches guests at the house-warming, in case hot dishes or damp glasses are placed on new and shiny furniture, can generally remove the spots if they occur, by rubbing them with cigar ashes and a light oil. Care must be taken, however, that the rubbing is done lightly, with the fingertips, and with the grain of the wood, to avoid scratching the polish under the stain.

Specks, or spots of paint on furniture, can often be removed by wiping very lightly with a cloth moistened in turpentine. Hardened specks can be scraped off with an old razor blade, taking care, however, not to scratch the surrounding surface.

A thin coating of wax is very helpful in preserving the polish and appearance of furniture. Dining-room tables, especially, can be protected from light scratches if self-polishing wax is applied sparingly, and renewed only when the last coating wears off. The wax should be smoothed on; let dry for half an hour; and then rubbed with a soft cloth and polished to bring up a good sheen.

Civil Servant Threatens Premier Drew

TORONTO, March 24—(CP).—A Royal Commission was told here yesterday by former Premier Mitchell Hepburn that he had been informed by Ernest Lawrie, suspended employee of the Ontario Treasury Department, that he (Lawrie) "had plenty on Premier George Drew." He was asked to convey this message to Premier Drew, Mr. Hepburn testified.

The commission adjourned sine die at the conclusion of yesterday's testimony. Mr. Hepburn, along with Provincial Treasurer Leslie M. Frost, was chief witness. The commission is investigating Lawrie's charges of irregularities in administration of the Corporation Tax Act and also probing the conduct of civil servants of Lawrie and Mrs. Marie Thompson, chief ledger clerk of the Department, who also is under suspension.

Lawrie's main purpose, Mr. Hepburn said, "seemed to be to get a salary increase for himself and Mrs. Thompson, and he told me to take the message to Premier Drew that he had plenty on him and that a certain amount would stick."

The commission was told by Mr. Frost that Lawrie came to his office March 10 and threatened "to blow the lid off the Department" unless salary increases were assured for himself and Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. Frost testified he had no knowledge of charged irregularities in the work of Chester Walters, Deputy Treasury Minister, and his assistant, P. T. Clark. (The commission was told by Lawrie on Tuesday that taxes were not collected from some firms for periods of years and that in the case of one firm an owed tax of $20,000 was halved.)

German Shell Hits Hospital

NAPLES, March 24—(AP).— Explosion of a German shell in the hospital area of the Anzio beachhead killed five soldiers and left a dozen in hospitals today for treatment of wounds.

The explosion occurred yesterday when about 40 shells were pumped into the hospital area. The dead and wounded included patients and hospital personnel, but no nurses.

The hospital area is like a big tent city, well marked with red crosses.

The shells apparently came from a tank in the German lines probing for transport on the coastal road.

Hitler Forced To Shift Army Reserves

LONDON, March 24 (CP) — The Red Army's overpowering surge over the Dniester River into prewar Rumania has forced Hitler to make one of his biggest gambles of the war—to use a large portion of his strategic reserve to bolster the tottering Balkan front.

Some divisions of this reserve probably had been slated for Western Europe to combat the forthcoming Allied invasion, but the Germans either had to throw new forces into Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria or concede the Balkans to the Red Army.

Hitler wanted to hang on to this army reserve as long as possible, not only for the West, but also to meet the Russian threat through Poland. The Soviet push toward the Balkans, however, exceeded anything anticipated by the Germans and they were not prepared for it.

Not Denuding France

The enemy is not denuding France or the Low Countries to get these new troops for the Balkans, but it is highly probable that divisions held in reserve near the Swiss border or the Siegfried Line area and in Germany itself have been rushed southeast.

This would weaken the Western front, for the side which wins battles is the one which has the last reserve in hand.

If the Germans can possibly stabilize the Balkan front they may be able to bring some of these divisions back into the vital reserve and depend upon the Carpathian Mountains as the main bulwark in Southeast Europe. The Russians are about 115 miles from the Carpathians, which ring Hungary on the south and east.

Fortify "Iron Gate"

The only good pass through the Carpathians is the "Iron Gate," where the Danube River curls through the mountains 90 miles southeast of Belgrade. The Germans probably are fortifying the pass now to make it a strongpoint like Cassino, on the Central Italian front. This would serve as a backstop if the Russians roll across Bessarabia, as they probably will, into Rumania proper and swing southwest to the Iron Gate.

Once the Russians get to the Carpathians, they will face the same formidable obstacles the 8th and 5th Armies are meeting in Italy.

Meanwhile, relationship between the Balkan front and the Western European invasion is receiving attention from some London observers.

The Anglo-U.S. Reserve

Douglas Brown, military correspondent for the London Evening News, said the position at last has been reached when the German High Command could hope to halt the surging Russian tide only by opposing it with all the strength left to the Germans.

"I look upon Anglo-American forces assembled in Britain as the grand strategic reserve of the United Nations," he wrote. "They will be launched against the enemy when his own reserves have been exhausted. Every day the balance on land and in the air moves against the Germans. Thus every day improves the prospects of the Anglo-American grand strategy reserve."

Industrial Bank Would Fill Post-War Gap

OTTAWA, March 24 (CP)—Securities of the proposed industrial development bank will sell on about the same basis as government guaranteed bonds, Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada said today before the Commons banking committee.

The committee, in its first meeting devoted to study of the industrial development bank bill, heard both Mr. Towers and Dr. W. G. Clark, deputy minister of finance, explain the purposes of the bank. The two financial officials were questioned briefly and will be back again for further questioning.

Mr. Towers made his statement on the value of the bank's securities when Capt. Walter Tucker (L-Rosthern) wanted to know why it should have to pay higher interest for its capital than the chartered banks.

The governor said the Bank of Canada would have power to buy securities and would have a view as to their value.

He was prepared to say they would sell on the basis of government guaranteed bonds (with interest ranging from one to three per cent depending on the term.)

The bill provides for an initial capital of $25,000,000 to be subscribed by the Bank of Canada and for the sale of bonds up to a maximum of $75,000,000.

Dr. Clark, the first witness at today's sitting, said the proposed bank would provide an oportunity for filling an important gap in the post-war financing.

In the existng financial structure, there had always been a gap not filled by private financial institutions. Small new enterprises and small established firms in need of new capital for expansion experienced considerable difficulty in financing.

Dr. Clark said it was natural and proper that private institutions could not provide this service.

The new government-operated bank would fill this need through its power to lend, guarantee a loan or underwrite an issue where there was a reasonable chance of the enterprise succeeding.

The reconversion of industry to peacetime production would require capital as would the opportunities for new industries based on wartime scientific development.

"It is very important that in the post-war period this gap should be filled," Dr. Clark said.

Profit Unlikely

"If we can fill that gap we will be in a much better position to promote an expanding economy after the war was a high level of employment and productivity."

The chances of profit were small and risks "considerable" in such a financial institution but a "relatively moderate profit" could be anticipated.

"That is just a pious hope, isn't it?" R. B. Hanson (PC — York Sunbury) asked.

"To me it's a belief," Dr. Clark replied. "It depends wholly on the administration."

Dr. Clarke said there was precedent for "the tie" up of this type of thing with the central banks." The Federal Reserve Banks of the United States had an industrial lending program and in England the Bankers Industrial Development Corporation operated under the Bank of England.

The Bank of Canada was the channel through which the governments monetary policy was carried into effect. The operation of the Industrial Development Bank would have to dovetail into the government's monetary policy.

For this reason, the government thought it sounder to set the new bank up as a subsidiary to the Bank of Canada rather than as a separate institution.

Another reason was that the government had great confidence in the management of the Bank of Canada.

Farm Forum Decides On Holding Picnic

LIFFORD LINE, March 24 (ENS) —The Yelverton Farm Forum had an interesting meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Heaslip and family this week, with an attendance of over thirty. The leader, Victor Malcolm, divided the assemblage into two groups, with Mrs. Charles Staples appointed leader of of Group 1 and Gordon Robinson leader of the second group.

The vital question for discussion by the separate groups was: "Would your Forum like to hold meetings through the summer—say every fourth Monday evening, beginning April 17th?"

If not (a) What suggestions for summer activity have you? (b) What assistance is wanted from the Ontario Forum Office?

It was agreed that an occasional "get-together" during the summer months would be helpul. It was suggested that a picnic, with the assistance of a speaker from the Farm Forum Office, might be a favored summer activity.

It was decided that a Farm Forum Guide would not be given much attention during the summer as such publications were usually wasted during the farmer's busiest season. It was deemed advisable to take a collection occasionally at special functions in order to defray the expenses of a speaker or other extras.

The second question was: "As compared with last year is your neighborhood increasing, maintaining or decreasing production? (a) of field crops (b) of livestock?"

The general opinion was that field crop production was decreased, being maintained in a few cases, while livestock production was showing a marked increase. It was stated that since western grain could be purchased more cheaply than it can be grown, under present conditions, it was not profitable to crop heavily, but to use the acreage for pasture lands. Many vacated farms are also being pastured.

Miss Edna Robinson, recreation leader, sponsored an entertaining "general knowledge" contest, which was won by Mr. Wilbur Malcolm.

The young people assisted the hostess' family in serving a lunch and an enjoyable social time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robinson's kind invitation to hold the next meeting at their home on March 27, was accepted.

Lord Cavendish Dies At Age 39

DUBLIN, March 24—(CP).—Lord Charles Cavendish, second son of the ninth Duke of Devonshire and husband of the former Adele Astaire, American dancer, died today in his 39th year at his estate, Linsmore Castle, Waterford County. He had been ill for a long time.

His romance with the sister of Fred Astaire—the "dynamic, dancing American kids," who were starred in New York and London musical comedies in the 1920's—titillated both sides of the Atlantic.

They were married May 9, 1932, at the Duke of Devonshire's private chapel in Chatsworth House, ancestral home of the bridegroom's family.

There were many predictions that the marriage would end the career of Fred Astaire, but he went on to achieve wider fame as one of the top male dancing stars of movies.

The couple had three children but all died soon after birth. When her husband died Lady Cavendish was in London on Red Cross war duties. The recent ban on travel to Eire is expected to be waived to permit her to attend the funeral.

Beginner, take notice! Straight seams...no sleeves to set in! Pattern 9055 is easier than falling off a log to make because there just isn't one puzzling step to stumble on! Such a flattering style, too. For princess panels are slimming; no waistline to cut your height.

Pattern 9055 comes in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards 35-inch fabric.

Get Hand-Happy...with Chipso for Dishes!

Help Yourself to SOFTER HANDS FROM TODAY ON!

• Want softer, smoother, whiter hands? Change to New Chipso for dishes! From the first day—you'll be helping yourself to softer hands. Chipso's the special flake soap, made to make you Hand-Happy at your dishwashing! It's got a wonderful mildness that gives your hands extra protection every minute they're in the dishpan — and helps you get rid of that "strong-soap" roughness! So today look for Chipso in the familiar orange and blue box.

SUDS STAY ACTIVE! —up, up, UP! These Chipso suds come up fast — make glass, china, silver shine like diamonds! And Chipso's so rich — suds STAY ACTIVE till every greasy skillet sparkles!

THRIFTIER, TOO! Over 2000 home dishwashing tests showed us that Chipso goes up to one-fourth farther than granulated soaps — licks 'em on economy! Change to Chipso ... and save!

BIRTH.

JONES. — To Captain R. Walden Jones and Mrs. Jones, on March 20, 1944, at the Pembroke General Hospital, Pembroke, Ontario, a daughter.

WEAVER.—To Mr. and Mrs. Ward Weaver, Jr. (nee Rossamond McLean), at Nicholls Hospital, on Friday, March 24, 1944, the gift of a son (Robert Harold). Both doing well.

GREENLY.—To Mr. and Mrs. Ross Greenly, at Nicholls Hospital, on Thursday, March 23, 1944, a daughter.

ENGAGEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis of Selwyn wish to announce the engagement of their elder daughter Ruth Norine, to Charles Frederick, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert McIlmoyl, Selwyn. The wedding to take place the latter part of April.

DIED.

PLUMPTON, Denise Ruth. — At St. Joseph's Hospital, Thursday Evening, March 23, 1944, Denise Ruth, age 8 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denis Plumpton.
Funeral Saturday at 2 p.m., from the J. J. Duffus Funeral Parlors to St. Peter's Cemetery for interment.

DUNFORD, Harriet. — On Friday, March 24, 1944, at her late residence, Lakefield, Harriet Dunford, age 82 years, wife of the late Albert L. Dunford, and mother of Fred of Toronto.
Funeral, Sunday, March 26, at 2:30 p.m., from the Belleghem Funeral Parlors, Rev. S. A. R. Wood of St. John's Anglican Church, Lakefield, officiating. Interment Lakefield Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

MATHEWS. — In loving memory of Mrs. J. Mathews.

We watched you suffer day by day,
And could not help in any way,
But just stood by and saw you pass
Into the Saviour's arms at last.
—Ever remembered by her Family.

LOWES. — In loving memory of George J. Lowes, who passed away March 24, 1943.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Always remembered by Wife, Son and Daughter.

CARD OF THANKS.

Robert Dwyer, Wallace Point, and Family wish to express sincere appreciation to friends and neighbors for their kindness during their recent bereavement in the passing of the late Sylvester Dwyer.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, March 25

EXCELLENT prospects for steady progress upon cherished goals and expansive and enduring objectives, is read from the predominant stellar configurations. It demands persistent, serious and concentrated efforts to attain sound and enduring success. This may attract the attention and approbation of elders or those in substantial positions, whose rewards may take the form of gift, trusts or bequests. However, it might be well to shun all extravagances, excesses and personal prodigality.

Birthday Predictions

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of surprising success, or of an unusual culmination of serious and determined efforts to reach important goals or cherished hopes and wishes. In finance, business and personal ambitions there will be happy and prosperous attainments. In this, elders or other solid persons may assists by trusts, gifts or legacies. Inclinations to extravagant adventures either in investments or the pursuit of pleasure should be curbed.

A child born on this day will have sound and sterling gifts and qualities, and will achieve success, although disposed to the good things of life extravagantly and perhaps excessively.

Member Frowns On Enticing British Capital

TORONTO, March 24 — (CP) — The Ontario government was both praised and citicized for its policies and administration during a night sitting of the Provincial Legislature last night and it is expected the budget debate will be resumed at today's session.

Three government bills providing financial assistance and protection for members of the armed forces after brief exchanges were passed through committee stage during yesterday's afternoon sitting.

Introduced by Labor Minister Daley and given first reading was a measure amending the factory, Shop and Office Building Act. Mr. Daley said it would provide greater health and safety protection for workers in these establishments.

Under a motion submitted to the House by Premier Drew, a select committee of 15 will be appointed to study the report of the Provincial Fuel Commission on the development of Lignite resources in northern Ontario. The Premier said experimental work to date had cost thousands of dollars.

Four members were heard at the night sitting. They were: H. Connor (C.C.F.-Hamilton East), who said that if government plans to bring British industry to Canada after the war were carried out British workers might be put on the "dole," A. A. MacLeod (Lab. Prog.-Toronto Bellwoods) who urged the government take over 25 per cent of the cost of education instead of making a grant of $3,100,000 to the municipalities; Dr. Hobbs Taylor (P.C.-Huron) and A. Belanger (L.-Prescott).

Mr. Belanger re-iterated a call for co-operation among all members of all political organizations to work together for the betterment of the people.

Mr. Connor was critical of the government's proposals to entice British capital to Canada after the war. "We should remember," he said, "that our greatest post-war market will be the Canadian worker living on proper wages."

Dr. Taylor saaid no economic policy could be on sound ground unless "we decided where our destiny is going to be."

"I don't want to tear down the whole fabric of our national life" or "the good standards that have been obtained, but I want to reach down and raise up the low income levels' he said.

Monetary Upset.

He believed science could help farmers find new markets for their products. The wartime rubber situation could have been rectified with rubber made from grain "instead of from oil from a foreign country."

Referring to Hydro in Ontario, he urged all possible development and hoped this great development would not become the "political football" of any political party.

He envisaged a monetary rebellion, and said he believed a new monetary system should replace the present one which he described as "impossible." Under the present system the middle class of Canada, the stabilizing element of Canadian culture, stood in danger of being squeezed out of existence.

In reply to a question by Mr. MacLeod, Labor Minister Daley told the Legislature that the Provincial government is concerned about the effect of the new Dominion labor code on cases where certification fees previously had been ordered by the Ontario Labor Court. He said he is going to Ottawa to-morrow to confer with Federal authorities on the matter.

Would Broaden Grounds For Divorces

OTTAWA, March 24 (CP)—Revision of Canadian divorce laws, broadening the grounds on which divorce can be granted, was urged in the Senate Thursday by Senator John Haig (PC., Manitoba), who was supported by Senator W. D. Euler (L., Ontario).

Senator Haig, speaking when a number of divorce bills were under consideration, said the Senate should take some action to have divorce hearings removed from Parliament.

"I am disturbed at the large number of divorces with which we have to deal," he said.

The divorce committee, of which Senator Haig is a member, was not the competent body to hear evidence which should be presented before a qualified judge. Senator Haig suggested that, after the Easter recess, the Senate give careful consideration to what action could be taken to remedy the situation.

"Unanimous" View

Turning to the divorce law itself, which allows divorce only on grounds of adultery, Senator Haig said there was "unanimous feeling" among the business and professional people of Canada that they should be revised, particularly so far as reasons for divorce were concerned.

Senator Euler said the present law was discriminatory against the Protestants of Quebec and Prince Edward Island who, in the absence of courts in their own Provinces empowered to grant divorces, were faced with heavy expense in coming to Ottawa to gain relief.

"I believe the grounds for divorce should be somewhat broadened," said Senator Euler.

Where Refusal Hurts

The refusal of a divorce to a couple who had lived together long enough to know that they could never get along together was likely to lead to more immorality than a broadening of the grounds for divorce.

At today's session the Senate gave third reading and passed 10 divorce bills, gave second reading to nine and first reading to six.

Some improvement is being noted, after a second operation was found necessary last week, and Mrs. Payne is returning to Toronto on Friday for to week end with her husband.

Miss Henrietta Needler, who has been in ill health for the past year or more, was taken to the Nicholls' Hospital, Peterborough, for further treatment on Wednesday morning.

Airforce Officer On Pension Board

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP) Wing Cmdr. Stephen Jones of Mount Forest, Ont., has been posted to the Pensions Department of the Department of National Defense for Air as Liaison Officer to "insure that personnel discharged from the R.C.A.F. are fully advised of the provisions of the rehabilitation program," it was announced today.

Wing Cmdr. Jones duties will be similar to those of Col. H. T. Cock, who is Liaison Officer with the Department for the Army.

Wing Cmdr. Jones, a member of the Canadian Pensions Commission prior to his enlistment in the R.C.A.F., has been engaged in advising Air Force officials on matters concerning pension and other post-discharge problems.

Murder Charge

HACKENSACK, N.J., March 24.—(AP).—Robert Deegan, 26, of Dumont, N.J., was convicted last night by a jury of murder in the baseball bat killing of Mrs. Ethel Hermann, housewife, who was robbed of $4.25 while walking to a friend's home. He faces the electric chair. Martin A. Hoffman 18, of Dorchester, Mass., was convicted on the same charge, but the jury recommends mercy assuring a life sentence for Hoffman.

SHOUT THE TIDINGS

USUALLY at some stage in the bidding, if a pair has enough strength to justify a game try, one partner or the other knows it. As soon as he does, he has a definite responsibility to see that the side does not lose that game by default. There are three things then among which he must choose. One is to bid the game himself. Another is to make a bid of some kind which guarantees game strength and will force a sound partner to get to it. A third is to make some kind of bid which is sure to be kept open and give him another chance.

North: ♠ K J 8 7 6 3; ♥ None; ♦ K J 9 5; ♣ K 9 2

West: ♠ Q 9 5; ♥ 5 4 3 2; ♦ 7 6; ♣ 8 6 5 4

East: ♠ A 10 6 2; ♥ A J 10 8 7; ♦ 8 3; ♣ J 7

South: ♠ None; ♥ K Q 9 6; ♦ A Q 10 4 2; ♣ A Q 10 3

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥
Dbl	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♦

And you can't blame South for passing that. The combination of North's last bid with his previous ones made it seem to South as if North were choosing among evils in a misfit situation. First, South heard North take out the business or penalty double of 2-Hearts with his spade rebid, and then later, when he shifted from 3-Clubs to 3-Diamonds, it sounded to South as if North was simply showing a preference between the two minors which South had bid.

North had two chances to handle his situation differently Instead of just 3-Diamonds on his third turn, he might have bid 4-Diamonds, one more than necessary, betokening game strength, or he might have bid 3-Hearts, the opponent's suit, whereupon South should have bid 4-Diamonds, North 5-Diamonds and South 6-Diamonds.

It might even have been better if North, learning about South's great strength in proclaiming the ability to double a low bid of 2-Hearts, and with his own fine fit for South's first suit of diamonds, plus his lack of losers in hearts, had bid 3-Spades instead of only two. Then, after his partner bid 4-Clubs on his next turn, he could have bid 4-Diamonds or 4-Hearts. In fact, almost anything was better than the weak bids he made.

3 Fliers Injured In Bomber Crash

ORANGEVILLE, Ont. March 24. —(CP).— Three Royal Air Force members were injured early to-day when their Anson trainer crashed in the bush at nearby Honeywood. Orangeville is 55 miles from Toronto.

The twin-engined aircraft was on a routine flight from the R.A.F. base at Port Albert, near Goderich. Over this district the propellers and wings coated with ice and the pilot instructed the crew to prepare for a crash landing.

The injured men remained in the bush for three hours until the other two crew members, who were unhurt, found the farmhouse of Carman Siddal. The men were given medical treatment by a Honeywood doctor. One suffered a broken leg.

Stimson Denies Mistake Made

WASHINGTON, Marhc 24—(AP) —War Secretary Henry Stimson said today that the pilots of 23 American transport planes shot down by friendly gunfire during the invasion of Sicily were operating under a "completely unified high command."

A reporter raised the question of command at the Secretary's press conference by citing an overseas dispatch which said that the Army and Navy were under joint command during the Sicilian invasion, while the Air Force operated separately. Neither the questioner nor Stimson identified the dispatch which indicated loss of the planes with 410 personnel may have been due to lack of co-ordination.

"The statement that the air forces operated separately in the Sicilian landing operation or in any other joint operation in this war is untrue," Stimson said, "and is a complete disservice to the fine men of the army air forces....

"The loss of the planes...resulted from a combination of circumstances that may occur in spite of the best and most meticulous planning. I know of no more complicated operation in war than an amphibious operation at night involving not only sea and ground personnel, but airborne troops as well...."

Beurling Still Tops Fighters

By FRANK LOWE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 24—(CP Cable.) —A cock Canadian with a killer's eye, Flt. Lt. George ("Buzz") Beurling of Verdun, Que., is top-ranking R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. fighter of the war still on operations with 31 planes to his credit, according to the latest tabulations by air correspondents.

But chasing closely is an unidentified Polish pilot, an R.A.F. sergeant whose identity cannot be divulged until after the war, and who has knocked down 28 planes.

Beurling, now flight commander in a Britain based R.C.A.F. Spitfire squadron, is the youthful leader of a new group of straight-shooting aces who are rapidly taking over the spots vacated as battle of Britain pilots are killed, taken prisoner or leave operations.

The Canadian, whose left breast is covered with medal ribbons, is only one short of the top figure of 32 hung up by such colorful daredevils as Group Capt. A. G. (Sailor) Malan, who is now off operations and Sqdn. Ldr. Paddy Finucane, youthful Irishman who survived hundreds of flights and fights only to fall to a chance bullet over the French coast.

2 Air Force Men Get Suspended Sentence

CHARLOTTETOWN, March 24—(CP).—Sequel to the poison liquor deaths of two Charlottetown women, two Royal Air Force members were given a year's suspended sentence yesterday when they pleaded guilty to charges of causing grievous bodily harm.

The two, LAC. Bertrand D. West and LAC. George W. Gilbert, both of England, had their charges reduced from manslaughter. They were arrested following the deaths of Mrs. Ada Vickerson and Winnifred MacLeod here last month. Testimony revealed the women became ill after drinking an alcohol and glycerine preparation said to have been obtained by the R.A.F. men from the air station here.

ELECTED—Charles Martin, Progressive Conservative, who has retained the Ontario riding of Haldimand-Norfolk.

Ladies, Please Note

TORONTO, March 24 (CP) —Miss Jane Elizabeth Parks, who yesterday became a centenarian, received an appropriate birthday gift of 100 roses from five nephews. The still vigorous Miss Parks who was born in Fredericksburg, lived 35 years in Belleville and 45 in Toronto, says her formula for longevity has three factors: hard work, strict vegetarianism and no smoking.

807 Employees On CBC Staff

OTTAWA, March 24 — (CP). — Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said on Wednesday the CBC was about to start "a complete job analysis of our entire staff."

He told the Commons Radio Committee this would take many months, but the CBC hoped that with the information thus gained "we will be in a position, at the end of the coming fiscal year, to re-adjust our personnel both as to occupation and salary."

He said he did not anticipate any increase in the $1,850,000 payroll of 807 employees, but he said he hoped to devise some means of introducing in the CBC mode of payment "certain factors that will make the personnel happy."

Cmdr. Orde's Mother Passes In Toronto

TORONTO, March 24. — Mrs. Edith Catherine Mary Orde, widow of Hon. Mr. Justice John F. Orde, one-time resident of Ottawa, died here Wednesday following a prolonged illness.

The daughter of the late Capt. Francis Henry Cowper Cox, Mrs. Orde was born in Seone, India, and as a child went to England, where she received her education. Coming to Canada as a young woman, she was married in Ottawa in 1892 to Mr. Justice Orde. She had been a resident of Toronto since 1920 and was a member of Grace Church-on-the-Hill. Her husband died in 1932.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Winnifred M. Pope of Toronto, two sons, Brig. R. J. Orde, Judge Advocate-General, Ottawa, and Cmdr E. T. C. Orde, V.D., R.C.N.V.R. Sydney, N.S.; two grandsons, Petty Officer Writer J. D. Pope, R.C. N.V.R., overseas, and Pte. D. H. Pope, 2nd Canadian Army University Corps; and a sister, Mrs. Lane, widow of Hon. Mr. Justice Campbell Lane of Montreal.

Sub Commander Decorated Again

LONDON, March 24 — (CP) — The British submarine commander —Lieut. Norman Limbury Auchenleck Jewell — who took Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark to North Africa on secret mission before Allied troops landed in 1942, was decorated yesterday by Admiral Harold R. Stark.

The Legion of Merit was awarded him "for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services" to the United States during the landing on Sicily. Details of this were not announced.

The 31-year-old officer won the Order of the British Empire for the clandestine removal of Gen. Henri Giraud from France to North Africa.

Allies Unable To Budge Cassino Huns

Tough Paratroopers Reinforce Hotel Defenders

BY LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press War Correspondent

NAPLES, March 25 — (CP) — Tough German parachutists, ordered by their Commander, Lt.-Gen. Richard Heindrich, to cling to Cassino at all costs and throw the Allies out if possible, are holding New Zealand troops in tight confines in the southern part of the town.

The Germans have been able to get three more tanks into the lobby of the Continental Hotel and apparently are reinforcing their troops through secret tunnels it was disclosed today.

One of the tunnels used by the Germans was said to extend more than 1,000 yards from the Abbey atop Monastery Hill to the vicinity of Castle Hill which the Germans have been trying desperately to take from New Zealand troops of the 5th Army.

The Allied communique said tersely "heavy fighting continues in Cassino where the general situation remains unchanged."

After more than a week of bitter but indecisive fighting in and around Cassino, Allied chances of breaking through the German defences there and advancing into the Liri valley leading to Rome were considered as remote as when the intensified push started.

Heavily Bombed

Although the Allies rocked the town with 1,400 tons of bombs and dumped another 1,100 tons on targets beyond last week, the Germans have held on stubornly to their major positions in Cassino and in surrounding hills. The enemy yesterday strengthened his defences with powerful new artillery and aerial support.

Thieves Abandoned Booty On Roof Of Looted Store

An audacious break-in at the Robert Fair store, George Street, during the night partially succeeded, but was eventually a failure when the thieves abandoned their booty.

Entrance to the store had been gained by climbing a fire-escape to the flat roof at the back of the premises and then a window on the third floor was broken. It was an easy matter from there for the burglars to get into the store; and it was evident that they had ransacked all three floors, although the safe was apparently untouched.

The break-in was discovered when employees arrived at the store this morning. A large quantity of miscellaneous good was missing, including ladies' dresses, lingerie, hats, foundation garments and stockings, and the thieves had evidently grabbed these articles from shelves all over the store.

When Sergt. John Thompson and Officer John Naples investigated they found nearly all the missing goods packed in a large carton, hidden behind a skylight on the roof, where it was not visible either from the store or from the lane below. It is thought that the burglars were frightened off after getting outside the store with their booty or that they had hidden the goods in the hope of recovering them later.

15 Men Trapped In Mine Blaze

CLARKSBURGH, W. Va., March 25.—(AP).— An explosion ripped throug;h the 3,000 foot slope of the Katherine Coal Company's No. 4 mine at nearby Shinnston early today trapping 15 men of a fire-fighting crew who had entered the mine at 11 o'clock last night to battle a blaze near the bottom of the slope.

Mine Superintendent John Hogue said he believed "all the men are dead."

When the blast occurred flame shot throughout the 3,000 foot slope and burst out of the mouth of the mine.

Windows in homes in Shinnston, two miles away, were shattered and buildings in the area rocked. Hogue said the force of the explosion blew out ventilator fans throughout the shaft, hindering rescue work.

L. S. McKee, district mine inspector, said he believed the blast was caused by an explosion of mine gas that had collected near the bottom of the bituminous shaft.

Fire was discovered near the bottom of the shaft about 11 o'clock last night, Hogue said, and the men on the night shift were ordered out of the mine and fire-fighting crews were formed. The 15 trapped men formed one of the crews and entered the shaft a short time before the blast. None of the other fire-fighting crews had entered the mine.

The mine is located in Harrison county in North Central West Virginia.

Queen's Makes History With New Faculty

KINGSTON, March 25.—(CP).— Principal R. C. Defence Lawyer Fights Statement

NEW YORK, March 25 — (CP) —One of the most vital parts of the State's first degree murder case against Wayne Lonergan balanced indecisively today on the outcome of a stubborn defence fight to keep his unsigned confession from becoming a part of his trial record.

Edward V. Broderick, chief defence counsel, was on his feet quickly when the prosecution sought to introduce the statement yesterday, charging it was obtained under duress and with promises of leniency.

The defence chief still was battling vigorously as the trial recessed for the week-end.

The prosecution already has conceded that only the 26-year-old Toronto born defendant and his heiress wife, Patricia, were in the master bedroom of their fashionable apartment when she was bludgoned and strangled last Oct. 24 and that the State has only Lonergan's word as to what happened.

When Broderick sought to learn from District Attorney Frank Hogan whether "promises" had been made to Lonergan, Judge James Garrett Wallace asked:—

"Did you authorize Mr. Loehr (assistant District Attorney John Loehr) to promise the defendant that he would not be prosecuted for murder in the First Degree, Second Degree murder or manslaughter in the first degree?"

"No Sir," answered Hogan.

Reds Hammer At Gates Of Balkans

Hold 165 Miles Along Bank Of Dniester River

LONDON, March 25 — (CP), — Triumphant Red armies hammering at the gates to the Balkans have completely dismembered the German forces in South-western Russia and gained almost complete control of the eastern bank of the Dniester River along a 165-mile stretch from Zaleschiki, in pre-war Poland, to Kamenka, 50 miles south of Mogilev Podolski, Moscow dispatches reported to-day.

Zaleschiki, 26 miles north of Czernowitz, important Rumanian rail junction controlling lines into the Balkan states, was captured in a spirited four-day 62-mile thrust south of Tarnopol. The advance carried the Russians to within 60 miles of the Czecho-Slovakian border and five miles from the former Rumanian province of Bucovina.

The Moscow war bulletin said 20,000 Germans were killed and 3,500 captured in the four-day offensive by Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's 1st Ukrainian Army, and boosting to nearly 250,000 the Nazi dead and captured in the Ukraine campaign.

Kamenka was seized by Red Army troops driving south-west from Gaivoron. The combined operation split remnants of enemy units between that river town and Zleshchchiki into isolated pockets, front dispatches said.

Zhukov's flanking smash south of Tarnopol also practically isolated the German garrisons in that city and the twin bastion of Proskurov, where street fighting was reported. The mvoe threatend thousands of enemy troops to the east, part of the 50 divisions already partly encircled in the Odessa area.

Meanwhile Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2nd Ukrainian Army operating inside Bessarabia south of Mogilev Podolski was reported storming the rail junction of Byeltsi, the traffic control point for Northern Moldavia. Capture of Byeltsi would further disrupt the German escape routes into the Balkans.

Other units of Zhukov's army cut the Lwow-Tarnopol railway, northwest of Tarnopol, the Moscow bul-

73 Allied Bombers Missing In Mammoth Raid Over Berlin

LONDON, March 25—(CP)— More than 1,000 R.A.F. bombers poured a heavy load of destruction upon Berlin and other targets in Germany last night in operations which cost 73 planes, the Air Ministry announced today. Squadrons of the Canadian bomber group participated in the raid on the German capital, which was blasted anew with 2,800 tons of bombs. 13 Canadian bombers were among the 73 planes lost.

Kiel and other objectives in western Germany also were bombed during the night.

Planes from the Tiger, Leaside, Snowy Oil and Porcupine squadrons of the R.C.A.F. bomber group flew to Berlin. Members of the crews reported perfect visibility and said there was heavy flak and intense searchlight activity.

High explosives and fire bombs blanketed the German capital.

The German radio said other British bomber formations raided Leipzig and Weimar but there was no immediate confirmation of this in London.

The night bombers which pounded Berlin fought through one of the bitterest night battles of the war. The Berlin radio said large forces of German night fighters began attacking the huge armada as it crossed Heligoland in the North Sea and fought it all the way to the capital.

Germany claimed 102 bombers were shot down in the long running fight which culminated in an hour-long battle over the capital as formation after formation roared over. It was the 16th major R.A.F. raid on Berlin since Nov. 18.

Equals Record Load.

American heavy bombers had hit the capital five times in daylight since the last big raid Feb. 15.

Last night's bomb load equalled the record load loosed over Berlin in that raid but fell short of the all-time mark of 3,360 tons dumped on Frankfurt Wednesdy night by R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. force.

As the British armada streamed eastward about 100 German bombers broke through London's aerial barrage to blast at the British capital's business properties, dwellings and churches with tons of incendiaries in the longest raid in 12 months. Eleven were shot down.

The loss was the R.A.F.'s highest in its 16 major assaults on the No. 1 German target but fell six short of the record 79 lost in the R.A.F.'s Jan. 19 blow at Leipzig.

The wording of the British communique—"Last night the bomber command dispatched over 1,000 aircraft. Berlin was the main objective"—did not make clear how many of the total force struck at Berlin itself.

In the revived German opposition, after the beating Hitler's air forces have taken in recent American daylight blows, was seen an indication that the Germans are undertaking a last-ditch stand for the preservation of what remains of their capital.

Berlin was attacked by daylight Wednesday by a great American armada of up to 750 heavy bombers, escorted by around 1,000 long-range fighters. Hundreds of fires were left burning. The last big attack in the night battle of Berlin was made by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. February 15—a 2,500-ton assault, the biggest single air attack of the war up to that time.

Policemen In Montreal Given Pay Increases Firemen Get Boost Too For Longer Hours

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP). — Neighboring Outremont's labor troubles were calmed today following release of a three-man arbitration board report granting wage increases to policemen, firemen and public works employees.

Raises in police salaries range from $325 to $450 a year, increases in firemen's salaries from $425 to $550, and raises in public works employees' salaries from 10 to 15 cents an hour.

Previously policemen started at $1,300 a year and rose to $1,700 in five years. The new wage scale starts a rookie at $1,625, grants a second year man $1,750, and at the end of the fifth year he would receive $2,150. Sergeants get $2,300 a year, lieutenants $2,500, and captains $2,700.

Rates of pay for firemen correspond with those of the police force but they are granted an additional $100 a year because they work longer hours.

Policemen work an eight-hour shift daily, while firemen work on a 10-hour schedule.

Japs Meet Stiff Resistance Allied Leader Claims Gains

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH—Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI, March 25—(AP).—Japanese columns thrusting along three invasion roads into India are meeting with increasingly stiff resistance and encountering setbacks, a southeast Asia headquarters communique indicated today.

In North Burma Americans and Chinese occupied Shaduzup, 45 miles northwest of Mogaung on the Myitkyina-Mandalay railway.

An announcement that heavy bombers two days ago carried out their first low-level bombing and strafing attack along a section of the "Burma-Siam railway" disclosed that the Japanese have built a rail link with their eastern conquest.

(The Japanese have been reported making frantic efforts to construct a rail line across Thailand (Siam) which would link south China seaports with Burma and permit them to supply the Burma front without risking the hazards of the sea route around Singapore.)

A communique from Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said a steady advance was being made in the Mogaung Valley in stiff fighting now in its fifth day which ranged from artillery duels to hand-to-hand fighting. The advance threatened to cut off the main enemy base of Myitkyina in Northern Burma.

Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's communique said the Japanese had made further progress south of the Palel-Tamu road—the south-eastern approach to Imphal, Manipur state capital in India — but to the north of the road they had been thrown out of a position they occupied during a strong attack the day before.

On the northeastern approach stiff fighting was reported going on with a strong Japanese column in the Somra Hill tracts, near Ukhrul. Some Japanese detachments were making further progress and one was forced to withdraw.

British troops to the south of Imphal continued to attack Japanese road blocks that had been established across the road to Tiddim, and another of these positions was wiped out.

At latest reports, Japanese patrols had approached to within 30 miles of Imphal, a British base for operations in Burma, from the south and 38 miles from the south-east.

In the southern, or Arakan sector, north of Ayhab, British troops have taken an important hill position north of the Maungdaw-Buthedaung road.

The communique said two bridges were destroyed, five probably destroyed or damaged, one locomotive destroyed, a train derailed and another damaged when the heavy bombers attacked the new Burma-Siam Railroad.

The capture was effected by cutting around the Japanese from the east, and as a result the retreat of an undetermined number of Japanese was cut off. This force was caught between the Shaduzup force and Allied troops in Jambu Bum, the dividing line between the Hukawng and Mogaung valleys.

Shaduzup, is 58 miles northwest of Myitkyina, the Japanese railhead in northern Burma, upon which a commando force of Gurka and Kachin (native) troops is advancing from the Sumprabum area in the north, according to a communique issued by Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters.

The communique contained the first information that a Commando force had been operating in this area. The bulletin added:—

"Stiff pockets of Japanese resistance are being reduced by Gen. Stilwell's troops and they are making slow but steady progress into Mogaung Valley.

"The battle which is fluid and heavy, is now in its fifth day.

"The fighting ranged from sustained artillery duels to fierce hand-to-hand combat. The enemy is making extensive use of artillery

No Beer Increase Seen In Ontario

By The Canadian Press

Removal of Federal restrictions on sale of beer to the provinces, heralded with banner headlines when announced a fortnight ago by Prime Minister Mackenzie King, has resulted so far in increased beer rations for consumers in only two provinces—Manitoba and Saskatchewan—a coast-to-coast survey by The Canadian Press showed today.

There has been no sign that the ration will be boosted in other areas, except in Alberta.

Balkan State Sends Envoy To Istanbul

Hungarians Foil Nazi Plan To Corral Food

LONDON, March 25 —(CP)— The expected arrival of a Rumanian delegation in Turkey on a mystery mission was reported today in an Istanbul dispatch as other advices indicated Hitler was meeting wide-spread opposition in his military occupation of Balkan states.

Writing from Istanbul, Associated Press correspondent William B. King said the Rumanian mission, headed by Paul Sterian, secretary general of the Rumanian foreign office, was due there today from Bucharest.

"The announced purpose of the visit is to reach a commercial agreement with Turkey," King said, "but in view of the turbulent Balkan situation unusual importance is attached to the mission. It is unlikely that routine commercial problems would be handled by top Rumanian diplomats.

Ministers Resign

A dispatch from Madrid, meanwhile, said the Hungarian legation there had announced Hungarian ministers in four of Europe's neutral capitals—Madrid, Berne, Stockholm, and Lisbon—had taken the position of "not recognising" the puppet government set up in Budapest by Hitler. For the Hungarian ministers, the action was tantamount to resigning their posts.

Although the German armed forces now appear in full control of both Hungary and Rumania, there still has been no fully satisfactory word on what is occurring in Bulgaria, the third Balkan state said to be slated for military occupation.

Rumanians in Turkey said they expected pro-Allied elements in the Rumanian army might offer resistance to the German troops—a move which, these sources said, might have the assistance of Juliu Maniu, elder statesman who retained an important position under the government of Premier Ion Antonescu be-

Quaker Worker Is Wounded

W. J. Bolton, 40, of 627 George street, an employee of the Quaker Oats Company is in St. Joseph's Hospital with a number of shotgun pellets in his back and his next-door neighbor, Charles Ward, 39, of 629 George street, father of four children, was charged in police court this morning with shooting him.

Police were called to the scene by a telephone message shortly before midnight and found Bolton lying on the ground between his home and the next door south. Dr. Bob Young who had also been called was in attendance and the injured man was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital.

Bolton told the police that he had been shot by Ward and while officers were searching for the latter he walked into the police station and gave himself up to Constable John Stevenson who was on station duty. Ward told the police that the shotgun was hanging in the kitchen of his home and the weapon was recovered by Sergt. W. E. Wigg.

Police say that Bolton was shot at a distance of 50 feet. They recovered a 12 gauge shotgun shell and some wadding at the spot from which the shot had been fired.

Bolton is not considered in a critical condition. A considerable number of bird shot pellets entered his back but unless infection sets in the man is not considered in any danger.

Ward was arraigned before Magis-

Showdown With Hitler Drawing Closer

Every Move By Nazis In Past Months Have Been Defensive

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

If you'll draw a circle around the European war zone and then check off on its circumference the outstanding current events, you will find you have a diagram which emphasizes the big thing in the lives of all of us—that the final showdown with Hitler is near.

Prime Minister Churchill has told American air-borne troops in England they "soon" will have the opportunity of landing in Nazi-occupied Europe. His voice registered emotion as he made the declaration.

Britain's famous General Montgomery of desert fame, referring to the forthcoming invasion in a London speech, said: "We are preparing to take part in the biggest tug of war the world has ever seen . . . the promised land is not so far off now."

Land Action Seen

British and American bombers have reached an unprecedented pitch of offensive fury in preparation for the invasion. In one period of 36 hours this week they dumped more than 7,000 tons of death and destruction on the enemy. This intensification presages land action.

America is pouring troops and equipment into Britain.

Wherever you look you find Hitler feverishly preparing for this last battle. All hisoperations are purely defensive, even where they are are counter-blows.

Stockholm reports that the Nazis are assembling shipping and landing barges in East Prussian ports. This presumably is for protection of his Baltic flank, perhaps to occupy the Finnish Ahvenanmaa Islands as defence against the Russian fleet, released when the siege of Leningrad was raised.

On the blazing Russian front Hitler has several times announced Russian offensives some days before Moscow has said anything about them. It is quite possible Hitler is giving advance notice as a cover while he deliberately pulls back his long, unwieldly line here and there—getting ready to retreat to a new front through Poland.

Down in the Balkans the Fuehrer is rapidly extending operations for physical control not only of Hungary but of Rumania and Bulgaria. That's all defensive. The great Danubian gateway from Hungary into Austria, which is virtually part of his inner fortress, must be held at all costs. The Nazis' fierce resistance in Italy is to give added protection to the Hitlerian set-up to the Balkans.

Fugitive Hurt

SIMCOE, March 25 (CP).—Lucien Lassaline, 27, of Windsor, who escaped Thursday night from Middlesex county jail at London in company with Ray Loughrey, 32, of Oswego, N.Y., is believed to have been injured seriously when the stolen automobile in which he was riding with Loughrey crashed into a ditch five miles west of here Friday. Bleeding from severe lacerations to the head and face and complaining of a stomach injury, Lassaline was picked up at the accident scene by police. Loughrey is still at large.

Jap Thrust Worries Chinese

Fear Lifeline From India May Be Cut

CHUNGKING, March 25 —(AP) —Although Chinese Army circles have discounted any idea that the Japanese penetration of Manipur is a prelude to a large-scale invasion of India, genuine undercurrents of concern are apparent among the Chinese.

They feel the Japanese are making a bonafide bid to sever the only operating lifeline to China and that it would be a mistake to underestimate the danger.

Widespread uneasiness manifested itself in an immediate slump in the black market value of the Rupee for which there formerly was a big and insistent demand.

The Chinese Army publication Sao Tang Pao, taking a less serious view than that expressed in private quarters, said "the Japanese are attempting to invade India as a method of diverting attention from their difficulties elsewhere."

Wounded Bank Robber Dies

Two Others Under Arrest For Crime

TORONTO, March 25 — (CP) — James Kelly, 24, said by police to have been wounded yesterday in an attempted bank holdup, died at three a.m. today in hospital. Two other men are under arrest in connection with the attempted robbery.

Kelly, shot in the groin by Douglas S. King, 34-year-old accountant in the Bank of Toronto branch at Dundas St. and Ossington Ave., in western Toronto, was picked up by police shortly after the robbery attempt, when he collapsed in a backyard near the bank.

Steve Flick, 25, and Fred Carter, 19, are under arrest on charges of attempted bank robbery, conspiracy to rob a bank.

King was wounded slightly in the head by a shotgun pellet in the exchange of fire.

Police arrested Carter four hours after the robbery while Flick was picked up last night.

De Valera Angry When Gray Delivers Note

LONDON, March 25 — (AP). — The Irish press, Prime Minister Eamon de Valera's Dublin newspaper, yesterday attacked an Associated Press account of what occurred when David Gray, the American Minister, presented the note in which the United States asked for the closing of Axis missions in Eire on the grounds of security.

In an editorial the paper took strong exception to a dispatch sent from Belfast, Northern Ireland, by correspondent Roger D. Greene on March 20 after an eight-day stay in Dublin during which he saw Gray several times.

The dispatch said it had been learned that when the American note was presented De Valera gave way to expression of anger, thumped the table and shouted: "This is an ultimatum."

The Irish Press said:

"We learned that De Valera did not recently see any Associated Press representative and the hostile description of him in the alleged account of the interview emphasizes this...."

Gray in a letter to the Irish Press last night, said he had given "no statement or interview to any press representative with reference to the matter in quesion."

(Greene, travelling on assignment, was not immediately available for comment on his dispatch, the accuracy of which the Associated Press has no reason to doubt.)

The Daily Mirror's Hilde Marchant, who spent some time in Dublin, reported in a story under a Belfast date of March 21:

"De Valera immediately lost his temper and started thumping his table when he read the note handed him by Gray, the United States Minister. He described it as an ultimatum, but Gray calmly pointed out it was not...."

Pupils Give Program At Rotary Meeting

COBOURG, March 25—(ENS)—The program at Rotary Club Friday was presented by a group of Cobourg Collegiate pupils Bob Richardson spoke on air cadet work, outlining the subjects taught the cadets, such as meteorology, aircraft recognition, armament, and other topics. He also spoke in connection with the inventor of the Spitfire and the performance of that aircraft. Miss Audrey Rose, talented young singer of the collegiate, sang two solos. Miss Shirley Ralls presented two piano numbers to complete an enjoyable program.

Americans Try To Alleviate Paper Shortage

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 25—(CP)—The United States, dependent upon Canada for 78 per cent of its newsprint and a large part of its wood pulp and pulpwood requirements, is engaged in strenuous efforts to overcome a shortage. A "spectacular change" has been effected through efforts to increase pulpwood production at home and through waste paper salvage, a summary of the situation put out by the Office of War Information showed.

Domestic pulpwood production during the last half of 1943 was only one per cent below the same period in 1942 as compared to a drop of 24 per cent in the first half of 1943 as compared with the same period the previous year.

This result was brought about through regulations designed to put more men into the pulpwood cutting industry and by campaigns carried on by the War Production Board and other agencies.

Concentrated efforts to increase the collection of waste paper to a tentative goal of 28,000,000 tons a year are being carried on mainly through newspaper campaigns. Authorities say the goal can be reached if the people can be made as conscious of the salvage necessity as are the people of Britain.

Since 1941 the consumption of pulpwood has been at a higher rate than imports and domestic production, resulting in dwindling inventories now down to about 75 per cent of normal.

The W.P.B. estimates that 38 per cent of the country's paper and paper board production is used directly for war purposes, 33 per cent is used largely to maintain a war economy, and the remainder is used predominantly to maintain a civilian economy.

Plant capacity is adequate to meet all war essential civilian requirements. Thus pulpwood and waste paper are the keys to the problem.

trate O. A. Langley, K.C. in police court this morning on a charge of shooting a shotgun at W. J. Bolton with intent to murder him.

"I am asking for a remand without plea or election and without bail," Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C. stated, and Ward was remanded until Saturday, April 1.

"I want to get a lawyer," the accused told the court.

"You will have to look after that yourself," the magistrate stated.

Police say that Bolton had just left the house to go to work at the Quaker Oats plant when he was shot. His lunch box was lying beside him when he was found. He was wearing a heavy overcoat and that served as some protection against the pellets, although enough shot entered his body to cause considerable bleeding.

Transport Unit Vital Cog In War Machine

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CAMP DEBERT, N.S., March 25—(CP).—One of the most vital factors in modern warfare is transport, the supplying of troops, ammunition and supplies to the front lines. Without a smooth-working transport system successful action is impossible, but the brigade transport unit at this battle training school passed is test with flying colors in the three day battle scheme held here recently.

Despite the handicap of drifts piled eight and 10 feet high by a storm and gale that swept across Nova Scotia just before the scheme started, the transport unit smashed open 30 or 40 miles of road with tractor and truck plows, and moved all equipment into the "battle" area on time.

The unit, commanded by Capt. William Hurpey of Cornwall, Ont., did what the camp's commanding officer called a "crackerjack job" and let the manoeuvres go ahead on schedule.

Every available piece of equipment was thrown into use, and hastily-improved plows made in the camp workshop were sent out to augment the regular equipment.

They plowed out the regular highways and secondary roads for miles around, and others were pushed across the fields and into the woods areas.

Where the plows couldn't go, gangs of men shovelled a way for the big trucks and then they were hiked through the worst places by block and tackle, making their laborious way from tree to tree until the supply area was reached.

One In Stolen Car Shot By Constable

WINDSOR, March 25 — (CP) — Max Glassco, 21, of Windsor was shot and killed by a police constable early today just south of the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks on the outskirts of Windsor. Police said he and three other men were fleeing from a stolen car.

Constable Henry Bird said one shot from his .38 calibre service revolver hit Glassco, who died half an hour after admission to hospital. The bullet struck the youth in the back. Bird said he had called to the four men to stop before firing.

Three shots fired by Constable Ted LePage caused two of the other men to stop and they were placed under arrest. Search is continuing for the fourth.

The men arrested were Ray Bangle of Windsor and Herbert Handy of Toronto. They are held on charges of car theft.

73 Allied Bombers

ers, including R.A.F. Mustangs, took part in yesterday's daylight raids and encountered little opposition, although two of the targets, Frankfurt and Schweinfurt, had been heavily defended in the past. The raids cost three bombers and five fighters. The fighters destroyed two Nazi aircraft on the ground and a third as it was taking off.

The Germans struck back at London during the night with the longest raid in 12 months, burning and blasting churches, houses and business propesties with tons of incendiaries. Five of an attacking force which broke through the capital's thunderous and virtually continuous barrage early today in a fresh attempt to set fires were brought down.

One of the damaged churches was known throughout the world as a mecca for sightseers. The vicar said the tower was burned out and the nave set afire, but the altar was undamaged. He said a wedding would be held in the church later today.

One of the raiders crashed on a house, killing three persons. There were a large number of other casualties and rescuers tunnelled through the rubble today for a number listed missing. The raid apparently centered on suburban district where fairly widespread damage was reported. Towns in the home counties also were hit.

It was disclosed last night that London's famed Royal Albert Hall overlooking Kensington Gardens was damaged when a high explosive bomb fell nearby during a recent night raid. The damage was described as extensive but not serious.

St. John's W.A. Sponsors Play

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25—(ENS)—The coming weeks will be among the busiest of the year for members of St. John's Women's Association according to a report of their March meeting on Thursday afternoon.

The president, Mrs. R. E. Fox, presided, opening with a devotional period of hymns, and responsive reading. Reports were given by the treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Mills, and the secretary, Mrs. T. L. Diamond, who read several letters of appreciation from members of the armed forces who had received Christmas parcels from the W.A.

It was decided the opportunity sale proposed last month, would be held on May 18, 19 and 20, and it was drawn to the attention of members that the Ward IV group would sponsor the play by Frankford young people, "Aunt Abigail Answers an Ad" on March 28. Mrs. Fox read an announcement prepared by Mrs. A. D. Bennett in which members were urgd to cooperate with the I.O.D.E. in their salvage campaign, the first collection will be made from the homes on March 27 and the last Monday in each month thereafter till further notice.

Mrs. T. J. Craighead's group presented the program of the day and this included a piano solo by Mrs. George Nicholls, a vocal solo by Mrs. A. G. Watson; reading, Mrs. C. K. Stephens; contest Mrs. C. K. Stephen. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Nazi Savagery

I. Brown Found Guilty Of Breaking Window

CAMPBELLFORD, March 25, (ENS) — Albert E. Graham and Irwin Brown both of Havelock pleaded not guilty to charges of wilful damage to a restaurant in Hastings operated by J. C. Wilson and the property of Mrs. A. Spellman.

The charge was laid by Police Constable William Wellman following the breaking of a plate glass window in the front of the store on February 29. The glass was valued at $88.50. Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. of Peterborough presided and H. R. Deyman of Cobourg appeared for the Crown. The pair conducted their own defense.

Graham told the court the window was smashed just as he was opening the door to leave the restaurant. He was found not guilty of the charge. Brown, his friend with whom he had eaten at the restaurant, had preceded him out the door and according to the testimony of Graham was no where in sight when he reached the street. Mr. Wilson told the court that Brown had broken at 12 by 15 inch glass in the top of a show case by "banging his fist on it" during an argument with Graham. After paying the proprietor $5. for this they had been ordered to leave the store. In finding Brown guilty the Magistrate let him off on a one year bond of good behavior providing he made arrangements to pay for the damage done to the glass.

Four Canadian Squadrons In Berlin Raid

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, March 25 — (CP).—Four squadrons of the Canadian Bomber Group—the Tiger, Leaside, Snowy Owl, and Porcupine—helped to blast Berlin in last night's smashing R.A.F. attack.

An R.C.A.F. communique referred to the Canadian planes as "a large number of Halifaxes and Lancasters," a term usually used to indicate the Canadian Bomber Group was about flat out.

There was no indication of what part of the total bomb load of 2,800 tons of incendiaries and high explosives hurled upon industrial areas of Berlin was carried by the Canadians. The Canadian communique mentioned "many large fires" which could be seen when the assault ended.

Meantime the Canadian Mosquito bombers ranged over a wide area of enemy occupied territory, attacking airfields. The night's operations cost 13 Canadian bombers.

Returning crews said there was perfect visibility over Berlin. They added that the raiders were greeted with heavy flak and intense searchlight activity.

3 Big Explosions.

"But conditions were perfect," said FO. R. D. Wilson of Vancouver, a Tiger Squadron air bomber. "We came out there were a number of heavy explosions at intervals."

Hundreds of other Canadians took part in the raid, flying in R.A.F. squadrons.

FO. Hilliard Smith of Clandeboye, Man., told of three big explosions—"one of them was really something with tongues of orange and red flames 200 feet high."

Flt.-Sgt. Glen Maguire of Chatham, Ont., said he saw a Focke Wulf 190.

WO. John Rabchak of Kamsack, Sask., said Jerry was using rocket guns in an "F" formation and they had to climb several times to get beyond the range.

Flt.-Sgt. Alan Clarke of Hawkestone, Ont., encountered a twin-engined night fighter but managed to corkscrew away from it.

For WO.2 Vince McDonald of Meota, Sask., it was the fifth trip to Berlin. Sgt. Ted Relf and Sqdn. Ldr. Jack Westland of Windsor, Ont., reported their aircraft were coned in searchlights but they escaped undamaged.

Churchill Will Speak Sunday

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 25.— (AP). — Prime Minister Churchill's broadcast speech Sunday is expected here to steel Britain and her Allies for the sacrifices of the forthcoming invasion march on Berlin—more of the blood and sweat he so grimly predicted nearly four years ago, but this time bright with the confidence of victory.

The Prime Minister probably will take the fullest advantage of developments in the Balkans to emphasize the collapse of the last Nazi pretence of a benevolent new order and unified European defence. Hungary, Bulgaria and Rumania doubtlessly are awaiting the news of Mr. Churchill's words for the faintest clues of their future fate.

Others will be listening as tensely—Finland for a hint of the next move after her rejection of the Soviet armistice terms, and neutral Eire for a suggestion of the extent of her isolation from the rest of the world.

There has been some editorial speculation in London that the Atlantic charter also may be mentioned, with Mr. Churchill reiterating that it still embodies the underlying Allied war purposes, whatever expansion or rephrasing may be required to keep it adapted to changing conditions.

But a call for a final effort for victory is expected to be the keynote of the speech, to be delivered at 9 p.m. B.S.T. (4 p.m. E.D.T.)

Victory Loan Objective Same

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP) — The bonds of Canada's Sixth Victory Loan will take the form of two maturities, a 16-year-and-one-month issue and a three-year-and-10-month issue, it was announced last night by Defense Minister Ralston, Acting Minister of Finance in the absence of Hon. J. L. Ilsley.

The loan campaign, which opens April 24 and will last about three weeks, has a minimum objective of $1,200,000,000. The minimum objective from civilians is $525,000,000, while the balance will be obtained from special names. The objective is the same as the Fifth Victory Loan drive, held last autumn.

The new Victory bonds will mature as follows:

An issue bearing interest at 3 per cent offered at a price of 100 per cent, maturing at 100 on June 1, 1960, and a shorter issue bearing interest at 1¾ per cent at a price of 100 per cent, and maturing at 100 on May 1, 1947. Both types of bonds will be dated May 1, 1944.

The first interest coupon on the 3 per cent bonds for a period of seven months, and in the case of the shorter issue the first interest coupon is for a period of four months. Subsequent interest coupons become due every six months thereafter. This arrangement continues the practice established in the Fifth Victory Loan and avoids adding to the very heavy volume of coupons which come due in May and November.

"There is every indication," said Col. Ralston, 'that Canadian forces overseas will participate in even heavier fighting during the months to come. It is, therefore, the duty, the responsibility, and the privilege of Canadians in every walk of life to participate to the very limit in the Sixth Victory Loan, and in so doing support the men who are fighting for us.

"During the Fifth Victory Loan there were 3,033,000 applications for Victory bonds. It is our hope that this figure will be greatly increased for the Sixth Victory Loan so that once again the financial participation of individual Canadians will hit a new high level of accomplishment."

Exchequer Court May Handle Divorce Cases

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 25.— (CP).—The Commons discussion trail yesterday led it past British Columbia mining ventures, Maritimes war plants, technical education and left it finally considering divorce laws and the state of the judiciary.

Speaking on a bill to add a Puisne Judge to the Exchequer Court of Canada Bench, bringing the number to three, Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, said the public believed it was almost "a national disgrace" that the divorce legislation should have to be dealt with by Parliament.

Divorce bills come to Parliament from Quebec and Prince Edward Island, provinces in which divorces are not granted by local courts.

Mr. Graydon said divorces should be referred to the Exchequer Court.

Frederic Dorion (Ind.—Charlevoix-Saguenay) said that Quebec would never consent to have divorce cases decided by provincial courts. But study might well be given to extending the jurisdiction of the exchequer court to divorce cases.

Special Provisions

"It would be necessary to make special provisions regarding this kind of case, and I think we Catholics would be ready to accept such a suggestion, provided—and I must insist on this point—a case could not be heard when the petitioner is a Catholic unless he can produce leave to proceed which has been granted him by the bishop of the diocese in which he has his domicile," he continued.

"This suggestion would not interfere in any way with the rights of all those who are not of the Catholic faith, and it could not then be opposed by anyone, because the only effect would be to restrain the divorces of Catholics and help them to respect their faith, their religion."

T. C. Douglas (C.C.F.—Weyburn) said he supported having divorce cases dealt with by the Exchequer Court.

Justice Minister St. Laurent said that under the existing law divorce cases could not be referred to the Exchequer Court.

He had heard that the president of the Exchequer Court (Hon. J. T. Thorson) had been called on to sit on the bench of the Supreme Court, but Mr. St. Laurent said he understood this had happened only once.

Mr. Graydon said that in the appointment of an additional Exchequer Court judge there should be no thought of a reward for anyone who had been active in politics.

J. G. Diefenbaker (P.C.—Lake Centre) said the judiciary was not held in the esteem it had enjoyed in past years, and one reason was the appointment of judges to Royal Commission duties. The idea was held that a predominant prerequisite to an appointment to the bench was not always eminence at the bar, but sometimes political considerations.

Mr. St. Laurent said he knew of only one case of an Exchequer Court judgment being delayed unduly and this was caused by the illness of a stenographer which prevented the preparation of a transcript of evidence.

Sacredness of Life Includes Considering Bodies Sacred

BY NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for March 26 is Genesis 1:27, 28; Matthew 12:11, 12; Romans 14:19 21; 1 Corinthians 6:19, 20, the Golden Text being 1 Cor. 6:19, "Know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit?")

In ORDER to make us see clearly that our bodies are sacred, our lesson goes back to the beginning of the Bible, to Genesis.

"So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them.

"And God blessed them, and God said unto them, Be fruitful, and multiply and replenish the earth and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and every living thing that moveth upon the earth."

Created in the image of God. If we were to think of those words when we are tempted to do an unworthy thing, wouldn't it stop us and make us vow once again to treat our bodies as being worthy of our Creator?

Man was given dominion over all animals—the fish of the sea, of the fowls of the air, over every living thing. And besides, God blessed this man and woman He had made.

Heals on Sabbath

The second episode in our lesson recalls a time when Jesus found a man with a withered hand, in the temple on the Sabbath. Jesus wishes to heal the hand. The scribes and Pharisees, as usual, were on hand to find fault with Him, so they asked Him if it was lawful to heal on the Sabbath.

His answer was, "What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold of it, and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath." Man whom the Creator had made in His own image and given power over other things — surely he was important enough to be healed, even on the holy day. He then healed the man's arm. Even a Pharisee would save his only sheep on the sabbath — but not a man of much more worth to the world.

Paul, speaking to the Romans, said, "Let us follow after the things that make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another. For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure; but it is evil for that man eateth with offence.

"It is good neither to eat flesh nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak."

When we are with others we should be considerate of our companions. We should not be offensive to them to eat too much. It is an odd thing, that even when people know and deplore the fact that a friend drinks too much, they will urge him to take more Why do they not, rather, by their own example, persuade him to take no intoxicating beverage at all?

Desecrating Our Bodies

Eating an drinking to excess and in an offensive manner, are plain bad manners, or course, but it goes further than that. It is a desecration of our bodies which are made in the image of God.

To the Corinthians Paul wrote: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?

"For ye are bought with a price: therefore, glorify God in your spirit, which are God's.'

Paul means that Jesus paid the price for us, the price that "bought" us for the Right, and that we belong to God and should therefore act as if we knew we did.

Self Seeking Politicians

REV. E. R. JAMES

Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said: What do we? For this man doeth many miracles: and if we let Him alone the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation. St. John 11:47.

The Chief Priests were the heads of the priestly families, who were descendants of Aaron, the first High Priest of Israel. By birth and education they were able and clever men. From their number the High Priest was chosen. According to ancient custom he held office for life. It was his very high privilege once a year on the Day of Atonement to enter the Holy of Holies with the blood of the sacrifice for himself and his people.

When the Romans occupied the country according to their custom they recognized the office of the heads of the people and gave these chief priests authority to keep order among the people. However, the High Priest was instantly removed when the Roman Governor found him inacceptable or unwilling to carry out Roman demands. In our Lord's lifetime there was the strange case of Annas. He was deposed from his high office. But he was so clever that he persuaded the Roman authorities to appoint his five sons, one after the other. And at the time of our Lord's passion Caiaphas, his son-in-law, was High Priest. At the same time the devout Jew looked upon Annas as the true High Priest, which explains why our Lord was first brought before Annas and later to Caiaphas, the reigning High Priest.

These Jewish authorities were given much honor and respect by the Roman Governor. They ruled the country according to their laws and customs within certain limitations. Their primary work was to keep the peace. When they failed the Romans took charge and mercilessly put down the riot or disorder.

It is natural for such men to feel their own importance and that they were indispensable. In every generation men in power feel the same. They begin to feel that no other party can carry on the work rightly. They come to love power and look with anger upon anyone who attempts to overthrow them. It was natural for that Council to realize that if trouble broke out among their fanatical people stern retribution would follow. "The Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation."

Let us not forget that such rulers aways become very conservative. They hate change and above all they abhor enthusiasm. The Carpenter of Nazareth was arousing much interest and enthusiasm among the common people who heard Him gladly. His Name and miracles were on the lips of the multitude as they came to Jerusalem for the Feast. The Feast was a time of great anxiety both for the Jewish and Roman authorities. The Roman Governor came up from Caesarea, his summer home. He brought troops who were kept under arms during the days of the Feast. Every Jew could see the Roman sentries marching up and down on the Tower of Antonia, overlooking the Temple.

Above all Caiaphas was a very clever, worldly man. Hearken to his argument:—"It is expedient for us that one man should die for the people and that the whole nation perish not."

St. John, writing many years later, sees that God is speaking through the High Priest. "He prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation; and not for that nation only, but that He should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad."

How modern is the use of expediency. "It is expedient." There is never an occasion when the life of an innocent man should be sacrificed on the grounds of expediency. "What does one man matter?" is the question in the minds of these astute politicians. It is the foundation note of Nazism and Fascism. It is the temptation for all men who love power. The eyes of the Chief Priests were blinded by their selfishness. They acknowledged that the Carpenter was a Good Man. But His goodness was upsetting the peace of the community. They forced Pilate to crucify Him. Calmly they threatened the Roman Governor:—"If thou let this Man go thou are not Caesar's friend. Whosoever maketh Himself a King speaketh against Caesar." "Pilate delivered Him unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus and led Him away."

THE LORD JESUS CHRIST WAS CRUCIFIED ALSO FOR US UNDER PONTIUS PILATE.

SIX-HOUR SNOWFALL

DOVER, England — (CP) — Snow fell for six hours one night recently in the Straits of Dover. It was the heaviest fall of the winter in the channel.

English Lady Discovered As Clever Thief

LEEDS, England, March 25 — (CP). — Dorothy Elliott was known as the "Lady Bountiful" of Wombell, a little town nestling in the Yorkshire mining valley. She was known, too, as a "clever business woman with a remarkable personality." She was secretary of two Wombell collieries.

People believed she owned shares in the collieries and her lavish spending created no surprise. She built a $15,000 home atop the bleak hillside outside the town. She built the local Girl Guides' quarters costing $12,000, and spent $1,000 furnishing them. She paid $2,250 for a stained glass window in the town's church.

She collected art treasures, rare plate and costly china. She modernized the farm next to her house and raised pedigreed cattle. She built magnificent grounds around the house and a model small-gauge railway. When war broke out she built a $3,000 air-raid shelter, treated troops to all-expenses-paid excursions.

She was a quiet, tight lipped woman who dressed mostly in tweeds The district made her a magistrate. She had few friends, did little entertaining, enjoyed no hobby, except improving her house.

But Dorothy Elliott's bubble began to burst last year when a colliery official discovered a large overdraft at its London bank. Accountants checked books Dorothy Elliott had kept from anybody else's eyes for years. She was charged with stealing more than $400,000.

She sat silent through a four-day trial while doctors testified she had a split personality and could not distinguish right from wrong. She was silent as a jury rejected the defence and convicted her on all 33 charges.

Slight, greying, unmarried, 48-year-old Dorothy Elliott was sentenced to six years in penitentiary. She was still silent when the car taking her to prison passed her big house and grounds and farm. It had all been sold at auction a few weeks before the trial.

ORIGIN OF PRIVATE.

The word private—lowest army rank—was the name originally given to soldiers hired by feudal barons in their private wars.

NO FORM, NO FISH

HEIGHTINGTON, Durham, England —(CP)— In 1940, the local fish monger failed to fill in a ministry of food form regarding the amount of fish he would require. Since then this village of 1,000 has had no fish. Now, after petitions, the ministry has promised to see that supplies are restored.

THE SACREDNESS OF LIFE

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Gen. 1:27, 28; Matt. 12:11, 12; Romans 14:19-21; I Cor. 6:19, 20.

God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him, male and female created He them.

How much then is man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath day.

It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth or is offended.

Know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you? GOLDEN TEXT—I Cor. 6:19.

Our New City Hall

The people of Peterborough, we feel, would be glad to hear from the Council what is being done about the new city hall which we are to have after the war. When last anything was heard about it plans were still in the earliest and most nebulous stage, and no site had been chosen. How are matters progressing?

We do not ask because we want to bustle the Council or urge it to act with unwise haste. On the contrary, we know that plans for a city hall would take at least a year to perfect, if the committee in charge worked as fast as they could; and we know that the choice of a site is also a matter which takes time and consideration. We feel that the time to do all the considering and choosing is now, so that it will be possible to start work as soon as labour and materials are ready after the war. In the early days of peace there will be a scramble for what men and materials are available. If our plans are laid we will have a good chance of getting our work done early. We do not ask for unwise haste, but we should not like to see the Council dawdle over the matter, either.

A sum amounting approximately to half a million dollars will be available to erect and decorate the building; the generosity of the late George Morrow makes it possible for us to have a handsome and appropriate building which will serve us for a century or longer. The time has come in the history of Peterborough when we can put up a number of fine buildings without fearing that the city will move away from them, or that the city will fall on evil days and be unable to live up to them. The new city hall will be the very heart of Peterborough for a hundred years and more; it is necessary, then, to plan it and build it with all the care and wisdom we can muster.

A variety of matters need discussion, not only by the Council but by the citizens at large. Are the police station and the police court to be included in the new building or are they to be left where they are? Is the new building to include a community hall suitable for meetings, lectures, concerts, plays and exhibitions of pictures? There may be no need for such provision now, but who dares to say that it will not be wanted in twenty-five, fifteen or ten years? Such a hall has already been recommended as a memorial to our dead of this war. Is the new city hall to be in the middle of the business section of the city, or in a quieter and more park-like setting? These, and a dozen similar questions, are being asked now in private conversation, but the ideas which crop up in private discussion are not being made available to those who have the authority to weigh them and judge of their worth. The city awaits any news of the new city hall with the deepest interest. Let us not wait until the best time for making plans has passed by.

Still More About Handwriting

A few days ago we repeated an opinion which we have expressed before in these columns that handwriting is best taught by careful instruction in printing. We now learn that a system of instruction based on this method has been in use since 1937, and that its effects should now be traceable in the writing of pupils in Grade 6 of the public schools. We have had an opportunity to look through the manual of instruction in this method and it seems to us to be first-rate; certainly it is a vast improvement on the characterless, slanted script which we were taught in school, and which we later discarded as unsatisfactory.

What we particularly like about the writing manual which we have seen is that it recommends that children in Grades 7 and 8 develop characteristic handwriting of their own, retaining the legibility which was acquired in the lower grades. This is excellent. Not all people write alike, any more than all people write with the right hand. Handwriting is as much an emanation and expression of human personality as tone of voice and choice of vocabulary. Freedom to write as they please, so long as they write legibly, is very valuable to children at a time when they are developing in every respect.

Several years ago a pupil of the great calligrapher, Edward Johnston, wrote a small book which he called Handwriting: Everyman's Handicraft. The title was aptly chosen. There is great satisfaction to be gained from producing a page of beautiful, legible manuscript. Nowadays most reproducing is done on the typewriter, but handwriting is still important. No machine can ever capture its warmth and beauty of appearance.

A Difficult Relationship

Over and over again we have heard that Anglo-American friendship is the rock upon which the post-war world must be founded, and we are disposed to agree. But we do not think that friendship between nations can be forced any more successfully than friendship between one man and another; friendship is a thing which grows slowly when it is sound, and quickly when it is unsound; the friendship which grows like an oak is to be treasured, but the friendship which grows like a mushroom is worthless.

In order to foster Anglo-American friendship attempts have been made to create an artificial relationship between the American soldiers in Britain, and the British people. As might have been forseen by anyone except a government official, it has not been successful. An article appeared in the New York Times recently by Dr. Margaret Mead, discussing this matter; Dr. Mead is an anthropologist of high reputation, and she is as successful in studying civilized people as she has been in studying those whom we regard as uncivilized. This is an extract from what she said:

"Of contacts with British soldiers, those with a similar job to do and a similar fate ahead, there are hardly any. The simple fact that the pay of the American is more than twice that of the British soldier answers the question of much informal contact at one blow. The British Tommy can't afford to go out with GI. So the American soldier is forming his opinions of Britain, primarily in civilian settings, from the women, the middle-aged, the children—to whom he is good-natured Father Christmas. Units of the British Army remain distant and impersonal, something to exercise one's competitive feelings on in the abstract.

"Meanwhile the British are reacting to the American as one of a group of men, all about the same age, all dressed alike, without any distinguishing features of education or region which they recognize. They treat him as a stereotype and this flattens out the contact even more, even when the stereotype is Clark Gable who always married the girl at the end of the picture.

"The truth of the matter is that the American soldier is not, by experience and training, specially ready to take an interest in British culture, especially those things about British culture of which the British are proudest—their traditions, their countryside, their homes—and he is not having enough personal relationships with British people to overcome his lack of enthusiasm for the surface of British life.

"When he does enter a home or a group he is always in uniform, always labeled 'an American soldier', feeling a little like a butterfly on a pin".

We need not be surprised that English life does not appeal to American soldiers of Italian, or German or Middle European descent; why should it? Englishmen travelling in the U.S. have always found plenty to laugh at and disapprove; Americans in England and Australia do not take to English ways, which seem strange and often stupid to them. There is a difference of temperament which cannot be overcome, and we think that danger lies in attempts to overcome it by forceful propaganda.

Although they speak versions of the same language, Americans and Englishmen are not brothers under the skin. They are foreigners to each other. But there is no reason why they should not be friends if they are let alone and allowed to make friends in their own way. Only the most highly educated, cultivated and tolerant group in any nation are capable of making themselves at home instantly with people from another part of the world. Men and women of mediocre education and intelligence have to overcome a world of prejudice before they can accept "foreigners" as equals and friends. We think that Anglo-American friendship will flourish best when it is insisted upon least.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Theres' a horse called Santa Claus entered in the Kentucky Derby. Of course he will have it "in the bag".

A contemporary says: "Mr. Ilsley is one of our better and more valuable Cabinet ministers". Certainly the fellow is expensive enough.

The Brantford Expositor remarks, "Beware the ides of March, certainly applied to yesterday's slippery conditions". Meaning the slides of March, perhaps.

The Ottawa Citizen remarks that dehydration works well enough in some cases, but it is still impossible to soak a digest magazine and restore the contents to their original length.

Diary Of A Drain-Digger

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Quite a thaw today, and as a result there was a flood in my cellar. This is not the outcome of bad husbandry or shiftlessness on my part but the natural result of living at the bottom of a hill. I went outside to see what could be done about it, and concluded that nothing short of the faith that moves mountains—or at least large hills—would be efficacious....All my neighbours were out in the road, happily digging drains, so I joined them and distinguished myself by opening a storm sewer which was covered by three inches of ice; I hope that the Board of Works will recompense me at the customary hourly rate. But no, the B. of W. does its best work on streets where the dwellers have no sense of civic responsibility; they know that I and my like will open our own drains, and so they do not deprive us of our fun....It struck me this evening that Charlie McCarthy is not as funny as he used to be, but he is still funnier than his fleshy rivals.

MONDAY: I was visited this evening by a Canadian socialist, and I discussed the C.C.F. with him at some length. His fervent prayer is that it will have a good long spell in Opposition to teach it the ropes of Parliament. Good party member as he is, he dreads what might happen if some of the boys who still think that a Cabinet is a case for china were to be handed the control of the country, and particularly of its finances. ....He predicts that the next Premier will be Mr. King, a conclusion formed after a recent transcontinental journey; a Liberal government with a smaller majority is the best luck that the C.C.F., in its more intelligent manifestations, can hope for, in his opinion....I asked him what the general feeling across the country was about Mr. Bracken? He laughed and said "Keep Nixon At The Wheel." So it is as bad as that, is it?

TUESDAY: Up betimes to see my friend off to his train and he gobbled his breakfast while talking socialism. He declared himself more sympathetic toward an aristocraitc state than toward socialism, but could not stomach the present system which, in his opinion, subordinated every national interest to trade, and thus endangered us all for money. I countered this with my own theory about the wickedness of the human heart and asked him if he thought that his socialist lawyers and schoolteachers were really more honest and well-intentioned than the capitalists. He said no that they were a headstrong and irritable lot, but less dangerous than the sinful men of business. We parted with mutual expressions of esteem, and if the revolution comes I hope that he will be able to sneak me into a comfortable socialist sinecure.

WEDNESDAY: Apparently the lady who questioned me about the public hangman last week has been brooding over what I said, for when I met her today she returned to the subject, and asked me if he made a lot of money out of his grisly profession. I assured her that the hangman was very poorly paid; although I do not know his exact fee I know that it is surprisingly low, and a poor return for the skill, discretion and secrecy which a hangman must possess. And there are not enough hangings in Canada in a year to put a hangman in the income tax class, let alone keep him in comfort. I have heard it said that he is usually a cabinet-maker or contractor who hangs criminals as a sideline. And why not? Which is preferrable—the dignified judge who condemns a criminal to death, or the industrious mechanic who carries out the sentence?... Another friend tells me that it is now possible for doctors to ensure that couples who want a child shall have either a boy or a girl, as they choose, and that the results of their method are 78 per cent satisfactory. Yes, but who wants to decide these things? Who is prepared to say, "I want two boys and one girl," as though placing an order at the grocer's? Most of us would rather leave these things to the high gods. Uncertainty is the spice of life.

THURSDAY: This evening went to the movies, for the first time in many weeks. The film was "Intermezzo," a dull and moralistic piece which came originally I believe, from Sweden. Leslie Howard and Edna Best were in it, both looking middle-aged and unappetizing, and Ingrid Bergman, looking just the reverse. Behind me sat three ladies who did not admire Miss Bergman, and gave the whole theatre the benefit of their criticisms. Their charges against her, so far as I could determine, were that she was young, vivacious and attractive. I wished that I had the courage to turn to them and say, "Beldames, women who hate beauty and charm in others of their sex show an unseemly jealousy," but in such matters I am a mouse. Oh, to be a lion—a tawny, unanswerable lion!

FRIDAY: A gentleman dropped in on me today to say that the first robin had unquestionably arrived....Another visitor was a man who makes kaleidoscopes as a hobby, and has done so since his boyhood. He tells me that he has introduced a valuable novelty into kaleidoscope-making by putting curiously shaped bits of tin in the collection of beads and coloured glass which goes in the business end. I have seen some of his kaleidoscope and he is quite right; they are better than any that can be bought. He sends his to the Sick Children's Hospital, where they give a great deal of pleasure....Looking at the leaflet accompanying a volume of gramophone records this evening I find the song "Passing By" attributed to "Edward Purcell, 1689-1740"; as I said a few weeks ago it was written by Edward Purcell Cockram, who died in 1932. This confirms what I have suspected for some time, i.e., that those explanatory leaflets are written by the office-boy of the recording company.

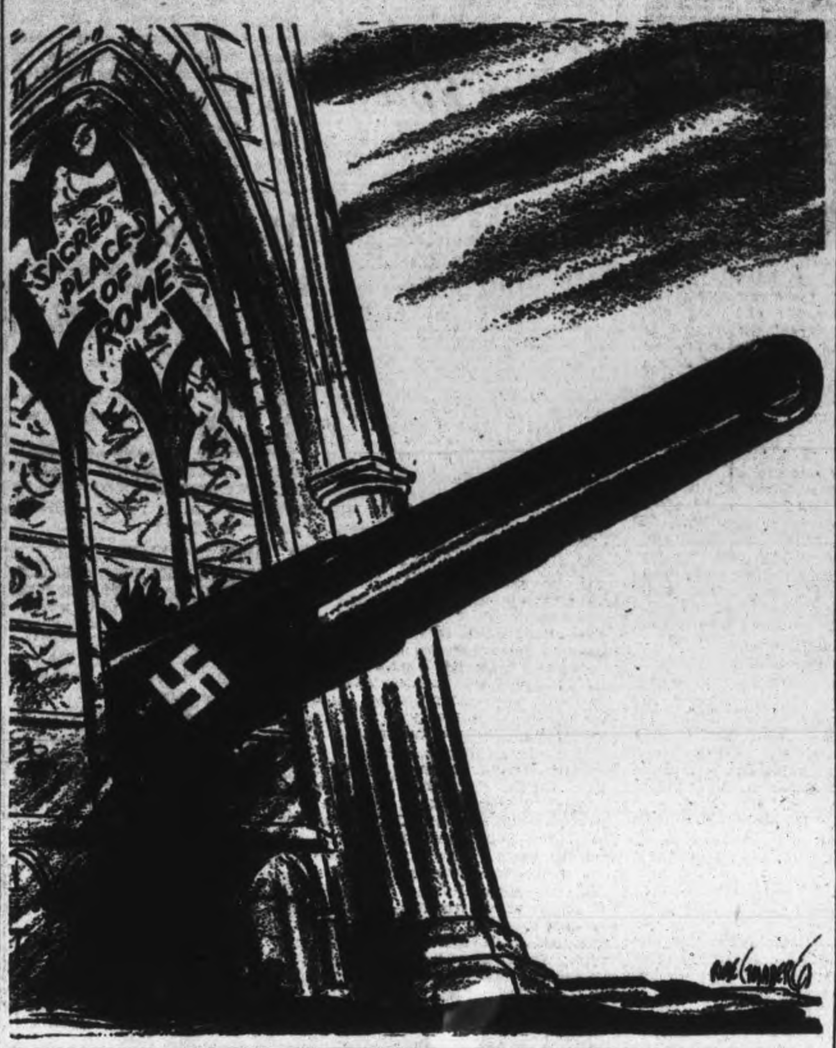
SATURDAY: A cold, wild day;. I went for a walk and soon tired of it. The opera this afternoon was "Il Trovatore," a good old blood-and-thunder piece; I always get a thrill out of the Anvil Chorus....It looks like a long, bitter spring. Here in Canada we have no spring as other countries know it; we merely have all the discomforts of winter combined with flood, and then suddenly one morning it is summer. Fortunately our beautiful autumns make up the loss.

Only One Answer

Farming is conducted more scientifically, improved varieties have been found and commercial fertilizers are now used extensively. In spite of al this, yields in Ontario are less than they were 40 years ago. There is only one answer to the question, "Why?" — poor soil management and needless loss of soil fertility.—Farmer's Advocate.

SHAMEFUL ADVANTAGE —By Rube Goldberg



LETTER TO THE EDITOR

FAVOURS PARK STRONGLY

Sir,—The proposal to establish a Provincial Park in Peterborough has aroused considerable opposition, as could have been expected. There always has and no doubt always will be opposition to any project for the public good by those who fear the loss of some of their privileges, some being unable to see the difference between rights and privileges.

The speech and actions of some of our prominent citizens do not seem to harmonize very well. While loudly proclaiming the value of the tourist trade, some of them are trying to block the establishment in this county of the ideal tourist attraction, a Provincial playground, where visitors from all over the country will be able to see something alive, to photograph and talk about.

As to the timber interests, I am inclined to think their opposition to the project would be withdrawn if they were sure there would be no interference with lumbering operations. I do not think it would have a harmful effect on the trees if a few people saw them growing, and if a couple of good roads were to be opened in the area, well that would be nice for the lumberman.

The mysterious, anonymous, organization calling themselves Owners', Occupants' and Citizens' Association, have also undertaken to oppose the park project. I have a small holding in the area and will be equally affected, adversly or otherwise, with the other occupants and never heard of this organization and do not share their views as broadcast over the radio recently.

As to the hunters and trappers who have camps in the area, some of them should have received the attention of the Fish and Game authorities long ago and others will have a choice of a location on the border of the park area, not a bad place for a hunting and trapping camp.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars have been spent in building roads in this district to a considerable extent for the benefit of the tourist. Equally good roads lead tourists out of the district, so that if there is nothing to attract atention and keep tourists and summer visitors here in the county, the investment in roads is more or less wasted money as far as the county is concerned.

The policy of the officials responsible for fish and game legislation, in years past, seems to have been to keep game and fur-bearing animals on the verge of extinction, in which they have received the hearty co-operation of the hunter and trapper. It is now time for a change. The present government has committed itself to a policy of conservation of natural resources, so now is the time to act and see if we can have a little conservation in Peterborough county.

This is not a purely local issue. All the residents of the Province have equal rights to the Crown lands and fish and game and should be considered.—Yours very truly,

F. BARRETT.

Editorial Acrobatics

(NEW YORK TIMES)

PITY the poor Communist editors in the United States. Those of the New Masses, for example. For their current issue they write a scathing attack on Mr. Churchill's support of the Badoglio Government, and by the time the editorial is published it has become an attack on the policy of Marshal Stalin.

Imagine the feelings of these unflinching followers of the Moscow line when they wake up—too late, alas, for what they have written is written and what the Kremlin has decided is decided—to find that the eloquent scorn they have poured upon the "threadbare nonsense' of Mr. Churchill's arguments for British policy in Italy applies with even greater force to the larger recognition accorded the Italian regime by the Soviet Government.

Only yesterday all the fancy legal talk about legitimacy in British and American official circles strained the patience of the New Masses' editors to the breaking point. They tell London, Washington—and Moscow also, as it turns out—that "even if legitimacy were made a criterion, then Badoglio's Government should be dispensed with immediately. It is no more legitimate than Mussolini's Government—a government legitimatized by Victor Emmanuel, who shared the loot brought him by the Duke of Addis Ababa, Marshal Badoglio."

The Governments that disregard the six-party coalition, "whose legitimacy was established in the twenty years it fought fascism," are warned that they are preparing for an explosion. After stating flatly that "there is compelling need for a revision of policy in conformity with the Moscow declaration on Italy," the editorial concludes with a confident prophecy that the situation will be changed for the better. "Badoglio, according to reports, has offered to resign over the transfer of part of the Italian fleet to the Soviet Union. What an opportunity to call his bluff!"

All this editorial was written before Marshal Stalin had spoken, but it apears in the issue of March 14, the day after Moscow announced its decision to exchange ambassadors with the Badoglio Government.

The New Masses cannot read the mind of Marshal Stalin and Marshal Stalin plainly does not read the New Masses. Worse than this, he doesn't seem to care about its judgments. We shall be interested to see what the New Masses says next week, but we are sure that Marshal Stalin need not worry. He can be quite sure that a policy that is "nonsense" or "support of fascism" when it is a State Department or Foreign Office policy immediately makes sense to American Communists when it is adopted by the Kremlin.

Against State Intrusion

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

THE Ontario administration is considerate of individual rights in the government's measure to enable a municipal health plan to be developed throughout this province. Under Health Minister Vivian's measure, any municipality can be authorized to provide health services where the majority of municipal electors have voted for such services. This democratic approach to state medical aid has more regard for the liberty of the individual than some aggressive proposals to impose compulsory medical regimentation on the people by the state.

Wherever Canadian people want voluntarily to subscribe to state medical treatment, they have every right to do so. There is wisdom, however, in safeguarding the high tradition, long established, of the relationship of the family physician to the patient. Compulsory state medicine would tend to undermine this more intimate relationship. It is unlikely that many of Canada's established medical practitioners would look with favour upon this form of state intrusion into private family life.

By the same token, the established right of the Canadian people under democracy to rely on any lawful healing method has to be safeguarded. The tendency of state bureaucracy is to impose one school of medical practice upon the people in common. In the federal health measure at present before the Dominion parliament, Canadian taxpayers are to be compelled to pay for state medicine, limited only to practitioners selected from the dominant school. The government of Canada would be, in effect, recognizing only the healing methods including drugless healers, but they are to be excluded from the federal government's health plan.

There are also law-abiding Canadian people who rely upon spiritual means of healing. It is to the credit of Premier Drew's administration in this province of Ontario that the rights of the minorities are to be safeguarded. Ontario is recognizing the right of the people to medical feedom. Ontario is against state intrusion into the relationship of the healing practitioner to private home life.

A Bible Message

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?....

Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.... For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock. (Ps. 27: 1, 3, 5.)

Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah. But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me; my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah. I laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the Lord sustained me. I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about. (Ps. 3: 2-6.)

There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear. (I John 4: 18.)

Unconsidered Trifles

A negro preacher was interrupted by two dogs fighting on the church porch.

"Brothahs an' sistahs,' he said, decisively, "Ah can see yo' attention has strayed from this Book, so Ah closes it; but Ah open this one, an' right now Ah lays five to four on the black dawg."

Mrs. Moggs (interviewing prospective employer on behalf of young Alf): "My boy is willing to start at five shillings a week, sir, if you will only give him a trial."

Prospective Employer: "I would willingly do so if only I had work for him to do."

Mrs. Moggs: "Well, he's not particular about that, sir."

Young Brown got a job in a shipyard. The first morning the foreman gave him a two-foot rule and told him to go and measure a large steel plate. Brown returned in 20 minutes.

Foreman (inquiring): "Well, what size?".

Brown (displaying a satisfied grin): "It's just the length of this rule and two thumbs over, with this brick, and the breadth of my hand, and my arm from here to there, bar the finger nails."

Alberta's "Politburo"

Besides inflation, which set up the machinery whereby the Nazis were able to squeeze out the little industrialists in Germany and get everything into the hands of the big shots who were backing the Nazi party under Hitler, the Alberta party has borrowed another good Nazi machine—the "politburo." The Alberta Social Credit Board is a board set up by the Social Credit Government to carry on the propaganda campaign for the Social Credit party out of the public treasury. It is the counterpart of the civil service party heeler who goes about the country distributing the politburo's literature and making speeches.

Social Credit is inflation in its essence. To put it over the politburo is spending thousands of dollars of taxpayers' money every year. It is little wonder that the Opposition in the Alberta Legislature inveighs against it.—Lethbridge Herald.

Even In Victoria?

March is that kind of a month that it can look you sunnily in the face and throw sleet at your feet simultaneously; lure you out with the mild scent of flowers and cut you in two at the same time with a frigid north wind; wait until the furnace is stoked and then increase the temperature outdoors by as much as ten whole degrees. But there, March was always that kind of a month, as mad as a grey March hare!—Victoria Colonist.

Not To Help Failures

The subsidy principle has become such a general practice at Ottawa these days that it is the basis of much of the criticism heard in the Commons recently. Therefore it is satisfactory to have the assurance of Mr. Abbott that the "Industrial Development Bank is not being set up to finance enterprises which are obviously doomed to end in failure. It would not be in the public interest to subsidize uneconomic activities in this concealed manner."—Calgary Herald.

START WITH A LONG SKIRT—The skirt is rapon crepe, cut slim and with a centre front hem slit; the ruffled shirt is elegant silver lame tissue. Wear a hat if you like for restaurant dates. This is a "roll your own" dinner costume, and it couldn't be better geared to our times when extravagance is out, and make-do a popular theory. Skirt and blouse are separate items to be picked up at accessory counters, and if you don't like the silver lame shirt, choose some other type of blouse which you prefer . . . peasant, lace, pullover rayon jersey or halter.—By Prunella Wood.

Overblouse Silhouette Is Excitingly Feminine

Completely feminine, completely figure-flattering because they are so beautifully moulded and excitingly simple—that's the Easter dress story in a nutshell. The designers as their fashion headquarters, have really proven the fact that for frankly feminine allure, nothing can beat a knowingly cut dress designed to underscore your best figure points. Of course the slim silhouette predominates, but there is plenty of silhouette news. The overblouse silhouette with long torso moulded bodice and cuffed hipline for a middy effect is the newest silhouette of all. Far from being ingenue, it's sophisticated, excitingly feminine, definitely spotlight news for Easter through Spring.

One of the smartest versions noted was a navy blue crepe with taffeta hipline accent plus two oversize taffeta bows—one at neckline, one at hipline—very flirty-flirty! Slim long sleeves add the perfect finish touch and make this type of dress a good fashion investment through Spring because you'll wear it smartly with your furs, your "ensemble" coat.

Two-Piece Look

Slim one-piece dresses that achieve the two-piece look continue to be important. Here we see plenty of tuck-ins for sophisticated shirt-waist dresses with softly bloused tops, sculptured skirts. Forever flattering and playing a return engagement for the Easter parade are peplum dresses. Newest of the new peplums are concentrated in front, many with twin hipline bows for peplum effect. Some are a little more than a soft pert ruffle across the front. The slim side draped silhouette is a big success and marvelously figure-flattering. Some feature side draped skirts, others are completely side draped from neck to hemline—all are fashion favorites.

Suit dresses, forever fashionable because they are so flattering and versatile are slated for big success too. Brief fitted jackets, slim skirts, dainty ruffle accents, crisp bow trims, strikingly smart stripes—all these are fashion-fresh details for Easter suit dresses. Bolero dresses, young yet sophisticated and wonderful for that slim look are also noted. Straight collarless bolero tops and high-rise skirts combine to really make the bolero fashion news! Set off with fresh white dickey or saucy lingerie bow tie, they are underscored for success. Stripes, vivid, poster-bright stripes, are the newest accent to the dress picture. Stripes accenting slim coat dresses, stripes forming a bright front for boleros, striped cuffs, striped bows.

Scarf Dresses, Bared Necklines

Newest and most exciting of the short formal party dresses for Spring is the scarf dress! With bared neckline, the briefest of sleeves, and in many cases, completely sleeveless—it is really the answer to the need for that "one wonderful dress" for furlough dating through Spring. With matching scarf which can be easily and gracefully draped, to cover shoulders and achieve the effect of short sleeves, it is completely feminine without the scarf for dinner-dancing when "he's" in to do the town. Very low U-necklines, squared off low necklines, heart necklines and plunging V-necklines are noted in these dresses. Cleverly draped slim skirts and sleek hiplines predominate. Incidentally keep your fashion eye on these short, sleeveless scarf dinner dresses for through Spring and Summer parties.

Lots of Color

Color plays an important part in the Easter dress picture. Magic-flattering and spirit-lifting to wear are soft blue pink-tone beige, clear fresh grey, lilac, pale green. Newest fashion color is tangerine—spicy, brilliant tangerine to spotlight you. Prints are smaller and prettier, pastel backgrounds look newest. Then there are vivid splashy prints, wonderfully bright and refreshing. Fashion endorses checks too—tiny, medium-sized or big—but checks for Spring! Of course navy is still a big Easter favorite as well as black. Getting back to color, striking color combinations are new and news. For instance luggage and navy, shocking pink and navy, gray and daffodil—all stimulating, exciting, smart.

Build him up and don't worry about vitamins and minerals.

Authorities say the difference between husky children and those who are poor eaters, underweight, and nervous is often simply a matter of proper nourishment, especially an adequate supply of vitamins and minerals.

But don't worry about vitamins and minerals! Children who eat 3 average-good meals including fruit juice, and drink 2 glasses of Ovaltine each day, are getting all the extra vitamins and minerals they need. In addition to its well-balanced food values, Ovaltine adds significant amounts of Vitamins A, B_1 and D and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron. So, if your child is not developing normally, remember this rule:

3 good meals plus 2 glasses of Ovaltine every day.

Collarless Suits Style News Pastels Are First Choice

Taking top honors for fashion news and flattery in the Easter parade is the soft collarless suit. Wonderfully smooth with no fuss or frills to mar its clean-cut simple lines it's the suit slated for fashion fame through Spring because of its almost universal flattery and endless versatility. More about the collarless suit later! First we want to give you a quick picture of the Easter suit story. Brief bolero suits stage a fashion comeback and cut a slim young silhouette for Easter parading. New and news is the Beau Brummel cutaway jacket suit with brief rib-hugging jacket and weskit front that makes waitlines ringsize. The soft rever suit with gently tucked jacket is a parennial favorite because of its marvelously flattering lines and easy wearability. Pencil slim, trouser pleat or slightly flared skirts predominate in suits and each achieve the slim young "lady" look that leads in all Easter fashions.

Topper Suit Big Favourite

Right up in the fashion headlines is the new topper suit. Here again collarless necklines make news in both the fingertip coat and the young fitted jacket suit. Slated for big success is the new trenchcoat and suit team. Double duty wearability is a big feature of all the new topper suits! Wonderful together or solo, the short topper coat will turn every dress into an "ensemble"— and of course you'll toss it over everything from slacks to your cottons through Summer. You can have your topper suit perfectly matched — or in striking color contrast. For instance, a vivid checked topper teams up smartly with a pastel or dark suit. Or you can reverse the color scheme. Fresh chalk stripes add up to one of the newest and most effective mediums for topper suits. Set off with spotless white pique accessories — really an unbeatable fashion combination for Easter through Spring! Speaking of stripes, chalk them up for Easter — but definitely! Crisp fresh chalk stripes in town tailleurs, in cardigan suits, in superb classics. Stripes, because of their bandbox fresh look stripes because they're marvellously figure-flattering and forever smart.

A Good Suit — A Good Investment

A good suit is the best wardrobe investment of all this Easter. Because a good suit will take you 'round the clock looking and feeling your best dressed self through Spring. So choose yours carefully, look for good tailoring, good fabric good line. As for color, there's a wide variety from which to choose. Pastels because they are so marvelously face-flattering and spirit-lifting are the No. 1 choice. Navy blue, forever fresh and fashionable for Springtime, still remains the all-time favorite with many women. Incidentally one of the newest accessory colors for navy is blush pink, delightfully feminine as it is refreshing. For instance pink blouse and hat, spotless white gloves and shining patent bag will give your navy suit a wonderfully new look. Spotlighted for Easter and strikingly smart are poster-bright striped accessories — definitely eye-catching!

Weskits — to Complement That Spring Suit

Weskits, or vests, are infinitely versatile and popular this season. Borrowed from the spirit of the Gay Nineties, they give that "extra" spark of color to your outfit and the "extra" smooth look to your figure. You can mix or match them with your suits — wear them over blouses and skirts or slacks. There are race track checks, blazer stripes ice cream whites to chose from. Or if you prefer, there are the more conservative colors in solids, herringbones or pencil stripes. Like your suits vests are a good investment and can be as daringly gay or as strikingly sophisticated as you choose! All these and more Easter fashions are on parade now at the local stores, wonderfully wearable as they are versatile and smart.

APPOINTED SECRETARY

LONDON — (CP) — The Royal Fine Art Commission has announced the temporary appointment of its secretary of A. B. Knapp-Fisher, former professor of architecture at the Royal College of Art.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, March 26

SUNDAY'S horoscope holds augury of the sudden and wholly unforeseen precipitation of events that may have far-reaching effects on the future, its destiny and fortunes. This occurrence should be handled with cleverness, originality and ingenuity and should be decisively exploited but without argument, impulsiveness, or other conduct likely to incite antagonism from those in authority or influence. Change, travel, romance are forecast, but be prudent.

Birthday Indications

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for an exciting and unpredictable turn of affairs which may be manipulated with splendid promise of progress, adventure and future gratification. Energy, ingenuity, exceptional skill or originality may secure this surprising opportunity, but emotionalism, impetuosity or discussion may challenge higher-ups to antagonism. In affectional matters there is also need for prudence and discretion.

A child born on this day may have exceptional gifts or creative talents in inventive, scientific, literary or other lines promising adventure and romance.

For Monday, March 27

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is for an exceptional opportunity to settle important affairs, of scope and daring adventure, in which public, groups or community interests may be involved. The vision, intuition and intellectual processes are under high stimuli for achieving advanced and lucrative objectives. Ingenious ways and means may be expressed, but a tendency to squander forces, financial or emotional, with unguarded talk, should be suppressed. Beware of imprudent intrigues in intimate affairs, social, affectional, domestic.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for some unusual opening for achieving expansive objectives or ambitions of exceptional scope and desirability, in business, career, finances or largely, in the affectional relations. While keen mental abilities may stimulate worthy efforts and aims, emotional or extravagant indulgences carried to excess may prove frustrating and regrettable. Be wise.

A child born on this day will have exceptional talents, versatility and creative ability, perhaps in art, literature, music, invention. A proclivity to emotional intrigues or personal extravagance may be its undoing.

Parkhill Group Assists Greeks

Mrs. A. Elmsie, 417 Bellevue street, was hostess for the regular meeting of the Parkhill Fellowship Group. Encouraging reports were received regarding the raising of talent money, through the sale of candy, baking, aprons, plants, and stuffed toys. A substantial donation to the Greek Relief Fund was reported by the treasurer. Mrs. W. McBride was in charge of the devotional period.

Following the business the hostess and her assistant served refreshments. The next meeting, to be held Thursday, April 6, will be a special Easter meeting, and a musical program is being planned. Mrs. C. Osborne, 716 Stormont street, will be hostess.

Women Organize UEWA Auxiliary

An organization meeting, of the Peterborough Ladies' Auxiliary of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, was held at the UE Hall, 291 George street. Committees were formed, and plans were made to assist the members of the local union in entertaining the delegates coming to Peterborough at the end of April for a convention. Membership in the Auxiliary is confined to relatives of members of Locals 524 and 527 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of Amercia.

The remainder of the evening was spent in progressive euchre, with Mrs. A. Leal, 179 Bethune street, being the winner.

Y. W. C. A. Club Doings

This has been World Youth Week and youth has been thinking of how to make the Four Freedoms becomes realities.

Y.W.C.A.

The All Nations' Club on Tuesday held a lively discussion on the contributions of the various nations through their religion, politics and educational schemes. The next meeting in two weeks will deal with the relationship of Canada to peoples of other nations.

The Co-Ed Club meeting for supper on Wednesday held a discussion on movies and actors and who is a "foreigner"?

The Junior Business Girls' Club met on Wednesday this week in the Club Room. Marjorie Fisk, Pauline Humphries, and Ruth Brown were welcomed as new members. Marilyn Munro was the lucky winner of the prize for "Guggenheim". A project of knitting has been started for one of the local welfare agencies. Jean Cranfield supplied the music via records and a happy time was had by all.

The Junior Supper Club held a scavenger hunt and dance last Saturday and it was a most successful party. Jane Abbott was in charge of the program and supper was served by Nancy Stanton, Patsy Martyn, Donna White and Jean Hills. At the regular meeting on Thursday there was an enthusiastic discussion on Personality and Etiquette. A letter was received from Anne Boyle, secretary, who is confined to her home, was read and the good wishes of the club are extended. This is the last meeting of the Club until April 20th.

A new Thursday P.M. Club was added to the roster. The girls made scrap books of program material and enjoyed themselves at the Bohemian Supper. Any girls or young married women who are free on Thursday afternoons are cordially invited to attend this club and the Girls' Work Secretary will be glad to hear from them.

The '38 Club Executive met on Wednesday and completed plans for the program "Know Your Government" to be held next Wednesday, with L. J. Pettit as discussion leader. This will be followed by a Spring Musicale on April 12, a panel discussion on Party Politics on April 26, and an open forum on Social Security in Canada on May 10.

The Gym-Swim Club on Thursday received the resignation of Jean Thomas as president which position will be filled by Ina Robinson. The club has decided to study Minority Group Problems as part of the Canadian Youth Commission. The following members are discussion leaders: Doreen Wells, Grace Schiarizza, Isabel Pearce and Doreen Lord. A Hardtime Party is planned for next week with Doreen Wells as convener. This week's program was in charge of Grace Schiarizza and her committee and dancing provided the recreation for the evening.

The Friday Supper Club program last week provided the film "Peoples of Canada" which was enjoyed by all those present. Various and Sundry basketball games took away from the attendance. It was decided that March 24 would be the last meeting until April 21. Audrey Allin was supper convener assisted by Adeline Campanaro, Dorothy Ballard, Viva Clarke, Barbara Cook and Nancy Eastwood.

The Saturday Juniors planted a lily bulb as their spring project and heard the story of the "Easter Lily."

Young Peoples' Clubs will be listening to the broadcast "Youth Fights for the Four Freedoms" sponsored by the Canadian Committee for World Youth Week and carried by the C.B.C. National Network at 7.15 p.m. on Saturday, March 25.

SPRING AND SUMMER STOLE—Light, bright silver fox of aristocratic lineage is made into a swirled stole with ends finished by rolled pocket pouches. The model extends slightly below the waistline. A fluffy fur for the so-called hot weather season ahead is a good investment, much as it may sound as silly as expressing ice cubes to Eskimos. There are great, lush patches of our country where fogs blow in above the green grass and gardens; where once the sun is down a chill drops from the evening sky. In some of our cities there is still air cooling in public places, and do they turn it on full blast! A fur stole of the type pictured above, is insurance against these dogday chills, besides having Winter uses.—By Prunella Wood.

GOOD MOTHER IS PRACTICAL

Not Human Doormat; Teaches Children Things That Fit Them For World's Hard Knocks.

What is a good mother? The average woman's ideal of a good mother is a human doormat, and the more she lets her children trample on her and kick her around, the better mother she considers herself. It is a common thing to hear a woman boast that when her first baby was born she gave up her clubs and her old friends and her accomplishments, and that she never touches the piano, or paints any now, or keeps up with the new books, or goes anywhere. She just stays at home and devotes herself to her children.

These women, who belong to the class that Bernard Shaw describes as being so much mother they are are scarcely human, think that they are a noble and inspiring example of mother love when they sacrifice themselves on the altar of their children, and they are scathingly critical of the women who just take motherhood in their stride and who keep in the running themselves while they are running the nursery.

"Good Mothers" Become Worst

As a matter of fact, the women who are ALL mother are the worst possible mothers because by the time their youngsters are out of the cradle they have lost their influence over them. Children are brutal little realists and it doesn't take them long to size Mother up for what she is, and if she has made a slave of herself for them, they treat her as one. They take all of her labor and self-denial as no more than their due, and they defy her opinions because they have no respect for one who doesn't stand up for herself.

Many women consider themselves good mothers because they spoil their children to death. They can-

What is the Secret of Family Health

One family is always healthy. In the next family there seems to always be someone sick.

Why?

It used to be customary to blame this condition on heredity.

But recent investigations show that far more depends on living and eating habits.

The underlying cause of low vitality is often traceable to a lack of vitamin B_1 and essential minerals derived from the food consumed.

As a result whole families may be found to be subject to a low condition of health which leaves them prey to serious and annoying ailments.

More and more intelligent thinking people are learning to depend on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a "pick-me-up" to help them out of a low condition of vitality.

It is usually the mother in the home who is largely responsible for the family health and most mothers know about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and what it can do to help restore richness to the blood and vigor to the nervous system.

In most families, these days, there are excesses of work, worry and anxiety which overtax the nerves and cause headaches, irritability, loss of sleep and indigestion.

But these troubles do not need to get you down if you let Dr. Chase's Nerve Food help you.

School age children who have become pale, weak, languid and anemic are soon helped back to robust health by the use of this tonic treatment for the blood and the nerves.

Ask your druggist for the economy size bottle of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

First Exhibition Ball Tilt Gets Underway

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, March 25—(AP)—Batter up! The first exhibition game of this third wartime baseball season is scheduled today at Evansville, Ind., where the Detroit Tigers entertain the Chicago White Sox in the opener of a two-day series.

Unless his plans are changed at the last minute Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers will start Paul (Dizzy) Trout, his 20-game winner from last year, and follow through with rookies Henry Hresko and Bill Kasepchuk. Manager Jimmy Dykes, of the Sox, has nominated three rookies, Charles Graumann, Al Wittmer and southpaw Ed Lopat, for mound duty.

Six other exhibitions are listed for the weekend.

News from other major league camps:

French, Ind.—Paul Erickson and Les Fleming pitched well as Cub regulars blamed Yannigans, 5-0, in six-inning camp game. Erickson yielded one hit, Fleming none in two innings.

Wilmington, Del.—Infielders Jimmy Wasdell and Charles Letchas signed Phillie contracts, leaving only Outfielder Ron Northey and Coaker Triplett as holdouts.

Wallingford, Conn.—Rookies Dee Phillips and Mike Sabena showed best hitting as Brave regular beat Yannigans, 3-2, in indoor game at Choate School.

Bartolo To Fight

BOSTON—(AP)—Sal Bartolo of Boston, who gained the National Boxing Association featherweight championship from Phil Terranova of New York, here two weeks ago, today agreed to give the latter a chance to regain that title in a 15-round bout at the Boston Garden on April 14.

6 Rinks Survive

MONTREAL, March 25—(CP)—Six rinks have survived the three preliminary rounds in the Elgin Trophy Granite curling competition here to earn the right to enter the final stage of the last major curling competition of this season. The rinks which qualified last night are E. H. Foy of St. Annes, D. Elliott of Quebec Victoria, R. B. Cockburn of Montreal West, R. B. Ness of Howick, R. E. Raguin of Royal Montreal, and C. H. Handley of Quebec Curling Club.

Ottawa Juniors Defeat Rockets

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP)—Allie Garland's University of Ottawa sharpshooters buried Inkerman, Ont., Rockets beneath a hail of pucks yesterday by a score of 24-0 to advance into the first round of the Memorial Cup hockey play-offs against the winner of the Oshawa-St. Michael's series.

Spearheaded by Bob Pepin and Andre D'Aoust, U. of O. raced to an 8-0 lead at the end of the first period, increased it to 15-0 at the end of the second and got together for a nine-goal third session to complete the basketball-like score.

The forward unit of Pepin, John Mureitch and Ray Ouillerier cashed in for 24 of their team's 53 scoring points. Pepin garnered six goals and five assists to shade D'Aoust by one for premier scoring honors. Muretich accounted for eight and Ouillerier for five.

The Rockets used two goalies in an attempt to stem the rush, Ray Baldwin giving way to Cecil Bailey midway through the second frame. Baldwin was beaten 10 times and Bailey suffered for the remaining 14 goals.

For the approaching series against either Oshawa or St. Michael's, U. of O. will add four new players to their roster. Pat Coburn, Ray McDonald and Henry Schmidt will accompany the team to Toronto, while Johnny Allan may go along as well. It is expected the series will start Wednesday at the latest.

Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. overwhelmed London Navy 73-40 in their half of the semi-final tournament at Brantford last night for the intermediate "B" championship of the Ontario Basketball Association. In the other bracket, Brantford Y.M.C.A. paced to a 54-34 victory over Hamilton Y.M.C.A., while Guelph O.A.C., fifth entrant in the round-robin, drew a bye According to the arranged schedule for the two-day competition, Guelph Aggies are engaging Toronto West Ends this afternoon, but officials contemplated another chance for London Navy by permitting the Sailors to meet the Brants in the other afternoon fixture. Winners in the double-header will fight it out for the title to-night.

Toronto had too much experience for the Tars and piled up 54 points in the second half of their set-to, Corrigan standing out as top scorer with a total of 24 points alone. Don Gillen, with 11, and Ralph King, with 10. led the Brantford sharpshooters against Hamilton.

In the junior basketball tournament at London, London Central Alumni bounced a 49-27 victory against St. Thomas Y.M.C.A., as a start toward the Ontario honors. Windsor is playing St. Jerome's College to-day and the winners will face London Central for the district title in the junior division.

With a record of 21 victories and eight losses last season for the National League champions, Pitcher Mort Cooper yesterday signed a one-year contract with St. Louis Cardinals. He had been asking for $17,500, an increase of about $5,000 over his reputed 1943 salary. but the terms of his new agreement were not disclosed.

$200 Fine.

Stewards of Tropical Park track yesterday imposed a fine of $200 and a suspension for the balance of the meeting at Miami on Johnny Adams, leading U.S. jockey last season. Adams was charged with rough riding in the seventh race on Thursday. Jockey Wendell Eads was given the same penalties for striking another rider with his whip.

Bought by Pittsburg Pirates from Syracuse for $35,000 four years ago, Pitcher John Gee promises to round into effective form this season for the first time. Gee, who was a 20-game winner with the Chiefs in 1939, injured his arm the first day at practice after his purchase by the Pirates. He is training with the Bucs at Muncie, Ind.

Gold Mike, owned by Mrs. J. B. Burnstein of Detroit, won the feature six-furlong dash at Bay Meadows, San Mateo, Calif., yesterday by three lengths. Freedom Ring, the favorite was beaten out for second by Results a $10.20 long shot.

Belleville Loses To Bowmanville

TORONTO (CP)—In the semi-finals of the Senior Division of the Ontario Interscholastic Basketball tournament here last night, Bowmanville defeated Belleville 36-31 and St. Catharines eliminated Midland 48-32, the winners to meet today for the title. In the Senior Girls series, Belleville won from Bowmanville 15-7 while Orillia earned a 16-10 win against Ridgeway. Junior Boys' results were: Cobourg 16, Belleville 15, and St. Catharines 26, Orillia 21, in the one Junior Girls' game, Midland defeated Niagara Falls 28-14.

Belleville Senior girls took command early in the game in an attack spearheaded by Joan Watson and Margaret Taylor to win by the score of 15-7.

Though both boys teams lost they were closely contested, with the Juniors losing a 16-15 game which was decided in the last minute of play when Anderson scored on a pivot shot for Cobourg. The winners led 7-3 at half time. Rollins and Wonnacot both turned in excellent performances for Belleville. The Senior Boys never were in the lead although pressed throughout the game. Bowmanville led 22-17 at half time and held a 28-28 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Curling News

For many years our curling club has been well represented at the annual "Brereton-Raw" mixed bonspiel, held at the Granite Club, Toronto, during the last week of March. And this year is no exception. In fact we are breaking our own record of seven entries. This year it is nine.

This competition was first started by Dr. Brereton, some years ago at the old 'Strathcona' Club on Christie street. When the Strathcona Club broke up the bonspiel was moved to the Granite Club. As time went on it was found that this bonspiel had become so popular that it was necessary for the Granite Club to take over and run it as part of the season's schedule. It is now recognized as the premier mixed event of the province.

The entry is limited to 64 rinks, with 16 rinks playing on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The winners on these respective days return on Friday to play in the finals.

Playing Moiday, March 27th.

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

In matching the smoothie Frank Sexton against Karl Krippler Davis in the main bout of next Tuesday's show at the Brock Street Arena Promoter Frank Tunney has shown his usual ability to guess what the public wants. After the torrid tussle the two battlers staged here on Tuesday night a return engagement with a longer time limit was the logical move and Tunney has made it. The result should be one of the evenest and hottest mat engagements of the season for the two big fellows, widely different in style, have already demonstrated that they are very evenly matched and that anything is liable to happen. Davis, always a ruthless and tough opponent, believes in the old military motto about getting there first with the most and he also believes that the best defence is a good offence. On top of that he has an innate grudge against the clever type of wrestler. Fancy Dans is the name he has for such clean-cut performers as Whipper Watson, Vic Holbrook and Frank Sexton and he takes a great delight in kicking them around and the more the crowd roars the better he likes it. However Sexton has already shown that while he can wrestle cleanly and has a wide knowledge of the science of the game he can also rough it with the worst of the bad men if he is called upon to use such tactics to protect himself. He'll probably have to go back-alley in Tuesday's bout and the result should be action galore.

* * * * * *

Promoter Tunney is also giving local fans a chance on Tuesday to see the latest attraction in his entourage of heavyweight grapplers. He has signed Frank Judson, the Boston mat star and former coach of the Colgate football squad to meet Toar Morgan the Battling Marine in the semi-final and that is a clash that would be worthy of topping the bill. Judson comes with a reputation of being one of the smoothest and cleverest of the current crop of wrestling stars and Tunney predicts that the collegian will quickly become a favorite with Peterborough enthusiasts. Morgan, of course, whose last appearance here was on the night he was badly hurt by World Champion Longson's pile driver hold is very popular and the clash between these two clever and powerful opponents may steal the show from the main bout. The opener will see Jan Gotch battering away at the fast-moving Jack Wentworth. There is a wide difference in style between the two and it will be interesting to see whether Wentworth's speed will save him from a tough passage at the hands of the Pole whose mat motto is "Keep punching." It looms up like a big night.

Hard To Understand

One of the most bizarre features of a season that has been replete with inexplicable rulings is the decision announced by the Department of National Defence that two soldiers stationed at Camp Borden were not to be allowed to play any more games for the Barrie Colts junior B team. The O.H.A. had ruled that these players were eligible but apparently Kingston hockey authorities had pull enough to get a ruling from the Department of National Defence over-riding the hockey body. And the very wording of the ruling showed that who ever was responsible for it knew little or nothing about the actual situation for it started out with "Regulation is that no soldier may participate in hockey contests or organized leagues leading to Allan or Memorial Cup playoffs." Exactly. That is the regulation. But Barrie is not playing in any organized league leading to either the Allan or Memorial Cup playoffs. They are a junior B team and there is nothing in the military policy in regard to hockey that bars the two soldiers. And yet the message from the Department of National Defence winds up with the statement that the commandant of Camp Borden had been instructed to withdraw the soldier players from the Barrie team.

* * * * * *

The incident, and the whole military attitude toward hockey will cause a lot of folk to hope that the officers responsible are more successful in prosecuting the war than they have been in dealing with soldier participation in Canada's national winter pastime. At the beginning of the season there was a protest from all parts of Canada against the alleged tendency to keep star hockey players on staff jobs in order to have their services available for hockey while other soldiers who were not so proficient were drafted overseas. The outcry was so strong that the authorities finally had to deal with it and they tried to do by barring soldiers from taking part in junior A and senior hockey. But they apparently forgot all about the intermediate series and the result has been that many hockey stars have apparently found refuge with military teams in that division. Names of players who were with intermediate military teams last season have bobbed up again this winter while other soldiers not so fast on their skates or so accurate in shooting a puck have long since gone overseas.

Plenty Of Excitement

They must have had a lot of fun in the St. Mike's-Generals game at Oshawa the other night judging by the following from George Campbell's Oshawa sport column: "My! My! Did you see how those earnest students carried on when Love scored his third goal, the one that slid along the ice and caromed into the net and then out again. A neutral goal-judge flashed the red light but every light in the rink would have went "out" for the Hamilton official if there hadn't been a heavy screen to save him from the vicious swing a St. Mike's young gentleman took at him. Still, we don't blame high-spirited Juniors for displaying their feelings. After all, it was a "funny" goal and they, too, have a right to their opinions. So have the fans—but not when it comes to throwing bottles. Yes, they were throwing "coke" bottles again in the Oshawa Arena last night and in case you didn't notice it, the bottles were thrown from Section No. 6, west side—where the St. Michael's rooters were located. There hasn't been an Oshawa fan throw a bottle since one offender was fined $24.00 in court early this season. The bottles last night came definitely from among the visiting cheering section. What we really want to know is—does the arena management remunerate all those boys in blue uniforms just so they can stand in the best places and have a better view of the game than the "preferred standing room" or are they really supposed to be "working." Somebody should have been arrested last night for that bottle-throwing business. Oshawa fans were quite willing to point out the offender but apparently nobody was near enough, with authority to do anything about it."

Buffalo Loses To Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, March 25 (CP)—Buffalo is scheduled to resume its best-of-seven American Hockey League play-off series with Indianapolis Capitals here Sunday night after the Caps slammed home four goals in six minutes and nine seconds of the third period last night to win 4-3.

All the third period goals were scored by Coach Johnny Sorrell as he personally conducted the last-period upsurge of the Caps, giving them their first victory in the three games so far played.

Buffalo took a 2-0 lead in the opening frame on counters by Thurier and Leger and the rest of the period and the scoreless second period was listless.

Indianapolis woke up in the third when Sorrell counted at 1.22, assisted by Sherritt and Bill Thomson. Thirty-three seconds later Sorrell repeated on assists by Red Kane and Thomson and at 6.39 the playing coach sent the Caps ahead. The clincher came at 7.31, with Kane and W. Smith assisting. The last-period Buffalo goal was counted by Hunt.

Few High Scores In Girls' League

Once again the Ladies' Bowling League at the Y.M.C.A. had a tough time trying to run up high scores in this week's league games. In fact only two of the girl trundlers got over the 600 mark, D. Prest with 615 and T. Jackson with 602.

The best single scores of the week were C. Henry 285, T. Jackson 259, D. Prest 250, 237 and M. Morton 222.

Infantry Wins Basketball Title Overseas

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 25 (CP)—Despite the presence of two members of Canada's 1936 Olympic team, an armored corps reinforcement unit was defeated by an infantry reinforcement unit for the C.R.U. area Basketball championship.

The infantry lost the first game of the two-game, total-point series 34-32 but swamped the opposition 36-14 in the second to take the series 68-46.

The Olympians—Maj. Ian Allison of London and Windsor, Ont., and Tr. Dave Nixon—sparked their team's offensive in scoring a total of 24 points in the series. Allison, with 14 points, led all scorers.

Cpl. Stan Rinehart of Toronto was leading scorer for the winners with 18 points in the two tilts.

The series climaxed the most successful cage season since the war began. Eight teams made up the C.R.U. area league and some continued with exhibition games against United States Army units stationed nearby after being eliminated from the playdowns.

In the first of such inter-Allied affairs, two battalion teams of an American regiment broke even in a double-header against two Canadian teams.

A couple of lieutenants from Toronto led the Canucks to a 37-35 victory in the opener. They were Al Dean with 12 points and Rudiff Grass with six. L.Cpl. John Lockington of Brantford, Ont., shot four.

The Yanks won the second match 35 to 28.

Callura May Lose Sight Of Both Eyes

HAMILTON, March 25 — Angelo Callura went to the ring wars once too often and today the local lightweight who tangled with some of the top notchers, including Allie Staltz, during the past six months, is in a Toronto hospital with eye specialists fighting hard to save his sight. Jackie Callura, brother of the unfortunate battler, stated this morning that there is no certainty that Angie's sight will ever be perfect again, but everything possible is being done. Today Leo P. Bradley, who managed Angelo up until a year ago and then advised him to quit the ring for good, paid a hurried visit to the city today and may arrange a benefit show for the little fellow in about three weeks' time.

The Sports Round-Up

NEW YORK, March 25—(AP)—Overseas sports news report:

Britain

Sgt. Peter Kane, former flyweight champion, has been forbidden to box while in the R.A.F. and will have to cancel his June bout with Ronnie Clayton for the British bantamweight crown...The ban was imposed after a service medical report on the condition of Kane's eyes .. Maj. Frank Buckley, who is reported to have discovered and sold more major British soccer stars than any other man (a cockney Connie Mack, eh?) foresees crowds of 100,000 to 150,000 for post-war soccer games and each club operating its own airliner to international matches.

Pacific Area

Ensign Dick Humbert, the Philadelphia Eagles' end, writes Coach Greasy Neale that he is on a sub chaser, which is "something like a ping-pong ball bouncing down a cobblestone street."...Lieut. Roland (Kickapoo) Logan, former Red Sox and West Point trainer, reports that Gene Tunney, Jim Crowley, Bobby Feller, Fred Apostoli, and footballers Marshal Duffield (Southern Cal.) and Jim Poole (Miss. State and Giants) have visited his fleet recreation centre at various times.

Over Europe

The Sporting News carries this yarn about Lieut. Alfred Pezzella, a bombardier and obviously a baseball fan...While his bomber was flying over enemy territory, a piece of flak whizzed through the nose of the plane missing Pezzella by a few inches...The Lieutenant looked up momentarily from his bombsight and remarked: "Ball one, low and outside."

Barrie Wallops Kingston To Win Round

TORONTO, March 25—Outweighing Kingston at all times and outplaying them in the second and third periods, Barrie Colts defeated Victorias, 6-1, last night at Maple Leaf Gardens to take an O.H.A. Junior "B" semi-final home-and-home round that had previously resulted in two tie games.

There was a paid attendance of 1,612 in the house. Most of that crowd was from out of town, with Barrie seemingly best represented.

It was a ragged game with a lot of close checking and bodies falling all-over the ice from awkwardness. Occasionally fine individual plays emerged from the milling and the crowding.

Nineteen penalties were handed out. All but two were for minor offenses such as tripping, interference and high-sticking, but they kept the timekeeper extra busy. The two major penalties were given to John Myke and Gord Needham, who scuffled briefly after the second-period finish bell had rung.

Bark Visits Gardens

Chad Bark, smart little defenseman with U.T.S. teams of the last several years, was in the Barrie lineup. Also Jack Mason, who was with Brantford of the O.H.A. Junior "A" group last season. Both now are in the army and presently are on leave. A Kingston report had them as forbidden to play, but Barrie officials claimed there was nothing to the report.

Barrie is coached by Leighton (Happy) Emms, a veteran professional hockey campaigner who has appeared here with National Hockey League teams in other years.

George MacGregor, about the fastest man on the ice, tried his best to keep Kingston in the game. He scored the Victorias' lone goal. Myke, Jake Wallis and Bud Ohlke, shifty little fellows, gave Barrie lots of trouble.

Al Bowen, tall and awkward-appearing, scored three times for Barrie, while Mason got two goals. Goaler George D'Ambrossio was prominent in the Colts' win. So were Leighton Clark, Cec Cook and Murray Richardson.

Jack Stone, Kingston goalie, was injured twice. In the second period the puck whacked him in the throat. In the third he was clipped on the forehead.

Kingston—Goal, Stone; defense, Metcalfe, Plumb; centre, MacGregor; wings, Fowler, Moore; subs, Myke, Wallis, Ohlke, McCarney, Watts, Snider.

Barrie — Goal, D'Ambrossio; defense, Max Richardson, Don Clark; centre, Bowen; wings, Needham, Lougheed; subs, Mason, Leighton Clark, Bark, Murray Richardson, Nixon, Cook.

Referees—Pat Patterson and Ken Holmshaw.

Sailors Defeat Owen Sound 8-6

By The Canadian Press

Port Colborne grabbed the first lap in their intermediate O.H.A. best-of-three series last night by administering an 8-6 defeat to Owen Sound at Port Colborne but had to come from behind in both the first and second periods to clinch the verdict. The second game of the round is scheduled to be played at Owen Sound Wednesday and a third game, if necessary, will be staged later on the same ice.

The Sailors overcame the visitors' lead in the first stanza to hold a 4-3 advantage at the intial intermission, then wound up the second period with a 7-5 edge after repeating the process.

Scoring stars for the winners were Fitzgerald and Leitch, each with three counters, Kilpatrick and Martin getting one apiece. Proctor and Smith scored two each for Owen Sound while Foster and Dolson scored once.

Takes 2-Mile Run

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Gil Dodds of Boston won the two-mile run in 9:05.3 last night at the Knights of Columbus games and failed by 14.3 seconds to equal the world's indoor mark of Greg Rice. The meet saw Ed Conwell of the University of New York and Claude Young of Illinois each run the 45-yard dash in 4.7 seconds, one-tenth of a second better than the world record of Herb Thompson of Jersey City.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By SYD THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, March 25—(CP). — The Canadian Press poll of sports writers which established Toronto's Gus Bodnar as the N.H.L.'s outstanding rookie set a fire that still burns in Montreal where the Standard quotes Canadiens as saying, "Bill Durnan was robbed." And, says the Standard, "the reason is attributed to several local votes having been given by French-Canadian newspapermen to Fernand Majeau....Thiss plit the vote...."

To keep the record straight we checked back, and what d'ya know? Majeau was named on only one of the seven Montreal ballots and that was for third place. Bodnar polled 583 points, Durnan 51, Elwin Morris and Ted Kennedy 76 each, and Majeau 62.

Dink (Montreal Gazette) Carroll quotes Dick Irvin: "What won the trophy for Bodnar was the Montreal writers who made him their second choice." But Dick is only guessing.

Really, old chap.

Football is a wild and weird game, in the opinion of the London Daily Sketch sport writer. Describing a recent game overseas between Canadian and United States service teams, the Britishers wrote with furrowed brow.

"The players were padded all over and wore crash helmets. I don't blame them. The funny thing from the English point of view was to see four fellows in white shirts wandering around the field....Every so often the players ent into a huddle, clasped their arms around each other, their heads together as though they were discussing a second front."

At least, he conceded, the game cemented relations between the two nations.

Incidentally:

Torchy Peden, former ruler of the six-day bike racers, now is an R.C.A.F. corporal and physical training supervisor for Air Cadets in No. 4 Training Command, Calgary....Helen Nicol, former ace hurler with Calgary Chinooks, is returning to the Kenosha, Wisconsin, Club again this year. Helen was a leading pitcher last year in the All-American Glamor Girls Softball League....Several former N.H.L. stars, including Wally Stanowski, Pete Langelle, Alf Pike, Jack Stewart, and Paul Platz, have been playing in exhibition and benefit games with R.C.A.F. teams in the Prairies.

Toronto Squawks About Refereeing Job

TORONTO, March 25. — "We may not have," said Hap Day last night, "the greatest hockey club in history, but weve got one that has enough spirit to beat Montreal Canadiens with any kind of break."

"We accept Thursday night's setback with a tribute to Richard, who played a whale of a game," Day added, "but we had to be buffeted by weak-kneed officiating from Bill Chadwick as well."

To-night, Canadiens and Leafs move into the third game of their Stanley Cup playoff series at the Gardens, take a week-end rest, and play here again Tuesday. Regardless of what happens in the Toronto contests, the teams will be back in Montreal for another game in a best four-in-seven series on Thursday night.

It is the general opinion of Coach Day of the Leafs, his players and conutless eye-witnesses that the break that precipitated the 5-1 Richard avalanche in Thursday nights Canadiens triumph came on the first goal.

Richard scored the first of his five goals at 1:48 in the second period off a play with McMahon and Blake. At the time the Montreal forward line of Richard, Lach and Blake was opposed by Davidson, Carr and Bodnar. It was Day's strategy plan to have Davidson tag Richard, probably the hottest goal producer Leafs have faced this winter. Richard, a southpaw right-winger, had Davidson as a checkmate.

As the first Montreal scoring play started to develop a fan reached over the boards, snatched Davidson's stick out of the Toronto player's hands. Meanwhile McMahon was on the way toward the Toronto blueline. The fan swung the stick back on the ice, hitting Davidson in the back. Richard went in to score while the stickless Davidson was trying to pursue Referee Bill Chadwick.

After the goal was scored Chadwick answered Davidson's protest by skating to the side of the rink. Davidson pointed out the stick-snatcher, and Chadwick ordered policeman to remove him from the Forum.

Davidson protested this action. He pointed out to Chadwick that a Montreal goal was scored while he was without a stick because of the action of the customer. He wanted the goal disallowed.

"The Davidson stick incident," Day insisted last night, "was the turning point in the contest. The least we can expect in the way of a break when we oppose the Canadiens, is we should be allowed to have sticks."

"I'm not a chronic squawker," Day added, "but I said early in the season Bill Chadwick was a weak-kneed official. And after Thursday's game in Montreal I certainly haven't changed my mind.

Day recalled pre-game incidents Thursday. The Leafs were out for a warm-up at 8:15. The Canadiens did not appear until brief seconds before the scheduled starting time of 8:30.

Chadwick skated over to the Toronto bench and asked Day to allow the Canadiens a couple extra minutes or pre-game practice.

"Why should we?" Day asked Chadwick. "I'm not running these playoffs. The National League is. The game is scheduled for 8:30, and as far as I am concerned that's what time it starts."

But it didn't. The Canadiens leisurely moved through their warm-up. It was 8:35 before Chadwick moved to the centre ice and signalled for the start of the game."

"Whats the trouble?" shouted Defenceman Babe Pratt of the Leafs as Chadwick engaged in conversation with Day. "Couldn't the Canadiens get away from their war plant jobs any earlier?"

3rd Decisive Win

BOSTON — (AP) — Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, boxing's former triple champion, gained his third decisive triumph in the short space of 10 nights by outpunching rugged Ralph Zanelli of Providence yesterday for an unanimous 10-round decision before a 12,941 crowd at the Boston Garden. Armstrong weighed 142½ and Zanelli 148.

Sellout Crowd To See Game

TORONTO, March 25 (CP)—The Stanley Cup playoff scene today shifted to Toronto, Montreal Canadiens arriving here this morning for a renewal of their best-of-seven semi-final play-off series with Toronto Maple Leafs The series now is tied, 1-1, after two games in Montreal

There is every indication of a sell-out crowd for tonight's game in Maple Leaf Gardens, where seating capacity is just under 13,000, and interest is just about as keen in the fourth game which will be played here next Tuesday night.

Fresh from their 5-1 conquest of Leafs in Montreal Thursday night, after the 3-1 Toronto victory in the opener Tuesday, Canadiens were listed as favorites in early betting.

Coach Clarence (Hap) Day of Leafs, quietly confident of the outcome of both game and series, has not yet decided which one of his 14-man squad will sit out the game. Fiery Jack McLean, a thorn in the side of Canadiens all season, will be available for tonight's clash although he was unable to go to Montreal because of University examinations. He may replace Ross Johnstone, rookie forward who saw action in the Montreal games.

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens probably will follow his policy of Thursday night of icing four defencemen and using eight forwards, instead of the usual three defencemen and three full forward lines.

Valentine Bomb Plasters German U-Boat

AN R.C.A.F. STATION IN NEWFOUNDLAND, March 25 (CP)—A depth charge bearing a romantic St. Valentine's Day message and dropped into the oily swirl left by a German submarine attacked in four separate runs by an R.C.A.F. Liberator bomber brought the day to a happy close for the airmen.

The Liberator's pilot, FO. A. P. V. (Pat) Cheater, of Regina, who has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, only once attempted evasive action as he bored in low and fast for each run in the teeth of fierce anti-aircraft fire.

The last and largest depth charge dropped by the Liberator was decorated with a painted red heart, and bore the messag "with love from Dot." "Dot" is LAW. Dorothy Pitcher of Grand Falls, Nfld., clerk-stenographer on the operations room on this station and Cheater's fiancee.

His crew included FO. M. S. (Mac) Wallace, co-pilot, of Simcoe, Ont.

FO. W. A. Shields said in an R.C.A.F. release Friday that one swoop over the U-boat was so close that the crew could have tossed a hand grenade down the conning tower—but the heavy bomber wasn't so much as scratched by enemy fire.

Hard To See

Cheater was the first to sight the U-boat. It was impossible in the dusk to say whether the feathery plume and ship-like shape meant friend or foe, but the submarine loosed a barrage of ack-ack as the Liberator drew even.

The Liberator belched a stream of tracers into the submarine as it roared in for the first attack.

The first stick of depth charges dropped short, Cheater wheeled into a tight, fast turn and came back over the target. This time he realized his bombing run was a wing-length off track.

FO. Paul Lafond, navigator from Hull, Que., cooly made it a "dummy run" by hanging on to his remaining depth charges.

On the third run Cheater headed low for the conning tower, and Lafond laid two more "eggs" beside the hull of the U-boat at the tower. The plume from the twin explosions enveloped the central portion of the sub, and heaved it higher. Then the U-boat sank and in 10 seconds was submerged, leaving an oil slick on the surface about four times its length.

But Cheater and his crew were taking no chances. Once more they circled and came over to drop their last depth charge—the "Valentine" with the painted heart.

MINISTRY LOOSES CHASE

BRADFORD-ON-AVON, England — (CP) — Bruce Bishop paid no attention to an Agriculture Ministry order issued Feb. 15, 1943, to make repairs on his Wiltshire farm and the ministry did them itself and sued Bishop for $710 cost. The case was dismissed because proceedings had not been taken within a year.

Canadians Are Best Street Fighters Officer Claims

TORONTO, March 25 — (CP) — Back from seven months with the Canadian forces in Africa, Sicily and Italy, Lt.-Col. C. S. Wallace of Toronto and Edmonton said Friday that a British official spokesman at Allied force headquarters described Canadians "the best street fighters in the world.'

"Fighting qualities of our troops were well demonstrated from the landing in Sicily until the bitter fighting at Ortona. The 1st Canadian Division found in action that its training for more than three years in England had been along the right line and saved many casualites."

In charge of Public Relations for the Canadian Army during his Mediterranean duty, Col. Wallace said the "highly skilled Corps" of Canadian War Correspondents are doing magnificent work. "There is no measuring of the value to the troops and to the people back home of the work of these men. They performed their functions magnificently and I believe that is well known to the troops. Canada owes them a great debt. Their work is ably seconded by the Public Relations officers in the field whose work in Italy now and in other future theatres is of utmost importance to the war effort."

Transferred Overseas.

Former member of the editorial staff of the Toronto Star, and former managing editor of the Edmonton Journal and the Toronto Globe and Mail, Col. Wallace entered the army December 2, 1939. He went overseas in August, 1940, as a machine-gun lieutenant, and in 1942 was transferred to public relations work and given charge of Army public relations. He was promoted Lieutenant-Colonel a year ago.

Col. Wallace experienced London's new "pocket blitzes" of which he said: "They don't last as long or cover as much territory as the heavy blitzes of 1940 and 1941, but there's something very precise and deadly about them." His reference to precision may have derived from a late-February experience when three heavy bombs bracketed the London Club where he was staying and blew out his bedroom wall.

Wives Heroines.

Home on leave, Lt.-Col. Wallace spoke a word on behalf of wives of Canadian servicemen overseas for four years: "Someone should erect a monument in this war to the wives who have been home alone and have had to bring their families through critical-age periods. They deserve recognition for keeping their households going so well."

Lt.-Col. Wallace is at home with his wife, son and two daughters in Toronto.

40 War Workers Make 11 Quilts

MARMORA, March 25—(ENS)—Marmora War Workers have illustrated this week that "actions speak louder than words."

It was known on Tuesday that they were holding a quilting in the Town Hall, but to most people that was just one day out of several devoted by the ladies to such a task. It has now become known that eleven quilts were quilted that day and at one time no less than forty women were working.

Those who were not quilting were binding quilts, while others prepared the pot luck dinner and supper that made the real diversion of the day. A number finished out the day by taking in the bingo in the same building at night.

To Meet In Canada

OTTAWA, March 25 — (CP) — Possibility that the next meeting of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration may be held somewhere in Canada was seen here last night. The first meeting took place at Atlantic City last November.

Parents' Note

SAINT JOHN, N.B., March 25 — (CP). — The party was just starting to perk up when a cry of "Cheese it, the cops," ended festivities, and three boys of early 'teen age beat a hasty retreat from a theatre last night. Under their seats, police found eight pints of beer, a quart of wine and several empty beer bottles.

Anglican Church Guild Plans To Have Quilting

APSLEY, March 25 (ENS)—The Guild of the Anglican church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. B. R. McIlmoyle, with a good attendance, when a quilting was planned to be held at Mrs. J. Downing's.

The blocks for the quilt had been embroidered by the Junior W.A. and these, with the lining, had been donated to the Guild. The ladies will sell tickets on this, and the lucky ticket will be drawn at some future gathering. Ladies who attended the quilting were: Mrs. A. Downing, Mrs. Herb. Tucker, Mrs. W. Everett, Mrs. I. H. Lean, Mrs. J. McColl, Mrs. R. Hales and Mrs. (Rev.) Freeston.

Personals

A progressive euchre party was held at Elmvale Farm, home of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Lean, on Wednesday evening. Six tables of cards were played, winners being: ladies' 1st, Mrs. Flora Wilson; ladies' consolation, K. Brown; men's 1st, Dan Whitmore; men's consolation, Gerald Tucker. After cards lunch was served. Proceeds were $6, in aid of War Service Club.

The War Service Club has received letters this week, acknowledging receipt of Christmas parcels sent last October to local boys now in Italy.

Another quilting was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Downing, when two heavy quilts were tied. Ladies attending were: Mrs. Herbert Tucker, Mrs. W. Everett, Mrs. W. Lean and Mrs. J. Downing.

W.A. To Forward Pledge Money

MILLBROOK, March 25 (ENS)—The W.A. of St. Thomas' church held its March meeting at the home of the president, this week. Mrs. Westmacott taking the special prayers for world peace, Mrs. A. E. Chevis the W.A. Litany, and Mrs. W. E. Massey-Cooke reading the lesson.

Reports were encouraging, including the treasurer's that half the year's pledge money will be remitted in April, and that of the Dorcas secretary, Mrs. H. J. Russell, telling of three quilts finished this month. The articles for the annual bale were bought and prepared, with some clothing donated, and it is to be shipped the middle of April. At the next meeting the contents of the bale will be on display.

The leader announced the annual W.A. Diocesan meeting in Toronto the first week in May, and a delegate will be appointed at the April gathering. For the study period, Miss Rose Macnamara completed the story of missions in Brazil, with the many opportunities for work in that land, which will follow the war, and summing up the season's study in a general manner.

From "The Living Message," two letters were read covering "Vanning in Saskatchewan," telling of the work of the girls who drive the vans, relieving the men needed for the army and war work, and outlining their activities as they visit outlying settlements. More girls will be needed this summer, and an appeal will be made for their services.

Mrs. Russell was the supper hostess, the members putting their silver contribution in the W.A. mite-box, and for the April meeting Mrs. Massey-Cooke volunteered to serve the lunch.

Belgian Group Planning For Post-War

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 25 (CP)—A Belgian commission which has been at work two years is doing the spade work for the post-war reconstruction of little Belgium.

The commission, appointed by the wartime Belgian government in London, has studied all phases of the countrys economic life. Under its auspices a "little Beveridge report" on social reform has been prepared.

Its work has been limited to the availability of information from the country, occupied May 28, 1940. Where possible legal machinery is already being prepared to smooth the way for quick application of reconstruction measures that are proposed.

Belgium will have to be re-built practically from the ground up. Primarily an industrial nation, her mines, factories and railways have gone ragged during the years of Nazi occupation.

Many Problems

The restoration of Belgium will present problems of health, repatriation, education as well as those of re-making government, re-organizing industry, transportation, particularly railways which normally gave Belgium one of the world's most modern communication systems.

A nation whose imports in the last year of peace amounted to about $50,000,000 and whose exports were only slightly less, Belgium will have to rely greatly on international co-operation to get back on her feet.

Her government in London was the first among the Allies in Britain to start post-war preparations. The reconstruction commission allotted to sub-sections the individual questions of international policy, state reform, economic problems, social problems, reconstruction and town planning and educational reform.

Decrees have been prepared which will give the government legal authority to carry out temporary measures decided upon.

During the emergency period after the cease of hostilities, a program of building to relieve unemployment is planned. Industrially, Belgium will have lost as many years as the duration and more.

Baptist Church Honors Minister

LAKEFIELD, March 25 (ENS)—Rev. W. B. Walker and Mrs. Walker, who leave shortly for a new charge at Springford, were guests of honor at a farewell party held in the Baptist church this week.

Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Peterborough was chairman for the occasion. A short program was given with a piano and organ duet by Mrs. M. Hopkins and Elsie Hopkins; solo by Mrs. Alex. Rosborough; solo by Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe.

Mr. Wellie MacDonald read an address to Mr. and Mrs. Walker, expressing regret at their loss in the church and the community and wishing them success and happiness in their new home, and Mr. Ben Nicholls presented them each with a cheque, and also a book case and table lamp.

Mrs. Alex. Rosborough, on behalf the Mission Circle, read an address to Mrs. Walker and Mrs. M. A. Harvey presented her with a mauve candlewick bedspread. Lunch was served.

The Rev. W. B. Walker and Mrs. Walker will be greatly missed in the village. They have resided here thirteen years.

Marmora News

Ray Gazley is a patient in Belleville General Hospital, having recently undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Marmora Women's Institute quilted two quilts in the White Hall on Wednesday, which will be used for their war work.

Rev. A. S. Trueblood, B.Th., of Clifford, will conduct the services in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday.

Mrs. H. R. Haacke is spending two weeks in Toronto with her daughter, Mrs. W. Kerr.

Mrs. A. J. McAuley (nee Grace Prentice) has received information that her husband, who is with an R.C.A.F. bomber squadron overseas, has been promoted to the rank of Flight-Lieutenant.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Percy Butler and daughter, Joan, of Toronto, are visiting Mrs. U. Pinner and other relatives here.

Recent guests included Mrs. R. J. Brophy, Verdun, Que.; Mrs. A. O. Callahan, Kingston, and Staff-Sgt. Ted Lacey, Winnipeg, Man., with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julian Bedore.

Flight-Lieut. Robert Rennie of Trenton with his brother, Mr. Hertel Rennie and Mrs. Rennie.

TAXI, TAXI?—PARIS, FRANCE, 1944—The tooting taxi horns in the Paris of yesteryear are gone with gasoline and benzine practically non-existent. Here is the Paris "taxi" of today, a tandem bicycle attached to a two-wheeled cart in which the passenger sits. A man and his wife generally provide the motive power and are usually dressed alike, their clothes matching the color of the bicycle.

United States Offers Much Aid To War Veterans

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, March 25—(CP)—American veterans of the present war are assured of substantial aid to rehabilitate themselves in civilian life even at the minimum of measures now being favorably considered by Congress.

Other provisions for the veterans' welfare included a year or more of schooling or vocational training at the expense of the Government; loans up to $1,000, interest free the first year, for part payment on homes, farms or businesses; employment counsel and services; and unemployment compensation ranging from $15 to $25 a week up to 52 weeks in the first two years of return to civilian life.

American ex-service men are looking to their own future independently, too. They are saving about $1,500,000,000 a year— more than 10 per cent of current service payrolls, through insurance, war bonds, cash deposits and money sent home.

These provisions are contained in the so-called "G.I. Bill of Rights" which seems sure of easy passage through Congress. Other provisions are for the expenditure of $500,000,000 for veterans' hospitals and $300,000,000 for enlarging existing civilian hospitals.

Congressional pests: Apologetic and deferential, stressing his realization of the hardships suffered by those on the fighting fronts, Representative George Bender (Rep.-Ohio) stood in the House the other day and plaintively asked if something could be done toward "ridding these office buildings of the cockroaches which infest them."

Home front losses: More than twice as many Americans died in accidents in 1943 than were killed in the war to date, and about 60 times as many were hurt in accidents than have been wounded in the war. Accidental fatalities in 1943 reached 94,500, while 9,700,000 were hurt. Cost of accidents was estimated at $5,000,000,000.

Motorist Given 10-Year Term

BRANTFORD, March 24—(CP).—Found guilty of manslaughter, Robert Evans, 28, formerly of Toronto, was sentenced Thursday to 10 years in penitentiary. He was convicted by a Supreme Court jury in the death last October of LAW. Edith Mary Brownlee of the R.C.A.F. on the highway near here.

Evans' companion in the car, which did not stop after the accident, George M. Winn, 21, Brantford, was acquitted of manslaughter but convicted of dangerous driving and given two years in penitentiary.

Medical evidence showed LAW. Brownlee died as a result of being dragged a quarter-mile along the highway. Another airwoman was seriously injured. Both men admitted drinking beer before the fatality.

C. Ball Catches Hand In Revolving Saw

MILLBROOK, March 25—(ENS) — Clarence Ball met with a painful accident when assisting with a wood-cutting bee at the farm occupied by Ray Brown, Fallis Line, his right hand, in some manner, coming in contact with the rapidly-revolving saw and the first two fingers being badly cut.

Dr. M. E. Hobbs gave the necessary medical attention; one finger was cut to the bone, and Mrs. Ball faces the possibility of a stiffened joint, making it impossible to bend the finger. The rejury to the hand is a painful one and usually rather slow healing.

TORONTO, March 25 (CP). —Police announced Thursday that jaywalking citizens of Toronto who beat the red light at intersections will be presented with "caution cards." The new procedure, police hope, will aid in reducing traffic accidents.

Fliers Use Dye As River Marker

HALIFAX, March 25 — (CP) — Three men on an ice flow for seven days were spotted by two Halifax-based R.C.A.F. planes in the Gulf of St. Lawrence just a few minutes before they were to end their patrol for the day, crewmen of one of the planes said Thursday night.

FO. Thomas J. Harrison of Vancouver, pilot of one of the planes, described the successful end of the long search. The men now are being taken to a Canadian port aboard the Government ice-breaker Sorel after the ship picked them up, a few hours after the plane marked their position.

FO. Harrison said the R.C.A.F. dropped emergency rations to the men, who were forced down March 14 while flying a civilian plane. Then the Air Force rescuers marked the spot by dropping dye markers.

"We weren't taking any chances on losing them again," said Harrison, "and by the time we got through, the whole place was splattered with dye.

The R.C.A.F. plane then gave the Sorel her course.

Daley To Confer On Labor Code

TORONTO, March 25 — (CP) — Labor Minister Daley said Friday he hopes to introduce into the Ontario Legislature Monday the new provincial legislation under which the Dominion's war industry labor code will be applied to all industries in the province.

The Minister, accompanied by Attorney-General Blackwell, will confer at Ottawa Saturday with Federal Labor officials on final details of the code including set-up of the Ontario representative board which will administer the code in the province.

If these details can be worked out at Ottawa Saturday the new provincial enabling legislation would be ready for introduction in the House Monday, he said.

Mr. Daley said a panel of names had been submitted for representation on the provincial board, but no final selection had yet been made. Set-up of the board and number of members it would have would be one of the details to be worked out with Federal Labor officials.

County Council Votes $5,519 To 2 Hospitals

County council this morning approved hospital grants totalling $5,519.34 for year 1944, to be raised by a half-mill rate on the equalized assessment. Of this sum, $4,519.34 will go to Nicholls Hospital and the remaining $1,000 to St. Joseph's Hospital.

The motion for levying of the half-mill rate originated with Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan while discussions were underway in committee meeting on Thursday. Seconded by Reeve Scriver of Lakefield, it was carried. The first motion covering allotment of the monies divided the figure $4,619.00 to Nicholls Hospital and $919.34 to St. Joseph's. It was later amended and adopted.

Entire discussion of the matter of hospital grants was undertaken in a sitting of the standing committee on finance, which adopted a report read to the Council as a whole this morning. A by-law confirming the report and authorizing the treasurer to make all payments therein approved was given its first reading and so the matter rested when the Council adjourned shorty afterwards.

Nutrition Chief Looks To Food To Prevent Wars

TORONTO, March 25 — (CP) — Dr. L. B. Pett, Director of Nutrition Services for the Pensions Department, said here today that food and agriculture "developed on current plans nationally and internationally may help to lead the world toward more co-operation and less war."

In an address prepared for delivery to the annual meeting of the Canadian National Livestock Records, Dr. Pett said he is confident that Canadian agriculture can play a "real part" in such development if it is given leadership with the "true vision guiding the United Nations meetings on food last year."

The conference report said each government must study the economic problem from the standpoint of the health and welfare of its own citizens to the conference, welfare meant "positive promotion of health and work, rather than just negative ideas of insurance against illness and unemployment."

Adequate nutrition for every Canadian, Dr. Pett said, would absorb the country's entire output of dairy products. Expansion is needed in this field, since Canada—a food exporting country, has not yet satisfied her domestic market.

"Internationally there will be a brisk demand for a short time for European relief, but it will subside. In the future we must help in promoting international co-operation on food and agriculture in the interests of helping other people with our food, and we must be prepared to accept something from them in return.

"Unless there are both calculated on the improvement achieved in human welfare rather than on a mere balance of trade dollars, we will have failed again to produce a peaceful and prosperous world."

The death occurred in Edmonton of William J. Kerr, a former resident of South Monaghan, who spent his early boyhood years at the home of his grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Kerr of Bensfort. He has resided in the west for several years. The deceasd had been ill for some time with a heart condition, and his death was not unexpected.

His wife, Ida McIlmoyle of Bobcaygeon, preceded him four year ago. He leaves to mourn his passing a son, Pte. Mac. Kerr, and a daughter, Eleanor, both of Edmonton, also a sister (Sara) Mrs. J. R. K. Graham of Edmonton and Margaret of Boston, also a brother, John of Creelman, Sask. Another brother, Harry Kerr, died in Peterborough in 1939.

The late Mr. Kerr attended the Norwood United Church in Edmonton. Being of a kindly generous disposition, he made many friends who will regret his passing.

MRS. MARY JEAN McCALL
A resident of Peterborough for 75 years, Mrs. Mary Jean McCall died Friday at her home, 520 Gilmour street. Born in Goderich, she was the daughter of the late Thomas Derry and Elizabeth Weir, and has been a member of Trinity Church.

Surviving are two sisters—Maud and Florence Derry at home. Her husband, Edward McCall, predeceased her.

The funeral will be held on Monday at 3:30 from A. Comstock and Sons, 305 Water street. The service will be conducted by Rev. William McDonald and interment will be in Little Lake cemetery.

RAYMOND SPENCER
A former Examiner carrier boy, Raymond Spencer, 15, died in the hospital Friday after battling for three weeks with a serious throat infection. Son of Mr. and Mrs. years. The deceased had been ill for he was a popular youngster with his companions.

The boy was born and raised in Peterborough and had discontinued school last fall. Prior to that, he had been a student at Immaculate Conception School, and attended Immaculate Conception Church.

Surviving besides his parents are one sister, Zita, at home; five brothers, Leading Coder Thomas, R.C.N. V.R. at Halifax; Sgmn. John at Halifax; Ordinary Seaman Joseph at Kingston; Alphonse and Paul, both at home.

Interment will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, and funeral announcements will be made later.

3 LOBA Lodges Hears PGM Grier

A joint meeting of the three local lodges of the L.O.B.A. was held recently in the Orange Hall, Brock street, to honor the P.G. Mistress Anna Grier. Other Grand Officers, present for the ocasion were: P. G. Secretary G. Campbell, P.G. Treasurer F. Pilling, G.P. Senior Lecturer E. Benton, P.G. Deputy Lecturer Lunn, P.G. Auditors R. Sexsmith, E. Delong. M. W. R. Ritchie, As. Dep. Master of the Grand Black Chapter of B.A., A. Holden, Dep. Master, Grand Black Chapter of Ontario East. Visitors were also present from Smiths Falls, Hastings, Havelock, Lakefield, Millbrook, Marmora, Merricksville and Lindsay.

Grand Mistress Grier gave an inspiring address. She requested more co-operation among the different lodges. She suggested cheery and interesting meetings which will be an encouragement to the members, to carry on the busdens whech some are called upon to bear.

"Let us carry on calmly and efficiently, following the example of His Majesty the King and Queen, ready at all times to meet the emergencies we may encounter. Let us be alert to the responsibilities, which is ours as citizens, in the furthering of peace, good citizenship, individually and as members of the L.O.B.A. Let us make our motto, "For God and King," ever bearing in mind the high ideals and standard of our great organization. Study carefully the ritual, constitution and laws of the order. Be patient in your dealings, one with another and less critical."

"What a wonderful world it would be, if we could all realize that we should not accept the many good things of life so carelessly, that we should do something to pull weight into the boat of life, that "service" is the only way in which we can give a practical demonstration of the fact that we appreciate these gifts from heaven. Live up to the obligation of the order. Endeavor to cultivate the true spirit of helpfulness and charity, towards others is the aim and purpose of our order."

She said the L.O.B.A. is an auxiliary to one of the greatest Christion organizations. Every member should be active. The problems are many and serious. It is by Christianity alone that these problems can be solved.

On behalf of Vimy Ridge 244, Eastern Star 526, and Star of Bethlehem 690, L.O.B.A. lodges of this city, the speaker was presented with a gift, as a memento of her visit on this occasion.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served from an effectively decorated table, with lace cloth, centred with a vase of spring flowers, tall orange tapers in silver holders. Tea was poured by Sisters E. Millard, R. Maynard, R. Pritchard, all W.M. of the local lodges.

Rise Of Axis Powers Foretold In 604 B.C.

"Events in world history were foretold more than two thousand years beforehand to a heathen monarch," stated Miss Mabel Harbour addressing a meeting held in the Paragon Hall, under the auspices of the Peterborough branch of the British Israel World Federation. With lantern slides illustrating all the important points the speaker demonstrated tha the history of four great world empires exactly fulfilled the prophecy in Daniel II as revealed by dream to Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon in 604 B.C.

The Bible foretold the break up of those empires into various states and the rise of the dictator powers, at which time "the stone kingdom" would crush them, and all the evils associated with those kingdoms would be swept away, and a world-wide kingdom be set up "in which dwelleth righteousness."

Miss Harbour is to continue the subject on Sunday afternoon when she will deal with the Fourth Beast and the Stone Kingdom.

Milk For Britain

As a result of the recent concert put on in the Salvation Army Temple by the choirs of Murray Street Baptist Church, Park Street Baptist Church, the Salvation Army Band and Songsters the Kinsmen's Milk for Britain Fund has received $84.08. In his letter to J. A. MacDonald treasurer of the Fund R. G. Routly bandmaster says that the proceeds of the concert which was so well attended by citizens of Peterborough has been divided between the Milk for Britain Fund and the British War Victims' Fund. A donation of one dollar from Henry Carter of Indian River is also reported.

Musical Festival Nets $84 For War Victims

Nothing in this world is perhaps more capable of giving expression to almost every human emotion than music, the full extent of which would probably never be realized, unless some unfortunate circumstance should happen to entirely eliminate its use in some form or other.

As a medium of expression of joy within the human soul, its use to express their praise for the many blessings that a Great Creator bestows upon His children is unexcelled, and without the services of the thousands who voluntarily give their services both in preparing this work of art for that purpose, all religious bodies would be poor indeed, and feel their absence very much. Yet oftentimes the work these people do is taken very much for granted, and then forgotten in the whirl of other everyday events.

In spite of its non-militant character, music has played an important part in many a struggle for freedom, a recital of such instances being all too numerous to recall herewith, but coming close to home, one can point to many instances where local musicians have given of their time and talents to raise money to help the cause of the Empire in its present struggle, some of this has been shown in the assistance given by them for the objects that the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund seeks to assist.

Choirs and Band Unite

Repeating a similar effort of a year or so ago, the Choirs of Mark Street United church, directed by Harry Northrop, and Murray Street Baptist church led by Stanley Northrop, united with the Temple Band, directed by R. G. Routly, and the Songsters of the Salvation Army led by Ben Smith, to present a Festival of Music in the Salvation Army Temple on Monday, March 13, for the purpose of raising money, the total net proceeds of which was to be divided equally between two worthy causes, both operating to carry comfort to those in distress.

Under the chairmanship of D. G. H. Melton, this event proved even more successful than the most optimistic had anticipated, for many had to be turned away, and those who were fortunate enough to be there, had high praise for the work that this combined choral and instrumentalist group presented for the occasion.

What appealed most forcibly to the writer, was the fact that the singers and band members, who had given so freely of their time and talents to make this event possible, all chipped in the same amount of admission via a collection among themselves to materially swell the proceeds to the extend of $31.55, and enabled a grand total of $168.17 net proceeds to be realized, which of course far exceeds the total possible from the sale of 600 tickets at 25 cents each, the limit of capacity which the hall would accommodate.

This displays an earnestness on the part of the performers and those participating, which is worthy of high commendation, and added to the fact that good financial judgment kept the expenses at a minimum, due in part to the free use offered by the Salvation Army of their Temple facilities for this purpose, all worked together for the good of the cause, in a manner fully worthy of emulation.

The net proceeds as stated above were divided between this city and district fund to assist the sufferers from air raids over Britain, giving to it the sum of $84.09 as listed in their name today, while another very worthy cause received the other half to assist in the particular objects it seeks to serve.

TORONTO, March 25 (CP) — Six-year-old Marlen Brown was killed yesterday when struck by a truck as she darted from behind a parked automobile, bringing to 15 the number of persons killed in traffic accidents in Toronto this year.

City Appoints Plant Foreman

Henry Armstrong has been appointed by the council as successor to Garfield Townsend in charge of the Board of Works plant on Townsend street. His salary is $1,400 a year. In his appointment it was said that he has been a Genelco employee for several years, and was for some time engaged as a bank accountant.

Mr. Torrance has been transferred to the position of manager of the garbage collection system, with responsibility of directing the work. His supervision also extends to the men of incinerator.

The property committee of the council is just about ready for the switch over next Saturday of the garbage collection system from the private contract system to that of direct public and municipal operation.

Householders will be informed by postcard of the days of collection. The city has been divided into three sections, from each of which there will be collection twice a week. Horses and equipment will be in place Friday for the first trips Saturday morning.

Sanitary Inspector MacPherson and Mr. Torrance have combined planning and information in the detail work which they have completed for the street cleaning department.

Alderman Swanston said this morning that he is hoping the public operation of the department in all its phases will be as successful as the ratepayers expect.

Supper Club Members Entertain Fathers

An exceptionally fine attendance marked the second to last meeting of the Friday Nighters whose numbers were augmented by many of the Fathers. Don Forde led the singsong with Stan Gilmour at the piano and an interesting innovation in this department was an alternating demonstration of vocal prowess between the Fathers and their Sons. An old favorite on the entertainment portion of the program, Bob Maybee, gave his piano version of "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and was enthusiastically called back for a pyrotechnical encore of "Canadian Capers."

Stan Shields, Production Manager of the Canadian General Electric, was introduced as the speaker of the evening by Frank Alcock. Mr. Shields, originally slated to talk on 'Electronics' took advantage of Fathers' Night to speak on "Fatherly Pride." Using the field of "Recreation" as a background an "Anticipation" as a moral point, the speaker drew an interesting parallel between physical co-ordination and the combination of 'thinking and doing.'

Obviously an ardent disciple of Isaac Walton, he made use of fishing anecdotes to drive home his points.

The speaker concluded with the thought that it was this alert reaction on the part of sons which was the greatest source of pride to their fathers. Harry Vass thanked the speaker for his inspiring talk.

The members were reminded by vice-chairman Tom Cooke, who presided over the meeting, that the final meeting for the year next week, would be ladies' night, with Mr. Bradshaw as speaker on the subject of "Murder Trials." The year's final concourse will include dinner to be followed by a dance, and all who could make it were urged to be present.

Still Explodes

ACTONVALE, Que., March 25 — (CP)—One person was killed and six others, including four children, were injured when a home-made still exploded yesterday in this town about 46 miles east of Montreal, police said. The explosion took place in Leo Loiselle's home. Mrs. Victor Blanchard died in hospital at nearby St. Hyacinthe, Que., shortly after the accident.

County Council Investigates Reforestration

Peterboro County Council, which spent a good many hours of its session Friday discussing in committee and later in open meeting problems of conservation and reforestation, selected a large committee of its members, headed by Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan, to deal with the problem and bring in a report to be presented to the Commission of Inquiry when it sits in Peterborough some time during April.

F. C. Paterson, local representative of the Department of Agriculture, was heard by the Council on this matter both in the preliminary private sitting and in the afternoon sitting held in open council. He stated that the question was one of very serious consideration, and preferred to refrain from making specific suggestions in an individual capacity.

The need, however, for far-reaching action was made clear by Mr. Paterson in his talk to the Council. He emphasized the essential service performed by forest lands for farmers in the distribution and regulation of nature's water supplies, and the crime of living bountifully off of natural resources in the present, making no provision for the welfare of future generations. He urged preparation of a brief for the Commission of Inquiry embracing conservation and reforestation together, saying this would be a step not yet undertaken by any municipal body.

Elect John McColl

Election of a county man to fill the vacancy on the Suburban Area Roads Commission created by the death of Morley Smithson was carried out Friday afternoon. Applicants receiving nominations were Percy Davidson, J. J. Leahy, John McColl and Alec. Huston Mr. McColl winning a majority of the votes, was elected to fill the position for the balance of 1944. The motion of Reeve Gilbert McIlmoyle that Carmen English be appointed county constable of Smith Township was seconded and carried.

In the matter of the Moldaver junk-yard on the River Road in Douro township, it was first suggested that the Council go on record as expressing its desire to see the promises made by the proprietor before the Council Thursdday fulfilled. These were to adequately fence off and clean up the property so that it would not appear a liability to the residential district in which it is situated.

However, further discussion developed the opinion that the Council was exceeding its authority in undertaking to handle the matter at all; that it was, rather a matter pertaining to the township alone; and on motion of Reeve Peter Mather, the matter was refered to the Township, the City of Peterborough to be notified to that effect.

Roof Has Priority

The report on county property, by Reeve Gifford, evaluated the desireability of redecorating the court room, but essential repairs which had recently been found necessary to the court house roof were given priority to this at the present time. This and the repainting of certain exterior portions of the court house, along with painting of the caretaker's house and necessary repairs to the ice-house, were on at the session.

Estimates of the county's 1944 budget, incomplete pending decisin on certain further grants and school matters, were read by the clerk. These showed estimated receipts of $80,810.26, estimated expenditures of $218,272.46, leaving $134,855.37 to be raised after deduction of year-end surplus of $2,606.81. This to raise will require a mill rate of 10.403.

Council is to meet Saturday morning to deal with the remaining items on its agenda.

not bear to discipline the little darlings and make them behave. They work their fingers to the bones so their children may be idle. They wear patched shoes so that Sally may have forty pairs of fancy slippers and Johnny enough money to run with his gang. And the result is that they rear a lot of young hoodlums who bring them nothing but sorrow and shame.

You never hear of a girl going astray or a boy being a drunkard or a thief that a poor, weeping woman doesn't sob out a story about what a good mother she has been, and how she always sacrificed everything for her children.

Mother Must Fit Children for Life

A good mother is one who is good FOR her children as well as good TO them. She tries to prepare them for life by teaching them the things that will fit them to deal with a world that isn't going to be soft-padded with mother love. From the time they can understand anything at all she breeds into them courage and the ability to take bumps and come up smiling. She teaches them self-control a sense of responsibility, and how to get along with people.

She teaches them how to work, how to make money and how to save it and spend it judiciously. She teaches them how to give and take, and she drills into them good manners and good morals. And because she loved her children, not only well but wisely, they grow up into men and women who are worthwhile.

To be a good mother a woman has to have strength of character and courage and a stiff backbone as well as a mother heart, for she needs them all in her job.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

The foods you serve need never be tasteless or uninteresting. Instead your family can enjoy good meals with plenty of variety and with no time or money wasted either. Variety is so very important. Remember, when planning meals, that your family needs meat, milk, eggs, fruit, vegetables, fats and cereals. Of those mentioned, the milk and milk products the meat and vegetables, are often referred to as "foundation foods" since they form the important base in good meal planning. These foods also have highest quality proteins, minerals, vitamins and fats in generous measure. How important it is to feel satisfied after eating. The obvious test of a good meal is does it leave you feeling well fed? But a satisfied appetite is not the only test to prove you have eaten properly. The other important test of a good meal is, has it provided all the necessary food elements that it should? When you look at the matter this way, you realize how very important meal planning is. Meat should form a part of each days meal plan for these reasons: 1. Meat is a rich source of complete proteins. 2. Meat is a valuable source of the B vitamins. 3. Meat contains a good supply of iron and phosphorus. 4. Meat supplies fat. 5. Meat satisfies the appetite and makes us feel well fed. Of meat, poultry or fish, you should have at least one serving daily. We should have 3 or 4 eggs, cooked any way you choose or in made-up dishes. Fruits, one serving of fresh dried or canned; one serving of orange, grapefruit or tomato juice; vegetables, one serving of potatoes, one serving of yellow or green vegetable and one other vegetable served raw. From one-half to one pint of milk per day for all adults, more for children. Cheese is a milk product, and very desirable every day sometimes in a main dish. Fats, two or more servings of butter, sometimes peanut butter. Four to six slices of bread whole grain cereal. Other foods you may eat as you like, and be sure to form a regular water drinking habit.

Below I am going to give you a day's menu, and by this you can easily make up others for yourself:

Breakfast: Orange juice, whole grain cereal, top milk, bacon, toast, marmalade, coffee.

Lunch: Cream of celery soup, salt wafers, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, cole slaw, tea.

Dinner; Swiss steak, baked potato, carrots, bread and butter, raisin and apple salad, baked honey custard, coffee.

Another days menu, very different from the first one;

Breakfast: Apple sauce, pan broiled liver, toast, jelly, coffee or milk.

Lunch: Minced ham omelet with creamed peas, whole wheat bread, butter, sliced oranges, cookies milk.

Dinner: Braised pork chops with prunes green beans, potatoes in jackets, bran muffins, orange marmalade, butter, cabbage slaw, peach cobbler, tea.

135-Pound Soldier Makes Churchill Grin

LONDON, March 25—(CP)—During his visit to United States troops somewhere in England today, Prime Minister Churchill paused to speak to Laddie Valek of Cleveland, O.

As Valek stepped forward with a full pack, Mr. Churchill asked: "How much do you weigh?"

Valek, who weighs about 135 pounds, stuck out his chest.

"Three hundred pounds, sir," he replied.

The Prime Minister lifted a skeptical eyebrow, smiled and walked on.

NELSON, B.C., March 25.—(CP). —A civic official here said last night Nelson authorities have refused to sanction a meeting of Doukhobors scheduled here next Monday because they feel "the Doukhobors might try to throw the onus of recent incidents in the district on to the shoulders of Alfred Cleeton, C.P.R. agent at nearby Brilliant, who is charged with arson in connection with a fire in the Brilliant school house last Friday.

LONDON — (CP) — The late Mrs. William Heelis — Beatrix Potter, authoress who created "Peter Rabbit" and other nursery animal characters, bequeathed nearly 4,000 acres in Britain's Lake District to the National Trust increasing government holdings in the area to more than 18,400 acres.

Sports Day By Day

Week-end doings in the Stanley Cup race which bring the Canadiens into Toronto tonight and the Red Wings into Chicago on Sunday should see the Flying Frenchmen and Jack Adams' Detroiters take the lead in their respective semi-final series. Canadiens have been beaten once by the Leafs but that win was about all the Day men rated to take from a team that had made a runaway of the race all season. The Canadiens should take tonight's game in Toronto and go into the van. Toronto ice has not been particularly difficult for the fast-moving, smooth-working Montrealers and they are likely to come back with an encore on their Tuesday night's performance. Detroit has had no luck in Chicago this winter but in spite of that fact we call them to come through with a victory tomorrow night. Incidentally the Chicago fans will probably set a new record for attendance.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

OFTEN NOT A GUESS

SQUEEZE PLAYS do not depend entirely on hoping that the necessity of guarding two or more suits will fall to one opponent. There are times when you don't have to hope at all, for the very simple reason that you know who has the important cards and therefore can tell in advance that your squeeze will work.

North: ♠ A 7 6 ♥ A Q 6 4 ♦ 8 7 6 ♣ K J 4

West: ♠ Q J 9 8 4 3 2 ♥ 2 ♦ 10 4 ♣ 8 6 5

East: ♠ None ♥ J 9 8 5 3 ♦ Q J 5 3 2 ♣ 7 3 2

South: ♠ K 10 5 ♥ K 10 7 ♦ A K 9 ♣ A Q 10 9

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	5 NT	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	7 NT

You couldn't ask a better example of the futility of using the Blackwood slam convention improperly. Some players employ it as if all the aces and kings assure 13 tricks, whereas eight is their maximum unless backed up by something else. Here North and South had all aces, all kings, two queens and a jack, but only 11 laydown tricks. South had to execute a squeeze to go down only one instead of two.

The spade Q was won by the K, East discarding. Two hearts brought a discard from West, showing that East had five originally. Four consecutive club tricks followed. East now was shown to have had no spades, five hearts and three clubs, consequently five diamonds. So South marked East for a sure trick in each red suit, unless he could be squeezed. He therefore provided for it at once, by leading the spade 10 and letting West have the trick with the J.

Seeing what South, an astute squeezer, was up to, and realizing that a spade return would squeeze East at once, West dodged the issue by returning the diamond 10 to the A. South then led the heart 10 to the A and laid down the spade A from dummy. With the heart 6 also in dummy, East decided he had to retain his heart J, so discarded the diamond J from his Q-J. But that made no difference to South, who then led the diamond 8 from the dummy to his A, dropping the Q, and the diamond 9 got the last trick.

Graydon Urges National Scholarships

OTTAWA, March 25 — (CP) — The Commons, working at high speed, last night passed through all stages a bill amending the Technical Education Act to make available any unexpected appropriation under the act in the five years following March 31. The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration.

Labor Minister Mitchell, speaking on a resolution preliminary to introduction of the bill, said that the bill must have Royal assent by March 31, or the original act will lapse. The resolution was passed after a short debate, the bill introduced and quickly given first, second and third reading.

Mr. Mitchell said that, under the original act passed in 1919, the Dominion appropriated $10 million for each Province and the remainder distributed on the basis of population.

All Provinces except Manitoba had taken up their allotment, and now only $147,430 was left, for Manitoba.

The amendment made possible the expenditure of this sum in conjunction with Manitoba when desired.

Provincial Control

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said that education was under Provincial control, but a responsibility in respect to it rested with the Dominion.

The Dominion Government must see to it that the question of geography and ability to pay was not so important in the future in providing a child with education.

The Government should consider national scholarships. They would go a considerable distance in helping brilliant boys and girls obtain the education they deserved.

Mr. Graydon said that when the war was over the Government must be ready to provide those leaving the services with some preference in educational opportunities.

Adult education through the radio and motion picture media deserved attention with more responsibility taken by the Government in developing such education.

Farm Activity

A proper education along agricultural lines had not been developed in rural areas. Men and women should be trained for agricultural activity.

Farming operations required the assistance of research to put them on equal level with other industries.

Mr. Graydon said the Provinces could be aided financially in education and it did not follow a "bludgeon should be held over their heads." Federal help would assist the desired equality in education.

Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East) said the Government should introduce "a comprehensive scheme" of Federal assistance to education.

The Provinces would welcome further assistance, and he agreed with Mr. Graydon the Dominion should not go beyond "reasonable objectives" in making the grants.

Federal Government training projects for war now aided technical schools, and it was equally essential that young people should be trained for peace.

More than scholarships was needed to assist education. The children of the poor must be able to remain in school at least until they reached a point where it could be seen whether they should have further education.

J. P. Pouliot (L., Temiscouata) said those who worked as technical men today were considered to be making a lesser contribution to the war effort than those in the services. This was not sound. Men with skill and long experience in trades were of more value at their own trades than in the army.

G. H. Castleden (CCF., Yorkton) said he supported the bill and regretted it did not provide for a new appropriation of $100 million for technical education.

"Why be a piker? Make it $200 million," said Tom Reid (L., New Westminster).

Rodney Adamson (P.C., York West) said soldiers in depots should have technical training. If not there would be chaos.

Mr. Mitchell said he agreed that the Provinces should continue to control education. The Dominion had received full co-operation in the war training program. The Federal Government, in conjunction with the Provinces, had spent more than $18 million on technical training and trained some 300,000 persons.

Mr. Mitchell said it would be a poor thing for the C.C.F. if education was the privilege of the rich, as C.C.F. speakers had claimed. Educational facilities now were available to Canadians generally, but to hear some members speak it would appear there was no educational system at all.

Kiwanians Honor Commander Of Corvette Peterborough

Lieutenant Jack Raine, R.C.N.R., recently appointed commander of H.M.C.S. "Peterborough," was made an honorary member of the Kiwanis Club at its luncheon yesterday.

The recommendation of the directors was announced by John Troke, and the honorary appointment was informally conferred by Dick Raine, president, elder brother of the young officer who will return to sea at the head of the officers and crew of the corvette which has been named for Peterborough as a unit of the Canadian Navy.

It was a uniquely happy circumstance in local service clubdom that placed Dick Raine in the enviable position of receiving into Kiwanis fellowship his younger sailor brother, who has already held command of two ships since the outbreak of war.

The naval note of the Friday meeting was heightened by the presence of Sub-Lieutenant T. A. Lillico, who was guest of his father, Ivan Lillico. Other guests were Mayor Hamilton and George A. Macdonald, chairman of the local Corvette Committee of the Citizens' Co-Ordinating Committee of which Gordon Miller is chairman.

Congratulates Commander

"It is a great honor on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough to congratulate Lieutenant Raine on being appointed Commander of His Majesty's Canadian Ship "Peterborough," Mayor Hamilton said. "We all feel no worthier man could have been appointed to command this ship which is going to mean so much to the people of Peterborough. We assure him that our thoughts will be with him and his men and his ship. We shall follow him and them throughout the career of our corvette. We know that if they get into a position of danger they will give a good account of themselves.

The citizens' committee want all our people to feel that this ship is Peterborough, that in a large measure it is an expression of our Peterborough spirit and community activity. We hope that the citizens will take a lively interest in it and not leave all the furnishing of it to the committee."

Mayor Hamilton said Peterborough was proud of the selection of one of its young men for the responsibility that had been assigned to Lieutenant Raine. "Our thoughts will be with them wherever they may be, and I hope that the Commander will not hesitate to ask us for anything which he feels would be advisable for the "Peterborough."

Outlines Committee Work

Mr. Macdonald extended his congratulations to Lieut. Raine and outlined the work being done by the corvette committee. "We have had splendid co-operation from everybody, especially from Mayor Hamilton and the council and from Gordon Miller and his committee.

"Mayor Hamilton has not left much for me to say," Mr. Macdonald remarked. "We sincerely wish that the Commander will tell us what will be the right thing to do. I assure him he will have our co-operation."

John Troke informed Lieut. Raine that he was in good company as an honorary member of Kiwanis Club. His only companion in that connection was Mayor Hamilton.

"Kiwanis Club will always think of you wherever you may be, on the seas or ashore," Mr. Troke said. "May God spare you in all kinds of difficulties and even of battle, and we shall pray that you will be spared to come back to be an active member. Good luck."

To Sea at 17

Ted Pridham, introducing Lieut. Raine as luncheon speaker, said he had joined the Merchant Marine at 17, and has sailed the seven seas for seven years. He was the youngest of the Raine boys, with another brother overseas.

"He was five years ashore after he came to Peterborough and helped make the Friendly Stores friendlier. Early in 1940 he joined the Canadian Navy and has been in command of the "Wasaga" a fleet sweeper, and the "Fundy" a mine sweeper. In the meantime he had married a Peterborough girl.

Lieut. Raine thanked the Club for the honor they had paid him, and gratefully acknowledged the good wishes and the practical interest displayed by all those associated with Mayor Hamilton and Mr. Macdonald.

"On the way up from the Gulf, I stopped at Kingston and had a look at our own ship. I may say it looks very nice. It is a great privilege to command one of His Majesty's ships, in fact to serve in any capacity in the Navy. All the congratulations I have been receiving these last few days make me feel very humble, and to realize more clearly the responsibility of commanding H.M.C.S. Peterborough."

He congratulated the Kiwanis Club on their project H.M.C.S. "Howe" for the training of naval cadets.

Rough Edges Worn off

"This is a very helpful experience for the cadets coming into the service and for us. It wears off the rough edges and makes it that much easier for us. From 70 to 80 per cent of our boys are from inland communities, from homes in Ontario and Manitoba and the prairie provinces. Most of them never saw the sea, never saw a ship, and some of them were never away from home before. The experience is pretty tough for them, and how well they come through it is surprising."

Lieutenant Raine told the Kiwanians the origin and significance of customs and traditions and phrases in the naval service.

"Whistling on a ship was an old superstition of sailors of canvas days from one incident of sounding like the squeaking of a block in the raising and lowering of sails. Grog was optional with the ratings; "show a leg" came down from Nelson's time; the galley funnel was another term, and the classic signal of the Navy "Seek out and Destroy the Enemy."

Lieut. Raine told the story of Fogarty Fegan and the "Jervis Bay," the first Victorian Cross awarded in the naval service early in the war. "I talked to a midshipman who survived that engagement. The "Jervis Bay" was an armed merchant cruiser, but without armour plate. It was in charge of a convoy when a German pocket battleship appeared. Fegan hadn't a chance. According to naval orders when you sight the enemy you turn toward him and engage him. That is what the "Jervis Bay", did. The midshipman told me his last sight of Captain Fegan. He was standing on the bridge. One arm was blown off, one leg had been blown off, but he was still standing toward the enemy."

Nelson's famous signal to the fleet was "engage the enemy more closely."

"You drink the toast 'The King' in the Navy sitting because one time King William went aboard a ship. Its ceiling was low and when the company stood to drink the toast they bumped their heads. The King noticed it and Navy may drink the King's health sitting."

Gordon K. Fraser Would Assist Factory Workers

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.

OTTAWA, March 25 — (CP). — Weep no more, citizens. When you struggle with your income tax forms know that you have a companion in high places who shares your misery.

G. K. Fraser (P.C.-Peterborough West) said in the Commons the other night that there should be some arrangements to assist workers in war plants in making out their income tax forms as they were "very much troubled."

Munitions Minister Howe, whose department has charge of war plants, knows how they feel.

"So far as income tax goes, I have to have the help of the Minister of National Revenue (Lt.-Col. Colin Gibson) to make out mine, so that I am afraid I would not be of much help to the man in Peterborough in making out his income tax return," he said.

"Perhaps you help the Minister of National Revenue make out his," quipped T. C. Douglas (C.C.F.-Weyburn).

"But does not the Minister think it is a good idea," persisted Mr. Fraser.

Mr. Howe: "I think it would be a great idea—wonderful."

Unusual Present.

With all good wishes: A wedding present that neither she nor her husband will ever see....Nor will anyone else....was termed "the best present I ever expect to get" by a newly married W.R.C.N.S. lieutenant in Naval Intelligence. The present is a sunk German submarine.

The lieutenant's wedding day was February 7, and on that day a friend, a pilot officer in the R.C.A.F. overseas, sank a Nazi sub. He cabled that that was his wedding present to his Navy friend.

To make the romantic picture complete, it was the Wren lieutenant who had played Cupid by introducing the pilot officer to the girl who was now his wife.

Generals: Somebody dug into the files and found that Canada had fewer Generals in the last war than in this one. In the First Great War Canada had four active divisions overseas in two corps. The communique also reported a 160-ton bombing of the Hansa Bay area, on the northeast New Guinea coast midway between Madang and Wewak. March reports have listed 773 tons dropped on that sector.

20 Bills Pass Legislature; More To Come

TORONTO, March 25 — (CP) — Monday is expected to see the windup of the Budget debate in the Ontario Legislature where legislation has been slipping through so rapidly that prorogation is already in sight.

More than 20 bills have been passed through the House and given Royal assent and many others await only the approval of Lieutenant Governor Albert Matthews. It is expected the House may wind up its business about April 6.

Friday was a good indication of the speed of the present session. Two measures were introduced and given first reading; five were given second reading and six given third reading. Included were a number of private bills.

One of the bills given second reading was to put authority for licensing for on-the-premises consumption of alcoholic beverages in Ontario in the hands of a three-man board. Such licensing is at present handled by the Ontario Liquor Control Board.

Attorney-General Blackwell told the House the board would be given powers to so control such licensing as to provide the "standards of decency" which must be established if the public were to longer enjoy liberties in the consumption of alcoholic drinks.

Another measure given second reading would provide for seizure of every slot machine in Ontario. The Attorney-General said such machines were being placed in small stores by "racketeers" who could not be prosecuted under the present Criminal Code.

Among the bills given third reading were three government bills providing certain financial protection for members of the Armed Forces on active service. Their debts and mortgages would be protected and provision was made for payment of the Province of due premiums on life insurance policies up to $10,000.

Municipalities would be authorized to fix nomination day 14 days prior to an election under provisions of a bill introduced by Dana Porter (PC—Toronto St. George) The measure was given first reading.

Help the Young People To Health - Happiness

What a common sight to see a young person whose bloodless face and feeble frame are evidences of poor circulation and weakness where bounding health and rosy cheeks should reign.

Young people in such a condition are generally of an anæmic nature and require a preparation containing iron to improve the blood content.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills meet this requirement, as they contain three concentrated forms of iron of an easily assimilated nature together with other valuable ingredients indicated for building up the system and helping to improve the blood content.

Price 50c a box, 65 pills, at all drug counters.

New Hydro Rural Rates Reduce Your Bills

Note the saving you will obtain under the new rate of 4c, 1 6/10c, and ¾c in the following examples showing comparative quarterly bills for several commonly used quantities of energy:

Where Old Rate Was 4c, 2c, ¾c

STANDARD FARM SERVICE: 3 Months' Kilowatt Hours	Your Bill at Old Rate	Your Bill at New Rate	HAMLET 2-WIRE SERVICE: 3 Months' Kilowatt Hours	Your Bill at Old Rate	Your Bill at New Rate
150	$8.60	$6.56	100	$6.93	$5.52
300	11.52	8.86	200	8.87	7.54
600	17.35	13.53	300	10.82	9.10

These examples illustrate the savings you will secure in your Hydro bill in Rural districts where the old rate was as shown above. The amounts shown are for quarterly net bills, including Dominion Government War Tax. The reduction in your bill in a district having a higher old rate (such as 6c, 2c, ¾c or 5c, 2c, ¾c) will be proportionately greater than the examples shown above.

Please note that the service charge for farms is discontinued, but the minimum bill for such consumer is $6.56 per quarter, for which amount up to 168 kw.-hrs. can be used. In a district having a former rate of 4c and 2c, this same amount would have cost the consumer $8.29.

Hamlet consumers have the service charge cut in half, but the minimum bill is $4.87 per quarter, for which they can use an amount of 83 kw.-hrs. In a district having a former rate of 4c and 2c, this amount would have cost the consumer $6.46.

These explanations are given to help you understand the new rate. In our next advertisement, we will discuss for your benefit, the UNIFORM RATE. In the meantime, if you need further information, please ask your Rural District Superintendent.

Nazis Retreat Over 900 Miles

By EDDY GILMORE—Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 27—(AP).—The German armies, which now have been hurled across the Prut River—which Marshal Stalin called "our state frontier"—once were 935 miles inside the Soviet Union from the starting point of their 1941 attack. It was on June 22, 1941, that Hitler launched the invasion, declaring he had "decided to give the fate of the German people, and the Reich, and of Europe again into the hands of our soldiers." That was an ironically prophetic statement.

For today, after nearly three years of the world's bloodiest fighting, the Russians have swept over shattered Nazi armies into the Estonian Soviet republic, into the pre-war Poland (Lwow Province), and now stand on the Prut—another part of the long jump-off line for the Nazi division.

From the Bug River in Poland, the Nazis drove roughly 935 miles to the Volga River at Stalingrad, 650 miles to Mikailov in Ryazan Province, southeast to Moscow, and 500 miles to Lake Ladoga, east of Leningrad.

From the Prut River in Rumania, they smashed 850 miles to a sector east of Elitsa, capital of Kalmuck, not far from Astrakhan, and 850 miles to the suburbs of Ordzhonikidze.

Came Close To Moscow.

The invaders at one time held about 1-13th of the Soviet Union.

The Germans got so close to Moscow its people could hear the boom of the big guns and see the flashes of exploding shells. They drove to within four miles of the centre of Leningrad. They held sectors of the city of Stalingrad.

Hitler directed the campaign against Moscow, and it now is known from prisoners that he himself got as far as Smolensk and Roslavl. Reichsmarshal Goering, one of the invaders of the Ukraine, got to Kiev and villages farther east.

It was in Russia that Hitler, and

Soldier Faces Six Charges Over Party With Prisoners

BUCKINGHAM, Que., March 27—(CP).—Cpl. William Lee of Montreal, member of the Veterans' Guard of Canada, pleaded not guilty today before an open court martial to six charges arising from incidents alleged to have occurred here and at nearby Thurso in connection with the conduct of German prisoners of war in his charge.

The court then was adjourned until this afternoon.

Trial of Pte. Nelson Skinner of Granby, Que., another member of the Veterans' Guard, who faces similar charges, was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

The court martial was convened following reports that German war prisoners were permitted to stroll about the town unguarded, enter hotels, drink beer, and pick up town girls.

Cpl. Lee was charged with neglecting to obey standing orders in that on March 15 at Thurso, as the non-commissioned officer in charge of an escort of German prisoners of war, he permitted the prisoners to fraternize with civilians when such fraternizing was not necessary to the performance of his work.

16 Witnesses.

He was further charged with conduct not conducive to good order and discipline; drunkenness while he was the N.C.O. in charge of a prison-of-war escort; failure to return prisoners of war to their labor camp at the hour specified; neglect to obey standing orders by failing to ensure that the prisoners were given reasonable supervision, and prejudicing good order and military discipline by permitting prisoners to drink intoxicating beverages in a public place in the company of civilians.

Lieut. H. E. Feigelson of Military District 4 (Montreal), defending officer for Pte. Skinner, requested that John Hicks, representative here of the Canadian Legion, Mayor Phillippe Matte of Buckingham, and the superintendent of St. Michael's Hospital be called as witnesses on his behalf. This was agreed to.

A list of 16 witnesses has been prepared for the trial of Cpl. Lee.

Lonergan Trial In Second Week

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 27 —(AP)— Two detectives who brought Wayne Lonergan back to New York from Toronto after his wealthy wife was slain here last October drank brandy with him on a train during part of the trip, one of the officers testified today.

The detective, William Prendergast, was one of several police officials placed on the stand by Defence Attorney Edward Broderick, in an effort to prove a defence contention that Lonergan was under duress when he allegedly made a statement that he killed the 23-year-old heiress.

Prendergast said Lonergan had three half-pint bottles of brandy in his bag, one of which was only about three-fourths full. The party consumed one bottle, while travelling between Toronto and Fort Erie, the detective said.

The partly-filled bottle subsequently was turned over to the police, Prendergast said, along with personal effects in the bag, including a yellow rubber girdle. The other bottle was turned over to the district attorney's office.

Prendergast insisted that at no time on the trip was Lonergan threatened as to what might happen if he failed to make a statement upon reaching New York. He said the only time the prisoner was handcuffed was while he slept in a hotel at Buffalo, N.Y., during a stopover.

As the trial entered its second week, Broderick placed two Toronto detectives on the stand in a renewed fight to block admission of the reported confession.

Broderick, who contends the confession was obtained under duress, sorght to show through the testi-

Guard Against Vengeful Peace

LONDON, March 27.—(CP). — Germany must be rendered incapable of future aggression and must be made to atone for the suffering she has inflicted, but the Allies should guard against a vengeful peace which may be "repudiated as unjust by later generations," three of Britain's church leaders declared in a joint statement yesterday.

Issued by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Prof. John Baillie, moderator of the General Assembly of the Church of England, and Prof. R. D. Whitehorn, retiring moderator of the Free Church Federal Council. The statement proposed an eight-point program for the post-war rehabilitation of Europe.

Primary responsibility for carrying out the program, the statement said, should rest with the United States, Russia and Great Britain, "who alone at the moment of victory have the necessary resources and power."

Assam Route Menaced By Japanese

Allied Jungle Units Advance Along Two Roads

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

NEW DELHI, March 27—(AP)— Japanese pressing forward in their invasion of India have made some progress in the general direction of Kohima, 30 miles inside the border and some 60 miles north of Imphal, a southeast Asia communique reported today.

Across the Naga Hills from Kohima lies the Bengal-Assam railway, vital artery for Allied forces in the north.

But Japanese pressure in the Ukhrul area, 32 miles north of Imphal "is being contained," the communique said, adding that severe fighting had taken place. This was an indication that one of the three Japanese invasion spearheads had been stopped as Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's commanders marshalled strength to meet the general offensive aimed at cutting the Allies' Assam supply lines.

The communique said Japanese tanks had been encountered on the Tiddim-Imphal road, another invasion route, and several of them destroyed. In this area, too, there was heavy fighting and Allied forces, "inflicting very heavy casualties," took a hill feature and route the Japanese from their position on the road.

Chinese Gain

In the Mogaung valley, Chinese forces continued to advance against stiffly-resisting Japanese forces cut off when Shaduzup was captured in an "end run" around Japanese lines. This drive is one of two Allied thrusts against Myitkyina, main Japanese base in north Burma and

Germans Shoot 320 Italians As Reprisal Act

ON THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, March 27 — (CP) — The Germans have shot 320 Italian hostages in Rome and arrested thousands more in reprisal for the slaying of 32 Nazi troopers during the celebration of the 25th anniversary of Fascism March 23, a Swiss Telegraphic Agency dispatch from the Italian capital said today.

A son of Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio was among those slain, a Chiasso dispatch to the Swiss newspaper La Suisse declared. Other border reports said Theon De Revel, a former Italian Finance Minister, and Marshal Pietro Caviglia, and several senators were among those seized by the Nazis and Fascists.

The Nazi reportedly were slain as they marched down Via Rasella. A German communique, it was said, blamed "communists" for the attack and announced the Nazis were determined to end such actions by shooting 10 hostages for every German killed.

The Nazi-controlled Rome radio said 100 partisans were killed in a battle with blackshirts in the Piedmont Valley, where the patriots were attempting to carry the fight into Turin.

Other reports said a Florence Military court had condemned

2,000 Tons Bombs Cascade Down On Krupp Plants

LONDON, March 27 (CP)—Strong forces of United States heavy bombers blasted at Nazi airdromes in southwest and central France today, following up a night assault by R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. bombers on Essen, home of the Krupp works, with 2,000 tons of explosives.

"A very strong escort' of fighters accompanied the bombers into France. The terms indicated more than 500 big bombers and perhaps 700 or more fighters engaged in the strike at the Nazi air bases.

It was the 21st American attack of month, three over the record set in February.

Along with the crushing assault on the rebuilt factories at Essen, smaller forces of British bombers hammered the rubber centre of Hanover 125 miles to the northeast, and railway targets at Courtrai in Belgium last night Probably more than 750 R.A.F and R.C.A.F. night bombers were out.

The R.A.F. operated "in very great strength" during the night.

Clouds made full observation of the results of the attack on Essen impossible, the air ministry said, but it was apparent the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. had dealt another tremendous blow at the city in an effort to wipe out the results of desperate reconstruction work which the Germans have been carrying on in this vital industrial centre.

Nine bombers were lost in the night's operations, including one Canadian aircraft.

The term "very great strength" indicated 750 more bombers roared over the Reich and occupied territory in the non-stop aerial obliteration of Nazi targets.

Three In a Row

It was the third night in a row that the R.C.A.F. had sent out large numbers of bombers. On Friday night Canadian planes helped to deliver a record bomb-load on shattered Berlin at a cost of 12 planes and on Saturday night they flew with the R.A.F. to hammer at Aulnoye, railway junction near the French-Belgian border, no planes were lost on this operation.

Perhaps 2,000 long tons of high explosives and incendiaries were showered down on the battered Rhur city of Essen site of the sprawling Krupp armaments works.

At the same time smaller forces of R.A.F. raiders hammered the German rubber centre of Hanover, 125 miles to the northeast, and pounded railway targets at Courtrai in LONDON—Capture of Kamenets Podolsk, encircled German stronghold near the Dniester River northeast of Czernowitz, was announced by Premier-Marshal Stalin today in an order of the day.

NEW YORK—Russian submarines attacked a Rumanian Black Sea convoy evacuating troops from the Crimea Thursday night, and practically an entire Rumanian division was lost, the BBC declared today.

Reds Poised To Hit Rumania Hold Prut River Bank For Distance Of 53 Miles

Russian Legions Gain 60 Miles In Seven-Day Drive From Dniester River Further North

LONDON, March 27—(AP).—The Red Army was poised today for its first thrust onto enemy soil after smashing triumphantly to the Prut River border of Rumania from which Hitler launched the southern wing of his ill-starred invasion of Russia nearly three years ago. Russian big guns already are laying down a barrage on Rumanian territory, Moscow dispatches said today, and Soviet infantrymen were expected to surge soon across the narrow Prut which they reached on a 53-mile front yesterday, only a week after they spanned the broader Dniester, now 60 miles behind them.

As 24 volleys from 324 guns thundered in Moscow last night in celebration of the drive to the enemy's border, the army newspaper Red Star asserted: "For the Red Army there are no boundaries; her boundaries are victory, Berlin, and a strait jacket for the mad German Valkyrie."

Premier Marshal Stalin, who announced the conquest of part of "our state frontier," also reported the capture of the Bessarabian rail city of Byeltsi, a victory which closed another German avenue of retreat from lower Russia. Other Soviet forces were declared within 20 miles of Iasi (Jassy), through which runs the major Nazi escape railway from the big Black Sea port of Odessa.

The surge to the Prut was regarded in London as already dooming a German stand at Odessa and besieged Nikolaev. Turkish reports that Hitler was rushing masses of armed reinforcements through Hungary and Rumania suggested he probably would make a stand in Rumania in an attempt at least to save the Ploesti oil fields. The Russians were reported within 200 miles of the vital oil regions and 200 miles from Bucharest, Rumanian capital.

The Russians also hammered out new gains near the middle Dniester River yesterday, a Soviet communique announcing that Kamenets Podolsk, in the southeastern corner of the Ukraine, had been encircled and that the Red Army already was storming through its streets. The communications centre is vital as an escape gape for defeated German troops streaming southward from fallen Proskurov.

German broadcasts asserted the Russians had thrown 100,000 men in a new drive along the Mogilev sector of White Russia, but the report had no Soviet confirmation.

Entire Canadian Bomber Force Strikes

BY ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 27 — (CP — Cable)—Air Commodore C. R. Slemon, Senior Staff Officer of the Canadian bomber group, saw the Canadians action last night when he went on the raid to Courtrai, Belgium.

He flew with Wing Cmdr. Bill Newsom, Victoria, B.C., of the Iriquois Squadron on this action—blasting rail targets, which was subsidiary to the main night smash at Essen.

In the raid on Germany the crew of a Bison Squadron Halifax, making their first trip over the Reich downed two night fighters.

"We had just left the target area when we saw the fighter airdrome lighted up," said the pilot, Sgt. Steve Puskaf, Hamilton. "The next thing we knew the rear-gunner was telling me to evade as two night fighters were coming in."

Fell In Flames

The crew managed to avoid these attacks but a third followed and the gunners, Sgt. Webb Wilson of Shell Lake, Sask., in the mid-upper turret, and Sgt. L. Williams, another gunner started firing. Sgt. Wilfred Faulkner of Cranbrooke, B.C., in the rear turret, saw tracers striking the attacker which

V.C. Winner Is Returning Home

By SYDNEY GRUSON

LONDON, March 27—(CP Cable). —Maj. Paul Triquet today received from the King at Buckingham Palace the Victoria Cross he won for gallantry in the Italian campaign of Ortona.

Triquet, fully recovered from a wound received while on a training exercise in Italy, came to London on his way to his home in Montreal, and on a visit to Canadian military headquarters told how he learned March 8 that he had been awarded the Empire's highest gallantry medal.

He was still staying at a hospital at the time and was returning from church with a nursing sister when they were met by a party of British war correspondents who broke the news to him and extended their congratulations.

On his return to hospital he was handed the crimson ribbon by a staff colonel, accompanied by a note of congratulations from Maj.-Gen. Chris Vokes, divisional commander in Italy. There was no celebration, no ceremony on that occasion. And his mail from home since he received the award has not yet caught up with him.

Looking fit and trim in his battle dress, the tall, quiet major, who insists on sharing the distinction of his V.C. with the men who fought with him at the time, said that after a trip home he wants to get back into the fight.

War To Boost Furniture Needs

TORONTO, March 27 (CP)—The furniture industry, believing itself one of the industries which can readily reconvert to civilian production, is conducting a nation-wide survey to assess the volume of workers it can absorb in the immediate post-war period, it was announced today by the Canadian Committee on Home Furnishings.

The committee recently formed in Toronto, has among its members about 350 manufacturers and retailers of furniture and Allied products such as bedding.

Forecasting the building of several hundred thousand new houses after the war and a heavy demand from householders who have not renewed home furnishings in wartime, spokesmen for the committee said there was a prospective Canadian market for about 100,000,000 of its products annually.

This, he added, would entail a sharp increase in the number of men employed in the factories and retail outlets. The still incomplete survey shows the committee said, that the industry is in better position than most to engage in civilian output and that its products will probably be available to the public earlier than products of industries which require a big retooling job.

Artillery Duel Rages At Cassino

BY LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press War Correspondent

NAPLES, March 27 — (AP) — The Allied assault on Cassino, temporarily stalled short of its objective, had changed today into an artillery duel in which a superior mass of Allied guns was seeking to knock out the troublesome German positions remaining in the town's southwest corner.

An announcement said Allied artillry had begun a systematic campaign to destroy both the Continental Hotel and Hotel Des Roses which the Germans had converted into fortresses.

A large explosion occurred when artillery engaged a cluster of German six-barrelled mortars, possibly indicating an ammunition dump was hit. The only other ground activity at Cassino was by patrols.

Latest dispatches from the Cassino front reported German forces regrouping in the Ducal-Palace Coliseum area half a mile to the south of the town, possibly for a new thrust against Allied positions.

From those strongholds, astride Highway 6 where it bends sharply westward around Monastry Hill, German mortars were said yesterday to be throwing heavy fire on Allied forces in the railroad station 1,000 yards to the east.

Yesterday's communique reported little change in the relative positions of the battling forces within the town, the Germans still holding most of the area to which they clung in the first days of the Allied advance after the heavy aerial bombing of the enemy

Lack Of Fighter Opposition Is Mystery

Believe Hitler Is Conserving Planes To Meet Allied Invasion Thrust

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

One of the most remarkable and significant events of the week-end was the complete absence yesterday of any defence by German warplanes during the widespread assaults on Western Europe by 1,700 British and American planes. Thunderbolts even attacked Nazi airdromes within sight of Paris without bringing a single Hitlerite fighter off the ground.

The answer to this strange development is of the utmost importance to us; and one which shouldn't be jumped at. We should be most unwise, it seems to me, to rush to the conclusion Htiler no longer is capable of flinging a defensive air force into the air. We shall hear plenty from the Luftwaffe before the war is over. The true solution of our mystery probably is this:

1. The Luftwaffe has been vastly reduced in strength by losses in battle and through Allied bombing. There has been such wholesale destruction of Nazi warplane factories that Hitler no longer can replace the destroyed airplanes.

2. The terrific Red onslaught on the eastern front is calling for every warplane the Fuehrer can spare which probably means he is conserving what planes he has in western Europe for use against the coming Allied invasion. He has been depending more and more recently on anti-aircraft guns to ward off Allied attacks. Also he may be reorganizing some air units.

It requires no imagination to understand the Nazi need for defensive air power as they flee before the onrushing Red armies. The arrival of the Russians at the Prut river—frontier of Rumania—after their epic drive of more than 800 miles from Stalingrad, and their continuing thrust into Poland, not only set the triumphal guns of Moscow booming but brought from Prime Minister Churchill the assertion that the Russian feat "constitutes the greatest cause of Hitler's undoing."

False Alarms To Be Used On Invasion

U.S. Air Force Exceeds R.A.F. Strength Churchill States

LONDON, March 27 —(CP)— Restrained approval, lacking in the enthusiasm of the early war years, was expressed by most London newspapers for Prime Minister Churchill's address last night in which he confidently predicted victory and praised the Russian westward advance as "the greatest cause of Hitler's undoing."

Generally speaking, there seemed some disappointment among the average listeners who had been expecting another great call to valor on the eve of the mighty, decisive events foreshadowed by Mr. Churchill's warning that "the hour of greatest effort is approaching."

In his 47-minute broadcast address, his first for a year, the Prime Minister did not touch upon problems of diplomacy confronting the Allied nations, as some quarters had expected he might, but reviewed the war's progress in all theatres, strongly defended his administration, and in general terms outlined post-war economic plans for Britain.

He spoke only guardedly of the forthcoming western invasion of Europe, but in one obvious reference dcelared:

"I must warn you that to deceive and baffle the enemy there will be many false alarms, feints and dress rehearsals.

Attack Together

"When the signal is given the whole circle of avenging nations will hurl themselves on the foe."

He said the U-boat campaign is the greatest danger the Allies have overcome.

Announcing that American air power in Britain now exceeds that of the vastly-expanded R.A.F., he predicted that the two mighty forces together in future months would produce results "which will certainly be of enormous advantage to the cause of the Allies."

In the Pacific, he said, it is possible that progress may be made "more rapidly than was formerly thought possible" because the Jap-

The other Allied spearhead driving toward Myitkyina from Sumprabum made further progress and occupied the Village of Tingpai.

Heavy and medium bombers, fighter-bombers, dive-bombers and fighters operated widely in support of the Allied ground forces. Heavies concentrated on Japanese troop concentrations and other objectives on the Imphal-Tiddim Road.

British commandos, including jungle-seasoned Gurkhas and Kachins, have slashed to within 32 miles of Myitkyina in a strong drive upon that main Japanese railhead base, it was announced yesterday.

The Commando force, in an advance of 20 miles from positions in which it was reported Saturday, his thrust 33 miles south of Sumprabum, and is steadily increasing its threat to the whole Japanese military system in the area just west of the Chinese border. Another Allied force was striking for Myitkina by way of Jhadusup, Kamaing and Mogaung. Still other Allied troops have been flown to positions south of Myitkyina.

The stiffest fighting inside the Indian border was raging in the thick jungles of the Ukhrul area, 32 miles northeast of Imphal, and about 15 miles inside Indian territory. Allied planes also were hammering at the advancing Japanese columns, some of which were using elephant transport.

Slaughter Japs At Bougainville

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 27—(AP)—Japanese troops in the Solomon Islands, isolated by Allied Bismarck sea successes and abandoned by their high command, have spent at least 300 more lives in another unsuccessful attempt to break American defences at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville island.

An assault on American barbed wire and pillboxes in the Torokina sector of the beachhead perimeter Thursday, reported in today's Allied headquarters communique, resulted in a temporary penetration, but the defenders restored their lines within 24 hours.

As in the enemy's previous offensive from March 8 to 18, in which he lost more than 1,100 dead, the American casualties in the Thursday thrust were low; four dead, 47 wounded and one missing, compared with the 300 Japanese dead abandoned within American lines.

In the Admiralty Islands, American troops continued mopping up Japanese who scattered after the fall of Lorengau on Manus Island nine days ago, and on Friday occupied without opposition the islets of Amo and Ndrova off the southeast coast of Manus. American destroyers, aiding the mop-up process, poured broadsides onto Pityilu Island, northwest of Lorengau.

Bombers and fighters hit Wewak, New Guinea, with 207 tons of bombs Saturday.

Heavy bombers have struck a new target in the Kuriles to the north of Japan, hitting 25-mile-long Onekotan Island early Saturday after bombing nearby Paramushir for the sixth time this month, it was announced at Pearl Harbor.

One American plane was lost in the operation, which included also the bombing of Shumushu Island, northernmost of the Kurile chain, by one plane.

Ponape, 440 statute miles east of the Caroline Island fortress of Truk, was attacked by medium bombers. Off Ponape, a flying boat sank two small cargo ships.

stronghold.

The announcement said the Germans had sent two tanks rumbling into the open from the Continental Hotel fortress to lay a smoke screen, but hot Allied artillery fire was said to have driven them again to cover.

No Changes.

Fighting still raged among the hill points around the Monte Cassino mass, but there were no reports of territory changing hands.

At Cassino, at the same time, Allied guns turned on the Continental Hotel, which the Germans have made a gun-bristling thorn-in-the-side for Allied troops, and the Hotel des Roses near the base of Monte Cassino, the Germans trained their artillery on Castle Hill, Allied-held strong point west of the town which has been extremely troublesome to the enemy.

The inactivity of ground troops made it plain the third Allied attack to drive the Germans from Cassino, the key to the road to Rome, had been unsuccessful.

In the mountains north of Cassino snow blocked many roads in the mountains and cold weather on the Adriatic front of the 8th Army brought almost complete cessation of enemy activity.

The centre of infantry activity shifted to the Anzio beachhead where Allied forces drove back two small raiding parties which probed the centre of the line. Losses were inflicted on the enemy. German guns shelled the left flank of the beachhead line.

In the air, British and American heavy, medium and fighter-bombers attacked scattered port, railroad and airfield targets in northern Italy yesterday. Seven enemy planes were shot down and five Allied planes are missing.

FO. Tommy Farr, Toronto, a Lion Squadron bomb-aimer, said it was quiet over the target and he could see Essen fires burning.

Sgt. Eric Neill, Windsor, reported a Junkers 88 attacked his Lancaster but broke away.

"It must have been a well-concentrated attack on Essen because our planes were packed in there like sardines," said Flt. Lt. C. B. Latimer, Vancouver, a Goose squadron pilot. "vapor trails were so thick they formed a cloud of their own."

Hardly a Canadian bomber fit to take the air was left behind in Britain Saturday night as the R.C.A.F. bomber group joined the R.A.F. in attacking railway yards at Ulnoye, France, it was announced yesterday. All the Canadian aircraft returned safely after delivering a blow that left large fires leaping skywards and scattered the steel rails in the important yards like toothpicks in a breeze.

Vouching for the success of the raid, F. O. Stu. Stewart, former Stratford school teacher, said: "Our bombs were right on and it was so clear we could see the sticks going down."

Fireworks Fail To Develop In Legislature

TORONTO, March 27 (CP)—The first session of Ontario's 21st Legislature has gone contrary to all predictions in producing perhaps less "fireworks" than ever before in its history.

The C.C.F. opposition of 34 has only four less members than Premier Drew's 38-man Progressive Conservative Government, with 16 Liberals holding the balance of power in the 90-seat House. But with the session nearing its close only one division has occurred—a record vote called by Premier Drew on adoption of the address in reply to the throne speech on which the opposition offered no amendment.

Many were the pre-session prediction of a "rough sitting" when no party emerged from the provincial election of last August with a clear majority. Division bells, well-oiled in anticipation of many a voting issue, are growing dusty, unused in the legislature's marble-floored hallways.

There have been challenges from E. B. Jolliffe, leader of C.C.F., counter-challenges have come from Premier Drew, and once or twice Liberal Leader Nixon, former premier, has risen to defend actions of the previous administration.

Once the premier called for a House apology from the young opposition leader over charges he made in connection with expropriation of farm property at DeCew Falls for hydro development. Mr. Jolliffe replied that he had given the facts, would withdraw nothing and called on the premier for an apology for his counter-charges.

But like most other "promising" issues in the House this session, the incident died with that day's sitting. Next day when members reassembled, a spirit of harmony reigned and business progressed at a fast pace.

The C.C.F. attitude, as outlined by Mr. Jolliffe in his budget debate speech, was that his party would support all the government's "progressive" legislation "as far as it goes."

Liberal Leader Nixon said his party would support all legislation that was for the good of the province. Another Liberal speaker, R. A. McEwing (Wellington North) told Premier Drew flatly that by introduction of legislation the House could or could not support, he held in his hand the key to an early election.

Legislation that could not be supported might cause defeat of the government on a House vote and a subsequent election the people did not want at this time. That, Mr. McEwing said, would be the premier's responsibility.

A. A. McLeod, one of two Labor-Progressive members, criticized those who would set up "a political laundry to wash out the dirty linen of the past 25 years." He was critical of the "rigidity" of the government's attitude toward opposition proposals.

Former Liberal Premier Mitchell Hepburn, of Elgin, now sitting as the legislature's lone Independent Liberal, has spoken but once. So far he has made no official mention in the House of what he will or will not support.

The session is expected to prorogue before Easter, probably April 6. And the pre-session predictors have done an about-face. They say now it appears the first session of Ontario's 21st Legislature, despite its unique composition, may go down as one of the quietest on record.

Over-Estimate Bombing

LONDON, March 27—(CP-Reuters).—Over optimism, based on an over-estimate of the effects of the mighty bombing and artillery attack, coupled with unfavorable weather, were blamed yesterday by David Brown of Reuters News Agency for what he called the "deterioration of the Allied assault on Cassino." Brown cabled from Allied headquarters in Italy.

VISITOR IN CITY.

Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr, former minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian church and now in St. John's, Newfoundland, was a guest in the city to-day and attended the funeral of Miss L. W. Hamilton.

Obituaries

WILLIAM H. STEWART DOIG

The sudden death at midnight Sunday of William Hilliard Stewart (Stew) Doig occurred at his home in the Grand Central Apartments, George street. A veteran of active service in the World War and a member of the Canadian Legion, he passed away in his 49th year.

Mr. Doig was born in Peterborough, educated in the Peterborough schools, and was employed at the Quaker Oats Co. for the past 25 years. He attended St. Andrew's United Church.

He is survived by his sorrowing wife, the former Ann Chapman, by his mother, who resides on Princess street; and by four sisters, Mrs. Wilfred Tindle (Freida) and Mrs. James Sutherland (Alta) of this city; Mrs. Harry Galvin (Hettie) of Lakefield, and Miss Stella Doig, Halifax, N.S.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. Dr. E. W. Young of St. Andrew's United Church will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street west. Interment will be made at Little Lake cemetery.

JOHN THOMAS CASTLE

Following a short illness, John Thomas Castle, 454 George street south, passed away at his residence early Sunday morning in his 79th year. A life-long resident of Peterborough, he was born in Smith township, son of the late Charles Castle and Elizabeth Pew, and for several years was employed by the city.

Survived by his sorrowing wife, formerly Eunice Finlay, he leaves four sons and two daughters: Pte. Hermie A. Castle with the Hastings, Prince Edward Regiment; Mossie, Jack and Clifford; and Mrs. Charles Morgan and Miss Jean Loretta Castle of Peterborough. Three brothers, Richard in B.C., and Harry and Reuben of Peterborough also remain.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday from the late residence, 454 George street south, at 2 p.m., with service conducted by Major John Wood of the Salvation Army. Interment in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM COLLINS

Following a short illness, Mrs. William Collins, 472 Mark street, passed away at her home on Sunday at the age of 77. A life-long resident of Peterborough, she was the widow of the late William Collins, who predeceased her 31 years ago.

Born Bridget Clancey is Ashburnham, she was the daughter of the late Edward Clancey and Johannah Sullivan. She was educated in Peterborough and was a member of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Mrs. Collins is survived by three son and two daughters: Edward J. and Charles J. of Peterborough; W. Joseph, Detroit; Mrs. J. J. McVay (Catherine) of Halley, N.Y.; and Helen at home. A brother, Simon, lives in Peterborough, and five sisters remain: Rev. Sister M. Dorothy, Renfrew; Rev. Sister Mary of The Incarnation, Windsor; Mrs. Margaret McGraw, Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. J. Mode, Cascandaigua, N.Y.; and Mrs. F. H. Gentle of Toronto.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 9 a.m. from the late residence to Immaculate Conception Church, where mass will be said. Interment is to be made at St. Peter's cemetery.

2,700 Chickens Lost In Fire

BAILIEBORO, March 27 (ENS) — A three-story chicken house, 2,700 ten-week old cockerels ready to be dressed for broilers, and much valuable equipment were destroyed in a fire presumably originating from a stove on the Sunnyslope Farm of H. C. Howson and Son three miles from this village Saturday morning. Starting in the top of the building, the fire quickly worked its way down and the estimate of the total loss approached $5,000.

E. High and Robert Kors, hired men on Sunnyslope Farm, battled to save as much of the contents of the building and as many chickens as they could. Mr. Howson had left for the market and the same was true of most of the neighbours who were called up in an effort to get assistance in fighting the flames. The men were able to rescue 800 of the smaller chickens and an electric picker, eight new brooder stoves, eight new Jamesway drinkers valued at $6 apiece, and the 2,700 cockerels worth $2,160 were lost. The amateur firemen managed also to save nearby buildings standing 50 to 75 feet away from the blazing chicken house.

The Howsons state that they do not intend to try and rebuild at the present time, inasmuch as the necessary materials for construction are not available. The family also operates the Howson Hatchery in Bailieboro.

Lonergan Trial

mony of Detective Sgt. Arthur Harris and Detective Gordon Ferguson that Lonergan was denied food and subjected to long questioning without sleep.

Harris, who arrested the 26-year-old defendant the day after Mrs. Lonergan's bludgeoned body was found in her fashionable apartment last Oct. 24, said Lonergan slept all night in a Toronto police station Oct. 25.

Before being returned to New York city, the detective said, Lonergan was visited by his sister Mrs. June Cummins, and an uncle and aunt, and talked with them for about 20 minutes.

"Did you tell him the reason he was leaving Canada to return to New York city was so he could attend the funeral of his wife?" asked Broderick.

"No, sir," the detective answered.

Prosecution witnesses already have testified that Lonergan returned to the United States voluntarily, even after being told he might be charged with a crime.

Meanwhile, Broderick indicated Lonergan may be called to the witness stand this week.

Broderick said yesterday that under a Court of Appeals ruling in 1916 a person could testify as to the truth or falsity of a statement attributed to him, and that cross-examination could be restricted to that point.

Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet, prosecuting the case, said Broderick's interpretation of the Court of Appeals ruling was "all wet."

He said the Court of Appeals has decided on numerous occasions that a witness could be questioned on any phase of a case and that if Lonergan took the stand, "that's what he will get."

EUROPEAN SITUATION GROWS WORSE FOR NAZIS—Growing tension spreads on all the European war fronts as shown on this map. England blocks off 700 miles of coastline, preparing for the invasion of the continent; Hungary resists German occupation undertaken to block the Russian advance in Rumania, while in Italy the fierce battle between Allied and Nazi troops still rages on two battle-scarred fronts.

Petain Waited Too Long Before Fleeing

By TAYLOR HENRY

NEW YORK, March 27 (AP) — Marshal Petain was considering fleeing France to join the Fighting French in North Africa when Nazi soldiers bottled him up in Vichy in November, 1942. When Allied troops landed in North Africa, an airplane was kept in readiness by Petain's followers at the Vichy airport, prepared to hop to North Africa with the marshal.

For two harrowing days his pro-Allied advisers urged Petain to throw in his lot with the United Nations in North Africa. Before he could make up his mind, Nazi troops had occupied the airport and blocked exits from Vichy.

The course the marshal was urged to take was the same that he had made possible for Gen. Henri Giraud.

The marshal's inability to make up his mind was even more tragic considering the genuine sorrow with which he bowed to Premier Pierre Laval's decision to break relations with the United States.

It now can be told that the marshal's eyes were clouded with tears when he bade good-bye to the American Charge d'Affaires, S. Pinckney Tuck.

Laval Was the Villain

This was the second time I had seen Petain's lack of decision prevent establishment of a French Government in North Africa. In June, 1940, at Bordeaux, as the Germans entered Paris, Petain approved removal of the French Government to Africa. All plans were made, some had even been put into operation when Laval intervened and put sufficient pressure on the marshal to change his mind.

Almost as tragic were the results of the marshal's 1942 lack of decision, leading to all the consequences of total occupation which he had hoped to avoid.

Petain has seen his hope of establishing a military type of authoritarian Government for the resurrection of France degenerate into bureaucratic bickering between collaborationist officials, each out to get what he can.

His plan for a State based on family, agriculture and labor has bogged down partly through top-heavy administrations, partly through efforts of self-seekers to pervert the marshal's ideas to their own uses.

Every Administration in the Vichy Government has been jammed with unnecessary officials, friends of those already in the Government.

Parcel Follows Soldier Around World

CAMPBELLFORD, March 27, (ENS) — In place of their annual anniversary tea generally held in April the I.O.D.E. Bemersyde Chapter is planning this year to mark the occassion by a large bingo party. Though arrangements for this affair are as yet not complete, it was announced following the regular meeting on Friday that it would be held in the Masonic Temple on April 26.

The Regent, Miss Eleanor Ferris was named delegate to the 24th Annual Convention of the Provincial Chapter which will be held in Hamilton. From members of the Armed Forces twenty-five letters were read by members, and each of these expressed warm thanks for Christmas parcels sent by the Chapter. A letter from Rev. L. M. Hinton, Castleton, written on behalf of his son, was of particular interest and prooved the presistance of the army postal service. It told of a parcel mailed from the local chapter in time for overseas delivery at Christmas 1942, finally catching up with his son in December 1943. The package followed him all the way around the world and reached Pte. Hinton in good condition.

Commending the Salvage Conener Mrs. A. D. Bennett on her extensive efforts, the Regent said there was an urgent need for brown wrapping paper and newspapers which will be picked up when the Chapter holds the first of its monthly series of collections here Monday. To eliminate unnecessary handling the paper will be picked up by truck and transported direct to dealers.

Arrangements for billeting a number of airmen who had been invited to spend next week-end in town had been left with Mrs. E. C. Roberts. The cigarette Convener Mrs. J. O. Benor revealed that 300 cigarettes had been sent to each of 22 boys during the past month.

S. L. Julian Sale Missing Twice, Prisoner Of War

TORONTO, March 27 — When Capt. Howard Sale came home from overseas a month ago he gave only passing comment to injuries which had hospitalized him for six months and dwelt almost entirely on stories of his brother, Sqdn. Ldr. Julian Sale, D.S.O. and Bar, then missing over Germany.

"Julian will show up," he said positively. "Everything happens to him and he always comes through. Mark my words, he'll show up this time, too.

Well, Julian Sale has turned up. Saturday his stepmother and foster-father, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Holmstead of 89 Forest Hill Rd., learned officially that he "is a prisoner of war, but unfortunately wounded."

The official telegram did not disclose the extent of his wounds, simply said "advise from International Red Cross quoting German information," revealed him alive.

This won't surprise Capt. Howard Sale, who knew his blond, stocky, blue-eyed brother would make the grade. At that time, Howard said: "I understand that when he turns up this time he'll be getting another bar to his D.S.O. and the D.F.C. He's a great pilot. He's on special work over there and is regarded as the best pilot in that type of work."

Julian flew Halifax bombers which he regarded as superior to Lancasters for the kind of work he did, Howard Sale said.

Julian Sale's exploits have become almost legendary. In May, 1943, his plane was badly battered over Duisberg and he ordered the crew to jump. He remained at the controls and though the plane exploded, he managed to get his parachute open.

Ordinarily, when men escape from Occupied Europe, it is not Bomber Command's policy to send them back on operations in the same theatre. This applies, however, only when men have got out with the aid of the underground. Sale got out of Germany to Gibraltar in October on his own, so went back on ops. He received the D.S.O.

The Bar came four months later when he landed a blazing bomber in England, refusing to jump himself because one of his crew was too badly injured to leap. Sale landed the aircraft, hauled out his crewman and the ship blew up less than a minute after they had got clear.

Sale won his wings at Camp Borden in January, 1942, eight months after he enlisted. He attended Upper Canada College, was a past president of the Toronto Ski Club. He competed in several meets at Peterborough.

Zion Church W.A. Holds Pie Social

CAMPBELLFORD, March 27.— (ENS).—Presentation of the three-act comedy drama "Tempest and Sunshine" formed an interesting feature of the annual pie social sponsored by the ladies of Zion Women's Association on Friday evening. A large number from all parts of the township gave an enthusiastic greeting to the play presented by a cast of twelve from Hoards. W. A. president, Mrs. A. Petherick, said gross proceeds of the evening amounted to $167.00 which will be used by the Association in their work at Zion. Mrs. John Thompson introduced the characters in the play which will be given its fourth showing at the English Line church on April 12. The cast included Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Jack Rannie, Mr. Jack Rannie, Mrs. John Rannie, Miss Elsie Rannie, Miss Jean Hume, Mrs. Albert Jones, Miss Marian Oddie, Miss Joyce Spencer, Kenneth Oddie, Stuart Milne, Harold Milne.

Prior to the play an interlude of piano music was given by Mrs. J. R. Bick and between the acts Misses Marilyn Thompson and Jean Rannie rendered a vocal duet and a trio comprising Mrs. Jas. Thompson, Miss Elsie Rannie and Mr. Jack Rannie offered a negro spiritual.

Some facts of interest to the WOMEN OF CANADA!

During the year just ended, Zeller's sold $10,271,400 worth of merchandise to their customers in the 27 stores located in 26 cities across Canada. We feel sure, therefore, that you will be interested in knowing what Zeller's did with this money which they received from their customers. We would particularly draw your attention to the facts concerning employees. They will give you an insight into Zeller's employee-relation policy. In submitting this statement, Zeller's wish to thank you for your patronage and for the consideration you have shown, and continue to show, during these difficult days of war-time restrictions and lack of merchandise.

$7,139,317 FOR MERCHANDISE

Out of the $10,271,400 which we received from our customers, $7,139,317 (or 69.5%) was used to buy merchandise to sell in our stores. It is worthy of mention that 90% of the goods which are sold by Zeller's are made in Canada, which means that most of this money goes back into the pockets of Canadian workers.

$1,314,739 STAFF WAGES

Last year, wages to our hundreds of employees amounted to $1,314,739. This was exclusive of bonuses, details of which are given below. We pay tribute to the members of our staff, all of whom have cheerfully accepted the extra burdens that wartime regulations entail, and the added work resulting from the loss of the experience and training of so many of their former associates now on active service with the armed forces.

$535,000 GOVERNMENT TAXES

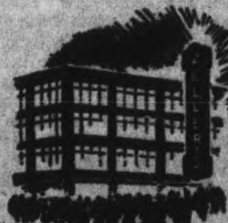
For the year just ended, Zeller's paid out the above amount in taxes to the Government, exclusive of the $85,000 which will be refunded after the war. This money is naturally used to help win the war. It is interesting to note that, while Zeller's business has increased slightly more than 4 times during the past ten years, taxes have increased 265 times during the same period.

$77,000 EMPLOYEES' BONUSES

Under the Company's established policy, all employees, apart from executives and others holding written wage agreements, participate in a Christmas Bonus and a Profit-Sharing plan. Under this plan, over $77,000 was paid out last year. Some employees received as much as $174 in combined bonuses. Former male employees now on active service received a bonus of $95. The $77,000 that was paid out in bonuses was equal to 45% of the money paid in dividends to the Company's shareholders for the same period.

$716,000 RENT, LIGHT, ETC.

The above figure represents almost 7% of the money we received from our customers last year. It was used to pay for the occupational costs of operating our 27 stores, including rents, light, heat, water, property taxes, depreciation and insurence. This expense is an important item in maintaining the smart, comfortable, well-lighted stores that make shopping at Zeller's a pleasure.



$21,000 EMPLOYEES' VACATIONS

All employees with six months' service or more, are entitled to Summer vacations with pay; and all employees with two years service or more are entitled, in addition, to Winter vacations with pay. In both categories, the length of the vacation is determined by the length of service, with a maximum vacation period of two weeks in each season. Last year, Zeller's paid out $21,000 to its employees for their vacation periods.

The above facts and figures were taken from Zeller's audited financial statement for the year under review. That statement also reveals that dividends paid to shareholders amounted to $170,000, and that the profit left in the business amounted to $161,528.75, representing the small percentages of 1.65% and 1.57% respectively. The balance was made up of miscellaneous expenses. All of which indicates that most of the money which the public spends in our stores eventually finds its way back, in some form or other, into the public's pocket. This is but one of the many benefits of the free, competitive system of business upon which the future progress of our country depends.

The War Victims' Fund

Today the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund passed the $75,000 mark in its contribution to aid distress in the Mother Country. Never, since the Fund was first opened to contributions, has the Secretary failed to deposit money to its account on every business day of the year; not one cent of that money has been used to defray the expenses of administering the Fund; literally every penny of the $75,000 has gone to help those in Britain who have suffered from German bombing. We believe that this Fund is unique in Canada; it bears the name of a well-defined district and all the money contributed to the Fund has come from that district; the average of contribution from the citizens of the district has been surprisingly high, considering that these are not easy times, and that many other funds and charities have called upon the same public, and not vainly.

It is not too much to say that this Fund has been based upon a faith in the desire of most people to help those who have suffered in our common cause, and that every circumstance which has helped the Fund has sprung from that faith. There has been no drive, no specific advertisement, no organized nagging of the public, and yet the money has continued to come in, day after day, sometimes in small sums and sometimes in large sums, and every time a total of £500 was reached, it was cabled to Britain for immediate use.

In this way $75,000 has been contributed and put to work to help those who have suffered from the war in Britain. To express too great a pride in the total would show a lack of taste. But to show a pride in the spirit reflected by the high success of the Fund is entirely permissible.

One word more. The Fund has passed an important milestone, but it has not finished the course. Contributions and collections are needed as before, and will be needed so long as the war continues. We must not fail in the task which we have carried so far.

Canada's Success Story

A government department which awards contracts amounting to almost ten billion dollars is bound to make a mistake now and then. When it makes as few mistakes as our Department of Munitions and Supply it deserves three rousing cheers. Speaking in the House last Tuesday on the War Appropriations Bill the Hon. C. D. Howe unfolded a Canadian success story which should give every citizen, whatever his political belief, a thrill of achievement. It is the job of the Department of Munitions and Supply to see that all the Canadian services have everything they need, and that we supply our allies with whatever we best can give them; it is a gigantic task, and to do it with so little loss of time, money and effort is a magnificent feat.

Those who think such praise too great should read Mr. Howe's speech in full and find out what has been done. When they have finished they will be able to find faults in his report, and they may be able to discover things which he has not mentioned. But they will not be able to put forward criticism which looks very black when compared with the record of what has actually been achieved. Nor will they be able to say that praise for the Minister and his assistants comes from Canada only. This is what Sir Stafford Cripps, the British Minister of Aircraft Production, said about one phase of Canada's manufacturing effort:

> "I have just heard how well the first production Canadian Lancaster fared at the Arrival Conference held last week. My experts tell me that this is the best first production aircraft out of all the North American ones that they have ever seen. Since we have dealt with some 90 of them, this is indeed a high compliment, and I should like to offer my warmest congratulations to everybody concerned on an outstanding piece of work."

In Canada we produce three types of trainer airplanes, and four great service craft, the Lancaster, the Mosquito, the PBY Catalina and the Curtis Dive Bomber; we have kept up to the highest standard with all of these, and in making the Lancaster, the largest four-engine bomber used by the United Nations, we have surpassed the great manufacturers of the United States. Knowing how good they are, we may be deeply proud of that.

While on the subject of airplane manufacture, we should like to reproduce here the figures on Mosquito production:

Period After Commencement of Manufacture	Cumulative Totals of Aircraft Accepted: Canada	England
19 months	9	5
20 months	18	8
21 months	23	13
22 months	34	17
23 months	44	20
24 months	57	30
25 months	62	47
26 months	68	62
27 months	82	76
28 months	92	101

This table speaks for itself; we have held our own, in quantity and quality of manufacture with the very best work that is being done elsewhere.

Canada reached its peak of war production during the first quarter of this year. Approximately 800,000 of our workers were engaged in direct manufacture of the necessities of war, and when those workers are included whose contribution to the war effort is not so direct and immediate the number rises to over a million. As Mr. Howe sees it our program of manufacturing will continue at least at its present level, but that does not mean that we shall go on manufacturing exactly what we are manufacturing at present. As the strategy of the war changes the equipment used changes also, and some manufactures will be discontinued and, in consequence, some workers will be temporarily out of jobs.

There have already been lay-offs in some war plants and there have been critics who have seen these as signs of decreasing war effort, or mismanagement, or something of the kind. Mr. Howe reminded the House that he had predicted such changes of program last June, and they were not surprising to anyone who was even remotely in touch with the manufacturing world. The Minister's tribute to Canadian manufacturers was generous and well-deserved; they have shown flexibility and ingenuity in adapting themselves to new needs, and very often they have avoided lay-offs in consequence. Inevitably there are manufacturing processes which are not adaptable, and when these are disused the men and women engaged in them must be laid off and directed to other work where it is available. Certainly no one would want to see work continued which cost the country large sums of money and which was quite useless to the war effort.

Mr. Howe also touched briefly on the subject of reconversion of industry to the needs of a country at peace. As he pointed out, this cannot occupy much of the time of a department which was set up in order to make war. It is idle to suppose that peacetime manufacturing will require as many workers as wartime manufacturing. But the ability which has been shown in putting industry in gear for war need not fail in adjusting it once again to the slower speed of peace.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Chemists have perfected a paint which will not burn. What we need now is a paint which will not peel or blister.

A number of citizens have been charged with having what the law calls "plural" wives. But think of the men who are always in trouble because their wives are so singular.

We read that the air-conditioned home of the future will only need cleaning every six weeks. In that time the loot under the sofa cushions should be well worth while.

In Idaho druggists are prevented by law from selling tombstones. This is going to be hard on large families who have been stocking up at the One Cent Sales.

The premiums of insurance policies on children may not be deducted from taxable income. That's very short-sighted, Mr. Ilsley. Don't you want the children to have a nest-egg when they grow old enough to be told about you?

Discussing our remarks made about the craft of writing in these columns recently the Brantford Expositor points out some of the things which must be learned and ends by saying that "a native aptitude is no handicap". No indeed; we are accustomed nowadays to being told that anyone can do anything and that we could all be Churchills if we cared about that sort of thing, but it is surprising how the natural inequalities between man and man continue to assert themselves!

Farming News and Views

By HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

I HAVE listened recently to some of the Farm Forum discussions and there can be no doubt about the interest that is being taken among the farmers of the province in these debates on farm problems, and many people are learning of successful efforts made by groups of farmers in different parts of Ontario to solve neighbourhood problems with the result, I am sure, that many others will be organized along similar lines. Let me just say here that one difficulty in groups of farmers organized for mutual self-help, is the inclusion of some one or two people who won't play the game. Selfishness is a besetting sin, and there are some people who must have the best of it no matter who loses. There is only one way to treat such people; don't let them get away with anything, check them at the very start. I have seen a well-run beef ring come to grief when a butcher was employed who played favorites in distributing cuts and hoped to get away with it from his very boldness. Beef rings have been displaced by "cold lockers," and so are no more and the trouble of having too much "neck" and too little "sirloin" no longer exists, but the same kind of people are still about and they must be brought up with a short turn when they are about to do a wrecking job.

I listened to a discussion a short time ago upon the joint use of machinery among a group of farmers. This can be, and often has been worked out satisfactorily, but wherever possible, I have this suggestion to make. If the machine is a complicated and expensive one, like a combine-harvester or a corn picker, have one man in the group operate it. Half a dozen people running a machine by turns can do a good deal toward wrecking it. A careful conscientious operator can do much to save wear and tear on a machine, and a few cents extra per hour to pay such a man for taking charge of it will be money well spent. The working, care and housing of an expensive farm machine is highly important.

WORLD farming control, from a central source, probably Washington, is what Sir J. C. Drummond Scientific Adviser to the British Ministry of Food, predicts. Such control, he said, was not likely to be arbitrary but rather a matter of good faith and would work on the lines of each area producing crops most needed by it as well as those suitable for it if the recommendations of the Hot Springs Conference came into practical effect. If they didn't come into effect, he said, the outlook for agriculture in all parts was likely to be chaotic. He very properly added that the magnitude of the problem was "terrifying," but for the first time an attempt was being made to cope with it.

He then delivered himself of this statement, "By our own planning and the splendid achievements of British Agriculture is now producing two-thirds of our food requirements as against only one-third before the war, we are showing what can be done with planned food economy."

I am bound to say I look with much suspicion upon such proposals. It is all right to parade phrases like "planned food economy" but any person who has followed the production of food in Britain, while admiring its results in the face of threatened famine, knows there was nothing "economical" about it. One has only to read the letters, in British Farm Journals, written by farmers, in which it is pointed out that the cost of this increased production has been enormous, with an army of Government officials, with a flood of forms to be filled, such as would only be tolerated in the midst of a world war. A costly machine of officialdom has been built up and no doubt a great part of it will fight to maintain its jobs of advising, persuading and compelling people to obey its edits, and most of those who came under this control are pretty well fed up with it.

If the authorities are going to plan for the farmers, are they going to make the application to every other enterprise? If this is done it is quite conceivable that about one-third of the people would be directing the other two-thirds and telling them what to do. Potatoes will produce more tons of food per acre than any other crop and Britain planned to produce potatoes ad lib. That was alright, but many of the planners didn't know enough about crops and farmers were compelled ot grow potatoes on land unsuitable for this purpose, when the result would have been much better if the acreage had been increased in suitable districts. Marginal land was brought under cultivation at a cost greater than its value even after it was reclaimed, which was all right when food had to be produced at any cost.

We are told that if we could raise billion by taxation to fgiht a war, why cannot we raise them now for planning after the war. When one of your family's life is endangered and requires a surgical operation to save it, you don't hesitate or count the cost, but that doesn't mean that having spent money in an emergency you just keep on finding ways to spend more. We have spent billions to teach the Germans that they cannot pillage and murder at will, but when we get this expensive job finished we will surely want to let up on this compulsory spending spree for a while.

The Hot Springs Conference developed some plans, one of them greater freedom of trade, but let us have no illusions about bringing in the millenium on the first train. There will be plenty of opportunity for the planners to grow food themselves if there is the shortage they are always predicting. Farming has more to fear from plans thrust upon it than from a fair opportunity to till the soil.

A BRITISH farmer, Donald Gordon by name, says: "The Government has demanded from the farmer the maximum of tillage and taxation and has left him with an exhausted soil and a wilderness of weeds." He also says: "Loss of fertility cannot be restored until there is an abundance of farmyard manure. This is dependent on an increase of livestock, which in turn depends on an increase of pasture, and a decrease of tillage." These are conditions that have to be met when the stress of war is over. The farmer will resent bossing them.

THE Dominion Experimental Farm has to its credit the production of the best linseed, or flax as we call it here, yet known to British Agriculture. The farmers in England have been using two varieties of linseed, Plate a variety from La Plata district in the Argentine, and Redwing produced in Canada. Neither of these was quite satisfactory. Plate having large seed with a high oil content, but has a heavy bushy stalk difficult to cut with a combine and is a low yielder. Redwing shatters when ripe, losing a good deal of the seed which is quite small. A new variety called Royal has been produced at Ottawa, which is a good yielder of large seed, ripens early and does not shed its seed even if not cut until very ripe. It has long straw and cuts well with a combine. English farmers have pronounced it, after trials of a considerable acreage, as the best variety of linseed yet to hand. The seed capsules of Royal remain closed in quite wet weather which is important in England.

There is a good supply of Royal flaxseed in Western Canada, particularly in Saskatchewan and I am sure the seed merchants in Ontario will be able to get what may be needed by farmers here. It is selling for from $3 to $3.75 per bushel for certified seed and no one should buy anything else. Good seed for any crop is so important that a farmer who is going to sow any flax at all should get Royal seed, and a scattering of this good variety of flax should find its way into every oat field in Ontario this year.

The Truth About Vitamins

(From PM)

THE vitamin-conscious American consumer is being subjected to a barrage of bunk and ballyhoo that beats anything since the days of Dr. Hokum's Indian Tonic, guaranteed to cure every ailment of man from flat feet to scalp-itch.

Radio and press blurbs, drugstore window displays and mail ads daily scare him out of his wits with dire warnings of all the "hidden ills" he may be suffering and how he could get rid of them all immediately and enjoy buoyant health, popularity and sex appeal forever more by simply swallowing a vitamin-packed miracle pill once, twice or thrice a day....

High-pressure promotion geniuses are letting their imaginations run riot on vitamins....

As a result partly of the energetic efforts of these advertising geniuses....the manufacture of synthetic vitamins has been run up during the last five years from a tiny area of drug production into a $200,000,000-a-year industry....

Prof. E. V. McCollum of the Johns Hopkins Medical Center in Baltimore, a pioneer in vitamin research, last month lashed out at the commercial ballyhoo of synthetic vitamins as having "reached the disgraceful plane of the old-patent-medicine days" when country-store almanacs were used as guides to diagnosis and treatment.

"The descendants of the old patent-medicine hawkers," the eminent scientist said, "are trying now to find a market for trainloads of synthetic vitamins on the same plane.

"We can no longer teach a housewife how to feed her family properly on a simple plan of presenting the few necessaries and adding that 'after eating so much of these, eat anything else you want.'

"If we make a reasonably intelligent selection of foods, we dont need any synthetic vitamins."..

The overselling of vitamins is harmful in another respect. It tends to make hypochondriacs of many Americans by scaring them into thinking something is wrong with them. It also tends to make some people forget that the main element in nutrition is genuine, 100 per cent farm-grown food, not synthetic vitamins packaged in pills or capsules....

The vendors of viitamins should be made to hew closer to the lines of truth.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

PETERBOROUGH PROVINCIAL PARK

Sir,—A very unusual controversy has arisen regarding the advantages and disadvantages of a proposed Provincial Park. This is a paradoxical situation as the disadvantages are of such a minor nature that one can hardly understand their origin. Provincial parks have been proven to be a definite and distinct asset to the adjacent communities.

From personal observation and actual experience in Algonquin and Rondeau Parks their many advantages have been proven to me. For example the financial status of the settlers in and adjacent to the park area is certainly benefitted by their proximity to the park. There are many ways of augmenting their income through work resulting from tourists and sportsmen visiting the park.

These parks are beautiful places. Most of us in this area are familiar with the wild beauty of Algonquin Park. Here one may actually see wild life, which is so in danger of extinction, living in natural surroundings. This is a wonderful sight, even for the most rabid hunter. Here the camera is the gun but very good hunting is still found adjacent to the outer boundaries of these parks.

Huntsville and Chatham are two urban communities which definitely experience a tourist boom in the summer months as a direct result of their proximity (25 miles) to Algonquin and Rondeau parks respectively. The peacetime summer tourist traffic to these parks is amazing—and lucrative. Their summer tourist traffice increases merchant sales: food, clothing, drugs, sporting goods, souvenirs, restaurants, tourist camps and hotels; in short, everyone benefits. Their local chambers of commerce and service organizations are well aware of the advantages of this trade and annually issue circulars advertising the attractions of their parks. The local business also advertise in these circulars.

Peterborough is so well situated for such a park. Very few people realize that the Peterborough Provincial Park would be closer to Toronto than Algonquin Park. Also the diversion of westbound tourist traffic from the Thousand Islands bridge and Kingston Road would be increased by a Park in this region.

This park would constitute a post-war project which would create a permanent heritage for the community and would do much to foster greater conservation of wild life and timber. I sincerely feel that the local Chamber of Commerce and service organizations should immediately sponsor this proposal as a contribution and asset to Peterborough and that every Peterbrough-minded citizen will urgently support this proposed park and utilize the opportunity of consolidating and increasing their existing financial investment in this area.

CONDITIONS AT CAMPBELLFORD SCHOOL

Editor Examiner:

Sir,—For many years the conditions surrounding the Campbellford Public School have been anything but desirable. In recent weeks public utterances and newspaper comments would seem to justify much that has been said in the past by indignant fathers and mothers about the conditions of the school.

What are these conditions about which we hear so much? What are these conditions that have failed to attract the attention of our public men—or is it that our public men have failed in the trust that has been invested in them by the ratepayers? Allow me, in a modest way, to bring to the attention of your paper some of the glaring facts under which our children are being asked to study.

1—Apart from two fire escapes there is no fire-fighting equipment of any kind installed in the school, not even water above the basement. The buildings could not pass a modern inspection by the fire marshal.

2—The heating equipment is obsolete and antiquated. Hot dry air is forced into the various rooms with temperatures varying from 70 to 85 and more. Dirty grimy soot is forced into the rooms which the children must breathe. The only ventilation is by means of an open door or window, which under existing circumstances is impossible to control resulting in a high percentage of children contracting head colds. Because of a lack of air-conditioning bad odors are frequent.

3—No medical health officer or public health nurse is available to examine the pupils because of the expense. Is not the general health of school children worth some expense. Health is a common requisite of any modern school and has been for years.

4—Artificial room lighting is practically non-existant. In some rooms there are two small electric light bulbs hanging from a 14 foot ceiling by a 3 foot cord. Absolutely valueless as far as school work is concerned.

5—The playgrounds are not equipped with any playground device. The boys playground to the east of the school is not only on a side hill, it is covered with stones and other rubble and is a source of danger to children running about the grounds.

6—Except for a room perhaps 12 feet square about the furnace room there is no inside recreation room whatever. Can anyone imagine 150 boys playing in such a room? The only alternative is to play outside in the rain, sleet or sub-zero blizzard.

7—There is no auditorium where children can meet. I am advised that there is plenty of talent in the school but no place where it can be displayed. No place where a public address can be given to the children regardless of its importance, even though talks to children by eminent speakers are a counterpart of modern education.

8—The environment of the school is not conducive to either discipline or progress. In the life of a school child play and study go hand in hand. The Campbellford Public School fails to provide adequate facilities for either study or recreation.

9—The teachers are obliged to work under a handicap equally as great as that of the children, rendering proper instruction almost impossible.

The evidence to support the above statements is visible everywhere if one will but visit the school. The present condition of the school did not come about in a day. On the contrary it has been a gradual decline from bad to worse over a period of many years.

The present situation may be embarrassing to some of our public men who have been office holders for many years, and who have allowed this school condition to exist without interference. Surely the health and general welfare of our children is worth more than the money it would require to remodel and equip our public school.

Failing prompt and adequate action by those responsible, is it not time Mr. Editor that this whole matter should be brought to the attention of the Minister of Education at Queens Park?

At Ottawa on March 15th the Canadian Teachers' Federation presented a brief to the House of Commons Reconstruction Committee which reads in part:

"In a post-war public works program the Dominion Government should give high priority to educational needs and 'all obsolete' unsanitary schools should be torn down or remodelled and replaced with modern buildings on the best sites available.

"They should have adequate facilities for indoor play, library work, home-making, general shop work, auditorium work, and should be provided with the best teaching equipment. In short, they should provide places for happy, healthy living for boys and girls."

Saving money and refusing to spend public funds is good business when conditions demand such a policy. However it is very bad business at a time when it is imperative that public funds should be spent. It means that we may be paying an extremely high interest rate because the longer than necessary improvements are delayed the greater will be the cost in the end.

A Bible Message

And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see: for I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them: and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them....

Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house. And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word. But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

And Jesus answered and said unto her Martha, Martha, thou are careful and troubled about many things: but one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her. (Luke 10: 23, 24, 32-34.)

The Printers' 'Chapel'

Noah Webster says that a printing office was formerly called a chapel.

Funk and Wagnalls gives it a more elaborate description: the body of journeymen printers in a given office, usually organised under a chairman, known in Great Britain as the father of the chapel.

From perusal of the works of the earliest typographers we are led to believe that the term may owe its derivation to the fact that works of a divine nature were the first products of a printing office.

There is another theory that William Caxton, the first English printer, set up a shop in an almshouse which was part of Westminster Abbey in the year 1476....

At this point we wish to discourage the belief that the term "chapel" was applied exclusively to union printing offices—the truth of the matter is that there were no unions in those bygone days. Every shop was called a chapel. The oldest member of the chapel was the "father," or chairman.

For the good government of the chapel there was a book of bylaws, and the penalty for a breach of any of the laws was called a solace.

The judges of these solaces depended upon the plurality of votes in the chapel, it being asserted that the chapel could not make an error. — George E. Freemyer in the Typographical Forum.

Seven Hundred First Aiders Inspected By The Earl of Athlone

TORONTO, March 27—(CP) — Seven hundred men and women of the St. John Ambulance Brigade—including visiting squads from as far away as Peterborough and Owen Sound—were inspected Sunday at Fort York armouries by the Governor-General of Canada and Princess Alice.

After the march past and stretcher drill demonstration by the Hamilton squad under Bert Little, His Excellency told the Corps that "the Nursing and First Aid Classes conducted by the St. John Ambulance Asociation are indeed an essential feature of our war organization."

His Excellency warned that victory can be reached "only after severe fighting" and predicted future casualties would be heavy.

"We must ensure," he said, "that they receive the best attention and especially the most skilled and patient nursing. In no service can the women of Canada play a more valuable part."

Special mention was given to the Peterborough group by Mrs. G. Blaikie, lady district superintendent, who accompanied H. R. H. Princess Alice on her tour of inspection of the nursing divisions. Mrs. Blaikie commented on the smart drilling and appearance of the troop.

After the inspection, the superintendents lunched with the Governor-General and Princess Alice in the officers' mess of the Toronto Scottish. Miss Mary Greer, Reg. N. lay superintendent of the Peterborough brigade, was one of the group presented to the vice-regal couple.

Those making up the Peterborough brigade were as follows: Miss Ivy Watkins, senior ambulance officer; Mrs. W. Warren, ambulance officer; LAW Mary Trotter, R.C.-A.F.; Misses Eileen Agnew, Joyce Alexander, Winnie Snowden, Laura Whittington, Mary Gregson, Alice Leether, Myrtle McKeown, Margaret Wylie, Eileen Jackman, Florence Trotter, Isobel McKay, Anne Heideman, Marjorie Lorne. Mesdames B. Arnott, W. Donaldson, T. Franks, W. Custance, G. Langhorn, F. C. Wallwork, C. Meehan, R. Dixon. Miss Mary Greer was in charge.

Messrs. G. Siddall, L. E. Tompkins, P. O'Toole, John Barnes, Donald Dalton, Robert Borden, and James Amyotte.

Millbrook Agricultural Society Hears Dr. G. I. Christie Speak

MILLBROOK, March 27, (ENS) —An event of peculiar interest in the history of the Millbrook Agricultural Society took place last week, when for the first time since its organization it sponsored a banquet, held in the basement of Grace Presbyterian church, the Ladies' Aid catering.

Dr. G. I. Christie, head of the O.A.C., Guelph, was the guest speaker, others seated at the head table including Rev. Walter Patterson, minister of Grace church; T.R. Trootter, and B. McLean, president and manager, respectively, of the Lindsay Fair Board; Robert McCamus, president of the Millbbrook Fair Board; A. E. Summers, Agricultural Representative of Durham county; S. S. Staples, Chairman for the evening; and Clyde Bottom, of Bobcaygeon.

S. S. Staples introduced the guests who had come from outside points for the banquet, besides the guest speaker, among these being: Frank Rickard, M.P. for Durham county, who came specially from Ottawa for the occasion; Dr. C. Cook, of Toronto, Field secretary for the Jersey Breeders' Association; John Rickard, of Newcastle, President of the West Durham Shorthorn Breeders' Association; Lorne Reynolds, president of the Durham-Jersey Breeders' Association; Roy Ferren, President of the Percheron Association; L. W. Smith, President of the Clydesdale Club; John Baker, and S. Mumford, of Hampton; H. Dinsdale, of the Peterborough Shorthorn Association; D. Davidson, of the Peterborough Co-Operative Services; H. McIntyre, of the Dewart Milling Company, Peterborough; Professor Milton Staples, of the O.A.C., Guelph.

Included also in those who 'took a bow' were Reeve H. D. Bigelow, and J. J. Powell, G. F. Harrington, M. W. Ball, and S. Olan, of the Millbrook Municipal Council; Reeve J. Smith, Deputy-Reeve Harold Cathcart, and Councillors R. Earle R. Armstrong, and J. Thorne, of the Cavan Council; Reeve Fred Barnard, and Councillors H. Campbell, Jay and Roy Whittington of South Monaghan; from Manvers, Cavanagh and Argue; and from Otonabee, W. W. Dawson, H. McIntyre, and J. Elmers, Junior.

Show Pictures

The program, was prefaced by a series of moving pictures, shown by John Edgar, of Bobcaygeon, and depicting in natural colors. Also included were pictures taken at the Bobcaygeon Fair, and at the Lindsay Exhibition.

Emphasizing the fact that the year 1944 is likely to be of outstanding seriousness in the conduct of war, Dr. Christie went on to deal particularly with the accomplishments of agriculture in the four years of the combat, and the extreme importance of planning wisely for this year's crop. Pointing out what the farmers have accomplished, Dr. Christie mentioned one thing as outstanding.

"In 1931 Canada exported to Great Britain 11,000,000 pounds of bacon and ham, and the figures have steadily increased until in 1943 we sent 675,000,000 pounds. There you have what agriculture has done for the war effort—with thousands of young men and young women from the farms gone into war work and into the armed forces, we have gone ahead and produced that amount. They talk about what has been done in the war plants, but they have had increased numbers of workers and of machinery, while on the farms the story has been of less help, and of reduced machinery and repair parts."

Look Ahead

Speaking of the necessity for post-war planning, which he insisted should be well under way now, the speaker referred to difficulties already encountered in connection with the production and distribution of milk and other foods.

"When the last shot is fired, and the white flag raised, what then? The problem that will confront us will be that of fitting 'those who have fought and lived' into the scheme of civilian life again. Many of the boys who have gone away still have in mind, memories of low prices and no new machinery on the farms of the '30s, and they do not want to go back to those conditions. What we are going to do to change that picture? The one, too, in the minds of those whose parents could not give them the things they wanted; no employment, not even after a University education. We must think seriously enough to give them a right chance, for taking care of them belongs to you and me. The Government cannot do it all. We must extend the hand of fellowship and give them opportunity to have a proper living and proper living conditions."

Adding variety to the program were vocal solos by Miss Mary Robinson, Peterborough, with Mrs. Gordon Muspratt accompanying and readings by Miss Velma Staples, of Peterborough. Among those who spoke briefly were Frank Rickard, M.P. for Durham, Robert McCamus, who mentioned S. S. Staples, as now holding the office of President of the Clydesdale Association of Canada; B. McLean, of Lindsay, who congratulated the local Fair Board on the success of its spring fair, and promised any help the town could afford; and Rev. W. Patterson. Mr. McCamus emphasized the local fair as being on Friday, June 9, this year and that the live stock men had promised to get behind it one hundred per cent. L. C. McNeil voiced the thanks of the gathering to the ladies for the meal, to the guest speaker, and all who had helped with the entertainment.

Evacuate Crimea

ISTANBUL, March 27—(CP-Reuters).—Axis forces began to evacuate the Crimea the middle of last week, it was reported yesterday in usually well-informed circles. Reliable Bucharest reports said a large number of Rumanian troops was lost in the Black Sea Thursday night when a Rumanian convoy carrying an entire infantry division was intercepted by a Soviet submarine.

Swift through the Night

THROUGH the silent spaces of the night it comes to you . . . First a murmuring hum — then the deep, full-throated roar of a thousand horses passing overhead — and swiftly the throbbing drone fades out beyond the dark horizon.

It may be a T.C.A. or C.P.A. plane winging its essential load of mail and passengers to where they're needed quickly. Perhaps that motor drumming through the dusky air is victory bound, with a cargo of fighting men.

It's one of the marvels of our age — this compact engine unit with the power of a thousand or more horses. Without it —and the modern lubricants that keep it flying —today's air speed and comfort and safety would be impossible.

Next time you hear that confident throb 'way overhead, remember that almost every airplane flying Canada's Skyways is lubricated completely or partially by aviation oils made in Imperial Oil refineries.

Night and day, from coast to coast, Imperial helps "keep 'em flying".

Sexton Hopes To Earn Title Match

A lusty wrestling match is sure to result tomorrow night when Frank Sexton of Columbus, Ohio, steps onto the Brock Arena mat against big Karl Davis. Sexton and Davis wrestled to a thirty-minute draw here last week and now with an hour's time to settle their quarrel something rather spectacular is expected.

Sexton is a peerless wrestler, unbeaten and a man who has never been outwrestled in many a year. As Pacific Coast Champion, the popular Frank is currently pressing claims to a world championship bout with Wild Bill Longson. But in the meantime he must definitely dispose of one Davis. Karl the Krippler is no set-up for any matman in these days. In fact the huge Texan may just cause the upset of the year by getting one of his dozen or so really mean holds on the Columbus grappler and hurting him severely.

Davis has quite a reputation as a supplier of customers to hospitals and he would like nothing better than to gain such a victory over the peerless Sexton. It should be hot and heavy all the way, and plenty of good wrestling besides.

The return of Toar Morgan will be welcomed as the popular young Marine has not been back since Longson injured his neck here last January. Morgan will meet the veteran Frank Judson, famous university coach and a great wrestler.

In the opener Jan Gotch, who nearly collapsed when the customers cheered him last week, comes back to meet Jack Wentworth. Gotch made quite a few friends with his win over Zaharias.

Montreal Loses

MONTREAL, March 27—(CP).—Ottawa Morrisburg Sailors scored a 34-32 win over Montreal Oilers in the first game of a home-and-home total-points series in the Eastern Canada basketball senior semi-finals here Saturday night. The Sailors came back strongly after a weak demonstration in the first half to edge out the Montreal squad and take a two-point margin with them in the second tilt, which will be played in Ottawa next Saturday.

Capsule Missing

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 27.—(AP).—Search continued to-day for a $16,000 radium sulphate capsule, capable of causing fatal burns, reported missing Saturday from the Bison Casting Co. The one-inch capsule is used to detect flaws in metal, Police Lieut. Paul G. Harohn said, and would be useless to an individual. It was leased by the company from Canadian Radium and Uranium Co., New York City.

Rookie Fielder Shapes Up As Top Clouter

NEW YORK, March 27—(AP)—He's just a little fellow, but rookie outfielder Augie Bergamo, of Detroit, showed St. Louis Cardinals yesterday he can hit.

The 160-pounder, who sparked Columbus to victory in the Little World series last fall, poled two triples to right centre to help the National League champs beat the Fourth Ferrying Group team from Memphis 16-3 at Cairo, Ill. Altogether he batted in four runs after he replaced Johnny Hopp in right field.

Meantime the world champion New York Yankees received word at Atlantic City that two more 1943 regulars — Pitcher Ernie Bonham and Shortstop Frankie Crosetti — had passed their pre-induction physical examinations.

Whit Wyatt, star right-hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, sent word to the Dodgers' Bear Mountain, N.Y., camp that he had been reclassified 1-A and probably would be called soon for examination.

News from the other big league camps:

Lakewood, N.J. — Ace Adams, star relief pitcher, signed a Giant contract at what was termed a "substantial" increase in salary. He appeared in 70 games, a record, last year.

Cape Girardeau, Mo.— Pitcher Jack Kramer arrived in Browns Camp still unsigned. He is expected to discuss terms with Vice-president Bill Dewitt to-day.

Peterborough curlers will ring down the curtain upon a successful season tonight when the annual meeting of the curling club will be held in the club-room for the election of officers, reception of reports and the presentation of prizes. The knights of the stane and besom can look back upon a good winter in spite of the fact that there were times when weather conditions made everybody long for a modern artificial ice rink. Mild spells caused some delays in the schedule but eventually the slack was taken up and the club was able to run through all its events, and stage the usual bonspiels. Many new members joined the club for the present season, others had taken up curling last year or perhaps two years ago came along rapidly and the quality of play throughout the season was on a high plane. In outside competition Peterborough rinks did not succeed in bringing home any Ontario trophies but hope springs eternal etc. and another season will be coming up. At all events failure to lift the Tankard or the District Cup will not be allowed to interfere in the least with the success of tonight's annual meeting. A record attendance of curlers is expected.

Grant Howard and Bob Van Allen, two Peterborough boys who are in training with the R.C.A.F. in Toronto have been making a fine showing in the weekly boxing competitions staged by the Air Force in Toronto. Both won their bouts at last week's show and the Toronto papers in reporting the event stated that the battle staged by Howard with a Montreal opponent which the Peterborough boy won by decision after a torrid argument was the feature bout on the card. Howard and Van Allen have appeared in a number of bouts on recent shows and have been uniformly successful in polishing off their opposition.

Prolong Junior Series

Toronto St. Michael's succeeded on Saturday in prolonging the Ontario junior playoffs by nosing out the Oshawa Generals in an afternoon game at Maple Leaf Gardens by 3 goals to 2, but even the most ardent Irish supporter would hardly claim that their win means much more than that. It left the series standing Oshawa three wins, St. Mike's one, which means that the Generals need only one more triumph to grab off the provincial title, a habit that is turning the junior A series into an Oshawa monopoly. The fifth game of the series will be played in Oshawa tonight and we have a pretty strong hunch that along about 11 o'clock George Soup Campbell will be digging into the records to see how many times the Generals have won the Ontario honors, how this season's scoring performances compares with the marks set by other great Oshawa teams and reams of other statistics that are dusted off and used on red-letter occasions. Oshawa could quite easily have won as lost Saturday's game which was a hammer-and-tongs argument with the result in doubt until the final whistle. There was no score in the first period, both hit the target twice in the second and St. Mike's finally potted the winner in the final session. The teams were playing for keeps and the penalty bench was well occupied most of the time.

Canada's favorite wrestler, the handsome and clever Whipper Billy Watson of Toronto is doing quite nicely on his raids into the territory of Champion Bill Longson. Accompanied by his coach and manager Phil Lawson, The Whipper travelled down to St. Louis on Friday and won his fourth consecutive victory in the home of the champ. Friday night he was pitted against Jake Westlake of Texas and the bout was evidently just a nice workout for the Toronto grappler who took the Texan to the cleaners after 12 minutes with a neat application of one of his better holds, commonly known as a Canadian avalanche. If you have forgotten what that is it may be explained that the Watson avalanche starts like an ordinary stepover toe hold, is rapidly changed into a cartwheel and after that there is nothing for the referee to do but hammer the mat three times in succession and then raise the Whipper's arm. In his four trips to St. Louis Watson had won his bouts in rapid-fire order and his clean-cut methods have already made him a favorite amid the myriad of wrestling fans in the home of the world champ.

Canadiens, Hawks Lead

In the week-end Stanley Cup games Montreal Canadiens won back the advantage they had lost by dropping the first game of the series on their own ice by beating Toronto Maple Leafs 3 to 1 in Toronto Saturday night to go head on the round 2 games to 1. Chicago Black Hawks, on the other hand who also opened out their series with the Red Wings by winning the opener on Detroit ice maintained their edge by turning back the Adams' threat in Chicago last night in a shutout victory 2 to 0. The Canadiens and Black Hawks are thus in the driver's seat in the respective brackets, although neither of course is out of the woods. The series in each case resumes tomorrow night with the Canadiens in Toronto and the Red Wings in Chicago. Another win for the Flying Frenchmen with the fifth game coming up on their own ice would about cinch the series, and of course another triumph for Chicago would drive Jack Adams' athletes back against the ropes and almost out on their feet.

* * * * * *

Canadiens were never worse than tied in their game in Toronto Saturday night. Harmon put them in front in the first period and although Boothman rapped home the equalizer in the second session the Canadiens were doing the bulk of the effective attacking and it looked only a matter of time until they would pop the game into the bag. Bibeault held them off with another gorgeous display of goal-keeping but he could not be expected to hold them out indefinitely and finally Ray Getliffe fired the third-period goal that meant a win for the Flying Frenchmen. Detroit made a determined bid in Chicago but it was not quite good enough to hold the Hawks who are coming up with a convincing display of sound hockey after a slump a few weeks back. There were 12 penalties, nine in the first period and the battle was one of the toughest of the year. Joe Cooper drilled a shot from the blue line in the first period to put the Hawks in front and Clint Smith cinched the argument half way through the final episode so New York Ranger alumni were responsible for both Chicago counters.

3 Victories Thrown Out In Hockey Race

REGINA, March 27 — (CP). — It was blue Monday in Trail Smoke Eaters camp here to-day as they accepted disallowance by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association of their three victories in the Western Canada junior semi-final series and prepared to resume Tuesday with Regina Commandos now holding a two-game lead in the best-of-five revised affair.

The C.A.H.A. ruled out Trail's wins because Smoke Eaters, without knowledge, had used Defenceman Paul Mahara of Winnipeg, who is over the 20-year-old junior age limit.

Commandos Saturday night believed they had been eliminated in the Memorial Cup play-offs and that Trail had made hockey history by becoming the first British Columbia champions to reach the Western junior finals.

Some time after Trail won the fifth and deciding game 6-2, Commandos filed a protest with Frank Sargent of Port Arthur, president of the C.A.H.A., and asked an official check be made of Mahara's age.

Late last night Mahara, in a statement to Coach Gerry Thomson of Trail, admitted he was born in Winnipeg in 1921, now is 23 years of age, and that he altered his birth records. The statement said Mahara had told officials he was eligible to play junior hockey and that nobody in Trail knew his true age.

"We assume responsibility for the boy's errors and stand ready to accept any punishment the C.A.H.A. may hand us," said Thomson said during the investigation. "We will go home at once if ordered....and have no alibi. It's a terrible letdown to the boys after winning a gruelling series."

During the original series Mahara scored two of Trail's 18 goals and assisted in another.

Ten Pirates To Stay Home

MUNCIE, Ind., March 27—(AP)—Ten players with 4-F draft status assure Pittsburgh of staying in business this season, but the Pirates' hopes of finishing in the first division of the National League depend chiefly on how long they keep their eight draft eligibles.

The Bucs face the prospect of losing three rookie pitching prizes who accounted for 50 victories last season—Art Cuccurullo of Albany, Preacher Roe of Columbus and Nick Strincevich of Toronto. All are 1-A, and Cuccurullo, a 20-game winner, already has been ordered up for his physical examination.

Roe would be missed especially. In winning 15 games for Columbus, he led the American Association in strikeouts, with 136, and also in shutouts, with six.

Other valuable draft eligibles are veteran Al Lopez and Hank Camelli of Albany, the team's only regular catches, and Third Baseman Bob Elliott, who led the club at the plate last year with a neat .315.

Win Elgin Trophy

MONTREAL, March 27 — (CP).—C. H. Handley's Quebec Curling Club rink copped the Elgin Trophy, last major granite tournament of the season, here Saturday night. The Quebec C.C. quartette defeated Dr. J. M. Elliott's Quebec Victoria rink 12-9 in the final round.

Winning their third straight game within approximately 24 hours, Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. captured the provincial intermediate "B" title of the Ontario Basketball Association Saturday night at Brantford, defeating Brantford "Y" in the final game 47-43.

West Enders qualified for the final by disposing of Guelph O.A.C. 51-41 and, the previous night, had walloped London Navy 73-40, thus capturing all three starts with an aggregate of 171 points to their opponents' 113.

In the Ontario juvenile basketball tourney at Toronto, the Queen city Lissies triumphed over Midland Y 59-33 in the final after eliminating Kingston Collegiate 54-16 in the afternoon. Midland had advanced to the final through a 37-32 victory over Brantford Y. Lissies will proceed to Montreal to play Y.M.H.A., the winner to meet St. John, N.B., for the Candian juvenile title.

Merritton Loses.

Without the services of their ace centre, Bruce Fountain, former University of Iowa star, the basketball team of Hayes Steel, Merritton, went down to a 66-41 defeat at the hands of Windsor Varsity Saturday night at Windsor. The match was the first in a best-of-three series for the senior championship of the Ontario Basketball Association, the next game to be played at St. Catharines Saturday.

The first game of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "B" finals between Barrie Colts and Toronto De LaSalle Oaklands is being played in Toronto tonight, with the second match of the best-of-three series at Midland Wednesday or Thursday. In the Junior "A" finals, St. Mikes are playing in Oshawa tonight and, if a sixth game is necessary, it will be staged in Toronto on Wednesday. Generals now lead the series three games to one.

For the second time in a week, Alan Ford of Yale swam the 100-yard free-style in world's record time at New Haven, Saturday night, covering the distance in 49.7 seconds. The 20-year-old contestant from Balboa, Canal Zone, captured three national collegiate championships at the meet.

Sponsors of the Transcontinental Pro Football League are scheduled to gather at Pittsburgh April 2 to lay plans for the 1944 season, the teams of which will fly from coast to coast for games.

Chicago Hawks Move Into Top Position

CHICAGO, March 27.—(CP). — Chicago Black Hawks took over the driver's seat in their National Hockey League play-off series with Detroit Red Wings last night when they defeated the present Stanley Cup holders 2-0 before a capacity crowd of 17,136. The victory gave the Hawks a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven semi-final series.

Unassisted goals by Joe Cooper in the first period and Clint Smith in the final frame settled the issue in a game marked by 13 penalties.

Nine of the penalties came in a furious first period in which both teams showed ample determination. Cooper was first to leave the ice and while he still was in the box, Doug Bentley and Joe Carveth came to blows and were penalized for high-sticking. The Hawks, minus two men, held close to the defence and Mike Karakas cleared a hard shot when Mud Bruneteau broke through on a solo effort.

Hal Jackson of Red Wings, Bill Jennings and Johnny Gottselig joined the parade to the cooler and while both teams were playing short one, Cooper scooped in and snared the puck after Conny Dion had cleared it away from the goal. A hard drive into the nets put Black Hawks ahead 1-0. The pace slackened toward the teng of the frame and Adam Brown and Cooper added to the penalty total.

In a scoreless second period, Jack Adams of Detroit and Paul Thompson of Chicago, rival managers, displayed the same tactics, matching their first line against the opposing second string.

Brown netted his tally with a long drive from just inside the Detroit blue line. He had picked up the puck after it had bounced off the boards and circled to the centre of the rink before firing the puck. There were no penalties in the last period.

It was the first shut-out in the current play-off series.

Chicago won the first game in the play-off series at Detroit last Tuesday and Detroit registered their victory last Thursday. Fourth game in the series will be played here tomorrow night with the fifth game in Detroit Thursday.

TORONTO, March 27 (CP) — Eddie Shore foresees a great post-war future for professional hockey, but advocates as the price of success a sterner training and conditioning program for young players than any yet attempted. Perfect condition, the former Boston Bruins star defenceman says, will be demanded of every player not only by the team but also by the customers who pay good money and expect the best performance possible from every man on the ice.

Eddie, now manager of Buffalo Bisons in the American League, told Bill (Niagara Falls Evening Review) Gaynon that the war has been an invaluable aid to the countless hockey players who entered the service. It made them more attentive to training rules and discipline, "something that is conspicuously absent from the regular routine of any up-and-coming hockey boy."

Eddie also advocated organization of skating clubs with capable instructors in all hockey arenas, because in his opinion there are altogether too few real skaters among aspiring hockey players of the present day.

And finally the one-time N.H.L. badman urged adoption of a rule that every young player must spend a one or two year apprenticeship in the minors before jumping to big-time hockey. This would prevent too rapid forcing of a youngster and the consequent sudden fading, which occurs frequently.

Day the Gay Deceiver

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson wonders if a smooth propaganda job by Coach Hap Day of Toronto wasn't partly responsible for Leafs' upset of Montreal Canadiens in the opening game of their current series. Before the game Day dragged a neat red herring by telling Fergie that "cosy cup-play hockey" with its defensive play and close back-checking was a thing of the past. Then Leafs let the kitty out of the bag and conquered Canadiens with the nicest stay-at-home job seen in many days.

Incidentally:

Inter-County Baseball League officials in Guelph are considering asking the umpires to work for free this summer. That's fine for everyone except the umpires who probably won't be so anxious to take their pay in abuse and boos, even if they are tax-exempt . . . Harry (Calgary Albertan) Scott says the C.A.H.A. will have to dig deep to pay for the Edmonton Victorias-New Westminster Lodestars Senior Hockey series. An all-time low for Allan Cup play was reached, with attendance dropping to 700 a game.

Barons, Bisons To Meet In Loop Finals

By The Canadian Press

It looks as if Cleveland and Buffalo will meet in the final playoff series in the American Hockey League.

Both the Cleveland Barons, western division winners, and the Buffalo Bisons, who finished runner-up in the eastern loop, took a commanding 3 to 1 lead last nght in their best-of-seven semi-final series against Hershey and Indianapolis respectively.

The Hershey Bears and the Indianapolis Caps must win three straight games or bow out. It doesn't require any mathematician to show the odds are against them.

At Cleveland a crowd of 11,206 saw the Barons forced to go an overtime period before whipping Hershey 3-2. Bill Hudson and Johnny Harms tallied for the Bears in the second session after a scoreless opening period. Lou Trudel put Cleveland back into contention midway through the final stanza and Les Cunningham scored the tieing goal at 15.03.

The Barons won out in the 10-minute overtime period on Pete Horeck's goal.

A crowd of 6,956 at Indianapolis watched the Caps try in vain to crack the Buffalo defence in the closing minutes.

The first period was scoreless in this game too. With the second frame less than a minute old Bill Thomson counted with a close-in shot. Eldy Kobissen evened the count eight minutes later.

Two goals within one minute early in the third session—by Roger Leger and Larry Thibeault—made it 3-1 for Buffalo. The Bisons stood off a late rally by the Capitals in which Bessette was beaten only once as Winky Smith tallied.

Hershey plays at Cleveland Tuesday while Indianapoli plays at Buffalo Wednesday.

DURHAM, N.C., March 27 — (AP). — With a total of 271 for the 72 holes, Craig Wood, 1941 U.S. open champion of Mamaroneck, N.F., yesterday won the $5,000 open golf tourney here, defeating Byron Nelson of Toledo by three strokes.

Getliffe's Goal Scores Win For Canadiens

By FRASER MACDOUGALL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, March 27—(CP). — Coach Dick Irvin of Montreal Canadiens probably is thankful today that fast-skating Ray Getliffe yielded to persuasion at the opening of the National Hockey League season and reversed his decision to retire after eight seasons of professional hockey.

The 30-year-old Galt, Ont., native who runs a shoe store at Stratford fired the goal Saturday night that gave Canadians a 2-1 win over Toronto Maple Leafs and a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final series.

Getliffe's winning goal was tallied midway through the third period of a stirring game after Glen Harmon had scored for the Canadiens in the opening period and George Boothman fired one for Leafs in the second.

It was the second straight play-off win for the National Hockey League champions who defeated Toronto Thursday night in Montreal 5-1 after suffering a 2-1 setback in the first game of the series at Montreal last Tuesday. Fourth game is scheduled for Toronto ice tomorrow night and fifth in Montreal Thursday.

Getliffe, who started his N.H.L. career with Boston Bruins in 1935-36 and later went to Canadiens, played effective hockey all the way through Saturday's game and he had able assistance from such other Montreal players as Hector (Toe) Blake and Murphy Chamberlain. Chamberlain was particularly effective at times when Canadiens were short-handed in the penalty-studded game.

16 Minors.

Total penalties—all for minor infractions—numbered 16, with Canadiens drawing nine and Leafs seven. None of the goals was scored during penalties.

Paul Bibeault continued his sensational play in the Toronto goal. Canadiens fired 40 shots at him, 18 in the first period, and he got in the way of half a dozen that looked like sure goals. Bill Durnan had 25 Toronto shots to handle.

Harmon's first period-goal was unassisted and of the flukey variety, his shot from outside the defence being deflected into the nets off forward Ted Kennedy's leg. Boothman's goal came on assists by Kennedy and Pratt, while Getliffe had help from Phil Watson and Chamberlain in driving home his goal during a third period scramble in front of the Toronto nets.

Paid admissions numbered 14,505—seating capacity of Maple Leaf Gardens is just under 13,000. The Earl of Athlone, Governor-General of Canada, and the Princess Alice were in attendance.

Toronto's Gus Bodnar, named rookie of the year in the N.H.L., was presented with the Calder Trophy at the beginning of the second period by the league's managing director, Mervyn (Red) Dutton.

NEW YORK, March 27—(AP)—To fill the dull training days, the Giants and Dodgers are working up another feud, this time over Branch Rickey's statement that Brooklyn players who never had worn major league uniforms could whip a similar team of Giants, providing he could play Stretch Schultz at first ...Horace Stoneham, claiming Buddy Kerr as an antidote to Schultz, has gone so far as to name a lineup and offers to play it against them bums as a preliminary to one of the Red Cross games, April 13...What's their hurry? By mid-season, those guys probably will be regulars.

Monday Matinee

Jack Dugger, Ohio State basketball captain, is one of the few court stars (maybe the only one) who wears contact lenses..The shortage of exercise boys around racetracks is so acute that Earl Sande has been galloping some of his own horses and in Kentucky any kid who knows how to work a nag can pick up $25 or $30 a day.

Jiffers, More Figgers

If the war doesn't interfere, Ernie Caverley's 534-point college basketball scoring record may be in danger in the next few seasons... During the recent campaign Curt McCamy of West Fargo, N.D., High rang up 569 points in 27 games and Joe Hensley of Alexandria, Wa., George Washington High hit 479 in 29 games.

County Council Rescinds Forest Motion

Concluding Saturday its interim sitting coming beween the regular January and June sessions, Peterborough County Council, in a swift windup of its current business, approved grants to Nicholls and St. Joseph's Hospitals totalling $5,519.34 rescinded two motions adopted at the January session bearing on the reforestation area at the east of the county; and approved the reports of the Legal and Legislative Committee and the Committee on Appointments.

Already reported in Saturday's paper was the issue of grants of assistance to the local hospitals, a much-debated issue the various facets of which apparently made it advisable to deal with it exclusively in committee meeting. The upshot of several hours of intensive examination of the merits of the question was made public in the report of the standing Committee on Finance, adopted and supported by a by-law which was given its first reading.

Here it was revealed that for the year 1944 Peterborough County, by the levying of a half-mill rate on the equalized assessment, would provide $4,519.34 to the support of Nicholls Hospital and a further $1,000 to St. Joseph's Hospital. In a plea presented by a deputation of its board at the January session, Nicholls Hospital had appealed for a grant that would cover the county's share, then estimated at $10,131 of the deficit sustained by that institution for the year 1943.

Discuss Reforestation.

Reforestation was no less a burning issue at last week's deliberations of the Council, and in and out of committee it took up more time than any other item on the calendar. Debate centred around two motions recorded at the previous session, one of which presented the idea that the area of the county forest was now adequate and that therefore no further lots should be bought except under extenuating circumstances. The second motion was to the effect that a timber cruiser should be engaged to make an appraisal by which a valuation might be placed upon the property at the earliest possible date.

Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan advanced the motion advising rescinding of the earlier motions. He felt that by putting a value on the forest area the value of surrounding property might be considerably enhanced, making it difficult for the county to purchase more land should it be found desireable to do so. He praised the discreetness of the Committee on Reforestation, headed by W. A. Anderson, saying that by giving it a free hand some land had been acquired which would not otherwise have been made available to the county. "Personally, I have every confidence in the members of the committee, I am entirely satisfied with their work," Mr. Johnston stated. "Once I made a motion to let them carry on buying as they saw fit; I still feel the same way. There have been misunderstandings, of course, but these seem cleared up now."

Opposes Motion.

Reeve Gilbert McIlmoyle of Smith, original sponsor of the first motion, maintained that "there is very little sense in buying more land when we are not even planting in the areas we possess at present. That was why I made the motion; why go on acquiring lots if there is nothing we are going to do with them?" He made it explicit that nothing of condemnation and no show of lack of confidence in the committee chairman, Mr. Anderson, was to be implied from his having originated the motion calling for restriction of land purchases.

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore interposed to state that he thought the motion had been misunderstood. "It didn't mean necessarily that we shouldn't buy at all; but rather, it suggested that we should transfer our attention to better - populaed areas, perhaps buying small lots here and there that would be more in touch with the municipalities themselves."

Mentioning that an appraisal had been taken of the forest area, Reeve Peter Mather of Otonabee said he was sorry that secrecy had been kept on this matter. "The public is asking for this information; and there is nothing to hold back on the matter of appraisal" he said. Apparently the subject of discussion in committee meetings earlies, this appraisal was mentioned in passing two or three times in the open Council sitting on Saturday morning, but no details as to its date or findings were revealed.

Mr. Mather also wished that limits might be set on the extent to which the forest area would be allowed to exxpand. "We should designate that we will go just this far north and this far south," he said. He expressed opposition to the idea of a county road through the forest area making it more easy of access to motorists touring through to view it. "Remember that in such a project we can expect no aid whatsoever either from the Dominion or Province. It would be a bill of expense falling directly on the shoulders of the taxpayers of this county."

The road project found a supporter in Reeve McIlmoyle, who called it "a valuable undertaking even despite the expense. Without such a road, people just aren't going to go and see the county forest. At present it is necessary for them to go all the way round and in by Norwood; and when they come out they must come out by way or Norwood, too."

The merits of these various points of vie wwere laid aside for the time being and a vote taken on Mr. Johnston's motion, which was seconded by Deputy Reeve Alex. Archibald. The result was a majority in favor of rescinding both of the motions.

Following readings of the reports of view were laid aside for the time Legal and Legislative Committee and the Committee on Appointments, and of by-laws confirming the actions of these bodies, Council adjourned until the June session, which is expected to be held during the first week of that month.

PICKS UP THE ICE—The men of H.M.C.S. Shawinigan estimate their ship picked up about 500 tons of ice in a 17-hour cold snap during heavy weather somewhere on the Atlantic. With this enormous topweight, mostly on the port side, 100 tons of fuel oil were transferred from port to starboard tanks to correct a stiff list. Indicating the thoroughness of the attacking elements, the slender wires of the wireless antenna were encased in five inches of crystal clear ice. Here a rating swings away with the butt end of an axe, freeing the depth charge holders used in the throwers. Getting rid of the ice meant plenty of work for all hands. *RCN Photo by Photog. J. $300,000 Fire Destroys Cornwall Block

CORNWALL, March 27 — (CP). —Occupants of four apartments escaped from their smoke-filled residences Saturday as fire swept part of McLennan Block in downtown Cornwall, causing damage which is expected to reach a total of $300,000.

The fire, which started early in the morning, was still burning at 10 a.m., but danger of it spreading to adjoining buildings was past.

The fire started in premises occupied by Federal Stores—a five-and-ten chain organization — and then spread to four apartments averhead, and to the Pitrie Shoes Store. Adjoining stores occupied by Goldhammer's Ladies' Wear and the Marvel Shoe Shop suffered extensive smoke and water damage.

A fire wall confined the blaze to the south half of the McLennan building although smoke filled the north half of the block which contains six apartments and four business places. The occupants of these six apartments were forced to vacate while the escape of the persons living in the four apartments in the south half was described as "miraculous."

Mr and Mrs. Clair Laidley, formerly of Lindsay, Ont., were the first of the apartment residents to detect the smoke which billowed into their apartment following a slight explosion. They made their escape after assisting in the removal of other occupants of the apartments, but none of the residents were able to salvage any of their personal belongings.

Business places in the north section of the block which suffered smoke damage included Lou's Men's Shop, the T. Eaton Order Office, Medical Hall Drug Store, and W. J. Carson's Hardware.

anese "are showing signs of grave weakness" under hammer blows from the expanded United States Navy.

He said "hard fighting which... is not by any means decided yet" is going on in the Burma theatre.

Assuring that the British Commonwealth would "fight side by side with the United States against Japan no matter what it costs or how long it lasts" Mr. Churchill remarked: "We have suffered from Japanese injuries even greater than those which have roused the armed wrath of the American nation."

Turning to Russia with words of personal praise for Marshal Stalin, the Prime Minister declared:

"Not only have the Hun invaders been driven from the land they have ravaged, but the guts of the German army have been largely torn out by Russian valor and generalship."

Panic Prevails

The victorious advance of the Soviet armies to the fringes of the Balkans, Churchill said, "has been the main cause of Hitler's approaching downfall in those regions," with "panic and frenzy" already prevailing in Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria.

The Allied campaign in Italy, he said, "has not been as rapid or decisive as we had hoped," but he added he had no doubt Rome would be "rescued" despite nearly 25 German divisions now in Italy.

Although Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express declared the Prime Minister's "story of achievements in every direction was impressive—and none more than the record of home front preparations," the Daily Herald, Labor, and the Daily Mail expressed dissatisfaction, particularly with the latter part.

In that part, the Prime Minister said progress had been made in shaping such post-war projects as housing, education, national health, national insurance and demobilization of the armed forces, adding that "the government would have been commended.

"However," he declared, "there is a large number of respectable and even eminent people....who feel quite sincerely that the best work they can do....is to belabor the government with criticism and condemn them as unprofitable servants because they are not, in the midst of this deadly struggle, ready at any moment to produce foolproof solutions for the whole future world...."

The Daily Herald termed the broadcast "far from satisfying because "a great deal of the speech was devoted to peevish complaints against critics of the government." It said "there is public anxiety about reconstruction, both national and international, which the broadcast has not removed."

The Daily Mail said the war review "necessarily covered a good deal of familiar ground." It described the latter part of the speech, in which Mr. Churchill made a full-blooded defence of his government and told of post-war plans, as the best but added "nevertheless planning as a whole still is left in the air."

Belgium.

Other unspecified targets in western Germany also were attacked and mines were laid in enemy waters during the sweeping overnight operations.

Essen was the main source of Germany's heavy armament until last year's series of terrific assaults by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F., culminating in a 2,000-ton raid on the night of July 25.

After that final blow in the knockout series Sir Archibald Sinclair, air secretary, announced that "Essen and Krupps with it are shattered."

At the same time he added bombers might have to return to the big munitions centre to check any attempts at partial reconstruction.

7 Previous Raids

He called the results of seven previous major raids on Essen "catastrophic."

Fliers in last night's pounding were unable to observe the damage because of cloud cover.

The four-engined craft returned to Germany after an interval of only one night since their last great blow on the Reich—the 2,800-ton blasting of Berlin Friday night, carried out at a loss of 73 bombers, 13 of them Canadian.

The venture into occupied territory was follow-up to the Saturday night heavy bomber assault by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. on Aulnoyne, a French railway junction on the Belgian border, and the R.A.F. on Lyon in southeastern France. Mosquitoes attacked Berlin the same night. Only one R.A.F. plane was lost Saturday night and all the Canadian planes returned.

American heavy and medium bombers and fighters, in numbers estimated to total possibly 1,700, beat a rapid tattoo yesterday on targets near the coasts of France and the Netherlands, and in one foray fighters shot up airdromes within sight of Paris without opposition.

The four-engined aircraft loosed bombs against the Pas-de-Calais area and military installations in the Cherbourg area 200 miles to the west. Mediums hit the Ijmuiden docks of Holland, a German E-boat nest.

The American operations cost five bombers and one fighter.

FIRST AID TO THE ENEMY — Medical corpsmen of the British Royal Air Force give first aid to German prisoners who were hurt in the wreck of the U.S. landing craft. The boat was hurled on the rocks of a little island during a storm while en route to Naples from the Anzio beachhead.

FEELING BETTER

Nelson Wellman (Foxy) Havelock garage proprietor, who was shot some time ago while on a hunting expedition, is able to be around again. There is a slight stiffness in the left leg, but he walks without a crutch or cane.

CATTLE FOR WEST

M. H. Pimmet and Sons of Otonabee are forwarding eight purebred Shorthorn cattle, seven females and a bull calf, to Toronto on Friday where they will be included in a carload for delivery to Alberta. The consigning from Toronto to Western buyers is being supervised by provincial government representatives.

AN EARLY SWIM

The open air swimming season got an unusually early start the other day when Gerald Pinch, Ashburnham youth, dived into the icy waters of the Trent Canal to recover a quantity of canned goods noticed on the bottom of the waterway. Just where the cans came from is a mystery to the police department. Boys noticed the tins in the water and Pinch plunged in and recovered 20 cans, with the labels of course washed off them.

LISTS GROWING

The R.C.A.F. casualty lists are growing bigger. In the one released today there are 60 fliers missing on active service after air operations and 9 more, previously reported missing, presumed dead.

PROVOSTS STATIONED HERE

A detachment of the Canadian Provost Corps has been stationed in Peterborough to look after military police duties in this city. Hitherto the only military police on duty were those attached to the Military Training Centre, who looked after their own men.

JUDGE DID NOT VOTE

At the meeting of the Police Commission the other day the resolution to ask the Council to provide a retiring allowance for Chief Constable Sam. Newhall was adopted on motion of Mayor James Hamilton and Magistrate E. A. Gee. Judge S. L. Smoke, chairman of the board, declared the motion carried, but intimated that he was not voting on the resolution.

ARMY CASUALTIES

Three names of interest to Peterborough occur in today's Army casualty list. Pte. Fergus Leo Webb, son of Mrs. Pearl E. Webb, C/o Mrs. A. E. Bailey, Empress Hotel, seriously wounded with the R.C.O.C.; Pte. Edward Brooks, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, husband of Mrs. Lucy Brooks, Brighton, wounded; and Pte. Hubert P. Foster, son of Mrs. Hattie Foster, Frankford, slightly wounded. He is with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

REALITY

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, including First Church of Christ Scientist in Peterborough. The Golden Text was: "The counsel of the Lord standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations." Selections from the Bible included the following from Ecclesiastes 3:14: "I know that whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before Him." Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, included the following: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause." "Let us learn of the real and eternal, and prepare for the reign of Spirit, the kingdom of heaven—the reign and rule of universal harmony, which cannot be lost nor remain forever unseen."

G. D. Ross Smith Promoted To Lt.-Colonel

LT. COL. G. D. ROSS SMITH

Although he has never seen his daddy, Graham Smith, aged 2, will have no trouble recognizing Lt.-Col. G. D. Ross Smith of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, when he comes back from the war.

The little lad, accompanied by his mother and sister Anne, aged 3, arrived at the Examiner office two days ago, when his mother announced that his father had been promoted to Lieut-Colonel after 2½ years overseas. They also had a picture. It is just an ordinary photograph, but the children have memorized its features by heart and know who it is and what he is doing.

Dark haired Graham waved enthusiastically as he got up to leave, calling "bye, bye Daddy", a cry which was echoed by his sister Anne. The closing of the door cut off their final farewells abruptly.

Lt.-Col G. D. Ross Smith was formerly president of the Canvass Goods Company in Montreal and his wife has been living in Peterborough at 87 London Street, for two years. After spending some months in Sicily and Italy, he has returned for duty in England. Lt.-Col. Smith was stationed at Camp Borden for two years before going overseas.

FLYING OVERSEAS—Sgt. Air Gunner Fred Tanner is another of the district boys flying overseas. He is the son of Pte. Frank Tanner of the Veterans' Guard, Windsor, and Mrs. Tanner, now of Peterborough. The family had previously lived in Apsley. Before enlisting, the young airman, 21, worked in Braund's Charlotte Street store.

Fire Destroys Garage And Car

The quiet of Sunday morning's early hours on the west side was disrupted by a fierce fire that left the private garage of 522 Sherbrooke and a car that had been inside it a total wreck after firemen battled for half an hour using 600 feet of 2½ inch water hose. Cause of the blaze was undetermined though it was known the car had been put in the garage only a short time before the fire broke out. The residence is the home of H. Menzie, but the car belonged to another party who had not been located by the Fire Chief up to noon today. The alarm answered by the Department came in an 2 a.m.

The youthful perpetrator of a false alarm, little Johnnie Conway of 73 Gladstone avenue, aged six, was kept by his responsible-minded parents at the scene of his crime at Box 5 near the Canada Packers Saturday afternoon until Chief Gimblett drove up and presumably gave the youngster a scolding. This happened at 5:38 p.m. and the boy was walking up George street with his father and mother when the red box loomed into sight, a temptation apparently too intriguing for him to resist.

Monday morning's first alarm was from 280 Thomas street, William Begley, where a chimney fire was reported at 10:18 a.m. No damage resulted.

Miss L. Hamilton Dies Suddenly

The sudden death of Miss Lillias Whyte Hamilton, secretary of the law firm of Carley and Standish, at St. Joseph's Hospital Saturday morning was a deep shock to her many friends.

Miss Hamilton had carried on her office duties up to a week ago Saturday, and the following Sunday she had attended the communion service at St. Paul's Church. She had not been feeling well in recent weeks, and had decided to go to the hospital a week ago today for rest and physical examination. Even on Saturday morning her closest friends had no feeling of alarm although the medical report at Friday evening had not been so favorable as was expected.

Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart and Mrs. R. R. Hall were with her at the end following a fatal turn about an hour before noon.

Miss Hamilton was born in Peterborough, a daughter of one of the city's oldest families. Her parents were the late Robert David Hamilton and his wife, Margaret Christie. She was educated here and had resided all her life in this city. For many years she was secretary to the late R. R. Hall, K.C., and continued in the same position with his successors, his nephew, T. J. Carley, K.C., and partner, Ralph Standish.

An active member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Miss Hamilton was especially interested in Missionary Auxiliary. She will be greatly missed by members of St. Paul's, and by many other friends who will remember her kindly and amiable personality. She was a director of the Colonial Weaving Company.

The funeral service was conducted this afternoon by Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart at the home of Mrs. R. R. Hall, 459 Reid street, with whom Miss Hamilton had lived during the last six years. Surviving relatives are her cousins, Mayor James Hamilton, Mrs. B. B. Gillespie, Misses Margaret and Florence Hamilton of this city and Dr. Frank Park of Toronto.

The pall bearers were R. M. Glover, W. H. Thompson, James Heffernan, A. Llewllyn Hall, Fred Hills and H. C. Sootheran. Interment was at Little Lake Cemetery.

6 Million Homeless

IN GREAT BRITAIN — Sgt. Oscar F. Newton of the R.C.A.F. is serving in Great Britain. He enlisted in May, 1941, and trained at Mount Joli, where he graduated as an air gunner. His wife lives in Havelock.

County Action Lauded By Hospitals

"Personally I am very pleased at the action of the county council in giving us a grant," said E. Bruce Fowler, secretary of Nicholls Hospital, when asked this morning his reaction to the news that Peterborough County will raise a half-mill on its equalized assessment for the support of the local hospitals, $4,519 of which is to go to Nicholls.

"I am glad the County has recognized its responsibility," Mr. Fowler informed the Examiner, "and feel that this will eventually lead to some arrangement whereby it will assume its share of the burden of our costs. More and more demands have been made each year on our facilities by County patients and therefore we need the County's support. The present arrangement is a very pleasing gesture and an indication of what can be done."

Speaking for St. Joseph's Hospital, which under the terms of the council's grant is to receive $1,000 in 1944, the Mother Superior said "we are indeed grateful for this assistance. We saw where the county council were thinking of giving us some help, but still the news of the grant comes as a pleasant surprise. We know they have many demands on their resources, so we are especially glad to have them remember us."

It was revealed that during the past four or five years the number of county patients of St. Joseph's has greatly increased, though it was said the increase was not out of proportion with the overall increase experienced by the hospital from all sources. The great majority of county patients, it was added, were public ward cases.

Helen Zakos Performs At Toronto Concert

Their day of glory thirty-two years ago, when their nation cast off the fetters of Turkey, was celebrated in Toronto Sunday by several thousand citizens of Greek descent, many of them converging from small towns and cities throughout the province.

Events of the day included a church service, and also a concert at which Mayor Conboy expressed the hope that before many months Greece, with the Allied nations would again be free from German domination, and that a new era of peace would be established throughout the world.

Peterborough Greeks were represented by most of their members. They reported today that little Helen Zakos, six years old, took the place in the concert program of another girl who was prevented by illness from appearing. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spiros Zakos greatly pleased the large crowd with a dance number that received three encores.

Expect Push On Warsaw

STOCKHOLM, March 27.—(AP). —German military circles in Berlin expect a big new Russian offensive aimed directly at Warsaw, the Nazi controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau reported today.

German reports told of large masses of Red Army troops being assembled east of Kovel, 170 miles southeast of Warsaw. The Germans recently have told of fighting inside Kovel.

Tribute To Canada

London, March 27 (CP)

THE Sunday Observer said that "none of history's tributes to Allied pooling will outrun that due to Canada."

"Canadian help," said the newspaper, "has been very big.... in the Dominion's new agreements with Britain, Russia, Australia, New Zealand, China and Fighting France, the most generous of terms are stated...."

All that Canada looks for, the rticle concluded, are freedom of trade and post-war co-operation.

Young People Take Charge Of Service

The young people of St. Paul's Presbyterian church were in charge of the evening service on Sunday when one of the largest evening congregations in some months was present. William Moorhead, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moorhead of this city and a fourth year student of Knox College, preached and in charge of the service was Miss Mary Currie. Miss Currie was assisted by Gordon Minty and Ray Watson.

A young people's quartette composed of Helen Cuthbertson, Betty White, Earl Powers and James McBride sang William J. Thompson's "Softly and Tenderly" and Pte. G. E. Fennell of the Training Centre, rendered in fine voice Hamblen's "Beside Still Waters."

The young people also acted as ushers and took up the offering.

Bread Shortage

NORDEGG, Alta., March 27—(CP) —Some 2,000 people, miners and their families, were temporarily left short of bread and other food supplies by a fire which destroyed the Big Horn Trading Co. store and Blazitti Bakery here Saturday night. Snow blocked roads prevented supplies reaching here by truck. Arrangements were made for a boxcar to be loaded with food at Red Deer to be rushed here today.

Trouble For Nazis

LONDON, March 27 — (CP-Reuters).—The Swiss radio said Saturday night that 32 German soldiers were killed in Rome last Thursday by unknown assailants. Ten hostages were reported to have been taken for every German soldier killed.

Two Oshawa Men Fined $25, Costs

John Hobbs, 21, Oshawa and W. J. Nicholl, 18, a member of the R.C.A.F. from the same city were fined $25 and $2.50 costs each in police court this morning after they had pleaded guilty before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., to a charge of having liquor in a place other than a residence.

The two men in company with a couple of girls had been found in a parked car near the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets early Sunday morning and in the car Sgt. W. E. Wigg found a carton containing nine pints of beer.

As a result the two men were arrested and held until this morning, while the girls, against whom no charge was made, were allowed to go.

In addition to imposing fines this morning, Magistrate Langley ordered that the liquor found in the car should be confiscated.

The alternative to the fine was a month's imprisonment. While McNicholl was waiting after police court to obtain the money for his fine, his companion was notified by telephone from Oshawa that the young airman's father, who had been in hospital for some time suffering from a broken hip, had died.

$75,000 Raised By Fund For War Victims

Everybody hates to part with money under compulsion, and even the necessary evil of paying of taxes in any shape or form could by no stretch of imagination be termed something that found much favor with anyone, so it speaks volumes for the enviable record achieved this day by the residents of Peterborough and District that they have reached a total of over $75,000 in voluntary givings to assist the sufferers from air raids over Britain, through the local and District Fund which operates with that special objective in view.

There is a genuine humanity displayed in this that no millions in currency can purchase on a wordly basis, for the highest type of sympathy for those in trouble and difficulty is displayed, and at that to thousands of human sufferers whom very few of the donors will ever have an opportunity to see.

On a per capita basis of population, this is believed to be one of outstanding efforts of its kind in this country, and like all good works of a humanitarian nature, should go on from strength to strength in its noble work, and may some day reach the century mark for the commonwealth, that will give such inspiration as will provide incentive for others to follow in the years that are still to come.

C. G. E. Industrial Control

On the records of this fund, the Industrial Control Department of the Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd. happen to be the entry which provided the final push to chalk up this latest achievement, and in a sense this might be considered something that was quite appropriate, for in all, they have made some eleven contributions to the fund, three of which have appeared this year, following the previous one made a few days before Christmas to assist the special objectives the fund had at that time.

In talking to P. Killingbeck who is the foreman of this group at the C. G. E. Co. Ltd., the secretary of the fund was particularly urged to ascribe the credit for leadership in this labor of love for others by them to Philip Weir, who has been so assiduous in passing the box around on Saturday morings, that in all a total of $228.86 has come by this means to the fund since February 1943, of which $73.89 has been recorded this year, when one includes the donation of $29.17, which is listed in their name to-day.

Suggest Objective $10,000.

This latest contribution now gives at total credit of $6,808.76 to the employees of the Industrial plants directed by works manager Ian F. McRae, and from the very nature of the place they hold in the life of this community, it would seem almost quite within the range of possibility if not almost a challenge, to so work as to bring it up to the $10,000. mark. There is no worthier cause in this field of endeavour to assist in the war effort, and rich blessings must follow such a noble work.

Being particularly a fund that operates in the name of the city itself and district, it would seem most appropriate that the store with the longest record of business within its confines should have one of the fund's penny boxes located there, and since a collection amounting to $2.00 was made from it, this sum also appears in today's receipts. This oldest establishment the W. H. Hamilton Grocery on Simcoe street, has itself been represented a number of times in the receipts listed for the fund.

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

March 27, 1940—R.A.F. planes shot down five German planes and lost one in air battles over the western front. French naval ministry announced seven killed and a number missing through an explosion aboard the destroyer Railleuse. Finnish Premier Risto Ryti's cabinet resigned.

RECEIVES PROMOTION—Mrs. Beatrice Ellis, Rubidge Street, has received word that her son-in-law, Major Bates Raney of the United States Army, has been promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel. He enlisted when war broke out and is stationed in Bermuda. His wife is living in New York City.

Realty Year Starts With April 1

And then there's the real estate year, beginning on April 1. It is only a temporary development "for the duration" and probably for a little while after the peace, when the basic law of landlord and tenant will be restored.

Most people know ony the calendar year, and are vaguely aware of some of its variations such as the Chinese year; the Russian; Hebrew and so on. There is also the fiscal year and the ecclesiastical year.

The realty year was devised by the Dominion Government to protect tenants during the emergent housing conditions caused by the war. If you are a landlord and wish to get possession of a house, you are required to give that tenant notice prior to March 31. And the occupant has six months, until September 30, to look around for a new roof.

6 Months' Grace

Suppose that you bought a house last winter, or last October, the tenant may remain in occupancy until next September 30; and you are required to deliver to him by next Friday formal notice that you want possession of the place.

The primary purpose of this wartime regulation was to prevent tenants from being forced to move during the winter. Whether they appreciate this intervention in their behalf is beyond knowing, but on the other hand some landlords feel that the Government has been unduly solicitious for the tenant.

How you can borrow at Household Finance quickly, simply and without endorsers—12 monthly instalments of $9.46 each repay $100 loan in full

NEED $100, $200 or up to $500? Here's a way to get additional cash without fuss or bother. Just tell Household Finance about your problem and choose a convenient payment plan from the table below. No endorsers or guarantors are ever required. And we do not question friends or relatives about your credit. Household Finance loans are made largely on character and earning ability. So if you have a job or other source of steady income don't hesitate to apply for whatever amount you may need.

Rate reduced on loans over $300

You may repay your loan in 2 to 15 monthly instalments. The sooner you repay the less your loan costs. A $100 loan repaid in 12 monthly instalments of $9.46 each—a total of $113.52—costs $13.52, if repaid in six monthly instalments of $17.85 each the cost is only $7.10. Charges on loans of more than $300 were recently reduced. Notice that 12 monthly instalments of $46.73 each now repay a $500 loan in full. Payments shown in the table include both principal and all costs. You pay nothing more. We have no hidden charges of any kind.

Cash for most any purpose

You may get cash at Household to pay old debts, taxes, insurance, medical or dental service, to help relatives—for almost any purpose. If you need money at any time, phone, write or visit Household Finance.

Berry, of Annapolis Royal, N.S., accompanied him to Peterborough.

Prize winners at the regular Saturday night bingo, sponsored by the Citizens' Committee and held at the Uptown Recreation Centre, were as follows: the telephone call, sponsored by Frank's Furniture Store, Pte. L. Ellieff, Quebec City, Quebec; the telephone call donated by Comstock and Sons Furniture, Pte. John Swaine, of Yarmouth, N.S. Other prizes included cigarettes, donated by the Orange Hall Bingo.

Assist At Camp

Ladies of the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E., served sandwiches and coffee to a capacity crowd in the camp theatre Sunday evening, after the regular Sunday program. A group of hostesses from the Uptown Recreation Centre, under Miss Helen Lytle, assisted Major R. M. Bamsey in a program of community singing. Mrs. B. Jackson was convener, assisted by Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. H. C. Sherwood, Mrs. D. E. Bell, Mrs. A. McConkey, Mrs. C. M. Cox and Miss Jean Cox.

Soldiers Entertained

A large number of soldiers from the local Training Centre were entertained at the Uptown Recreation Centre Sunday afternoon and evening, by the Sunday Canteen Girls. About fifty hostesses were present, and served coffee and honey-dip doughnuts to the boys during the afternoon.

Cpl. Mac Turner, Pte. Stevens, Barbara Nicholls and Jimmie Abraham were at the piano for community singing during the afternoon, and games were also played. Mrs. C. Norman was at the piano for a sacred singsong during the evening, led by Capt. V. Graham, and Capt. Graham closed the period with a short prayer.

Registered Nurses Hostesses At Spring Tea

Eight student nurses, in crisp, trim uniforms, served guests at the spring tea, sponsored by the Registered Nurses Peterborough Chapter, and held Saturday afternoon in the Green Room and Library of the Y.W.C.A. Four of the nurses were training at Nicholls Hospital, and four at St. Joseph's Hospital. Those serving were: Misses M. Tufts, K. Cronkright, A. O'Leary, M. Mulhall, O. Wilson, E. Elmhirst, B. Greatrix and M. Nesbitt.

Receiving were Miss Margaret Beavis, vice-president of the Chapter, Mrs. W. E. Conway, representing Nicholls Hospital Alumnae, and Mrs. Howard Macdonald, representinging St. Joseph's Hospital Alumnae. There were three hostesses, Mrs. W. L. Ferguson, Mrs. Eva Breckenbridge, and Mrs. F. C. LaPlante. Miss Mary Greer was general convener.

The table set with crystal and silver, was centred with a bouquet of daffodils and flanked by four crystal candlesticks, set with green tapers. Two large silver urns were placed at either end. Mrs. Barbara Hickey and Miss Edith Young poured tea.

Soloists during the afternoon were Mrs. James Goldie and Mrs. Leo Picard. Mrs. W. J. Gordon played a piano solo, and also made the draw on the lamp, for which tickets had been sold. The winning ticket was number 247, and as yet no one has claimed the prize. Miss Mary Greer holds the stub, and will see that the winner receives his gift.

Another feature of the afternoon was the display set up in the library. Posters about the various phases of nursing, and the different branches of nursing open to prospective students, were shown, and an idea of the scope of the work was given. Projects of the student nurses were on display, and a miniature village showed the difference between the nursing of long ago, and the up-to-date methods of today.

Spring Coats Can Do 24-Hour Duty

This Spring coats do 24-hour duty. Take for instance the new casual coats, most popular of which is the "boy" coat or overcoat which tops your suits smartly as your dresses. There are many versions from which to choose including camel hair coats with smart hand stitching, "boy" coats, collarless box coats, Spring versions of the all-important Chesterfield. Plus those tremendously popular "short" coats — definitely long on style wear and one of the thriftiest of wardrobe investments this Spring Brief and boxy, they top every costume dashingly — ensemble beautifully with your dresses and slacks. Here's where you can go in for color to superchange your wardrobe! For example, have your short coat in vivid checks, bright red or one of the new pastels. They'll really punctuate every costume with smartness plus! Dressmaker coats also follow the simple, easy silhouette and here, these coats serve double duty because they turn every dress into an "ensemble." Among the highlights is the satin or braid bound two button reefer, universally figure-flattering and smart everywhere. Then there's the softly fitted tie-front dressmaker coat which takes your frilled blouses beautifully. Many of these dressmaker coats have detachable white collars for that fresh-faced crisp look, so important this Spring. The princess coat, button front and with either soft revers or tiny peter pan collar is also scheduled for tremendous success.

No Priority on Spring Hats

These Spring hats are picture-pretty abloom with color! And most important, there's no priority on any of them! Designed to wear beautifully with either the upswept or long bob, or to perch prettily in back of pompadours, there are hats to flatter every face, to top every costume with chic.

Suit hats are legion and the beloved beret in both tiny and large pancake size is back with us again, completely new and fresh-faced worn perfectly straight on the head or off the brow. Of course the versatility of the beret is endless and you can tilt yours in a variety of flattering ways. In navy blue with a dash of white, the beret is really the hat for your navy blue suit. Of course because of its great popularity, the beret comes back for Spring in a host of colors and fabrics. The straight-on-the-head sailor is another fashion winner, newest with the slim taller crown. The tiny skull cap which fits the head very snugly is of the newest of the new hats for Spring and is dramatically exciting worn with the long bob. Very snug fitting and completely simple and plain, it makes much of a pretty brow and spotlights lovely eyes. And because it keeps your hair completely away from the face (gather your curls chignon fashion in the back) it gives you that smooth well-groomed look.

Personality Dresses

Here again dresses follow the simple silhouette, capitalizing on smooth figure lines, cleverly draped slim skirts, tucked or softly bloused waistlines. High necklines make news, especially those with soft bow tie-fronts, although many of these high necklines can be worn high or low further proof that almost all of the new Spring fashions have a double duty life. The simple black or navy dress with detachable lingerie trim is slated for tremendous success because of its day in and day out versatility. A quick-change of lingerie frilled collar to a tailored dickie or a huge crisp taffeta bow adds up to four dresses in one! Suit dresses those with softly fitted jacketed slim skirt are also starred. Plus casual dresses in vivid print or pastel with separate jackets which jackets of course can top other dresses smartly too! So you see women will still be well-dressed this Spring — and still be patriotic!

Home-Sewing Is Helping Solve Clothing Problem In Wartime

Facts from all fronts indicate that Canadian women are sewing today—more busily than they have since the days when great-grandmother made all of her own clothes, the children's and even great-grandfather's shirts by her own fireside. Not only are women who have always made some of their own clothes doing more sewing, but women who have never sewed before are learning how to make their own dresses, coats and suits.

Naturally, the war with its accompanying shortages of manufactured civilian goods has accelerated the return to making clothes at home. People associated with home sewing in all its branches, however, feel very strongly that this increased interest in sewing is by no means entirely an outgrowth of wartime conditions. As a matter of fact, an ever-growing interest in sewing had been observed for several years before the outbreak of the war.

Women can readily turn to their needles, today, when they really need to, because of the groundwork has been laid over a period of years by the teaching of up-to-date sewing methods in schools, educational programs of commercial firms in the sewing industry, and home demonstration agents' activity in adult education, teaching women not merely to hem, baste and seam, but to make complete wardrobes for themselves and their families.

The economy of making clothes at home is another factor which has increased the ranks of home sewers in recent years. The fact that a home sewn dress costs from one half to one third as much as a ready-made one is well known to most housewives. When the clothes budget has to be cut, women have turned to sewing as their greatest aid to a smart, well-rounded wardrobe.

Canadian women as a whole have become more and more conscious of perfect fit and individual styling in clothes, and many had already turned to home sewing to achieve these results long before the war started. Modern dress patterns are high style designs and appeal to the most exacting tastes.

Home sewing today is much simpler than it ever has been before. New patterns are easier to follow and clearly and concisely explained. All sorts of sewing aids are now available, to make sewing simpler.

They include besides actual instructions in sewing which often may be had free of charge, such "tools" as plastic dress forms, ready-made coat facings, skirt markers, tracing wheels, ready-to-use shoulder pads of all shapes and sizes, and so on.

Now that war conditions have brought about higher prices in ready-mades, in many cases a lowering of quality standards and fewer styles to choose from, these women who already knew how to sew and made some of their own clothes are now doing more sewing, as their answer to the problem. The need for "making things over" to conserve fabric has also prompted many to sew. A great many women have learned to sew in war work—sewing for the Red Cross and other organizations, and the skill they acquire carries over into their own domestic life.

Right now, the Government is asking women to make as many of their own clothes as possible, as a means of conserving labor, machinery and materials which are needed in the war effort.

For Tuesday, March 28

A most promising and auspicious day is read from the ruling configurations. Promotion, progress and favors may be expected from those in influence, as well as from political, diplomatic and fraternal or corporate bodies. While there is a definite element of surprise, with an inclination to grasp at sudden openings, yet it would be well to pause and carefully consider their merit, as their effect may be far-reaching and precipitate unforeseen change or disruption. Literary and artistic pursuits may call for renewed aggression. Reason rather than emotions should influence all decisions.

Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may prepare themselves for an exciting year, with unforeseen changes, travel and adventure, accompanied by exceptional openings for advancement, preferment, and the friendly support of those in influence and authority. Cultivate these with tact and diplomacy. Deal with large organizations, but with logic and far vision, carefully considering plans and agreements, and eliminating hasty and emotional climax, as important denouements are in the offing, and there is danger of false moves.

A child born on this day may have rare talents of a literary, artistic or inventive genius. It may have an eventful career, in high favor with superiors.

Sports Clothes Are Styled for Comfort

Newly successful for leisure or week-end wear are slacks suits with contrasting sleeves and trousers. Some of these incorporate spun rayon on fabrics in solid and checked or plaid patterns. Others are stitched jacket versions that look the part of the busy homeworker or outdoor "handy man."

"Everywhere the trend is toward comfort-giving, sensible design that allows the wearer to get down to business, yet keeps him feeling trim and well turned out for the job at hand. Color is a part of this fashion story too....and leading clothing designers promise that post-war clothing for the masculine members of society will hold their own and then some from the point of view of style and interest.

Green Favorite In Men's Hat Styles

Green the color of spring is the color that is top style in men's felt hats this season. It's a fresh, new-looking color that is particularly pleasing at this time of year, and the shades cover a wide range from the olive browns to the true, deep greens. It's a color that is "something different" and at the same time harmonizes with the basic colors in men's clothing.

Murray St. Church Setting For Vass-Edgar Nuptials

A pretty wedding took place Saturday evening at 6 o'clock in Murray Street Baptist Church, when Jean Grace Edgar became the bride of AC.2 Leonard Vass, R.C.A.F. The bride is the daughter of Sgt.-Major Roy Edgar and Mrs. Edgar, 39 Dobbin Avenue, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Vass, Port Hope Highway, and is stationed in Toronto. Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe officiated.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Leo Jones of Peterborough, the bride was gowned in hand-made white lace over taffeta. The dress was made on princess lines, with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, and a train. Her veil of white net fell to the floor from a Queen Anne headdress, and she wore a necklace of pearls and carried American Beauty roses.

She was attended by Mrs. Charles Smith, of Niagara Falls, as matron of honor, and Miss Aileen Clancy of Peterborough, as bridesmaid. The former was gowned in floor-length yellow taffeta with a gathered waistline, a Queen Anne headdress, shoulder-length veil, and carried a nosegay of sweet peas and roses. Miss Clancy wore a frock of rose taffeta, on princess lines, with a Queen Anne headdress, shoulder-length veil, and nosegay of sweet peas and roses. Betty Edgar, sister of the bride, was flower girl, in pale blue taffeta, and Murray Edgar, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mr. Edward Bestard was best man, and the ushers were Harvey Allison and Archie Walden. The groom's gift to the bride was a brown travelling bag, and the bride's gift to the groom was a wallet and a case of toilet articles, in Airforce blue leather. The matron of honor and bridesmaid received white silk scarves with the Airforce emblem, and the ushers received wallets. The groom's gift to the best man was a tie set.

At the reception, held aat Hooper's Palm Rooms, the bride's mother received in a frock of flowered crepe, with a navy hat, and a corsage of roses. Also receiving was the groom's mother, in a two-piece blue crepe dress, with a black hat and a corsage of rosec.

For a short wedding trip, the bride chose a navy dress, matching accessories, and a tan tweed coat.

Accessories Set the Costume Pace For Milady's New Spring Wardrobe

Accessories keep in step with the quickened tempo of this new spirited Spring, to work quick-change magic for busy-life wardrobes. Suits and dresses can be dressed 'up or down' by a lightning change of accessories, to meet the need of the moment under pressure of wartime activitie.

Neckwear Necromancy.

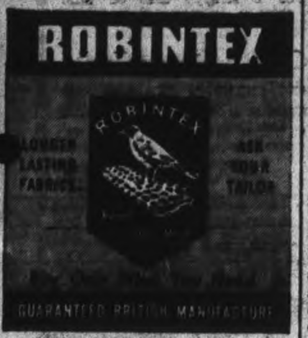
There is nothing more versatile, or more refreshing than crisp neckwear to give suits and dresses a dual personality. Wear a tailored dickey with your suit, and look groomed and efficient— quick change to a frou frou dickey of lace and look feminine and fetching. Collar and cuff sets will transform a simple dress with equal ease and wonderful effects—from pique perfection to lingerie loveliness in practically no time at all! A generous collection of lingerie will work wonders for even the slimmest wardrobe, with flattery and freshness as extra dividends.

Suit Accessories.

Bags and gloves have very definite personalities, and they can be put to work for costume smartness in your suit life! Even a tailored suit will go sentimental, when white gloves and pataent leather bag are substituted for a tailored leather bag and shortie gloves! Bags and gloves can play to your audience in different roles, throughout your wardrobe. A pair of gloves in color to pick up a print accent color in your dress, will achieve a convincing costume effect quite effortlessly . . . or try a colored fabric handbag with your dark costume, and make it bright!

Spring Jewelry.

Navy is triumphant for Spring, and white provides the perfect spark. Chalk white bead jewelry with your navy suit will crisp the whole effect, and give it freshness. The new bead jewelry is frankly feminine, with a softly massed appearance, and featherweight championship honors! Be sure to see the lacy white costume jewelry, too. It's birthday frosting fragile looking, and shows the dark color through when worn with black navy or brown. All of which means "ditto" come summer and you're sun-tanned!



Serviceability Plays Big Part In Men's Styles

The tradition of buying quality strongly influences man and boys in selecting new clothing. Due to government regulations, difficulties in manufacturing and labor shortages at the present time, serviceability is playing a leading role in the selection of clothes today, and justifiably so, since many of the items in the masculine wardrobe are called upon to do double duty. This holds particularly true for spring styles, the keynote of which is sportswear — which a man can work in!

The strong desire to maintain reliable standards brings into the limelight durable, sturdy fabrics, fashioned into serviceable, practical apparel, comfortable and easy to wear.

Lightweight tweed suits, equally suitable for home, the office or the country are featured for an important spot in spring wardrobes. The color range of grays, blues, and browns is equally suitable for all occasions. Marching in step with the tweeds are the ever triumphant tropicals that carry a man right through summer in cool comfort.

The topcoat offerings this spring are primarily designed to take care of the proverbal quick changes in temperature that are synonomous with spring. Rain or shine man can always be prepared with a reversible, water repellant topper. Garbardines, coverts and lightweight wools are alternates to weatherproof materials. Subtle plaids and solids lead the way, in finger-tip and just below the knee lengths.

For leisure hours around the house and early Victory Gardening slacks, polo shirts and sports jackets take first place. Polo shirts in tailored stripes, bold plaids or shepherd checks, with long or short sleeves, combine smartly with flannel or garbadine slacks. This outfit topped with a casual jacket or loafer coat completes the picture.

Boys too, are getting rock bottom security in their spring wardrobe purchases. The trend here again is to sportswear, with stress being put on the combination of practibility and style. Fashions for "little men" fall right in line for fashions for Dad.

PASSES OBJECTIVE

LONDON — (CP) — The £1,000,000 target for Lady Cripps' Aid-to-China fund by March 14 was exceeded by nearly £7,000 a day before. The first £1,000,000 was raised in just over 18 months.

THE ROSE DECKED HELMET—Paper-thin white straw is draped back in a helmet line to reveal the profile and cheeks, to shelter the popular chignon hairdo. The trim is in a pink, fullblown rose, with glossy leaves. The designer of this beautiful spring-time hat calls it a cloche, which is her privilege, but as a word, cloche makes most women remember that old shaving bowl, cheek obscuring ball dome which made hideous the heads of twenty years ago. We'd rather call this charming topper a profile hat, which caps a lovely face and hairdo without damaging either.

—By Prunella Wood.

... gan necks, low necklines, belted coats, cap sleeves, boleros, box jackets and peplums. The sculptured torso, low waistline, is the big news in the lance-slim dress. A very smart dress in navy blue crepe has the softly draped and moulded bodice buttoned from the V neck to the bottom. A broad band of grosgrain ribbon with white dots showing a variation of the new matador shoulder is caught in a dressmaker bow, and the low waistline has the same ribbon and bow treatment.

The hat worn with this dress is in white. It's off the face, worn far back on the head, one of the new half hats, and has a lover's knot bow in centre front of the blue and white polka dot ribbon. White gauntlet gloves and navy pumps complete a very smart Easter costume.

Just a word about the spring gloves. Navy blue is the color, materials soft velvety suedes and smooth suave leathers. Navy blue gloves are going to play up many smart contrasts with your colored clothes this spring. Navy is the classic for pale neutrals like beige or grey. A fascinating shade with the delicate pastels. Grand with glowing greens, and reds. Sophisticated with tangerine, fuchsia or violet. There has never been a season when gloves have played such an important part in the spring fashion.

WAR BLIGHTS TEEN-AGE GIRLS

Nothing So Terrible As Utter Demoralization Which Breeds Disease and Disgrace.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a teen-age girl. Most of my girl friends who are my age want to get married, so they pick up any soldier or sailor they can get. They smoke, drink, and sometimes forget to go home at night. They sleep at some apartment and tell their mothers that they were at my home.

My mother doesn't allow me to go out evenings, and if I do I have to be home by nine o'clock. My friends call me a sissy because I refuse to do as they do. I tell them that some day they will be sorry for what they are doing, but they don't believe me.

Can't you please tell them why they shouldn't go running around with strange soldiers and sailors and staying out all night?

AN OLD-FASHIONED GIRL.

Teen-age Girls Demoralized

ANSWER—If you have tears to shed, prepare to shed them, all you who read this letter, for nothing else in the whole war is so terrible as the utter demoralization it has brought about among the teen-age girls.

We shudder as we think of the tragedy of the boys who will be slain on the battle fields, but here is something far sadder than that. For these boys die in honor, fighting for their country, and leave their parents and friends a memory of which to be proud of. But a fate far worse than death awaits these little wild and wayward girls. Their portion is disease and disgrace, and as long as they live and wherever they go the finger of shame will be pointed at them.

There was a time, and not so long ago, when what we then called "fallen women" constituted a class of which we did not even speak to our young girls, and if anybody had told us then that our teen-age daughters would, according to the statistics gathered by the F.B.I. Social Agencies, form more than one-half of it, we would not only have been horrified, we would have been incapable of believing it.

Yet no one can deny that such is the case today and these girls are not the sweepings of the slums. A large proportion of them are girls like the one who wrote this letter, girls from good homes, girls from good families, girls who are being given, at least, a chance of a good education, girls who should have made good wives and mothers.

It is not hard to see how adolescent girls are swept off of their feet by war hysteria, by the glamor of uniforms and brass buttons and by the desire for good times. But what one cannot understand is why the mothers of these girls have not had the intelligence to realize the temptations that were being put in their teen-age girls' way and the courage and firmness to deal with it.

For the silly girls, who have the passions of women and the lack of judgment and sophistication of children, we dare offer up the ultimate prayer of mercy: "Father, forgive them. They know not what they do." But no mother who does not know where her teen-age girl is at night can make that plea for herself. She has defaulted on her job, and she deserves the punishment she will receive.

And the pity of it is that the girl must also pay for her mother's failure to protect her.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX — Before my marriage I let my husband know that I expected to inherit a fortune. When we were first married he tried to act as though he cared for me, but I knew deep down in my heart that he didn't. He would give me the money to run the house on and then get it back by lying to me and giving it to a married woman with whom he was having an affair. Then he gave up all pretense of showing any affection for me.

Now it is nearly time for me to receive the money and he has begun to renew his attention to me and to pretend that he is crazy about me. What do you think? Does he love me? Or is he making a play to get the money?

DISGUSTED.

Married Her For Money Expected

ANSWER—You have had ample proof that he married you for your money, so you will be very foolish if you permit yourself to be deceived again. If you want to keep your husband, you will have to keep your money. So my advice to you is to hang on to your pocketbook with both hands and to have your estate settled on you in such a manner that he cannot wheedle it out of you.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX — What do you think of young married girls, whose husbands are in the army, going out in a group with young married soldiers whose wives are far away? Is it all right for them to do so and have some good, clean fun and, of course, kid a bit?

A READER.

ANSWER—It might be all right if it were possible to keep the playing around together good, clean fun and the kidding just kidding and nothing more. But it is a dangerous experiment to try and you had better leave it alone. There is a lot of swapping of husbands and wives now between boys and girls who started out on a platonic basis and then got off of it.

Remember what the poet said: "For man is fire and woman is tow, and somebody comes and begins to blow."

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

Top interest holds the stage this spring. Fashion is moving upward to her newest look. The skirts are slender, a straight and simple base about your costume top, but still leave you that wand-like silhouette, and throughout there runs the soft new strain of femininity. Waistlines are lower both in the middy-top dress and the overblouse. Peplums stand out above the narrow skirt. Jackets, from bolero to the box, make waists look inches smaller. Belts pinch in coat-waists.

Necklines dip low in dresses, are smartly collarless in coats and suits. A blouse is as good as its neckline, varying from low cuts to draw-string.

Sleeves are changing to a marked degree. Bracelet sleeves are still tops, but sleeves are going, gone, at least almost gone, as evidenced by the incoming cap sleeves, short straight sleeves, and we are promised that sleevelessness is coming. Sunny colors, bright and soft, are to the fore and the undertone look of beige, grey, navy and black.

In the new spring styles, you'll look trim but feminine, from top of your smart little hat, clapped firmly over your smart coiffure, to the toe of your sleek pumps, your straight skirt, the simple foil for the fascinating top drama. The spring styles will feature each of the following: middy tops, cardi-

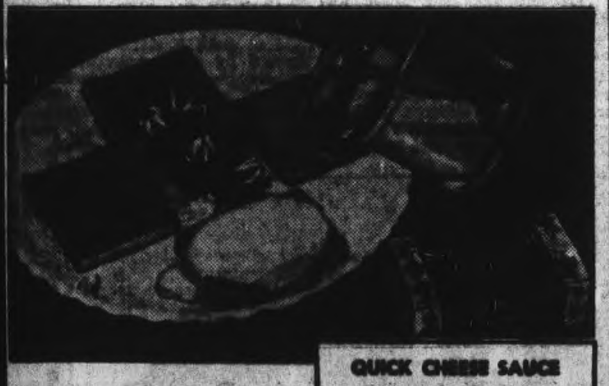
SWIFT'S WEEKLY FOOD HINTS

Martha Logan, Swift's famed home economist, whose weekly, wartime cooking column is a regular feature of this page. Look for these valuable hints each Monday

by Martha Logan

Cheese is Tops!



High in nutritional values . . . delicious and easy to digest . . . Swift's Brookfield cheese is a must on the kitchen shelf.

All the way from a tasty sauce, which gives a vegetable plate an extra lift, to a main meal dish such as a savoury Welsh Rarebit, cheese is a wonderful standby these harried days.

Which is probably why more and more housewives make it a practice to keep a loaf of delicious processed cheese, such as Swift's Brookfield, always on hand. It's a wonderful snack food, sliced on bread, toast or crackers. And, because it melts so easily and completely, it's ideal for cheese sauces and rarebits.

In fact, I'd say it really is an essential in the wartime kitchen.

Martha Logan

QUICK CHEESE SAUCE

8-ounce pkg. Swift's Brookfield Cheese
½ cup milk
2 tsps. tomato ketchup
2 tsps. lemon juice

Cut cheese into small pieces and place in a small double boiler; add milk. Place over very hot (not boiling) water and stir until cheese is melted and smoothly blended with the milk. Remove from heat immediately and add ketchup and lemon juice. Pour sauce over vegetable, spaghetti or toast (for a quick rarebit). If desired, slip under the broiler until sauce is golden brown.

LOWES. — In loving memory of George J. Lowes, who passed away March 24, 1943.

Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

—Always remembered by Wife, Son and Daughters.

OBITUARIES

MRS. REUBEN REEDS

OMEMEE, March 27—(ENS)—The death of Mrs. Reuben Reeds, the former Phyllis Jeffries, occurred in Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, Saturday night in her 24th year. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 2 p.m. from her residence in Emily township, with service conducted by Rev. F. W. Pooley of Christ Church Anglican.

MRS. SARAH ARCHER

MARMORA, March 27—(ENS)—The death occurred in Belleville Hospital on Saturday of Mrs. Sarah Archer of Marmora township. Mrs. Archer, who had been ailing for some months, was the widow of the late John Archer, her maiden name being Sarah Knox.

She was respected for her kind and neighbourly disposition, and is survived by three children, William of Marmora, Mrs. Thomas Young of Marmora township and Mrs. Roy Shepherd of Toronto.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon. Service will be conducted in St. Paul's Church by Rev. A. B. Caldwell with interment in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.

MISS DAISY CORNWALL.

OMEMEE, March 27—(ENS). — Miss Daisy Cornwall, daughter of the late Dr. V. and Mrs. Cornwall, passed away at her home on Sturgeon Street Sunday. Coming of English stock and her parents pioneer residents in this district, she died in her late seventies, after an illness of three months.

She was a registered nurse and a graduate of an Ottawa hospital, and is survived by her sister, Clara, with whom she lived. Another sister, Emily, and a brother, Richard, predeceased her. Mrs. R. Cornwall, her sister-in-law, and a nephew, Vincent, also survive.

A private funeral will be held on Tuesday at 11 a.m. at the late residence, with Rev. F. W. Pooley officiating, and interment will be made in the family plot at Emily Cemetery.

C.P.R. Sets New Records During 1943

MONTREAL, March 27 — (CP) — Volume of traffic, including freight, passenger, mail and express of Canadian Pacific Railway Co. in 1943 reached levels never attained before, its annual statement issued today reported. The statement was signed by D. C. Coleman president.

The document announced that financial results of operations showed a moderate improvement over 1942, which, however, was "not in proportion to the increase in traffic handled."

The report added: "As a result of Governmental regulations rates, both passenger and freight, were maintained at the 1941 level. On the other hand, operating costs, both labor and material, and taxes advanced substantially."

The company's organization and facilities were subjected to rigorous tests in successfully meeting wartime demand for transportation, the report said. Bad weather in the first quarter of 1942 created operating difficulties; labor shortage curtailed the maintenance program; the amount of new equipment procurable fell short of requirements; wartime restrictions limited the provision of additions and betterments to facilities; and continuance of heavy enlistment of the staff created problems, not only of replacement, but also of training and supervision.

Gross earnings at $297,107,791 were $40,243,700 or 15.7 per cent greater than in 1942 and were a record. Net earnings were $42,982,718, compared with $40,354,267 in 1942. Freight earnings increased $22,045,259 or 11.3 per cent.

Grain Movement Heavy.

Another factor was increased movement of grain. Earnings from grain handling rose $12,200,000, or 37 per cent, and volume carried, at 267,000,000 bushels, was slightly in excess of the 1915-1929 average of 254,000,000 bushels.

The report showed that on miles for the year totalled 24,950 million, compared with 22,600 million in 1942, and 18,423 million in 1928. The average revenue per ton mile was 87 cents, and showed little change.

Passenger earnings increased $11,830,792, or 30.1 per cent, and volume was a record. Average passenger journey of 160 miles compared with 156 miles in 1942. Working expenses increased $39,219,822, or 16.8 per cent, and, exclusive of taxes, increase was $32,592,157. Exense ratios were: Including taxes, 83.44 per cent in 1943, against 81.24 per cent in 1942; excluding taxes, 72.82, against 71.54 per cent.

Wartime cost-of-living bonus paid to employees, the report indicated, increased approximately $2,000,000 to $14,000,000. Other increased expenses were $3,000,000 for locomotive fuel; $1,200,000 in cost of snow and ice removal; $8,840,465 maintenance of way and structures expenses, and $8,133,266 maintenance of equipment.

Transportation expenses increased by $12,733,268, the report mentioned, and the ratio to gross earnings was 32.18 per cent, and for the fourth successive year constituted a new low record.

Tax Provision Up.

Railway tax accruals amounted to $31,548,645, an increase of $6,627,665, the statement reported. This figure included provision of $27,750,000 for estimated income and excess profits taxes, against $21,300,000 in 1942.

Improved economic conditions in Western Canada resulted in a "significant" increase in interest payments received by the company on its land contracts, it was said. Agricultural lands sold in 1943 brought $702,470, or $5.19 an acre, and cash received on land account was $4,651,399, against $2,680,637.

Net earnings of ocean and coastal steamships decreased $754,748 at $2,133,530, due to higher costs and a smaller fleet; but this was partially offset by an increase of $1,242,888 in net earnings of coastal vessels. Earnings of hotels and communications increased due to wartime activities. A major loss of $3,460,902 on lines abandoned account was due to retirement of leased lines of Columbia & Western Railway in British Columbia.

Dunkirk Fleet Ordered To Stand By

LONDON, March 27 — (CP). — The motley yachtsmen's navy which saved the day for Britain at Dunkirk in 1940 has been called upon to hold itself in readiness during the next six months — presumably for some role in the invasion.

The Admiralty asked sailors of river and tidewater craft, including yachtsmen and others acquainted with motor and steam boats, to put their services at the disposal of the Royal Navy for tours of duty up to a maximum of four weeks in this period.

It was the fourth of a series of quick preparatory measures.

First came the travel ban between the islands of Britain and Ireland in a move to safeguard against alleged Axis agents in Eire; on March 20 the British military, "for operational reasons," declared 700 miles of England's coast line a protected area, limiting civilian movements beginning April 1, and Saturday night it was announced that civil and air mail services between Britain and more than a dozen countries in and near Continental Europe had been suspended for "operational reasons."

Portugal was one of the countries affected, and an announcement in the Lisbon press said the cutting off of mail communications was a serious matter "unless it is a question of immediate military developments of a second front."

No British planes left Lisbon for Britain to-day, and none was believed expected to-day, a dispatch from Portugal said.

Included as well as Portugal in the civil air mail ban were Spain, the Azores, Cape Verde Islands, Madeira, Canary Islands, French and Spanish Morocco, Tangier, Algeria, Tunisia and Corsica.

Air mail service to prisoners of war and internees in Europe also was suspended except to Sweden.

Saw The Devil

EVANSTON, Ill., March 27 — (AP). — Humphrey Davis dreamed he saw the devil, forked tail and all. He deemed it prudent to retreat in his dream. He awoke hanging head down from his bedroom window, his feet caught on the window crosspiece. His sister rescued him, and hospital physicians dressed cuts suffered when he backed through the glass.

Sunday School Data

TORONTO, March 27 — (CP). — Some 20,000,000 United States and Canadian children will receive guidance from Sunday school lesson material now being prepared by a special committee in Toronto. The committee was named by delegates attending the International Council of Religious Education meeting here last week, at which 42 Protestant denominations were represented.

OAK LEAF FOR MENTION IN DESPATCHES—Members of the three armed services who have been mentioned in despatches will soon be wearing the small bronze oak leaf pictured here. In the last war, those who were "mentioned" wore a palm leaf superimposed on service ribbons. In this war, since silver maple leaves are already issued to denote service overseas, the oak leaf is worn beside the service ribbon. The ribbon shown here is that of the Canadian Voluntary Service Medal. (RCAF Photo)

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

THE FIRST TEN IN CONTRACT BRIDGE

THIS IS the fourteenth season in which the leading players in national championship contract bridge have been ranked according to actual performance. Each year, judging from all indications, the interest in the Top Ten has grown, keeping pace with the expanding popularity of tournament play. Even in wartime, the number of contestants in bridge championships has increased, due to a combination of factors.

In this annual compilation, accepted by all title aspirants as the accurate record of achievement in national competition, and looked forward to by them each season, the unit of measurement is the number of national championships won by a player. Whenever there is a tie in number of victories, the number of second places decides it. If they are also tied in seconds, other considerations are counted.

Here are the first ten for the season of 1943-1944:

1. Charles H. Goren
2. Sidney Silodor
3. Mrs. A. M. Sobel
4. Alvin L. Roth
5. John R. Crawford
6. Howard Schenken
7. Mrs. Edith J. Seligman
8. Mrs. Olive Peterson
9. Charles J. Solomon
10. Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, B. Jay Becker, Harry Fishbein, Fred D. Kaplan (tied)

There are two outstanding features this season. One was the breaking of all records by Mr. Goren, who won five national championships, one more than anybody else in the history of the game, and the other was the remarkable showing made by Philadelphia stars, led by him. Representatives of the City of Brotherly Love landed five of the first nine places: first, second, fifth, eighth and ninth. In addition, Philadelphia has some claim also on Mrs. Sobel and Mr. Becker, who were born there.

New Yorkers usually have captured the lion's share of honors in the past, but this season the best they could do was gain third, fourth, sixth and seventh out of the first nine, if we count Mrs. Sobel as now a New Yorker. Another New Yorker, in fourth place, Mr. Roth, won his first bridge championships while a resident of Washington, D. C. Messrs. Becker, Fishbein and Kaplan all entered as from New York. Mrs. Wagar brings the south into the list, as a representative of Atlanta, Ga.

Another striking fact about this year's list is that four members of the fair sex have made the top ten, more of them than any other season. There is plenty to be said about them and their spirit of competition, later in this week's series.

Tomorrow will be listed the winners of all of the 11 national championship events. How familiar are you with the championship tournaments in your favorite game? Can you name the 11 national title events?

Chaplains Hold High Place In Army Set-up

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN ITALY, March 27—(CP)—After the Battle of Ortona a group of Seaforth Highlanders came to their company commanders with the request that their chaplain hold a church parade.

Hard-bitten fighters from the coast of Western Canada who had gone through an ordeal unparalleled in Canadian war history wanted to attend a church service. It was something, said Maj. Roy Durnford of Prince Rupert, B.C., he had never known in his career as an army chaplain.

Behind this request is the story of a paradox, not specifically concerning the Seaforth Highlanders—for they are used only as an example—but involving every army formation. Religion teaches that to kill is a sin; the army teaches that to kill is a duty. Religion knows no enemies; the army exists only because of enemies.

Despite the paradox, chaplains and soldiers march side by side in a fellowship of friendship that grows every day. The chaplain is an integral, almost vital, part of every army formation and without him the men who carry the guns would feel lost.

Lonely Jobs

Credit for fitting religion into its proper place in the picture of war goes unrestrainedly to the chaplains themselves. They took over the loneliest jobs in the world and made going concerns of them.

Look at some of the men who wear the purple pips of chaplains. Take four of them in particular: Maj. R. O. (Rusty) Wilkes of Rainy River, Ont.; Capts. J L. Wilhelm of Walkerton, Ont.; W. E. L. Smith of Grafton, Ont., and J. F. Goforth of Toronto.

One sunny day early in March, Lt.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, 8th Army commander, presented decorations to 78 Canadian soldiers. There were 18 Military Crosses for deeds of great gallantry, and four of them were won by these chaplains.

There is no need to repeat what these officers did, for their stories have been told before. One sentence from Capt. Smtih's citation will apply to them all—"His conduct was an outstanding example of gallantry and courage far beyond the bounds of duty."

It's that last phrase, "Far beyond the bounds of duty"—that provides the answer to any questions as to why the Canadian chaplains service holds such a high place in the esteem of Canadian soldiers. The chaplains have practised as well as preached their beliefs.

The war correspondent travelling from one units to another goes to the colonel, his second in command, the adjutant, or the intelligence officer for the story of an operation. He goes to the chaplain to find out about the men.

The chaplain is the bridge between the inhumanity of war and the humanity of civilization. He is the human being in the machinery of militarism. He is the man to whom the boys come when they have personal problems to discuss; when their very souls are turning inside out after a brush with death.

Wingate Leads Glider Force

NEW DELHI, March 27 (CP)—Maj.-Gen. Orde Charles Wingate is in command of an Allied force which flew and marched into the Japanese rear in Burma three weeks ago, it was disclosed today.

The leader of last year's sensational "Wingate Expedition" behind the Japanese lines said at his headquarters that the 'first stage of the airborne operation was completely successful. Everything we set out to do has been done."

Wingate also disclosed that his forces' operations have been reinforced by a British column which made an overland penetration into Burma "through mountains where no troops nor patrols have ever been previously, because the track was too steep and the undergrowth too thick."

"The Japanese are hardly a first-class military power," he stated. "They are years behind us technically, though brave enough. Before you can kill Japs you must have a sound strategic plan, but a very small force, used imaginatively, will defeat them."

Million Homes Lost By Fire

LONDON, March 27 (CP)—Discussing British domestic problems in his radio address last night Prime Minister Churchill said a four-year plan of education, public health improvements and national insurance which he proposed a year ago as a postwar program already has been well started without relaxing the war effort.

"If this process continues and the war goes on long enough, a greater part of my four-year plan may very well be perfected and largely in operation before we reach a general election and give the people a chance to say what they think about it," he said.

He said the education program was "the greatest scheme for improved education that has ever been attempted by a responsible Government," that it would soon be on the statute books, and while its cost was heavy it was essential to maintaining Britain's place in the post-war world.

Million Homes Destroyed

The health service program has been placed before Parliament in outline, he said, while "a vast amount of patient work" has been done on insurance.

One million British home have been destroyed or damaged by the enemy, the Prime Minister noted, and "this offers an opportunity for rebuilding or replanning, and we had better make a clean sweep of the areas of which we should be ashamed."

Repair of damaged houses must go forward now, he said, because this is a war measure.

Getting Houses Ready

For the immediate postwar period prefabricated emergency houses must be the answer, the Prime Minister declared, and "I hope we make up a half-million of them."

Factories are already being assigned, materials earmarked and sites chosen, because "I have every hope and firm resolve that several hundred thousand of our young men will be able to marry several hundred thousand of our young women and make their own four-year plan."

TORONTO, March 27—(CP)—Two small boys—Anthony Geniole, 12, and Anthony Dininio, 10, were rescued yesterday from a four-foot-square cake of ice inside the seawall at Sunnyside Beach, in Toronto's west end, after they floated into deep water while playing on the ice near the shore. Two police from the life-saving station happened along in a speed boat at the time the boys realized their plight.

United States Foreign Policy Becomes Political Bait

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—The Roosevelt Administration's foreign policy—or lack of one as some critics put it—boiled up as a political issue today and there was evidence that Republicans were applying a bellows to the fire under the kettle.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey declared in a broadcast talk from New York last night that the American people know "far too little about our own foreign policies and practically nothing about our diplomatic commitments."

Senator Arthur Vandemberg (Rep. Mich.), who heads the Republican post-war advisory committee on foreign policy, told a reporter it was becoming increasingly apparent to him that the people of the United States are "uneasy" about future American relations with the rest of the world.

"Whether anybody likes it or not," Vandenberg said, "this is going to be a prime issue in the campaign. People want to know where this government is heading in its foreign relations and they certainly don't know that now.'

And Senator Clyde Reed (Rep.-Kan.), just back from a trip that carried him as far West as Arizona, said:

"The almost complete failure of our so-called foreign policy is for the moment overshadowing domestic bungling. Everywhere I went people asked me what our foreign policy is and all I could answer is 'Darned if I know.'"

President Roosevelt, during his press conference yesterday, observed that one paragraph from a statement he had prepared last week on the refugee problem explained the foreign policy.

Th words he quoted were: "The United Nations are fighting to make a world in which tyranny and aggression can not exist; a world based upon freedom, equality and justice; a world in which all persons regardless of race, color or creed may live in peace, honor and dignity."

Winter Products Stay While Spring Inches In

Spring was in the market air Saturday, but winter lingered in the remnant fruits and vegetables of last year. Eggs were 33 and 35 cents a dozen, butter 40c, chickens 33 cents a pound up to 40 cents. Potatoes sold unchanged at $2 a bag.

The lees of winter were represented in the appearance of Ben Davis apples at 50 cents a peck. Norman Moncrief had a few, with Starks at 60 cents. It seems that the Davis brand still survives the changing trends in orchards. Berk Doig had some Spies at $2.75 a bushel, and carrots and parsnips were 40 cents a basket; turnips five cents each, and Mr. Doig had potatoes at $1.85.

Help Keep Fit by Keeping THE KIDNEYS in Good Order

Nowadays most people realize that to keep well is usually simpler, safer, more pleasant and less costly than to try to "get well."

A healthy, well-regulated system resists many ailments to which a less sturdy constitution may fall victim. Because of this, more and more men and women are using Dodd's Kidney Pills at regular intervals. By so doing they feel that they are helping to keep their kidneys in good order, so that poisonous waste matter and excess acids may be cleansed from the system, and possible illness avoided.

It is a wise health safeguard to use Dodd's Kidney Pills from time to time. Dodd's Kidney Pills are not habit-forming, safe and easy to use.

Japs Pushing Across India With Renewed Vigor Chinese Unit Making Gains

British Forces Aiming At Myitkyina Railhead Town In Burma To Sever Japanese Supply Line

NEW DELHI, March 28—(CP).—Japanese forces pushing through the Somra Hills inside the Indian border are pressing home determined attacks in the vicinity of Ukhrul, 32 miles northeast of Imphal, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today. To the south of Imphal, meanwhile, Allied troops were reported continuing operations to clear the Tiddim-Imphal road, along which the Japanese have been moving steadily northward since crossing the border from Burma several days ago.

An Allied communique said Japanese pressure has increased in the Ukhrul area and heavy fighting is proceeding.

On the northern sector in Burma Chinese troops attacked and captured Hkawnglawyang and have crossed the upper Mogaung valley road immediately south of the town.

This area is north of Myitkyina, Japanese railhead menaced by Allied thrusts from several directions and by glider-borne British troops who were landed behind the Japanese lines.

The communique reported enemy patrol activity west of the Mayu range while to the east of the range Allied forces inflicted heavy casualties on the Japanese who attempted to counter-attack.

Allied heavy bombers blasted enemy supply dumps in the Kamaing area and lighter planes shot up the main street of Kamaing, 42 miles northwest of Myitkyina.

Fighter pilots reported a "highly successful" raid on enemy positions southwest of Buthedaung.

Dive-bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters raided enemy communications in the Chin Hills Sunday night, scoring three direct hits on the Hpaungzeik bridge and heavily damaging another bridge over the Manipur River. Other bridges were hit in north Burma.

Lonergan's Wife Gave Him $700 A Month

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP).—Wayne Lonergan made several unsuccessful attempts to purchase poisons, asserting he wanted them to use to commit suicide, his unsigned confession disclosed to-day.

Lonergan, according to the stenographic report read to a General Sessions Court jury at his trial for the slaying of his wife, Patricia, answered in the affirmative when asked if he ever attempted suicide. The attempt was made "over a year ago," he was reported to have said, but failed because "I backed out at the last minute."

The statement also disclosed that his heiress wife made him sole beneficiary of her estate in a will drawn soon after their marriage, but that after they separated she cut him off without a cent.

To Inherit 7 Million.

When the first will was written, the statement said, Mrs. Lonergan had an estate of about $230,000 and was to inherit $7,000,000 from a trust fund set up by her late grandfather, Max Bernheimer, who had accumulated a fortune in the brewery business.

The 26-year-old defendant said his wife told him after they separated in July, 1943, that she had changed her will, leaving him penniless, but he said she continued to support him. Usually, he said, she gave him $700 at the beginning of each month.

Lonergan denied in the statement that he held any life insurance on his wife.

Call Show Girl.

Mrs. Jean Murphy Jaburg, pretty blonde former show girl with whom Lonergan visited night clubs the night before the slaying, and whom he met again the next day, made her long-awaited appearance on the witness stand, after reading of the confession was completed.

She said when they lunched together at the Plaza she saw no "apparent change" in Lonergan's behavior or manner from the night before. This was only a few hours after the young aircraftman's pur-

TORONTO, March 28.—(CP).—Melvin J. Mitchell, 25, was sentenced in police court to-day to eight and a half years in penitentiary after pleading guilty to charges of wounding Mrs. Edith Harper and assaulting Miss Patricia Brand, both war workers.

The sentence for wounding was eight years, with six months consecutive for assault. Police Constable David Gibson testified he caught accused after a chase following the assaults on the women as they were taking a short cut to work in the early morning of Feb. 7.

Appeal Court Upholds 59-Year-Old Spinster Giving Her $7,000 From 61-Year-Old Suitor

TORONTO, March 28—(CP).—In a majority judgment released today, the Ontario Court of Appeal upheld an award of $7,000 damages to Ethel Trott, 59-year-old spinster of Oil City, Ont., in her breach of promise action against Elmer Mott, 61, Lambton county beekeeper.

The award, made last fall by an Assize Court jury at Sarnia, was upheld in a majority judgment of Mr. Justice W. T. Henderson and Mr. Justice W. R. Riddell. In a minority judgment Mr. Justice R. E. Laidlaw urged a new trial on the grounds of "misdirection and non-direction" of the jury last fall.

Camp Conditions Worst Ever Soldier Testfies In Court

BUCKINGHAM, Que., March 28—(CP).—Cpl. William Lee of Montreal, on trial before an open court martial on six charges arising from alleged misconduct with German prisoners of war, denied today he had purchased beer for the prisoners at a nearby Thurso hotel the night of March 15 and that he had drunk beer with them.

Lee, a member of the Veterans' Guard of Canada, was testifying in his own behalf. Another veterans' guardsman, Pte. Nelson Skinner of Granby, Que., faces trial shortly on similar charges.

Witnesses testified yesterday shortly after the court martial opened that Lee bought beer for the prisoners and had drank with them and a group of Buckingham girls in the hotel.

Under examination by his defence counsel, Capt. T. B. Brown, Lee said conditions at the camp from which the prisoners came were the worst he had ever seen. He was posted to the camp, a works project of a sewing machine firm and 47 miles north of Thurso, Feb. 2.

When the prosecutor, Capt. L. C. Carroll, objected to Lee's statement, Capt. Brown said he wished to show conditions under which the men were iving and their influence on their subsequent conduct.

Nazis Cooked Meals.

Lee said he and three privates transferred from Farnham, Que., found in the camp they had to take whatever the Germans cooked for them for meals. In the sleeping quarters were old beds and blankets used by former occupants.

"There was no control there and the Germans could do what they liked with us," he added. "We had to eat with them in the same mess, and could not even put our feet under the table. as potatoes were stored there in bags."

There was no place to post standing orders, and he had to keep them in a barracks box which he had brought along, said Lee.

Lee testified he had been ordered by L. R. Seheult, company woods superintendent, to take eight Germans to Buckingham for dental treatment, and that Seheult had said to send one guard along with them. At the same time, he was informed 14 prisoners were coming in and he was to meet them in Thurso.

"He asked me to send Pte. Skinner to Buckingham with the eight Germans and to wait in Thurso to make arrangements for the 14 prisoners that were coming in," he added.

The prisoners arrived, said Lee, and he transferred them to a car under another guard and then had dinner at Myre's hotel.

Out Just Once.

He told the court he had been out of the camp only once before, when two prisoners escaped. They were later caught at Duhamel, a company settlement. On one occasion 20 German prisoners were left in the

Germans Expect Invasion Soon

STOCKHOLM, March 28.—(AP).—The German press sought with fresh vigor today to prepare the people for the western invasion which it said could be expected any time now.

A front-page article in the Berliner Nachtausgabe declared "final steps" for the attack on the continent are being prepared in England and "the coming weeks will make England the scene of enormous military operations."

The newspaper declared it imperative for the "English and the Americans" to hurry up the invasion "in order not to miss the bus."

As evidence of the imminence of the attack Nachtausgabe cited Monday's intense Allied air attacks along the French invasion coast. It also stressed the Luftwaffe attack which it said was much larger than usual and which "raided Bristol Monday night."

(A message received at the London office of the French Committee of National Liberation said the Germans were evacuating the civilian populations of Dunkirk and Calais.)

Today's issue of Adolf Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, declared the Allies had to invade, otherwise the war might end with Stalin the sole conqueror of Europe.

NIKOLAEV FALLS

Invasion Jitters Will Grow With Each Day

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 28.—(AP).—The invasion jitters are just beginning.

From here on, there will be "false alarms, feints and dress rehearsals" by the Anglo-American high command and phony reports and rumors put out by the Germans. This will continue until the smartest deceptionists on both sides of the English Channel have exhausted their bags of tricks in the greatest battle of nerves, preceding the greatest amphibious assault in history.

The quoted words are from Prime Minister Churchill's Sunday broadcast. His brief reference to the forthcoming attempts to deceive the enemy about exactly where and when the blow or blows will fall was interpreted here today as a warning to the Allied world to get ready for some strange manoeuvres.

Surprise is one of the deadliest weapons in the Allied arsenal of attack, and the Germans are believed to be working along similar lines. They need deception primarily to arouse the underground forces of Europe prematurely, and thus expose them to betrayal. The Allies are counting on these forces to strike at exactly the right moment to wreck enemy communications, tie up enemy occupation and reserve forces, blow up supply centres and otherwise create confusion in the German rear.

The Germans meanwhile are reported working feverishly—forcing French, Netherlands, Belgian and other dominated people into service to help them—to strengthen their already powerful "Atlantic Wall" defences. Netherlands reports made available here from underground sources are especially detailed in such activities.

These say the Germans already have flooded some of the Dutch coastal lowlands, which the industrious Hollanders spent five centuries draining, and are ready to blow out all the dikes if necessary. They add that the Germans are particularly concerned about Dutch territory because once penetrated it leads quickly into the industrial heart of Western Germany.

Cernauti City Encircled By Red Army

Street Fighting Rages At Nikolaev Black Sea Port

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, March 28 — (AP) — Russian troops inside Bucovina appeared today to be strangling the communications of Czernowitz (Cernauti) from positions in that provincial capital's outskirts, while Red artillery along 80 miles of the Prut river poured salvo after salvo into enemy ranks.

LONDON, March 28—(AP)—The Berlin radio said today that Russian troops had attempted to storm the town of Iasi, indicating the Red Army had crossed the Prut River border of Rumania.

Iasi is 10 miles south of Skulyany, Prut River town which the Russians announced taking last night.

The broadcast gave no details of the attack, but said it had failed.

There was no positive indication that the Russians had crossed the Prut, which divides Bessarabia and Rumania proper. Nor was there any report of answering fire from German and Rumanian guns, indicating the foe was in flight toward Iasi (Jassy), headquarters of Marshal Von Mannstein's retreating army of the south. The Russians were 10 miles from Iasi on the Prut at Skulyany.

Street fighting was reported in Nikolaev, Black Sea port on the Bug estuary, 215 miles to the east of Iasi. Nikolaev was reported ripe for imminent capture.

Forty miles northeast of Czernowitz, the capture of the strong Dnieper river base of Kaments Podolsk and the town of Bozovitsy was swiftly fashioning a death pocket around the Germans in a 1,400 square mile salient to the northeast. Main escape routes were snapped; the Germans could retreat only through a muddy corridor being closed from the north by the first Ukrainian Army and from the south, by the second Ukrainian Army.

Izvestia said the ominous thunder of Russian artillery already was audible in Iasi and that "the German command cannot halt our troops."

Red Star said in a dispatch from the Prut that Marshal Ivan Konev's 2nd Ukrainian Army tanks and tommy-gunners were driving Germens and Rumanians to death in the narrow stream.

Czernowitz has 110,000 population and was the third largest city of pre-war Rumania.

(Capture of these two positions north and south of the Dniester River, apparently has strengthened Soviet chances of trapping large German forces in a 1,000-square-mile pocket south-east of Proskurov in the Kamanets-Podolsk area.)

The Soviet war bulletin said Red Army troops were inflicting terrific casualties on German formations

German Attack Thrown Back In Cassino Fight

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Associated Press War Correspondent

NAPLES, March 28 — (AP). — Allied artillery broke up a German attack north of Cassino and continued to hammer the two hotel "key point" areas of the German defences within the ruined town, Headquarters announced to-day.

The Nazi attack was broken up on the road from Terrelle, which lies about four miles north-west of Cassino. The Germans replied to the shelling of the Hotel Continental and Des Roses with a nightlong bombardment of Allied positions south of the town.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that three small German attacks of platoon strength on the left side of the beachhead south of Rome were beaten off Sunday afternoon and the Germans remained on the defensive in that sector.

Six different patrol clashes were reported in the beachhead, mainly in the Cisterna and Carroceto areas.

Gunfire diminished in the lower Garigliano sector of the main 5th Army front, but patrols clashed at several points. The Germans shelled the Orsogna area of the 8th Army front, but that sector also was generally quiet except for patrol clashes near Tollo and Arielli, north of Orsogna.

In the air, heavy bombers struck at rail bridges at Poggibonsi, Marsciano and Setti Bagni yesterday, while fighter-bombers attacked airfields at Rimini and Forli and lashed at shipping off the Italian west coast and the Dalmatian shore.

Allied planes flew some 1,400 sorties, with fighters swarming on patrol over the battle area, the communique said. About 65 German planes were reported active.

Two of the enemy craft were destroyed for a loss of three Allied planes.

Allied artillery, bearing the brunt of the battle on the Cassino front for the second straight day, "considerably battered" the Continental and Des Roses Hotels, a military spokesman said. Bursting shells also started a fire in a German dump south of Cassino.

Strong formations of light bombers and dive-bombers attacked railway yards, warehouses and factories at Sette Bagni, on the northeastern outskirts of Rome. Mediums escorted by Spitfires bombed a railroad bridge at Poggibonsi, hitting a 40-car train. Other mediums struck again at a railroad bridge at Fano, on the east coast 25 miles north-west of Ancona.

Medium formations also bombed railway bridges at Marsciano, 70 miles north of Rome, Perugia, 15 miles farther north, and Grosetto, 90 miles northwest of the capital, hit at a railroad bridge 35 miles southwest of Ancona and scored a direct hit on a power house near San Valentino, southwest of Pescara.

Nazi Airbases Devastated In Mammoth Air Raids Throughout Central France

Mosquito Bombers Sweep Over Ruhr Valley Spreading New Destruction In Germany's Vital Arms Industries

LONDON, March 28—(AP).—Between 250 and 500 U.S. heavy bombers struck at German airfields in France again today. The bombers attacked installations at Chartres, Chateaudun, Reims and Dijon in a follow-up to yesterday's blows at nine German airbases and the Tours freight yards by 750 to 1,000 bombers. Hard-hitting Mosquito bombers spread new destruction last night through the Ruhr Valley, where an R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. heavy bomber fleet had dealt a devastating blow to the German armament industry 24 hours earlier by raining 2,240 tons of bombs upon Essen.

It was the Mosquitoes' 20th night foray this month in a campaign against previously battered industrial centres which obviously is intended to discourage reconstruction operations.

The Air Ministry said all planes had returned from the overnight raids, the specific objectives of which were not disclosed.

Smashing at the aerial backbone of the Atlantic wall, a fleet of from 750 to 1,000 U.S. heavy bombers sowed destruction on nine German airdromes in France yesterday and blasted the freight yards at Tours in a series of sweeping raids that extended almost to the Spanish frontier. They shot down four enemy fighters.

Accompanying fighters, perhaps as many as 1,000, were credited officially with destroying 36 Nazi planes, most of them on the ground, to make the Germans' total loss 42 for the day. Six of the American bombers and 10 fighters failed to return, said a communique today. The communique said five fighters previously reported missing had been found safe.

The objectives of the bombers included Chartres, 40 miles southwest of Paris; La Rochelle, St. Jean D'Angely, Pau, Biarritz, Cazaux, Mordeaux and Mont de Marsan, all in the Bay of Biscay area, as well as Tours.

The bombing was visual against

22 Known Dead When Firebug Destroys Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28 — (AP) — Twenty-two persons died in an inferno set by a fire-bug today and more may die from burns and injuries.

Fire Marshal Frank Kelly said the fire, which flashed through the New Amsterdam hotel in the industrial district south of Market street unquestionably was started by an incendarist—the last of six incendiary fires of last night and early morning.

Twenty men and two women were dead, and so badly were the bodies burned that several hours after the fire only one of the victims was identified. She was Mrs. Mamie Pulosky, 43, wife of a Navy man. She jumped from the third floor to her death.

About 30 others were injured.

There were about 100 roomers in the three-story structure. They leaped into lightwells and perished in the flames; they piled into areaways and suffocated and burned, some jumped from windows and were injured gravely.

Fire Marshal Kelly said the entire arson squad was on the street during the night. There were five incendiary fires in the city Sunday night, he said, and six last night, climaxed by the New Amsterdam hotel tragedy.

The operator of the hotel, a woman could not be found immediately, and firemen expressed fear she might have been among those killed.

Entire Structure Afire

Policemen at a station half a block from the hotel responded at the first alarm, only to find the flames had spread so quickly the entire structure seemed already ablaze.

Lieut. E. J. Glover, in charge of the district Police station said he ran to the scene and with other

Lost 84 Days In Sub-Arctic

HEADQUARTERS, ALASKAN WING, AIR TRANSPORT COMMAND, U.S. A.A.F., March 28 — (CP) — Termining his experience of 84 days in the sub-Arctic wilds as "just a dream," 24-year-old First Lieut. Leon Crane of Philadelphia, Pa., today recounted his experiences to a group of newspapermen.

En route to his home on 30 days' sick leave, Lieut Crane told of parachuting from a floundering bomber "somewhere in the Arctic" last Dec. 21 and of his fight for survival in 30-to-40-below-zero temperature. His four companions in the four-engined Liberator bomber still are missing. Fliers daily are continuing the search in hope they will be found.

Lieut. Crane suddenly reappeared at Ladd Field, Fairbanks, Alaska, March 17 and with his arrival it was officially revealed a United States bomber carrying five men had been lost in their pre-Christmas flight.

Crane became a "little worried" after six or seven days wandering in the north country. He had nothing but water for the first ten days and on his arrival at an unoccupied cabin stocked with food he wasn't able to eat. "It was physi-

Young Husband Held Behind Padlocked Door

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 28—(AP)—Shades of William Shakespeare of his "Romeo and Juliet" is scheduled to be acted out in Middlesex Probate Court toay when Mrs. Mary Ann Brydges Mulligan, 18, faces the 16-year-old bridegroom she claims was seized after their wedding trip by his father and since held prisoner.

Petitioning for the release of her husband, Mrs. Mulligan stated that she and Joseph Patrick Mulligan, Jr., were married Feb. 26 at Town Gates, N.Y.

She charged that since their wedding trip her husband has been held behind a specially padlocked door at his parents' home in nearby Somerville.

In turn the young bridegroom's father petitioned the court to declare the boy's marriage null and void as he was only 16 and had not obtained his parents' consent.

Russia Will Fight Until Nazis Beaten

Official Statement Indicates Final Objective Of Armies Is Berlin

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Herr Hitler will have to be quick on his feet to sidestep the fresh crises which are rushing at him in the Soviet and Balkan theatres.

The collapse of the Army under Prussian Field Marshal Von Mannstein in the southern Ukraine—in itself a great and bloody catastrophe—has developed two other exremely dangerous situations for the Fuehrer to handle. They are:—

1. The route into Rumania has been laid open to the onrushing Muscovites, and that means a new front for the Hitlerites to defend in the strategic Danubian Basin. The fuse of the Balkan powder-keg has been lighted.

2. The defence of the present Nazi line in southern Poland—one of the west-bound lanes which lead to Hitler's inner fortress and Berlin—has been rendered all but hopeless. His whole scheme for holding Poland and the Baltic States is thus in fresh jeopardy.

No Stopping

Marshal Koven's Russian Army had no sooner slashed through Bessarabia to the Prut River, which is Rumania's frontier, than the Red Artillery cut loose with an intense barrage. Signalling the intention to launch an offensive into Rumania proper. The beginning of that push, which is likely to drive another nail into Hitler's coffin, may even be under way as this is written.

In this connection the Soviet army newspaper Red Star made a comment which appears on the face of it to be of such significance that I especially call your attention to it. Said Red Star:

"For the Red army there are no boundaries; her boundaries are victory, Berlin, and a straight-jacket for the mad German Valkyrie."

Intentionally or otherwise, this is an answer to the fable that when the Soviet forces have expelled the enemy from Russian territory, Moscow will make peace with Berlin and let the rest of the Allies fight it out with Hitler.

Tarnopol Is Key.

Up on the southern Polish front the Russians have captured the important railway junction of Kamenets-Podolsk—one of Hitler's strongholds. A little to the northwest another even more important key junction, Tarnopol, is surrounded and fierce fighting is proceeding.

Some time ago this column suggested that readers keep an eye on Tarnopol and the advice still holds good. When Tarnopol falls, the walls of Jericho will indeed be rocking.

Quite as sensational is the Berlin statement that the Russians are massing troops east of Kovel—170 miles southeast of Warsaw—for a big offensive aimed directly at the Polish capital. Further, the Nazis say there's fighting inside Kovel—a remarkable statement in view of the fact Moscow doesn't even claim to have reached Kovel. One wonders whether the Hitlerites are preparing to evacuate the city and pull their line back, and take this method of breaking the news.

Warns C.C.F. Dangerous

Forecasts Merger With Bloc Populaire

MONTREAL, March 28.—(CP).—John Roy Carlson, author of "Under over," said here yesterday in an interview with local reporters that a merger between the C.C.F. and Bloc Populaire was under serious consideration by some elements in these parties.

The C.C.F., said Mr. Carlson, is "potentially dangerous in its political doctrines and evidences many of the incipient characteristics of the Nazi party in its early political existence."

The Armenian-born author added that he saw a parallel in the Bloc Populaire's "Canada for the Canadians" and the "American Firsters" in the United States, who were "breeders of the future Fascism" in that country.

In his book, "Under Cover," Carlson stated he investigated subversive activities in the United States in 1938 and gained entry into many anti-democratic organizations by posing as an Italian and pro-Fascist organiser.

Canadians Repulse Patrol

Small-Scale Attacks On Outposts Fail

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, March 28—(CP Cable)—French-speaking Canadian troops yesterday beat off two small-scale attacks against forward outposts in the central sector of the Canadian Corps front, inflicting undetermined casualties on the enemy.

A German patrol of about 15 men raided a post shortly after midnight, then withdrew in the face of heavy fire from the Canadians. About 30 men made a second attack against the same position and they, too, were driven back after fierce exchange of shots.

It was the first time in several weeks that the Germans had tried aggressive action on the Canadian front. No enemy bodies were recovered for the Germans always try to remove thir dead. But it was unlikely they escaped without losses.

Canadian patrols continued normal. These probing sorties met the usual opposition. The weather now is clear and cool.

Five Girls Tell Of Dancing With Germans

BUCKINGHAM, QUE., March 28 —(CP)—Five Buckingham girls testified before an open court martial here last night that they had drunk beer and danced with German prisoners of war in a hotel at nearby Thurso, Que., March 16.

The girls were among witnesses heard during court martial proceedings against Cpl. William Lee of Montreal, a member of the veterans' guard of Canada, who earlier pleaded not guilty to six charges arising from incidents alleged to have occurred here and at Thurso in connection with the conduct of German prisoners of war in his charge.

Trial of Pte. Nelson Skinner of Granby, Que., another member of the V.G.C. who faces similar charges, will open today.

Regine Chenier, 16, of Buckingham, said she had met the German prisoners here, and had driven to Thurso with them and four other girls the evening of March 16. She said she returned to Buckingham by train, but later drove back to Thurso in a taxi with Mary Rose Lajeunesse.

Held Party

Miss Chenier said Lee was at that time with a party of eight prisoners in a Thurso hotel, and that he and the others had been drinking beer.

The Germans claimed, she continued, that three of them had had double extractions of teeth that day and "could not stand" the trip back to the bush camp where they are employed by a sewing machine concern. The party had remained at the hotel overnight.

Miss Chenier said she had danced with one of the prisoners, and that they were "almost all drunk." Later she went to a second floor room with two of the girls, the other girls being in other rooms.

She testified that Cpl. Lee "wasn't drunk, but almost. He talked silly and didn't walk straight."

Fliers Bale Out In Tweed Area

TWEED, Ont., March 28—(CP)—Four crew members of an R.C.A.F. bomber on a routine flight from Malton parachuted to safety from their machine early yesterday when it ran short of gas.

The pilot lost his bearings in the snow which fell Sunday night and early Monday morning. When the gasoline ran short, the three crew members bailed out at Springbrook, 16 miles north of Belleville. The pilot then attempted to land on Stoco Lake near here, but was unable to make a landing, so he regained altitude and then bailed out, the plane coming down a few minutes later nine miles east of Tweed. Tweed is 28 miles north of Belleville.

Names of the four crew members were not announced.

officers attempted to enter the door which led from the street to the second floor.

"Flames swept down at us and drove us back," said Glover. "We could not enter. My men turned to giving first aid and rescue work to the many who dropped from windows."

Three persons who jumped from windows landed in life nets spread by firemen. Many others made their way to safety on the roof-top of an adjoining garage from which firemen led them down ladders.

One woman was killed when she jumped from a second-storey window just as the first fire trucks arrived.

The fire broke out "too suddenly and swept through the hotel too quickly to have been of ordinary origin," Fire Chief Sullivan said.

Firemen, with the aid of many sailor volunteers, brought the New Amsterdam blaze under control in about 45 minutes and immediately began searching through the debris.

They brought out many bodies from the area around a lightwell near the centre of the building. The bodies were so badly charred that immediate identification was impossible. Eighteen of the known dead were men and three women.

Awake At Time

Most of the tenants who escaped said they were still awake when they heard the alarm of "fire" called through the halls.

All of the tenants agreed the flames apparently started in the rear of the second floor but said it spread so rapidly few were able to get to the narrow stairs leading out of the front of the building.

Two sailors, Seaman First Class Jean M. Speed and Seaman First Class Charles Wasner, told police they saw a man run down a fire escape on an alleyway, leap into a car, and drive away.

The Fire Chief said several small small hotels and rooming houses in the San Francisco Bay area had been set ablaze by arsonists here recently.

Fire Marshal Frank Kelly said the landlady in a rooming house near the New Amsterdam Hotel had reported discovering a burning box of papers in a closet Monday, but was able to extinguish the flames promptly.

Last week across the Bay in Oakland, he said, arsonists followed a similar pattern in setting a series of fires in 11 small hotels.

camp under one member of the Veterans' Guard.

When the eight prisoners arrived at Thurso about 7 p.m., Lee said, he did not see any girls coming in with them, "but there were girls all around, as they always are when prisoners are about."

He said he saw the girls dancing with the prisoners, but stopped them.

"The girls were under the influence of liquor. They were in a crazy humor," he added. When the prisoners sat down for supper, the girls "kept butting in," and he complained to Rolland LaRose, the hotel manager, about them.

"Did you every buy a bottle of beer for prisoners of war?" Lee was asked.

"I certainly did not, sir," he replied, adding he did not see any of the prisoners drinking.

Ordered Girls Out

Later, Lee added, he found two or three of the girls in the prisoners' rooms and ordered them out. He had a hard time keeping the prisoners in their rooms, and it was difficult to keep the girls away.

"It is impossible when you come down to Thurso with prisoners to keep the public away," he said. "You can't stop the public from fraternizing with them. You could only do this by having each prisoner under a guard."

Lee told the court he had one bottle of beer with his dinner, another at about 2 p.m., and shared a third bottle with a man named Labelle, driver of the car. This was all he had to drink that day.

Under cross-examination by the prosecutor, Capt. Carroll, he declared the statement made yesterday by Rolland Larose, manager of the hotel, that he had brought up 20 bottles of beer for the party as "the biggest frame-up."

"That must be a frame-up to get me for some reason," he said. He charged collusion between Larose and Sheheult, saying the former, who speaks little English, used the word "incoherent" in his evidence, the same word been used by Seheult. Trial is continuing this afternoon.

At yesterday's hearing, five Buckingham girls testified they had been drinking beer and dancing with the prisoners.

Income Payment Date Extended

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP)—Unpaid balances on income tax which fall due April 30 may be postponed until Aug. 31 without payment of interest, Revenue Minister Gibson announced Monday in the Commons.

Income tax returns must be filed by April 30, the Minister said.

Col. Gibson said the Government's decision to extend the income tax payment date had been reached "owing to an unusual combination of circumstances, which is not likely to occur again."

"It remains open for any individual to make payment of the unpaid balance of 1943 tax, due on April 30, at any time between now and Aug. 31 without any interest being added," he explained. "After Aug. 31, interest at 5 per cent, as provided by law, will become payable.

"The income tax returns, as the law presently requires, must be filed on April 30. The reason for requiring these returns to be filed on the present due date is to enable the Income Tax Division to proceed with the assessing of returns, and to avoid delay in making refunds, and the issuing of compulsory saving certificates."

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, said Col. Gibson, instead of mentioning "exceptional circumstances," should have said the extension to Aug. 31 was made as a result of "pressure which came from many quarters, including this side of the House."

Exchange Laws Prevent Gift

CHICAGO, March 28 —(AP) — H. F. McLean, weathly Merricksville, Ont., contractor, who once attracted considerable attention by passing out $100 bills to military patients in Christie St. Hospital, Toronto, hasn't put the rubber bands on his bank roll yet.

A girl soliciting funds for the American Red Cross, accosted him in the Boulevard Room of a Loop hotel Saturday night, and asked if he would contribute his "bit". He gave her a cheque for $2,000.

Known for some time, only as "Mr. X" McLean's name was disclosed during a visit to Halifax.

OTTAWA, March 28— (CP) — A Foreign Exchange Control Board spokesman said tonight that the limit set by the board on benevolences is ordinarily $25 a month, and that any such contributions require the approval of the board before they can be made.

He was commenting upon a Chicago despatch saying that H. F. McLean, wealthy Merrickville, Ont. contractor, had given a cheque for $2,000 to the American Red Cross when asked by a worker to contribute his "bit".

The spokesman said that if Mr. McLean drew the cheque upon his account in a Canadian bank the board would not permit it to be honored in view or its regulations regarding export of Canadian currency.

He said Canadian banks are required to apply to the board for permission to cash cheques drawn upon them by a depositor outside the Dominion, and if an application for a permit to cash Mr. McLean's cheque were made it would be refused.

Wider Mail Service For Italian Provinces

The provinces of Avellino, Benevento and Naples have just been included in the list of certain designated portions of Italian territory to which mail service for civilian correspondence is now available, the Post Office announced today.

The complete list of the parts of Allied-occupied Italy to which persons in Canada may now address letters to relatives or friends abroad, comprises the islands of Sicily and Sardinia, and all of the following provinces: Avellino, Bari, Benevento, Brindisi, Catanzaro, Cosenza, Lecce, Matera, Naples, Potenza, Reggio di Calabria, Salerno and Taranto.

No change has been made in the regulations governing the conditions under which civilian correspondence may be sent. All communications are limited to personal news and inquiries and no letters of a business nature are allowed.

Bombs Levelling Port Of Rabaul

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, The Southwest Pacific, March 28 (AP)—Rabaul, Japan's once-proud bastion on New Britain which now is isolated by Allied landings around the Bismarck Sea, is being steadily levelled by Allied bombs in a new phase of warfare aimed at the enemy's warehouses, shops, barracks and other buildings.

More thna 70 tons of explosives and incendiaries were poured on these targets Friday and Saturday, and 145 structures of all types and sizes were destroyed or damaged, an Allied communique said today. Previous raids have concentrated primarily on Rabaul's five big airdromes.

Medium bombers, divebombers and torpedo planes carried out the raids, hitting also fuel and ammunition storages, while heavy and medium bombers dropped 178 tons of bombs in the northeast New Guinea coast and destroyers shelled Japanese defences in support of ground troops mopping up the Admiralty Islands, invaded Feb. 29.

In a raid on the Wewak area of northeast New Guinea, airdromes and supply dumps were hit and large fires started. A 1,000-ton cargo ship offshore and seven barges were sunk or severely damaged.

Aitape, on the coast 90 miles northwest of Wewak was hit by 24 tons of bombs. One attack plane failed to return.

American fighter planes downed 13 Japanese Zeros in their first announced participation in the mounting aerial offensive against the enemy's Ponape Island base in the eastern Carolines, it was announced at Pearl Harbor.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, mid-Pacific commander, said the raids were made Saturday and Sunday, when the fighters accompanied medium bombers.

Mitchell Warns More Men Needed In Army

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP).—Glimpses of Canada's post-war industrial prospects were given the Commons yesterday as seen by the man who heads the wartime industrial set-up, Munitions Minister Howe.

Without predicting the extent or form of future industrial operations he held out assurance that Canadian-made planes will fly the airways, and that Canadian-made ships will ply the seas.

He also announced the Government will appoint a Royal Commission to study the whole coal situation with a view to evolving a national fuel policy, in the light of changed conditions created by the war.

In the midst of consideration of munitions and supply estimates, Labor Minister Mitchell rose to say that there will be "greater and greater" call-ups of men in the age groups liable to military service as the tempo of the war in Europe increases.

Answering Clarence Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South), who said the attitude of sending men into the services when they were laid off in the Maritimes' plants was "callous," Mr. Mitchell said that the grand strategy of the war made it inevitable that industries would be closed down and others started.

The fact there was a selective service machine that could transfer workers from one point to another was an indication "we are a long way ahead of the stage we reached in the last war."

"Let me say that I am responsible for the call-up of men for military service," he continued. "And let me say further, very frankly, that with the increase in the tempo in the war in Europe there will be greater and greater call-ups of men in the age groups liable for military service."

A staff of industrial engineers and men from the Labor Department were going through the whole industrial structure of Canada in the last 12 months with a view to combing out industries to meet Defence Department needs.

Not Extend Ages

(Mr. Mitchell told The Canadian Press after leaving his seat in the Commons that he did not wish to expand on his call-up statement. He said the men called up would not necessarily be those laid off in war industries.

(He said essential industries where key employees are granted deferments are being reclassified "all the time." "There is nothing static about essential industries. One industry might be essential one day and not the next."

(No consideration had been given to cancellation of postponements, to the extension of callable ages or to the lowering of medical categories.)

With a slim attendance just at the adjournment hour last night C.C.F. members forced a vote by appealing a speaker's ruling and lost 59 to 25. The speaker ruled T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) out of order when he proposed an amendment to the motion to go into committee of supply, condemning the government's agricultural marketing policy.

The announcement of the Royal Commission on coal came at Mr. Howe announced a new scale of subsidies for high-cost production mines in western Canada, and stated a similar announcement would be made shortly about eastern coal production.

Mr. Howe said Canada had undertaken construction of Tribal-type destroyers to develop in Canada the art of Destroyer-building. It was desired that every part be made in Canada, and turbines, engines and other equipment were made in Canada. Repairs could be made in Canada also under the program.

Wartime built ships, said Mr. Howe, are good vessels of the tramp type in which a large part of Canada's exports are normally carried in peacetime. He said he believed they would form the backbone of a Canadian Merchant Navy after the war.

Need 225 Ships

On the basis of pre-war trade, he said, 150 such ships could be used on the west coast and 75 on the east coast. So for 69 wartime ships have been built for operation by Canada and 39 more will go into operation this year; 88 have been loaned the United Kingdom and one has been loaned to Australia; 90 have been sold to the United States and two to the United Kingdom.

The operation of the ship has resulted in the return to the treasury of $10,000,000 in profits from Park Steamship Company, the government-owned agency which arranges for their operation by commercial steamship companies.

"We expect that at the end of the war the cost of the boats will be written down very considerably and possibly some will be fully paid for," he said.

Departmental experts, he said, thought it unwise for Canada to go into the building of passenger or express freight ships as such ships in the past had usually required subsides.

In both aircraft and ship construction, Mr. Howe said Canadian costs compared favorably with those of other countries.

At Prime Minister Mackenzie King's suggestion and in view of the fact that the Easter recess starts the end of this week the House will set Wednesday afternoon and take Friday night off.

Further supplementary estimates totalling $2,754,162, and bringing the total non-war appropriations for the present fiscal year to $650,668,591 were tabled. The House will be asked to pass these before adjourning for Easter and also interim supply and war appropriation bills to enable the government to meet its running expenses for the first two months of the new fiscal year, starting April 1.

SAMUEL ARTHUR WILSON.

WARKWORTH, March 28 — (ENS)—In ill health for a year and a half, Samuel Arthur (Artie) Wilson, passed away at the home of his brother, Frank Wilson of Percy township. His condition was not considered serious until a week ago when he suffered a stroke.

Born in Percy township April 4, 1879, he was son of the late William Wilson and Anne Osterhoup and had lived there most of his life until the last seven years, which he spent in Hastings. For a time he followed his trade of watchmaker in Campbellofrd, and then for a number of years was assessor for Percy township.

Surviving are two brothers, Frank of Percy, and Dr. W. E. Wilson of Hastings. A sister, Miss Lilian Wilson, died 14 years ago, and another sister, Mrs. J. N. Richards passed away seven years ago.

The funeral will be held on Thursday afternoon from the late residence.

ROBERT W. ROWLING

MILLBROOK, March 28—(ENS) —The death of Robert W. Rowling, 219 Chapel street, Simcoe, father of Mr. Leslie Rowling of Millbrook and who was a veteran of three wars, occurred suddenly Monday, March 20, at the Norfolk General Hospital, following only two days' illness. He was in his 62nd year.

The late Mr. Rowling was born in England on May 7, 1882, and came to Canada in the year 1910; previous to that time he had served in the South African war, and had medals for military service in both South Africa and India. When the First Great War broke out he enlisted, going overseas with the first contingent, later transferring to the 4th Battalion, and receiving several medals for his outstanding service.

In the present conflict, Mr. Rowling enlisted for duty, and was stationed at Niagara-on-the-Lake for six months. Afterward he was employed as cook at No. 1 Bombing and Gunnery station at Jarvis, then at Aylmer, and later was transferred back to Jarvis where he was employed up to the time of his death. He was well known in Simcoe and district, and was a member of Trinity Anglican church.

The immediate surviving relatives include, besides his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Stigmore of Simcoe, and Private Thelma Rowling of Washington, D.C.; four sons, Privates Sydney and Douglas Rowling, overseas; Leslie Rowling of Millbrook, and Ted Rowling, at home; there are also two step-daughters, Mrs. Gordon Birkett, Simcoe; Mrs. Sydney Brown, Galt; and two step-sons, John E. Garvey of Port Rowan; and William Garvey of Simcoe. Two sisters and one brother also survive: Mrs. Rose Payne, Simcoe, Mrs. John Black, Port Moody, B.C., and Sydney Rowling, residing in England; and there are thirteen grandchildren, one of whom is overseas.

The funeral took place on Thursday from the H. R. McGregor Funeral Home, Simcoe, Rev. W. E. V. McMillen, rector of Trinity church conducting the service. Interment was in the Oakwood cemetery. Citizens and veterans were present in large numbers for the funeral, and the floral tributes were many and beautiful, flower-bearers including: James Bull, Thomas Dring, Frederick Tucker, James Timmins, David Cormack, Gordon Thompson and Charles Lankey. Pall bearers were: W. A. West, Ralph, Sydney, and Cecil Bye, Floyd Sloat and Emerson Nix.

Canada To Pay $800,000,000

OTTAWA, March 28 (CP)—Canada's program for mutual aid and obligations under the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agreement will total $800,000,000, it was disclosed in a resolution appearing on the Commons order paper today in the name of Finance Minister Ilsley. Last year Canada provided $1,000,000,000 for its mutual-aid program.

The resolution makes the first provision for a Canadian contribution to UNRRA.

Finance Minister Ilsley's resolution provides for a sum not exceeding $800,000,000 to be made available "for the purpose of making war supplies available to any of the United Nations, other than Canada, and of fulfilling any obligations arising out of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agreement."

Spent Half Billion

The program will be administered by the Canadian Mutual Aid Board and the terms and conditions which war supplies are made available to any of the United Nations may be determined by the governor-in-council.

Since the passage of the Mutual-Aid Act last year, supplies have been delivered to a number of Canada's Allies and it is understood their value amounts to something more than half of the $1,000,000,000. A detailed report of the mutual board is expected to be made to parliament after the close of the fiscal year, March 31.

In the year 1942-43, prior to the introduction of the mutual-aid program, Canada made a $1,000,000,000 gift to the United Kingdom.

Canada's contribution to UNRRA is expected to amount to about $80,000,000, based on 10 per cent of the national income. UNRRA has been organized to provide relief and rehabilitation to the occupied countries and is already accumulating supplies for this purpose so some contributions may be required shortly.

Senator Davies To Preside At Press Dinner

TORONTO, March 28.—(CP).—The 35th anniversary of formation of the Empire Press Union and of its Canadian section will be marked here Wednesday night at a dinner meeting addressed by Lt.-Col. J. J. Astor, publisher of the London Times and chairman of the E.P.U. Council.

Honored at the dinner will be three charter members of the Canadian section: J. E. Atkinson, Toronto Daily Star; P. D. Ross, Ottawa Journal; and M. E. Nichols, Vancouver Province.

The Empire Press Union was founded in 1909 in London, at the first Imperial Press conference, and the Canadian section was formed the same year with the late Lord Atholstan, then publisher of the Montreal Star, as its chairman. The present chairman in Canada is Senator W. Rupert Davies of the Kingston, Ont., Whig-Standard.

Besides dealing with problems of intra-Empire news transmission, the E.P.U. Council is interested in such matters as wartime censorship, the obtaining of privileges in the United Kingdom for Empire correspondents (particularly war correspondents), news broadcasting, copyright, and interchange of news among Empire countries.

Publisher of the London Times, Lt.-Col. John Jacob Astor in an interview here yesterday opposed the splitting of Germany into small nations. He felt this might again arouse German nationalism and lead to still another war.

He gave as a proposal for the prevention of future German aggression the disarmament of the Reich and Allied control of German heavy industry, chemicals industry and transportation and regulation of German imports to exclude raw materials which are necessary for the materials of war.

CONFLICTING testimonies are found in this day's astrological map. Business and financial affairs are under a stabilization influence, with credit and real possession under an increasing vibration. Marshall the forces on this campaign, as the mentality is dep, logical and dependable, but postpone the social domestic and romantic affiliations, as these are under adverse rule. Lady Luck plays a part in affairs, with a bequest or gift figuring.

Your Birthday Outlook

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of increase in finance, credit and possessions, with many sound and dependable opportunities for placing affairs on a safe and enduring basis. Investments, lands—and possibly gifts or inheritance are in sight—with the benefices of Lady Luck evident. However, this fair fortune is offset by anxieties, disappointments, sorrows or regrets in social or home ties.

A child born on this day will have many shrewd and dependable talents, with many favors and good luck, but it may suffer in its intimate relations. There are some signs of inheritance or sound investments.

Rotarians Hear F. E. Kerr Veteran Teacher

Outstanding differences between the constitution of Great Britain and that of the United States were pointed out to members of the Peterborough Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel on Monday by F. E. Kerr, principal of King George School in an informative address.

Mr. Kerr, who has been a school teacher for 44 years, 43 of them in Peterborough, said that his talk was based largely on a booklet written by an American and issued by the British Minister of Information.

Two new members were welcomed to the club, Roy Spicer, superintendent of the Ontario Marble Company, who was introduced by Rotarian Gordon Dobbin, and William Cowell, in charge of equipment sales and engineering at the Canadian Raybestos Company, who was sponsored by Rotarian Robert Abbott.

Introduced by Rotarian F. L. Roy, who referred to the speaker's long service in the field of education, Mr. Kerr started by pointing out that Great Britain had no written constitution, whereas both the United States and Canada had. The result was that the constitution of Great Britain could be changed by an Act of Parliament, while to change the United States constitution required a two-thirds vote of the Congress and a ¾ vote of the State Legislatures. Canada could only change her constitution by petitioning the British Parliament to amend the British North America Act.

President Like Prime Minister.

Some people compared the President of the United States, the speaker said, with the King of England. As a matter of fact the President much more closely represented the British Prime Minister for the King had little real power. He could not veto an Act of Parliament, whereas the President could veto a law of Congress.

"The King's chief importance," said Mr. Kerr, "is that he is the symbol of the British Empire. When we sing 'God Save the King' we are really singing 'God Save the British Empire.' Some of the kings have not been worth saving."

Another difference was that in the United States the dates of election were fixed, while in Britain and Canada they were not. In this country the Prime Minister decided when an election was to be held, and it worked out that he chose a time which he thought would be most advantageous to his party.

Cabinet Not Elected.

Another contrast that in the United States the members of the Cabinet were appointed by the President and responsible to him. They were not members of Congress. In Great Britain and Canada Cabinet ministers were members of Parliament and were responsible to Parliament. Furthermore they could be questioned in the House as to the administration of their departments.

In the United States, to be eligible for election for Congress a candidate had to be a resident of the district for which he was standing. In Great Britain and also in this country the residential qualification did not exist. Mr. Kerr said he heard of one man elected to the British Parliament who had never been in the riding that elected him until voting day. Here he pointed out Premier Mackenzie King, although a resident of Ontario, sat for the Saskatchewan riding of Prince Albert.

It was thought in Britain that by removing the residential qualification better members were obtained. The parliamentarians were not so bound to look after the interests of their own communities and they had a national approach to the business of Parliament.

Rotarian R. F. Downey moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Obituary

JAMES FRANCIS FINCH

CAMPBELLFORD, March 28—(ENS)—A native of Rawdon township James Francis Finch, 81, who died following a brief illness on Saturday last, was buried from his late residence on Saturday.

A member of one of the pioneer families of the district his father was for a number of years the postmaster at the old Sarginson post office on the Town Line. The deceased spent his entire life on the farm and remained active till less than a week ago when an accident hastened his death.

Mr. Finch had gone down to the woods on his farm last Wednesday afternoon and when he did not put in an appearance at supper time, his son, Lindsay, set out to search for him. He was found sitting on a log in the woods completely exhausted, as a tree which he had been cutting fell on him when it crashed to the ground. He had been pinned between it and the ground for three or four hours before he had been able to free himself, but his strength was not equal to the task of getting home. Mr. Finch suffered three broken ribs and other minor injuries. Pneumonia set in the next day and he passed away the following Saturday morning.

Predeceased by his wife ten years ago, Mr. Finch is survived by three sons, Roslin and Melville both of Rawdon, and Lindsay at home, and three daughters, Mrs. Frank Sheppard, Mrs. Maline Jones, both of Peterborough, and Mrs. Carl Reid at home.

The funeral service was conducted at Zion United Church by Rev. J. R. Holden and interment was made in Zion Cemetery. Pall bearers were Herbert Spencer, Ernest Irwin, Andrew Thompson, Willis Irwin, John Stewart, and S. G. Meiklejohn.

Lonergan Shows Little Emotion As Murder Confession Read

NEW YORK, March 28 —(AP)— Wayne Lonergan's confession that he killed his wealthy wife Patricia, was admitted as evidence at his first-degree murder trial after a two-day defense fight to block it.

He described in it how he struck her with a candlestick and choked her during an argument in her apartment of morning of Oct. 24 after an argument which reached a climax when she told him he never could see their baby boy again.

"I became mad," he said in the confession. "I picked up a candlestick, rushed over to her (on the bed) and hit her. The candlestick broke and she sat up and said: Good God what have you done here!" I was mad. I rushed over to the table again. I picked up another candlestick. I hit her again."

Grabbed Her Neck

The confession stated that Mrs. Lonergan jumped out of bed on the side opposite where the 26-year old husband was standing.

"What did you do then?"

"I grabbed her around the neck. I choked her with both hands."

"Did she say anything?"

"She shoved me."

"What did she say?"

"You —— —— ——."

"What did you do then?"

"I grabbed her around the neck. I choked here with both hands."

"What did you do then?"

"I realized she wasn't moving. I was horrified at this mess of blood."

Lonergan said during the struggle Patricia kicked at him and scratched his face.

Calm During Reading.

Sitting at the counsel table, the accused R.C.A.F. aircraftman showed no emotion as Judge Garrett Wallace ruled that Defence Conusel Edward V. Broderick had failed to show that the statement was obtained by duress.

He likewise was calm as the confession was read by Edward Vaccaro, a stenographer.

Detectives Nicholas Loorman and William Prendergast both testified earlier in the day that they, with Lonergan, had consumed a half-pint of brandy Lonergan provided while en route to Buffalo after his arrest in Toronto. They denied, however, that Lonergan had been plied with liquor while being questioned in New York.

Toronto Officers on Stand

Earlier, two Toronto detectives, Sgt. Arthur Harris and Gordon Ferguson, were placed on the stand in an attempt by the defence to show that Lonergan was denied food and subjected to long questioning without sleep when he was being held in Toronto, where he was taken into custody the day after the murder.

Harris, who arrested Lonergan, said Lonergan slept all night in a Toronto police station October 25.

Before being returned to New York City, the detective said, Lonergan was visited by his sister, Mrs. June Cummins, and an uncle and aunt, and talked with them for about 20 minutes.

"Did you tell him the reason he was leaving Canada to return to New York City was so he could attend the funeral of his wife?" asked Broderick.

"No, sir," the detective answered.

Prosecution witnesses have testified that Lonergan returned to the United States voluntarily, even after being told he might be charged with a crime.

Found Door Unlocked

In his statement, which the prosecution admits was not signed, Lonergan said he was separated from his wife, but that he went up to her apartment about 9 a.m. last Oct. 24. The first-floor entrance of her three-story apartment was open, he related; he knocked on her bedroom door and she opened it; she had been sleeping and she had no clothes on.

"I said I had heard some mention of her hanging around night clubs all the time, and some one told me she was the belle of El Morocco (a night club)—was there every night."

"Anything else you said to her about that?"

"I said I think she was behaving like a drunken sailor."

"What did she say?"

"It's none of your business."

"Anything else that she said?"

"She said my behavior was not the best in the world either-something to that effect."

Called Each Other Names

Lonergan said they called each other names and his wife berated him for going out with another girl. She shouted to him to 'Get out of here," and when he went to pick up his hat and gloves, he said she yelled:

"Stay out of here. Don't ever come back. You will never see the baby again."

It was then he picked up the candlestick and began to hit her.

The aircraftsman tried to wipe blood from his uniform with a towel, but was unsuccessful, the confession said. He walked down from his wife's apartment on 51st St. to the apartment of John Harjes on 79th St., where he had been staying. Harjes was out of town.

At Harje's place, Lonergan continued, he sut up the uniform and stuffed it into a duffel bag, along with a dumbbell to weight it, and his wrist watch, which had blood on the strap.

He was shaking, he said and took a sedative.

Tried To Cover Scratches.

He borrowed some of Harjes' clothes walked along 79th St. to the East River, and threw the duffel bag and its contents into the water.

"It floated down with the stream," he said.

Then he went to a drug store and bought some pancake make-up to cover scratches his wife had inflicted on his face, he said. He returned to Harjes' apartment, drank some beer and went out and bought some Sunday newspapers.

He went to the home of Sylvia French, a girl he had lunched with the day before, picked up a toy elephant he had left there, and took it to his wife's apartment shortly after noon to leave for the baby. Nobody answered the door and he left it inside the entrance.

Three Men Held For Liquor Theft Face Five Additional Charges

COBOURG, March 28 (ENS) — Walter Moscall of Winnipeg, Mike Cembal and Jerry Semowomyk of Oshawa, were committed for trial Monday in police court on six charges. They were tried on the charge of attempted breaking and entering the liquor store here and evidence in all the other charges were combined in the one charge, due to the fact that it was all interlocked, and the evidence in the liquor store charge was applied to the other charges. The allegations against the three were as follows:—

Attempted break and enter of the liquor store at Cobourg, December 31, 1943; December 31, 1943, breaking and entering garage of Gordon Rose of Port Hope; December 31, shooting at Constable Roy Doherty of Cabourg with intent to resist lawful apprehension (dismissed because of lack of evidence); December 26, theft of a car owned by Ira Lorie in York township; December of 1943, theft in Markham township of a set of license plates, No. 86W77, owned by Edward Taylor of Langstaff; December 31, shooting at provincial constables Robert Duncan and William Thompson of Bowmanville, with intent to resist apprehension; theft of a car in Oshawa on December 29, 1943, owned by William Duncan of Oshawa.

Much of the evidence was taken last month and the balance of it was heard Monday, taking all day to conclude.

Men Slept in Car

Herbert Stire, 17-year-old Darlington township boy, testified that around 11 a.m. on December 30 he was looking after some trap-lines and saw three men asleep in a black car, two in front and one in the back. He said that he hid in the brush about ten feet from the car and watched it for about a half hour. He told the court that the soldier in the rear seat was Moscall and that Cembal was behind the wheel and Semowomyk alongside of him. The car was a 2-door sedan, bearing license No. 86W77. In the afternoon he was in that vicinity with his father, Charles Stire, and his uncle, and saw the car drive out of the weeded section and up the road. Cembal was driving and the other two were with him in the front seat, stated Stire. Witness said that some days later he identified Moscall in a line-up at Oshawa armouries and that later he picked the three out of a line-up in Cobourg jail.

The boy's father and uncle corroborated the evidence of Herbert in regard to the car driving away on the afternoon of December 30. Charles Stire identified Cembal as the driver and Fred Stire also identified Cembal but not the other two.

Constable Roy Doherty of Cobourg police department testified that at about 5.10 on the morning of December 31 he received a phone call that the liquor store was being broken into. He proceeded to the rear of the liquor store and then out to the front where he found a car parked in front of the exit door. There were three men, two of whom appeared to be soldiers, he said. Someone fired on him and he fired four shots in return, aiming first at the tires and then at the back of the car. He was within 15 feet when fired upon. The car sped down the street, heading east, after the exchange of shots. He took down the license number, which was 86 W 77. Examination of the liquor store revealed that the glass in the door had been taken out and the screen bent. A crowbar was jammed in the woodwork of the door.

Identifies Goods

Gordon Ross of Port Hope identified a quantity of batteries, oil, etc. which he said was taken from his service station on the morning of December 31 and later recovered hidden in Darlington Township.

George Mantle of Oshawa testified that at 6.20 on the morning of December 31 he saw a car driven up at a service station in Maple Grove, near which he was standing. A soldier, who looked like Moscall, got out of the car with something in his hand, saw Mantle and hurried into the car which drove off quickly. Another man was in the car, witness said.

Constable William Thompson of Bowmanville told of chasing the car, license number 86W77 through Oshawa, and that on two occasions they were blasted at by someone with a shotgun, the pellets breaking his spotlight. Constable Thompson said that he and Duncan had been notified of the liquor store robbery and had been watching for car number 86 W77.

Search Apartment

Constable Thompson told of searching Cembal's apartment and finding a whisk and a first aid kit, similar to that carried in Lorie's car. The story told by Cembal and his wife as to where they had obtained the kit, had varied.

He and Constable Duncan went to a spot north of Maple Grove where some garage supplies had been hidden on January 1. The garage supplies were removed and a dummy cache, a replica of the other, was constructed, after which the constables took turns watching it for the return of those who had placed the cache there. Armed with a shotgun, Constable Robert Carr of Port Hope, captured Cembal and Semowomyk when the latter two returned to the scene of the cache, on January 2, Constable Thompson said. Constable Duncan gave corrobatory evidence.

Constable Carr of Port Hope testified that he saw a car drive up on the afternoon of January 2 and stopped near the cache. Cembal and Semowomyk got out of the car and went towards the cache, after which he ordered them to put up their hands, and escorted them to a farmhouse to await transfer to Cobourg jail.

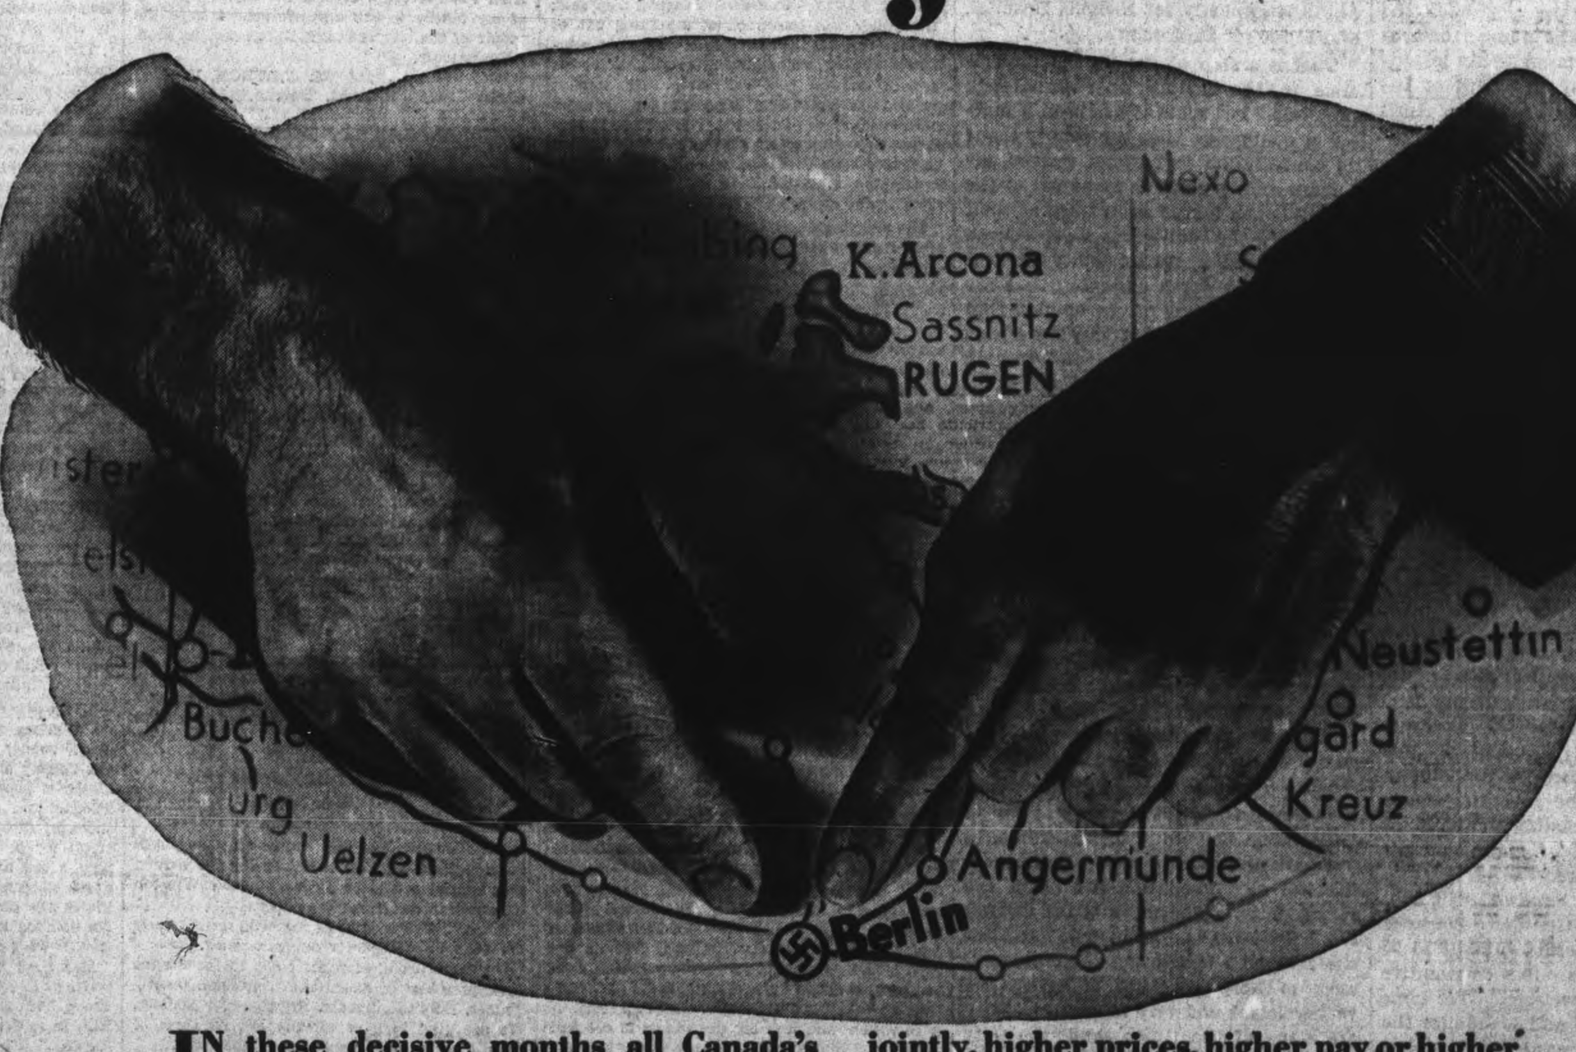
First Objective



IN these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective—the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties—a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job—or a farm—with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a post-war period of promise and achievement can be built.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

A Task To Be Faced

In another month the Sixth War Loan will be under way; it is well for us to think about it now, for the coming Loan will take harder work by the canvassers and greater sacrifice on the part of the subscribers than any which has preceded it. Previous Loans have had obstacles to overcome; the plebiscite conflicted with the Second, the first of our heavy war budgets was a handicap to the Third, in the Fourth the objective was greatly enlarged, and the Fifth had to be carried to success in spite of a powerful wave of complacency. An examination of the Fifth Loan results in this district shows how powerful that feeling of complacency was right here in this city. The City of Peterborough which was asked to raise $1,550,000 actually raised $1,315,200, or 84.85 per cent. of the objective. If it had not been for generous contributions from the Armed Forces in this district — who had not been included in the setting of objectives—we should have failed to reach our goal. That is not a satisfactory or a proud record.

The next Loan faces two difficulties. The first is that there have been 857 workers laid off in the city since the last Loan, and thus the number of prospective subscribers is markedly lessened. Second, the final statement of Income Tax falls due on the 30th of April and—owing to misunderstanding and a certain amount of failure on the part of the Department of Finance to make the matter clear — the sum is greater than most people had forseen.

These difficulties will have to be overcome. We must do our utmost, and we dare not hope for a contribution from the Armed Services to drag us over the finishing line. We must decide now what we can do in the Loan, and prepare ourselves to take it with great seriousness.

New Blood On CBC Board

We are glad to see that Dr. B. K. Sandwell, the editor of Saturday Night, has been appointed to the Board of Governors of the CBC. Dr. Sandwell should be something of a novelty to most of the other members of that body, for he is a man of lively and cultivated mind, a discerning critic in political and artistic matters, and a man who is deeply concerned with the intellectual, as apart from the material, progress of this country He is, in short, the sort of man who should be on the governing board of a national broadcasting company, as opposed to the sort of man who already is on that board.

We hope that Dr. Sandwell will be a light to lighten the Gentiles. We hope that he will never permit himself to be silent for longer than five consecutive minutes at Board meetings. We hope that he will astonish and scandalize the Board by putting forward the view that the programs broadcast by the CBC are the most important things about it, and that difficulties of organization and other excuses for poor work are not of the slightest interest to the public. We hope that he will attack the belief, so clearly reflected in most CBC offerings, that the average Canadian listener is an illiterate oaf, without taste and incapable of developing taste, for whom the second-rate is quite good enough. We hope, in fact, that Dr. Sandwell will raise the roof, making the Governors so uncomfortable that they will resign, only to be replaced by other Canadians of Dr. Sandwell's calibre.

A Canadian Governor-General

The Gallup Poll, we observe, has been asking people whether they think that we should have a Canadian as Governor-General, or whether we should keep on with our present custom of having someone fill that office from Great Britain. According to the Poll more than half the people of Canada would like to see a Canadian as Governor-General. In Quebec, indeed, 81 per cent. of those questioned are of that opinion, which is not really surprising.

We do not think that the Poll findings mean very much. Ask any Canadian whether he would like to see a Canadian as Commander-in-Chief of the United Nations Forces, for instance, and chauvinism and goodwill toward his country will probably prompt him to answer in the affirmative. Many Canadians see no reason why the highest office in the government of this country should be held by someone from outside.

Considered rationally, there is no reason for it, but not all governmental forms are rational. The Governor-General represents the King in Canada; but are we prepared to accept a retired Canadian judge, or a rich industrialist, as the King's representative? No, we are not; the idea of the monarchy is mystical in its power and significance, and the representative of the monarchy should partake of some of that mystical quality; psychologically, it is valuable that the Governor-General should come from abroad and from His Majesty himself, and we would never feel the same respect for a man whom we had seen in all the stages of his career in Canada.

This is not pseudo-scientific bunk. The Australians tried the plan of having an Australian as Governor-General, and sickened of it very quickly, and asked for a Prince of the Royal House to take the job. The man they chose to head their government was a good man, but he was too well-known to too many people.

A Governor-General, like a King, is a symbol, and his personal shortcomings are to a great degree obscured by the dignity which attends his office. We cannot invest one of ourselves with that dignity. Canada may try the experiment of a home-grown Governor-General, but we predict that we shall weary of it, as the Australians did.

The County Hospital Rate

On Saturday morning the County Council accepted the motion of Reeves Johnston and Scriver that a half-mill rate for hospital support be added to county taxes. This levy will raise $4,519.34 annually for Nicholls Hospital, and $1,000 for St. Joseph's.

This is a step of the utmost importance in the history of Peterborough hospitals. For years it has been a matter of contention that the county made no contribution to hospital upkeep, although county patients made use of the hospitals and looked upon them as their own. Now the county has accepted and acknowledged a responsibility in this matter. It is worth observing that the County Council was of the opinion that the hospital rates in this city were high in comparison with those maintaining in cities of the same size and character. It is not likely that the county contribution will bring about any reduction in rates at present. When Peterborough has a new hospital, however, it might be possible to make an adjustment.

For it is perfectly clear that Peterborough needs a new hospital, of modern design and capable of being run on economic lines. It needs, in fact, a civic hospital, governed by a board which works with the City Council. A smaller and more active board than that provided for under the will of the late Mrs. Nicholls would greatly increase the efficiency of the hospital's administration.

There are many indications at present that Peterborough will grow rapidly in importance and, to a lesser extent, in population, after the war. Inadequate hospital accommodation is a black eye for any city. The move of the County Council shows a willingness to cooperate and a realization of the importance of hospitals, both of which are very welcome and very important. They are signs of the times, and the city cannot afford to be behind the times.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Says Dorothy Dix, "Parents should look forward to the day when their children will be able to do things for themselves". Many look forward to the day when children can do a few things for their parents.

Says the Fort William Times-Journal: "After considerable study of the subject we have come to the conclusion that people like to be taxed". For the same reason, presumably, that the Irishman liked being hit on the head with a hammer—it was so nice when it stopped.

The grain which produces a pound of pork has 10 times as much food value as the meat, a scientist assures us. If he is suggesting that we should eat the grain instead of the pork, a plague on him! Eating is a pleasure, not a mere stoking of the human furnace as some of these scientific rascals would have it.

In Britain 100 charwomen, carefully selected and sworn to secrecy, go each night to clean "invasion headquarters", wherever it may be. Now we know why the invasion is so long in coming. If the charwomen are like other British charwomen we have known, they hide the plans in a fresh place every night.

The C.N.R.'s Amazing Story

(From the Winnipeg Free Press)

CANADIANS cannot appreciate too much the the tremendous job which the government-owned railway system is doing for them during the war crisis. Transportation is an essential service for any country at war, but it is still more important to such a spacious country as Canada. Our war effort would be sadly reduced without our complete and efficient transportation facilities. The Canadian National, the largest railway system on the continent and one of the most efficient, was last year hauling greater and greater quantities of raw materials, food supplies, products of the munitions industry, and other goods. This brought the impressive increase of $65,000,000 in its operating revenues in that one year. And this is the railway system that was languishing for want of traffic before the war.

The extent of the Canadian National's service to the country, at a time when that service is most needed and most acceptable, is shown in the report of President R. C. Vaughan for 1943, just presented to Parliament. Freight traffic was more than double, and passenger traffic four times, that of 1939. With operating revenues of $440,615,000 and operating expenses $324,400,000, there was a net operating revenue of $116,000,000. The operating ratio was lowered from 82 per cent in 1928, the system's best year in peacetime, to 76.93 per cent in 1942, and 73.6 per cent last year.

THESE are the principal figures showing the vastly improved position of the Canadian National, and demonstrating the enormous capacity for transportation service, and the efficiency of operation, that have been developed. The earning capacity of the system has greatly increased because of this. Additional traffic is carried at less than proportionate expense, and out of every $100 of increased revenue, $45 is net revenue.

The cash surplus from the year's operations, going to the Government to help finance the war, is $35,639,000, an increase of $10,576,000 over last year. But there is much more to be said about this. The surplus might have been twice as great but for the conservative financial policy that has been followed. The increase of $29,500,000 in net revenue last year was chosen as an opportunity for setting aside $19,000,000 as a pension reserve for the employees.

"Instead of trying to make the most favorable showing possible," President Vaughan also said, "the policy was continued of absorbing out of wartime revenue the heavy costs created by wartime conditions, thus avoiding carrying such costs forward to the post-war period. The amount charged to operating expenses for deferred maintenance was $11,150,000. The amount charged for depreciation on locomotives, freight and passenger-train cars, etc., was $19,829,000, or approximately $7,500,000 more than would be provided under average traffic conditions."

The $35,000,000 cash surplus looks all the better after these prudent financial provisions.

Looking to the post-war situation, Mr. Vaughan foresaw the railways facing the serious competition of water, highway and air transport. But the country will still depend mainly on the railways. They will carry the bulk of the traffic, especially the long-haul traffic, of which there is so much in Canada. What the railways need for their continued prosperity is the buoyant economic condition that we see in Canada today.

THE enormous capacity of our two railway systems for efficient transportation service is being fully demonstrated. The war is responsible for the great increase in traffic. If, when peace comes, some other way is found of maintaining economic activity on a high level, so that the splendid facilities of the railways will be in full demand, their troubles will have gone for good.

How wholly false is now seen to be the framework of what was in the bad 30's always so dolefully called "the Railway Problem!" How inadequate are seen to be the repeated efforts by interested parties to effect amalgamation! What poor service was rendered to Canada by the attempts to sabotage the C.N.R.! What we now learn is that "full employment" makes the total resources of both railways vitally necessary to Canada.

When times were bad, the world—Canada included—resorted to restriction of trade, with the result that trade became paralyzed. We can now see this as a fatal mistake. The future of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific is linked with the future of Canada. We all depend on a maximum of free trading. Goods must be exchanged freely inside and outside the country. Therein lies the secret of Canada's economic salvation, and it is for Canadians to see this clearly and to demand a vigorous policy of trade expansion so that they may share their products with other countries, taking theirs in return, with great advantage all around.

Likes Beer Policy

The Tribune welcomes the Dominion Government's latest move as on the whole likely to promote temperance. It is a fact of human nature, demonstrated again and again during this war, that the best "sales promotion" for any commodity is the threat of restriction. This is not a happy thought, but there is no escaping it. What we desire to see in Canada is true moderation. The size of the national drink bill is certainly excessive. If rigid restriction would promote moderation, then sensible, patriotic citizens would favour it. But it has not work out in practice, as has been amply demonstrated.

The Tribune believes the Dominion Government is wise in removing its restrictions on beer. Certainly it has made an adroit political move.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Peter Lorre

Peter Lorre, soft-spoken arch villain of the screen, is probably the American actor most hated in Nazi social circles, because he once rejected Adolph Hitler's personal invitation to make films in Germany with a neatly worded insult.

The Hungarian-born actor made some pictures in Germany before Hitler came to power, and his work prior to 1933 included the world-famed "M." Apparently Hitler saw that picture and greatly admired Mr. Lorre's acting as a murderer. At any rate, he had his Nazi-controlled film industry invite Mr. Lorre, then in England, to come back to Germany. This was Mr. Lorre's reply:

"Thank you, but I think Germany has room for only one mass murderer of my ability and yours."—New York Herald Tribune.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

SOLDIERS' REST HOME

Sir,—I noticed in the Telegram they are going to close the Staff House in Peterborough, and someone suggests opening it up for a rest home for sick "disabled soldiers". I think it would be a good thing for the Government and would save them money. Take my case. It costs the Government my return fare to and from Peterborough, besides the expense of any of my family to call and see me. I hope the people of the city will start things moving soon. —Yours truly,

R. J. LYNCH, 195129.

Christie Street Hospital, Toronto.

INCOME TAX CONFUSION

Sir,—In your issue of Wednesday, March 22, you published a letter from a correspondent protesting against an injustice in Income Tax Form T1 Special.

In a later issue you answered the correspondent's letter by quoting a passage from a book, "How to Prepare Your Income Tax", by Lancelot Smith. I understand from this passage that the penalty charged if tax not paid by April 30, 1944, is 8 per cent. of balance owing unless you are an instalment taxpayer. Does the Federal Government authorize the above mentioned book?

Looking over Form T1 Special it states plainly in Item 13F, "Add penalty if filed after April 30th, 1944 (5 per cent. of Item 13E)". Item 13E states "Total tax (Item 13A plus Item 13D)", said items being the fixed tax and the savings tax as shown on pages 3 and 4.

The question is, whose authority do we follow when filling out the forms. The statements on the tax form or the passages from the above-mentioned book if this book is duly authorized.—Yours in perplexity,

S. M. NEAVE.

ED. NOTE: The penalty referred to here is for late fyling of the tax form, and has nothing to do with the amount owing. Lancelot Smith's book is not authorized, but is recognized as the best authority on the subject.

CHURCHILL ARTICLE APPRECIATED.

S.S. No. 3, N. Monaghan,
March 24th, 1944.

Sir,—On behalf of the teacher and the pupils of our school, we wish to thank you for writing that special article on Prime Minister Winston Churchill in last Tuesday's paper.

It was just the kind of material on his early life that we needed for our scrapbook.

Our next list of men for study includes some other members of Eisenhower's invasion team—Tedder, Doolittle, Spaatz, Bradley, and Mallory. We are glad to have already clipped some of their pictures and maps out of the paper.

Again on behalf of the school, thanking you for your kindness.—We are, yours truly,

OPPOSES PROVINCIAL PARK.

Sir,—You have recently published the opinion of a few citizens regarding the proposed (Federal?) Provincial Park in North Peterborough County. A good deal has been said on the "pro" side by people who are not property owners in the proposed Park site, the fate of which hangs in the balance. May I call the attention of you readers to a few points on the opposite side of the debate lest some of our more gullible citizen may be hoodwinked into accepting as final argument the very attractive 'salestalk' of some high-powered salesmen whose interest might lie in converting other people's property even though he has often heard "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbour's house". Does it not savour slightly of the encroachment of a mighty army on a little country on the pretext of saving her from herself. Perhaps she prefers to go unsaved.

It has been said that cottage owners may retain all privileges as now other than destruction of wild life in open season in the proposed park area. Are property owners or cottagers particularly destructive to wild life? Should the country's existing game laws and the efforts of energetic game wardens not be sufficient protection for our wild life? If not, why not? Are there not many people who are 100 per cent. in favour of protection of wild life even though they are private land owners? We wish to encourage tourist traffic. Yes, by all means, but does the prospect of a week-end even in this fair district appeal to the tourist, who enjoys a trout or partridge cooked over a camp fire, if this is forbidden fruit even in open season? There are many American property owners in the proposed park site, who have chosen it because it affords a summer holiday in comparative seclusion in a beautiful natural setting. They are good neighbours and do not unduly incur the wrath of game wardens. Should we not encourage the visits of such people and is there not a probability that our pro-park propaganda may dampen their enthusiasm with its restrictions to visit us?

The question of timber depletion has been raised. Much of the large timber in the said district was felled long before the arrival of present-day inhabitants. Why not encourage the reforestation of private property? It is true that some owners have re-planted and encouraged young trees in numbers far inexcess of sound timber cut on their own lots in recent years.

In this present time of fuel conservation many people have depended on fallen timber and drift wood to supplement their full supply. If the government took over the ownership of these lots, is it likely that this wood would be left to rot?

Suppose we accept the ruling that we must have a park in this county. Why not consider the great stretch of hundreds of acres of government-owned land west of the Peterborough-Gooderham road from Buckhorn to Haliburton and back to Victoria County? Not as pretty perhaps but wild life value peace ahead of beauty of scenery, and they could be quite unmolested excepting for the inroads of a few pickers in open blueberry season. A stretch of surveyed lots on the east side of the main road is still government owned. Are we justified in asking for the expenditure of thousands of dollars of our public funds for necessary improvements under existing conditions? Could the interest of a private property owner not be aroused by a government subsidy to promote a wild life sanctuary? This has been done successfully in other parts of Ontario. Could incapacitated veterans not be interested in such a proposals?

I offer my opinion, Mr. Editor as one who for nearly twenty years has spent summers in Northern County and who travelled very uncomfortably over poor roads until recently, to enjoy the freedom and beauty of the north. I have yet to shoot my first partridge or deer. However I claim credit for the demise of one destructive porcupine, a few turkey-eating skunks and the occasional woodchuck. Is it not reasonable that wild life in the district may consider me and others like-minded land owners protective agents even though we wear no badge of authority as proof?

May I say in closing that last year it was my privilege to offer camping ground to a Boy Scout Troop from the ctiy (9th Peterborough, Park Hill) in so doing feeling I "did my good deed for the day." I believe it was a worth while investment and one should be encouraged. Would Boy Scout Camps be permitted in our proposed Provincial park or is there a closed or open season for such "wild life"?

Thank you, Sincerely yours,
W. W. COLE.

Chance For Everybody

Canada has the resources to provide a decent living for every citizen, and for many millions more than the present number of inhabitants. Private enterprise can be depended upon to furnish opportunities for remunerative labour for a very large proportion of the population, but some direction will be required to carry this situation beyond the post-war reconstruction stage. It may not be possible to maintain the standard fixed by war conditions, but there would be widespread disappointment, to use no stronger term, if social and economic conditions were permitted o revert to the level that prevailed in the thirties. Evidently it is the intention of the Government that this shall not be permitted. — Moncton Transcript.

Election Has Bearing

A document filed in the U.S. Congressional record contains charges that the British Dominions, led mainly by Canada," are dominating both London and Washington "by playing one against the other." These absurd allegations are credited to Charles E. Dant, U.S. lumberman, who had been asked by lumber interests for his advice on postwar prospects. Senator Rufus C. Holman of Oregon said he had "profound respect for the opinion." It is difficult to find the reason for such admiration, but perhaps the facts that Holman is a Republican and that this is U.S. election year have some slight bearing on the matter!—Brantford Expositor.

A Bible Message

I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past. (Eccl. 3: 14, 15.)

All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power; to make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.

Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations. (Ps. 145: 1, 5, 10-13.)

No Short Cut to Competence

Decisions of the University of Western Ontario and other Canadian universities to drop the "streamlined medical course adopted three years ago as a war-time measure is welcome. It was one of the less successful experiments prompted by the war. However it may be a good thing that the experiment was made, if only to show the folly of advocating anything less than the most thorough training for doctors.

There is a delusion widely held these days that knowledge can be compressed into pill form and easily digested. Popularizations and digests are everywhere popular. Some good is done by familiarizing many laymen with facts and theories they would not otherwise know anything about. But there are severe limitations to the possibilities of digests. Obviously a doctor can't take his training in the shape of sugar-coated pills. The field of medicine is constantly expanding, and the amount which a medical man must know is increasing. So any attempt to cut down on the course is obvious folly. It is unfair to the young doctors-in-embryo and to the community, and the universities are wise in curtailing it.

At the same time something should be done to take the burden of the long and expensive medical course off the shoulders of the student and his family—to some extent at least. All current surveys of health projects show that we need more doctors, and that even after the war we will need more doctors and other trained personnel. If the best doctors are to be obtained some other test than the financial ability of their parents should serve to govern choice of prospective doctors. A start has been made in the enlistment in the army of merdical students, who stay in school until their training is complete, and then join units designated for them. Surely it should be possible after the war to enlist students for national service in the field of health, train them and then have them work in health projects.—London Free Press.

Canadians In Washington Beat U.S. Girls to Romance

By BEN ROSE.

WASHINGTON, March 28 — Romance has bloomed into marriage for 100 Canadian girls in this city which has "share the man" clubs. Their hearts were won, almost 50-50, by dashing Americans and Britons, nearly all servicemen.

"What have they got that we haven't got?" This is the oft-heard plaint of the thousands of attractive American girls who crowd Washington as Canadian girls crowd Ottawa. Rate of marriages among Canadian girls in Washington about one in 10, is far above that for the U.S. belles.

"When I left for Washington in October, 1943, I heard so many stories about the scarcity of men I thought sure I'd be spending all my evenings at home," said dark-haired Mrs. Allan Lobb, the former Gloria Dixon, Toronto. It didn't turn out that way. Her husband, studying medicine at George Washington University, is attached to the U.S. Navy as a midshipman.

"Poetic Justice."

Mrs. Henry Pakosta, Montreal, thinks there is a touch of "poetic justice" in the marriage of Canadian girls in the U.S. capital. "I read a report that 16,000 of our fellows married in England," one huffed. "We had to do something about it." Mr. Pakosta is a civilian attached to the naval torpedo station at Alexandria.

The influx of Canadian girls to Washington is now a mere trickle compared with what it was, due mostly to tightening of selective service in Canada. In fact, the newcomers are just about balancing off with those who pack their bags and head home.

Pearl Robinson, Toronto, met Lieut.-Col. Duncan Allan in Washington, but they were married in Toronto in December, 1942. With the peace they will probably live in England. Mrs. Allan is still working for the British supply mission.

Upsweep Bobs Popular In Hair Styles

Hair styles are being featured in extremes this spring, with the short, upsweep bob vieing with the long, smooth cut, caught with a colorful ribbon. The shortage of bobby pins probably has something to do with the latter's popularity, and collegiate students seem to have taken to the new style with a will. The variety of colors offered in the ribbon style is one of its assets, since the younger generation generally ignores hats, and a little color on the head brightens up any ensemble.

The short bob, however, is holding its own, and is especially popular with girls in the factory, who have to wear their hair in a bandana all day. The short, crisp curls can be easily combed out, and the coiffeur is ready in a twinkling.

Whichever style is chosen, the hair must be neat and glowing with health. Hair stylists are agreed on that important factor. Frequent brushing imparts lustre and life to sagging curls, and gives them a fresh start. When washing the hair, it is always wise to wash, brush and comb at the same time, thus insuring a fresh clean look. A few drops of toilet water in the last rinse impart a faint lingering fragrance.

A new hair-do, for girls who are partial to the Airforce, is called "propeller," and features two lacquired waves on either side of a special curl in front. The hair is parted on the side, and set with tiny pin curls. The curls are then brushed out softly to form two rolls on one side, and the "propeller" curls in front, which can, if preferred, be turned around to form a front pompador. The back is curled around in a soft up-brushed curl. The result is charming, but it must be remembered that the curls must be smooth and glossy to get the best effect.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mullen, R.R. 4, Peterborough, and has been on active service outside of Canada for the past two years, serving on the destroyer Restigouche. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Liddell, Anson Street.

C.W.L. Diocesan Executive Holds Quarterly Meeting

The Diocesan executive of the Catholic Women's League held its quarterly meeting recently at the home of Mrs. F. J. Lynch, 420 London Street, with representatives from Cobourg, Campbellford, Lakefield, Norwood and Lindsay, as well as members of the executive, in attendance.

Reports of the conveners showed the marked enthusiasm, and splendid work of each sub-division. Douro sub-division has already forwarded a donation of $25 to the Merchant Marine, and others are sending cartons of warm clothing. The corresponding secretary read letters of thanks for boxes and cigarettes from overseas chaplain, Capt. W. C. McCarney, and letters of appreciation from outlying missions.

The president, Mrs. F. J. Lynch, announced the national convention, being held in London, and asked each president to comply with requests of the various conveners, and reply fully and on specified dates to questionnaires received.

After the completion of the reading of reports, and a full discussion of existing problems, His Excellency Bishop J. R. MacDonald commented and gave advice on them. His words of praise and pleasure for work done throughout the Diocese were a real inspiration to everyone. On behalf of the executive, Mrs. Lynch thanked him, and promised to carry out his wishes, by organizing, with the assistance of the parish priests, and sub-division of the Catholic Women's League, in every parish in the Diocese.

The meeting was adjourned with the League prayer for chaplains, soldiers, sailors and airmen in the services.

Those attending were as follows: Diocesan Chaplain, Rt. Rev. J. H. MacDonald, Bishop of Peterborough; Mrs. F. J. Lynch, president, of Peterborough; Mrs. F. Fox, first vice-president; Miss M. R. Baker, second vice-president; Mrs. T. J. Begley, treasurer, of Lindsay; Miss L. Hurley, recording secretary; Mrs. H. Connolly, corresponding secretary, of Peterborough.

Representatives were: Mrs. G. Hynes of Immaculate Conception, Mrs. F. McCarthy of Sacred Heart, and Miss Gladys Costello of the Juniors, of Peterborough; Mrs. P. Butler, of Cobourg; Mrs. C. J. Black, of Campbellford; Mrs. F. Deladoon, of Lakefield; Miss J. Finn, of Norwood; Mrs. F. Callahan and Mrs. T. Spratt, of Lindsay.

Home and School Association News

PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL

Fathers took complete charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association, held Monday evening in the kindergarten room, with the largest attendance of fathers ever recorded in the history of the association. The increased interest in Home and School work was shown by this unusual attendance of male members, and the fathers actually outnumbered the mothers at the meeting.

Mr. P. D. Windrem was in charge of a musical program, which opened with community singing, led by Major R. M. Bamsey, with Mr. Harry Northrop at the piano. Tommy Krogh, a pupil of Grade 2, played a cornet solo, and solos and a duet by Norman Harris and Mr. Northrop completed the program.

Mr. John Donaldson introduced the guest speaker, Mr. H. A. Gadd, who gave an instructive talk on the manufacture and use of plastics. Mr. Gadd had a display of plastics in different stages of manufacture, and used it to illustrate his lecture. "Several plastic products are not being manufactured at present, because of war conditions," the speaker explained, "but plastics will play an important part in industry in post-war days."

During a brief business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. G. W. Hutchinson, it was decided to send four delegates to the convention of the Home and School Federation, being held at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, during Easter week.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

Many a woman has won an enviable reputation as a "born" cook because of her ability to bake fluffy, delicious cakes. Although whole books have been written on the art of baking, there are only a few essentials to remembers. Whether you are a new cook or an old hand at baking, you can profit by these suggestions. If you are a novice you will soon be confident by following these tips and, even if you have been baking for years, I'll wager that you'll find some brand new helps to take the gamble out of your results. By knowing these rules and using carefully tested recipes you'll be certain every time of a cake you will be proud to serve.

Before Mixing

1. Use the exact ingredients specified in the recipe.

2. Allow all ingredients to come to room temperature. If they are at room temperature your cake will be higher and fluffier.

3. Be sure to have the size and type pan called for in the recipe. If you use too large a pan your cake will not bake properly nor rise to the top and brown well. If you use too small a pan, your cake will rise and run over the sides and will not brown evenly.

4. Use a light coating of fat to grease the bottom and sides of the pan. If your pan is not well greased your cake will stick.

5. Check to make sure the oven racks are level.

6. Preheat the oven to the desired temperature. If the temperature is not correct your cake will not bake properly.

Below I will give you a few recipes for some very good cakes.

Orange Sponge Cake

1 cup cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, few grains of salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 7 tablespoons orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon butter.

Sift together 3 times, flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until light and foamy. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly. Fold in flour mixture. Combine orange juice, rind and butter (heat). Add to egg mixture, stir until smooth. Pour into lightly greased pan 11 in. x 7 in. x 1½ in. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) one hour. Invert pan on iron rack until cold, then remove from pan.

Apple Sauce Cake

1 cup brown sugar, 3/4 cup butter, 1½ cups of unsweetened apple-sauce, 1 cup raisins, ¼ lb. mixed peel, 2½ cups flour, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 2 teaspoons soda, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add sugar, dissolve soda in apple sauce and add with raisins and peel to the first mixture. Add flour sifted with salt and spices. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. for 35 or 40 minutes.

Prince of Wales Cake

½ cup butter, 1 cup white sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup walnuts, ½ cup milk, 2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon soda, 2/3 cup grated chocolate, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3/4 cup boiling water. Cream butter, add sugar and beaten egg yolks. Dissolve chocolate and soda in boiling water, add milk to sugar and eggs, then add chocolate mixture, walnuts and vanilla. Add flour sifted with cream of tartar and lastly add beaten egg whites. Bake in two layer tins in moderate oven 350 dergrees F. for 20 minutes. Put layers together with orange filling and ice with boiled icing.

MEN PREFER FLUFFY RUFFLES
War's Sloppy Josies Prove Girls Don't Dress To Please Their Boy Friends

One of the subjects that has always been good for argument is women's clothes. Do women dress to please men? Or do they dress to make other women nervous? Or do they just dress? The war has apparently settled this burning question and proven that whatever other reason may motivate a woman in picking out her wardrobe, she doesn't take the taste of men into consideration.

Otherwise there wouldn't be a mother's daughter of them parading around in dirty slacks, or stringy sweaters and soiled saddle-back shoes and looking like Sloppy Josies. For, for the first time, men have arisen en masse and expressed their opinion of what they wanted the well-dressed woman to wear. And the cry has been, as with one voice, for fluffy ruffles.

Soldiers Want Fluffy Clothes

From one end of the land to the other, wherever soldiers have been entertained, the universal request that the boys have made is for the girls who come to the parties to wear pretty, bright-colored clothes. They want long, swishy skirts. Lace and furbelows and gewgaws, and perfume behind their ears. They want the girls to look glamorous, instead of like a poor understudy of little brother.

And if this isn't a tip to the Jills who are buying their Spring outfits, they are so dumb they are past praying for. For the boys' demand for girls who are easy on the eyes is more than a reaction against their being fed up on having nothing but uniforms to look upon. It is a hunch that every woman expresses herself in her clothes, and by her clothes you may judge her.

Take the girl, for instance, who makes an imitation man of herself by dressing like a man. There is little of the feminine in her nature, and if she puts on trousers before marriage a man may be sure she will wear the pants afterwards. Such a woman is rarely satisfied with domesticity. She craves a career and while she make a good business partner, she is generally a poor bet as a wife.

Dress Shows Lack of Judgment

Then there is the girl who is always inappropriately dressed; who will wear a flowered hat to market and patent leather pumps on a hiking party, and who invariably dikes herself out in colors that swear at each other and clothes that call attention to all of her worst points. You don't have to take a second look at her to know that she lacks judgment and common sense. No matter how sweet and lovely her character is, her house will always look like a pig-sty, and she will throw half of her husband's earnings into the garbage can.

On the other hand, there is the girl who is always neat and tidy and who has on exactly the things she should have to suit the occasion. A megaphone couldn't proclaim any louder that she is one of the efficient women who never have hysterics or go into tantrums, but who meet every situation in life with philosophy, and handle their husbands so adroitly that they don't even know that they are being bossed.

Oh, it is no wonder that men want women to go feminine in their dress. It is not only because they look so much prettier, but because it gives men a yardstick by which to measure their dispositions and characters.

SPORTS-Day by Day

Comes Tuesday night and it gives wrestling again at the Brock Street Arena with Frank Tunney's melange of mat stars moving in for what looks like a very busy evening of grappling and near-murder. Peterborough fans got a preview of the main bout last week when Krippler Karl Davis the Texas Terror who never makes a clean move if he has a dirty one handy—and he always has—battled Frank Sexton of Columbus O. for thirty minutes of torrid action inside, on top of and outside the ropes without a fall. Sexton of course belongs to the science department of the wrestling game. He believes in speed and cleverness and holds applied with some knowledge of the art but matched against Davis last week he soon found that technique didn't mean a thing in the kind of jungle warfare that Davis was waging. The result was that the Ohio powerhouse fought the big battler from Texas at his own game and the clash was replete with thrills. Sexton almost ended it a couple of times with his giant swing specialty and the last time he used it Davis's head bounced off a ring bolt and the Texan heard the robins singing. However the bell prevented Sexton from completing the job. With an hour to work in he hopes to toss Davis a couple of times tonight and everybody in the house will be backing him up.

The semi-final should be on a par in interest with the main attraction for Frank Judson, the well-known football coach, and a star mat performer in his own right, makes his Peterborough debut in a contest with a boy who has always been popular here, Toar Morgan, the former Marine. Morgan's last appearance at Brock Street was a bit disastrous for he ran into one of Wild Bill Longson's pile-drivers and was out of business for several weeks. However he's all O.K. again and will get a warm welcome from local fans, and incidentally from Judson who knows a lot about the wrestling game and rates highly among current exponents of the art. He and Morgan should stage a spectacular half hour's mat entertainment. As for the opener Jan Gotch who still blushes when he remembers that the crowd here cheered him last week will do his best to show that the ovation was a mistake by trying to lambaste the fast-moving Jack Wentworth into submission. He'll probably do it too, if Wentworth doesn't succeed in making it entirely a war of movement.

They're Erratic, Enough

Erratic army orders are blamed by Scribe Bill Walshe for the downfall of the Kingston Vics junior B squad at the hands of the Barrie Colts. Says the Kingston sports writer: "Kingston may blame erratic army orders for the collapse of another hockey hope with the Vics losing in the O.H.A. junior B playdowns in the Maple Leaf Gardens last night. Early in the winter Kingston had dreams of senior glory with a powerful soldier team that was ordered disbanded by the Army and last night Kingston boys opposed other Army players who helped drop them into the deep discard of eliminated teams. Kingston questioned the right of Barrie to use soldiers Chad Bark and Jack Mason in provincial playoffs and was notified by G. S. Currie, Deputy Minister of National Defence, that the Commandant of Camp Borden had been instructed to withdraw them from the Barrie team. The two soldiers played against Kingston last night and took an important part in the victory. Kingston's main objection to the soldier players was that junior soldiers and airmen were kept off the Kingston team and soldiers in the Kingston area had to have special permission from Ottawa to even play exhibition games to help the hockey Hall of Fame. It took two weeks to get permission from Ottawa for soldiers to play one friendly game at home and Kingston hockey officials cannot get a satisfactory explanation on Barrie using the two Army men, especially when they were ordered out of the game, according to official notice."

According to Ken Colling some of last year's softball clubs are not going to function this season. Here is the outlook as the Belleville sports scribe sees it: "Last year there were eight teams in the Belleville Senior Softball League, No. 5 I.T.S., Reliance, Vets' Juniors, Alemite, Stephens Adamson, Bristol, Foundries and Belleville Garrison, but indications today point to a much smaller entry for 1944. At the softball executive conclave discussion was heard regarding the potential entries for 1944. Reliance are definitely not returning to the city softball wars but will conduct an inter-plant league of their own. Belleville Garrison is not expected to return, nor will No. 5 I.T.S. now the Department of National Defence has announced the possible closing of the local Air Force base. Nothing has been heard from the camp of the Belleville Foundries team and the same holds good for Alemite. However, rumors have Bristol moving out to strengthen their squad for another year, while no doubt Al Hitchon and his henchmen will be back with a strong "Marine" team from Foster Ward and the Stephens Adamson plant."

Under One Head

Organization of Kitchener's Sports Association, a development that has been going on for months has been completed with the election of officers and a 17-man board has been chosen with power to add to its numbers if necessary. Rex McInnes, in the Kitchener Record has this to say about the ambitious movement: "Something new was added to Kitchener sporting activities last night when the Kitchener Sports Association was formed at the City Hall. Actually it's the first time Kitchener sports have ever been completely under one head although, according to reports, an attempt was made shortly after the last war to organise several groups into a sports organization. The original attempt didn't go nearly as far as the setup ratified last night. There was no argument whatsoever on the proposed slate of officers for the association and, as far as this corner is concerned, the choice was right on the beam. "Buller" Pequegnat, the first president of the organization, rolled the meeting along in fine style after he took over, and backed by several hundred years of sports experience on his executive, should give Kitchener sports a decided lift toward a prominent spot in Dominion athletics. The auditorium question got a thorough going over during the discussion period. A large majority of those present were in favor of a joint proposition embracing Kitchener and Waterloo with provision for accommodating musical, religious and political gatherings as well as hockey and other sports."

For the seventh time in seven years the Oshawa Generals are junior A champions of Ontario. With a good scouting system, the assistance of an indulgent O.H.A. executive and the wholehearted co-operation of General Motors there doesn't seem any particular reason why the Motor City shouldn't keep right on winning titles for another seven. Anyway they made a convincing job of this season's championship for they finished on top at the end of the regular schedule and breezed through the playoffs, strangely enough having more trouble in polishing off the St. Catharines Falcons in the semi-finals than they did in getting rid of St. Mike's, hailed as the real threat. The Generals completed the downfall of the Toronto Irish last night winning in Oshawa 2 goals to 0 to take the final series 4 games to 1 and leaving no doubt as to which was the better team. This may not be the greatest Oshawa team in history but so far this season it has been equal to everything asked of it.

Ball Players Get New Rules

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, March 28—(AP).—Shades of Rube Waddell, eccentric southpaw pitcher for Philadelphia Athletics back in the 1900's. At Frederick, Md., yesterday the A's came up with a set of spring training rules, one of which set a nickel and dime limit on poker games.

If this rule spreads to other major league clubs it will be tough on the more experienced hands who have learned to bluff their way in a "sky's the limit" game.

Other rules, as set forth by Manager Connie Mack, call for a midnight curfew, no serious drinking; prompt appearance at meals (do they need a rule for that?). Those who get caught will be fined according to the player's salary.

"The boys themselves wanted the rules," explained Mr. Mack. "They seem to feel we'll have a pretty good chance this year and they wanted an understanding that would protect the chances of the club as a whole."

News from the other camps included:

Cairo, Ill.—Catcher Ken O'Dea reported to champion Cardinals. Catcher Gerald Burmeister now only unaccounted-for absentee.

Evansville, Ind. — Veteran Roger Cramer expected to return to centre field for Detroit, shifting Chuck Hostetler to right.

Muncie, Ind.—Pirates' mound staff now down to eight with loss of Southpaw Wally Hebert.

Play Friday

TORONTO, March 28—(CP)—Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the Ontario Hockey Association today announced that Toronto De La Salle and Barrie will play the second game of their best-of-three series for the O.H.A. Charles E. Westbrook Elected President Of Peterborough Curling Club

The election of Charles E. Westbrook as president, the presentation of prizes an an interim report from the special committee appointed to investigate possible plans for ensuring better ice conditions featured a largely attended annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club held in the club rooms, Charlotte Street, on Monday night. President J. E. Thomas was in the chair. The election of Mr. Westbrook was unanimous. There was a contest for the vice-presidency, and nine candidates were nominated for the managing committee. The slate of officers chosen was as follows:

Secretary-treasurer Thomas B. McArthur in his annual report showed a surplus of $932.22 on the season's operations. The total receipts, including over $2,100 for members' fees, were $3,966.52, and the total expenses $3,034.30.

In his presidential address J. E. Thomas stated that although 17 curling days had been lost during the season because of mild weather the club had had a very successful season and had finished all its competitions.

Plans for Better Ice.

President Thomas reported that the matter of improving ice conditions had been referred to a special committee composed of T. B. McArthur, D. L. Davis, and J. G. Harkness, and outlined five plans that had been considered by this committee. The first involved insulation with two-inch ten-test and the installation of thermostatic fans to blow in the cold air from outside, costing around $3,000. The second called for three-inch insulation and the use of fans, and would cost around $4,500. The third would include insulation and the use of a 10-ton refrigeration plant with a blower system, involving the expenditure of approximately $8,000. The fourth was a complete artificial ice plant costing around $18,000, and the fifth was to install a 10-ton refrigeration plant to give artificial ice on the three centre rinks and cool off the four side ices. The cost of the fifth scheme would be around $8,000.

D. L. Davis, memebr of the special committee, gave details of the various plans suggested. The investigation was still going on and he said the committee was not yet prepared to make aby recommendation.

"Some of the authorities tell us," he said, "that enough harm has been done to curling by the increased cost of operations with an artificial ice plant in smaller centres to offset any possible benefit that could be expected from such a plant."

Mr. Davis said that the insulation and thermostatic fan plan had worked out very satisfactorily in Orillia where it had been in operation this past season. Checking up the weather conditions for the winter it had been found that there had been very few days when the thermometer did not get down to 32 degrees at some time and the fan system took advantage of the cooler air outside. As for using refrigeration to provide artificial ice in the centre of the building he pointed out that the expense of such a plan would not result in a prohibitive increase in membership fees, whereas the adoption of the whole artificial ice plan would be an expensive proposition. The power bill alone to operate such a plant was necessarily a heavy one. By using the small unit that plan would fit into the bigger scheme if it were decided later on to embark on the more ambitious undertaking.

H. C. Giroux remarked that curlers were interested in having good ice at times when there was little cold outside and when the fan method would not be of any service. With artificial ice there could be curling in November and late in the spring, he pointed out.

The working out of a plan was left to the incoming executive.

The presentation of prizes as follows wound up the successful meeting:

The spring training stretch of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League opened yesterday at Lancaster, Pa., with a turnout of 25 players under the direction of Manager Burleigh Grimes who expressed the belief the loss of ball-tossers to the armed services would not provide much difficulty for Class AA leagues. He expected to have 34 players at least in camp before the end of the week.

When Beau Jack of Atlanta steps in to the ring in Madison Square Garden Friday night it will mark the first time any fighter has figured in the main bout three times within a month at that sports palace. On March 3, Beau lost his lightweight title to Bob Montgomery; two weeks later he defeated Al (Bummy) Davis of Brooklyn and now he will face Juan Zurita of Mexico who recently acquired the lightweight crown of the N.B.A. They will fight a 10-round non-title affair.

"A VOICE FROM PARADISE"

A sailor lands at an Eastern Canada port and telephones his mother in a faraway Ontario town. He has been on convoy duty, whereabouts unknown, for seven months. In a couple of minutes he is home.

"It was like a voice from paradise," his mother told our operator.

Every Bell operator, every Bell lineman is conscious of the importance of handling today's great volume of wartime messages with the least possible delay. Through their efforts, plus the public's co-operation in avoiding non-essential calls, messages still go through with near-normal speed.

In 1943, it took an average of 124 seconds to complete a long distance call—not very much longer than in normal times.

Oshawa Blanks St. Mike's To Win Title

By The Canadian Press

Oshawa Generals last night shut out Toronto St. Michael's 2-0 in the fifth game of a best-of-seven series for the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" title. The victory gave the Generals the series 4-1, and the right to represent Ontario in the Memorial Cup trek.

The Toronto Collegians held off the Oshawa attack through the first period, and well on toward the end of the second frame, but Bill Ezinicki slipped through the defence and scored the first goal on a rebound from a shot by Bobby Love.

In the third period, Ken Smith added the second goal when he broke away from a ganging attack by St. Michael's.

Generals now will meet the champions of the Ottawa district in the Eastern Canada Memorial Cup semi-final.

In the Senior hockey race, Sudbury Frood Miners, who defeated Hamilton Majors last week, took a one-game lead in their best-of-five series with Hull Volants in the Eastern Canada Allan Cup semi-final, defeating the Volants 5-4 in overtime. The first game of the series resulted in a 4-4 deadlock.

The Ontario Hockey Association Junior "B" final series opened last night at Toronto with Barrie Colts taking a one-game lead in a best-of-three round. Colts turned back Toronto De La Salle Oaklands 5-4 in overtime in the first game.

Barrie Defeats De La Salle In First Game

TORONTO, March 28. — Barrie Colts turned in a sparkling performance at the Gardens last night to defeat the highly regarded De La Salle Oaklands 5-4, in the first of a three-game series for the Junior B O.H.A. championship. The second game will be played at Midland on Wednesday or Thursday. Venue of the deciding game, if needed, has not been set.

Although Oaklands are bigger and faster, the smaller Barrie lads tossed their weight around with a rare abandon, apparently patterning the play after that of their coach Hap Emms, former big league star and a body-checker of note. Mac Innes played wenn in the Oaklands nets. Mason and Bowen were effective for the Colts, while the rushing and back-checking of Syd Smith were features. In the third frame the game was enlivened by fistic joust between Gallagher and Cook Both received majors.

NEW YORK, March 28.—(AP).—Fuel for a small fire....After looking in on the recent basketball coaches' conference and seeing 69 names registered, this Dept. again is puzzled by the fact that the so-called national game of the United States doesn't get the same sort of attention from the colleges....As far as we can learn, the baseball coaches haven't any organization.. And as one of the court tutors pointed out: "Except in a few colleges that pay attention to baseball, they haven't full-time coaches. They just pick someone who isn't busy and give him the job on the theory that anybody can be a baseball expert." ....We suppose those are the same folks who claim there's no interest in college baseball.

To-day's Guest Star.

Joe Gootter, Paterson, N.J., Evening News: "Gag just as corny as the Phillies' new nickname: The reason they are calling themselves Blue Jays is because the team goes down to de-feet."

Grandstand Coaching.

Bruce Drake, the Oklahoma basketball coach, attributes this remark to his small daughter, who seems wise beyond her years in basketball lore: "You know what I'd like to hear over the loud speaker some time? Somebody substituting for Kurland.

(P.S.—After two futile efforts to handcuff lanky Bob Kurland of the Oklahoma Aggies this season, Bruce agrees unreservedly.)

TORONTO, March 28 — (CP)—If N.H.L. scouts get wind of that old-timers game played in Windsor they probably will be right around with their contract forms to sign up some of the old hopefuls. Among those turning out for the war charity game were such venerables as John Ross Roach, stonewall goalkeeper of a past generation, Lorne Duguid, Hap Emms, Frank Carson, Mickey McGuire, and others. The veterans tied a City League team 8-8.

They didn't exactly play like the youngsters, but they surprised the fans by their sprightliness. Roach was handed an elaborately wrapped bottle of liniment just before the game, but went out to block pucks with some of his old-time abandon.

Quipped John after the battle: "I was just warming up to-night. I now am ready to seep back into the big time."

If the manpower problem gets any worse the old-timers may yet be prevailed upon to turn out. They have the experience anyway.

Old friends best:

St. James Canadians, Manitoba junior champions, had their knuckles rapped by Pres. Frank Sargent of the C.A.H.A. when they attempted to add four new players to their lineup for the Memorial Cup play-offs. Commented Herb. Manning in the Winnipeg Tribune, "Mr. Sargent stepped in just in time. If St. James is destined to progress any further in the playdowns, it will be nice to recognize some of the boys on the team as having actually played a bit of hockey in these parts."

Incidentally:

The big Royal Canadian Navy training base at Deep Brook, N.S., now has its own artificial ice rink, capable of seating 2,000 fans. Funds were raised almost entirely by the young sailors in training.... The Sarnia Baseball and Hockey Federations have disbanded and a new Sarnia minor athletic club was formed in their stead. The new group will sponsor athletics of all kinds in the junior, juvenile, and bantam classes....Eddie Sobin, ace Winnipeg 10-pin bowler, otpples an even 1,000 pins in four strings recently. Sobin was the first player to roll a perfect 300 in a Winnipeg tournament in 1936, and in 1941 registered 842 in three strings, the highest ever bowled in Winnipeg.. ..The British system of refereeing will be followed during the Military District 13 (Alberta) and Pacific Command boxing tournament in Vancouver next month. Refs will be posted outside the ring, and no cheering will be allowed except between rounds.

Fibber Is Better

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 28—(AP).—Jim Jordan, known on the radio as Fibber McGee, "is improving," attendants said today at St. John's Hospital, where he is under treatment for lobar pneumonia. Dr. W. L. Marxer, the comedian's physician, estimated earlier it would be two weeks to a month before Jordan can resume his radio work. He was stricken Thursday.

Chicago Holds Playoffs Edge

CHICAGO, March 28—(CP)—It looks as though the break that gave Chicago Black Hawks victory in the first game of the best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final with Detroit Red Wings may stand the Hawks in good stead for the rest of the round. Chicago now leading the series 2-1 are set to make it 3-1 in the fourth game here tonight.

The Black Hawks had not won a game on Detroit ice since March 1940, but in the first game of the current series they broke that jinx and came up with a 2-1 triumph. Red Wings evened the count in the second game, also at Detroit, but the Hawks again took the lead in the third game, the first to be played here.

Detroit has visited Chicago six times in the present National Hockey League year and each time the Hawks have proved the victor. Whether this string will continue will be decided tonight. If it does, Chicago stands a good chance to take the series as subsequent games will alternate between Detroit and Chicago. Again, it may be Detroit's turn to break the hard luck jinx tonight and the series may be deadlocked.

Optimism rules in both camps and another 18,000 crowd is expected to pack the stadium for the encounter.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

Georges Vezina, the "Chicoutimi Cucumber" and one of the great goaltenders of hockey history, died from tuberculosis 18 years ago today. The superman of the nets played his first professional game with Montreal Canadiens Dec. 31, 1910 and his last game with the same team Nov. 28, 1925, despite a temperature of 102—first serious symptom of his fatal malady.

Canadiens Set To Battle Leafs

TORONTO, March 28.—(CP).—Toronto Maple Leafs prepared today to make a next-to-last ditch stand to-night in the fourth game of their Stanley Cup semi-final play-off series with Montreal Canadiens.

While defeat would not put Leafs out of the running—Canadiens hold a 2-1 edge in the best-of-seven series—it would leave them with the next-to-impossible task of taking three straight games from the Montrealers, two of them on Montreal ice.

Coach Clarence (Hap) Day looked forward to to-night's game with confidence. "I think we'll win it," he said, adding that he would use the same line-up as that which was defeated 2-1 by Canadiens Saturday night.

Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens, who also said he planned no line-up changes, said: "It's going to be a tough game. It's do or die for Toronto and the breaks will decide it. Leafs have been playing well in this series, better than we thought they could play."

Two players who were treated over the week-end by Rube Bannister of Toronto for injuries suffered Saturday night probably will be in action, said Irvin. They are Emil Bouchard, who suffered a Charley Horse, and Ray Getliffe, whose ankle was injured.

Cordell Hull Denies Dewey Charge

WASHINGTON, March 28—(AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull said Monday Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was "100 per cent wrong in the accuracy of his statement" made in a New York speech last Friday that the state department had requested British censors to suppress political news in dispatches for United States newspapers.

Mr. Hull was asked to comment on Dewey's statement before the Press Photographers' Association that "when we find the state department requesting the British censor to suppress political news sent to American papers by American correspondents abroad, it begins to amount to a deliberate and dangerous suppression of news at home."

Mr. Hull replied:

"Governor Dewey is 100 per cent wrong in the accuracy of his statement. All my life I have not only talked about a free press, I have fought for it.

"When these rumors of political censorship in England started in November 1942, I wrote Byron Price (U.S. Director of Censorship) and cabled Ambassador Winant (U.S. ambassador in London) to tell Mr. Eden (British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden) my conviction that (fundamentally the long range interest of international friendship are best served by permitting the people of any country to know what people in friendly countries are thinking and saying about them, however unpleasant some of those opinions may be.

"Both Mr. Price and Mr. Eden expressed full agreement."

FIRST ADVERTISED.

Coffee, chocolate and tea were among the first food products advertised in newspapers.

CANADA'S HERO OF ORTONA IN HOSPITAL—Recuperating from his wounds in a Canadian hospital in Italy, Major Paul Triquet, of Cabano, Canada, second Canadian soldier to win the Victoria Cross, Britain's highest award for valor in the face of the enemy, helps Army Nurse Lieut. Marie J. Swan, of Lloydminster, Sask., in rolling bandages. Major Triquet won the V.C. in the battle for Casa Berardi, which was regarded as the turning point in the battle for Ortona, Italy. Asked to talk about his exploit, the modest major said: "The others were marvellous."

Slot Machine Bill To Be Amended

TORONTO, March 28 (CP) — Premier Drew and E. B. Jolliffe, C.C.F. Opposition Leader, will wind up the budget debate in the Ontario Legislature today with probably a C.C.F. amendment to bring the third division of the session.

No word came from C.C.F. members as to whether an amendment is planned, but opposition speakers have been critical of a number of budget points. Welfare and the government's attitude on the education-cost question have been particular opposition targets.

The debate was scheduled to end yesterday but the House became involved with Bills. A C.C.F. attempt to block the government measure to set up provincially administered health services produced the second division of the session.

The vote, first officially called by Mr. Jolliffe since he took over as Opposition Leader, was closest in years, the Bill getting third-reading by a seven-vote majority, 40-33. The legislature's two Labor-Progressive members—J. B. Salsberg (Toronto St. Andrew's) and A. A. MacLeod (Toronto Bellwoods) voted with the C.C.F.

Only 10 of the 15 Liberal members were present and they voted with the Government, as did Mitchell Hepburn, former Liberal Premier who now sits as an Independent Liberal.

The vote came after the C.C.F. tried to put through an amendment which would have referred the Health measure back to committee of the whole for further discussion.

Mr. Salsberg and B. E. Leavens (CCF-Toronto Woodbine) spoke in the Budget debate yesterday and the Legislature also saw introduction of the government's new Labor Bill which will co-ordinate the Dominion Labor Code in Ontario. The Bill sets up a board to administer the Federal plan in this province.

Affects All Types

A government bill to outlaw slot machines was held over in committee stage for further amending. Numerous members, including Mr. Hepburn, said there should be a clearer definition of "slot machine." Mr. Hepburn expressed belief the definition in the Bill might lay open to seizure other tpyes of machines—including the popular phonograph record players—not meant to be affected.

Mr. Salsberg criticized the Budget as being too "conservative" and not "progressive" enough. It did not take cognizance of the civil-servant salary question which he termed a "chronic evil." He said there were a number of civil servants in the Legislative buildings who had been working an hour extra every day for the past 18 months without extra pay.

Mr. Leavens denied charges made by A. H. Actes (PC-Carleton) that the C.C.F. had received $500,000 from the United Mine Workers of America during the last Provincial election campaign. He said the amount spent by the C.C.F. to elect 34 members in the Legislature was only $20,230.01, and he challenged the Progressive Conservatives and Liberals to make statements on how much they spent and where their money came from. The C.C.F. funds come from the dime, quarter and 50-cent donations of supporters of the party, he said.

Truman Starts Storm With Statement

WASHINGTON, March 27—(AP).—Republican charges that Senator Harry Truman, Missouri Democrat, was using his chairmanship to further a fourth term for President Roosevelt blew up a political storm today over the Senate's War Investigation Committee.

Senator Harlan Bushfield (Rep., S.D.) answered Truman's plea for a continuation of the President's "wise and experienced" leadership with an assertion that the committee which has been critical of some phases of the war effort apparently was "being used now to forward the candidacy of one man for President."

"I think the statement is completely partisan and out of place," Bushfield declared.

In a press statement Truman said yesterday that with the crucial European invasion at hand "our commander-in-chief will require prayerful understandings and vigorous support."

"I think the country realizes," the Missourian said, "that we have wise and experienced leadership. And I am further convinced that this leadership will be continued until the job at hand is completed. No one can divide us in this supreme effort. No patriot will attempt it."

Republican members of the committee said the statement took them by surprise, inasmuch as the group only recently reaffirmed its policy of keeping politics out of its work.

Truman has been mentioned for the Democratic vice - presidential nomination.

Plebiscite Plans In Italy Suspended

NAPLES, March 28 — (AP) — Plans for a plebiscite in Southern Italy on the issue of King Emmanuel's abdication and replacement of Premier Badoglio's Government have been suspended by the six leading political parties opposed to the present regime.

Lack of funds and personnel with which to print and circulate petitions calling for the King's abdication and formation of a "truly democratic government" were given by party leaders as the reason for abandonment of the project.

A deeper significance, however, was seen in the decision in Allied quarters, where the feeling was expressed that opposition to the Badoglio Government had been dampened by Soviet Russia's recent action in according it diplomatic recognition.

This feeling persisted in spite of continued avowals of Italian Communist opposition to both the King and Badoglio.

Great Crowd In London

LONDON, March 28 — (CP) — London's curtailed transportation facilities were swamped yesterday when the greatest crowd which has jammed the capital since the Coronation in 1937 poured in for the opening of salute-the-soldier week.

Thousands of out-of-towners were stranded as bus and train services proved inadequate and many spent the night trying to sleep on the floors of subway stations.

Many women fainted after standing for hours in bus and subway queues.

UNRRA To Meet Next In Canada

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 28—(CP)—The council of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration will meet for the first time in Canada some time in June at a place still to be announced, Sir Salter, Deputy Director-General, nounced Monday.

Sir Arthur, in charge of U.N.R.R.A. while the director, Herbert H. Lehman of New York is overseas, said he was informed the Canadian government would welcome the council to Canada for the meeting and that the date and place would be announced later.

The meeting, second since U.N.R.R.A. was established last autumn, follows one in Atlantic City last November and fulfils terms of the U.N.R.R.A. agreement providing the council must meet not less than twice a year.

It will bring togther representatives of the 44 United and Associated nations, probably in the last week of June.

Poultry Order Cheers Canadian Group

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP)—Agriculture Department officials said to-day the Canadian poultry industry has been "hardened" by confirmed agreements which will result in the shipments of 3,000,000 pounds of poultry valued at $1,250,000 to the United Kingdom and the United States.

W. A. Brown of the Special Products Board, said in Toronto Saturday that agreement had been reached with the United Kingdom and the United States under which each would take 1,000,000 pounds of Canadian poultry.

To-day, Mr. Brown said arrangements now have assured that the total to be shipped to the United Kingdom will be 2,000,000 pounds.

Mr. Brown said the agreements were cheering to all poultry producers as a good business in poultry shipments to the United Kingdom was being built up when it was checked by the war. The only important shipments across the Atlantic after the war developed last Christmas when between 4,000 and 5,000 pounds of Canadian chickens and turkeys were received "with pleasure" by British buyers.

Arrangements for shipments to the United States were discused only after British requirements had been decided. Under agreement between the three countries, the United Kingdom has first opportunity to take Canadian food surpluses.

Previous exports to the United States usually have been in the form of live birds, and officials saw the possibility of a developing market there.

The shipments to the United Kingdom will consist of 1,000,000 pounds of chicken and turkeys and 1,000,000 pounds of fowl.

Canadian poultry surpluses have developed as flocks have been expanded greatly to meet the United Kingdom and domestic market requirements for eggs. Stocks in store on March 1 were 23,202,000 pounds, an increase of 13,600,000 pounds from last year.

C. W. Kirkpatrick Dies In Hamilton

HAMILTON, March 28—(CP)—C. W. Kirkpatrick, 67, managing secretary of the Hamilton Automobile Club and former industrial commissioner of the city of Hamilton, died early Monday in hospital. He was operated on recently.

Mr. Kirkpatrick at one time was a member of the editorial staff of the Hamilton Spectator, serving as city editor for a period. He left to become industrial commissioner of the city, in which position he served with much success for many years.

In the early 1930's he became industrial commissioner at Guelph and returning to Hamilton joined the staff of the Herald. When it ceased publication he became managing secretary of the Automobile Club.

Surviving are his widow: three sons: Warren of Ottawa, Robert of Kingston, and Sgt. Albert S. of Saint John, N.B.; two daughters, Mrs. Charles C. Smith of London, Ont, and Mrs. A. E. Kitson of Oshawa; two brothers, including F. F. Kirkpatrick of London, Ont., and two sisters.

Obituary

JOHN ALLEN

WARKWORTH, March 28—(ENS)—John Allen, well-known breeder of Aberdeen-Angus cattle and for a number of years a member of Percy Township Council, passed away at his home two miles north of here on the Hastings Road, Monday afternoon. In fairly good health until a week ago, when he suffered a stroke and failed to rally, death came in his 87th year.

The son of the late Samuel Allen and Mary Ann Helson, he was born in Otonabee and at an early age came with his parents to Percy township, settling on the farm where he had resided ever since. Widely known as a breeder and drover, his municipal activities also included the trusteeship of School Section No. 5. While his health permitted, he attended regularly Dartford United Church and late St. Paul's Church, Warkworth.

Mr. Allen was married in 1882 to Alice Wilson, who predeceased him in 1900 at the age of 38. He is survived by two daughters and three sons: Mrs. W. B. McDonald, Fenella; Mrs. F. S. Richardson, Hastings; Capt. H. S. Allen, Kingston; and Harry and William of Warkworth. Two sisters, Mrs. H. Bayes and Mrs. M. Bell of Percy also remain.

The funeral will be held from the family residence on Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., with service conducted by Rev. J. R. R. Hooper. Interment in Warkworth cemetery.

all targets, at least two of them being used primarily as long-range bomber bases, and satisfactory results were reported," said a U.S. communique.

German air raiders struck back sharply at England and Wales last night, with western England bearing the brunt of the attack. Bombs also fell in south and southeast England. London itself was not bombed, but one section of the capital had a brief alert. At least eight of the raiders were reported destroyed.

The heaviest barrage in two years was thrown up by a southwest England town over which the German planes crossed and recrossed. A Berlin broadcast said Bristol was the principal target.

Minister Withdraws Apprenticeship Bill

TORONTO, March 28 (CP)—Labor Minister Daley agreed at a meeting of the Ontario Legislature's labor committee today to withdraw his bill to amend the apprenticeship act and present a new measure embodying more amendments sought by committee members.

The minister's bill would have required all persons engaged in any designated trade other than registered apprentice, to hold a current certificate of qualification.

The measure had already been given first reading by the House, a fact which Aurelien Belanger (L-Prescott) said prevented the committee from adding other amendments to the measure without withdrawing it and bringing in a new measure.

The further amendments sought by C.C.F. members would make it possible upon a petition of 25 employers or employees in any trade to have that trade included under the apprenticeship act.

Senior Officers Now Retired

OTTAWA, March 28 — (CP) — Retirement on medical grounds of two general officers of the Canadian Army, both members of the permanent force who have held varied staff appointments, was announced by defence headquarters last night.

They are Maj.-Gen. G. R. Turner, 54, of Saint John, N.B., and Maj-Gen. C. RS. Stein, 47, of Quebec and Vancouver, both of whom have long overseas service to treir credit.

Gen. Turner who rose from the rank during the First Great War to obtain his commission, was twice wounded. He was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal while a non-commissioned officer and later the Military Cross for gallantry under enemy fire.

He was in Victoria when the present war broke out as Senior General Staff Officer, and was called East to join the staff of the 1st. Canadian Infantry division, then preparing to go overseas. His staff appointments include service as the chief instructor in military engineering at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., and appointments at Winnipeg and Ottawa.

Gen. Stein, Staff Adjutant of R. M. C. when the present war began, is one of its graduates and served overseas in the First Great War from 1915 to 1919. He studied tank warfare at Quetta and attended the British school of military engineering.

Before going overseas in 1940 to Canadian military headquarters, London, he filled staff appointments at Halifax and Saint John, N. B. He was appointed a divisional commander after experience with a British armoured formation and as an armored brigade commander and brigadier, General Staff, at Canadian army headquarters. During his absence overseas Mrs. Stein and their son, William Frederick Ramsay, have lived in Quebec.

Two Found Dead In Seat Of Car

BELLAIRE, O., March 28—(AP)—The knife-hacked bodies of a divorcee and her escort were driven home from a night club early Sunday by another couple unaware that death had silenced their companions, and Prosecutor Ross Michener said the woman's former husband would be charged with first degree murder in the slayings.

Michener identified the victims as Henry Spradlings, 38, a coal miner, and Mrs. Teresa Myrio, 35, of Bellaire.

He said Donald Myrio, divorced from the dead woman two years ago, was taken into custody several hours after the killings.

Michener said Myrio signed a statement he stabbed the victims with a pocketknife during an argument after he approached the automobile in which Spradling and Mrs. Myrio were sitting on the back seat.

Clyde Snyder, driver of the car, said he and Josephine Bigovich went out with Spradling and Mrs. Myrio last night and stopped about 2 a.m. at a night club in nearby Shadyside. Spradling and Mrs. Myrio stayed in the car while he and Miss Bigovich entered the club, Snyder related.

Snyder said he and his companion returned to the car in about 15 minutes, and that during the five-mile ride to Mrs. Myrio's home, he imagined the couple asleep in the back seat.

When the car stopped at the divorcee's home, Snyder said he turned on the dome light and discovered both were dead.

Freak Storm Breaks Windows

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 28 — (AP).—A groggy, panicky Memphis began recovering today from the effects of a hail bombardment which broke hundreds windows, caused other extensive property and crop damage and sent at least eight persons to hospital with injuries.

The freak hailstorm, "sounding like a freight train," struck the city early last night, raining hailstones as large as baseballs through windows, roofs and automobile windshields. Weather bureau officials said many of the stones measured seven to eight inches in circumference.

A six-year-old boy was seriously injured, suffering a concussion when hit on the head by one of the large pellets. One man received a fractured ankle. Others suffered cuts and bruises.

15-Year-Old Pupil Assaults Teacher

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., March 28 (CP)—Bernice Allen, 21-year-old teacher at Feversham Continuation School, is in hospital here in serious condition as the result of being attacked by a pupil when she left the school after four o'clock last Friday.

Miss Allen, who comes from Glenhuron, Ont., has a fractured jaw, lacerated skull and severe facial lacerations.

Police said a boy of 15, a pupil at the school, is being held in Owen Sound jail in connection with the case. They said the teacher was beaten over the head and face with a blunt instrument.

Child Drowns In Bucket Of Pig Swill

NORTH BAL, March 28—(CP)—Falling into a barrel filled with swill for the farm livestock, 15-month-old Irene Taillefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gratien Taillefer, of nearby Corbeil, drowned Sunday.

The tot apparently had climbed up onto a chair, from which she tumbled head first into the mixture. Members of the family were unaware of her plight until an older sister, looking for her, saw her feet protruding from the top of the barrel. She called her father, who pulled the baby out of the mixture and attempted artificial respiration without effect.

The child was taken to North Bay where Dr. J. E. I. Joyal and members of the North Bay fire department continued artificial respiration but to no avail.

There will be no inquest.

Fishing Poor

PORT STANLEY, March 28 — (CP).—First lifts of the Gill nets for the 1944 season made off the Port Stanley fishing banks last week not only yielded a negligible catch—they gave positive indication that at present there are scarcely any fish to be caught. The nets were blanketed with green slime, which veteran fishermen say is repellent to fish. Only after lake storms have dispersed the green fungus can good lifts be expected.

She Never Thinks about RHEUMATIC Pains

The best way to deal with rheumatic pains is to prevent them developing at all. The next best thing is to tackle them when you feel the first twinges. Telling how she has avoided rheumatic pains 76-years-old Mrs. Amsden writes:—

"I take a small dose of Kruschen in hot water every morning. This is a certain method (for me) of avoiding rheumatic pains and constipation. Before I started taking Kruschen I had frequent attacks of lumbago and sciatica. Now I don't think about rheumatic pains at all, can walk miles, and never have headaches. I am close on seventy-six years old, but no one believes it, as I look so healthy. I believe it is due to Kruschen, which has been my friend for thirteen years."—(Mrs.) E. B. Amsden.

Why is it that lumbago, backache, rheumatic pains and indigestion often yield so swiftly to Kruschen Salts? It is because Kruschen is a balanced combination of mineral salts, each with a penetrating action of its own. Stomach, liver, kidneys and digestive tract are all benefited and toned up to a proper condition of efficiency. When your whole system starts working like a perfect machine, you can shed your woes like a worn-out garment.

Kruschen Salts come in two sizes. 25c and 75c at all drug stores.

STRAWBERRY GUAVA

Delicious, Sweet and Spicy

This is a luscious tropical fruit which makes a useful as well as a charming and beautiful house plant. It bears both flowers and fruit at the same time. The flowers are pure white and delightfully fragrant. The fruit is about the size of a walnut, of a beautiful reddish color, and of delicious, sweet and spicy flavor. Fine for eating out of hand, and unsurpassed for making jelly. These plants are usually grown from seed and begin to bloom and bear fruit while quite small.

"A week ago the cases were adjourned at my request" said Mr. Huycke. Magistrate Langley set next Tuesday as the date for hearing the charges.

Western Hogs Showing Huge Increase

Although hog production in eastern Canada has been increasing during the years since the outbreak of the war, the western provinces have come into the market with a volume of output that has amazed the industry.

Statistics quoted here Monday by W. P. Watson, Toronto, of the livestock branch of the Department of Agriculture, showed that comparative production in 1939 was 56.3 per cent in the east and 43.7 per cent in the west for 1939, but that these figures had been more reversed last year with 35.8 per cent by the eastern producers and 64.2 by the farmers of the west.

In 1939, the number of hogs marketed in Canada was 3,706,179 of which 2,086,881 were raised in the east and 1,619,298 in the west. But last year the east produced 2,566,054 hogs as compared with 4,583,367 in the west. The peak of wartime hog production in the east was in 1941 with 2,853,261 which was 45.9 per cent of the nation's total; but the western peak was last year for 4,583,367 hogs.

Eastern farmers produced 479,173 more hogs last year than in 1939, but the western men came through with 2,964,069 more hogs last year than five years ago.

During the same time the Ontario swine producers were maintaining their high position at the top of the quality column for the last four years, although last year the largest percentage of Grade A hogs was credited to the Maritimes.

Prices Advance

Other statistics mentioned by Mr. Watson traced the wartime increase in the price of dressed hogs in Toronto from $12.16 in January 1940 to $17.15 in January this year.

And the British contract price of Grade A bacon delivered at the Atlantic seaboard was $18.01 in January 1940 and $22.50 (per hundred pounds) in January this year.

Hog Marketings

Total hog marketing for the ten weeks from January 1 to March 11 this year was 2,208,021 as compared with 1,239,289 for the corresponding ten weeks last year. The increase was 968,732 carcasses or 78.2 per cent. This tremendous advance by the Canadian farmers in the first months of this year was mentioned by the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, at his recent address at the Peterborough Kinsmen Club dinner as an outstanding example of the splendid job that is being done for British consumers by the agricultural industry of this country.

Apart from the statistical facts quoted by Mr. Watson at the meeting of some twenty-five farmers Monday afternoon in Co-Op Hall, he also stressed the importance of maintenance of both quality and quantity as the surest means of holding after the war the place Canada has gained in the markets of Britain by its wartime efforts of production on the agricultural front.

Fire Destroys Dwelling On High Street

Lashed by a strong west wind, firemen battled for several hours Monday night to save the residence of William Weir, 33 High street, outside the city limits, a seven room house which is owned by Andrew Pearson, 618 Chamberlain street. Built of brick walls, the structure managed to survive the fury of the flames which curled over the shingled roof, almost completely destroying it and gutting partitions on the second floor, searing also the papering of the walls of the first floor.

The fire started about 9 o'clock and is thought to have originated due to defective wiring on the floor of the second story. Mr. Weir, alone in the house at the time, was sitting downstairs when he noticed smoke billowing from above. He phoned the Fire Department, whose truck came out and laid water hose lines several hundred feet to the nearest available fire plug on Chamberlain street.

The flames were persistent, breaking out again after having been first subdued. Showers of sparks fanned by the wind whirled through the air, but luckily the wind was in such a direction that these were merely blown towards a vacant lot, banishing any fear of adjoining residences catching fire.

The house is insured, it was stated by Mrs. Andrew Pearson whose home the damaged residence had formerly been. The Weirs, who have occupied the house for nearly two years, were able to remove all their furniture and belongings before the fire caught hold.

Co-Op Double Egg Shipments

Peterborough Co-Operative Services expect to send two cars eggs to the "breakers" this week.

"We have been averaging one car load a week to the government for export overseas as egg powder," W. A. Davidson, manager, told the Examiner this morning. "I expect we will be able to double that output this week."

Co-Op received 175 lots of eggs on Saturday, varying in quantity from five to three hundred dozens.

"We are handling twice as many eggs as last year," Mr. Davidson said. "The quality is excellent, and the weather has been favorable to the flocks, and week-end deliveries to the plant certainly pile up tremendous quantities. When we have a car load lot all graded and packed, the government inspector arrives, and finally they are on the way to the "egg breaking plants," either at Lindsay or Trenton."

Mr. Davidson said he believed that one-sixth of the eggs that had gone from Ontario to the "breakers" had passed through the egg department of Peterborough Co-Op.

"One of our difficulties is to get competent graders. A good performance in the grading details is 100 dozens an hour. We had a girl who averaged 115 dozen an hour over a period of three months."

THREE RESCUED FROM ICE-FLOE IN ST. LAWRENCE—Forced down on an ice floe in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, the two-man crew and one passenger of this Canadian Pacific Airlines plane were rescued by a Royal Canadian naval vessel, after being located by a searching aircraft of the R.C.A.F. The search lasted more than a week. This picture was taken on the first day when an R.C.A.F. plane dropped a tent, stove, fuel, a lantern, a hatchet, shovels, a Very pistol, signal flares, water, food, Arctic clothing, first aid packs and colored markers. Later the weather closed down and it was several days before another R.C.A.F. plane found the lost fliers again and directed a naval vessel to the scene.

Rush Expected To Get Ration Books

Not very many people made use of the fact that the Ration Book Distributing Centre on Simcoe street was open Monday evening and this, in the opinion of the women's groups who are devoting their time and efforts to the distribution of Ration Book No. 4, will mean that "we are likely to have more than we can handle easily in the three remaining days."

Approximately 4,000 books were handed out Monday, with the great majority being distributed in the opening hours after lunch. On the basis of the last distribution, which took place in August, there should be fully another 12,000 to go before the job is done.

Today, Wednesday and Thursday the Centre is to be open between the hours 9.30 a.m. and 5.30 p.m. The work is handled by shifts of forty recorders in the forenoon and afternoon hours, and a skeleton staff is on hand for the slack lunch-time period between noon and 1.30 p.m. The W.V.S. and practically every other women's organization in the city is represented by members who are serving to carry out the necessary task. Many of the helpers are new, because in former distribution periods the Centre was open each night and then had the services of teachers and office girls who are not available for daytime hours. In their place, many housewives have been enlisted to serve.

"A big task lies before us," it was said this morning when disappointment was expressed over the failure of any sizable number of people to put in an appearance last night. It was added that sickness among some workers whom the Centre had been counting on would be a decided handicap if many persons waited till the bitter end to get their books.

Two of the chief difficulties the recorders are encountering in handling applications rapidly are that, as in previous distributions, parents are still signing their children's names to the application cards for the junior members of the family; and that they neglect to fill in the space provided for the name of the county. The latter is a new twist, but the former is to the recorders the same old story. With any child under 16 years of age, parents are supposed to sign their own names rather than the child's.

Sometimes defects are to be discovered in the books which are issued, and because this is so each person should check his book before leaving and see that everything is there which should be there. No. 3 ration books are to be retained, since coupons are in them which have still to come valid.

Won't Change Time

OTTAWA, March 28—(CP).—Only on the Prairies could standard time be restored without dangerously draining power reserves, Munitions Minister Howe said last night in the commons. He was answering Tom Reid (L—New Westminster), who said an end to Daylight Saving might be considered.

SERVING IN MEDITERRANEAN—L/Sgt. J. Edward Lowes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lowes, Omemee, who is serving with a Canadian Survey Regiment in the Central Mediterranean Forces. L/Sgt. Lowes enlisted in October, 1940, and trained at Kingston and Petawawa. Prior to his enlistment he was assisting his father on their farm just north of Omemee. He was educated at Omemee High School, Lindsay Collegiate Institute, and Queen's University, Kingston.

A. Ferguson of Seven Island, Que., mechanic on the missing plane, and Leon Vigneault of Cap Whittle, Que., the only passenger on the plane.

Capt. Douglas Duval, of East Kildonan, Man., pilot of the ice-floe plane.

Holstein Men Name Fieldman

The Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada has announced the appointment of Geo. F. Drennan, Alliston, as fieldman for the East Central district in Ontario comprising the counties of Simcoe, York, Ontario, Victoria, Durham, Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward, Peterborough, Lennox and Addington. R. M. Holtby, Port Perry, veteran Holstein fieldman, formerly operated in this district but due to poor health he has been forced to curb his activities. He will, however, act in an advisory capacity to Mr. Drennan and will continue as the Chief Inspector for Selective Registration.

George Drennan is well qualified for his new position. Born near Alliston, he operates the farm that his grandfather homesteaded. He has proven himself a progressive, practical and successful farmer. His Holstein herd was the first in Simcoe County to be accredited, and is now considered one of the best small herds in Canada. It contains one *Excellent, one Gold Medal, and five Very Good cows, and is headed by an XX son of the All-Canadian three-year-old, Montvic Rag Apple Marksman, out of an Honor List winner. At the Oakville Championship Show his entries won two seconds and one third and one of these was nominated for All-Canadian. However, his interests are not confined entirely to Holsteins, for he is a former president of the Ontario Swine Breeders' Association, is a member of the Swine Committee of the Royal Winter Fair and has bred Yorkshire pigs and Shropshire sheep that were Grand Champions at Ottawa and Chicago. He is a charter member and one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the famous Simcoe County potato organization, "The 500 Bushel Club," is president of the Alliston Fair and has, for the past 10 years, been Sales Agent for the Simcoe County Holstein Breeders' Club. The breeders of Central Ontario are particularly fortunate in having a man of his calibre to head the field work in their territory. It is expected that he will commence his duties early in May as soon as he has completed the dispersal of his herd and the sale of his farm.

Missionary Lecture

MARMORA, March 28 (ENS) — The final of a series of three missionary lectures under auspices of St. Paul's Sunday School was given in the Parish Hall on Monday evening. The title of the lecture was the Northern British Columbia Coast Mission.

The reading, prepared by the skipper of "The Northern Cross," Rev. E. W. Slater, was given by W. J. Cottrell, while lantern slides depicting interesting phases of the work were shown by Rev. A. B. Caldwell. A collection was taken for the funds of the M.S.C.C.

GEORGE DRENNAN

Canadian Japs Law-Abiding

NELSON, B.C., April 28—"When the history of Canada's part in this war is written, not a small part of the Dominion's achievements to be recorded will be the care we took of the enemy aliens within our gates," William Rutherford, New Denver druggist, and former Peterborough man, told the Gyro club here Monday evening.

He spoke on the transformation that had come to the Slocan Lake beauty spot with the coming of the Japanese evacuated from the Coast.

"Most of these people are Canadian," he said of the evacuees. "We all like them up there."

Business at the Slocan centre had quadrupled since the arrival of the Japanese, a kindergarten under Japanese teacher had been established, a staff office and staff houses for the B.C. Security Commission had been set up, Japanese university and high school students had been trained as teachers to guide the young, and arrangements for the medical care of the evacuees had been made.

Corporal Farrar, R.C.M.P., rceently stationed at New Denver and Kaslo, also a guest, agreed with Mr. Rutherford that the Japanese in the Slocan were the "most law-abiding group I ever met."

(Mr. Rutherford was born in Peterborough and here served his apprenticeship as a druggist. He is a brother of Mrs. B. Shortly of Aylmer street.)

War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

March 28, 1940 — R.A.F. plane shot down in flames near Rotterdam by a Netherlands patrol. United States envoy, Sumner Welles laid results of European fact-finding trip before President Roosevelt.

World History Is Foretold

"A four-leafed clover, as the emblem of the Goddess of Fortune, worshipped in the Euphrates Valley at Dura by the Roman soldiers of Septimus Severus in the Army of Occupation, was discovered a few years ago by Archeologists on a great wall painting which reveals not only the source from which is derived some of the present day superstitions."

This was the statement made by Miss Mabel Harbour of Toronto, in a Lantern Lecture dealing with the Fourth Beast of Daniel VII, at a meeting under the auspices of the British-Israel World Federation at the Paragon Hall on Sunday afternoon.

In addition to the picture mentioned above many interesting slides were shown, including a photo of a "Certificate of Citizenship" certifying that the bearer had offered sacrifice to the Roman Emperor as a god, many of which were excavated in Egypt.

The idea of the deity of the ruler prevailed in each of the Great World Empires foretold in the Book of Daniel, which history records has been fulfilled as prophesied. Imperial Rome gave place to Papal Rome which still influenced the many states of Europe that once forced the Roman Empire.

At the funeral of Edward VII 48 kings and princes were present. Today many of their thrones have disappeared. Daniel foretold this when he said, "I beheld till the thrones were cast down".

"Today we are witnessing the breaking up of the Babylonian System of Empires and everything contrary to the Will of God must be removed to make way for the New Order, which is a Kingdom in which dwelleth righteousness—in fact, the Kingdom of God on Earth."

Father And Son Enlist

WATERTOWN, N.Y., March 28—(AP)—A 46-year-old father of 14 children, along with his 17-year-old son, has applied for enlistment in the United States Navy. A Navy spokesman said yesterday that Leo Thesier of Lowville and his son, Paul, would be given final examinations April 5.

Canadian Servicemen Are Benefitting Because Of Great War Friendships

How Canadian servicemen of today are benefitting because of friendships formed in the First Great War was revealed in a letter read at the luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club on Monday by Secretary M. E. Shaver from the Leigh (Eng.) Rotary Club.

"The Rotary Club of Leigh today toasted your club," read the communication, "and I am instructed to inform you to that effect. The circumstances are these: One of our members has with him at present as his guest A.C.-1 Bill Gardner from your town, a member of whose family was nursed over here by Capt. Smith's wife during the last war. As a result of this a lasting friendship has grown up and now the younger generation is profiting by friendships made a quarter of a century ago.

"We send you our warm greetings and thank you for the great kindness toward our lads who are training among you, and all of whom speak most warmly of your very great kindness which in some measure we are trying to repay to our visitors from 'over there'."

Secretary Shaver also read a letter from the Enfield (Middlesex) Rotary Club, stating that that organization wanted to extend its hospitality to friends of Canadian Rotarians who are with the armed services overseas. The Enfield Club said that it wished to have soldier guests from England at its luncheons and to look after them in other ways during their stay in England.

Brinton Carpet Total $912 For War Victims

Three prominent facts stood out in the message from the Lord Mayor of London to His Worship Mayor Hamilton which appeared on Mondays issue of the Examiner, first and foremost of which was their very grateful thanks for all that had been done for air raid sufferers in Britain by the residents of this city and district, and next just how opportune the arrival of the latest gift of £500 had been on top of recent raids of a more than usual devastating character, and finally the underlying note which pointed the need for continued help.

The employee at the Brinton Carpet were among the very first to give support to the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund, and were also among the very first to institute the taking of a collection to help along the war effort on each pay day, and just how earnest they have been all through this period of well over three years is borne out by the fact that they still continue to do this, although their number has decreased by nearly fifty per cent.

As steady contributors to this fund they hold a premier position for to-day see their 70th contribution appearing in an amount of $12.00 which gives them a total credit of $912.00, being 91 per cent on the journey towards attaining the select circle who have given one thousand dollars or more, to which at the moment some six groups have so far attained.

If one believes at all in symbolic things, this start given by them to the fund 1st day towards the final quarter of the $100,000 mark would seem a good omen, and it can certainly be said of them that were in at the start, and most likely will be in at the finish.

J. E. Parker Total $1,152.

One cannot help but admire very much the patriotism of some individuals, who in spite of great trials and tribuations of their own, can look further afield and see the sufferings of others and do something in a most practical way about it.

From an individual standpoint, the work of the J. E. Parker family of Norwood has been outstanding in the extreme, to give assistance to those who have suffered from air raids by the enemy over Britain, this one family alone being responsible for a total of $1,142.59 being raised on their behalf.

Recently this column reported the sad passing of Mrs. Parker, and so it becomes all the more poignant that a personal contribution should come at this time from Mr. Parker, pointing the way to just how earnest he continues to be in helping others who are in trobule, and displaying that same patriotism which carried him through active service on the country's behalf in the last Great War some 25 years ago.

Hastings Orchestra Helps.

At a St. Patrick's Day dance for which the Melody Makers Orchestra of Hastings provided the music, special request brought the sum of $3.00 and this has been forwarded on their behalf to the fund through Mrs. Clifford Scriver of that place, accompanied by a letter of good wishes for its continued success, which the fund management appreciates very much.

Previously acknowledged	$75,006.95
Employees Brinton Peterborough Carpet Co. Ltd (70th Donation)	12.00

Charles Weaver, 22 Charged As Vagrant

Charles Weaver, 22, of 376½ Water street, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of vagrancy in police court this moning and was fined $10 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C.

Inspector Reid informed the court that Weaver had apparently been "window peeping" on Simcoe street and when arrested by an officer had not been able to give a very satisfactory account of himself. The arrest was made by Constable Andre Dalton.

Weaver told the Magistrate that he had been working at the C.G.E.

Chairman Warns City Leans On Army Efforts

"We would not have secured our objective in the Fifth Victory Loan without the assistance of the Armed Forces," Gordon S. Matthews comments in a letter to the publicity committee of the forthcoming Sixth Loan.

Mr. Matthews is chairman of the National War Finance Committee.

That dependence for success has become more apparent than it was at the close of the fall financial campaign, and Mr. Matthews adds a further qualifying comment of "an unpleasant fact" that the soldiers at the Training Centre pulled the city and county total over the top by their subscriptions.

Face Competition

"In each of the previous Victory Loans we have had to overcome certain unfavorable factors. They were as follows: In the Second Loan there was the plebiscite; in the third we were faced with the first realistic war budget, and the beginning of tax deductions from pay; in the Fourth Loan there was a greatly increased objective; and in the fifth a feeling of complacency."

"In Peterborough, particularly, this complacency was very noticeable, and, undoubtedly, seriously affected the general canvass results."

(Hundreds of people in this city actually expected the war to be wound up by Christmastide. The Mediterranean campaign had gone so smoothly, and the Russians were rolling forward, making full capital of their victories, that the enemy seemed to many otherwise reasonable and reasoning persons to be utterly on the run.)

Tough Job

"In the Sixth Loan we have two handicaps—the final payment of income tax is much greater than expected, and there will be 857 fewer employees in the 23 companies comprising the Payroll Savings Division. There is no doubt that the Sixth Loan will be 'tough sledding' and will require extra physical and mental energy on the part of each member of the organization."

Peterborough's total objective last fall was $3,100,000; the amount secured was $3,124,600; and the percentage 100.8.

By way of recollection, the percentage figures were: City 84.85; County 111.67; Employees' Canvass 110.27; Civil Servants 101.50, Total 100.80.

There was no objective for the Armed Forces, but they subscribed $41,100.

Onions Are Used To Cure Wounds

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, March 28—(AP)—The aroma of fresh onions and garlic is such a good germ-killer, that the Russians are using onions as an aid in curing infected wounds.

The story is told in the American review of Soviet Medicine, by B. Tokin, A. Kovalenok, I. V. Toroptsev and A. G. Filatova.

They tested human mouths and found that, after three to eight minutes of chewing fresh onion or garlic, and sometimes after one minute only, the mouths were found free of bacteria. The Russians say they don't know what the chemical is that makes the breath lethal.

The killing effects disappear after about 15 minutes, but the punch, while it lasts, is tremendous. It kills not only the invisible germs, but the big visible protozoa. These are one-cell animals, like paramecia.

The killing, or healing, aromas are not confined to onions and garlic. The Russians report them in lesser degree in horseradish, radishes, peppers, and such fruits as lemons, oranges and tangerines.

The wounds treated with onion were all amputations of arms or legs. The onion paste was never placed in or on the wound. A container was made to fit the wound, and carrying the vapors to it for 10 minutes in each treatment. The improvement was good enough that the Russians report they believe the plant fumer have a place in treatment.

Minister Opposes Showing Flag

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., March 28.—(AP).—Declaring a service flag "a symbol of war besides which I cannot stand to speak the Word of God as I search for it," the Rev. Emerson S. Schewenk has resigned as pastor of the First Universalist church here, the trustees have announced.

The resignation, which trustees said was accepted by vote of the church membership Sunday, climaxed a dispute between the pastor and trustees since the latter voted on March 13 to display a service flag honoring members of the congregation in the armed forces in the main auditorium of the church.

The Rev. Schwenk declared he did not object to display of the flag in the sessions room of the church but stated he would "be unable to conduct a service in the church if the flag is hung in the main auditorium."

The trustees announced the flag would not be displayed in the auditorium during the remainder of the Rev. Schwenk's pastorate which terminates at Easter.

Ghosts Infest German Army

MOSCOW, March 28 — (AP) — High winds and snowstorms were reported sweeping large sections of the Russian front today, but there was no intimation as to whether the freakish weather had hit the southern front, where the Red Army stood on the Prut River border of Rumania.

The last word on the weather in Bessarabia was contained in a dispatch yesterday saying that spring had arrived and fruit trees were blooming.

Meanwhile, a front line dispatch to the newspaper Pravda said the real beginning of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's offensive, which has swept up to the Rumanian frontier, was at Korsun in the Dnieper Bend, where 10 Nazi divisions were trapped in a circle of death.

"The dreadful ghost of Korsun took its place alongside the ghost of Stalingrad," said the dispatch. "These ghosts infest the Germans with physical, animal fear, crippling morale for the terror of encirclement."

Dutch Planning For Post-War To Mend Nation

By WILLIAM STEWART

LONDON, March 28—(CP)—The post-war problems of the Netherlands will be those of revitalizing an empire. As far as the Netherlands is concerned, the post-war era will start, not when hostilities cease in Europe but when the Japanese as well as the Germans have been beaten.

The Netherlands government in London, making plans for the liberation of the European territory and 8,000,000 people there, looks upon such liberation only as a means of speeding up the war against Japan.

The Japanese occupy the Netherlands East Indies, most important part of the empire of 81,000,000 people.

Among the home population reported to have suffered greatly under Nazi ocupation since May 14, 1940, the government hopes to be able to mobilize forces to help in the fight against Japan.

Extensive restrictions will be necessary since industrial equipment has suffered by bombing and lack of repair, food and clothing are scarce, prize dairy herds have been pillaged and the possibility of flooding the country by evacuating Germans may have to be faced.

More than 400,000 of the Netherlands working population have been taken to Germany for forced labor and they will have to repatriated along with prisoners of war.

Food And Clothes

The problem of feeding and clothing the population will have first priority as well as the importation of raw materials.

The government will return with Queen Wilhelmina who occupies an influential place in the affairs of her people. Elections will be held as soon as possible to install a truly representative government.

By means of Radio Oranje, Netherlands have been kept in touch with the work of their government in Britain.

After Netherlanders had been informed of the birth of Princess Juliana's third child in a hospital ward in Ottawa, become Netherlands soil by special decree, the underground reported the news had been received with delight and satisfaction and the Canadian authorities' thoughtfulness had given satisfaction.

The Netherlands hopes to be able to come to trade terms with the British Empire and has a war-inspired interest in Canada as a result of Princess Juliana's domicile there. Netherland forces have been trained in the Dominion which already has offered help in the replacement of the dairy herds.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK —By J. R. Scott

With The Armed Forces

The editor of this column will welcome extracts from letters from boys serving or any other information concerning them.

By JEAN STENTON

Church parade at Windsor Castle was one of the interesting events in army life overseas, described in a letter written this month by Pte. Graham Strickland, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Strickland, 726 Elcome Crescent.

The young soldier said the chapel was packed and after the service, tours of the castle and grounds were conducted for the men. He described it as a big do with everyone looking his best, bands playing and what have you. The King and princesses were staying at the castle but did not make an appearance.

"Early this month, General Montgomery looked us over once again. My height got me stuck in the front rank and I could have touched him as he passed. It was a most informal inspection, but quite impressive. We stood at ease, not attention. He looks much like his pictures, only he has a few gray hairs and wrinkles."

After talking to the senior officers, "Monty" comanded the men to face inward leaving just a narrow lane of grass between their ranks. Then they were told to stand easy. As he passed along he peered intently at each man, and they in turn peered at him. At the conclusion of his inspection, he jumped up on the bonnet of his jeep and using the mike, told the men to gather around. They stampeded like a herd of buffaloes, pounding at full tilt and for a minute it was a toss up whether they carried the general and the jeep with them. The men sat around on the grass and listened to the talk.

Pte. Strickland is with the Army Transport and was formerly employed with the Kawartha News.

A brother, Cpl. Robert Strickland has been serving overseas with the R.C.A.F. for two years. On a recent leave in London, he had an air raid to contend with every night. One night, during a particularly heavy one, he said that it looked as though half of London was ablaze. Yet the firefighters were so efficient that the next morning, there was little evidence to show the attack. That same night, he along with others heard that a building near them had been hit, and went to investigate.

"When we got there," Cpl. Strickland said, "they handed us shovels and told us to get busy as there were a number of casualties. Believe me it was a grim business." The airman was formerly employed at the Quaker Oats.

SUB. LIEUT. THOMAS LILLICO
(R.C.N. Photo)

A recent graduate of King's College, Halifax, Probationary Sub. Lieut. Thomas Lillico is home on furlough. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Lillico, 515 Hunter street and attended the Collegiate.

Tribute to Fallen Hero

"He died a hero." There can be no greater tribute paid to a man who died in the front lines, by his comrades, and such a message was sent in a letter from Cpl. Lawrence J. Murtagh of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment to Mrs. George Wiggins of Cordova, about Crother Wilson. The latter was killed December 8, 1943.

"I knew Crother Wilson well, and we had our pictures taken in our last rest camp before he died. He was a brave lad and we had no better soldier. His Christmas parcel did arrive, and was split up among the men of his platoon.

"Vince Fitzpatrick and I are together and while in England, we spent a leave with your sister in Bromley. They were grand people and we are so grateful to them. I am writing this as I sit on the top of my dug-out trench and it is quite uncomfortable. It is cold and the mud is deep here in the front lines."

Christmas Day

If you haven't go something, improvise it, is the motto of men fighting at the Italian front. Following this idea through, most of the soldiers had a Christmas, which while not like the one at home helped them to forget their work for a few hours.

Pte. Henry Simmonds, formerly an interior decorator here, told his niece, Miss Dorothy Mills, Young street, how he and his buddies spent their day. Only some of the men were fortunate enough to get Christmas parcels, and while the was one of the have-nots, he said that they got as much kick out of watching the others open theirs, as they did themselves.

"If anyone ever tells you grown up men can't act like a bunch of children at Christmas, don't believe them, because I've never seen children any happier with gifts than they were. Even though they were not with their loved ones, they surely had the Christmas spirit in their hearts."

Dinner was much better than anyone expected, he explained. The Mess Hall was decorated adequately in green and red paper. Tables and benches were borrowed so that all the regiment could sit down together. The tables were laid out with packages of figs, dates, one package of nuts and fruit, a package of cigarettes and a folder containing writing material. "The meal was served by our officers and was made up of chicken and vegetables, followed by pudding with sauce and tea.

"In a few days, I landed in sick bay with bronchitis and that is where I spent New Year's. It was rather a dull holiday and at midnight the pipers got out the pipes and blew the old year out and the new one in. It made a fearful din and made me think of last year when we played at a dance in Canada. They are only memories, but I often wonder what would happen, if we didn't have them to think about."

Pte. Simmonds is not the only member of his family in the forces. A sister, May, is stationed at Trentoon and a brother, Edwin Simmonds is in the Navy.

Finally Got Through

During the first two years of the war, women of the Loyal Order of the Moose, sent many large shipments to their Toronto Headquarters to be sent overseas for British bomb victims. Their last box was sent two years ago last September, because they lacked shipping space and up until a few weeks ago nothing was heard about their contributions.

That the last box got through was finally learned when a letter arrived for Mrs. Elsie Leether, a formers members, from Mrs. Peggy Helstrip, thanking them for the articles. Her husband is in the Army and she and her 20-months-old son live in a block of flats, which describes as a semi basement. This is safer in air raids.

"We women of England more than appreciate the good work you are doing and it is something that will never be forgotten. Some of the people have been marvellous and when little kindnesses are done by our cousins across the sea, it helps to give us incentive and encouragement," she wrote.

No Night Life

Night life just doesn't exist as far as the soldiers in Italy are concerned. There isn't much to do at any time and the men must be back in camp at 9:30, so everyone goes to bed early, writes Sgmn. Ches Richmond, formerly with the C.D.S. in Peterborough and the Prudential Life representative in Lindsay.

"The towns are all closed up around 5 o'clock and unless you arrive to shop early, there is nothing much to see. In addition, there is very little that you can spend money on. We are only allowed $8 a month for spending money, and can't cash money orders from home. American money is all right but not Canadian or British, except what has been made for invasion currency."

Although he and his comrades had a quiet Christmas, they tried to give their billets a festive appearance. The soldiers cut a few evergreen trees and used them to decorate the rooms along with some balloons. They were not the kind you buy in Woolworth's, but they found them effective.

Word of Wounded Son

Pte. Bun Flagler, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Flagler, Western avenue, who was wounded in the right arm while fighting in Italy, is coming along nicely. Pte. Gordon Fick, a pal in the same hospital, has written the parents of their son's progress, since it will be quite a while before he can use that arm himself.

The two boys arrived in hospital together, and while Pte. Fick has been moved since, he comes up every day to keep his buddy company. He paid tribute to the Canadian Legion for providing picture shows for the patients and also a reading and writing room. In addiction to other specialties, the wounded men are able to get gum and chocolate bars at the hospital canteen.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

ELEVEN TITLE EVENTS

IN PRACTICALLY all sections of the country there are State, City and Regional championship tournaments under the auspices of the voluntary governing body of the game, the American Contract Bridge League. All of them are conducted on the basis of duplicate play, so that there is no such thing as winning because you hold better cards than someone else. Everybody plays the same hands, and the way you make out depends on scoring which shows whether you did better or worse than the others with the identical cards.

Naturally the most coveted titles are the national championships. These are determined in 11 separate competitions. Three of them—individual, pair and teams of four—are restricted to "Masters," who have qualified as such by records of actual performance in previous events. Four of them are open to everybody, pairs; knockout fours, in which your net total contract points decide whether you beat a particular team or lose to it, and match point fours, in which doing better than some other team on a particular deal counts one point for your combination. Then there are women's pairs and teams, men's pairs, and mixed pairs and teams which have men and women seated opposite each other.

Here is the summary of winners in the national championships for the 1943-1944 season:

Masters' Events

Individual—Alvin L. Roth, New York.

Pairs—John R. Crawford, Philadelphia, and Howard Schenken, New York.

Fours—Charles H. Goren, John R. Crawford and Sidney Silodor, Philadephia; Howard Schenken and Edward Hymes, Jr., New York.

Open Events

Pairs—Mrs. Edith J. Seligman, New York, and Mrs. Ruth Chase Goldberg, Philadelphia.

Knockout Fours (Vanderbilt Cup)—Harry Fishbein, Fred D. Kaplan, Alvin L. Roth and Tobias Stone, New York, and Harold L. Fagin, New Haven, Conn.

Match Point Fours—Mrs. A. M. Sobel and B. Jay Becker, New York; Charles H. Goren and Sidney Silodor, Philadelphia.

Women's Events

Pairs—Mrs. Edith J. Seligman and Mrs. Mae Rosen, New York.

Fours—Mrs. J. E. Folline, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Wilkinson Wagar, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. A. M. Sobel, New York, and Mrs. R. C. Young, Philadelphia.

Men's Event

Pairs—Charles H. Goren and Charles J. Solomon, Philadelphia.

Mixed Events

Pairs—Mrs. Olive Peterson and Charles H. Goren, Philadelphia.

Fours—Mrs. A. M. Sobel, New York; Mrs. Olive Peterson, Charles H. Goren and Sidney Silodor, Philadelphia.

It will be noted that, of the nine events in which a man can play, Mr. Goren won a majority of five: the Masters' fours, open match point fours, men's pairs, mixed pairs and mixed fours. Three each were won by Mr. Silodor and Mrs. Sobel, two apiece by Mr. Roth, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Schenken, Mrs. Seligman and Mrs. Peterson. Ties in their ranking in the First Ten were broken on a basis of the second places they scored, the particular events they won and their records otherwise in national play. That also was true in the case of Mr. Solomon in ninth and the four grouped in tenth, Mrs. Wagar, and Messrs. Becker, Fishbein and Kaplan, each with one national victory.

All told, 21 different players participated in the winning of the national championships, and 23 others gained second places, a total of 44 different people finishing one-two.

Do you know how Charles H. Goren, of Philadelphia, developed the skill which enabled him to break all records for championships in a season? The story will be told tomorrow.

Piece Of Cloth From Chesterfield Is Serving As V.C. Ribbon

TORONTO, March 28 — (CP) — Name of a Toronto Major who gave Lt.-Col. Cecil Merritt of Vancouver, winner of the Victoria Cross for his actions at Dieppe, a piece of rust-colored cloth — sample of a couch cover — because it was the nearest thing at hand to the V. C. crimson, was revealed today as Maj. Brian S. McCool, whose wife lives in Toronto.

Story of the "pinning on" ceremony was released last night.

Mrs. McCool sent the sample cloth to her husband overseas, to show him the type of cloth being used to cover her chesterfield. He had stuffed it in his tunic pocket.

Col. Merritt, Commander of the South Saskatchewan Regiment and Maj. McCool were both taken prisoner at Dieppe, and when German prison camp officials told Col. Merritt he had won the V.C., Maj. McCool discovered the cloth and fellow-officers in the camp held a ceremony — pinning the cloth on the first Canadian V. C. winner of this war.

In a letter to his wife, Maj. McCool said: "You'll be interested to know that the piece of material from the chesterfield is serving a noble purpose. It's the nearest thing we have to the color of a V.C. ribbon and Col. Merritt is wearing it."

Mrs. Merritt, in a telephone conversation from her Belleville, Ont., home last night, said she was amused when she heard of the incident but that she believed the "investiture" had been mostly in fun and didn't believe her husband had continued to wear it "seriously."

"I received a letter form Col. Merritt from the prison camp," she said. "He told me he had received the regular Victoria Cross ribbon from Defence Minister Ralston from Ottawa."

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

If your child lacks a zest for food, it may be that his diet is short in very important food elements which, science has discovered, everyone needs for health. His growth may be stunted or impaired and he may be an easy victim to prevailing sickness.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in his diet.

Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B_1, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building sturdy bodies.

So—if your child eats poorly, is thin or under par, why not start giving him New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

Floods Block Ontario Roads

TORONTO, March 28 — (CP) — Highway traffic was slowed down at several places in the Toronto area over the week-end as flood waters covered highways. No. 2 Highway at Pickering was blocked to motor traffic Saturday afternoon and evening with four feet of flood waters from Duffin Creek on the roadway. Police said Highway No. 24 was flooded at five points between Alton and Orangeville.

At Glen Williams on the Credit River, the farm home of S. Beam was completely surrounded by water. They went to the barn by rowboat to do the chores.

Flood waters in the nearby Etobicoke River were reported today to be receding somewhat. The same was true of flood waters in the Don River in the city itself where five-year-old Barry Hudson drowned Friday when he slipped down an embankment. Six-year-old Carol Westicitt almost slipped into the Don too, but she was saved by Shirley Ferguson, 10.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Scout Craft Show

Four weeks from today the Scout Craft show will be getting under way and we are looking for better displays and better exhibits than ever before. We should all be hard at work on both sections of the show. I would like to put out a suggestion to every pack and troop in the city. Why not put out a special invitation to the parents, asking them to come and bring their friends and relations. Let every boy in the packs and troops write this invitation at the pack or troop meeting asking Dad and Mother to come, these invitations to be taken home by the boys and brought back the following week signed by the parents. Then the boys can take them home again for a reminder to their parents. The signature will show that the boy did not forget to give the invitation to Dad and Mother to read. We want to show the local Association that they are backed by us all. So let us get right down to business.

Sacred Heart Cubs

March 24 will be marked on the calendar as a red letter day to three members of the pack as it was the occasion of their advent into the Council Rock proper. Murray Byrne Ronald Coulson and Walter Woodhouse became members of the great brotherhood of Scouting and they were invested as Wolf Cubs into the pack and placed their feet firmly on the Jungle Trail. The boys' parents were there to witness the simple but impressive ceremony. This was the start of the evening's work and was followed with instruction on the various phases of Cub life with the game of "Dog and Bone" helping to give fun to the program. At the Red Flower service stars were presented, 4 year: Jack Kennaley, Lionel Johnson; 3 year: Lloyd Livings, LeVerne Jones; 2 year: John Jones, Terry O'Leary; 1 year: Jim Clarke, David Theobald, Michael Mastrianne, Carl Meagher. Jack Kennaley was also presented with his second star.

The white six was the duty six for the evening.

St. John's

The troop—the meeting opened at 7.15 with the first action being the rearrangements for the patrols. This is being done to accommodate the Cubs that are soon coming from the pack. P. L. Jamie Collis led the games and then instruction was taken in the various sections of the Scout work.

One of the main items from Scouter was a chat on Scout Craft show. During the evening Max Clark completed his Tenderfoot work and is now ready for investiture. Max was formerly a Cub.

Skipper Groombridge was guest at the Court of Honor where discussion was carried on regarding paper and fat salvage, and it was decided that the troop will join the pack to carry out this work—Reporter J. Collis.

The pack—It was sports night in the pack. The sports were carried out in miniature, the board jump being the broadest grin, putting the weight, keeping a bag of wind in the air over a certain distance. hurdle race, running to given point and then pushing a peanut over a given course by the nose. Points were awarded in all contests, the final standings, brown six 21, black 17, white 13, grey 11, green 10, red 8. Jack Fowley passed the Union Jack tests and has only one more test to pass for his first star. The brown six won the statuette for points in the last month.

It was decided to carry on with the paper and fat salvage and the Scouts will be called upon to assist the Cubs in this work Anyone having paper or fat please phone 8256 or 3067, and we will arrange for pick up. Paper includes all classes of paper and boxes, magazines, etc. Now spring cleaning is at hand we are certain that you will have lots of this material to throw out. And don't forget that medicine bottles are needed by the Medical Corps. We will take them also, but please see that they are clean. Thank you.

Mothers' Auxiliary—Mrs. Groombridge, president of the St. John's Mothers' Auxiliary, was at the Scout Mothers' Auxiliary conference in Toronto during the past week.

All Saints

The troop—Thirty boys and one leader was present at the last meeting, where instruction work was taken by patrols. Three boys completed their tenderfoot tests and are now ready for their investiture into scouting, they are Gerald Excell, Ted Williams and Gary Charlebois. Bill Roebottom proved evidence for his Savings tests. Tom Griffin and Bob Aulbrook passed second class 1st Aid; Art Miller and Don Smith, second class signalling. The Crows won the pennant for the night. Next meeting closes the fat campaign for this month and a new campaign will be held in April. At the court of honor the following appointments were passed: David Dibben, chairman; Bob Hopkins, secretary; Bobby LeBar, troop reporter and keeper of the log; Glen Watkins, quartermaster, and Tom Griffin, assistant quartermaster—Reporter Bobby LeBar.

St. Luke's

The pack—Larry Marsh led the opening Grand Howl at the Council Rock on Tuesday last. Test work in the lairs showed marked improvement among the boys with some boys passing tests. Larry Walsh, leap frog and hopping, Malcolm Sadler, time, Norman Thomas, knots; signalling was also given as pack instruction. At the Red Flower the song "John Brown's Fliver" was practiced and the story of "The Adventures of Peter and Paddy" was told by Baloo. Registration cards were also presented to a number of the boys. All Cubs are requested to be present Tuesday, March 28, as some special announcements will be given out.

The troop—Stalking games took one of the main parts in the evening's program whilst one or two tests were passed as follows: Uses of Scout staff, flags and Scout signs by Gerald Hillis, uses of the staff, Albert Wardell. Plans were discussed for a hike to Warsaw during the Easter holidays.

Just a Question

What can I make for the Scout Craft Show?

Well, son, you can make anything you like. We want to see just what you can do. Ask your Cub or Scout leader what is on the list and if you think that what you have in mind is not there, just go to work and make it anyway. Don't forget though, you have only about 3½ weeks to make it.

Ask Dad to help you with your idea, but do the work yourself. If Dad won't help you, ask Scouter, he'll be glad to.

Open for entries on Monday, April 24th. Show will be open to Dad and Mother on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, April 25th, 26th and 27th.

Four Nazi Prisoners Escape At Monteith

NORTH BAY, Ont., March 28—(CP).—Four German prisoners escaped over the week-end from a prisoner-of-war camp at Monteith, 175 miles north of here, it was announced today. Two were recaptured and two are still at large.

The two for whom police are still searching are Eric Weisser, 31, and Otto Huber, 40. They were not reported missing until after the line-up at the camp this morning.

The other two, whose escape was discovered yesterday, were arrested at Matheson by Provincial Constable Tappenden, who found them on a train. They have been taken back to the camp.

Flowers Galore

ORTING, Wash., March 28—(AP).—Pte. Clara Owens of the Women's Army Corps had expressed the belief there should be 'lots of flowers' at a wedding, then conceded there was a small chance of it at a military ceremony. But she reckoned without army ingenuity when she became the bride of Staff-Sgt. William C. Melnick, 25. An altar was set up in a field and the ceremony performed in the middle of a five-acre tract of daffodils.

14-Year-Old Youth Slays Two Children

ALCOLU, S.C., March 28—(AP)—Sheriff H. S. Newman announced Saturday afternoon a 14-year-old youth had admitted beating to death two small Alcolu girls whose bodies were found about dawn in a ditch near a lumber plant in this Clarendon County town.

Newman said the youth was George Junius. The sheriff reported that Junius led officers to a hidden piece of iron which, he was quoted as saying, he used to kill the children.

The victims were Betty June Binnicker, 9, and Mary Emma Thames, 6, who left their homes late yesterday to pick flowers.

Post-War Policy On Airports Not Determined

OTTAWA, March 28 — (CP) — The government has not yet determined a policy for post-war development of municipal airports, Munitions Minister Howe said to-day at a meeting of the Commons Railway committee.

Airport development with government assistance during the war had been directed to meet war needs, the Minister said.

The committee at its first meeting to-day elected Dr. J. P. Howden (L.-St. Boniface) chirman and heard the Trans-Canada Air Lines report read by the president, H. J. Symington.

Under questioning by A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F.-Mackenzie), Mr. Symintgon saaid T.C.A. had, so far as was possible, carried out government policy on the extension of routes. Only delays had been in instances caused by difficulity in getting ground equipment.

Mr. Nicholson said he was concerned by applications of Canadian Pacific Air Lines for routes which, if licenses were granted, would leave only a few small gaps in a a service competitive with T.C.A. He said he was anxious to know if T.C.A. was carrying out government policy in maintaining T.C.A. as the only mainline service.

"Isn't that a matter of government policy that is going to be discussed in the House?" Mr. Howe replied.

Mr. Symington said a new direct Winnipeg-to-Edmonton route to be flown as soon as ground facilities were available would also provide the shortest route to Alaska. It was expected this service would be in operation by summer.

Mr. Hanson asked for a report from Mr. Symington on the Empire air conference which he attended with Mr. Howe in London. Mr. Howe said Mr. Symington went as a government representative and not as T.C.A. president. The conference would come under discussion when civil aviation was discussed in the House.

"There were no representatives of private enterprise at the conference?" Mr. Hanson asked.

"No, not from anywhere," Mr. Howe said.

Crerar On Job Without Fuss

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 28—(CP Cable)—Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, newly-appointed commander of the 1st Canadian Army Monday took over officially at army headquarters following a week's leave.

The former commander of the Canadian Corps in Italy, who takes the position left vacant by Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton's return to Canada and held temporarily by Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian General Staff, drove unobstrusively to headquarters where Canadian invasion planning is being done.

There was no ceremony. The General merely inspected the regular guard under Sgt. E. G. Darregel, Hamilton, Ont., and then was greeted by his senior staff officer. Crerar went immediately to his office and launched into the work awaiting him.

For months the staff has been laboring on a Canadian Army invasion plans and the new commander faces a busy time getting abreast of it.

MUSTARD POULTICES

GREAT HELP IN NURSING LITTLE KIDDIES

ORIGINALLY of Lancashire, England, Mrs. W. A. Potter, now of Swift Current, Saskatchewan, says that in her estimation, there is no household remedy that takes the place of mustard. She has used mustard in many ways to help combat various ailments among her own six children and always with good results.

Chest and Bronchial Colds

"I have used mustard frequently," said Mrs. Potter, "to help relieve chest and bronchial colds in the case of adults, both men and women. These troubles can be very aggravating but I have always found that relief comes much more quickly if mustard poultices and foot baths are used. I can say quite definitely that the use of mustard helps to make all such troubles much less formidable." Mrs. Potter concluded by saying, "I would never think of being without a can of mustard in my home."

Always Buy Pure Mustard

No better proof of the fine medicinal properties of mustard exists than the fact that thousands of people like Mrs. Potter use it year after year with excellent results. Keep mustard in your home—always handy for foot baths, complete baths and mustard poultices or plasters to relieve chills, colds, or when you feel depressed by Grippe or some other winter infection. Use it to help relieve pains of Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Arthritis, Neuritis, over-tired muscles, etc. Call a doctor promptly if symptoms are serious.

Be sure that you get famous Keen's D.S.F. Mustard, made entirely from mustard seed of highest quality, and packed to preserve its uniform quality and full, medicinal strength. Sold by grocers and druggists everywhere.

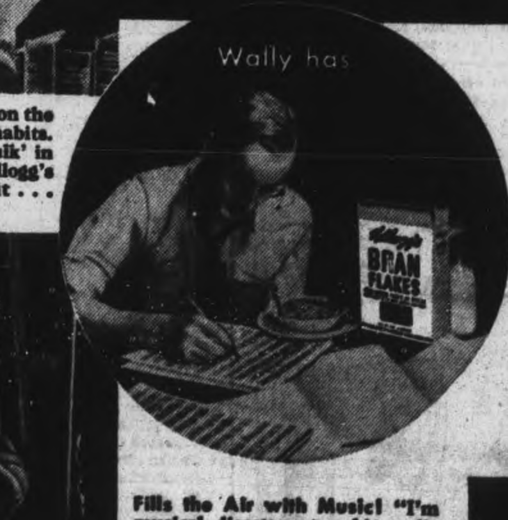
Have you energy for* EXTRA *things?

Babs has...

"Helping at a servicemen's canteen is the spare-time interest that keeps me busiest," says Babs. "Washing dishes, preparing short orders, or at the counter . . . it's a pleasure to serve the lads who serve! It takes energy, especially after doing a daytime job . . ."

"My regular job at the library keeps me on the go—no real exercise, so I watch my habits. But no nasty doses! Instead, I get 'bulk' in my diet by starting every day with Kellogg's Bran Flakes . . . they help me keep fit . . . and do they ever taste good!"

Shipbuilding Over, Keeps Homes Going! "During the day I work in a shipyard," says Harry. "My 'overtime' job is carrying on my old plumbing and electrical business. I couldn't do it if I didn't keep fit. I do it by getting 'bulk' in my diet from Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning."



Fills the Air with Music! "I'm musical director at a big radio station," says Wally, "and my hobby is—more of the same! Evenings too, I'm busy with scores and arrangements. Double time takes energy. So I watch my habits. But no harsh cathartics! 'Bulk' in my diet from Kellogg's Bran Flakes every morning keeps me fit."

If You Want to Keep Fit for extra things, take these two steps to health: 1. To get well, see your doctor. 2. To keep well, watch your habits. Guard against incomplete elimination. Gently laxative, Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat help supply valuable minerals and proteins too. And their flavour is so downright good you'll want to eat them every morning! Ask your grocer for the golden-yellow package—either the regular or the Family package. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

Keep fit with KELLOGG'S every day in the year!

Huge Short-Wave Station To Be Ready Next October

By JACK BRAYLEY—Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP).—Canadian radio will go to war starting on a date between October and December, firing words and music from a new shortwave transmitter at Sackville, N.B., it was disclosed today.

Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, continuing his report to the Commons Radio Committee, outlined the set-up of the new station which he described as "one of the most up-to-date on the North American continent.

He announced that preliminary studies have already been started on a tentative program schedule and on the hiring of necessary personnel so that "the most effective" use can be made of shortwave broadcasts during the war.

The station, which will be beamed to various world regions with emphasis on the European beam, "should be testing in October, so that we may start any time from then on and not later than Jan. 1, 1945." Dr. Frigon said.

While he did not give details on programs he listed the composition of a broadcast advisory committee which included Norman Robertson, under-secretary of state for external affairs; A. D. P. Heeney, secretary of the cabinet war committee; A. D. Dunton, general manager of Wartime Information Board; Dr. Frigon and others.

This was generally taken to bear out previous reports that a department of psychological warfare was to be established to carry Canadian propaganda to enemy and occupied countries as well as to Allies.

In Foreign Languages

The previous reports said that broadcasts, based on suggestions from the armed services, external affairs and other appropriate departments, would be given in various languages — including German and Japanese.

He said the transmission building at Sackville, designed by CBC engineers, will be completed in a few weeks and "we wil lstart receiving equipment shortly now."

Mr. Frigon said a shortwave receiving station is under construction

Lonergan Case Goes To Jury

NEW YORK, March 29—(AP).—The defence of Wayne Lonergan, charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his heiress wife, Patricia, suddenly rested its case today at 11.14 a.m., after calling only three witnesses.

The lanky defendant was not called to the stand.

Edward V. Broderick's sudden move came after he had called to the witness stand Mario Gabellini, interior decorator who escorted Mrs. Lonergan on a round of night clubs the night before the State contends she was slain, and Mr. Isidore Michel, the Lonergan's physician.

He had questioned Detective William Prendergast yesterday.

Broderick had attempted to show through Gabellini that the victim was "very drunk" shortly before she was slain.

He made the statement when Judge James G. Wallace asked why

The order, issued by Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle, provides that no unauthorized person shall at any time have loose coupons in his possession.

50,000 British Miners Out

Not Allowed To Take Coal Home

LONDON, March 29 (CP)—About 50,000 miners were estimated to be on strike today in the Yorkshire coalfields, and Scottish shipyards also were hampered by labor walkouts.

The miners are striking because the recent wage settlement deprived them of the privilege of taking home coal without paying for it. A wrangle over the operation of the pay-as-you-earn income tax system provoked 2,500 to strike in Stirlingshire, Dumbartonshire and Lanarkshire. Five Rotherham pits employing 6,000 were idle.

A strike of engineering apprentices at the Tyneside shipyards spilled over into the Clydeshire and Yorkshire industrial districts. Eighty per cent of the Clydeshire apprentices and 1,000 in Yorkshire walked out in sympathy, making the estimate number of Yorkshire strikers 20,000. The strike started as a demand for exemption from the practice whereby boys are drafted into the coal mines, the same as into the armed forces.

Russian Army Nearing Czech Border

Units Converging On Odessa Black Sea Port

LONDON, March 29 (CP)—Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's 3rd Ukrainian Army pushed across the South Russian steppes from captured Nikolaev toward the great Black Sea port of Odessa today, while 300 miles to the northwest other Russian forces were reported within 40 miles of the Czechoslovakian frontier.

The Russians were advancing on Odessa along a curving 175-mile front. Further west in Bessarabia, a Soviet communique said, units of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's 2nd Ukranian Army were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspol-Isai railroad—last principal escape artery from the port.

Spearheads of Malinovsky's forces which captured Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug already were reported across the Bug estuary, driving along the coastal roads that lead to Odessa, 75 miles to the southwest. Other columns were plunging south from bridgeheads 60 to 80 miles upstream, where, the Russians said, Domanevka and 40 other communities were captured. Domanevka is 77 miles north of Odessa.

Berlin asserted that Konev's army, stretched along the east bank of the Prut river boundary line of pre-war Rumania, had crossed that stream to assault the strategic rail junction city of Iasi (Jassy), but neither the Russian communique nor front dispatches confirmed this report of the first Soviet invasion of Axis territory.

The 2nd Ukrainian Army however, drove south to take the towns of Tsyra and Koshen near the lateral railway into Rumania. Other units operating to the north, Moscow said, captured Linkovtsy, 15 miles southeast of Kamenets-Podolsk, thus narrowing the neck of the sack on large German forces reported cut off in their retreat from Proskurov.

Mountain Barrier

Forty miles northwest of Czernowitz, Bucovina capital, in whose outskirts Red Army troops were reported fighting, Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's 1st Ukrainian Army captured Gozdets, 11 miles northeast of Kolamea on the Czernowitz-Lwow Railway and only 40 miles from the formidable Carpathian mountain barrier, through which the famous "pass of the Tartars" leads into Czechoslovakia.

Capture of Nikolaev resulted from a combined land and sea operation.

Today the Russians were smashing down through approximately 9,000 square miles of steepe country still held by the Germans in the area north of Odessa, but there were few natural barriers to delay their drive to that port and the shores of the Black Sea.

The Berlin radio last night indicated that Red Army troops had encircled Kovel, 170 miles from Warsaw in prewar Poland, but the Russian communique did not mention operations in this area.

Postponed Repairs

NIAGARA FALLS, March 29—(CP).—Mrs. Eva Dobbie Vandersluys, pioneer florist of this city, fell downstairs yesterday morning, broke a couple of ribs, opened head gashes requiring several stitches—and then went to work. Short of greenhouse help, Mrs. Vandersluys spent a busy day at her bench doing floral funeral work, postponing further medical attention until orders were completed.

Veterans' Guard Guilty On Two Charges

BUCKINGHAM, Que., March 29.—(CP).—Pte. Nelson Skinner of Granby, Que., 52 year old member of the Veterans' Guard of Canada, pleaded guilty to two charges and not guilty to four others when he went on trial to-day before an open court martial investigating alleged misconduct involving a group of German prisoners of war.

The court, which yesterday acquitted Cpl. William Lee, of Montreal of three similar charges and withheld judgment of three others, announced it would proceed with the trial of the four counts to which Skinner pleaded not guilty and would deal later with the others.

The inquiry arose from reports that German prisoners, brought to this town 25 miles east of Ottawa from a lumber camp for dental treatment, had been permitted to fraternize here and at nearby Thurso with girls and drink beer, some of which had been purchased for them by guards.

Skinner pleaded guilty to charges that he permitted prisoners of war to fraternize in public with civilians and that, while escort to eight prisoners of war, he carried out his duties in an improper manner by permitting prisoners to proceed alone in a truck expressly provided and intended for the carriage of himself and all eight prisoners, while he followed in a civilian vehicle accompanied by two of the prisoners and a party of girls.

He pleaded not guilty to the following charges:

Conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline in that on March 15 at Buckingham, while

Bombers Raid French Coast And Germany

Americans Trying To Eliminate German Luftwaffe

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, March 29—(AP).—American heavy bombers plunged deep into central Germany today and other heavy bombers pounded the Pas-de-Calais coastal area of France in the campaign described officially as "aimed primarily against the Luftwaffe on the ground and in the air."

It was this month's 24th great assault by the U.S. bombers, a new monthly record in the offensive which Maj.-Gen. James H. Doolittle announced last night had destroyed more than 2,100 German planes in the last eight weeks. This toll was taken by American airmen flying from Britain alone.

Fighter escorts accompanied the bombers into central Germany.

The double-barreled strike against Germany and France followed a lashing of four airdromes in France Tuesday by 250 to 500 American heavy bombers.

The German targets were not identified, but the preliminary announcement from U.S. headquarters said "today's attacks followed two days of bombings of Luftwaffe airfields in France where the Germans did not put up serious aerial defence."

Berlin claimed that violent air combats were being fought over northwestern Germany by midday. One broadcast claimed "several enemy aircraft were brought down shortly after the enemy had flown over the Reich frontier."

In the House of Commons, meanwhile, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, said the German fighter force in western Europe still is formidable, and that undoubtedly many hard battles lie ahead.

KOLOMEA CAPTURED

LONDON—Russian troops have captured Kolomea on the Lwow-Czernowitz railways in an 11-mile advance southeast toward Czechoslovakia, Premier-Marshal Stalin announced tonight in an order of the day. Kolomea is 30 miles northeast of the Czechoslovakian border.

Planes Sever Hun Supply Lines

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS AT NAPLES, March 29 (AP)—Medium and fighter-bombers of the first tactical air force have cut rail communications from northern Italy to the German battle lines, damaging or knocking out several railroad bridges, it was disclosed today.

The 15th air force threw its heavy bombers into battering new blows last night and yesterday at Nazi supply lines in northwestern Italy, attacking railroad yards at Milan, Verona, and Mestre, just west of Venice.

The severing of Nazi rail communications repeated the job done by medium and heavy bombers just before the Anzio landing on Jan. 22. Repairing and reconstruction of the bridges sometimes takes weeks of work.

The bridge at Montalto di Castro on the coastal line north of Rome was believed knocked out by dive-bombers.

The 600-foot steel bridge at Orvieto 55 miles north of Rome on the main line to Florence also was badly damaged, as were spans at Fano, Cesano, Perugia, and near Rignano.

R.A.F. Wellingtons and Liberators bombed the Milan railroad yards last night after United States heavy bombers had hit Verona's main yards by daylight and other heavyweights had bombed the eastern yards at Verona, a junction of the Brenner Pass line from Germany and the north Italian rail network. Still other heavy bombers attacked the Mestre yards.

Stay At Home

LONDON, Ont., March 29—(CP). — It's no offence to get drunk if you don't stray past your own doorstep, Magistrate Donald Menzies ruled last week in dismissing a drunk charge against a London resident. Police testified they found the man inert on the doorstep of his rooming house and took him to Victoria Hospital, where he became "very abusive" when X-ray examinations revealed no injury.

500 Jam Street As Dollars Flutter Down

WINDSOR, Ont., March 29.—(CP).—Harry F. McLean, wealthy Canadian contractor whose hobby is giving away his money halted traffic on a Windsor street this morning by opening the window of his fourth floor hotel room and tossing $5,000 in dollar bills and silver into the street.

Automobile brakes screeched as drivers pulled to a stop and joined pedestrians in the scramble; some stood with their hands in air trying to catch the money.

When McLean finished emptying the money from a bank bag, there were 500 people jammed in the street, milling about beneath the window.

To a bank messenger and several reporters who were in his room, McLean said, "I like to see people happy. This is the way I spread joy among mankind."

The incident climaxed several other money-distributing events of McLean's visit here. Late Tuesday night he walked into the police station, and gave the desk sergeant a check for $5,000, saying, "this is for your burial fund." A hotel telephone operator who McLean said handled his long distance calls efficiently received $500 in quarters; a chambermaid received $100 in quarters.

Capping his day's activities McLean obtained another bag of money from the bank, moved to another hotel and repeated the money-tossing performance from a room there.

Later, having run out of cash, McLean started to distribute cheques. He gave one for $2,000 to Mrs. John Jay whose husband was killed while fighting in Italy on condition that she use the money to help raise her two small children. He gave a cheque for $1,000 to Sgt. Emerson Mitchell of the Windsor Police Department and a $400 cheque to a boy named Osborne from Crystal Beach who wandered into his hotel room for a visit.

Holland Lowlands Are Being Flooded

LONDON, March 29 — (CP) — The Germans have started flooding lowlands in Holland, the Netherlands information bureau declared today, as part of a plan to combat the expected Allied invasion of western Europe.

Moreover, except for one or two small towns, the Island group known as south Holland and Zeeland Island have been evacuated preparatory to flooding the bureau said.

About five per cent of the Netherlands already is flooded, one Dutch official estimated.

Allies Riddle Jap Planes In Many Air Battles Over Burma Jungle Fronts

Pressure Of Jap Ground Forces At Ukhrul Forces British To Retreat To New Positions At Burma-India Border

By CHARLES GRUMICH—Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI, March 29—(AP).—Destruction of 30 Japanese aircraft with six more probably destroyed and seven damaged in two days of widespread air action over Burma and Assam was announced today. Meanwhile the communique from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced that Japanese pressure continued in the Ukhrul area northwest of Imphal, near the Burma-India border and added "our troops have taken up new positions."

The communique indicated other Japanese thrusts toward Imphal in the small Indian state of Manipur had been checked, but it mentioned enemy movement in the hill country 50 miles northeast of Imphal.

Headquarters said Allied troops maintained their hold on a road in the Tamu-Palel area, south of Imphal.

A renewed Japanese air offensive reaching far over the immediate objectives in Manipur on Monday brought bombing attacks on the Chabau and Ledo area in Upper Assam. These attacks were repulsed, however, with an announced loss of 11 out of 18 enemy bombers, which were forced to flee without dropping any bombs.

The Allied communique announced 28 Japanese planes in all were destroyed Monday and two more on Tuesday, bringing the two-day total to 30.

A recapitulated score shows that between March 1 and March 28. 133 enemy planes were destroyed, 16 probably destroyed and 41 damaged in the air or on the ground, against the loss of 33 Allied planes on all sorts of strategic and tactical missions.

Three Allied planes were missing from the extensive air operations, in which 750 sorties were flown.

Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell announced that 5,423 Japanese troops had been killed in northern Burma since last Oct. 26.

Lord Louis' communique reported Allied troops drove the enemy back in the Chin Hills east of Imphal, where they inflicted casualties and captured valuable enemy equipment in successful operations on the Tiddim-Imphal road. The Japanese were stubbornly resisting attempts to clear them from a small block of the upper part of the Tiddim-Imphal Highway.

Gurkha Troops Withdrawn From Cassino

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press War Correspondent

NAPLES, March 29—(AP)—Indian Gurkha troops who had clung stubbornly to Hangman's Hill, an exposed knob just below the peak of Monastery Hill overlooking Cassino, have been withdrawn, headquarters disclosed today as violent artillery and mortar duels thundered in and around the town.

At the same time Allied photographic interpreters reported that medium bombers had cut all the rail lines from northern Italy to the German frontline area.

Hangman's Hill had been occupied by the Gurkha troops for nearly two weeks, and could be fed and supplied sufficiently only by air. Withdrawal of New Zealanders from Hill 202 on the slopes of Monastery Hill also was disclosed.

The strategic importance of the two features was lost when the general offensive against Cassino failed to dislodge the Germans, it was explained.

This, plus the difficulties of removing the wounded and bringing airborne supplies made continued retention of the high ground valueless, Headquarters officers said.

Allied heavy guns laid down a barrage on German positions in the vicinity of the strongly-defended Continental hotel, smashing a German troop concentration forming up near the ruins of the hostelry. German multi-barrel guns, with tank artillery supporting, hammered at Hill 193.

French troops also smashed another small assault on Hill 915, which they are holding.

Allied planes flew more than 1,500 sorties yesterday, shooting down a total of 13 enemy craft against a loss of 10.

Ploesti Guards Strengthened

LONDON, March 29—(AP).—The Soviet Tass News Agency said last night that a state of siege had been proclaimed in the Ploesti oil fields of Rumania — 170 miles from the advancing Red Army—and that the Nazis had ordered the removal of all oil stored in the area.

Rumanian police were ordered to shoot any person who failed to stop when challenged, Tass said, and the Germans have reinforced their S.S. (Elite Corps) battalions guarding the fields.

Tass added that the Germans had replaced all Rumanian technical personnel with German scientists at the fields, from which they have been draining about 3,000,000 tons of oil a year.

As the Russians swept forward toward the Carpathian Mountains, other reports said the puppet regime in occupied Hungary had dissolved the Social Democratic and Peasant parties.

Democrats Carry Oklahoma District

MUSKOGEE, OKLA., March 29 — (CP) — Democrats laid claim today to a nationally-significant triumph in Oklahoma's special congressional election. Republicans blamed the new deal machine, minimized the results of yesterday's balloting and predicted it'll be different in the November elections.

The State's second district, traditionally democratic, was made a major battleground. National party leaders joined the fray. The Roosevelt administration was called the issue by both sides.

With only 19 sparsely-populated precincts of the district's 331 still unreported today, Democrat W. G. Stigler led E. O. Clark, Republican, 21,405 to 17,678 votes.

In Washington, Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, said today Stigler's victory "exploded completely and decisively the myth of a nation-wide Republican trend."

War in Italy Disappoints Churchill

Allies Not Willing To Sacrifice More Men Since Airfields Taken

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Prime Minister Churchill's expression of disappointment in the progress of the Italian campaign, and his refusal to debate the subject in the House of Commons, rather invites public discussion of a politico-military situation which has been regarded as belonging to the hush-hush variety.

"Perhaps," said Mr. Churchill in answer to a pressing question, "there may not be sufficient progress of operations for any statement to be made by the Government. I certainly have not concealed my disappointment that progress has not been quicker."

The Prime Minister's blunt declaration of disappointment may help clear the air. He isn't the only one disappointed. What then are the facts about the Italian show?

This column has stated previously that the operations in their present stage are subsidiary to the main assault on the Continent proper. It was essential at the outset that the Allies conquer the lower part of the Italian peninsula. It was vital that we possess the great port of Naples and the 13 airfields of Foggia from which the Allied bombers can rove over the Balkans and into Hitler's eastern domains.

All that was necessary. However, the subsequent offensive which has had Rome as its objective would seem to have been more for its moral effect than for military reasons, although there obviously would be military advantages in possessing the Eternal City. The point is that we don't have to take it.

Weather Interferes.

Progress in the winter campaign has been slow for several reasons. The Germans have been holding mountain positions which are so strong they could have withstood the attack of far greater forces than have been sent against them. The Allied position has been made much more difficult by the winter weather.

Probably the real key to Allied difficulties lies in the fact that the vast preparations for the invasion of Western Europe have prevented the High Command from devoting more men and equipment to the Italian campaign. Apparently somebody underestimated the difficulties of an offensive up the peninsula to Rome.

And who can say how much the operations have missed the skill and driving power of Britain's Gen. Montgomery and America's Gen. Patton—two of the greatest field leaders the war has produced? These two would have been a strong addition to the undoubtedly good generals already in the field.

Triquet Describes Battle

Van Doos Lost Heavily At Casa Berardi

MONTREAL, March 29—(CP).—Maj. Paul Triquet, V.C., of Cabano, Que., who arrived by plane here to-day from Italy and England, said in a press conference that "the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec lost more men during the five days spent attacking and holding Casa Berardi last December than during the whole Sicilian campaign."

The quiet, cool-headed French-Canadian officer who was awarded the Victoria Cross for his own "gallantry, example and leadership" during the battle for Casa Berardi, an Italian village along the Adriatic leading to Ortona, recounted to newsmen the phases of the battle but was careful to avoid putting himself in th limelight.

Still wearing the "red-patched" battle-dress on which the King pinned the crimson ribbon of the Victoria Cross at Buckingham Palace two days ago, Maj. Triquet unfolded a story of unsurpassed gallantry and courage, as if giving out a communique.

Churchill Demands Support With Confidence Vote After Bill Amendment Lost

First Government Setback In 4 Years During War's Progress
Issue Dealt With Salaries Of Teachers

By JAMES M. LONG—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 29 — (CP). — Prime Minister Churchill stalked into the House of Commons today to ringing cheers from the members and, taking up the challenge posed by a one-vote defeat Tuesday, demanded a vote of confidence in his government. Churchill, scrappy veteran of political battles, turned immediately to the teacher-wage issue on which an amendment was carried over the government's opposition, and declared bluntly:

"Events of yesterday require an alteration in government business. It would not be possible for the government to leave matters where they stood.

"At this very serious time in the progress of the war there must be no doubt of the support which the government enjoys from the House.

"Accordingly," said the Prime Minister, "we have decided as the first business of the next sitting day to resume the committee stage on the Education Bill, and to delete Clause 82 as amended entirely from the bill."

Equal Pay.

This was the amendment providing equal pay for women and men teachers, a provision which the House in committee approved 117 to 116.

"This action of deletion," Mr. Churchill declared, "will be regarded as a vote of confidence in the present administration."

"If the government does not secure an adequate majority (supporting deletion of the amendment) it will entail the usual constitutional consequences."

These are the resignation of the government and the formation of a new cabinet. (British censorship does not permit correspondents to tell when Commons will meet but it may be tomorrow.)

To suggestions that the amendment in no way involved lack of confidence, Mr. Churchill declared:

"I cannot attempt to control the activities of members. I can merely offer them some suggestions as to the consequences which may attend their actions. Certainly we cannot go on the present basis of a government which has been defeated, after the language used from this bench, into the very great tasks that lie immediately in front of us."

He was interrupted often by cheers and once—when he declared "it really is impossible to distinguish between a vote on domestic policy and a vote on the general policy of the war in this country"—by some cries of "rubbish."

The setback yesterday, over-riding the opposition of the President of the Board of Education, Harold Butler, was the first defeat of Mr. Churchill's government since it was formed four years ago.

The rebuff followed an angry debate. It was reported that Butler had offered his resignation at the cabinet meeting, but later this was denied with the explanation that he regarded the vote as a rebuke to the government rather than to himself personally.

Butler had maintained that acceptance of the amendment—offered by Mrs. Cazalet Keir, Conservative member from the Islington riding in London— would jeopardize the government's wage principle.

The prime minister himself was not present when the vote, which cut party lines, was taken.

Disturbed Leaders

The setback obviously was disturbing to government leaders and was the subject of widespread discussion in the London press.

"No government could tamely accept such a rebuff as yesterday's defeat upon an important detail of the educational bill," said the Daily Telegraph. "As those responsible for the defeat seemed to realize subsequently, such an event cannot be laughed off as a mere demonstration, or parliamentary government would become a farce."

The Daily Sketch, however, was the only London paper to use the word "crisis" in referring to the situation.

"If they (the government) doubt whether they still have the confidence of Commons and the country they may put the matter to a test, after which a general election and return to party politics would be possible," it said. "A crisis might be

Press Union Elects Chairman

TORONTO, March 29 — (CP) — Senator W. Rupert Davies of the Kingston Whig-Standard was re-elected chairman of the Canadian section of the Empire Press Union at the annual meeting here last night. M. E. Nichols, Vancouver Province, succeeded the late John W. Dafoe, Winnipeg Free Press, as Honorary Chairman.

The executive committee consists of: George V. Ferguson, Winnipeg Free Press; Henry Gagnon, Quebec Le Soleil, and H. P. Robinson, St. John Telegraph-Journal, representing weekly newspapers and H. T. Hunter, MacLean Publishing Co., Toronto,, representing the periodical press.

W. A. Craick, Industrial Canada, Toronto, was re-elected Honorary Secretary-Treasurer and T. F. Drummie, Saint John Telegraph-Journal.

Nominated to represent the section of the council of the E.P.U. were: Senator Davies, Mr. Nichols, Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge Herald; P. D. Ross, Ottawa Journal; Eugene Lamarche, Montreal La Presse; Senator W. H. Dennis, Halifax Herald; J. A. McNeil, The Canadian Press, Toronto; and C.F. Crandall, British United Press, Montreal.

In his address, Senator Davies referred to the valuable work carried on by the E. P. U. through its council in London. He said that members were wrestling with problems connected with representation on war fronts, censorship, the speedy transmission of news, cable rates and generally the facilitating of news procurement and dispatch from the nerve centres of the world to the newspaper readers throughout the Empire. This, he declared, was a wartime service which all must appreciate.

STEPHEN LEACOCK—Noted economist, writer and humorist, who retired from McGill University staff six years ago, died following an operation in Toronto.

Stephen Leacock Noted Author Dies At Age 74

TORONTO, March 29 — (CP) — Stephen Leacock, an eminent economist who nevertheless said he would sooner have written "Alice in Wonderland" than the whole of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, died in hospital here last night, aged 74.

More widely known for his humorous writings and his public speaking than as a university professor, Mr. Leacock had been ill several weeks. He underwent a throat operation but appeared to be recovering.

Superannuated from McGill University in May, 1936, Mr. Leacock spent most of his time since then at writing. In 1938 he was awarded the Tweedsmuir prize for his book "My Discovery of the West." He wrote some 25 books—humorous and serious—in addition to several college texts and turned out dozens of essays and articles.

Mr. Leacock, a native of Swanmoor, Hants, Eng., but a resident of Canada since he was six, gained international fame for the cheerful nonsense in books like "Literary Lapses" and "Behind the Beyond."

Taught 30 Years

Three decades of McGill students will remember Mr. Leacock not so much for his knowledge of economics but as the professor whose classes were often punctuated with gales of laughter. Outside university circles it was his brilliant humor which captivated readers rather than his serious works on political economy history and biography.

Mr. Leacock worried little about his appearance. He hated dress ties and when he appeared in evening dress he often tied his tie with a simple overhand knot and left the ends casually hanging down his shirt-front. His hair was unruly always.

He had many eccentricities. He hated to see people bob up in front of him and would not go to the theatre, although he liked it, unless he could have a front-row seat. He wore his watch on a substantial gold chain fastened with a large safety pin. He hated telephones.

During recent years his principal interest aside from writing was gardening at his home near Orillia, Ont.

Lonergan Case

he was interrogating Gabellini as to how many drinks Mrs. Lonergan had with him on their date.

Gabellini, a dapperly-dressed interior decorator, met Broderick's barrage of questions by replying that he did not recall how many drinks she had at each of the places, except that it was "one or two" at some of them. He denied that she was intoxicated.

They spent three hours at a restaurant, then went to the Stork Club, he testified.

"Did the Stork Club management ask Mrs. Lonergan to leave because she was intoxicated?" asked Broderick.

"Not at all, Sir," said the dark-haired witness.

Gabellini, dressed in a tan suit and a pale tie, clasped his hands and tapped his toes upon the floor constantly as he testified.

He said he and Mrs. Lonergan went from the Stork Club to the hotel suite of Thomas Farrell, a magazine publisher. He didn't know whether she had any drinks there but said he saw her eat toast and drink milk.

Gabellini escorted her back to her own apartment about 6 a.m. on the morning of her death, he said.

Witness vigorously denied that he and Mrs. Lonergan had quarreled over her dancing at the Stork Club with Capt. Peter Elser of the Marine Corps who appeared as a prosecution witness.

Talked in Italian

"Did you help Mrs. Lonergan right up to her bedroom?" Broderick demanded.

"No sir," Gabellini answered.

"Wasn't it a fact that Mrs. Lonergan was so drunk she could hardly walk?"

"She absolutely was not."

Gabellini said he stayed only a few seconds at the apartment, then went in a taxi cab to a food shop where he was accustomed to eat. He said he invited the driver in to eat with him because "he was friendly and we were talking in Italian."

"Didn't you bring the Italian driver into the shop to tell him not to tell anybody about the fight you and Mrs. Lonergan had had in front of the apartment," Broderick persisted.

"Certainly not sir," Gabellini answered.

Dr. Michel, who preceded Gabellini on the stand, had corroborated Lonergan's statement in his confession that he attempted to buy poison in New York the night before the slaying. Dr. Michel quoted the defendant as saying he wanted it for a friend.

Taxi Drivers Supreme As Trade Booms

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, March 29 — (CP). — The man who drives a taxi has swept into the lead as the most-sought-after individual in London.

However, his position to a great extent is dependent on an external influence, namely the support of the United States Army.

The rise and fall of his predecessors is worthy of this slight study as a guide to the fate that may be in store for the cabbie:

The peacetime champion, the aristocrat, carried his laurels into the war but lost them early and was last seen slipping diffidently into a neat queue while his wife stayed at home working on her blow torch in anticipation of a big day at the factory.

There arose in his stead a man of gruff ways and few social graces —the butcher. His rise started with the ration book and his reign was lordly and, on occasion, harsh.

His fall was not so much a fall as the effect of one high being surpassed by another.

Each in Turn

He gave way slowly and with fierce resistance to a man who had known bitter obscurity for months and months, the man who owns a flat or a house or a single, grubby room. His reign was marked by occasional sordid financial dickerings.

His fall, again, was more that of one high being surpassed by something that went higher.

And finally we come to the era of the man who drives a taxi.

No champion, among those who have gone before, has flaunted his position as does this despot riding hard on the helpless, stranded multitudes of the capital.

His whole, absolute sway is based on the American theory of mobility which maintains the foot is for use only when there is no cab within range of the voice or the recesses of the purse.

His cab is his chariot, his tongue his lance. In the pleas of his fellow Englishman he finds a vicious malevolence. In the most pitiful sound this old city has to offer, the cry that sends a "taxxeee" to its miserable, unacknowledged end down some cavernous, blacked-out street, he takes a grisly delight.

at Dartmouth, N.S., which will supplement the Britannia Heights, Ont., station in improving reception of BBC programs intended for CBC networks. A receiving station already has been established in Toronto to bring in service communiques from overseas.

He said the function of the advisory committee would be to make recommendations to the CBC on the provision of an "international service" on matters of policy, program selection, broadcast periods "and the subjects to be covered in talks and similar programs."

Peter Aylen, of the CBC staff, will be the secretary of the committee and will co-ordinate the work between the various CBC divisions and government departments.

Reviewing other technical activities of the CBC, Dr. Frigon told the committee that relay transmitters have been installed at Sioux Lookout and Nakina in Ontario. The relays brought radio to isolated communities that could not be economically served in any other way.

He said a shortwave receiving station is under construction at Dartmouth, N.S., and this will supplement the Britannia Heights, Ont., station in bringing in service communiques from the European and African battlefronts and in improving reception of BBC programs intended for the CBC networks.

Several Stations

Another shortwave receiving station is being established near Vancouver for reception of Australian programs.

Dr. Frigon told of CBC resourcefulness in "making do" with odd parts on hand.

"As we could not obtain the proper equipment from manufacturers, small transmitters were built from parts collected from many and various sources," he said.

Another development of the CBC engineers was portable field equipment for war broadcasts.

"The difference between the CBC set-up and that used by others is that we virtually have a travelling recording laboratory on wheels near the front, with the complementary portable equipment used for front line work," he said.

"No other broadcasting outfit has had this advantage to date, according to our overseas engineer and to information supplied to us by the BBC."

At the outset of his remarks, Dr. Frigon tabled a schedule of salaries which had been requested by John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre). This showed that announcers, for instance, made between $1,800 and $3,800 annually.

"Outside of station managers, who, in a few cases, make more money with private stations than ours do, I believe our fixed salary classification is decidedly higher than that of almost all private stations in Canada," he said.

A.A. Categories Not For Pleasure Use

TORONTO, March 29 — (CP) — Strict orders have been issued to Regional Oil Control Offices to take special precautions to see that persons receiving special category gasoline ration books are entitled to them, a Toronto paper said today it has learned from an official of Oil Controller G. R. Cottrelle's office.

The official said that motorists should not consider the basis AA ration book for use in pleasure driving.

"Last year many motorists regarded their AA book as an allotment for pleasure driving," he said. "This is not so. It it an emergency ration and at no time has the oil controller made any allowance for pleasure driving."

In connection with special category allotments, the official said that "all gasoline allowances are granted on the grounds of emergency driving and that special categories will only be given where the regional controller is fully satisfied that such a category is justified.

New Housing Act For After War

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP) — Announcement that a new national Housing Act would be introduced in parliament this session was made in the Commons yesterday soon after a report on post-war housing was tabled by Prime Minister MacKenzie King.

Munitions Minister Howe told the House that the New Housing Act would be introduced, but said that pending its introduction he was unable to discuss the government's post-war policy in detail.

Mr. Howe did not indicate whether the Act would include any of the recommendations made in the Housing report which was drawn up by a sub-committee of the James Advisory Committee on reconstruction, headed by C. A. Curtis, professor of Economics at Queen's University, Kingston.

The advisory committee of reconstruction, headed by Dr. F. Cyril James, principal of McGill University, was appointed by the Federal Cabinet to study the various phases of post-war reconstruction. It operates independently of the Commons' Committee on Reconstruction.

The sub-committee, which estimated that at least 731,000 Housing units would be required in Canada in the first post-war decade, recommended that all Dominion Legislature relating to housing be reconstituted and placed in one statute. It urged that a Housing Division and a Dominion town planning agency be set up of the of the permanent government departments.

The report said the Federal Housing Act should be amended to encourage more people to build their own homes. Interest rates on loans or home construction should be lowered and a form of personal mortgage insurance to protect the home purchaser against loss in the event of his death should be established by the Dominion government.

A comprehensive low-rental housing program should be undertaken by the Dominion Government, the report said. Loans for capital costs for low-rental undertakings should be provided directly by the Dominion government at the lowest possible interest rates, desirably the current rate for long term government bonds plus a small charge for administration.

"The subsidies required for the purpose of permitting rentals to be set lower than the economic or commercial level should be provided by the Dominion government in the form of annual grants," the report said.

The sub-committee also recommended that the Federal Home Improvement Plan be "revised and liberalized" and placed on the statute books for use immediately the war is over.

Reduction of the cost of constructing houses was suggested and the drawing up of special provisions to help farmers build new homes or improve existing ones was urged.

Estimating that 606,000 housing units would be needed in urban areas and 125,000 in farm areas, the sub-committee recommended that Canada aim at the construction of between 50,000 and 100,000 houses in each of the first 10 post-war years.

Building since the war had been about 5,000 units below apparent annual requirements, the report said, and by 1946 this would account for a deficit of 23,000 units.

Close Airforce Depot

KINGSTON, March 29.—(CP). — The closing March 31 of No. 12A, R.C.A.F. recruiting centre which has been located here for the past six months, was announced yesterday. During operations the centre attested 617 airmen and registered 31 enlistments in the women's division.

244 Efficiency Medals Given To Canadians

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP) — The Defense Department announced last night award of 244 Canadian efficiency decorations and medals and similar honors to members of the Canadian Army.

There were more efficiency medals than any other award, with a total of 126 being presented. Second most numerous award bestowed was the efficiency decoration, which went to 51 soldiers.

Sixty-seven won clasps to their efficiency medals and eight won long service and good conduct medals.

Ontario got most of the awards, taking a total of 114 honors. Quebec was second with 44, and other Provinces trailed; British Columbia, 18; Manitoba, 17; Nova Scotia 16; Alberta, 13; New Brunswick, 12; Saskatchewan, 8, and Prince Edward Island, 2.

CP Is Prepared For Invasion

TORONTO, March 29 — (CP) — J. A. McNeil, General Manager of The Canadian Press, said today in his annual report that CP is perfecting plans "not only for reporting the greater struggles and sacrifices which will be the price of ultimate victory but also for chronicling and backgrounding the world-wide reconstruction which must inevitably attend and follow upon the advent of peace."

But coverage of the "lesser but still important activities at home and abroad" has not been neglected, he told of annual meeting of Canada's co-operative news-gathering agency.

"The general news service has been kept well up to the requirements of member newspapers while recognizing the limitations imposed upon them by staff shortages, space restrictions and other handicaps on publication."

Mr. McNeil said that probably never since the early formative days of CP has the co-operation of members been so important as it has been under present wartime conditions—"and never has it been more willingly given."

Of arrangements for covering the next federal general election, he said:

"While indications at the moment are that a Dominion election is not immediate, preparations have been completed. It was felt inadvisable to leave preliminary plans until a time when important news might be breaking from overseas."

During the last year "considerable progress" has been made in providing Canada's overseas forces with regular news from home, Mr. McNeil said. He gave these details:

1. Circulation of The Canadian Press News, published weekly by CP in London for the services, was increased in January from 35,000 to 55,000 with 6,000 copies of each issue flown to Italy.

2. CP provides 750 words of Canadian news daily at Ottawa for transmission to the 8th Army news and to the Canadian Army paper published in Italy, the Maple Leaf.

3. At the request of the Canadian Red Cross, a 1,500-word news bulletin for Canadian prisoners-of-war in Germany and Italy is prepared weekly in Toronto and cabled by the Red Cross to its international agency in Geneva.

Cheese, Produce and Livestock

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

acting as escort to two prisoners of war, he took the prisoners into a tavern under circumstances likely to bring the Canadian Army into disrepute;

That, while escort to eight prisoners, he left six of them in the custody of a civilian without reasonable cause;

That, at Thurso, he permitted prisoners to fraternize in public;

That, at Thurso, he permitted prisoners to consume intoxicating beverages in a public place with civilians.

Lee was acquitted of charges of conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline; failing to return German prisoners of war at the required hour to the Thurso lumber camp at which they were employed, and neglecting to see that they were under reasonable supervision at all times.

To Release Finding.

The court-martial's findings on the other charges against Lee — allowing prisoners fraternize with civilians, being intoxicated while in charge of prisoners of war and permitting prisoners to consume intoxicating beverages— will be released after they are confirmed and promulgated in orders.

Shortly after the court began its sittings on Monday in he Town Hall of this town 25 miles east of Ottawa, several witnesses, including six Buckingham girls, testified that Lee had been drinking. The girls said they had danced and drunk beer with German prisoners in the Myres Hotel at Thurso.

Testifying in his own behalf yesterday, Lee denied that he had purchased beer for the prisoners and had been drinking with them. He denied also seeing girls arrive at the hotel with the prisoners, who were returning from Buckingham en route to the lumber camp.

Lee said there had been girls in the hotel before prisoners arrived, but that he had stopped girls from dancing with the Germans.

More T.B. Cases

TORONTO, March 29—(CP).—A report tabled in the Ontario Legislature yesterday said new cases of tuberculosis found in the province in 1943 numbered 421. Improved venereal disease control was reported "as a result of increasing liaison with the armed forces."

Bans Newspapers

LONDON, March 29.—(CP-Reuters)—Export of British newspapers, excepting morning papers, to certain parts of the world, including Ireland, was banned by the government last night in another move apparently designed to prevent leakage of information as the invasion hour approaches.

Senator Opposes Centralization; Liberty's Enemy

OTTAWA, March 29 — (CP) — Senator Cyrille Vaillancourt (L—Quebec) in his maiden speech in the Senate last night said that administrative powers should be dentralized after the war because "centralization is the enemy of liberty."

"We have centralized all our powers and our forces now in order the quicker to get at the enemy's throat. However, once the war is over centralization will become an evil because it is opposed to liberty."

M. Vaillancourt spoke on a motion urging the formation of a Senate committee to study post-war reconstruction problems. Debate on the motion, presented by Senator Elie Beauregard (L— Quebec), was adjourned until tomorrow by Arthur Marcotte (PC — Quebec).

Speaking shortly before the Senate rose, Senator Vaillancourt said that administrative powers should be decentralized in such a way as "to leave to each province the problems it can settle most easily and best."

Decentralization would be necessary to spread prosperity to all parts of the country. Prosperity could not spread under any form of centralization, because no single plan could be drawn up to cover all the problems which had to be met in Canada.

"We cannot shape a single hat to fit all heads, but we can shape hats to fit various heads. We can do this by decentralization of powers."

He said he hoped that the Reconstruction committee would soon be set up. "When it is, we shall endeavour to study efficient ways to make a better life possible for everyone to-morrow, a better life on the spiritual as well as on the material side."

"We have a clear duty ahead of us; we are on the second line of battle, the line of battle which will prepare the after-war. And if it is glorious for a soldier to die for his country, it is also glorious to serve one's country by preparing for tomorrow a life that will flow and run abundant, sociable, charitable, so that all citizens of this country may say that, thanks to our help, it is good to live, love and die for our country."

The Senate last night gave second reading to a bill that would incorporate the Fundy Air Lines in New Brunswick.

The bill, referred to the standing committee on railways, telegraphs and harbors, was sponsored by Senator W. E. Foster (L.-Saint John).

Mr. Foster said the bill would simply incorporate the company by Act of Parliament as required by an order-in-council passed last year.

Income Tax Banned For Aleutian Veterans

OTTAWA, March 29—(CP).—Revenue Minister Gibson said Tuesday in the Commons that it had been decided that Canadians who served with the force occupying Kiska in the Aleutians last year are not liable for income tax.

The question had been whether they had served outside the Western Hemisphere. Canadians serving in the United Kingdom, Europe and Africa are not liable to tax.

Several House members had urged the Kiska force members be granted the exemption even if they did not actually go beyond the limits of the hemisphere.

For Eczema— Skin Troubles

Make up your mind to-day that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to McDermid & Jury, Lynch's Drug Store, or any good drug store and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief — the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, and other skin troubles.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.—(Advt.)

Men With Auxiliary Services Go Forward With Assault Troops Found Everywhere Aiding Soldiers

(By Jean Stenton)

Men of the Auxiliary Services attached to the Canadian Army overseas don't carry guns, but everywhere the men attack, they go with the assault troops on the first landing. When they hit the beach they are expected to be everywhere from dressing stations to restaurants and they did so well at Sicily, that they now have orders to be part of the first wave troops wherever they go.

These are a few of the facts related by Major W. B. Welbourn, Salvation Army in charge of the Auxiliary Services of the Central Mediterranean Forces, 1st Canadian Division, who has just been invalided home from Italy. He visited Peterborough Tuesday and addressed the officers of the Training Centre. The Auxiliary Services are a smooth functioning unit comprising the Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army and Y.M.C.A. Each has an allotted task and all work together for the good of the whole.

"When we landed in Sicily with the assault force, we sent officers to dressing stations, where as soon as the wounded were tended, we bathed them, wrote letters, gave them tea, and helped to bury those who died. We made rough crosses by chopping wood from trees

"The Auxiliary Services have an officer, with an honorary rank, attached to each unit, and the unit transfers a certain number of its military personnel to our work. When the Army moved forward, officers went back to their units and followed them into line. We operated between A and F Echelons. A echelon was about 2 miles behind the front lines and there the Auxiliary Services established a canteen, rest room, and writing room. Everything had to be improvised to a large extent. We confiscated Italian tents and vehicles, and if in a town, made our headquarters in ruins or houses.

Shows at Front

"In the afternoons we would establish a mobile canteen in a converted military truck and service it at the front. F. Echelon was forward position and our men operated within a few hundred yards of the enemy. We made tea and provided biscuits and under cover of darkness these were brought to the front lines. Auxiliary Services also operated movie shows at the front. There was a movie projector in the back of a truck and a screen in the back of another. A tarpaulin was stretched between the two so that no light would escape and the movies were on. We were interrupted by enemy shells and dive bombing attacks from time to time, but the pictures were shown. Canadian fighting men are shown up-to-date films, many of them before they are released in Canada."

Major Welbourn explained that when they reached a town, they went in for organization in a big way. He outlined how they functioned at Campobasso, which was typical. The Auxiliary services took over a big block of buildings which had been a Junior Fascist Headquarters. A canteen was established which served between 6,000 and 7,000 men a day. The military issued supplies and in addition the services supplied their own chocolate bars and other "luxuries" rooms were put into operation and two chapels set up. In Campobasso they also had a medical clinic and a hostel for men on 48 hour-leaves with comfortable beds for them to relax on.

Hired Waitresses

"Italian girls were hired to act as waitresses so that the men could use the dining rooms. In this same block of buildings we had a theatre which seated 1,200 and shows ran morning, afternoon and night. It was our job to go through the town and put English names on the streets, so Piccadilly Circus and other popular names prevailed.

"Two other large theatres were set up in town capable of holding 1,000 men at each performance. ENSSA sent out concert parties from England and Auxiliary men rounded up Italian artists who had fled to the mountains to escape bombings. The men were brought down from the front in trucks to spend the day. They would be fed and entertained and at night go back to the forward positions."

Great Fighters

As old fighting men of the First Division in the last war Major Welbourn described Canadian fighting men today as equal to their predecessors, high praise indeed from an old soldier. Many German officers praised the Canadians as fighters, he said. The thing which astonished them was their reaction under mortar fire. A man who ducks under such an attack is no coward, they told him, but Canadians just keep on going to the place from where the shots are being fired.

Three places in particular where Canadians distinguished themselves, were recalled by the Auxiliary head. They were Regalbuto and Leonefortre in Sicily and the Sangro River in Italy. During the last of the Sicilian campaign, Major Welbourn was ill with malaria and was hospitalized. When he got wind of the Italian invasion, like a good soldier, he escaped their clutches and went with the assault troops into Italy. After sharing the damp conditions of the men in different sections, he contracted arthritis, and this led to his being flown to England and then a trip to Canadian on the Lady Nelson.

No Big Talk

"The Canadian boy over there is kind of shy about organized religion, but is intensely interested in personal religion which is demonstrated in every day helping of his neighbour. Their morale is high. I was at the dressing station when they brought in a badly wounded boy, 18, who died that night. He told me:

'This is it. I have only one life to give, and I'm glad to be able to give it this way.'

"One of our greatest trials in Sicily was the heat. Men were badly sunburned and contracted malaria. The dust from marching men and vehicles was terrible. Our men scoured the countryside for vineyards, collecting oranges and lemons. Then they made anywhere from 50 to 100 gallons of fruit juice at a time and this was taken into the men in the lines at night. How the yappreciated it. At one time in Sicily, we made 400 miles in ten days, and that meant travelling."

Help Moral

One of the most important duties of Auxiliary Services personnel, is to maintain the moral uplift of the men .They organized sing songs sometimes while the men were at their meals; radios were set up all over the place, in dugouts and slit trenches; and small concert parties were sent to the rear areas. The radios were popular and could pick up the BBC, India and other European stations. There was always a good crowd around for the home news. Major Welbourn related. All towns are out of bounds to troops, so the men entrust their money frequently to Auxiliary officers, who shop around for them making sure that the prices are not too high.

Aid War Prisoners

One day during the battle in Italy, a group watched a number of prisoners threading their way through a valley. They were believed to be German, but when they were brought to Headquarters, they were British airmen, who had escaped from prison camps and walked for ten or twelve days.

"They were in rags and boots had been worn off their feet. They were in bad condition. The airmen were turned over to us and we outfitted them with, clothes, gave them bathing facilities and food.

"When the wounded are evacuated, we try to see that each is equipped with a little bag, articles supplied by the Red Cross. They usually contain, tooth paste, tooth brush, cigarettes and candy.

Knows Japanese

Major Welbourn is taking a world tour the hard way. For 20 years he worked in Korea and in Japanese occupied territory. He came back to Canada in 1941 and went overseas to England shortly afterwards. A brother is interned in China by the Japanese. A veteran of the last war, during the Mediterranean battles, he was attached to Gen Chris Vokes' headquarters Staff, and received full cooperation from the military authorities.

The Salvation Army officer, was accompanied by his superior officer, Col. W. Dray of Toronto. He too commented on the efficient way the four services combined in England and lesewhere overseas to do their best for the men. Each service has a special part of the entertainment to look after, and all work under one assistant director.

YOU CAN'T BEAT THE ARMY ENGINEERS—A little think like a capsized ship doesn't stand in the way of army engineers. Here in Naples harbor, they have outwitted the Nazis and turned a deficit into an asset by transforming an overturned ship into a pier. The ship's superstructure digging into the harbor bottom, steadies the ship's hull. All five hatches of a Liberty ship can be unloaded at once alongside this improvised "pier."

Nursery Rhymes Teach Principles

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 29 (ENS) —It is the simple things of life that concern the majority "and when we cease to get pleasure from them, life ceases to be worth while." So declared Art Duncan, editor of Bata Publications, who was guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon here Monday. Addressing members on "The Philosophy of Mother Goose" Mr. Duncan recalled a number og ageold nursery rhymes and explained their practical every day application.

The speaker declared that men though long matured, never actualy cease to be children. All were born with the same natural wealth and possibilities, and where he went from there rested entirely with the individual. As to nursery rhymes, and where they originated, nobody really knew but the Chinese claimed most were but modern versions of ancient legends thousands of years old.

To be a good rhyme the verse must contain one or more of the following characteristics—simplicity, mystery, quick change of color, good humor, he said. Regarding application to everyday learning the speaker suggested nothing could be simpler than the teaching that men are equal as contained in the verse "Ba Ba Black Sheep......One for the Master, One for the Dame, and one for the little boy that lives down the lane."

In the rhyme about Jack Sprat and his wife, a very sound economic principal was defined. It in effect answered the question of what the various countries should do with their surplus commodities in times of plenty. He drew a parallel between Jack Horner and the men who too often pat themselves on the back only to fall with conceit like Humpty Dumpty. An expression of thanks to the speaker was moved by Rotarian William Brady.

Kingston Requires More Oil For City

KINGSTON, March 29.—(CP).—C. C. Folger, general manager of the Public Utilities Commission here, yesterday said that unless the Oil Controller provides an additional supply of oil for the manufacture of illuminating gas it might be necessary to shut off the gas supply here for two months this year.

Mr. Folger said an additional 69,000 gallons of oil are needed. He said one war industry in the Kingston area alone uses one quarter of the gas manufactured in the local plant.

1,189 Ration Books Distributed First Day

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 29 (ENS) —Distribution of Ration Book No. 4 got under way here Tuesday as a staff of more than forty volunteer workers manned distribution centres at the Armouries and Catholic Women's League rooms. None of the workers experienced any great rush for the new books, except during the afternoon when the ideal weather brought many down town. A total of 1,189 of the approximately 4,500 books to be given out were placed in the hands of citizens during the afternoon and evening. The distribution will continue on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Buys Apartments

COBOURG, March 29—(ENS)—The Fitzgerald Apartments, located on King street near the registry office, have been purchased by Dr. W. E. Wilkins from Sam Fitzgerald. The purchase was handled by the parties themselves without a realtor. The amount of the purchase was not revealed. This building was at one time known as the Albion Hotel but a number of years ago it was made into an apartment house.

Red Cross Makes $55 At Successful Bingo

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 29 (ENS) —Proceeds from the bingo sponsored by the Campbellford and Seymour Branch of the Red Cross last week amounted to $55 it was revealed at the weekly meeting here Tuesday.

An expression of thanks was voiced by the vice-president, Mrs. R. A. Linton, to all who donated prizes and helped in any way to make it successful. The attention of members was directed to a new sewing quota calling for pyjamas and 100 infant gowns, and it was pointed out that anyone wishing to assist with these could obtain the cut article at the work rooms. The need for civilian clothing had again become greater with the recent air raids on London. With spring cleaning in the offing members were asked to set aside any small pieces of print, wool or flannelette that would be suitable for quilt making.

Garage Manager Fined For Coupon Shortage

COBOURG, March 29 (ENS) — John Watson, former local service station manager, was found guilty Tuesday by Magistrate R. B. Baxter on a charge of being short the required coupons to conform to his gas sales. He was fined $10 and costs. At his trial two weeks ago, Watson said that his tanks were running short of gas and he could not account for it.

Magistrate Baxter, in passing judgment, pointed out that the onus had fallen on the accused to establish his innocence after a case had been made out against him. The magistrate said that he felt that it was more carelessness than anything else which had caused the trouble.

THRUST AND COUNTER THRUST, BURMA—The map above shows the points at which the Burma front has burst into violent action. The Japs are making a bid to reach Imphal (1), possession of which would threaten the Allied push in north Burma where the fight for the Ledo supply route to China goes on. Long black arrow points to Calcutta, which the Japs boasted they would menace. At Shillong (2) the British are rushing reinforcements to block the invasion of India, which latest reports say, has been checked. North of Myitkyina, which is on the road leading to Ledo (3), Allied troops are pushing towards important Jap bases. Somewhere to the south, British and Indian airborne commandos are reported widening their pocket behind Jap lines and threatening the main Jap supply line to the north.

Prizes Offered For Potatoes

COBOURG, March 29—(ENS)—Northumberland County girls and boys between the ages of 12 and 21, will be interested in a potato club project planned by R. C. Banbury, agricultural representative for Northumberland, covering the Brighton and Roseneath areas.

Arrangement has been made to secure one bag of certified seed potatoes for each contestant to grow. While each must pay for this seed, the crop should return many times this amount, states Mr. Banbury, and prizes consisting of $3 per contestant, will be given to the winners. General instruction is given by the Department of Agriculture and meetings will be held throughout the season to study the growing, knowing and showing of potatoes.

All that the junior farmer requires is a suitable piece of soil and the desire to grow the crop. Those interested are asked to write the Department of Agriculture at Brighton. On fair day, a display will be made at the Brighton and Roseneath fairs, each of which has been asked to donate $1 prize money to each contestant showing.

Potatoes are an important part of the food supply, states Mr. Banbury, and it is remarkable what can be accomplished where good seed and cultural practices are observed. In some parts of Ontario clubs have been formed of men producing over 500 bushels per acre. while the average farmer probably secures less than 100 bushels. Definite arrangements will be made for the contest if 12 young people wish to take part and their names are secured by Easter.

St. Andrew's Church Unveils Honor Roll

CAMPBELLFORD, Mar. 29 (ENS) —Legion members together with town officials and a large congregation joined in special dedication services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church here Sunday afternoon. The occasion was the unveiling of an "Honor Roll" on which was listed the names of members of the congregation who were serving in the Armed Forces.

The unveiling ceremony was done by Mrs. Earl Haig while Mrs. Arthur Donald read the list of names. These two mothers each have a son who has already paid the supreme sacrifice in the war. Rev. J. O. Ralston conducted the service and gave an interesting address which carried a patriotic theme, while special music for the occasion was sung by the choir under the direction of Mrs. T. McNeice.

Won Both Times

TORONTO, March 29 — (CP).—Top moments in the life of Sgt. Mark Crody of Harmony, Ont., came in 1918 and 1944. He was a sergeant with the Princess Pats Canadian Light Infantry in the First Great War when he won the Military Medal at Amiens. Last Saturday, for knowing the capital cities of the United States, Finland, England and the Bahamas he won $331.50 in a quiz contest in Toronto.

County Schools Stage Improvement Contest

COBOURG, March 29—(ENS)—Rural schools of Northumberland County are receiving again the cooperation of the Northumberland Department of Agriculture and the public school inspectors in staging another school improvement competition in 1944.

In previous years Northumberland County schools have been among the best in the province and further improvement is anticipated. The custom is to judge the contest on the improvement made between the opening of school in the fall and the closing next spring. John F. Clark of the Department of Agriculutre, Horticultural Division, visited several schools last fall and will come to Northumberland County again this spring to offer suggestions and plans to teachers.
